The death toll caused by the typhoon in the Philippines is now placed at over 100 and the property loss is estimated at $4,000,000.

Premier Pattullo of British Columbia gave notice yesterday that he will ask the House to endorse a proposed amendment to the British North America Act, giving the Dominion Government authority to institute national unemployment insurance.

Another shipment of United States gold, reported to be $10,000,000 worth, is being sent to France.

The Duke of Aosta, cousin of King Vittorio Emanuele, has been named viceroy to Ethiopia, it was reported at Trieste last night.

Tenth Diphtheria Death

Dr. Valmont Martin, Quebec City's Health Director, yesterday reported the tenth death in Quebec since the first of November.

At London, Ont., Andrew McWaine was fined $20.00 and costs for transporting live chickens in bags.

Four policemen and another man were injured and $5,000 property damage done during a riot of students holding a football rally at Berkeley, Cal., for the University of California-Standford game.

Premier Hepburn declined to discuss yesterday the report that his government had recommended the appointment of Duncan Marshall as Lieutenant-Governor.

FRANCE EXTENDS RAIDS ON HOODS

PARIS, Nov. 20—(AP).—Raids to ferret out arms depots of a secret military organization accused of "plotting against the security of the state" were extended into the provinces to-day on orders of the Surete Nationale.

Minister of Interior Mark Doromy, after a conference with Premier Camille Chautemps, declared "the affair is getting bigger and more serious every minute."

Operatives of Surete Nationale, already having seized enough arms and munitions in Paris to equip a small army, pressed investigations in three other cities—Bordeaux, Lyon and Marseille—but they declined to disclose results of inquiries.

Plotted New Government

A house in a forest between Melun and Fontainebleau was reported as the scene of an important phase of the inquiry to break up the organization which the Leftist newspaper, Ce Soir, said had plotted formation of a new French government.

Ce Soir said the plot was so developed that "a high military personality—one whispers the name of a Marshal of France—has been approached by a group asking if he would preside over a new government which would be formed."

The raids, which grew out of an earlier investigation of a secert organization, "The Hooded Ones," were known to have sent at least eight persons to jail charged with plotting against the state.

These prisoners, of varying political leanings, were said by authorities to include a Royalist and a member of Col. Francois de la Rocque's Rightist Social Party.

THIRD KIDNAPPER IS RE-CAPTURED

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Nov. 20 (AP).—It was freedom's end today for three members of the 1933 O'Connell kidnap gang—their capture effected through information supplied by a janitor and parking lot attendant.

Percy "Angel Face" Geary, leader of the desperado triumvirate which staged a daring escape from Onondaga county penitentiary at nearby Jamesville, N.Y., Tuesday, was seized yesterday in a Syracuse parking lot shanty after a tip was furnished police by Casper Mirra, 20.

The other two, John Olee and Harold Crowley, recaptured Wednesday in a Syracuse rooming house on a tip supplied by a janitor—Ivan Whiteford, were taken to Albany and lodged in jail.

The trio faced long prison terms for the kidnapping of John J. O'Connell, Jr. of Albany. They were being held in the Onondaga jail pending an appeal. Five others were convicted at the same time at Binghamton last August.

1,000,000 ACCIDENTS.

TORONTO, Nov. 20 (CP). — T. Norman Dean, statistician of the Workmen's Compensation Board of Ontario, said in an address here yesterday that 1,000,000 accidents have been recorded in the province since January 1, 1915. Six thousand of them were fatal.

JAPS CALL ON GENERAL KAI-SHEK TO SURRENDER

30 INCHES SNOW PLUG HIGHWAYS IN SARNIA AREA

Deserted Cars Dot Roads Into Sarnia

TORONTO, Nov. 22 (C.P.).—Western Ontario fought free from the worst snowstorm of the season today as ploughs bucked drifted highways and city streets to clear the way for vehicular traffic.

Heaviest fall of the week-end storm was at Forest, 25 miles east of Sarnia, where 30 inches of snow balked attempts of ploughs to clear roads. The storm was general throughout the western section of the province, swinging northward to include Collingwood and Meaford in the Georgian Bay district.

One death was attributed directly to the storm, but minor accidents were numerous in the affected areas. Isabel Arbuthnot, 24-year-old Collingwood Creamery cashier, was killed instantly when the automobile in which she was a passenger went out of control during the storm and crashed into a ditch. George Eastland, driver, suffered minor injuries. Miss Arbuthnot was thrown from the car as it left the road.

The storm started on Saturday night and continued all of Sunday, just a month before the first official day of winter. Freezing temperatures were general throughout Ontario, but reports indicated snow fell only in Western and Central Ontario. Temperatures hovered at 15 degrees above zero in Northern Ontario, while snow threatened the Eastern section.

Sarnia Marooned

Buses failed to reach Sarnia from outside points Sunday and more than a dozen automobiles were snowbound between that city and London. In the Watford district, 35 miles from Sarnia, about 15 ma-

JAP INTENTIONS WORRY BRITAIN

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(CP Cable.)—Uneasiness over Japan's real intentions in China grows. The British government is still awaiting official advices on the drastic demands which the Japanese have made on the International Settlement authorities i nShanghai.

But already there is much expert poring over treaties to see exactly what British rights are affected. The demands in effect mean that Japan regards herself as the de facto authority in control of the territory around Shanghai and that she is determined to assert that authority.

To this end Japan proposes to exercise the sovereign rights and administrative functions in the International Settlement and the French concessions which the Chinese authorities previously exercised. These include control of customs, the post office, telegraphs, and the courts. The International Settlement is administered by a Municipal Council consisting of five British, two United States, two Japanese, and five Chinese members. It was created under treaty with China. The French have a separate concession.

FRED BANCROFT DEAD

OAKVILLE, Ont., Nov. 22 (C.P.).—Fred Bancroft, Labor Leader and member of the Ontario Labor and Industry Board, died here last night.

Trade unionist and former journalist, Mr. Bancroft was appointed to the new Board several months ago. For a time he was on the staff of the Toronto Daily Star. In earlier years he was a patternmaker and draughtsman.

Cargo Of Bombers Play Hide, Seek At Sea

Speedy U.S. Craft Bound For China, Can Cross Yellow Sea, Outrun Japs

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP) — Bound on a mission of death, a $1,000,000 fleet of 10 American-made planes was aboard a ship steaming cautiously somewhere across the Atlantic today.

Their ultimate destination presumably was China and aviation experts said the planes had a sufficient flying range to hop the Yellow Sea to Japan, each carrying half-a-ton bomb loads, and return to Chinese bases. They are faster than the swiftest Japanese warplane.

But a double peril faced the consignment.

Lying in wait, naval patrols from both Japan and Spain formed twin blockades against their safe arrival. Spanish Insurgents reportedly feared the high-powered fighting craft might be headed for Barcelona to be used by government pilots.

Their fears were based on the report that the crates containing the airplanes were marked "D.L.P."—the initials of Don Luiz Prieto, son of the Spanish government minister of defence.

The Chinese consulate here denied, however, that the planes had been re-sold to the Spanish government.

"They still belong to China," a spokesman said.

Synagogue Raided, Party Is Spoiled

Toronto, Nov. 22.

AARON Kozubsky, caretaker of Ansher Aft Synagogue, Beverley street, was arrested early Sunday morning and charged with a breach of the Liquor Control Act. It was the second time the police had visited the Synagogue in three weeks.

Plainclothesmen Clifford Train and Crichton found several people inside. A keg of beer and 36 quarts were seized. The caretaker was locked up in Dundas Street West Station and later freed on bail.

No Prospect Of Quick Decision On Lieutenant-Governor

Skipping Shot Bags Hunter A Deer

Bala, Ont., Nov. 22 (CP)

FRANK Tooke, guide at a camp near this Muskoka settlement, tells this one now that the deer hunting season has come to an end:

"We had one fellow here who saw a buck standing on an island while he was paddling down the river. He took a shot at him from the canoe but it was rocking and the bullet hit the water. But I'm darned if it didn't bounce off the water and kill the deer.

Announcement Expected To Be Delayed Until After Cabinet Council Meets Tuesday

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (CP).—So far as could be learned today at the office of Prime Minister Mackenzie King there seemed little prospect of an immediate announcement on the Lieutenant-Governorship of Ontario.

Last Thursday the Prime Minister, questioned on reports Lieutenant-Governor Bruce had resigned, said he had received "a communication" from Dr. Bruce but preferred not to disclose its contents. He would probably make a statement early this week, the Prime Minister said.

Cabinet Council will be in session tomorrow afternoon, and it was considered likely any announcement respecting the Ontario Lieutenant-Governorship would be delayed until after that meeting. Dr. Bruce's normal term of office expired nearly a month ago, but it was understood he would remain in office pending a decision as to his successor.

North Bay, Nov. 22 (CP)

JOHN Turcotte, 61-year-old North Bay trapper, came out of the bush today with a hair-raising wolf story and a determination never to inspect his trap line again without a rifle.

Tending his traps yesterday, Turcotte discovered he had snared a female wolf but the male and 12 pups stood guard nearby. "I went to attack them with my tomahawk and they showed fight," he said. "I tried a stick, then grabbed a big pole and went after them. I never carry a rifle because no animal has ever attacked me but I believe I will from now on. Finally I drove the wolves off far enough so that I could kill the female with my tomahawk."

Turcotte said he skinned the animal with the big male and dozen pups encircling him, snarling viciously. Then he set off for his cabin and the pack followed him for two miles.

Demand Full Sway In International Settlement Affairs

Threaten to Use Force if Orders Ignored; Expect Troops at Nanking Before Week Out

A message was dropped to him by Japanese airmen making their first flight over Nanking since the government announced its transfer from the capital to Chunking, about 1,000 miles farther inland.

No bombs were dropped — only the message urging cessation of hostilities. It was released from a plane flown by Lieutenant Mochifumi Nango, one of Japan's ace pilots.

Japanese land and air forces began a concerted drive against entrenched Chinese on a line north from Wusih to Kiangyan, on the Yangtse river. They were aided by fine weather after a week of rain.

Wusih, at the south end of the line west of Shanghai, controls important communication and supply lines on the Shanghai-Nanking railroad and China's ancient Grand Canal.

Japanese said the drive would bring their troops to the gates of Nanking, China's evacuated capital before the end of the week.

No Sign of Settlement.

Faint prospects of a last-minute settlement were shattered by Yuyu-Jen, president of the National Control Yuan, one of the five ruling councils of the Central Government. Yu said China has absolutely no intention either to seek peace or to compromise with Japan.

He said there were two reasons for the Government's removal from Nanking to Chungking:

1—To avoid a situation in which Japan might be in a position to dictate peace terms.

2—To demonstrate China's determination to continue resistance on a larger scale.

Despatches from Peiping said Japanese forces in North China were preparing to cross the Yellow River at several points to attack Tsinanfu, capital of Shantung Province, the only North China capital still unconquered by Japanese.

Force was threatened to back Japan's demands for virtually complete control of Shanghai, including Chinese courts, maritime customs, mails and telegraphs. Japanese warned officials of the International Settlement and the French Concession Japan might use her armed strength if her demands were not met.

PASTOR'S APPEAL IS LOST—MUST PAY OR GET JAIL TERM

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—(CP).—The Appellate Division of the Ontario Supreme Court to-day dismissed with costs the appeal of Rev. E. N. O. Kulbeck against a conviction at Woodstock on a charge of creating a common nuisance.

The charge alleged Mr. Kulbeck "conducted gatherings of persons at Grace Tabernacle in such a manner that continued loud shouting and screaming and other noise until nearly midnight endangered and disturbed the peace and comfort of the public."

At Woodstock Magistrate M. D. McCrimmon placed Mr. Kulbeck on suspended sentence and ordered him to pay court costs or spend 30 days in jail.

Husband Is Hunted In Wife's Death

DETROIT, Nov. 22 (AP)—State police joined with city authorities today in searching for Charles Zvoch, 48, recently released from a mental ward of Eloise Infirmary, to question him in connection with his wife's killing. Police at Chatham, Ont. have been asked to co-operate.

One of the couple's three children, Mike, 17, found the body of his mother, Susa, 45, in the coal bin of their home last Saturday night. Her skull had been crushed. Nearby lay a flat iron.

Police said Zvoch may have gone to Pittsburgh, where he has relatives.

Canada's 1937 Tourist Traffic Valued At $300,000,000

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (C.P.). — Canada's tourist traffic this year had a value of $300,000,000, D. Leo Dolan, director of the Dominion Tourist Bureau, told delegates to the sixth annual conference of tourist associations and publicity bureaus here today. This represented an influx into Canada of 16,000,000 visitors for the first nine months of the calendar year. If the 1936 rate was maintained, then the final figures for the year would be in the neighborhood of 19,000,000 persons, said Mr. Dolan.

Dealing with the Dominion branch, Mr. Dolan said he had had 75,196 inquiries this year, which was an increase of 42.7 per cent. over 1936 and of 183.5 per cent. over 1935. A questionnaire sent to 42,000 tourists had resulted in nearly 4,000 replies. These indicated the average daily expenditure of motorists entering Canada was $5.40. That of people arriving by train, boat and bus was $7.02. The average stay was 13 days.

HUSKY REID DIES SUDDENLY

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 22 (CP).—David (Husky) Reid, an outstanding wingman with the Tiger Big Four football team more than a decade ago, was found dead in bed at the Napier Street Fire Station to-day. Dr. James Gibson said death was due to heart trouble.

Reid was a member of Tigers for several seasons and also was a good baseball pitcher. He joined the Fire Department in 1921.

Toronto, Nov. 22 (CP)

EVERY city and county in Ontario having a population of greater than 70,000 will have a separate board for the handling of old age pensions and mothers' allowances, G. S. Tattle, vice-chairman of the Ontario Old Age Pensions commission, informed the Toronto Board of Control today.

Stating each board would be made up of three persons appointed by the government and two nominated by the city, Mr. Tattle urged Toronto to appoint its members as soon as possible so that the commission would be able to complete reorganization and be operating by the first of the year.

British Wrestler Weds Princess

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(CP-Havas).—Valerie Brooke, 21-year-old daughter of Sir Charles Brooke, the "white Rajah" of Sarawak, was married to-day at Marylebone register office to the British wrestler, Bob Gregory.

The wedding followed a whirlwind courtship of several weeks, during which marriage plans were announced on several occasions and then postponed.

Mouth Of False Teeth, And Glasses No Longer Bar To British Army

London, Nov. 22 (CP)

FALSE teeth and glasses are no longer a bar to the British army.

Answering questions in the House of Commons, War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha declared requirements of physique have not been changed, but teeth, sight and hearing there had been common sense revisions.

He had been asked by a member if the increase in recruiting was due to a lowering of the medical standard.

"There are certain changes which are in accordance with common sense," he declared. "For instance there was a limitation on the number of false teeth which a recruit was supposed to have. I removed the limitation."

Weekend Toll Only 5 But 34 Hurt In Road Smashes

Wintry Weather Makes Motoring Hazardous; Cars Kill Three, 'Plane One, Poison Another

TORONTO, Nov. 22—(CP)—Ontario counted a week-end death toll of five today, the lightest in weeks, but numerous near-fatal highway accidents were reported as the result of unfavorable motoring weather. Three of the fatalities were the result of traffic mishaps, one man died in the crash of an airplane and another died by poison, taken in mistake for medicine.

The direct result of the heaviest snowstorm in five years which swept Western Ontario during the week-end, Isabel Arbuthnot, 24, was killed last night when an automobile got out of control on a highway near Collingwood made slippery by deep snow. The car overturned into a ditch. The driver, George Eastland, escaped with minor injuries.

Joshua Thompson, 56, was killed on a Whitby street Saturday when hit by a car driven by George R. Sproat. Thompson was knocked into the path of another machine, driven by Norman Hoffley. Neither driver was held. At Markham, near Toronto, Herbert Johnson, 42, was struck and killed by a car while driving a cow along a highway. Karl Cowie, driver of the automobile was arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

Flier Misjudges, Dies

Flight-Lieut. L. F. J. Taylor, 28, on exchange duty at the Royal Canadian Air Force base at Trenton from New Zealand, was drowned Saturday when the land training plane he was flying somersaulted into the Bay of Quinte near the seaplane hanger. Officers stated Lieut. Taylor apparently misjudged his heighth above the "glassy" surface of the water.

An official board of inquiry met Saturday afternoon but its findings were not made public. The personnel of the board was not divulged. Coroner Dr. J. W. Farley of Trenton said an inquest would not be held. It was the fifth fatal accident to R.C.A.F. officers since last Aug. 4.

Sidney Milliner, 22, died in a Galt hospital Saturday after swallowing poison in mistake for a household remedy at his home in Hespeler. No inquest will be held.

Fifteen persons were injured, nine of them seriously, in two traffic accidents in the Brantford area. Six were hurt in one crash near the village of St. George and taken to Brantford hospital where the condition of four was considered serious. Nine others were injured near Alberton when three automobiles and a truck collided. Five were seriously hurt.

Back Seat Of Car Covered In Blood

SIMCOE, Ont., Nov. 22.—(CP).—Police to-day attempted to trace ownership of an abandoned automobile, found here yesterday, its back seat saturated with blood. No explanation was offered as to how the blood stains were implanted on the seat.

Police did not say whether the car was one of two stolen here earlier in the week-end. One of the stolen cars had been recovered when the blood-stained one was found. Authorities said they were attempting to trace ownership through the car's serial and body numbers.

Bears Eating Hunters' Deer Start Move For Bounty

Marmora Guide Reports Loss Of Three Bucks In Week To Marauders

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Nov. 22. — Bears have been so plentiful in Marmora and Lake Townships this fall that some of the hunters who have had their deer devoured, seriously think the Government should put a bounty on them.

A week ago Sanford Lawrence reported that a bear or bears had eaten the third part of a dead bear, and the hind quarters of a buck which had fallen to the guns of his party of ten.

This week-end there were more woes to relate. The carcasses of two bucks, estimated at 240 and 180 pounds respectively which had been shot by two Belleville members of the party, were torn down and entirely devoured. The carcasses had been placed three hundred yards apart on rocky land on Monday without thought of molestation because the bears that have been encountered have been roaming in the locality of beech and oak trees, partaking of beech nuts and acorns.

"Evidently they want a change of diet now," said Lawrence, after mentioning that the scene of the former week's depredation had been in a beech tree section of the woods.

"Most hunters hang up their deer with their heads up, the same as our party did," continued the hunter. "How is it that you see so many pic-

Boy Badly Wounded Shot For Fox

Midland, Nov. 22 (CP)

GEORGE Smith, 13, was in serious condition in hospital here today with buckshot wounds in the abdomen suffered, police said, when his 18-year-old brother, George, shot at him in mistake for a fox.

The boys were hunting in the South Honey Harbor district, fifteen miles northeast of here, Saturday. George, clad in a red sweater, was crawling through brush when his brother came up from behind a rock and fired his shotgun. The boy was brought to hospital.

COMBA JURORS CAUGHT, BARRED READING NEWS

Stock Market Quotes Left Up to Sheriff

PEMBROKE, Ont., Nov. 22.—(CP)—Members of the jury trying John Comba, 26, of Renfrew, on a charge of murder arising from the sex-slaying of 13-year-old Ethel Hedderwick of Renfrew, have been reading newspaper accounts of the trial.

At the opening of court today, Justice E. R. E. Chevrier said despite his warnings, it had come to his notice some of the jury had seen newspapers in the past two or three days.

'It has come to my attention," the judge said, "some of you, quite innocently, have read the newspapers. It is my duty to inquire if you have been receiving the newspapers and which of you have read them. This is no punishment or scolding but I desire to know which of you have seen the newspapers."

A juryman said he had looked over stock quotations and "I read a small article of what I heard here." Another admitted he had read the sport sections. A third claimed he had seen papers every day of the trial but carefully had refrained from reading any account of the evidence. A fourth said he had read parts of the evidence.

"You should not have seen them (newspapers) but you did not know" the judge intervened. " . . . I warn you, you are not to come to any conclusions by what you have read in the papers . . . the newspapers endeavor to be fair in their reports and they are as accurate as possible, I have always found them to be fair but they (reporters) are sitting away over there and may hear the evidence wrong."

The judge later said he would instruct the sheriff not to give newspapers to jurymen "but if some of you are interested in the stock market, you can ask the sheriff about it."

TWO MEN DROWN IN SCOTIA GALE

HALIFAX, Nov. 22. — (CP). — Week-end storms that took two lives in Nova Scotia and cut communication with one town several hours, subsided to-day, leaving fears of possible greater destruction.

Residents of suburban Armdale, especially those living at the junction of the Herring Cove and Melville Cove Roads, anxiously watched the Chocolate Lake dam, as flood waters rose to the top of the 40-foot breastwork, an dthreatened to carry the barrier away.

(The Chocolate Lake dam is about 100 feet long, slightly curved, and eight feet thick. About a dozen houses lie below it, in the path of water rushing into the north-west if it should give way).

The village of Glenelg, on the Antigonish highway, was cut off by flood waters of the St. Marys' river yesterday. Dr. J. S. Nicholson was forced to travel 10 miles by boat and on foot when he answered a call to Sherbrooke from the village.

The flood, one of the worst on the St. Mary's river in several years, caused loss of a large quantity of pulp wood, when it carried out one boom, while logs were carried over others by the force of the water.

Leslie Pelly was drowned at Antigonish when part of a street, undermined by swollen waters of Wright's river, collapsed and carried him into a canal.

THIEVES STEAL BOND

PORT HOPE, Ont., Nov. 22 (CP) Miss Ada Bourlette of Port Hope was robbed of a $100 bond Saturday when a thug threw her to the ground and grabbed her purse. The negotiable bond was found later at the foot of the street partially burned. Her assailant has not been located.

RESCUED ONLY CHILD

MEAFORD, Ont., Nov. 22 (CP).—Mrs. Roy House rescued her only child from a burning home here early today. A staircase collapsed behind her as she carried the child down to safety from an upper floor.

Undaunted By Hindenberg Disaster Germans To Renew Zep Flights

Washington, Nov. 22 (AP)

THE German government, undaunted by the disaster to the airship Hindenberg, November 6 over Lakehurst, N.J., with loss of 36 lives, hopes to resume experimental dirigible flights to the United States next year.

This was disclosed today when the state department referred to the commerce and navy departments a formal request from German Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff for a new permit or landing in the United States.

German officials said the Reich government expects to renew its experimental service in the spring with the giant new airship "LZ-130," now nearing completion. This service is intended to determine the feasibility of a regular dirigible passenger-mail-express schedule between the United States and Germany.

PRETENDER OUT TO RECONQUER FRENCH THRONE

De Guise Statement Excites Royalists

PARIS, Nov. 22—(AP)—The Duc De Guise, Pretender to the Throne of France, issued a manifesto distributed in Paris to-day announcing he had decided to "reconquer the throne of my fathers."

The 5,000 word manifesto left no doubt that the Pretender, now living in exile in Belgium, planned a pacific conquest. It caused intense excitement among French Royalists.

The manifesto was distributed as government agents, ferreting out what appeared to be a plot to overthrow the Republic, had the added job of tracing the whereabout of the Count of Paris, the Duke's son.

The Count left Versoix, Switzerland, yesterday after Swiss Federal police "invited" him and a group of followers to leave the country on the ground he was carrying on a political activity.

His father's statement was in direct contrast to his last message to the nation when he told them, in February, 1932, that "dictatorship under a monarchy" was necessary.

Have Courage.

"Have the moral courage not to abdicate before present difficulties," to-day's manifesto appealed to French men. "Do not permit, in a moment of abandon, dictatorship of any kind to impose itself.

"Certain of my ability to assure your happiness, I have decided to reconquer the throne of my fathers. France then again will re-assume her mission in the world and again will find peace, unity and prosperity through a unity of the people with a titular defender—king."

Officials of the "Courrier Royal," of which the Count of Paris is editor-in-chief, said the statement was signed "Jean, Duc De Guise." Copies distributed in Paris, however, were not signed."

Plans Spoiled.

Intervention by Swiss authorities in "inviting" the "French Crown Prince" to leave Switzerland prevented the Pretender's manifesto from being distributed by the Count at a Swiss chateau, as had been planned.

When the Count left the chateau last night he said he was returning to Brussels. A spokesman at Anjoy Manor, where the duke and his son live near the Belgian capital, said, however, the count was not there and was not expected.

The bearded, six-foot Pretender timed his manifesto to reach Paris during the excitement aroused by the police drive against a secret Rightist revolutionary organization. Several suspects have been identified as Royalist sympathizers.

Disturbed Silence

After breaking the two minutes silence during the Armistice Day service at the London cenotaph, Stanley Storey, allegedly demented, is shown BELOW as he was hustled into an ambulance at Cannon Road station, London, to be taken to an institution for examination. Storey broke through the sailor guard at the cenotaph and cried: "All this is hypocrisy! You are deliberately preparing for war!"

SIT-DOWNERS TEST U.A.W.A. STRENGTH

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 22 (A.P.).—A comparatively few sit-down unionists, defiant still in the face of threats of union "punishment," seemingly put the authority of the United Automobile Workers of America to its severest test to-day.

Amid hostility from sit-down strikers in the local Fisher Body Plant of General Motors Corporation and from strike supporters, Homer Martin, U.A.W.A. president, tried to re-establish union solidarity and halt the strike.

The 500-odd "wildcat" strikers, holding the plant into the fifth day, increased guards at gates as fellow-members of the Pontiac Local withheld assurances of support to Martin in his stand against unauthorized strikes. Upwards of 15,000 men are idle because of the strike.

Martin, who last night appealed for rank and file support, planned to visit the strikers to-day.

Actinolite Driver Wrecks Car

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Nov. 22.—Returning home early Friday evening from a sale in the vicinity of the village of Thomasburg, Pat Herman of the village of Actinolite narrowly escaped serious injury, when the automobile which he was driving was badly damaged near the Memorial Park, Tweed.

While negotiating the turn in the highway at the Park, it appears that the car lost the front wheels, and completely turned over before coming to a stop about fifty feet from where the wheels came off the car. The radiator, windshield and hind wheels were damaged, and the top of the car smashed in. Fortunately the occupants received only a slight shaking up. Two other cars travelling on the highway at the time narrowly escaped piling into the damaged machine.

U.S. FARMERS GET NEW HOPE IN DEAL ON WITH BRITAIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP).—In the forthcoming negotiations between Great Britain and the United States, foreign trade circles here believe American agriculture has its first opportunity to share in a large way in the Roosevelt administration's reciprocal trade agreement program.

The United Kingdom for years has been the largest foreign consumer of the American farmers' products. This is true today, although the exports to Britain have been reduced considerably in the last few years, not so much by the years of depression, but by the British Government's efforts to build up trade between Britain and the Dominions, as exemplified by the Ottawa agreement. If the British-American agreement is concluded—and foreign trade observers in New York believe the two governments would have made no announcement of the negotiations if they had not already agreed upon the basis for the pact—these circles think it is not too much to expect that in a few years the exports of the United States agricultural products may again approach the high totals of 1929.

An idea of what this would mean to the farmers of the United States can be gained from a comparison of the 1936 and 1929 totals in some of the principal products which Britain imports from the United States.

In The Boom Days.

In 1929, the United Kingdom imported from the United States 21,772,000 bushels of wheat at a cost of $27,580,000; 1,317,000 barrels of flour

Soviet Spy Scare Cuts Gold Output

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (A.P.).—Estimates of Soviet gold production running up to 10,000,000 ounces ($350,000,000) annually, may have to be revised downward, H. C. Chellson, former consulting geologist for the Russia Government, reported to-day in the "Engineering and Mining Journal."

His estimate for 1936, based on various Russian sources, is 6,308,119 ounces ($220,784,165), and that may have to be further reduced when final figures are available, he said. Output in 1937, he said, would show an increase over 1936, but may have been retarded by the recent "spy scare" due to general apprehension and removal of responsible engineers.

CANADA BOOSTS TRADE IN ORIENT DESPITE THE WAR

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (CP)—Far from being hampered by the Sino-Japanese war waging since midsummer, Canadian trade with Japan and China has actually increased in that period, according to figures obtained today from the external trade branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Exports to Japan in July, August and September increased 37.3 per cent over the corresponding period of 1936, although there was a shift in classifications with main increases being in non-ferrous metals and wood products. Imports from Japan increased 27.5 per cent.

Exports to China, on a substantially smaller total, showed an increase of 35.6 per cent. Imports from China decreased 1.3 per cent.

Exports to Japan for the third quarter of 1937 were $6,899,996 compared with $5,022,729 last year. They included these classifications, with figures for one year ago in brackets: Non-ferrous metals $3,425,252 ($1,547,443); wood products $2,268,038 ($1,369,678); iron $308,328 ($220,797); agricultural products $450,421 ($1,580,759).

Of $1,466,507 imports from Japan in that quarter, compared to $1,151,418 a year ago, textiles showed the largest increase, from $339,757 to $466,326.

China imported from Canada goods worth $1,152,727 in the quarter, compared with $925,212 a year ago. They included, with last year's figures in brackets: Non-ferrous metals, $165,199 ($112,086); wood products, $660,357 ($615,270); iron, $17,827 ($8,546).

Less Chinese Goods

Imports into Canada from China in the quarter eased from $912,397 a year ago to $900,251. Textiles declined from $204,582 to $166,417.

Figures for the first nine months of 1937 show $19,367,203 exports to Japan, a 30-per-cent increase over the same period of 1936. Imports from Japan in the same time were $4,221,708, an increase of 46.1 per cent.

Among exports, non-ferrous metals stood out, increasing from $5,308,139 to $10,012,259; non-metallic minerals from $634,853 to $1,263,587.

Trade with China in the first nine months of 1937 consisted of $4,023,121 exports, an increase of 11.4 per cent, and $3,725,067 imports, an increase of 23.3 per cent.

VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball scores at the "Y" on Saturday were: Vikings 15, 15, 5, Endeavors 8, 9, 15; Rainbows 9, 15, 3, Bluenoses 15, 8, 15; Mayflowers 15, 11, 15, Clippers 11, 15, 3; Shamrocks 3, 13, 5, Skidleys 15, 15, 15; Cambrias 7, 11, 9, Rangers 15,15, 12.

75 BOYS ATTEND YOUTH RALLY HELD IN CAMPBELLFORD

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 22.—The Northumberland and Durham Counties Youth Rally opened here on Friday when about seventy-five boys from the two counties gathered with local boys for a conference held under the auspices of the Campbellford Boys Work Board. The boys gathered at St. John's United Church where they were extended a hearty welcome to the town by Mayor F. F. Long who spoke briefly on boys work and expressed the hope that the visitors would find their stay in Campbellford a pleasant one. The chairman, Rev. Bruce Harrison of Smithfield also extended a welcome to the boys and introduced the Rev. Harold B. Neal of St. John's United Church.

Following a brief song service led by Rev. Roy H. Rickard the conference officers were elected with Donald Massey of Morganston being chosen Grand Pretor. Theodore Poulter of Wooler Deputy Grand Pretor and Jack Carr present member for Northumberland in the Ontario Older Boys Parliament Grand Scriptor.

Brief addresses were given by the representative boys and included a talk by Theodore Poulter on how to start a group. Jack Carr outlined various methods of sustaining interest in the boys group and Will Brown of Brighton told the boys how badge work could be started.

Rev. E. R. McLean of Toronto, secretary for the Ontario Boys Work Board took as his topic "Building a New World" in an address which he delivered before the boys at their session on Saturday morning. An interesting feature of the program was the holding of discussion groups when seven groups were formed. The delegates were privileged to attend whichever of the groups they wished, which included worship led by Donald Massey; Bible study by Jack Carr and Rev. B. Simpson Black; Service Activities, Rev. A. Poulter; Missions, Rev. R. B. Harrison; Leisure time and hobbies, Rev. J. E. Anderson; New games and recreation, Rev. R. H. Rickard; Leadership problems (how to get leaders), Rev. E. R. McLean.

Candidates Speak

On Saturday afternoon the delegates met at the Parish Hall for a brief program of worship followed by games and sports. One of the highlights of the banquet held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Saturday afternoon was the address by the two candidates whose names will appear on the ballots at the election to be held next Saturday when a representative for Northumberland will be elected to attend the 17th Older Boys Parliament. Both of the candidates, Ernest Brown of Brighton and Theodore Poulter of Morganston spoke briefly outlining their platforms.

The toast list included the King, proposed by the chairman; to Canada, by Ralph Rutherford, and to the Church, by Ross Richardson.

"What the Church offers boys" was the subject of the address of Rev. E. R. McLean. He dealt with the matter in an interesting fashion, dividing the subject under three headings. First of all, the Church offers a great fellowship, not only the fellowship of the boys and young men throughout the province but a fellowship which extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Secondly, it offers a type of education which you do not get in any other way. "Fear comes from lack of experience," said the speaker. The opportunity to belong to some group is provided by the Church and in the group the boys have an opportunity to express themselves and overcome this fear. The Church also offers a training in self-government. We are taught to govern ourselves, and if we had not learned this we would today be governed by either an autocrat or a dictator.

Last of all the Church offers an opportunity for service. The Church is offering you today an opportunity for adventure.

During the banquet an interesting program was presented, and included a sing-song led by Charles Allan. Donald Bennett gave a piano solo and encore, while George Lucy contributed a vocal solo and Jack Cassan a piano solo. On Sunday afternoon the delegates attended a mass meeting in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, where they were addressed by A. A. Martin of Brighton.

HORNEPAYNE COOL AT TWENTY BELOW

TORONTO, Nov. 22—(CP)—Cold, clear weather prevailed over Ontario today as the western counties of Lambton, Huron, Bruce and Grey dug out from a heavy snow fall that blocked roads during the weekend.

Light snow fell at Kingston today and there were indications it would continue. Temperature ranged about seven degrees below freezing and at Peterborough the mercury skidded to 20 below freezing last night.

At Brantford, Woodstock, Kitchener and Galt, temperatures in the 20's were reported. Weather was cold at St. Thomas with light snowfall.

Lowest temperatures of the year were reported from North Bay with no snow in the urban area although snow is proving a traffic hazard on roads east and west of the city.

Temperatures at North Bay dropped to 11 above zero last night but a bright sun was pushing the mercury higher near noon. At Sudbury, Col. W. H. Powell, superintendent of the Burwash jail farm, said pansies bloomed yesterday in the institution's garden. There is no snow in the Sudbury district.

Cheese Quotes Produce and Livestock

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Nov. 22—(CP).—Butter prices eased slightly on Montreal open produce markets last week.

Butter was quoted at 29¾ to 30½c a pound for cartots or less of No. 1, with lots to retailers at 31 to 31½c for solids and 21¾ to 31c for prints. Receipts for the week: 4,710 boxes.

Graded egg shipments in cartots or less were 42c a dozen for A-large, 34c for A-medium, 30c for A-pullets, 25c for B-large, 24c for B-medium and 21½ to 22c for C. Receipts for the week: 6,407 cases, including 800 for export.

Cheese was quoted at 14¾c for Ontario colored, 14¼c for white, 14c for Quebec colored and 13¾c for white. Receipts for the week, 11,002 boxes, including 3,004 for export.

Potatoes.—No. 1 Quebec whites, 80c, 55 to 60; No. 2, 80's, 35 to 40c; No. 1 New Brunswick Mountain, 80's, 62½ to 65c; No. 1 Prince Edward Island Mountains, 90's, 75c; 80's, 62½ to 65c; 50's, 42c; No. 1 Cobblers, 80's, 60c to 62½c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Nov. 22—(CP)—Late strength at Chicago was reflected in wheat futures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. Prices lifted from three-cent declines established earlier on weakness of stocks and lack of export demand for wheat. Final quotations were 1⅝ to ⅛ cent lower. November $1.15⅝; December, $1.12⅝ to ⅝; May 1.11 to $1.11⅛, and July, $1.07¼.

Prices gradually eased from the start, with November getting down more than three cents and other futures close to the three-cent drop.

Support generally was thin and it took only a light volume of Southern and Eastern selling to depress values. No export business in Canadian wheat was confirmed during the week-end, while reports stated trade in United States wheat was confined to odd lots.

CAUCUS EXPECTED TO URGE GENERAL TORY PARTY MEET

TORONTO, Nov. 22 (C.P.). — Recommendation for a general meeting of the Ontario Liberal-Conservative Association for reorganization of the party's ranks to-day was expected to go forward from a meeting between Conservative candidates in the October 6 general election, including victors and defeated, and Hon. Earl Rowe, M.P., Party Leader.

A party official said Mr. Rowe intended to discuss party prospects with the more than 80 men expected for the caucus at 3 p.m. to-day and to urge them to consider recommending an early meeting of the Ontario Association of which William Ireland, Hastings, is president.

No action would be taken, it was said, toward setting up machinery for an Ontario convention of the party. At a meeting with the elected members a few weeks ago Mr. Rowe agreed to carry on as Leader until such a convention is held. Plans for this will be left to the Association's general meeting.

A former Cabinet Minister said George S. Henry, former Premier and House Leader of the Party in the last Legislature, has announced to his House colleagues that he will not seek re-election to the House Leadership. Mr. Henry's health has been indifferent.

Members elected October 6 will meet to-day after the meeting of all candidates to elect a House Leader. Leopold Macaulay, South York, former Minister of Highways, has been mentioned.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA WINS SWIM TITLE

A second victory last week for Queen Alexandra school over Prince of Wales gave the former the Cruickshank cup emblematic of top honors in the public school shuttle relay event. In the diving contest semi-finals, Central was first with Doris Fanning and Agnes Heal; Queen Alexandra second — Joan Foster and Phyllis Liddell; St. Mary's Convent, Jean DeCarlo and Grace Schiazzia. The finals for the diving contests will be held next Friday night, Nov. 26th in connection with the seniors' swimming exhibition for the Littlefield cup and all younger students are urged to attend.

The following were last week's results: Egg and spoon race (2 heats) A. Heal, C. Millburn, M. Currie. Junior diving, city championship — Iris Forbes, 67 points, Joan Foster 65 points, A. DeCarlo 61 points. 25 yards, 8 years and under H. Currie, M. Currie, J. Millard, a new city record was set for this race within 19 3-5 seconds. Babies city championship, Helen Currie 68 points, Margaret Currie, 63 points, Jean Millard 62 points, Umbrella race, 11 years and under, Iris Forbes, Helen Currie, Beverly Hughes. Junior life saving city championship, Joan Foster 72 points, Helen Currie 69 points, Iris Forbes 66 points. Candle race, open—Ruth Harris, Barbara Wyatt, Joan Foster. Intermediate diving championship, Ruth Harris 69 points, Louise Wilkshaw 61 points, Regina De Carlo 61 points. Old clothes race open — D. Anderson, Grace Barnes and Joan Patterson. Treasure hunt—Grace Schiazzia and Joan Foster.

The following acted as judges — Misses V. Currie, H. Forbes, J. Patterson, H. Bradley and C. Littlefield, Ross Thompson. All prizes and trophies will be presented, November 26.

MARK ST. CLASS AT RUSH POINT

Six carloads of the Men's Bible Class of Mark Street United Church spent a very pleasant afternoon at Rush Point Church north of Havelock, on Sunday. On arrival the service was handed over to the class by Miss Buchanan. C. Robb, class leader, opened with the call to worship. During the service two well rendered vocal selections ,with their own guitar accompaniment, were presented by Misses Doris Harrison and Audrey Murray. Allan Stevens and Max Pomeroy gave a splendid vocal duet. A vocal solo was also ably rendered by Len Agnew. At the close of the service a very interesting address was given by Mr. Robb. The congregation at Rush Point extended the men a very hearty welcome, and hoped for their return in the near future.

Woman Has Registered As Student At The Prospecting Class In City

This afternoon, Dr. H. Horwood of the Ontario Department of Mines was busy enrolling students in the prospecting course he is conducting in the lecture hall at the Public Library.

He had about twenty or so young men enrolled and was about to get down to the business of the afternoon, when in walked a devastating looking female. She was a blonde at that.

Thinking maybe that the young lady had been seeking some other part of the library building and that she had perhaps come into the classroom by mistake, Dr. Horwood suggested, "You're not interested in the prospector's class, are you".

"You bet I am", was the breezy reply as she accepted an enrollment card and fished in her bag amongst the powder puff and what not for a fountain pen.

FEATURING SEED FOXES AND MINK AT WINTER FAIR

TORONTO, Nov. 10 (CP)—An impressive list of entries—nearly 16,000 in the 16 divisions of the show—marks the 16th annual Royal Winter Fair to be held here Nov. 16-24. Hon. Norman Armour, United States minister to Canada, opens the exhibition this year, a recognition of the wide interest taken by American competitors.

Two innovations make this year's fair of particular importance. An all-Canadian seed and grain show, beyond anything yet attained in Eastern Canada, will prove of great interest together with a silver and black fox show. Combined with the latter will be a first nationally-representative mink show ever to be organized in the Dominion.

The Canadian provinces will be celebrated by "days" specially dedicated to their products and exhibits. This linking of the various parts of the Dominion through common interests in agriculture and the fostering of a spirit of broad Canadianism was instituted at the first "Royal."

Four army officers' teams representing Irish Free State, United States, Belgium and Holland are to compete with Canadian officers for the famous International Trophy in the horse show, one of the entertainment features of the fair. The trophy is held by Canada.

Large entries have come in from eight Canadian provinces and the United States in horses and cattle. In sheep and swine classes, taken collectively, long entry lists are posted for provinces where the feed harvest has been good.

Other departments include a much-enlarged poultry show, a dog show of 600 dogs and the fruit and flower exhibits.

Lord Digby, distinguished soldier and outstanding English horseman, will judge hunter classes at the horse show. Last spring he was elected president of Olympia Horse Show in London.

Livestock From West

All provinces and many parts of the United States are represented in the livestock entries.

In cattle, Alberta and Manitoba are well represented in the beef breeds. University of Alberta, Edmonton, has entered 16 head of Herefords and W. A. Crawford Frost, Nanton, 10; C.P.R., Calgary, has 20 Angus. Shorthorns, Herefords and Aberdeen-Angus are on the Manitoba list. Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick also send beef cattle.

Alberta sends 44 Holsteins for the dairy cattle show, Quebec 10, New Brunswick 15 and Prince Edward Island 37. In Ayrshires, Quebec leads with 96 head of which 25 are consigned by R. R. Ness and Sons, Howick and 21 by W. C. Pitfield, Cartierville. Quebec also sends 37 Jerseys and 71 French-Canadian cattle, with 32 Guernseys from Nova Scotia.

In breeding horses the western provinces are again prominent with 35 from Alberta, 36 from Manitoba, 60 from Saskatchewan and more than 100 from Quebec. Sheep and swine are in about the same number as they have been for the last two years.

In dairy products, Alberta and Manitoba have the largest entries, more than 300. There are also splendid entries in cheese and honey. In the inter-county judging competition more than 30 teams will compete.

240 M.P.H. AIR LINERS

LONDON, Nov. 22 (C.P.). — Five new high-speed air-liners capable of speeds of 240 miles an hour have been ordered by the Imperial Airways. They are intended for use on the London-Paris route, and it is expected they will reduce the flying time on that run to 1½ hours.

Jap Warns France

A Japanese claim to seize the Chinese island of Hainan and dominate from thence all of France's Asiatic colonies unless shipments of arms to China through French Indo-China cease immediately, has reportedly sent the pick of France's war fleet steaming under forced draft toward the Gulf of Tonking. Map shows the island of Hainan, part of China's Kwantung province and its strategic position in relation to French Indo-China and to British and American colonies in the Far East. Jap. occupation of Hainan could become a menace to all three powers with interests in the Far East.

CAPTIVE OCTOPUS PLAYS THE HERMIT

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (CP) — Charles M. Breder, acting director of the New York Aquarium which has been attempting for years to keep octopuses alive and in good health, today announced establishment of a record with the institution's octopus enjoying tip top health since its arrival from Key West, Fla., 86 days ago.

The achievement has not been without its disappointments, however. The octopus has turned out to be a shy, retiring creature of moods, whims and unaccountable habits.

It eats only at night. During the day is shrouds itself in octopodian mystery and lucky is the visitor who gets a glimpse of so much as a tentacle tip.

Almost invariably when someone comes within seeing distance the octopus squirts out a cloud of black ink-like stuff and forms an impenetrable screen in the water around its home.

When the specimen arrived Aug. 29, it was domiciled in a tank of pure water containing an inverted giant Pacific clam shell. It displayed its agitation by changing color several times. Then it retired into the dim recesses of its home. So seldom has the octopus been seen since aquarium keepers call it the "Hermit of the clam shell."

Receives 'Thanks' Note From The West

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 22.—Miss Evelyn Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Moore of Asphodel, is the first one in this district to receive a letter from Saskatchefan, receiving thanks for a bag of beans they shipped in the carload of vegetables sent from Norwood and Hastings. The letter was received from Miss Esther Bresch of Esk, Sask., and extracts read as follows:

The car of vegetables, fruits, etc. was distributed here at Esk today. We got five bags of potatoes, some carrots, beets and turnips, also a few apples, onions, beans, rolled oats, macaroni, corned beef, tomatoes, soup and two bars of laundry soap. We haven't had laundry soap for about ten years. We are very thankful for all these things and so is everyone else I am sure. The thanks all goes to you people who helped fill the car.

There was one vegetables we did no know. They looked like parsnips but after they were cooked they tasted like mild carrots—really very good. We nearly had an all Ontario supper tonight—Ontario potatoes, the vegetable I just mentioned, corned beef, Ontario onions and milk sauce, and oh, did we enjoy it.

In what part of Ontario is Hastings and is there much fruit grown there? This is a wheat country, and when the wheat fails, everything is scarce. Some people raised nothing at all in their gardens this year but we were a bit more fortunate. Our garden is well situated so we had a few vegetables but not many potatoes so you see how much your donation is going to help.

The found only one address in the car. The potatoes are swell, nicer than any we've seen for years. My father was telling me just this morning that the unloading of the car was just like a picnic. The women held their purses open when the beans were distributed. The men took the smaller vegetables under their arms, held up their caps and put them in sweaters. I don't think there has been such excitement at Esk. Everyone was there—all roads led to Esk yesterday.

Miss Moore who enclosed her name intends making a reply to this letter as the writer wishes information as to obtaining a position at housework in Ontario.

Their neighbors are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Maybee who in March of next year will be 75 years married, believed the longest married couple in Ontario.

King George Places Armistice Wreath At Foot Of Memorial

Unperturbed by the disturbance caused when an allegedly demented man broke through the guard of sailors about the London cenotaph, King George shortly afterward placed a wreath at the foot of the Haig memorial on Armistice Day, as shown ABOVE. The King's brothers, the Duke of Kent and Gloucester, also laid wreaths at the memorial.

Hammer-Swinging Boy Of Six Years Avenges Shooting Of His Father

New York, Nov. 22

POLICE today credited a hammer swinging boy of six, George Doiron, Jr., with having avenged the shooting of his father during a family fight last night.

George's father, 42, superintendent of an upper west side apartment house, was in a hospital with two bullet wounds.

Andrew Kay, 23, a brother-in-law of the elder Doiron, was in a police cell nursing hammer blows on face and shoulders and charged with felonious assault.

Police said Kay called at the Doiron apartment to discuss a possible reconciliation between Doiron and his wife. A fist fight followed and Doiron called on his son to get a hammer and help him.

When the boy returned from the kitchen with the hammer he found his father wounded and sprawled on the floor. Without hesitation he launched into such a furious assault on Kay that the latter fled.

Prince Gets 10 Years For Killing Girl

Honolulu, Nov. 22 (AP)

PRINCE David Kalakaua Kawanankoa, last male descendant of Hawaii's kings, was under a ten-year penitentiary sentence today after pleading guilty to a charge of manslaughter Saturday. The Prince was indicted on a charge of second degree murder, accused of killing Miss Arvilla Kinslea, 22-year-old part-Hawaiian, with whom he had been living. A Grand Jury determined she bled to death from neck wounds inflicted with a piece of crockery at a beach cottage party October 24.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.

One carried a sign bearing the signature of their father, Louis Zolot, 53, who was at home ill. It read:

"I worked for my brother twenty-five years since the Bilt-Well (Furniture) Company started. Now I am too old and he doesn't want to help my family."

The proprietor, Charles Zolot, denied his brother worked for him twenty-five years, and said he recently joined in a business competing against him.

KEENE

On Thursday evening the A.Y.P.A. resumed club meetings in the Town Hall, with a fair crowd and a splendid program. Minutes of the last meeting were read, followed by a business discussion, when they decided to hold a New Year's dance. Helen Clarkson sang "The One Rose." Current events were given by Betty Brown. Margaret Clarkson and Velma Hope tap danced. Dorothy Ferguson and Agnes Weir sang "Little Old Lady." Dancing concluded the evening to the music of Rhythm King's Orchestra.

Mrs. Ambrose Doris entertained the junior bridge club at her home. Prizes were won by Helen Nelson high score, and Mrs. Hugh McFee low score.

Mrs. Robert Nelson has returned from Shawnavon, Saskatchewan, where she visited her son, Claude Nelson.

HORSESHOE GAME TAKEN SERIOUSLY

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—An inebriated spectator of the horseshoe-pitching contest at the Royal Winter Fair, whose antics disturbed one of the tossers, learned that the competitors take this game seriously—and may also have learned a lesson in manners.

At any rate, the game was stopped long enough for the irate tosser to step out of the ring and monk too gently eject the intoxicated fan. The rest of the spectators applauded.

Long the particular hobby of firemen, the art of horseshoe pitching has been adopted by railway workers. In Toronto alone there are two clubs — the Runnymede and the Shamrock—made up almost entirely of railwaymen.

And yet, with all the expertness required in the game these days, it has grown a trifle sissy since the time when it first saw the light of day in the far corner of some barnyard.

As a matter of fact, they are not horseshoes any more, because the shoes the players use now were never near a horse. They look like horseshoes, but they're built for pitching and not for equine footwear. Their sizes and weight are governed according to rules set down by the Dominion of Canada Horseshoe Pitchers' Association.

GETS LOST CASH BACK

MEAFORD, Ont., Nov. 22 (CP) — Claude Burnside of this Georgian Bay town lost his wallet with $445 cash in it while visiting Toronto. An elderly woman found it and Claude got it back.

Joseph Verville Quebec M.P. Dies

ST. FLAVIEN, Que., Nov. 22 (CP). —The ranks of Liberal members of the House of Commons were depleted by one to-day following the death of Joseph A. Verville, who had represented Lotbiniere in the Lower House without a break since 1925.

The 51-year-old former Mayor of this town died on Saturday. His death created the second vacancy in the Commons—the other is in Victoria—leaving the Government Party with 177 members against a Conservative 39.

Verville, a native of St. Gertrude, Que., entered Federal politics in 1925 after Thomas Vien resigned the Lotbiniere seat. He was re-elected at general elections of 1926, 1930, and 1935.

"Tortured with Liver Trouble and Rheumatic Pains"

There is nothing like deep-seated liver trouble and rheumatic pains to pull you down. Here is a letter from a man who was enduring pain and misery, unnecessarily. He writes:

"I have distributed a supply of Fynnon Salt to a few friends who were suffering from kidney trouble, gout, etc. They have now said goodbye to their complaints. As for myself—I was practically born with liver trouble and rheumatism. Since taking Fynnon Salt I feel like a new man and my only complaint seems to be 'a grand appetite' and a body full of energy".

Fynnon Salt neutralizes the Uric Acid that causes rheumatic pains, gout, lumbago, sciatica, etc. Fynnon Salt brings quick relief from pain—limbs feel supple and free once again. A ½ teaspoonful of Fynnon Salt in a tumblerful of water every morning equals in medicinal effect three large glasses of the mineral spring waters found at famous British spas.

Now, in your own home, you can obtain similar benefits from a large 75c package of Fynnon Salt. Get it from your druggist, today. If you have any difficulty getting supplies, write: Laurentian Agencies, St. Gabriel Street, Montreal.

U.S. Ships First Gold Since March, 1936

Part of $10,250,00 of United States' store of gold which has been brought by France, is shown being unloaded from a truck preparatory to shipment aboard the Normandie at New York. The exportation of this gold is the first since March 2, 1936, when $350,000 was shipped to Holland. It is believed that other countries will follow France's lead in the purchases of gold from America.

Raise Your Blood-Count

And You'll Feel "In the Pink"

NORMAL BLOOD has a count of 4,500,000 red corpuscles. If your blood count is below this you just can't feel well, because only these tiny cells can carry the necessary nourishment from your food and the energizing oxygen from your lungs to every part of your body. With a low blood count you're bound to be always tired, easily upset, nervous and depressed, without appetite, sleepless, under weight. Everything is drudgery.

You needn't go on in this way! Take Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Originated by a Canadian physician, this tested tonic quickly raises your blood count. You get new energy and vigour, your depressions and nervousness disappear, your appetite and normal weight return, you sleep soundly, and your life is worth living again. If this is not you, r experience your money will be refunded. 50c at all druggists.

Had Indigestion Gas and Pains In Stomach and Bowels

The process of digestion depends largely on the condition of the stomach, and when it is unable to do its work properly there will be a rising and souring of food, a gnawing and burning sensation in the stomach, belching and pressure of gas, flatuleney, etc.

Miss M. C. Weiss, Mapova, Alta., writes:—"For a long time I was troubled with indigestion. My stomach would not digest my food, and I would have gas pressure and sour stuff coming up in my mouth.

I used Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking one bottle I felt a change for the better, so I decided to keep on, and after the third bottle I could eat anything and not be bothered with the rising and souring of my food."

Twenty Million Visitors

A bank statistician has estimated that before the end of the present year some twenty million Americans will have visited this country and that between four and five million of these tourists will have stayed in Canada for two days or more. The figures are impressive and they become more so when it is figured out that this army of visitors will have spent in Canada at least as much as was spent by tourists during the record year of 1929—a figure usually placed at $309,000,000.

This is a more than ordinarily accurate approximation in view of the fact that the Dominion Bureau of Statistics has conducted a close check upon tourist traffic. The Bureau has supplied thousands of visitors with cards, asking them for information as to the length of their stay and the approximate amount spent by them in Canada. As these cards were returned averages were taken and so it has been possible to get at a reasonably accurate total of tourist expenditure.

It is of course satisfactory to have a check upon these things but after all the people of Canada do not need a mass of official figures to convince them that the tourist business is a most profitable industry for Canada. They do not need government figures because many of them can tell from their own books and their own cash registers that it is a very fine thing for a good many businesses and industries that each year should see millions of visitors in our midst. The tourist industry, moreover, is nowhere near its peak. If it is properly nursed along and if we in Canada lay ourselves out to provide proper accomodation and give courteous and hospitable treatment to our visitors the total of twenty millions reached this year, large as it may seem, will be left behind in future seasons.

A Woman For Mayor?

The electors of St. Thomas are to have a chance at the coming municipal election of saying whether or not they want the proceedings of the council presided over by a woman mayor. Miss Edra Saunders, a young lawyer who has been a member of the St. Thomas council as an alderman, has signified her intention of tossing her charming chapeau into the mayoralty ring and the result will be watched with a great deal of interest. There is no reason why a woman should not be mayor of St. Thomas or any other place for that matter and no reason either why a woman should not make a good mayor but so far Ontario has not gone in very much for that kind of thing. We have been rather slow about recognizing the fact that since woman has been given the franchise the privilege is her's to offer herself for public office.

Here in Peterborough we have never had a woman member of the city council—nor in fact a woman candidate for alderman. We have had, however, in Mrs. W. R. Morris a woman member of the Board of Education and one who has done splendid work on that body in the interest of education and one who has had the honor of being chosen as chairman of the Board. Incidentally we also have a woman senator in the person of Mrs. Iva Campbell Fallis, the second of her sex in Canada to be distinguished by appointment to the Upper Chamber. There is apparently therefore no particular prejudice here against women in public office; it just has happened that no representative of the fair sex has seen fit to enter the turmoil of an election for the council. One may come along some day and then we will see what will happen; in the meanwhile we will keep an eye on St. Thomas where a woman has had the temerity to enter the battle for the position of the honorable and responsible office of chief magistrate.

Too Easy To Get

At the funeral of the six victims of the Vineland level crossing accident the other day the minister who officiated said that the government was to be censured for issuing driving licenses to boys 16 years of age. There is much to be said on both sides of that question but in our opinion this matter of driving permits for young boys is bound up in the larger issue of whether there isn't too much laxity in the licensing of drivers generally.

There are boys of sixteen who are known as excellent drivers, handling their cars with the judgment and skill of much older performers at the wheel; similarly there are motorists much older in years who are as irresponsible and reckless as drivers as if they were youngsters of ten. It has always seemed to us that it is too easy to secure a permit for driving; that the test required of applicants is not sufficiently exacting to weed out those who are not fitted physically or temperamentally to be entrusted with the responsibility of guiding a heavy machine under the traffic condition that prevail today. There are persons in our community driving cars who are obviously not safe drivers and yet they do not seem to have had much difficulty in obtaining the necessary permit that gives them the legal right to operate an automobile. We feel that the minister did not go far enough when he said something about censure for the government for issuing licenses to young boys; he might well have added that the authorities were equally liable to criticism because they issued licenses to a lot of other persons who should not have them.

On The Right Track

Those county councils in Ontario which are launching a progressive policy of reforestation are on the right track. Off hand it is difficult to think of any program within the jurisdiction of such bodies that offers such a sure and certain return on the investment involved or that will mean so much in future years to the welfare of the districts concerned.

In many counties of Ontario there are areas of waste land that have no possibilities from an agricultural viewpoint, but that can be converted into valuable woodlands under a proper program of reforestation and at a minimum of expense. The trees needed for this work are available from the Department of Forests—the officials of which are always anxious to co-operate in programs of this nature and there are no obstacles in the way of a general adoption throughout the province of the movement that has already got under way in a number of counties.

Those councils that have decided to buy up tracts of useless land and use it for reforestation purposes are building up an asset that will be of tremendous value in future years and at the same time they are blazing the trail for other counties. Their lead is one that might well be investigated in other quarters, including our own county which should lend itself admirably to a reforestation policy.

Safety Education

The value of safety talks among school pupils has been most effectively illustrated by the experience of Kansas City, a city of 130,000 people which has not had a single fatal accident to a child in its streets for a year. A year ago last October the Kansas City authorities, concerned by the large number of traffic accidents in which young lives had been sacrificed, came to the conclusion that it was time something was done to deal with such a serious situation. Accordingly it was decided that the teachers in the public schools should receive instructions in safety measures and that each day they should give a simple safety talk and demonstration to their pupils.

The result of this training soon became evident. Street accidents to children stopped and after two or three months without a mishap it was suggested that the pupils had been sufficiently taught and the lessons might be dropped. Wisely however the authorities decided to take no chances. The safety lessons went on every day and the result is seen in the fact that not a child has lost his life in a year.

Luck, you say? Well hardly.

Granted there is some measure of good fortune in a perfect record like that but it takes more than luck to produce such results. It is necessary to make children safety-conscious, to teach them to be careful about how, where and when they cross streets and to drive home the danger that lies in careless playing in places where automobile traffic constitutes a menace.

Kansas City has shown that the thing can be done, that persistent and consistent education along safety lines produces results. Other communities that have been satisfied with spasmodic efforts in that direction might do well to investigate the system by which a city of 130,000 people was able to go twelve months without a child being killed.

How About Canada?

The desirability of closer trade relations between Great Britain and the United States is so self-evident that the announcement of efforts to complete a commercial treaty between the two countries leaves Canadians with mixed feelings. They know that improved trade relations between the United Kingdom and the republic also means closer relations generally and they are aware that in the interest of democracy it is essential that the two great Anglo-Saxon peoples should be associated always on most friendly terms. And yet Canadians cannot help feeling some anxiety as to what might be involved in the proposed pact in the way of losses to our own industries and producers.

That is why they will be inclined to give a hearing to the warning that has been issued by Conservative leader R. B. Bennett who sees in the suggested negotiations the danger that the preference Canada now enjoys in the British market may be lost. Loss of the British preference, he says, would mean that United States exports would capture the market that Canada now holds and that Canadians would have to compete with our great neighbor to the south with respect to every commodity on which the preference might happen to be removed.

The situation will call for most sincere consideration at Ottawa for a British-United States pact would mean a readjustment of trade relations between Canada and the United States and it is admitted that bargaining will be required if Canada's interests are not to be sacrificed — perhaps not to the extent suggested by Mr. Bennett but at least to a degree that would be felt in all sections of the country.

PLAINT OF SCIENCE

For long I toiled the human lot to ease—
Early and late, with interest unabated,
I taught man how to overcome disease,
How drudgery could be eliminated;

Taught gardeners and farmers how to rid
Their plants of noxious pests; taught man to see
What wonders are in Nature's keeping hid,—
My one desire, to aid humanity.

The wings I gave that search among the stars;
Secrets for ages hidden, now unlocked,—
Passion's intrigues enlists all this for Mars,
Till old securities with fear are rocked;

Reason be with him, or what man has learned
Shall to his own destruction soon be turned!

MAJOR ALBERT W. STEVENS, co-holder of the world's ballon altitude record of 72,395 feet—in a recent speech shot holes in the theory that it might be possible to travel 1,000 miles an hour at an altitude of 100,000 feet. Somewhere around 480 miles per hour airplanes, he says, will run into their absolute speed limit and somewhere around 56,000 feet they will reach their practical ceiling.

"The speed of sound" explained the Major "is around 1,100 feet a second on the ground but only 950 feet in the stratosphere. When you approach the speed of sound you get a compression effect that increases the resistance as though you were pushing against a stone wall. The best you can do is to have the propeller tip move about 75 per cent. the speed of sound in a special direction that is as much sideways as forward; that makes the 480 mile-an-hour limit to the plane.

The Black Sunday of 1913 Recalled

Thirty-four Ships Foundered or Wrecked And 272 Great Lakes Sailors Drowned

(From the Port Arthur News-Chronicle)

THE STORM with which last week began, bringing high winds and snow to Port Arthur and district, marked the twenty-fourth anniversary of the most disastrous gale the Great Lakes region ever knew.

On a never-to-be-forgotten week-end of November 9, 1913, a total of thirty-four ships foundered or were driven ashore, in some cases to be pounded to pieces on the rocks. It took days for the world to learn the whole story. Newspapers were gathering reports and compiling casualty lists, much as they were to be compiled shortly afterwards in the Great War for nearly a week.

It was on a Sunday night, now known as "Black Sunday," that the gale started a sixty-mile blow that tossed ships about like corks or chips and paid little or no attention to their size or power. Some were turned completely over as they tossed. Others, able to keep an even keel, found their hatches and other parts being battered in so that the water could enter, filling them and carrying them to the bottom.

In those days there was no wireless service as now and no ship to shore telephone. No ship master could call for help, and even if he could there would have been little chance of receiving it. Every ship had to fight her own battle.

In the sinking or destruction of thirty-four ships approximately 272 lives were lost. The trail of destruction covered almost the entire Great Lakes system from the head of Lake Superior to the St. Lawrence. It was centred on Lake Huron. On November 12, 1913, seventeen ships were reported overdue at Port Arthur and Fort William. Most of them remained forever overdue. Lost with all their crews.

For weeks after the inferno of raging water wreckage was being observed in various places, sometimes drifting ashore to tell the story that had already been too well guessed.

The wind and the raging waters gave no respect to any ship. The James Carruthers, Canada Steamship Lines carrier, pride of the Great Lakes, newly constructed and carrying 370,000 bushels of grain as she moved out from the Lakehead with flags flying, foundered in Lake Huron with her crew of twenty-eight.

Some of the ships caught in the great gale turned completely over and, buoyed by the air space in their hulls, floated for a time bottom up, being thus seen after the storm had abated and the lakes had become again calm.

Northern Ontario's Claim to Fame

No Sinkhole of Sin is Timmins With 18 Religious Denominations There

(From the Timmins Advance)

LAST WEEK newspapers all over Canada seemed to joyously extend free publicity to this North land. The North did not need, nor desire that sort of publicity. But it was given just the same.

Somebody said that the North was a sinkhole of sin and iniquity, full of modern Sodoms and Gomorrahs, with men with hearts as hard as the rocks they drilled! What full-page spreads that made! Yet only a few days before when the corner-stone was laid for the second big modern hospital in this supposed sinkhole of sin, with the cost of the hospital practically paid in advance by the hard-hearted fellows of the camp, the matter passed with but a few lines in the outside dailies.

Industries that have given new wealth and employment to help keep all Ontario, all Canada, on even keel in stressful days! Mines that have made riches for thousands!

Millions spent for education by a few thousand people who were determined that the schools of the North should be models for all the province.

A climate that made sturdy children and healthy men and women!

A country with scenery that has rare strength and beauty to all seeing eyes.

A people with courage and the spirit of adventure who have triumphed over the obstacles that face the pioneer, and have built modern cities in the wilderness in a few short years.

Strikes of the right kind! Golden strikes!

Building a new town hall!

Mining camps that escape epidemics! New towns that know no conflagrations, because they pay good money to buy good luck in fire prevention.

In Timmins alone there are three bands supplying music that would do credit to a town of double its size.

Public libraries, hospitals, theatres, stores, homes, hotels—a thousand and one other things worthy of note in this new land.

Sinkhole of sin? Surely not Timmins! Not with 18 religious denominations actively at work in the town! Two big new churches built this year of grace!

Too Many Folk For White Collar Jobs

Average High School Lad Sets His Mind On Getting Job With No Manual Work

(From the Galt Reporter.)

SERIOUS THINKERS have been stroking their beards thoughtfully of late and crying that the "middle class" is being squeezed almost to death by the pressure of hard times. What they fail to add is that the great "middle class" has been taking unto its bosom a great many people who would be happier and more prosperous elsewhere.

The fact was neatly touched on recently by the publicist, William Feather, in an article in Nation's Business, published in the United States.

In spite of unemployment, says Mr. Feather, the United States today suffers from an acute shortage of skilled workers, and the shortage is going to be even more acute in the near future. And why? Because the average ambitious high school lad of today has his heart set on a dignified white collar job, and scorns the prospect of being an expert turret lathe opperator, a first-class pattern maker, a skilled machinist or anything else that requires manual labor.

It isn't the ambitious high school lad's fault. We have glorified the white collar man; as Mr. Feather remarks, we have taught the young chap to look forward to a career rather than a job. He feels that if it would somehow be disgraceful for him to wear overalls.

The result of all of this is that the swollen "middle class" is jammed with people who simply can't make a decent living in their chosen occupations.

What's the answer? Mr. Feather suggests, simply, that we devise uniforms to take the place of overalls and before you start laughing, just consider the prestige which a neat uniform gives to the job it goes with.

There are good technical schools to prepare boys for the skilled trades. It would be a fine thing if we could find some way—whether Mr. Feather's, of some other — to show young men that the white collar is not the only badge of distinction.

LEARNING FRENCH.

(Niagara Falls Review)

ACCORDING to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, 76.6 per cent. of high school students, studying English in the provinces of the Dominion are also studying French, and that is a good thing. Our experience, however, is that many students of secondary school French can read much better than speak the language. Particularly in Canada is a knowledge of both languages valuable from the material point of view (so bi-linguallists usually command higher salaries) as well as the cultural point of view. There is a general belief there could be some improvement in the teaching of French so that students would finish the course with a speaking as well as reading knowledge of French.

To the Editor

A COUNTER-BLAST TO ALCOHOL

Editor Examiner:

Sir: It will probably surprise readers that no fewer than eight million gallons of milk help dispersed in some thousand "milk-bars" in the Old Country in a year. The amount of business done in some of the larger London milk-bars is astonishing—one alone serving more than 15,000 glasses a week apart from thousands of gallons of soup and fruit syrups.

The owners of twenty-five bars in London claim they are buying a million gallons of milk a year and are asking for special rates from the Milk Marketing Board.

The owners of these milk-bars are not running them for the sake of their health nor as a gesture of social and moral reform, they are run for profit in a country and city generally deemed to be obsessed with a desire for beer.

Cannot this point a way to local prohibition bodies and advocates? Instead of destructive criticism and cut-and-dried resolutions, why not try something constructive for a change? There is a wide and fertile field. What can be done in England and London should surely be possible in Canada and Peterborough, if conciliatory and not antagonizing tactics were employed.

Yours truly
MILK-BAR.

ONCE IN A WHILE there is a real news item comes out of Ottawa.

A man down there has just succeeded in raising a 101 pound punkin, (they spell it pumpkin in Ottawa out of deference to the higher ups there) and this seems to be the biggest vegetable in the place. A worthy man at Severn Bridge registered one at 95 pounds. In our considered opinion there is nothing small about either.

This column accepts the Ottawa claim as correct, thus showing an example of simple Norman faith that may have some effect on some editors who endeavor to pick holes in Algoma wolf stories.

It may be of interest to the proud grower to learn that the punkin, is not unknown in Algoma, having been for some years standard equipment for wolf hunts. When Jack McPhail's punkin pie fell out of his lunch pail on a dusty road, it turned out an efficient lure for lupus and thus started the fad at wolf club outings. Perhaps the Ottawa man would forward say a couple of pies for this and other purposes. How can a judicious opinion be expressed in the absence of Exhibit A?

WHY SO MANY PISTOLS?

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

According to the annual report of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at the end of last March there had been registered by their owners under the law requiring this step 160,653 pistols and revolvers. Altogether, it is estimated, there are between three and four hundred thousand revolvers and pistols in Canada.

"Oh, rather! What a night!"

"Do you remember," said Holmes impressively, "that a fortnight ago I lent you five dollars?"

"I'm sorry, old chap," apologized Gray, "but, to tell you the truth, I had clean forgotten."

BRITAIN, U.S. DRAFT REVIEW OF WORK ON PEACE IN CHINA

BRUSSELS, Nov. 22 (AP)—Viscount Cranborne of Great Britain and Norman H. Davis, U.S. ambassador at large, worked today on the draft of a new statement on the Chinese-Japanese conflict which may bring the Brussels conference to a close.

The document under discussion still must gain approval from French delegates scheduled to arrive today.

The statement prepared by British and American delegates was a historical record of the conference's efforts to obtain peace in the Orient. It was understood to include nothing that could be construed as effective aid to China.

Conference delegates virtually admitted none of the nations represented at the meeting was in a position to take effective action to halt the Chinese-Japanese conflict. They expressed doubt that anything could be done to salvage some kind of aid for China despite appeals of Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate, that the governments withhold war supplies and financial credits from Japan.

FIND FIELD GUNS IN FRENCH RAIDS

PARIS, Nov. 22—(CP).—Premier Camille Chautemps told the Chamber of Deputies last night a situation of "terrible gravity" had been disclosed by the Government's investigation of secret revolutionary societies.

Armed mobile guards were stationed about Government buildings as police struck at what authorities believed to be a Rightist revolutionary committee organized to seize power and apparently capable of waging warfare on a nation-wide scale.

The Radical-Socialist Premier said the Government would ask special legislation to reinforce its swift action against a secret society known as "Les Cagoulards" — "the hooded ones"—thought to be one section of the revolutionary group.

Chamber Votes Confidence.

The Chamber gave the People's Front Government a 399 to 160 vote of confidence after Chautemps pledged the Cabinet to preserve "Republican order" at home and defend peace abroad.

After a conference with Chautemps, the Minister of the Interior, Marx Dormoy, said: "The affair is getting bigger and more serious every minute."

All Ministries were co-operating in the effort to crush the organization before it could take action.

Large stores of arms and ammunition, including anti-aircraft, anti-tank and even field guns were discovered by police in a series of raids throughout the country. The Government was making every effort to uncover the financial and political backers of the organization.

Believe One Section Smashed

The disclosure last September of "Les Cagoulards" put the Government secret police on the trail of a parent organization. The raids of the last few days netted five "unit" caches of arms, and the Government believed one section of the revolutionary committee had been smashed.

Police found not only arms, many of which were of Italian and German make, but secret wireless sets and parts of uniforms.

Montreal Man Perfects Tempering

In the near future Canada may be the centre of the industrial world because of Ernest Tremblay, (ABOVE), Montreal inventor, who has discovered a special process for tempering steel, copper, aluminum and iron. Sceptics of the first hour are now reported raving about the invention which can temper steel all the way through, but which has been found best when only tempered a hundredth of an inch thick. Tremblay is shown (ABOVE) carving an axle with a nail tempered with the new process. The nail was as sharp after the experiment as when it started. Several offers for the process are reported to have been turned down by the Montreal man who is now fulfilling several industrial contracts.

If You Like It Eat It Boys Told By Rumford Butt Y.M.C.A. Worker

"If you like it, eat it; or rather, if it likes you, eat it," declared Rumford Butt of Toronto as he advised Friday Night Supper Club boys not to yield to eating fads in an address to the Club Friday night. Men and women of the pioneer generation paid little attention to vitamins and calories, eating what they pleased, and lived to good, old ages, he said.

The speaker, a life-long Y.M.C.A. member and worker, gave his hearers as the leading factors in good health, adequate exercise, correct posture, correct diet and a knowledge of how to relax. He said exercise is the backbone of good health, exercise of the internal organs as well as the exterior muscles. He praised the Y.M.C.A. as a health-giving institution, skiing and swimming.

The speaker was introduced by Club Chairman Charles Shaw. W. M. (Pete) Gordon expressed to him the club's thanks.

TORONTO MAIN BREAKS

TORONTO, Nov. 22 (C.P.). — A burst water main last night flooded the North Toronto district for blocks and caused thousands of dollars damage. The whole of North Toronto will be affected, as well as Forest Hill, and part of York Township.

Little White Lie Brings Suicide

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—(AP).— A "little white lie" from the lips of a pretty 16-year-old High school girl was blamed to-day for the death of a young Military Academy student.

The girl, Lorraine Harynek, said in a signed statement to police she had told Warren S. Stanley, 17-year-old son of a wealthy cosmetics manufacturer, she was to become a mother; when actually, she said, "it wasn't true at all."

The cadet, with a bullet wound in the head, was found early Sunday in a wrecked automobile which police said had been stolen. A pistol was clutched in one hand.

In his pocket police found a note addressed to Miss Harynek, who said their romance dated back to grammar school.

COUPLE ARE JAILED AFTER EX-HUSBAND CLAIMED POISONED

ST. METHODE, Que., Nov. 22 — (CP).—Achille Grondin and his wife were in jail to-day at St. Joseph in the neighboring county of Beauce awaiting questioning next week in connection with death of 39-year-old Villemond Brochu, victim of arsenic poisoning.

After the inquest Saturday into the St. Methode villager's death when Dr. Jean Marie Roussel, provincial autopsist of Montreal, testified there was enough arsenic in the man's viscera to cause death. The pair were ordered held as important witnesses.

The order to arrest the Grondins was given by Coroner Viateur Bolduc. The woman was the wife of Bronchu at the time of his sudden death in October, and she married Grondin afterward. Inquest into the man's death was ordered by the Attorney-General's Department at Quebec after complaints were received from a sister.

Abbe F. Belleau, Cure of this Frontenac County parish, was one of the witnesses heard during the inquest. He said Bronchu died October 16 and was buried three days later.

MILLBROOK, Nov. 22—The Junior Girls' Club, which last season called itself the "Supper Club," met on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, to initiate their study and demonstrations for the current year.

The leader, Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, was in charge, the first item of business being the election of officers, the slate including: President, Jean Blech; Vice-President, Wilam Armstrong; Secretary-Treasurer, Marian Belch. It was decided to re-name the club for this season, and the girls are to come prepared with suitable suggestions at the next meeting on Saturday, November 27, the place to be announced later.

This year the study is on "The Milky Way," having to do with the value of milk as a food, which side of the subject was taken up by the leader on Saturday, and various other features of the topic to be taken up at the fortnightly meetings, with demonstrations forming a part of the fascinating and helpful theme.

The hostess served dainty refreshments before the girls dispersed, and the usual votes of thanks were passed during the social hour.

SNOW GIVES CLUES

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 22 (CP).—Snow provided police with a clue to a weekend break-in, when thieves left footprints in an alley, showing the size of their shoes. Entrance was gained to the home of A. Miller through a side window. The house was ransacked, but apparently nothing was taken.

With The Boy Scouts

On Monday evening a joint meeting of the First and Second Rover Crews was held to have a friendly chat with Provincial Rover Commissioner Ronald Winters of Toronto. Several good points were brought forward: it was decided to form a Rover Council, made up of two members from each Crew and the Skippers, to discuss things of Rover interest in Peterborough.

Scoutmaster H. Van Everdinger of Port Hope was in the city to seek the co-operation of the Scouts of Peterborough in a Theatre Night the Port Hope Troops are holding on December 2. District Commissioner J. T. Hornsby will act in official capacity on that night, and it is hoped that our band of Scout Brotherhood will be given to Port Hope, and a good contingent will go there and attend the Scout Night in the Capitol Theatre. Let us all go.

Tuesday finds us at the 1st Peterborough St. John's Crew, where Troop Committeeman Mr. Patterson of the 11th Troop, gave a talk on Scouting in Peterborough back in 1910. Mr. Patterson was one of the Scouts who attended Coronation of our late King Georg V. Mr. Patterson told us of the old Y.M.C.A. troop and of the times spent at Nassau camping.

Thursday night, a meeting of the Scouters' Club was held in the Sacred Heart headquarters. Scouter G. Mills, J. Tobin and N. Begley of Lindsay, and Scouter McKerchar and Baldwin of Lakefield were guests. One thing of interest to all troops was discussed. It was decided to hold a Scout Hockey League again this winter and all troops interested should get in touch with W. Anderson, phone 2706-M.

I have been asked the following question: "Should Scout Masters be on a Scout hockey team?" And I trust that those in charge will consider this point and make an age limit, say from 12 to 18 years. Anyone over 18 years old should not be allowed to play.

At the Sacred Heart troop, the boys resented, with a smile, the bad instruction as reported last week; but if it was bad they passed several tests during the week. Omer Shaughnessy completed his second class tests, whilst Tom Ritchie, Arnold Kilbrick, Don DeNoble, Omer Shaughnessy, Paul Conlin and Frank Goseline passed fire lighting and cooking. Bud Hallihan and Bill Jones passed tree felling.

A.S.M. George Sidall of St. George's gave a talk at camp fire. Arnold Kilbrick was invested as a Scout. Arnold, who came up from the pack about three weeks ago, is progressing quickly and is well on his way to second class.

Jack Baldwin of Immaculate Conception troop and Charlie Dobbin of All Saints were visitors to the troop.

At St. John's Bill Brown, Gray Zavitz, Murray Patterson and Ted McEwen were invested as tenderpads into the cub pack. Next Friday, November 26, the Cub Mothers' Auxiliary will meet in the parish hall at 3 p.m., and all Cub Mothers are invited to attend. All Cubs are reminded to bring an old toy next Friday to be given to the firemen for their Christmas toy shop. The Cub Pack will be holding a paper collection in a few weeks and asks their friends to save their paper for that purpose. Next Friday, Ted Chalmers (Red Fang) will go up to the troop.

Good Scouting, all.—The Skipper.

London, November 22

THE British destroyer Greyhound today stopped in the Mediterranean Sea and escorted to the British island of Malta the British steamship African Mariner.

The freighter was charged with contravening the Merchant Shipping Carriage of Munitions Act, forbidding transport of munitions to Spain on British vessels. Reuters news agency reported from Malta the freighter reached there with an armed guard from the destroyer on board. The incident was believed the first of its type since the outbreak of the Spanish civil war.

Big Gold Shipment From United States Is Made To French Goverment

New York, Nov. 22

ANOTHER shipment of United States Government gold, reported to be $10,000,000 worth, is being sent to France, it was disclosed here today.

Loaded in closely guarded trucks, the gold was moved from the New York Federal Reserve Bank to the liner Champlain, of the French Line, and stowed away in the hold to await the ship's sailing at noon tomorrow.

This shipment, together with two earlier gold exports totalling about $15,000,000 announced this month, constitute the only big outward movements of gold since 1934.

Federal Reserve officals here had no comment.

COWS GET GOITRE AND PIGS CANCER

TORONTO, November 22—(CP)—The ills that flesh is heir to attack domestic animals as well as men. Like men, beasts suffer from all sorts of ailments and have a few of their own besides. Sheep are among the healthiest of animals.

These are a few of the facts gleaned from an exhibition sponsored by the Dominion Department of Agriculture at the Royal Winter Fair. It shows cows get goitre, pigs develop cancer, and chickens may suffer from cirrhosis of the liver.

Drs. G. A. Rose and C. L. Wallace of the department, in charge of the exhibit, commented that goitre is found usually among cattle or calves. While no animal except man and a high type of monkey develop poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis), horses in Manitoba have been presenting a problem with encophalo-myelitis, a form of sleeping sickness.

Cows mostly die from tuberculosis, horses mostly from indigestion and pneumonia, and pigs seldom live long enough to die from anything except the butcher's knife.

Harvest Thanksgiving celebrations were held in Ireland in October.

MAKING THEIR DREAMS COME TRUE

INTO the lives of thousands of Canadian women has come a new happiness—a new sense of security—through their wise investment in Life Insurance.

These modern, self-supporting young women have adopted the Life Insurance plan of making their dreams come true. By setting aside small amounts now, they can look forward to the time when they can say "au revoir" to their daily routine and enjoy life to the full.

Their Life Insurance will free them from money worries today and tomorrow—providing a cash reserve in times of emergency—and, later on, a guaranteed monthly income as long as they live.

To women, as well as to men, Life Insurance ensures financial security through little savings. That is why women are now buying, on an average, one out of every five Life Insurance policies sold in Canada.

It costs so little . . . . you'll make several for gifts and for yourself. It will stretch your Xmas budget. Its slim one-piece styling makes it suitable for youth or for "hard to fit" mature figures. Slipped on a quick as a flash. "Pull in" at the waistline with the "trick" belt as much as you like. The attractive arrangement tied in a bow at the front has a very slimming effect. Bright ric rac . . . . so easy to sew . . . . outlines the becoming vee neck, cap sleeves and the useful decorative triangle pocket of this wine and white cotton percale dress. Other sturdy cottons as broadcloth prints, chambray, pique, shantung weaves, etc., are equally smart and practical. See diagram how simple it is to sew!

Style No. 2036 is designed for sizes small, medium and large. The medium size requires 3½ yards of 39-inch material with 2¼ yards of braid.

Bishop-Eager.

KEENE, Nov. 22.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rennie was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday evening last, when Mrs. Margaret Eager was united in marriage to James Bishop. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Preston of Knox Presbyterian Church.

To strains of the Wedding March played by Miss Irene Short, the bride entered the living-room and took her place beneath an arch of evergreens and bittersweet. She wore a becoming dress of wine crepe, matching accessories, and a corsage of roses and fern.

Miss Doris Eager, who attended her mother, wore also a wine-colored frock, with a corsage of roses and fern. The bride was given in marriage by Andrew Rennie, and her brother, Robert Robinson, attended the groom.

Mrs. Rennie, who was wearing a flowered silk dress, with the bride's gift, a corsage of roses and fern, sang a solo during the signing of the register.

Following the ceremony, dinner was served to the bridal party and guests. The toast to the bride was proposed by the Rev. Mr. Preston, to which the groom responded. Later the happy couple left for the groom's farm, which is situated east of Keene.

Golden-Ross.

LINDSAY, Nov. 22.—Miss Anna Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Ross, was married to Clifford McElroy Golden, son of Mrs. Golden and the late Edward Golden, at a ceremony in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Saturday. Rev. J. C. Grier officiated, Mrs. J. W. Deyell played the wedding music.

The bride wore a gown of wine velvet with matching hat and veil. Mrs. Morley Finley wore royal blue velvet. Ross Golden was groomsman and Morley Finley was usher. A reception was held, with Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Golden receiving, both wearing black crepe. Later Mr. and Mrs. Golden left on a motor trip, the bride travelling in an alpaca dress, brown coat and accessories. On their return they will reside in Lindsay.

Prudential Company Dinner at Kawartha Club.

The annual dinner of the Prudential Insurance Company's Peterborough branch was held at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club on Saturday evening.

A charmingly informal air as of a happy family party was the keynote of the gathering, comprising the local staff and the members from out-of-town who filled the five long tables, whose pretty decorations were bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums, given later to several lucky ladies on draws made by Lenore Gordon.

John I. Allen, superintendent, welcomed the guests, regretting the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt, and Mr. and Mrs. Howe, due to illnesses in their families. C. W. Nich-

Davidson-McIlmoyl.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. James' United Church on Thursday afternoon last, at four o'clock, when Marjory Lorine, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. McIlmoyl of 220 Hurley street, formerly of Regina, Sask., became the bride of William Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson, Sr., of Southey, Sask. The Rev. J. F. Craig performed the ceremony.

Harolde Kitney of Toronto, presiding at the organ, played the wedding march as the bridal party entered the church, and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" as the register was being signed.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, made on princess lines, with shirred bodice and short puffed sleeves. Her long veil of fine white net was held in place with a wreath of ting white rosebuds and embroidered with white satin roses in applique. She wore silver slippers and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses.

Miss Merle McIlmoyle, who attended her sister as bridesmaid, wore a similarly made gown in a pale pink shade, and a wreath of roses in her hair. She also wore silver slippers and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The best man was Joseph Fesico.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served to about twenty guests at the home of the bride's parents, where the rooms were decorated with pink and white streamers and bells. Mrs. McIlmoyl was wearing a dress of black crepe, with a corsage of red roses. The young couple will reside for the winter at 220 Hurley Street.

O'Neill-Collins.

St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Mary Elizabeth, only daughter of Mrs. Collins and the late William Collins, became the bride of Patrick James O'Neill, son of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Neill of Downeyville.

The Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father V. J. Gillogly, of Ennismore, and also present in the Sanctuary was the Rev. Father McFadden of Downeyville.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Patrick Cadigan, the bride was charmingly gowned in silk chiffon velvet in sapphire blue shade, made on princess lines, with high neckline and French sleeves drawn in tightly at the wrist. Her hat of the same material as her gown, was trimmed with silver and she wore silver slippers. Her flowers were a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums and maiden hair fern.

Miss Margaret Sullivan, as bridesmaid, wore a princess gown of forget-me-not blue taffeta, trimmed with blue velvet, matching hat, and silver slippers. She carried a bouquet of baby chrysanthemums.

The groom was attended by his brother, tSafford O'Neill of Toronto, and the ushers were John J. Collins, brother of the bride, and Gerald O'Neill, cousin of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Hooper's Palm Rooms, the bridal party returning later to the home of the bride's parents, where an enjoyable evening was spent by a number of guests.

Mrs. O'Neill was the recipient of many handsome and useful gifts gift to the bride was a three-strand from her many friends. The groom's pearl necklace, to the bridesmaid a mother-o'pearl rosary, and to the groomsman, a gold tie-pin and clasp.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

TOSSING A BIG BOY

AS A GENERALITY, if you are able to make a discard from your own hand on a high card in the dummy, you pick out some worthless card to throw away. There are times, however, when it is better to toss away a big fellow, perhaps to unblock some suit, and enable the dummy later on to stay in the lead for still additional discards.

(Dealer: North. North-South vulnerable.)

This deal came up in a team-of-four match and at each table the final contract was 6-Hearts. At each table the bidding started with South, who bid 2-Hearts, North called 3-No Trumps, South 4-Hearts, North 5-Hearts and South 6-Hearts.

The opening lead was the diamond Q at both tables. At one table the trick was won with the diamond A and a club discarded from the South hand. The heart A was laid down and a heart finessed to the Q. West led another diamond, which South ruffed. After drawing the other outstanding heart, the three high spades were cashed but a club had to be given up in the end.

At the other table the contract was made. When the diamond Q was led, it was won in the North with the A and the spade Q discarded. A spade was led to the K and the spade A cashed. Then the heart K was laid down and a heart to the A. On the spades J and 10, South tossed his two losing clubs, so that only one trick was lost to the heart Q.

Tomorrow's Problem.

How should South play to make his contract of 3-No Trumps?

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"Death is the end of life; ah why Should life all labor be?
Let us alone. Time driveth onward fast
And in a little while our lips are dumb.

Let us alone. What pleasure can we have To war with evil? Is there any peace
In ever climbing up the climbing wave?"

—Tennyson. (The Lotus eaters)

Dear Friends:

And life is just like that, a climbing wave, which we get tired of climbing, but climb we must. There is a driving force in each of us which gets us out of bed each morning, while bed pulls us back to take our ease, and we feel like saying to our duties, "let us alone."

But, if you have ever been forced to stay in bed for weeks at a time, you find that one night of it is all you want. God knew how much we needed work to interest us, and far from being a punishment it is a blessing.

Even those who are in no real need of money find that it is better that there hands find work to do. There is no real ease until we have earned it, and work with the hands will often give relief to the brain.

One woman who came to me for help, could not rest nor relax enough to sleep. There was no need for her to work, her husband provided a maid, and after going into her case thoroughly I told her if she dismissed the maid and did the work herself she would be cured.

But that was too easy a cure, so I suggested a hobby which would take all her attention and also use the strength and energy which was going to waste. Again she negatived that, so the last I heard she was in a psychopathic hospital, paying someone big money to make her do what she would not make herself do, work with her hands.

You get a certain amount of energy, in fact you generate it yourself with the food you take into your body, and if it isn't used up you cannot relax and possibly will not be able to sleep.

Anyone who has had great sorrow will tell you they would have gone insane had it not been for work, because when your mind is intent on one thing, there is no room for another.

So it is easy to see how grief can be pushed into the background by work, and when the body and brain are healthy tired, you sleep and each lessens your pain and rebuilds you all through.

And you can see that there is really peace in climbing the wave, in warring with evil, in accomplishment. Of course I am judging you to use common sense with it all, for overwork is as bad as not enough, and can do as much harm.

You can be too tense, you can wreck your sleep that way just as well as having too little to do, so have some mercy both on yourself and those who must live with you.

But never think, like the Lotus Eaters that Death is the end of life, for it only ends one phase of it. Never think either, that peace bought by giving up is satisfactory. We are all inherently lazy, labor as such does not appeal to us, but when we take an interest in it, there's the difference.

So climb your wave of daily duties, glad you are not too crippled to do your own part, nor having to see others do it for you. Only thus will you truly live. Your Friend, ROBERTA.

Christmas Cakes Made Appearance On The Market

The home-made cooking looked especially good at the market on Saturday. Christmas cakes and puddings have appeared, and mince pies.

There were little square Christmas cakes, iced and covered with almonds, at 35 cents a pound, making the cakes 40c, 50c and 75c each. Other cakes of all varieties, chocolate, plain white, banana, fruit, etc., sold at various prices, with sections at 10c 15c and 20c. There were jelly cookies, and plain cookies at 15c a dozen. All kinds of tarts were 25c a dozen; tea biscuits (light and fluffy they looked) were 20c dozen; little mince, apple and lemon pies were 10c, 15c and regular size 25c and 30c. Whole wheat and white bread were 10c a loaf; buns, whole wheat or white, were 20c a dozen; muffins were 20c; carrot puddings were 25c and 35c, according to size.

Delicious little meat moulds were 10c, and larger ones, 15c and 25c; most appetizing looking roasted chickens, with dressing, were 35c a pound. Relishes and preserves were all the way from 15c to 50c, according to size; marmalade was 15c, 25c and 35c for jars; horseradish was in jars at 10c, 15c and 20c; dill pickles were 15c a large jar; cider was 40c a gallon. Honey was selling at 13c for white and 10c a pound for darker grades; little jars were 20c and amber sections were 15c and 2 for 25c.

Turkeys were 30c a pound; geese and ducks were 25c a pound; chickens were 22c a pound. Butter was 32 and 30c; eggs (large) were 45c and 40c; smaller eggs were from 38c to 32c.

The fish stalls were doing a roaring trade. Mudcats were 15c a pound; perch 15c a dozen; suckers 10c. Pike had been 12c and whitefish 20c a pound, but this reporter did not see any, and was told: "We had a nice bunch of pike, but they went in a hurry, and our whitefish didn't last five minutes."

There were of course apples in abundance. Spies were $1.50 a bushel; MacIntosh Reds the same, and 45c a basket; Delicious Apples were $1.50; Snows were 30c a peck; Tallman Sweets were 40c a peck. The last basket of small pears sold at 40c.

Potatoes were 70c a bag; turnips were 5c and 3 for 10c; enormous Worty squash were 20c; Green Hubbard were 15c; Blue Hubbard, 10c, 15c and 20c. A huge pumpkin was 15c and others were according to size; citrons were 10c, 15c and 2 for 15c; beets were 25c a basket; carrots 15c; parsnips were 20c a basket; onions varied from 40c for a large basket to 15c for a small basket of little red ones; pickling onions were 25c a basket; white beans were 15c a quart; small red and green peppers were 15c a dozen; large sweet green peppers were 5c each; celery was 5c and 10c a bunch; Chinese cabbage, 5c and 10c; small red cabbage, 5c and 2 for 5c; Savoy cabbage, 5c and 3 for 10c; Brussels sprouts were 10c a quart and 3 for 25c. Tomatoes were 15c a quart basket.

There were baby chrysanthemums at 50c a dozen and up; very pretty mixed bouquets of everlastings were 20c; a bunch of asters sold on the market a week ago Saturday, but none appeared last market day; bittersweet was 10c and 15c; sage and savoury were 5c a bunch.

Hand-knitted baby jackets were 75c and $1; mitts ranged from babies' to men's, and in price from 25c to $1; some bright-colored mitts were 35c and 50c; babies' socks in pastel colors were 35c and 25c; aprons were 40c and 50c; bed dolls were 60c and centres the same, all lined and machine stitched; door stops were 35c. Two little girls sat behind a number of home-made "needle racks" and needle cases, priced at 25c and 10c. It was their first Saturday at market; they said, and they had not sold any so far.

Buying Hat An Adventure

Odd Shapes and Trims Jolt Girls From Ruts

New high turban with wide veil worn by Billie Burke, film star.

(By Lisbeth)

Whether you approve of the present styles or not, you must admit that they have jolted women out of the rut and are giving them something to think about and something new to try out.

Some of the results are pretty awful, as anyone knows by merely walking down any avenues. Faces that should be kept softly shaded by a kindly hat brim are brazenly shown in all their imperfections. And a visit to any millinery store while a sale is going on and hundreds of women trying on hats, is a bit mirth provoking.

But, on the other hand many a lovely face, pretty forehead and piquant nose, heretofore blushing unseen—no, that won't do for noses—are being really viewed for the first time in the becoming halo of an off-the-face chapeau.

Hat materials are jockeyed into all sorts of shapes, too, which adds to the fun. I'd be willing to wager that if one of us took a nice clean flower-pot and turned it upside down on our head, especially if we attached some kind of cocky looking feather, a bow or a clip or pin to it, we could pass it off as one of the latest and smartest of hats.

Small Hat Veil Draped

However, we are illustrating this article with two of the smaller hats in vogue, both draped in voluminous veils, which I am sure you are tired of being told are quite the thing this year and make many of the models more wearable for the youth.

The hat worn by Rosalind Russell, feature screen player, is of black felt and was designed for her by G. Howard Hodge, Hollywood designer. The crown molds the head, while there is an interesting rise from the top of the crown in a divided piece of felt which forms a huge bow.

High Turban

The same man designed the hat worn by Billie Burke, which is also high, but not in the same way. It is a high turban suggesting a Russian cap, and from it is draped a voluminous veil.

Fabric hats like this one are very good for immediate wear. One of a gray novelty woollen has a corded silhouette, and ties under the chin with brown grosgrain straps.

Metallic brocade draped high and irregularly is often used for the formal dinner hat, and a high turban built on the lines of the familiar shako, is trimmed with a wreath of felt flowers and a veil falling all around—a veil, by the by, that is decorated only with a border of dots.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLLE

For Tuesday, November 23

THIS SHOULD be a very active day, with strong inducements to be "up and doing". But avoid overdoing and thus defeating lucrative returns for effort by too aggressive or hostile attitudes. This opposition and hostility also threaten the private life, particularly the affectional relations, where romantic culminations may be checked by either jealousy or the interference of elders. Upheaval, change and disruption seem imminent. "Make haste slowly" is a good motto today.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a lively and eventful year, with excellent prospects in business, if too aggressive, impulsive and tempestuous acts, as well as jealously, are not permitted to interfere. This condition also prevails in the intimate life, where an elderly person may oppose and obstruct romantic tendencies. Upheaval and change are probable, but go slowly.

A child born on this day may have splendid mental and business qualities, with remarkable talents or ingenuity. But the highest rewards for such may be defeated by a wayward, tumultuous and impetuous nature.

Wife Preservers

Keep a jar or so of olives on your pantry shelves—both green and ripe olives. If unexpected company comes they "dress up" the simplest meal and make it seem more festive.

A Novel Handbag

Reminiscent of the days of the Spanish Main is this treasure chest handbag, a black antelope afternoon model with a heavy, imported gold frame and an overthrow clasp, designed by Madame Jolles of Vienna. Jean King, milliner, carries out the mood with a dashing cavalier hat of black velvet with a sweeping green and black ostrich cascade.

Easy for Dog to Learn—Teach Him Clever Tricks

He wants to be a good dog but he can't understand you. His puzzled "Woof" says plainly, "Guess I'll give up, be the neighborhood nuisance."

It's easy to make him understand. Put him on a long leash, and start by saying "Come here." Repeat often; use only the two words, the same firm tone. Let no one else take part in the lesson; different voices confuse him. Soon he trots up; a pat, a tasty bite, and he's proud as Punch.

To train him to do such clever tricks as to shake hands, fetch and carry is all fun when you know how.

Our 32-page booklet by a well-known expert gives right steps in dog training and care. Learn to recognize ailments, cure distemper, Tips on diet, proper grooming.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of HOW TO CHOOSE AND CARE FOR YOUR DOG to The Examiner's Home service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

THERE are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport.

Men, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time.

No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

chines were stranded in 18 inches of snow.

Traffic officers in Lambton County said driving conditions were extremely bad with streets covered with ice. Motorists were trapped in two feet of snow at Akrona, heaviest fall in that district in years. Goderick reported 16 inches of snow in 48 hours. The fall was continuous Saturday at Windsor and the temperature droped to 25 above during the night.

At Chatham Capt. Joseph Granville, 75, slipped on an icy street and fractured his hip. Motoring from London to Melbourne Sunday night Robert La France, 36, Detroit, bumped heads with a horse when the car in which he was a passenger struck the animal. The horse crashed through the windshield, bumped La France, and wrecked the top of the car. The driver, John Wiczenske, Detroit, was cut by flying glass. The horse was badly cut but was expected to recover

Workmen rushed unloading operations on the steamship Yorkton at Meaford Harbor when the ship completed a 22 day trip to Green Bay, Wis., and back. The harbor was expected to be frozen soon and halt vessel movements for the season. The Caribou left Saturday on its last trip of the season. Insurance rates on ships plying the Great Lakes jump premiums Dec. 1, when the season closes officially.

Edward Leonard was forced to abandon a trip by horse and cutter to find some cattle in a pasture near Forest because of the snow. S. Frazer, a drover, said most of the district cattle, were sheltered.

Rev. Wesley Cope gave up attempts to leave Forest after trying to buck the drifts in his horse and cutter three times. He was making a ministerial visit on his United Church circuit.

DOURO

Friends of Richard McCarthy of Peterborough were sorry to hear of his being forced to undergo an appendicitis operation last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Carlow and family were Sunday guests of the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien of Ennismore.

Monday evening's euchre drew a fair crowd. Prizes were won as follows: High score, James Delaney; second, Miss Noreen Hayes. Proceeds go to pay for street lights.

Mr. Thomas Sheehan, also Mr. David Garvey were in Ennismore on Thursday for the funeral of the late Michael Fluard.

Men and teams are busy this week levelling, grading and terracing on the church grounds. An extensive beautification scheme including tree and shrub planting is to be undertaken to bring the church surroundings to compare with the beauty of the interior of the edifice.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerwood Taylor and child of Port Hope were Sunday guests of Miss Ellen Forsythe.

Mr. Sylvester Sullivan of Rochester is a guest at the home of his brother, Mr. Frank Sullivan.

200 TYPHOON DEATHS

MANILA, Nov. 22—(AP).—Relief circles expressed belief today that deaths from this week's typhoon would exceed 200 and damages would mount well above $4,000,000 when all reports are received from the stricken area in the central Philippines.

Relief agencies, still busy aiding victims of the Armistice Day typhoon that left 33 known dead and 40,000 homeless on Luzon Island, sent workers to the devastated areas of the Visayas group.

INSTITUTE FAVORS MARMORA GIFT

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Nov. 22.—The monthly meeting of Marmora Women's Institute was held on Tuesday evening, November 9, at the home of Mrs. C. Nichol, with thirty-one in attendance. The vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Pack, occupied the chair, and conducted the opening exercises and general business.

The annual grant of $75 was made to Marmora Public Library. Following discussion, it was decided to take a special collection at the December meeting to aid the appeal made for crippled children. The gift exchange is to be replaced by a shower for the Christmas cheer baskets to be used in conjunction with the Legion's work as in former years. The president, Mrs. Clifford Spry, gave a very full and comprehensive report of the convention held in Belleville last month, at which she was a delegate. The program committee then took charge of the meeting, with Mrs. A. H. Connor acting as chairman. Miss M. Brown read a paper, prepared by Mrs. W. A. Sanderson, on the month's motto, "Don't be discouraged. It may be the last key that unlocks the door." Mrs. Ralph Neal followed with two readings, "Apple Cores" and "Blue China Dishes." Miss M. Brown then rendered a solo, after which a 'Guess Who' picture of one of the member's family taken 25 years ago was passed around. An invitation from Madoc branch to visit their Institute on December 1 was read by Mrs. Spry, after which the National Anthem was sung and lunch was served.

PLEASING REPORTS STARLING CONTEST

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAVAN, Nov. 22.—Cavan Women's Institute met for their November meeting at Mrs. H. Snider's home in Cavanville on Thursday afternoon.

There was a good attendance and the president, Mrs. A. B. Kennedy was in the chair. Mrs. R. A. Sutton gave a reading on the drought in Saskatchewan, written for a magazine by a resident of that province.

In the secretary's report she stated that the "Starling Contest" in three schools had been satisfactorily finished up. Twenty-eight dollars was paid to the pupils who had tried to lessen the menace from these marauders. Two new members were added to the roll.

The treasurer reported nine dollars and sixty-four cents in the treasury and the president, the secretary, Mrs. R. Matchett, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Syer, and Mrs. R. A. Sutton were names as a committee to arrange for adding to the finances of the society.

It was arranged that a committee would pack the clothing and reading matter for the West at Mrs. D. J. Hunter's home on Friday. Mrs. Carley reported for the girls' work to be taken up this winter. Mrs. Carley and Mrs. D. Tinney had been the committee from Cavan who took the instruction course in "the milky way," given by Miss Polland to leaders in Junior Institute work.

She reported a class of girls who would meet for their first class on Friday evening. Eight classes will be held before April first, and at the end of the course the girls will give a demonstration. There was discussion concerning short courses offered to girls at home who would like part time employment to earn some money.

There was further discussion concerning a call for funds to help finance the new hospital established in Toronto to give treatment to those who have not completely recovered from infantile paralysis.

It was decided to donate twenty cents a member and members were asked to contribute at the next meeting the sum to be forwarded at once out of the funds on hand.

It was decided to ask for the annual grant. The December meeting was announced for December 16th, with Mrs. Edgar Failis' group in charge and the roll call to be answered by a suggestion for a Christmas table decoration or Christmas dainties. Mrs. Staples gave a short report of the speaking contest at Orono, Mrs. R. M. Howden took charge of the program.

Miss Malone contributed Current Events. Mrs. Snider gave a paper, "Peace or War." Mrs. Swain read an article "The Price of Peace." Mrs. Howden read a poem "Carry On." Mrs. Swain conducted a contest for which a prize of a box of home made candy was given, the latter was passed around.

An appetizing lunch was served and a social time enjoyed. Mrs. R. Syer and Mrs. R. A. Sutton sponsored the vote of thanks to the hostess and group in charge.

(wheat) at $7,853,000; 462,099,000 pounds of meat and edible animal fats at $7,755,000; 8,256,000 bushels of apples at $15,440,000, and 10,125,000 bushels of barley at $9,237,000.

In 1939, these imports had declined to 197,000 bushels of wheat at $195,000; 44,000 barrels of flour (wheat) at $223,000; 139,513,000 pounds of meats and edible animal fats at $23,855,000; 3,617,000 bushels of apples at $5,182,000; and 6,293,000 bushels of barley at $4,086,000.

Foreign trade men look for many protests from American manufacturers against granting concessions to British-made competitive items. They expect that items on the list which American groups will watch closely include leather goods, textiles (woollens, linens and cottons) and some machinery. They believe Britain is certain to seek concessions on textiles in return for granting favorable treatment for American farm products.

One of the major problems in bringing about a trade agreement between the United States and Britain, in the opinion of these trade circles, has been the concessions which Britain has given its Dominions in recent years.

On Murder Charge

Recognized washing dishes in a Montreal restaurant by a constable familiar with his photograph through detective magazines, Frank Fibliolia, 22-year-old Italian, was arrested for the murder last July of Dorothy Tauman, found strangled in a cheap New York hotel room. Fibliolia, alias Frank Meroula, has refused to fight extradition and will be sent back to the United States to face the murder charge.

SPANISH ARMIES HAMPERED BY RAIN

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Nov. 22 (AP).—Spanish Government and insurgent gunners fought all along the Aragon front today—from Sabinanigo, near the French frontier, to Teruel, more than 200 miles south—while bad weather still prevented any important movements.

A Barcelona communique said the principal attack by insurgent artillery was in the Zuera sector north of Zaragoza. Catalan gunners broke up insurgent concentrations at Casa Batanero in the Sabinanigo sector, Barcelona reported.

A dispatch from Calamanca, the insurgent general headquarters, predicted that "certain powers" in Europe and the Americas soon would announce recognition of General Franco's insurgent government. Only Poland and Yugoslavia were named.

No Knowledge Of Debt Payments

LONDON—Treasury officials today declared they had no knowledge of rumors Great Britain was planning to resume "token" payments on her war debt to the United States. They deny the war debt question had been discussed during preliminary talks on the Anglo-American trade pact.

Labor's Influence In Politics Will Have To Rest In Lobbying Industrial Votes Outnumbered

Rev. J. R. Muchmor Addresses Men's Forum Of George Street Church

Labor has a small chance for any great influence in Canadian politics, Rev. J. R. Muchmor of Toronto told a Men's Forum gathering in George Street United Church Sunday afternoon. In Canada's present stage of development as a nation, industrial workers' votes are still far outnumbered by the votes of farmers, merchants and unorganized small industry workers, he said. For the immediate future, he claimed, labor's power will lie in lobbying.

Combining a number of random observations under the title "Labor's Fight for Power," Rev. Muchmor said 100 years ago, in 1837, the struggle of Canadians was for religious freedom. "Beginning in 1937 an equally critical and momentous struggle has begun. It is for industrial freedom." While this struggle was brought in as an issue in the recent Ontario election, it is primarily a matter for industrial workers and managements to settle between themselves, he said.

Declaring the church should take a close interest in the struggle, he said each minister has a perfect "freedom of prophecy." He warned that ministers should not take sides in small industrial squabbles but only where significant principles are involved. Ministers must also hold themselves free to speak on separate issues as they arise. The speaker deplored the class hatred which often is the product of labor disputes and urged that it be avoided where possible. He said he was a firm believer in international unionism.

International Unions

"As long as you have great international corporations you must have international unions," he commented. It is true, he said, that there are those who wave the flag and call for national unions rather than international and talk of "foreign agitators" but such appeals are "blah."

Rev. Muchmor told of attending a Trades and Labor Congress meeting and finding it conducted with the dignity and decorum of a church court. He said it was true, however that there are racketeers in the ranks of labor.

"The fight is on and the struggle of labor in the next twenty or thirty years will be mighty significant," he declared.

Asked during the question period which followed his address if the church itself is in favor of the trade union movement, he replied that the United Church is on record as in favor of collective bargaining. He urged that workers seeking organization get the churches behind them to mould public opinion. The actual organization will have to be done by labor itself, he said.

SONG SERVICE HELD.

Attendance of more than 100 young men and women at the first Friendly Hour song service of the season at the Y.M.C.A. last evening augured another successful series of meetings during the winter. Among those in attendance were seven of the original 24 who were present at the first meeting of the group eight years ago. Cameron Gorrie led the singing with George Nicholls as pianist. G. H. Roper, Association general secretary, presided.

PETS AS AN OUTLET

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP). — If people bottled up emotionally, buy a pet, advocates put a fish, Dr. A. A. Brill, famous psychologist advised today.

"Fish are too remote, too far away," he said. "It takes a long time to train them to come to you."

Dogs provide the best "emotional transfer," Dr. Brill added, because they are closest to human beings. Birds make the next best pets, he said.

RED CROSS DRIVE OPENS IN CITY OUTLOOK BRIGHT

The Red Cross appeal for 1937-38 in Peterborough was opened to-day. At a meeting of workers called in the Officers' Mess in the Armouries, cards and instructions were given out to about 100 workers. The speaker was N. R. Vinton, of Toronto, Field Secretary of the Red Cross.

The largest number of contributions so far received in any campaign by mail is reported by Harry Thompson, the campaign treasurer. Commenting on this W. G. Morrow, honorary campaign chairman, states that he has every confidence that this year's appeal will top that of last year and should reach its objective.

Mrs. R. H. Turner, president of the Branch, reports that the present cold snap is bringing an increasing number of calls for assistance, particularly for clothing, so that the Welfare Branch are already in operation and meeting the calls as they arise.

The campaign which is on all this week, has an objective of $2,500 and headquarters are situated in the Toronto Savings and Loan Co., George street.

PRACTICAL COURSE IN PROSPECTING STARTED IN CITY

An intensive and practical course in prospecting was begun at the Public Library this afternoon by Dr. H. Horwood of the Ontario Department of Mines.

"Everyone who attends the course of lectures will be given samples of sixty-eight different minerals and rocks," Dr. Horwood told The Examiner before his class met for organization at two o'clock. "They will also receive small envelopes with printed descriptions of the minerals and rocks in which they should keep these samples for reference. Three pamphlets will also be distributed as a further means of helping prospectors to identify rocks. Our program for the week beginning today is the series of afternoon meetings from 2 to 4 o'clock each day, evening lectures from 8 to 9 o'clock every day except Saturday, and a morning meeting next Saturday. All these lectures are open to every person who is interested."

About a dozen young men were assembled in the auditorium on the top floor of the Public Library when Dr. Horwood arrived this afternoon. He arrived this morning and completed preparations for the week's course. Information will be given on geology, mining, prospecting and a broad study of field work with instructions in the use of essential equipment during the week, and it is hoped that everybody who is interested in prospecting, especially in the territory of Peterborough-Hastings will attend. The lectures will be made as simple and as helpful as possible, and there are no educational requirements prescribed. The course is free and open to the public generally.

One of the last minute students to enroll by two o'clock was a tall blonde girl who announced her interest in mining and prospecting and her intention of attending the classes.

WOMAN INJURED ON HIGHWAY NO. 7

The dangerous condition of the new stretch of shoulderless pavement east of the city contributed to an accident between Locks Bridge and Downer's Corners on Sunday afternoon.

In attempting to get his car back on the pavement after one of the wheels had slipped off the edge of the cement into the unfinished shoulder, E. J. Guerin, 2 Lake Street, allegedly lost control of the vehicle and struck Mrs. Mary Stante, 173 Albertus Street.

The injured woman was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in Belleghem's ambulance being attended by Dr. H. N. Young. Her condition this morning was said to be favorable. She suffered superficial injury only.

On Sunday evening a mishap at Aylmer and Sherbrooke Streets resulted in minor injury to Mrs. Miller, 231 George Street, who suffered a bruised leg. She was reportedly crossing the street when she was struck by a motor car driven by Reg. Hopkins, 309 Reid Street.

Another week-end casualty was Mrs. Michael J. Leahy of Douro Township, who was reported to have suffered a fractured wrist.

OBITUARY

MRS. SUSAN DOWNING

The death of Mrs. Susan Downing, formerly Susan Ann Hannahfield, of 16 Lisburn street, occurred at the Anson House Saturday following a short illness.

Widow of the late Joseph E. Downing, she was born in England but came to this city 60 years ago. She was a member of George Street United Church. One son remains, James E. Downing of this city.

The funeral was held this afternoon, proceeding from th Comstock Funeral Home to Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. M. C. Parr officiated.

DAVID GODFREY.

Long in the lumbering industry of this district, David Godfrey, 585 Chamberlain street, died at St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday afternoon after a short illness. He was 69 years of age.

He was born in Young's Point, son of the late John Godfrey and Jane Stinson. He engaged in lumbering with the Rathburn Company and later the Peterborough Lumber Company and the McDonald Lumber Company, residing in Peterborough during the past 30 years. His activities included membership in the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. J. Rody and Mrs. J. A. Quigley of Peterborough, Mrs. Thomas Hetherton of Saskatchewan, and Miss V. M. Godfrey of Kirkland Lake; three sisters, Mrs. William Clancy of New Hersey, Mrs. D. A. Frood of South Porcupine and Mrs. M. A. Hynes of this city. His wife, formerly Mary Ellen Phalen, predeceased him in 1932.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 8.40 a.m. from the residence to the Sacred Heart Church and to St. Peter's Cemetery.

PLAN TORONTO TRIP.

Members of the Friday Night Supper Club are planning a mass visit to Denton Massey's famed York Bible Class in Toronto next Sunday. At the present it appears about sixty members will join the pilgrimage, leaving here in cars Saturday and Sunday morning. Guest speaker at the club two weeks ago, Denton Massey told the young men they would find a ready welcome at the Bible Class.

Body Taken Ashore

Shown being carried from the pier at Hamilton, Bermuda, to the cathedral where it lay in state for a day before being placed aboard the British cruiser Appollo, now taking it back to England, is the flag-draped casket bearing the remains of the late Ramsay MacDonald, former premier of Great Britain. MacDonald died while on a world cruise during which he honed to recuperate his failing health.

OPPOSE MONTHLY MEETINGS

Monthly meetings of Victoria county council instead of three sessions in January, June and at the end of the year, suggested by Warden Wilbert Moncrief of Omemee, failed to impress the members who preferred to retain the present schedule. Some counties have adopted the monthly plain, it was stated, and are continuing it.

GET STOCK IN

Dr. Johnston, inspector of the Peterborough branch of the Humane Society makes the suggestion that now that the cold weather has arrived owners of livestock should see to it that their animals are housed at night instead of being left out on the range. The inspector hopes that it will not be necessary for him to make personal visits to see that this is done or that owners will not wait until complaints have been received by the society.

TAX COLLECTIONS

City Treasurer Morley Shaver announced today that up to Saturday 88.4 per cent of the amount on the tax-rolls had been collected. This is an increase over the showing at the same time last year. With $895,463 on the rolls this year $791,851.83 had been collected up to Saturday. The comparative figures for last year were $923,791 on the rolls and $794,861.30 collected up to November 20 for a percentage of 86 per cent.

RADS FROZEN UP.

Garage men reported this morning they were doing brisk business with motorists who ignored the warning of the official weatherman, A.O.P., in Saturday's issue of The Examiner that radiator-freezing weather is due. Many calls to attend to frozen radiators were attended during the day.

NAMED TO EXECUTIVE.

Alderman James Dutton, a member of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, was named to the Executive Council of the Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce at a general meeting of the body in Toronto last week. Fred J. Overend, president of the Peterborough Chamber was the delegate from this city.

A RECORD ATTENDANCE

St. John's Church "Breakfast Club" set up an all time attendance record on Sunday morning when seventy-six young men were present on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary service held by the group. The speaker was Bert Graham who reviewed the history of the "breakfast club" founded by the late Edgar Sorby. Many of those present were original members of the group, which has been in the habit of meeting each month for corporate participation of Holy Communion which has been followed by breakfast meetings.

EVERY MAN HIS DEER

The members of the Peterborough Hunt Club are back at work again after giving the deer a run around in the Pickerel River country of the Pakesley district. They got their legal bag of ten with another that was cut up for steaks, reported signs of moose, and generally had a grand vacation. Moose are protected in that area, and one of the members watched a fine specimen browsing on a bridge at close range. The members of the club are George Robertson, captain, W. E. Taylor, Cloy Taylor, Eph. H. Brown, B. W. Harvey, Ralph Godfrey, Jack Brown, Harry Pinn and Bruce Payne.

CHARLIE SHAW SPEAKER

Speaking to the combined classes of Arthur Burrows and Arnold Lillow at George Street Sunday School on Sunday Charlie Shaw used as his subject "Watch Ye." Stand fast in the faith, could you like men be strong? Relating different stories to better illustrate his points Mr. Shaw told how a sentry on guard had to stand fast and keep on watch. The speaker took the meanings of words from the dictionary explaining their different uses, in connection with the lesson. Mr. Shaw quoted several passages from the Bible, and illustrated their meanings with different stories. He stressed the fact that men should spend more time with their Bible, saying that there was nothing wrong with you but it was the misconception of the youth of today. In conclusion Mr. Shaw read a short poem and quoted from the Bible, Be strong in the Lord and the power of His might. Bob Elcombe moved a vote of thanks to the speaker for his fine address. Next week Don Clarke is the guest speaker.

FOR THE MAYORALTY

The first little whisper in regard to the municipal elections suggests the possibility of Ald. James Hamilton, one of the veteran members of council as a candidate for the mayoralty.

SKATING ON CANAL

A number of children were seen skating on the canal below the lift lock and the citizen who reported the incident to The Examiner remarked that the ice did not seem to be thick. In the interest of safety parents of little folks might do well to investigate the conditions before authorizing skating parties.

INTER-CITY MEETING

Delegations from most of the Rotary Clubs of Central Ontario are expected at the inter-city meeting of the Peterborough Rotary Club at the Empress Hotel this evening. Fred L. Roy will show some of his Coronation pictures as well as movies taken by him at the convention of Rotary International at Nice, France.

TWO CHRISTMAS WEDDINGS.

Peterborough is to be the scene of two weddings on Christmas Day. Announcement of the wedding of Margaret Wilson to Dr. Richard Carveth of Toronto here on December 25 appeared in Saturday's issue of The Examiner. To-day the announcement of the wedding of Elsie May James to Elwood Armstrong is published.

GUESTS OF J. J. DUFFUS, M.P.

Winners of the recent special judging competition, Richard Coughlin of Asphodel, Jim Hope of Otonabee, and Irwin Forsythe of Douro with their team coach, William Heffernan of Asphodel, will go to the Royal Winter Fair as guests of J. J. Duffus, M.P., to-morrow. They will remain during Tuesday and Wednesday. A. L. Thompson of Havelock will accompany them. The young men will not take part in competition.

SOUL AND BODY.

"Soul and body" was the subject of the LessonSermon for First Church of Christ, Scientist, Peterborough, Ont., on Sunday. The Golden Text was, "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him." Selections from the Bible included the following from II Corinthians 5:8, "We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord." Correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook, included the following: "When you say, "Man's body is material," I say with Paul: Be "willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord." Give up your material belief of mind in matter, and have but one Mind, even God; for this Mind forms its own likeness."

ODDS AND ENDS.

Rice Lake was frozen over a year ago last week; but the water is still open from Bewdley to the Trent, and many of the late ducks are prolonging their stay in the feeding grounds. . . . Harold Graham has the winter wooden steps out at the post office, and there is a thin layer of ice at the canal and the city's creek along Townsend street, but Little Lake was a-ripple to-day with white gulls floating on the deep blue water. . . Rumors say some of the factories are going to cut another bonus melon for the employees along toward Christmas. . . . Some of the boys are still saying Mayor Macdonald can wear a top hat and frock with the best of them. . . . Other rumors say a certain city official is going to hand in his resignation before the end of the year. However, that is not verified, and it is not the first time the same word has gone out. . . . Ironic propaganda that is right up the alley of the Safety League is the essence of the Regent picture, graphic filming of what happens when alcohol takes the wheel of an automobile. . . Dancing the Big Apple around the big box stove down at Rye's Pavilion is still attracting the clientele that go down that way for diversion. . . It must have been a hectic affair that other big party uptown a few nights ago when the orchestra decided that it was safer, at least for their instruments, to pack up shortly after 11.30. That should rate as news.

499 SCOUTS IN CITY.

Peterborough Boy Scouts need just one more recruit to their ranks to total 500 in number in this city. Official figures released from Provincial Scout headquarters in Toronto Saturday indicated the Peterborough membership at 499. That number includes all Scouts who have passed the Tenderfoot tests.

REVIVE ART OF FENCING.

An effort to revive the ancient art of fencing in Peterborough will be made at the Y.M.C.A. this week. A meeting of all those interested is to be held in the Association at 7.30 o'clock Thursday evening. About thirty young men plan to join in organization of a club, it is reported. A plan by which four or five now present in the city who have had fencing experience will provide fundamental instruction for the time being pending the appointment of a professional in the event the club proves a success is being considered. All those interested are to be welcomed to the meeting. A fencing group was organized here five years ago but went out of existence shortly.

CONSTERNATION seized an east city family Saturday evening when they discovered the body of a 2-day-old infant left in their care by the bereaved father, had disappeared.

City police were notified and after a hurried check-up of the undertakers, located the body at the Duffus' Funeral Home.

Born to a New Chamberlain street family, the child died at Nicholls Hospital. Pending the funeral arrangements the body of the infant was entrusted to the care of a Carlisle avenue family and was reverently placed in a front room at the east city house while the parent went on his sad mission to the undertaker.

Presumably after giving the undertaker instructions to remove the body, the father did not return immediately to the address of his friends, and when the undertaker arrived he received no reply to his knocking.

Finding the door open he removed the body of the child as he had been authorized to do, and the family into whose care it had been handed subsequently made the discovery the body was gone. Without stopping to reason they notified police, ignorant of the fact the body had been moved by the undertaker at the request and on the authority of the father of the child.

17-Month-Old Assault Case Is Cleaned Up With Youth's Arrest

Cyril Huard Pleads Guilty In Police Court To Two Charges

Cyril Huard, 19, appeared on remand before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., this morning and pleaded guilty to two charges of assault. He was remanded for sentence until Thursday morning on both charges, His Worship intimating he required time to consider how best to deal with the accused.

The Bench took a similar course in respect to a minor, implicated with the other youth in one of the charges laid on the complaint of Hugh Imming. Complainant alleges, according to the police, that the two youths recently accused him of "ratting" or informing and threw him into Jackson Park Creek between Charlotte and King Streets.

The other charge of assault against Huard relates to an incident that took place seventeen months ago, when Edgar Puttick, grocer, was attacked as he was about to enter the garage at his Gilmour Street address.

Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., addressing the Court with respect to the charge against Huard of "assaulting Edgar Puttick with intent to commit theft," declared, "Mr. Puttick was going into his garage late on the night of June 20, 1936, with the money from his store in his possession, when the accused struck the complainant with intent to rob him. Mr. Puttick put up such a fight that his assailant ran away without accomplishing his purpose."

Huard had nothing to say in answer to either of the charges. His younger companion was permitted to go on adjournment pending disposal of the case, but Huard was remanded in custody.

PICTURE STARTS FIGHT

TORONTO, Nov. 22 (C.P.). — Fighting broke out at a meeting of a Chinese organization in a local theatre yesterday. A picture of Sun Yat Sen, founder of the South China Republic, was flashed on the screen, arousing indignant hoots from one section of the audience.

Another group in the audience retaliated by assaulting the jeerers. Police were called, but arrived when the fight was over. There was only one casualty, a Chinese with a discolored eye.

28TH ANNIVERSARY OF SACRED HEART CHURCH OBSERVED

The twenty-eighth anniversary of the dedication of the church of the Sacred Heart was celebrated on Sunday. A large number of the congregation received holy communion in the morning, and the church was crowded for the evening devotions at which Rev. Joseph Kehoe of the Redemptorist Order, Toronto, preached. Bishop O'Connor and Rev. P. J. Kelley of St. Peter's Cathedral were present with other priests of the diocese, including Rev. V. McFadden of Downeyville, Rev. J. V. McAuley of Campbellford, Rev. Paul Costello of Hastings, Rev. J. J. Garvey of Lakefield and Rev. C. J. Carroll of Norwood.

"St. Augustine said we ought to love God as our father and the Church as our mother." Rev. Father Kehoe quoted by way of text. "We hold no brief for the detestable sin of pride, but we may speak of a justifiable pride. There are a few things a man may be pardonably proud of, and one of them is his own mother. Who is the man who is not proud of his mother? Love for one's mother is a man's first, greatest and most innocent love. Just as God has made the Blessed Virgin immaculate and endowed her with every grace, because she was to be the mother of Jesus Christ, man and God, so He has made for us in the Church a mother we may love beyond limit. The church is the perfect work of God on this earth, divine in its founder, its faith and morality and in its source of grace by which we may save our own souls. The pristine beauty of the church is the same yesterday, today and forever. Enemies may attack and revile and at times seem to subdue her, but the church has God's own promise, 'I am with you all days to the end of the world'. The church gives us the supernatural life by which we share in the very life of God. The church bent over you in the cradle and pressed you to her bosom and incorporated you into the faculty of God, and during the years she has watched over you with the unending care and solicitude of a mother."

On the occasion of the twenty-eighth anniversary Father Kehoe said sentiments of gratitude should animate every person in the parish for the blessings the church made possible to them. He urged that firm resolutions to be loyal to the church, "being the kind of child your mother would wish you to be, living the life of faith that has been implanted in your soul."

YOUNG WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD IN BED

Conducting a post mortem, Coroner Herbert N. Young and assisting doctors were still uncertain of the cause responsible for the sudden death of Gertrude Huot, a member of the Western Clock Company staff, early Sunday morning. Twenty-four years of age the young woman was found dead in bed by her mother.

Miss Huot had complained of severe head pains during the latter part of last week but no danger to her life was suspected. Dr. E. A. Hammond was called to the home, 248 Charlotte street, by the family shortly before 5 o'clock Sunday morning and found life extinct. Coroner Young decided a post mortem advisable and the investigation was begun Sunday. It had not been concluded early this afternoon. Dr. T. W. H. Young and Dr. J. C. Smith of Lakefield assisted.

The young woman was born in Port Hope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Huot. She came with her parents to live here 13 years ago. A member of St. Peter's Cathedral, she was active in the Young Women's Sodality.

Surviving besides her parents are one sister, Pearl Huot, and one brother, George Huot, both of this city.

The funeral will be held Tuesday morning from the residence at 8.40 a.m. to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem mass at 9 a.m. and to St. Peter's Cemetery.

OLD CONTEMPTIBLES MEET

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 22 (CP). — Two pairs of British soldiers met here during the weekend for the first time since the early days of the war at the annual dinner of the Old Contemptibles' Association.

William Harnett of Windsor and Albert Pickard, Birmingham, Mich., recalled parting on the western front in 1914.

Two former members of the Gordon Highlanders, J. Pleitch, Toronto, and B. Cromarty, now of the Essex Scottish Regiment, Windsor, recognized each other instantly, although they had not seen each other since 1915.

DIED

HUOT, Gertrude.—At the residence, 248 Charlotte street, suddenly Sunday morning, November 21, Gertrude Marie Lauretta Huot, 24 years of age. Funeral Tuesday, November 23, at 8.45 a.m. from the residence to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem mass at 9 a.m., and to St. Peter's Cemetery.

DOWNING, Mrs. Susan. — At the Anson House, November 20, following a short illness, Mrs. Susan Downing. Funeral Monday at 2.30 o'clock from the Funeral home of A. Comstock and Sons, 365 Water street, to Little Lake Cemetery; Rev. M. C. Parr officiating.

GRANT IS STAR OF SPRINGFIELD 2 TO 1 VICTORY

TORONTO, Nov. 22 (C.P.). — As clos. to perfect as even the most exacting hockey manager could demand is the goal-tending of Benny Grant, and that is one of the big reasons Springfield Indians are unbeaten and heading their division in the International-American Hockey League.

Indians haven't exactly set the league afire with their scoring prowess, bagging 10 goals in their five games so far, but it's no secret they are great defensively. Grant, who has two shutouts, has been scored on only three times and never more than once in a game.

Grant's latest feat was in holding down the Philadelphia Rambler sharpshooters on Saturday night as Indians sped to a 2-1 victory. It was a bad week-end for Ramblers, who came right back last night to absorb a 3-2 licking from Providence Reds.

Meanwhile Cleveland Barons and Syracuse Stars leaders in the Western Division, drew 3-3 on Saturday and then clashed again last night in a game which Stars won 3-2. New Haven Eagles and Pittsburgh Hornets also played a double-header with Hornets taking the Saturday clash 4-3, and dropping the Sunday encounter 5-0.

Indians' victory, earned on counters by Hub Wilson and Toupin, gave them a three-point margin in the Eastern Section over Providence and New Haven, tied for second place. The only Rambler goals came in the third period from the stick of Bill Carse.

Goals by Alex. Motter, Doggie Kuhn, and Mel Hill gave Providence Reds their win against Ramblers. The best Philadelphia could do was a counter in the second period by Roubell and a tally near the end of the final session by Joe Krol.

Close Scoring.

The two Syracuse - Cleveland clashes couldn't have been much closer. The Sunday game was won in the last few seconds of play when Eddie Convey, Stars' ace centreman, slammed home the puck while the Barons were shorthanded through a penalty to Defenceman Barlett. Prior to that Lorne Duguid scored twice for Barons, and Jack Markle and Pete Langelle got one apiece for the Stars.

In their overtime tilt the night before, Convey and Markle each scored a goal, while the third went to Baz Doran, who used to play on Northern Ontario rinks. Earl Bartholomew and the Cunninghams, Bill and Les, scored Cleveland goals.

The win against Hornets was the first for New Haven this year. Obs Heximer and Mike Miller scored for Eagles in the first period, while Gus Mancuso, Tony Hemmerling, and Yank Boyd accounted for the winners' other three goals in the last period.

In the Saturday clash, Ed. Singbush opened the scoring for New Haven in the first period, but this advantage was lost in the second session when Liscombe, Ken Doraty, and Doran scored for Pittsburgh. New Haven sandwiched in a goal by Ossie Asmundson between the counters by Liscombe and Doraty. The teams split goals in the last period, with Singbush getting his second and Howie Mackie scoring for Pittsburgh.

Saints' Lose 29-5 Church Cage Loop

St. John's Juveniles grabbed a 29-5 decision over St. Paul's in their Church Cape Loop contest at the "Y" on Saturday night, showing too much size for their younger rivals. Most of the Anglicans' assisted in the scoring, with Craig tops with 13 points. They had a weakness in free-throw tossing, getting but one in 11. Dyer was best for the victors with Taylor outstanding for the Presbyterians. Craig's shooting was good. The teams:

St. Paul's—Dundas, Fraser, Dunford, Ferguson, McBride, Taylor.

St. John's—Dyer, Amys, Marshall, Castle, Moore, Forsythe, Craig.

Referee, W. Begley; scorer, D. Charlton.

Badminton

R. O. BENSON

Knox Church Badminton Club got off to a good start on Thursday night, as they ran of an opening tournament. It was of the round-robin variety, acting as a get-together for last year's members and several new ones. The Knox crowd had a good season last year when they re-organized after a lapse of two years. They produced some very good players, among them Barbara Blade, Alice Davis, Mrs. Clayton Ruth, Cliff Cadd, Ralph Charlton, Pete McArthur and others, and they are hopeful of another successful session. Ralph Charlton, president of the club, is a man who should be able to hold his own in almost any local company. Besides being left-handed, he's a jackrabbit on his feet and would drive conventional players nearly crazy, at first, with his unique style. This winter they have added two more good lads, Sandy Wedlock and Horace Fisher. In Thursday's play, the latter rang the bell on all four appearances, turning in a perfect score of 60. Ralph Charlton was second among the men with a 58 card; George Ringer trailed him with a close 57 and Sandy Wedlock had an even 50. Among the girls, Barbara Blade, an essentially athletic miss, was tops with 56 points. Norma Pammett and Vi Britnell, two of the first year people, were next in line with 54 and 53 respectively. Gladys Gerard, a very good prospect, collected 51 points.

In tennis, it's the Kawartha League and City League. Why not a badminton league? All right, then, a church league. Such circuits are already operating in Toronto and should work here. East City Club, Trinity and Knox should be sure starters, with St. Andrews' making a possible fourth. This would comprise the single-court court clubs. The first three are keen, but they foresee cetrain obstacles. Cost is one. Each club would play the others once or twice away and at home. The home club would supply the birds with each team member chipping in a very nominal amount to cover the cost. Court scarcity is another problem. Each club's court would be required perhaps only once every two or three weeks, which isn't too bad, is it? Of course, an organization meeting would have to smooth all these spots out. No real start may be made in the direction of a league before Christmas. But, it should be remembered that, for successful play after Christmas, good organization is necessary before the new year.

Reviewing Stand

Mrs. (Dr.) Preston and Miss Florence Adams, finalists in last year's Central Ontario tourney, were givin' out with all their accustomed cleverness against Mrs. James Matthews and Mrs. Gill Putnam in the outstanding ladies' doubles game on Saturday. A very smart foursome—Mrs. Putnam hits them so they stay hit—Florence Adams covers up in sweet style. Gord Dobbin gives fair warning that he is fast approaching mid-season form. He and Mrs. Dobbin were clicking like a taxi-meter the other night, and he gos well with Gord Armstrong in a men's twosome. Mrs. C. H. Stuart, the lady in bright yellow, added many a bright spot to a mixed contest, helping out her husband considerably. Dorothy Moore and Dr. Green, who plays all sports with plenty of zip, formed a nice pair to match Gord Tollington and his partner. Grant Gillespie, brand new vice-chairman of the Friday Night Club, teed off with an air of savoir-faire against Vern Morphet on the other side of the netting. Stan Northrop, who is some shucks as a violinist, was stringing along with Neil Gemmel, getting some fine practice in another male group. It was a case of another almost capacity turnout with some beautiful badminton on display. A inter-club between the Armouries and Peterborough Club is a very likely prospect shortly. Pairings are already being made for this coming tourney.

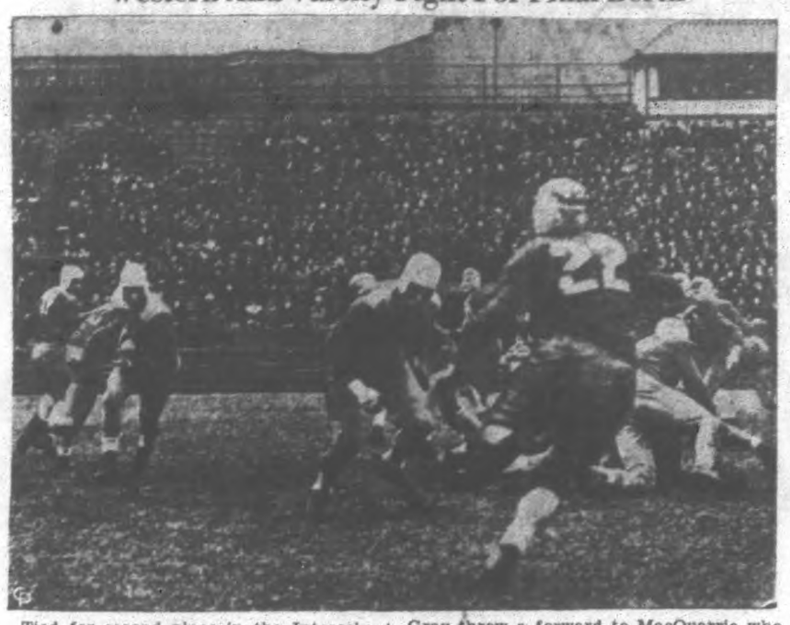
Western And Varsity Fight For Final Berth



Tied for second place in the Intercollegiate rugby league, Toronto Varsity and Western University fought it out on Toronto's home ground Saturday for the honor of meeting Queens for the championship. First blood went to the Blues when Cam Gray threw a forward to MacQuarrie who went through centre for the first touch. Gray then converted to make the score 6-0. Claude Moore, halfback for Western, is shown ABOVE attempting to go through the Varsity line while Fennell, 22, Varsity outside wing, moves in to stop him.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd C'uckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

A BUNCH of boys, named the Peterborough Orfuns, rambled into Toronto on Saturday and helped themselves to a 19-5 grid win over the City Club (nee Westsides) before nearly 200 chilly fans. 'Twas played at Oakwood Stadium, a very nice field—and one of several vacant there that day—and the ex-Westsides were both surprised and hurt at their guests acting so hard. It was the first game of the home-and-home, points counting, O.R.F.U. intermediate 'A' semi-finals, winner to meet the Sarnia-Dundas emerger in the Provincial finals. City Club comes here next Saturday in the return tilt, down 14 points, with their chances somewhat on the slim side. This same squad ousted Lindsay, group champs, last semester and gave Sarnia Wanderers quite a battle before losing in the finals.

* * * * * *

ORFUNS ARE hot now and will be hard to take. They played a bangup game in Toronto and earned the victory. Though not by such a score, 'Twas a tighter tussle than the count indicates and the City Clubbers are still in the fight. They didn't have much luck at home, several times being within touchdown distance—once five yards out on their first down—when fumbles turned the tide. They made yards repeatedly through battering into the middle of our line, and they were without their ace hoofer. They are big and tough with a strong line, hard plungers and a good passing attack. If they come here hot they might just cop a couple of touchdowns in the first half and then it'll be anyone's battle. Most of the second half saw the City Club crew deep in Peterborough territory.

* * * * * *

YEAH, ORFUNS got a few breaks but they deserved the victory. They showed a fighting spirit all the time, dug in when things looked bad to stop the Toronto onslaught, and they capitalized on their breaks. Our line had a time trying to fathom Toronto's plunging system, as it seems the homesters were taking the ball from snap right close to the line and getting into the scrimmage a couple of steps sooner than is customery for grid plungers. One big dude, Thompson, seemed able to rip off eight and 10 yards on every buck. They pulled off some nice forward tries and end runs in spots—but looked like an up-and-down team, like champs one minute and just so-so the next. Orfuns played good consistent rugby throughout.

* * * * * *

COACH BILL Turnbull's team surprised the Torontos and their fans, looking light and not so hot as the game opened but sticking right in there battling bitterly and every once in a while pulling a touchdown run, or a long gallop or a trick play that disorganized their husky rivals. And Don Crowe was kicking 'em over their heads quite often. Our last try was a, pip, Crowe getting off a snap kick before they were set and it travelling a mile—clearing the saety man's head, and as he went back and fumbled it a bit, Hendren racing in to fall on the loose pigskin. Grosse got a try, too, when he dribbled the ball after a Toronto kick was blocked. Crowe skirted end for the other touchdown. Loucks and Kearns ripped off neat runs, also.

* * * * * *

NO PARTICULAR stars in this struggle, all the boys going well—despite the fact our line wobbled frequently under a heavy hammering attack. Orfuns are opportunists and they are also scrappers. All we hope is that they don't get too cocky after this 19-5 win and take things a bit easy against City Club back here. But we doubt if they'll ease up now with a titular chance coming up within two weeks. Bud Kunts of Toronto, who was seriously injured in Lindsay a year ago trying to stop Loucks, played against Loucks on Saturday—they had a chat before the fixture. He is okay now but teammates advise him to stay on the sidelines this autumn. Most of the Orfuns stayed to see the pro puck squabble at night.

* * * * * *

P.C.I. SENIORS advanced into the C.O.S.S.A. finals, to meet Barrie, here Saturday last by trouncing Belleville's Albert College crew, 28-0. A fair-sized crowd watched the bewildering local attack manufacture five touchdowns, Al Clark and Haig Kelly getting two each and Diplock one. Clark returned to the wars to play the best football of his career, dishing up a dazzling display of running, passing and receiving. A swelegant performance. Kelly was also most effective, but it is hard to name stars when the whole squad is clicking as it was in this fray. Kelly and Curtin were chased near the finish for fighting—and they'll hear about that at school todays! Yessir, Coach Bamforth's boys certainly mopped up on senior school football throughout Central Ontario this autumn again.

* * * * * *

THE GARNET and Gray gang tackles Barrie next in a sudden-death C.O.S.S.A. final. Dunno where it will be next, maybe Toronto on Saturday. Barrie edged out Burlington, 9-8, and some of our Orfuns saw the a.m. contest in Toronto. They say P.C.I. should lick either team. This will not be the Ontario finals, just the C.O.S.S.A. series. Winner will step into either the Provincial semi-finals or finals, likely all sudden-death games from now on. Bowmanville juniors were ousted in Toronto the same day by Orillia, 15-10 in a sudden-death final.

* * * * * *

JUST A word or two on the O.H.A. annual meeting Saturday in Toronto, Harley Weir representing Peterborough. They decided to revive the senior 'B' series and to start a junior 'C' division, limited by population and having no imports. We will have a junior 'B' team and may be stepped up to the senior 'B' section—though this is not definite for a week or so yet. No word on groupings, either. In O.H.A. finals now, in the intermediate 'B' and junior 'B' and 'C' classes, final four teams have a round-robin series, top two then playing off. Yeah, a money racket. Short term students do not get excepted from the transfer clause. Sandy Burrows of Belleville was re-elected to the O.H.A. Transfers granted to Peterborough were: Intermediate, J. H. Barnes and Vic Brown from Weyburn, Sask.; and junior, Honey Tompkins of Belleville and Earl McNabb of Owen Sound. More again on this matter.

* * * * * *

PICKING 'EM off the grapevine: Sarnia took a 6-6 win over Dundas in Hamilton on Sat'day in an O.R.F.U. intermediate 'A' semi-final . . . . Hiawatha wants to enter our Senior City Hockey League this winter . . . . The 63-0 score for Sarnia Imps over Montreal was not a Canadian record, as once Montreal Wheelers beat Peterborough 77-6 in an inter-provincial playoff . . . . St. John's juvenile and bantam cage teams won their Church Basketball League fixtures at the 'Y' over the weekend . . . . Orfuns and City Club both used plenty of alternates in their game in Toronto . . . . P.T. drills for prospective O.H.A. puckists here commence tonight at the 'Y'; everyone invited . . . . Jack Phillips of Port Hope has a hockey transfer to Campbellford . . . . While Oshawa gets Tonn and also Tony Meader—if he plays at all—who ran out on that team recently . . . . Orfuns practise Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights, with a chalk talk on Friday . . . . They had a couple of carloads of supporters at Oakwood Stadium on Sat'day . . . . Dear Santa: Brings us two errid titles for Christmas, or one anyway if you're short of 'em!

Carpetball Notes

The Smoke Eaters from the Fire Hall tried out their smoke screen tactics on the Moose head to great advantage. They have two more heads to hang in their hunting lodge.

Our Legionaires showed their old fighting spirit of 1914-18 when they completely routed the No Surrender squad, sending them back to their own trenches; then when the Fire Department arrived on the scene to dampen down their hot-headed attaches, the Legionaires stole the fighters' equipment and sent them home empty-handed.

Cridlands Meats proved too beefy for the Curtis Bricks and picked up the missles, hurled them back at the brickyard gang, who retired without honors.

Collegiate Gridders Swamp Albert College Squad 28-0

P.C.I. Carries The Play All Way In Central Ontario Football Struggle

Peterborough Collegiate Seniors blanked Albert College of Belleville 28-0 in a sudden-death playdown game at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon. The victory sent the P.C.I. squad into the final round of the C.O.S.S.A., probably against Barrie.

Playing on a sodden field with a driving snow falling intermittently, P.C.I. were victors from the starting whistle and carried the play in all quarters. They marched steadily through Albert College territory time after time, winning their points on five touchdowns and three conversions. Their speed and the precision of their shifting attack completely baffled the losers, who were at no point a serious threat.

Al Clark and Captain Haig Kelly were strongest on the Peterborough offensive, both scoring two touchdowns and making long gains for their team. Diplock scored the other touch. Curtin was outstanding in his kicking, outdistancing Phillmore, Albert College booter, all through the game.

Two fights broke out within ten minutes of the end of the game, when tempers flared over high tackles, one by each team. Three players, Kelly and Curtin for Peterborough and Gille for Belleville, were ordered from the field for the remainder of the game.

Diplock scored P.C.I.'s first touchdown within five minutes of the starting whistle after sensational broken field running to Albert College 4-yard line by Leether. Peterborough had advanced into Belleville territory following the kick-off but lost possession of the ball in their own ground when Thornton's third-down kick was blocked. Regaining possession when Albert College kicked on their third down, Diplock made the catch and carried the ball out more than twenty yards.

On an end run Leether broke through into Belleville's territory and by clever field running advanced to Belleville's 4-yard line before he was forced out of bounds. On the second down Diplock crossed the line on an end run and Thornton converted to make the score 6-0.

P.C.I.'s next scoring came after they gained possession of the ball on Albert College's 30-yard line when the Belleville kicker fumbled and was tackled behind his own line of scrimmage. It was the second blocked play in succession by the Peterborough squad and the two cost the visitors 15 yards. A 10-yard penalty for offside play set Peterborough back momentarily but they made a 20-yard gain on a forward pass from Leether to Thornton. Plunges and a 5-yard Belleville penalty for high tackling brought them to the 7-yard line. Al Clark plunged for a 3-yard gain and Kelly carried the ball over for the second touchdown, Thornton converting, and the score at the end of the first quarter was 12-0.

In the second quarter Peterborough kept a steady advance but were able to score only one touchdown, though they kicked to deadline on a number of occasions. Forced back to their own 5-yard line, the visitors booted a long one that was run back in a combination passing play by Peterborough's backfield to Belleville's 35-yard line. Haig Kelly burst through on the first down and carried the ball over the line for a touch. Thornton's placement was short.

A long run-out by Kelly a few minutes after the beginning of the second half, on a Belleville third-down kick, sent the local team into scoring position on the visitors' 26-yard line. An end run with Al Clark passing to Leether brought them to the five-yard line and Clark plunged through for a touchdown, which was not converted.

In the last quarter Peterborough advanced rapidly into Albert College territory, twice coming within 20 yards of a touch before losing the ball. First fight to break out occurred when Gille of Belleville made a high tackle after running a Peterborough carrier out of bounds, Kelly and Gille were both ordered from the field as a result of the fight that followed.

Curtin started the P.C.I. off on their last scoring attack when he plunged through the line for a 15-yard gain that carried him to Belleville's 12-yard line. An end run by Clark brought the touch on the first down, and Thornton converted. Peterborough continued their attack until the end of the game and were once within an ace of scoring.

Line-up:

Albert College: Flying wing, Weir; halves, Blackman, Goodfellow and Gillmore; quarter, Fraser; snap, Musgrove; insides, Stevenson and Gille; middles, Mercer and James; outsides, McDowell and Yale; alternates, Patton, Ostrosser, Charelton, Downey, Carter, Colbourne, Maidle.

P.C.I.: Flying wing, Ward; halves, Diplock, Thornton, Al Clark; quarter, Leether; snap, Johnston; insides, W. Turner, Ascott; middles, Kelly and Creighton; outsides, Duncan and Csumerick; alternates, Grant Clark, P. Turner, Northcott, Parnell, Craig, Scriver, Dwyer.

Little Four Title Is Won By Ridley

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—Outclassed in practically every department of play, Trinity College School gridders were submerged under a 49 to 0 lacing at the hands of Ridley College in the Little Big Four final at U. of T. Athletic Field Saturday morning.

Frequent fumbles by Trinity, added to successful Ridley extension plays, helped build up the score. The long-range booting of Hodder was another feature for the winners.

Three singles by Hodder and an unconverted touchdown gave Ridley an 8 to 0 lead in the first quarter, and before the intermission they added two more unconverted touchdowns and a pair of singles. A Hodder-to-Scandrett pass and Davidson's plunge added two more majors in the third period, while Hodder converted one and picked two more single. In the last quarter another Hodder-to-Scandrett pass went for a touchdown, Hodder making the convert. Ridley added two more majors as Trinity opened up a desperate passing attack.

OTTAWA GAINS 4-POINT LEAD OVER TORONTO

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—(CP)— The mighty Sarnia Imperials crushed Westmounts 63-0 Saturday as Western fell before University of Toronto 19-5 in a sudden-death Intercollegiate Union playoff and Ottawa Rough Riders drew first blood, 18-11, in a two-game duel with Toronto Argonauts. As University of Toronto qualified to meet Queen's for the college championship and Sarnia won their way to the eastern final, the section was left with what appeared much like a sequel of last season's football story.

It was Queen's against Toronto with Toronto the victors, and Riders successful against Argos at the tail-end of the 1936 campaign. Then, too, Sarnia haunted the scene, waiting to eliminate the Rider-Argo survivor.

Twice beaten by Argos during the regular Interprovincial Union schedule, Riders found success when it meant most. "They will carry the four-point edge into Toronto next week in the second game of the total-point series for the Big Four championship.

It was a thrilling battle of ground power against speed in Ottawa's Lansdowne Park. Before 12,000 fans, the Riders put on a 44-yard march through the line in the fourth quarter to gain victory after the lead see-sawed through three periods.

Riders Come From Behind

As usual, Riders came from behind. They presented Argos with a touchdown in the first two minutes when Art Evans recovered a fumble and ran to the one-yard line from where Ted Morris plunged over. From then on first Argos held a lead, then Ottawa, right to the time Herman place-kicked with the score 11-11.

Weakened in the first quarter when centre Bud Lewis broke his hand, Argos could not match the plunging fury of Ottawa's big three and their swift-running backs were unable to make up the distance Riders gained through the line. Loss of Bob Isbister's long-range punting did not help either. Isbister, first string Argo kicker, was unable to boot because of an injury suffered in training.

It was 8-4 for Argos at half-time after Herman booted a placement and Rocky Rocano a single and Annis Stukus a placement for Argos. Stukus fired his between the bars from 35 yards.

A converted touchdown by Andy Tommy on a wide lateral pass and a second placement by Stukus left Argos ahead 11-10 at the final turnover. Tommy went over after Rocano's 22-yard runback of a short kick by Earl Selkirk set the ball on the Argo six. A fourth-quarter single set the stage for Ottawa's finishing drive to victory.

Western, summer-book favorites for the College title, went down before a band of Toronto opportunists who struck swiftly for two touchdowns in the first half. There was never any danger of Mustangs overcoming a 12-5 Toronto lead built on major scores by Ken MacQuarrie and Don Mumford.

A short kick by Jack Kennedy early in the first quarter left Toronto in possession 30 yards out and Jim MacDonald, who didn't throw a pass all season, immediately floated a long one to MacQuarrie for the first score. He threw another in the third quarter for a touchdown by Cam Gray. Those were the only two passes Toronto completed.

Mumford, whose heavy plunging was the outstanding groundwork of the game, got his score soon after MacQuarrie's when he picked up a Western fumble and ran 45 yards to the goal line. A Toronto fumble on their 13 led to Western's touchdown, scored by Jim Fraser after Mustangs were given a break by a Toronto offside on third down.

Some 12,000 Toronto fans watched Western fight a losing battle after the first quarter. Mustangs were outplayed along the line and their backs were outfooted by MacQuarrie and MacDonald. Cal Moore, rallying his team frequently with fighting runs, was the outstanding Mustang.

Leafs Crush Red Wings 5 To 0 But Lose To The Bruins 3-2

TORONTO, Nov. 22 (CP)—This season's Bruins seem destined to be one of the great Boston teams. Art Ross has set lofty standards with previous machines but none could have flown higher than Bruins have this year in winning their first six starts.

Whenever Boston greats are discussed, the first to come up is the mighty unit which established an all-time scoring mark with 179 goals in 1929-30. That team won 38 of the 44 games in its schedule, then failed against Montreal Canadiens in the Stanley Cup finals. Cooney Weiland set a record of 43 goals and 30 assists that year and Dutch Gainor made 31 assists.

Never quite the equal of that club, others Ross has welded have won six American division titles and finished second three times in 11 years. Remarkably, the only time Bruins have won the Stanley Cup was in 1928-29.

Of the history-making cast of 1929-30, only Goalie Tiny Thompson, Eddie Shore, Dit Clapper and Weiland still are in the lineup; but into the places of those who have drifted away have come swift, sure-shooting forwards and dynamite-dealing defencemen. Best of all, there has come a forward line from Kitchener, Ont., that should sparkle for years.

It was this new "Baby Line" of Milt Schmidt, Porky Dumart and Bobby Bauer that played a major part in the fifth and sixth Boston triumphs during the weekend. They tipped in a goal to put Bruins ahead of the Maple Leafs at Toronto Saturday and Boston stayed there to win 3-2. Last night the youngsters scored twice, and the Black Hawks were beaten 2-1 at Chicago.

Capacity Crowds.

In each case a capacity crowd—15,089 and 15,500—saw the home side rally only to be beaten back by the stout Bruin defence. The forwards raced in for early goals and back-checked tenaciously the rest of the way.

Ray Getliffe evened the score in the first period at Toronto after Harvey Jackson had put Leafs ahead in the 14th minute on passes from the other members of his ace line, Gordon Drillon and Sylvanus Apps. Then the baby line played its hand with Schmidts goal and Sands, who had passed to Getliffe for the first, ended the Boston scoring aided by Bill Cowley and Getliffe. Nick Metz pushed in the final Leaf counter in the third period.

The more notable showing of the Bruin fledglings produced both goals against Chicago in the second period. Schmidt banged in the first on a double pass from his mates, and Dumart gathered in Schmidts relay to race around the Hawk defence for the second. Glenn Brydson, assisted by Earl Seibert and Johnny Gottselig, averted a shutout in the third.

Breaks Leafs' Streak

The defeat Saturday halted Leafs' string of five games without a loss, but they tore into Detroit last night and handed the world champion Red Wings a 5-0 beating, the biggest margin of the entire week-end. With 31 goals, Toronto has scored more than the rest of its division put together, and is five points up on the second-place New York Americans. Boston's margin in the American section is also five.

Leafs swamped the Wings without the aid of bombing Charlie Conacher, still out with a bruised shoulder. While Detroit played without the injured Ebbie Goodfellow, Bill Thoms was credited with two goals and Apps, Drillon and Nick Metz got the others as hitherto erratic Walt Broda recorded his first shutout.

Detroit has lost four times in six starts for a record the same as that of Montreal Maroons, who lost their fourth of five games Saturday to New York Rangers, 3-0, but went to New York and tied the Ranger squad 2-3 in overtime.

Dave Kerr's shutout of Maroons, his third of the young season, came in the face of constant sniping. Likewise, Montreal was blanked for the third time as the forwards found Kerr catching their high shots and smothering the others effectively.

ORILLIA TAKES C.O.S.S.A. TITLE

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—Orillia captured the junior title and Barrie moved into the senior finals as a result of Central Ontario Secondary Schools' Association grid playoffs on the back campus of the University of Toronto Saturday.

Orillia trimmed Bowmanville, 15 to 10, to complete a flawless season, while Barrie edged out Burlington, 9 to 8, to grab a spot in the final against Peterborough.

The senior game was a thriller from the outset. After a pointless first quarter, Dyle's kick to the deadline and Jack (Sugar) Webb's touchdown put Barrie ahead 6 to 0 at the half. Freeman hoofed a single and Henry went over for a major for Burlington in the third quarter, and Freeman's convert put them ahead 7 to 6. Jack Dyle came through with a placement just before the quarter ended to again give Barrie the lead and they hung onto it despite a boot to the deadline by Freeman in the final frame.

Orillia had too much power in all departments for Bowmanville and had an edge throughout. Gaudaur's pair of boots to the deadline gave them the lead in the first quarter and they increased their margin in the second when McKeown fell on a blocked kick for a major, which was unconverted.

Colville sprinted forty yards for a touchdown to put Bowmanville back in the hunt, but Gaudaur replied with a single to make it 8-5 at half-time. McKenzie took a twenty-yard forward and went over for a major to give Orillia a commanding lead at the start of the third frame. Gaudaur kicked the convert and added a single later in the session. Bowmanville reduced their deficit when Depew raced over for a touch on an end run. Neither team counted in the final quarter.

Karakas Makes Fine Save For Chicago Hawks

The Chicago Black Hawks, under Coach Bill Stewart, are showing plenty of fight this season. In a game with New York Rangers, the Black Hawks upset the dope bucket by defeating the youth movement of Lester Patrick, right in New York. Mike Karakas, Chicago goalie, is seen in this action picture making a beautiful stop of Dillon's shot. The Ranger forward can be seen going after the puck, near the net, after Karakas made the stop.

CALIFORNIA BEARS PICK OF THE WEST

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP).—One man's guess seems as good as another's today on the subject of the Rose Bowl opponent for California on New Year's Day.

While the Golden Bears Saturday solved the west coast's half of the main post-season football problem, by trouncing Stanford 13-0 before 85,000 spectators at Palo Alto, rival eastern aspirants for the bid to Pasadena kept their banners hifh. Pasadena kept their banners high, paced by Marshall Goldberg, trounced Penn State 28-7, and now have only one remaining barrier—Duke—to an unbeaten season.

Fordham's chances, from the west coast viewpoint, may not have been brightened by the slender margin of the Rams' victory over St. Mary's 6-0. Though the New Yorkers had a much bigger edge than the score indicated, the outcome contrasted with California's 30-7 shellacking of the Gaels early in theason.

Orfuns Grab 19-5 Edge Over Toronto Outfit

Local Gridders Get 14-Point Margin In First Of Ontario Semi-Finals

Orfuns copped a 19-5 victory over Toronto City Club on Saturday at Oakwood Stadium, Toronto, in the first game of the O.R.F.U. intermediate "A" semi-finals. Return game, points counting, will be played here next Saturday and the winner will go into the finals against the Sarnia-Dundas victor.

About 200 fans saw the game in Toronto, a nifty, open battle in which the locals looked better most of the way. They capitalized on their breaks and held the husky ex-Westsides team—Ontario finalists last year—through most of a tough scrap. Play was clean but hard all the time and the score is not a good indication of the way play went, Toronto having a bigger share than the 19-5 count would seem. The visitors were inclined to be lucky to carry the 14-point margin away, though they deserved the win.

Get Early Lead

The score was 1-0 for the Orfuns in the first frame and 7-0 at half-time. They took a 13-6 lead into the final quarter. Three converted touchdowns and a rouge accounted for the Turnbull team's tally while the home crew pulled off a touchdown in the third heat but did not convert it.

Both teams played an open brand of football a good part of the distance, making it an interesting game to watch. There were some nice runs, long kicks and several completed forward passes. The Toronto team outweighed the Orfuns and at times looked like champions, but at other times were hard pressed by the battling visitors. They marched down the field in the first quarter in a runaway, ripping off eight and 10 yards on every play, but failed to score. Late in the second heat they pulled off a bunch of nice forward passes, and several times in the last half they were deep in Orfuns' territory. The later crew however played great rugby in the pinches and surprised their opponents with their kicking, running, passing and tackling.

All Go Well

There were no standout stars for Peterborough, though several played a bangup game. Crowe was in top form both at kicking and running, while Loucks again tore off some nifty gallops. Kearns in spots played a fine fixture, while Giardino, Pulkinghorn, Hendren and several others played their usual steady game. The local line had a tough time holding the big plunging Torontos but near their own goal-posts they dug in and stopped them. Thompson shone for the losers, while Nugent, Porter, Hughes and F. Wilson were effective, also.

Early in the first quarter, Crowe tossed a 12-yard forward to Giardino on the Toronto 40-yard line. On Crowe's kick from there, Archibald rouged Patterson for a point. Toronto put on a drive, Thompson getting 15 yards through centre. Webb skirted end for 10 and Thompson again moved sticks through the centre of the line. They blasted through once more to the local 30-yard mark, Hughes carrying the mail. On the next play, they fumbled and lost it. Crowe got around end for yards but later they kicked. Thompson gained 12 on a buck just before the whistle.

Shortly after the second heat opened, Orfuns blocked a kick and Crosse tore in fast to dribble it over for a try from Toronto's 35-yard chalk. It was converted on Crowe's boot. Loucks ran back a kick 25 yards, and Crowe got 15 around end to midfield. A Loucks-Crowe extension got seven but the locals were then stopped and kicked it. Play shifted up and down, with Pulkinghorn bucking once for yards. They were aided by a City Club penalty and Begley got five on a buck, but they lost it once more. On an exchange in hoofing, Crowe's boot was short but he recovered it and made yards. Later Toronto got yards on a forward pass and twice more made forward heaves to the Orfuns' 30-yard strip at halftime.

Toronto Gets Try

Orfuns tried a forward unsuccessfully in the third and then Giardino intercepted a Toronto forward heave. Crowe got 15 around end but they were forced to kick again. They worked it up gradually, with Crowe, Grosse, Loucks and Pulkinghorn all aiding, once a forward throw, but a penalty forced a kick and Webb ran it out. The Orfuns were also penalized when Mitchell tripped him as he came out. Porter got his own kick at centre as Orfuns took too much time picking it up, but Kearns intercepted a forward pass and made a fine 25-yard run before being grounded on the Toronto 25-yard line. A Crowe-Archibald forward netted 10 and Begley bucked for five. Crowe tore around end for a touchdown which Loucks converted. Shortly before the whistle, F. Wilson picked up a loose ball when Hughes blocked Loucks' kick on Orfuns' 36-yard mark and raced over for a try. It was not converted.

Twice Toronto got yards but later they had to hoof it, and play moved up and down as the teams battled hard. Both sides made yards twice but were compelled to kick it when they ran into stiffened lines, and several forward passes were incomplete. Toronto lost it on downs once on the Orfuns' 5-yard strip, and play was nearly all in Peterborough territory. Late in the quarter, Crowe got away a long kick on a snap play, with Nugent going back for it, fumbling and Hendren dashing in to fall on it over the line for a try. Loucks converted it. Play was even and near centre at the finish.

The teams:

Orfuns: Flying wing, Marsh; halves Crowe, Giardino, Loucks; quarter, Archibald; snap, Hendren; insides, Winslow, E. Spencely; middles, Pulkinghorn, Begley; outsides, Cameron, Grosse; alternates, Smith, Harle, Ascott, Kearns, McIntyre, F. Spencely, Sloan, Bartle, Williams, Prete, Weir, Mitchell.

Toronto: Flying wing, Thompson; halves, Webb, Nugent, Patterson; quarter, Porter; snap, D. Scott; insides, Ford, Whitehorne; middles, Adamson, Hughes; outsides, G. Wilson, F. Wilson; alternates, Lister, Kuntz, Erlich, Hinchcliffe, Matten, Bryers, Wagman, Sterts, Paul, Bingley, Davis, F. Scott.

Referee, Taylor; umpire, Stewart.

Summary:

First Quarter

Orfuns 1—Archibald's rouge.

Second Quarter

Orfuns 6—Grosse's try and Crowe's convert.

Third Quarter

Orfuns 6—Crowe's try and Loucks' convert.
Toronto 5—F. Wilson's try.

Fourth Quarter

Orfuns 6—Hendren's try and Loucks' convert.

N.H.L. Leaders

(By the Canadian Press)

Cecil Dillon, Rangers, got goal and assists in 3-0 defeat of Maroons and contributed two goals in Sunday's 3-3 tie with Maroons.

Milt Schmidt, Boston, sent Bruins ahead to stay in 3-2 victory at Toronto Saturday and helped extend wining streak to six with goal and assist in 2-1 triumph over Chicago.

Red Horner, Toronto, aided in one Toronto goal against Boston and in two more against Detroit Sunday, when Leafs won 5-0.

TORONTO GARDENS PLACES CONTRACT WITH THE O.H.A.

TORONTO, Nov. 22, —(CP)— A financially sound Ontario Hockey Association was bound to-day to a five-year contract, providing only one exception, which stipulated all Toronto teams under the association's banner play their games at the Gardens. This was the most important piece of business discussed here at the Association's 48th annual meeting Saturday. Teams which came under the direction and control of University of Toronto, however may play their games at the college rink.

Nearly 100 delegates, who passed nine of 11 motions presented at the three-hour meeting, heard Treasurer George Dudley of Midland present a financial report which showed the Association made money last season for the first time in years. Dudley said the O.H.A. had an operating profit of $1,422, culled mostly from the junior playoffs between Stratford Midgets and St. Michael's college.

Discussion on the agreement with the Gardens lasted nearly 45 minutes, meetings its greatest opposition from Joyce McGill, the Hamilton delegate. There was hardly a murmur of protest as other motions were presented and passed.

The Association decided all teams entered in its various series should be reclassified, the Senior 'B' series be revived; a new series, junior 'C' be established, and round robin series be held to decide championships in intermediate 'B' and Junior 'B' and 'C' classes.

These were the most important moves at the meeting, which saw the Barrie Hockey Club withdraw its motion members of the advisory board should receive neither remuneration from the Association for taking part in meetings nor have a vote at such meetings. A motion by the Acton Hockey Club that all semi-final and final games be played on artificial ice was defeated.

Last year's entire slate of officers, headed by President Alvin Schlegel of Preston, will guide the destinies of the association for another year.

BORN

FRANCIS.—To Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Francis (nee Emily Hemphill), 569 Sherbrooke street, at Nicholls Hospital, a son, Richard Paul.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Black, of 476 Charlotte street, wish to announce the engagement of their only daughter, Ruth, to Irving Moldaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Moldaver, 615 Gilmour street; the wedding to take place early in March.

Mr. Robert Casey of Orange Corners wishes to announce the engagement of his eldest daughter, Nellie Esther, to Lloyd Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Hart of Omemee; the marriage to take place quietly this month.

Mr. and Mrs. W. James, George street, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Elsie May, to Elwood, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Armstrong; the wedding to take place Christmas Day.

DIED

GODFREY, David.—In Peterborough Saturday, November 20, 1937, David Godfrey, son of the late John Godfrey and Jane Stinson, aged 69 years; Father of Mrs. J. Rody, Mrs. J. A. Quigley of Peterborough, Mrs. Thomas Hetherton of Saskatoon, and Miss V. M. Godfrey of Kirkland Lake. Funeral from residence of Mrs. Rody, 585 Chamberlain street, on Tuesday morning at 8.40 a.m. to Church of Sacred Heart for Requiem Mass at 9 a.m. Interment in St. Peter's Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

FLANNERY.—In loving and cherished memory of my dearly beloved Father and Mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wes. Flannery, who were called to rest November 22 and 23, 1936.

Loving and kind in all their ways,
Upright and just to the end of their days;
Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory they left behind.

—Ever remembered by Inez Flannery Phillips, Port Hope.

ELLIOTT.—In loving memory of a dear Wife and Mother, Mary H. Elliott, who passed away November 22, 1936.

In our hearts your memory lingers
Sweetly tender, fond and true;
There is not a day, dear Mother,
That we do not think of you.

—Ever remembered by her Husband and Family.

JOHNSON.—In loving memory of a devoted Wife and Mother, Mrs Owen Johnson, who passed away a year ago to-day.

No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered; since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear Mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Ever remembered by her Family.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take advantage of this opportunity of conveying to the numerous friends and acquaintances of our Mother, the late Mrs. Joseph Peacock, our heartfelt gratitude and appreciation for your thoughtfulness and continuous acts of kindness bestowed on her during the past years, and we regret very much that it has not been our privilege to have had personal contact with many of you, due to our absence from home for a number of years.

We also extend to you all our sincere thanks for your kind expressions of sympathy in our sad bereavement, in the death of our dear Mother.

ALBERTA CUTS GAS

CALGARY, Nov. 22 (CP)—A reduction in Alberta retail gasoline prices effective today is announced by officials of leading oil companies here.

The reduction will be one cent a gallon on ethyl gasoline, a cent and a half on standard grades, and a cent on Turner Valley white gas. The new rates in Calgary are Ethyl, 31 cents a gallon, standard grades 28½, and Turner Valley 25½. Some small oil companies have been selling Turner Valley gas at 25 cents a gallon.

St. John's Bantams Beat St. Andrew's

St. John's Bantams took a 4-0 Church Basketball League victory over St. Andrew's at the "Y" Saturday evening in a game as tight as the score indicates. Play was rugged and strenuous, with the lack of experience of the boys keeping down the count. The United led at half-time, 1-0. Crowter, who got both the Anglicans' counters, and the Sage brothers, were best for the winners. The Ridyard twins and Harris stood out for the losers. The teams:

St. John's — L. Sage, Dutton, Smith, S. Packard, W. Packard, S. Sage, Crowter, Brand, Hume, Roy, Gynane.

"Now, wait a minute, Kennedy." Adams sat down in an armchair as Tim delivered his ultimatum of £500 for the letter he held over the dentist's head. "Your talking pretty big, but you are making a mistake. You seem to think if I take the letter to the ploice I won't get anything out of it. That's where you're wrong. If you stand your trial, I'll be the star witness, my name will be in all the papers, and I'll be able to write articles about the Kennedy household and all that sort of thing. I could get almost anything I asked for them—certainly as much as I could get out of you. So you see it isn't quite something or nothing, as you put it."

Tim had an inspiration. He shook his head.

"That's nonsense, Adams, and I should have thought you would have known it. If I stand my trial you'll be a prosecution witness, and prosecution witnesses aren't allowed to write for the newspapers—at least, in England. Do you mean to say you didn't know that?"

The bluff seemed to be working. It seemed, as Tim had conjectured, that Adams had only the vaguest idea of the workings of the law. He looked taken aback.

"I didn't know it, and I don't know it now. Who told you?"

"It's well known. Ask this solicitor of yours, of you don't believe me. No, Adams, all you stand to get that way is witness expenses and a good deal of notoriety. Not the sort that would help you to get another job. Whereas if you come to terms with me you get £500, and I'll give you a damn good reference in the bargain, if you want to go on working."

Adams considered. "No, it's not good enough, Kennedy," he said at last. "I told you my reason before and they still hold good. I prefer the present arrangement."

"But I don't, and I tell you I'm not going on with it. Look at it this way, too. It's come to my ears that you have been gossiping about me in town. I don't say you've let out much so far, and I don't suppose you will so long as you keep sober, but there's no knowing what you may not say when you are drunk. And then it may be too late to draw back. I'll be ruined all right, but your nice little income will come to an end. You had better not give up the substance for the shadow."

"H'm!" Adams stubbed out his cigaret. "I want to think this over." He sat in silence for two or three minutes, Tim waiting in eager expectancy. But he affected indifference, going over to the sofa by the window and opening the newspaper.

"You needn't put on those airs with me," said Adams at last. "This means a lot to you, and I know it. Maybe there's something in what you say. Going on the way you have been lately, you're likely to lose all your patients, and that won't be any good to me. I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll take £1,000, not one penny less, but if you come across I'll go away and not bother you any more."

"I guess you can raise it."

"I'll show you my passbook."

"Thanks, I've seen it. I know pretty well how you stand, but it's possible to borrow."

"Not without security."

"You can always borrow money if you want to hard enough. What about your Mrs. Shepherd? She's got style, she must have some money. She ought to be good for a bit."

Tim lowered his eyes.

"I'm not seeing Mrs. Shepherd now."

"Given you the chuck, has she? I'm not surprised, the way you've been getting. You're too old for her, anyway."

Tim turned a white, tortured face on his persecutor. "Will you please leave Mrs. Shepherd out of this discussion?"

"All right, I was only trying to help you. The point is, my price is £1,000."

"I tell you I haven't got it."

"All right—we'll carry on as before."

"Wait!" Tim was speaking the truth when he said he did not see how he could raise the money. But it was something to have got a concession of the principle: it would be better to play for time. "I don't see how I can possibly do it," he added. "But if I can it would be worth while. I'll do my best. I'll let you know what luck I've had in a day or two."

"O. K. by me," said Adams.

It turned out a fine night, and Tim, who had been none the better lately for the want of exercise, went for a long walk. In the course of it he turned over in his mind all possible sources of raising money.

Friends? He had many in the town, but none so intimate as to be likely to come forward with so substantial a sum as was needed. Dr. Harold Arkwright was probably the nearest to him, but Harold was notoriously a little close with money. A loan of £5 would be painful enough to him, and £500 was out of the question.

Movable property? Apart from the furniture, part of which he would shortly be needing, Tim owned nothing of any particular value. In any case, second-hand furniture always went at a sacrifice. He doubted if a sale of the effects at The Wilderness would raise more than a few hundred pounds. Still, it might come to that.

Professional moneylenders? No security worth mentioning. Tim wondered what exactly was meant by "on note of hand alone." Nothing any good to him, he conjectured, only the prospect of financial entanglement from which he would hardly ever break loose. The sale of his practice? There again, it might come to that.

At about 10 minutes past 10 he left the main road and turned down Box lane. He was within a hundred yards of home, when he heard a clatter behind him, and a bicycle whizzed past him. Adams again. He'd break his neck one of these days, scorching down this dangerous lane in the dark. Good thing if he did, mused Tim, and then realized that as things were now Adams' death would be the worst thing that could happen.

Would it, though? Tim suddenly realized, that according to the plans he was making at present, a time would come when he and Adams would be face to face, alone; when Adams would have the letter on his person, and Tim presumably the money on his.

Why should Tim pay the money? Why should he even take the trouble to procure the money? The supposition that it was there would

BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BARBER SHOP.

"Ouch!" screamed Mrs. Longears, the rabbit lady.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily of his wife. "I only kissed you, didn't I, before I started to hop off adventuring?"

"Do you call that a kiss?" asked Mrs. Longears.

"Why-er-yes," said Mr. Longears. "Wasn't it," and he put his paw up to his pink, twinkling nose thinking perhaps, by mistake, he had tickled his wife with that instead of kissing her good-by.

"I thought you rubbed my cheek with a nutmeg grater or a piece of sand paper," said the rabbit lady wife.

"Oh, my goodness, why?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"You feel so rough," said Mrs. Longears.

"Oh, I see!" laughed the rabbit gentleman. "It's my whiskers. I forgot to shave."

"I should say you did!" said his wife. "You certainly need a shave, Wiggy."

Seeks in Woods.

"Before you go adventuring?" she asked.

"No, I'll get shaved while I'm looking for an adventure," said Mr. Longears. "I'll find a barber shop somewhere in the woods."

"Dear me! What will Uncle Wiggily do next?" murmured Nurse Jane as she saw Mr. Longears hop down the front walk and off into the forest where there were many adventures.

"Yes, my whiskers are a bit rough," said Uncle Wiggily to himself as he hopped along. "I must get a shave in time to look nice for Thanksgiving, now that I had the rugs cleaned so the bungalow will look spick and span."

On he hopped, up hill and down dale seeking a barber shop. But none could he find.

"There ought to be a barber shop where pig gentleman get shaved," thought Uncle Wiggily as he remembered his Mother Goose verse. "Let me see—how does that go?" he wondered. Then he recalled:

"Barber, barber shave a pig. How many hairs will make a wig? Four and twenty, that's enough. Give the barber a pinch of snuff."

"Only I haven't any snuff," thought Uncle Wiggily. "But if I could only see some stripes, like those on a stick of peppermint candy, I would know that's a barber shop and I could get shaved," he said.

All of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping along, he saw what he was looking for, something with stripes on it.

Mistake.

"Ha! There is a barber pole! Now I can get shaved!" exclaimed the rabbit. He hopped over to the stripes but when he got there he saw it was Mr. Chip, the father of Jennie Chipmunk, who was a cousin to Susie Littletail, the rabbit. Chipmunks have stripes on their backs like barber poles, not only the same color. Chipmunks are sometimes called ground squirrels.

They live mostly on the ground or in holes of stone fences instead of in trees.

"Hello, Mr. Chip!" called Uncle Wiggily. "Is your barber shop open today?"

"Indeed it is, Uncle Wiggily," chattered Jennie Chipmunk's father. "I was standing out in front, pretending to be a barber pole. You are my first customer today. Come in and I'll shave you."

"All right," said the rabbit gentleman. "Then I won't scratch my wife's cheek when I kiss her," so he sat in Mr. Chip's barber chair and the striped animal began mixing lather in an acorn cup. He was just going to spread some on the rabbit's whiskers when something happened.

I'll tell you about it tomorrow when the story will be Uncle Wiggily's wig. But please don't let the cranberry sauce go to the movies without giving the turkey a sweet potato.

Dummer School Girl's Story Of The Robinson Immigration

Margot Clysdale Speech In County Contest At The Court House

The Robinson immigration to Peterborough was the subject of the speech by Margot Clysdale of Pleasant Plains School, Dummer township, at the county public speaking contest held last Saturday in the Court House. Her account of that historic settlement of some of the surrounding townships, and the leadership of Hon. Peter Robinson, was so interesting that a reporter requested Margot to send a copy of her address to the Examiner. She kindly did so, and her story, as follows, should appeal to boys and girls of the city and country.

"I would like all of you to go with me, in imagination of course, back to a period of time about 112 years ago when Peterborough, this city of ours, had only one mill operated by Adam Scott and one or two helpers. While in the adjoining townships the settlers were few and their prospects far from encouraging.

"It was then that Hon. Peter Robinson began his great and important work of colonizing this district.

"In 1824 Mr. Robinson had returned home to England on a visit. While there, he was prevailed upon to take charge of an emigration from Ireland to Canada under the direction of the British government.

"There was and had been distress and poverty in Ireland. Employment was scarce and the potato crop had been a failure. As a result 60,000 persons applied to be taken to Canada. From those Mr. Robinson chose 415 families, making a total of 2024 people.

"In the spring of 1825, 9 ships were provided by the Royal Navy. These boats set sail during May.

Records Preserved

"Here in the Public Library of Peterborough the original record made out by Mr. Robinson is being preserved. It gives the names of the 2024 immigrants, the names of the boats on which they sailed, where they settled, the materials supplied to each and the cost price.

When the immigrants reached Quebec they were forwarded to Kingston where it was necessary that they should remain for two weeks, living in tents. Owing to the intense heat many suffered from fever and ague.

"In the meantime Mr. Robinson had sailed from Liverpool to New York and proceeded from there to Toronto by way of Niagara. At Toronto he secured all the information he could about the lands which were to be settled. From Toronto he went to Cobourg and then to Scotts' Plains, as Peterborough was then called. Here, aided by Mr. McDonell, he spent six days exploring the townships as much as possible.

Journey From Kingston

"Having completed this work he undertook the task of transporting the immigrants from Kingston to Scotts' Plains. They were brought to Cobourg, a distance of 100 miles by steam-boat. From Cobourg they proceeded to Rice Lake a distance of twelve miles by wagons and oxen, over roads that had to be improved.

"Fair sized boats were used to cross Rice Lake but it was found that the Otonabee River was too shallow owing to the dry season. Mr. Robinson then undertook to have scows, 60 ft. by 8 ft. built. This took eight days, but to his great enjoyment they were satisfactory. They were propelled by poles and oars. Several trips were made from Gore's Landing to Scott's Plains, the present site of Peterborough.

"On arrival, rough huts or shelters were built to do for the time being. Each day rations of meat and flour were served out. Mr. Robinson had buildings erected to use as store houses and offices so that he could carry on his work.

Alloting Land

"Then began the task of locating the immigrants. Mr. Robinson speaks of this as the most troublesome and laborious part of his service. The plan adopted was to send out the immigrants in groups accompanied by guides, to examine the land and choose their locations. One hundred acres were allotted to each family of five persons and in some cases even the sons, if they were grown up, received lots. Contracts were then let by Mr. Robinson to former settlers and other to build a shanty on each lot at an average cost of $10 each. It was necessary to cut roads through the forest to transport the immigrants and their luggage to their new homes. With the exception of a few families who remained on Scott's Plains during the winter, all the immigrants were located on their lands during the autumn of 1825.

"Each family was supplied with a cow, an axe, an auger, a handsaw, a hammer, 100 nails, 2 gimlets, 3 hoes, 1 kettle, 1 frying pan, 1 iron kettle, 5 bushels of seed potatoes and 8 quarts of Indian corn.

Official Report

"Food was still supplied during the winter and had to be continued for eighteen months. At all times Mr. Robinson showed uniform kindness and attention to the wants and necessities of the families under his charge. In return he was respected and beloved by the settlers. About 1830 John Richards was sent out by the British Government to enquire into the circumstances of the Canadian immigrants of 1825. In his letter to London he states: 'I was two or three days in Peterborough, during which time 30 or 40 settlers and some with their families came in to see Mr. Robinson and the manner in which they met him was quite affecting; it was more to bless him as a benefactor than to receive him as a visitor.'

"Such testimony from such a source must have been highly pleasing to Mr. Robinson and also to his brother, Sir John Beverley Robinson who was at one time chief justice of Canada.

"And we, today can look with pride to the present city of Peterborough named after and in honor of Hon. Peter Robinson."

Car Badly Damaged Yelverton Accident

JANETVILLE, Nov. 22.—Mr. Andrew Heaslip was the victim of a most unfortunate car accident on Wednesday afternoon. While he was proceeding east toward Briban's mill near Yelverton, a playful goat frightened a cow owned by Frank Sheckleton into the path of his car.

As a result the cow received a broken leg and other injuries and the car was badly damaged, two broken headlights, broken radiator, a badly damaged fender, running board, etc.

Andrew most fortunately escaped serious injury, as he lost control of the car in the sudden impact and it shot across the ditch and into a field, breaking off two fence posts.

Robert Argue held a most successful sale of farm stock and implements on Wednesday afternoon at his farm south of the village. Bidding was brisk and prices were good, particularly for the cattle.

Mrs. Orvine McGill is visiting with friends in Toronto and attending the Winter Fair.

Lost Liverwurst, Love

Beware Kidney Germs if Tired, Nervous, Aching

Are you Run Down, Nervous, suffer Aching or Swollen Joints? Do you Get Up Nights, or suffer from Burning Passages, Frequent Headaches, Leg Pains, Backache, Dizziness, Puffy Eyelids, Loss of Appetite and Energy? If so, the true cause often may be germs developed in the body during colds, or by bad teeth or tonsils that need removing. These germs may attack the delicate membranes of your Kidneys or Bladder and often cause much trouble. Ordinary medicines can't help much because they don't fight the germs. The doctor's formula Cystex, now stocked by all druggists, starts fighting Kidney germs in 3 hours and must prove entirely satisfactory in 1 week and be exactly the medicine you need or money back. Ask your druggist for Cystex (Sis-tex) today. The guarantee protects you.

Care Of Babies Part Red Cross Course

As a part of its Home Nursing Course, Red Cross demonstrates bathing and proper care of the baby—maternal instruction and many other subjects of importance to women in the home are taken up in this course. 'Hard-Boiled' Cops Assume Roles As Santa's Helpers

PRESBYTERIAN Y.P. HOSTS AT SUPPER

(Examiner Correspondence.)

KEENE, Nov. 22.—In connection with the tenth anniversary on Wednesday evening, November 10, the Young People's Society of Knox Presbyterian Church, Keene, entertained the members of the congregation to a sumptuous dinner in the basement of the church. Upwards of one hundred persons sat down to prettily decorated tables well laden with a variety of choice vainds. Full justice was done to the repast as the young people flitted from table to table in an efficient attempt to please their guests. After the vigorous appetites of all had been satisfied an impromptu concert was entered upon and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Vocal solos, instrumental numbers, community singing, and an old-fashioned round the piano singsong went to make for an enjoyable evening. Knox Young People are to be congratulated on their efforts—which will probably be repeated at a later date.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hastie and daughten Joan called on friends in the village on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Garvey, Mrs. Allen Hayes and Jerry Hayes were in the village on Tuesday.

The many friends of Miss Alice Lumsden regret to hear she had the misfortune to fall and break her arm on Thursday.

Dr. James Campbell of New York is visiting his sister, Mrs. Robert Nelson.

Mrs. David Moore has returned from a two weeks' visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ab. Frick, of St. Catharines.

The ladies of Knox Presbyterian Church have quilted a number of quilts for the needy in Saskatchewan. Quiltings were held at the homes of Mrs. James Elmhirst and Mrs. Gerald Adamson.

On Tuesday evening the Young People of Lang and community tendered a miscellaneous shower for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Renwick (nee Elsie Copperthwaite). A large crowd attended the shower and dance. During the evening the newly-weds were presented with many useful and beautiful presents. A fitting address was read by Miss Lillian Bowie and Messrs. Harry Elliott, Cecil Findlay, and Odo O'Toole brought in the gifts. Mr. Renwick replied on behalf of his wife, thanking the people in the usual manner. Round and square dancing concluded the evening, music being supplied by the Monaghan Mountaineers.

The charival committee of Lang sponsored by Cecil Findlay, presented Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Renwick with a coffee table and floor lamp.

ROBBINS 'RUN' AGAIN

TORONTO, November 22—(CP)—Mayor Robbins announced to-day he would stand for re-election to office in the Dec. 6 civic elections. Recently he announced he would not be a candidate for election to the Board of Control.

Asked to-day if he was "running" for re-election, he replied.

"Absolutely. No, no—say 'standing'!"

DEAD RECKONING

suffice. Properly prepared, he would be the master of the situation.

He had kept his service revolver—he knew the drawer it was locked in. Suppose he were to threaten Adams with it at that final interview? Adams might think he was bluffing. Very good, then, he would shoot him. Not perhaps to kill, but disabling him sufficiently to get the letter off him.

The consequences, even if he killed Adams, would be serious enough, but not fatal. For there would be ample evidence of Adams' recent insolence to him—Bennett, the servants at The Wilderness. He could say Adams had attacked him while drunk; it would be easy enough to injure himself superficially in such a way as to bear out the story.

Tim saw quite clearly that such a happening would finish him in West Shilston. The breath of suspicion had already blown lightly on him; what would not be said if there was another accident, this time one for which he was admittedly responsible? Adams, if he survived, would almost certainly let out something, and even if the proof were destroyed, Tim's position would be an impossible one.

It might be better to kill Adams, if he could not frighten him into surrender without shooting. But that was unlikely, and once the shot had been fired, it would be the end of his career in the town. Very well then. He would sell his practice and buy another, far away. He was not too old, whatever was said. And it would be good to change, in any case. From now on West Shilston was likely to have nothing for him but unhappy memories.

It will be seen that by this time Tim had reached a pitch of recklessness quite foreign to his former nature. He slept on his new resolution; and in the morning he found that it held. He tackled Adams as he came down to breakfast.

HEAVY FINE LEVIED IN BANCROFT COURT

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BANCROFT, Nov. 22.—Bancroft Police Court was held in the Bancroft Community Hall on Tuesday, November 16, 1937, with Magistrate J. L. Lloyd presiding.

Everett Yeatman of Hershal Township pleaded guilty to four charges under the Game and Fisheries Act, and was assessed $99.25. The court also issued a warning to the defendant that he was liable to a fine of from $100 to $500 for giving a false name. Game Overseer M. J. Inwood and Provincial Constable S. W. Palmateer laid the charges.

Edward Drumm of Matheson, Ontario, pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle without having a permit, and was fined $10 and costs. Provincial Constable S. W. Palmateer of Bancroft prosecuted.

Earl Hannah of Bancroft, Ontario, was sentenced to seven days in the county jail in Belleville for driving a motor car while intoxicated. The charge was laid by Police Constable S. W. Palmateer of Bancroft.

Finds His Deer First Before Buying License

Kitchener, Ont., Nov. 23

LOCAL hunters tell of a Wingham who decided to get himself a deer, so he went to the bush. He came out in 15 minutes greatly excited, and sped to town in his car. In a few minutes he was back with his gun and license.

BOBCAYGEON

Mr. Tom, Ding, well known as a summer visitor to Bobcaygeon, had a very narrow escape near Greenbank yesterday. His car skidded on a curve and turned over. Mr. Ding and his companion were shaken up but uninjured.

They continued to Bobcaygeon and will remain at the 'Stonyhurst Inn' while the car is being repaired.

Mrs. C. H. Pardy, Mrs. T. G. Devlin, Mrs. R. C. Thurston and Mrs. Geo. Bick attended the Women's Institute convention in Toronto as representatives of the Bobcaygeon W.I.

Mr. "Scottie" Alexander of Toronto, is spending a few days with Mr. C. K. Bottum.

Mrs. A. Kellett is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Austin in Haliburton.

Mr. Percy Johnson is home for a short vacataion.

HASTINGS MAN OBSERVES HIS 87TH BIRTHDAY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 22. — William Shea, Hastings grand old man, celebrated his 87th birthday Saturday, November 20 at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McKenty, with whom he has resided for the past twelve years since his coming to Hastings.

Many residents of Peterborough will remember "Bill," as he was better known by. He was a valued motorman of the Peterborough street railways for twenty years previous to his retirement in 1926.

Mr. Shea is in very good health and is able to take frequent walks. When asked what he attributed his longivity to, he replied in firm tones "Hard work and a contented mind." He has two daughters, Mrs. John Moore, Havelock; Mrs. A. J. McKenty, Hastings.

Born in Asphodel township in 1850, the son of Michael Shea and Anne Miles, he attended S.S. No. 6 Asphodel and Norwood High Schools to complete his education. He was employed in P. W. Reynolds store in Norwood and also on Pat Fallon's farm near Norwood till he decided to go into business for himself. He purchased a farm and shortly after married Bridget McCarthy of Norwood. They decided to move to Peterborough but returned to Norwood after a year and purchased a second farm where they lived for twenty-two years.

Mr. Shea, having secured a job as motorman with the street railway sold the farm and he and his wife moved to Peterborough. He recalled a merry ride he had one morning while in charge of a car. The rails had become quite icy and the car started on Park street hill and did not stop till it came to the Clinic. Luckily, no one was in its path as he had no control over it. In the twenty years he was employed by the street railway, he did not once have to be reprimanded by the superintendent.

When questioned whether he had driven oxen or not, he recalled that he had used them on different occasions, at one time for six weeks, drawing stones, while he was clearing a piece of land. He also remembers the old fashioned way they had of threshing. A flail was used to thresh a barn of peas on his farm in his younger days.

Mr. Shea is an early riser, getting up at seven each morning and usually retiring at seven in the evening. Up to the past couple of years, he was a familiar figure on the Hastings bridge as he indulged in his favorite sport of fishing and even in the last two years his trips to the bridge were not infrequent.

Mr. Shea displays a keen sense of humor as he passes many hours with his two grandchildren Neil and Stafford McKenty.

PROTECTION

For the man with young children, heavy responsibilities and an income scarcely sufficient to meet the many demands upon it, an Imperial Life policy will provide the family protection that will mean peace of mind to him as the breadwinner.

It will insure the necessities of life for his loved ones should anything happen to him. It will also provide a cash fund or income for his own retirement years.

Such a policy provides a savings plan that works, yet calls for deposits much smaller, probably, than you think.

"Financial Security through Life Insurance," by Paul Speicher, an international authority, is an interesting book which should be read by everyone who plans to provide financial security for himself and family. Your local Imperial Life representative will make a copy available to you without cost.

HALIFAX GIVES SECRET REPORT ON BERLIN TRIP

Hitler's Key Demand Seen Austrian Deal

LONDON, Nov. 23—(CP-Havas)—Viscount Halifax, Lord President of the Council, was received in audience by the King at Buckingham Palace to-day and reported on his talks with Chancellor Hitler and other German leaders.

Unusual measures were understood to have been taken to maintain the secrecy of Lord Halifax's report. Numbered copies of the report were said to have been printed by the Foreign Office and handed directly to each member of the cabinet to permit them to study it for discussion at to-morrow's cabinet meeting.

Despite precautions, however, some circles professed to know the report included what amounted to a questionnaire from Hitler designed to sound out the British Government on the Reich's desire for a free hand in Austria, her colonial demands, and repudiation of Germany's "war guilt."

Key of Negotiations

According to reliable informants Germany's desire for freedom to work for "anschluss" with Austria will form the key problem in Anglo-German conversations which may follow Lord Halifax's unofficial talks.

(Anschluss, as generally understood, comprises economic, political and social co-operation, practically to the point of unity, but with each country retaining nominal sovereignty.)

Linked with this point is Germany's insistence on the right of autonomy for German minorities in other European countries, particularly Czechoslovakia, according to these informants.

On the colonial question, it was said, Hitler indicated he wanted Germany's pre-war colonies returned at some future time without compensation, but with the understanding that no military or naval bases would be established to threaten British communications.

Informed sources understood Lord Halifax informed the Chancellor he would transmit the proposals to his government.

In respect to the League of Nations, these informants said Germany's return to membership was likely if charges that the Reich was responsible for the Great War are eliminated from the League covenant; if the connection between the covenant and the Treaty of Versailles is definitely abolished; if Article XVI of the covenant (providing sanctions against an aggressor) is completely rewritten, and if the League clauses regarding the treatment of national minorities are revised to Berlin's satisfaction.

Would Act in Accent.

Germany also is ready to propose mediation in the Sino-Japanese conflict in a way which safeguard British interests in China, it was added.

Some of Britain's answers to these proposals were expected to be in accord with German views, with certain reservations. But the greatest difficulties were expected to revolve around the question of a plebiscite in Austria to determine the Anschluss problem.

Differences of opinion appeared likely, since British abstention from supporting Austria would go a long ways towards giving Germany a free hand. Some British cabinet ministers were reported to be convinced that Anschluss is inevitable.

Macaulay Is Named House Leader By Conservatives

80 Candidates Authorize Rowe to Start Shakeup; New Chief's Choice Seen Victory for Old Guard

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—(CP)—Leopold Macaulay, M.L.A. for York South, today took possession of the opposition leader's office at Queen's Park. Mr. Macaulay, selected yesterday by a caucus of the 23 Conservative members elected to the house October 6, succeeds George S. Henry, former premier and party leader, as house leader of the Ontario Conservatives.

Selection of Macaulay, who at 49 is the youngest ex-cabinet minister in the party ranks, was followed by a decision of a caucus of 80 of the 89 party candidates in the election to authorize Hon. Earl Rowe, M.P., party leader, to take steps toward reorganization in Ontario.

Mr. Macaulay, centre last session of the stormiest scene in legislature history when he was bodily ejected by the sergeant-at-arms for defiance of the speaker's ruling he take his seat and keep quiet, was nominated by his predecessor, Mr. Henry, and the seconder was William Black, Addington, the house veteran.

The party authorized Mr. Rowe to recommend to the Ontario Liberal-Conservative Association an early meeting to consider the enlarging of the executive to give representation to occupational groups and the calling of a convention after the annual meeting to canvass party prospects, policy and leadership.

The caucuses yesterday were said by those attending to have been peaceful and hamonious on contrast to the meeting of elected members a few weeks ago. Some interpreted the selection of Mr. Macaulay on the nomiantion of Mr. Henry and Mr. Black as a victory for the old guard.

Mr. Macaulay has represented York South since 1926. He became Provincial Secretary in 1930 and in 1931 Minister of Highways, holding the later portfolio until the defeat of the Henry government in 1934.

Mr. Macaulay dropped from the leadership after the first ballot at the convention which elected Mr. Rowe as leader. He is a vigorous debater and is well-known throughout the province.

Never Asked Henry For Seat.

A post-caucus statement denied Mr. Rowe ever asked Mr. Henry for his seat. The statement was:

Hired Man Named 'Curse' Slayer In Alberta Boy's Murder

Victim's Mother Tells Of Finding Rifle In Accused's Shack

LAMONT, Alta., Nov. 23 (CP) — Testimony Fred Lesowoy pronounced a Ukrainian "curse" against 17-year-old Peter Zacharko marked the inquest yesterday before a coroner's jury named Lesowoy the rifle slayer of the farm youth. Coroner Dr. M. Mallett notified police of the verdict.

Under a charge of being an alien in illegal possession of a firearm, Lesowoy, 35-year-old hired man on the Zacharko farm near Brude rhelm 34 miles northeast of Edmonton, was taken to Edmonton. He was arrested Oct. 31, several hours after the youth was found dead in bed by his mother, Mrs. Andrew Zacharko.

The inquest jury declared its belief the fatal bullet wound in Zacharko's head was "deliberately inflicted" by Lesowoy.

The mother testified Lesowoy took the family's .22 rifle two days before the killing and that she herself found it in the hired man's shack near the farmhouse at about noon of Oct. 31—several hours after the hour in which the jury decided the murder was committed.

Father Jailed Trying To Save Family Death On Road To School

New Albany, Ind., Nov. 23 (AP)

A 48-YEAR-OLD father, "laying out" a $15 fine at the rate of $1 a day in a jail cell here, reiterated today a determination to keep three of his nine children out of school rather than expose them to the dangers of walking along a highway.

"I'll be darned if I'll send them to school until they bring a bus up to our door," Harry Farnsley, a paperhanger, told a jail attendant.

Brought into juvenile court, Farnsley told Judge M. Paris the children were forced to walk one-half mile along a highway near here to a point where a bus from the Mt. Tabor Consolidated school picked them up. He charged automobile and truck traffic was a menace to their lives.

The judge fined Farnsley $5 and costs, or $15, and when the defendant said he would not pay the fine, the judge sent him to jail. Farnsley refused an offer of neighbors to pay the fine.

DISTRESSED AREAS, ENGLAND, WALES COMING INTO LIFE

LONDON, Nov. 23.—(CP Cable)—The distressed areas of England and Wales are stirring into new activity. Unemployment during the past 12 months has dropped 25 per cent. Armament orders to the value of £30,000,000 ($150,187,500) have poured in.

On once desolate sites converted to trading estates 25 factories have been concluded for 50 more. Economic life has been broadened by the introduction of lighter industries. Building schemes have been encouraged. Schemes settling unemployed workers on land have been approved to a maximum of 3,000 families at a cost to the Special Areas Fund estimated at £3,000,000.

200,000 Still Jobless.

Yet the distressed areas still have 200,000 unemployed. Sir George Gillett special areas commissioner, in his annual report issued this afternoon, declares himself a believer in the policy of postponing public works which are not essential until definite signs of a coming slump are apparent, but he adds:

"I regret to say my experience in administering the special areas act leads me to fear that unless that policy is definitely adopted in times of prosperity and all the preparatory work done in advance there will be so much delay in putting public works into operation that no workmen will be employed on them till the slump is well-nigh ended."

Sir George also had some pregnant comments to make in regard to the location of industry.

"The government cannot, in my view, especially since the introduction of tariffs and quotas, evade all responsibility for the location of industry," he said. "In many foreign countries the government is assuming growing control of industrial location. It seems clear that social and strategic, as well as purely economic causes will drive the government of this country also to abandon the laissez faire attitude which has been the prevailing doctrine to a recent date."

Campbell Is Given An Acclamation

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Nov. 23.—(CP)—Hon. Colin Campbell, Ontario minister of public works was given acclamation in a by-election here today. His name was the only one submitted for nomination. More than 5,000 names were on nomination papers.

Forty Nappers Quit, Tying Up 975 At Cottons Ltd.

No Report Received Since Probe After Strike; Same Conditions to Prevail, Says Manager

CORNWALL, Ont., Nov. 23.—(CP)—Two of Canadian Cottons, Ltd., three mills were shut down here today as napping room employees refused to work after what union heads claimed was a delay on the part of the Ontario Industry and Labor Board in adjusting working conditions, hours of labor and wages.

Cotton workers here ended a five-weeks strike early in September on the agreement those matters should be left in the hands of the Labor Board for adjustment. No report has been received from the Board to date.

The mills became tied up today when 40 employes in the napping room shut down their machines and refused to work after their superintendent declined to accede to their demands regarding a new employe in the department.

975 Affected.

Nine hundred and seven-five other employees of the mills were affected by the strike. Operations of the mills were forced to halt because the nappers handle the entire production of the two mills and operate on a 24-hour basis.

R. G. Tolmie, general manager of Canadian Cottons, explained if the napping room were closed down with the rest of the mill, operating, it would be impossible to catch up with production.

The mills would resume operations "when the men return to work under the same conditions," he said.

Percy Laurin, Cornwall local president of the Cotton Workers' Union, maintained there was no strike, and said a general meeting of workers would be held to-night to consider the situation.

OTTAWA NOT AIDING IN FIGHT ON REDS DUPLESSIS CLAIMS

MONTREAL, Nov. 23.—(CP)—Premier Maurice Duplessis, vigorous foe of Communism, claims the federal government is not giving him the help he wants in his fight against red activities in Quebec province.

The Union Nationale premier, swinging his new "padlock" lately as a club against communism, asserts his requests for "collaboration and co-operation" have not been met by the federal government. "I do not understand the reason for this hesitancy," he said yesterday.

But, whatever action Ottawa takes Duplessis said, his government will go on fighting "with energy" against communists. A start has been made in putting the padlock law to work.

The enactment, passed at the last session of the legislature this year, empowers the government to padlock places where Communistic propaganda is printed or distributed. As attorney-general, the premier administers the law.

Duplessis, to whom Communism is "public enemy No. 1," claims the legislation strikes at its "very base." It will, he thinks, choke off propaganda.

The First Test.

Eight months after its passage the law was used for the first time a fortnight ago. Raiders of the Attorney-General's Department descended on a half-dozen Montreal establishments. Literature was carted off by the truckload, and padlocks clicked on doors.

The French weekly Clarte (Light) was closed up, with a lock on the door of its office and another outside the shop that printed it. The rooming-house home of Jean Peron, its editor, likewise was padlocked.

The next issue of Clarte appeared

Arguing Cashier Saves Theatre Its Cash

Girl Stalls Hold-Up Man While She Presses Alarm—Manager Makes Capture

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 23.—(CP)—Benjamin Williams, London, was in custody here to-day charged with an attempt to commit an indictable offence after an attempted hold-up of the Grand Theatre.

Williams, 37-year-old crockery salesman, was captured by patrons and the theatre manager, James McDonagh summoned by Pauline Saunders, young ticket seller at the theatre who argued with him while she pressed an alarm buzzer to bring help.

Police said Williams approached the box office window in front of the downtown theatre just before the first show was completed. A few persons were on the street.

"Give me a ticket and the bills you have there as well," Williams allegedly demanded.

Miss Saunders asked him to repeat his request twice and the third time he was alleged to have demanded the money impatiently. During the conversation the ticket seller was pushing a buzzer and McDonagh and several patrons rushed out and captured Williams.

The hold-up man did not have a revolver when searched but police said a pair of scissors was found in his coat pocket. Amount of money in the box office at the time of the attempted robbery was not known.

Earlier in the day the theatre had

Mrs. Hardy Spikes All Rumors Senator To Be Governor

Report 10 Years Old But Still Amusing Him Says Brockville Veteran

TORONTO, Nov. 23 (C.P.). — Senator A. D. Hardy of Brockville will not be Ontario's next Lieutenant-Governor — take Mrs. Hardy's word for it.

Prominently mentioned as a possible successor to Lieutenant-Governor Herbert A. Bruce, whose resignation has been delivered to Ottawa, Senator Hardy last night attended a dinner at Government House and later went to the Royal Winter Fair.

"The rumor that I will be the next Lieutenant-Governor has been in circulation for the last 10 years," he told reporters. "This time I am just sitting on the sidelines—and getting a bit of amusement out of it, too."

"You haven't denied that you may be the next Lieutenant-Governor," it was suggested.

"Oh, I will do that," interjected the Senator's wife. "My husband will not be the next Governor."

TORIES PREPARED TO AID IN CHANGES, SUCCESSION DUTY

TORONTO, November 23—(CP)—Conservatives in the Ontario Legislature will facilitate passage of amendments to the Succession Duty Act in the special session of the House opening December 1, if they are in the best interest of the province, Leopold Macaulay said last night after his election as House Leader at a Conservative party caucus.

"We are not going to embarass the Government with undue opposition on this matter if we feel that the money is justly owing and should be paid," he said. "The legislation will be examined and passed upon with the best interests of the province at heart."

Proposed succession duty legislation would strengthen authority of the province to investigate the financial background of various estates.

Duke Settles Suit For $50.000

LONDON, Nov. 23 (C.P.). — The Dail Mail to-day said it understood settlement of the Duke of Windsor's suit against the author and publishers of "Coronation Commentary" involved a sum "in the neighborhood of £10.000" ($50.000).

Counsel for William Heinemann, Ltd., publishers, and Geoffrey Dennis, author, announced in court yesterday the case had been settled privately for a "substantial sum." The defendants tendered an apology and admitted statements in the book dealing with the Duke's life and reign as King Edward VIII., were unjustified.

Lord Chief Justice Hewart, who tried the case, suggested the libels invited a "thoroughly efficient horse-whipping." The Duke's representatives said the money would be turned over to charity.

LOSING SIGHT WAR OFFICER SLAYS SISTER

Misses Her Husband Then Ends Own Life

LONDON, Nov. 23 (A.P.). — A former Army officer, maddened by the gathering darkness of blindness, shot his sleeping sister dead with bullets through her "beautiful eyes" to-day, then ended his own life by slashing his throat with a razor.

Dr. John Horace Dancy, husband of the victim of the shooting, Dr. Naomi Dancy, 49-year-old baby specialist, rushed to the bedroom scene of the tragedy and barely missed bullets fired from a pistol in the hands of Maurice Tribe, 43, the invalid former officer in the Great War. He lost an eye while fighting in France.

The husband's 70-year-old mother, also a physician, said Tribe, embittered by failing sight in his one good eye, shouted at his sister: "You've got beautiful eyes," then slew her.

Dr. Naomi Dancy had dressed her brother's injured knee and had lain down for a nap when he entered her room.

Looking at her strangely, he told her:

"Naomi, you have beautiful eyes."

She had retired and fallen asleep in her own room a short time later when Dancy heard a shot and dashed upstairs. There, he said, Tribe, pistol in hand, told him:

"I have just shot your wife. Now I will shoot you."

A few minutes later Tribe was found seated before a mirror on the bathroom floor, the pistol in one hand and an open razor in the other. He was dying from throat wounds.

OLD GUARD MOURNS HAYCOCK'S DEATH

NAPANEE, Ont., Nov. 23.—(CP).—The "old guard" of Ontario politicians to-day mourned the death of Joseph L. Haycock, 87, leader of the first group outside the two major parties ever to sit in the Provincial Legislature.

Mr. Haycock, who died yesterday at the home of his son, Joseph L. Haycock, Jr., was elected to the Legislature in 1894 as leader of the "Patrons of Industry"—regarded as the pioneer of third parties in Canada.

Elected House leader of the group of 14 representing the "Patrons of Industry" he sat in the Legislature until his defeat in the next election. Then the new party disintegrated.

Later a Liberal, he spoke for 80 minutes at one of the election meetings in supoprt of Hon. Colin Campbell, Ontario Minister of Public Works, in the 1935 Dominion election when Mr. Campbell was victorious in Frontenac-Addington. Mr. Campbell resigned his seat to take part in the October 6 Ontario election.

While a Legislature member, Mr. Haycock had moved for abolition of Government House, official residence of the Lieutenant-Governor, but the motion was defeated.

Mr. Haycock was born in Ernestown township, Lennox county, in 1850. He attended school in Newburgh and later became a market gardener who raised onions of high quality.

He was married in 1877 to Marion Grange of Napanee, who predeceased him five years ago. Three sons and two daughters survive.

Plan New Clinics To Study Cancer

PORT ERIE, Ont., Nov. 23 (C.P.), —The Ontario Government plans to create new clinics for study of efforts to cure cancer and additional sums also will be spent in present fight against tuberculosis, Hon. H. J. Kirby, Ontario Minister of Health, announced here to-day. Mr. Kirby and Hon. N. O. Hipel, Speaker of the Legislature, were here attending a civic reception last night for Hon. William L. Houck, Liberal member of Legislature for Niagara Falls, and Minister with out portfolio in Ontario Cabinet.

Mr. Kirby said his department was hopeful its program to fight cancer will awaken people to necessity of attending clinics to be opened at various centres at the first indication of the deadly disease.

Morgan Unselfish At Art Sales

London, Nov. 23 (AP)

A NEW story about J. P. Morgan, the banker, is related by Sir Robert Witt, Chairman of a group raising funds for the British National Art Collections Fund.

The American banker, said Sir Robert, wanted a certain art treasure at an auction until he heard the fund wanted it for the British Empire.

Morgan, said Sir Robert, withdrew his bid and then made a substantial contribution to the fund, which was organized to "save England's art treasures from being shipped to the United States."

United States Canada's Best Customer First Seven Months Of Year

Ottawa, Nov. 23 (CP)

THE United States was Canada's best customer in the first seven months of the 1937-38 fiscal year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today. The United Kingdom was second and Australia third.

The world bought $670,220,000 worth of goods from this country, 12.3 per cent more than in the corresponding period of the previous year. The United States took $291,569,000 worth, an increase of 22.4 per cent. The United Kingdom's purchases, $237,576,000, were .7 per cent higher and those of Australia, amounting to $18,554,700, were 26.7 higher.

In fourth place was Japan whose purchases of $15,600,299 were 34.3 per cent above the previous period. Exports to Belgium, in fifth place, were worth $10,324,122, a decline of 21.2 per cent.

Cabinet Meets Today Likely To Bring Action On Governor

Resignation Written November 16 by Dr. Bruce; Asks He Be Freed Not Later Than December 1

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—(CP)—Cabinet meetings in Ottawa and Toronto were expected today to bring some definite announcement regarding the lieutenant-governorship of Ontario following issuance of Hon. Dr. Herbert A. Bruce's letter of resignation, sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King November 16.

The political future of Duncan Marshall, former Ontario minister of agriculture and prominent in politics for nearly 20 years, also was expected to be known after the governmental sessions. Political circles have heard reports Mr. Marshall would succeed Dr. Bruce or would be appointed to the Senate.

Neither the premier nor Mr. Marshall, defeated in Peel in the October 6 provincial election, had anything to say yesterday after a meeting between the two in Mr. Hepburn's office. It was understood the former agricultural minister was advised by Premier Hepburn concerning the situation.

Dr. Bruce's letter to Prime Minister King, made public last night, asked that his resignation take effect not later than December 1. Appointed to office October 25, 1932, the lieutenant-governor's term expired last October 25. In the letter, Dr. Bruce thanked the prime minister for "suggesting an extension of my term."

The premier, the letter said, informed Dr. Bruce October 19 that "his cabinet had decided to close Government House almost immediately." In the interview, the lieutenant-governor mentioned several "important and necessary" duties which "I felt it incumbent upon to undertake." These matters, he said, will be concluded by November 26.

unfair impression that went abroad after the previous caucus concerning the attitude of Hon. George S. Henry to the effect that Mr. Rowe refused to take any seat except that of Mr. Henry. Mr. Rowe did not at any time ask Mr. Henry to resign in his favor.

"Hon. Mr. Rowe expressed appreciation of the co-operation of Mr. Henry at all times, and particularly of his loyal support to himself as leader of the party.

"The caucus passed a resolution expressing gratitude to Mr. Henry for his services to the Province of Ontario through his long and honorable career as member of the Legislature, Minister of Agriculture, Minister of Highways and Public Works, Premier and Minister of Education in various governments."

GHANDI CONDOLES

UNBIASED NEWS MAIN FEATURE TODAY'S PAPER

Co-operative Service Credit Canadian Press

OTTAWA, Nov. 23 (C.P.)—Lieut.-Col. R. F. Parkinson, managing director of the Journal Dailies, last night described before the Junior Board of Trade changes in newspaper reports from fervid political partisanship of 25 years ago to present-day unbiased presentation.

He said the change was due largely to the co-operative news-gathering services of The Canadian Press, whose reports of political speeches were impartial, uncolored, fair and accepted by all papers regardless of their own political leanings.

Col. Parkinson said the function of a newspaper editorial was not to promote the fortunes of some particular political party nor act as crusader for every cause. It might give allegiance to the principles and policies of a party, but that did not mean it must consistently support acts of a certain political organization.

"There is a great difference between a political party's principles and policies and the acts of particular individuals who may be in charge of its conduct," he said.

An editorial, he added, was not simply the opinion of an individual and its views were shaped by a consciousness of the newspaper's public responsibility and by its history and traditions. The editorial writer did not follow his private opinions, but wrote with a consciousness of trust and of the paper's obligations to the public.

"That is why editorials are and should be anonymous," he said. "In other words, it is the tradition of the newspaper that counts, its record and its personality."

swore he heard Lesowoy pronounce a Ukrainian "curse" against Peter in the midst of a carefree rural wedding party before the slaying.

Hunka said he paused to speak briefly to Lesowoy and remarked to him that Peter "seems very happy playing the guitar over there" in the wedding fete dance orchestra. He testified Lesowoy then said to him in Ukrainian: "Sudden end will strike him today. I'll fix him."

FLEETWOOD

The Women's Association of Fleetwood United Church held a jolly pot luck dinner at the church on Thursday evening, November 18th with a large crowd in attendance. The members and friends of the society brought well-filled baskets of whatever choice of edible took their fancy or convenience and when all was assembled on the daintily arranged tables in the centre of the church, a most pleasing and appetizing variety was the result. When all had done justice to the bounteous supper, the tables and seats were removed to the sides of the building and the ladies prepared to pack a bale of useful articles which had been donated by sympathetic friends of the community for the drought stricken area in the West. A very useful and valuable bale was completed from the various splendid donations in a short period of time as all joined heartily in the worth while work.

The Young People's Union of the church had agreed to present the program for the occasion in lieu of holding their regular meeting for the week. Mr. Clairmont Morgan, teacher of Fleetwood School and president of the Y.P.S. capably acted in the capacity of chairman for a splendid program.

Community singing was heartily joined in by all present as an initial number. Rev. C. H. Ferguson, pastor of the church sang a delightful solo. Lorraine Davidson contributed a splendid reading. The pupils of the school who take a keen interest in music under the leadership of their teacher presented several well-chosen numbers which were particularly well-received.

Arrangements are under way for the young people of Mount Horeb United Church to present their play under the sponsorship of the Fleetwood Union at an early date in December.

The Women's Association and Young People's Union were highly pleased with the results of their efforts for the evening in every way. Besides an enjoyable social evening, the financial results reached almost twelve dollars as a result of small supper charge as well as the valuable bale prepared.

DEER CRASHES DEAR

KANE, Pa., Nov. 23.—(AP)—E. I. Sprague says deer cost him dear. Twice in a week he has collided with deer while driving his car near this Allegheny Mountain community.

In each case, the deer was killed—but the front of his car was caved in.

Involved In Fight

No further exhibits of James Franceschini, ABOVE, prominent Toronto horseman-contractor, will be shown at the Royal Winter Fair, it is reported, until the executive committee of the fair can decide on action following an alleged altercation between Franceschini and Ring Judge Charles J. Barrie. The reported fist fight is said to have taken place in the hitching ring and was supposedly over a prize award.

LEADING SHANGHAI PAPERS SUSPENDED AS JAPS TAKE OVER

SHANGHAI, Nov. 23 (CP-Havas).—The Domei (Japanese) News Agency announced today control of the Chinese Maritime Customs at Shanghai had passed into the hands of Japan, with the appointment of a Japanese Customs official to take charge of the Shanghai office.

Sir Frederick Maze, Inspector-General of Chinese Customs, announced the appointment of Yoshisuke Akatani as administrative commissioner of Customs for Shanghai, Domei said.

Meanwhile, acting under Japanese pressure, the Shanghai Municipal Council asked four leading Chinese papers to suspend publication. They included Finance Minister H. H. Kung's China Times and the Kuomintang organ, The Min Pao.

Central News Agency, an official Chinese government organization, announced suspension of its service, effective from tomorrow.

The Japanese have announced their intention of assuming all China's sovereign rights in the Shanghai area, and from all indications the foreign authorities of the settlement expected to bow before armed necessity.

Province To Probe Single Jobless

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—(CP)— Investigation into the problem of single unemployed is to be made by the province, Toronto board of control was told today by E. A. Horton, deputy minister of welfare.

The announcement was made in a notification to municipal clerks and relief officers, cancelling a previous notification by the department that the province would contribute toward cost of relief of single unemployed men.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

A selling flurry that put stop-loss orders on the market sent wheat futures down three cents on Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. Then operations turned dull and partial recoveries were posted with final quotations 2¼ to 2⅝ cents lower, November, $1.13¾; December, $1.10¾; May, $1.08⅞; and July $1.04⅞ to $1.06.

Sales based on weakness in stocks came principally from southern and local commission houses with futures touching bottom levels in the first hours.

Though stock prices firmed after an uneasy opening, grain dealings became quiet. A few resting orders uncovered lifted prices from the low points.

Export demand for Canadian wheat continued on a light scale with sales overnight estimated below 250,000 bushels. It is believed persistent irregularity of stocks and other commodity prices has induced importers to hesitate in making new purchases.

Yesterday's Quotations.

100 STUDENTS GO ON STRIKE OKA COLLEGE

Protest Expulsion Of Two as "Example"

OKA, Que., Nov. 23 (CP).—Leaders of a student protest strike at Oka Agricultural Institute claimed last night they had tied up courses in the old institution operated by the Trappist Monks, while the director, Father Leopold, said studies were continuing as usual.

In protest against the "unjustified" expulsion of Jean Paul Lettre, president of the Student Faculty, and Paul Emile Roy, leader of third-year students, more than 100 students remained away from lectures yesterday. Lettre and Roy were dismissed, the director said, for "insubordination and disrespect of authority" in public addresses. They were dismissed "to set an example."

Commenting upon the walkout, Premier Maurice Duplessis said in Montreal: "If students go on strike it is because they don't want to be educated."

A statement by the students' committee said after a parade Saturday night "and realizing we had no hope of winning our point, we decided to leave the faculty until our rights are vindicated."

Lettre and Roy, the statement said, simply sought to rectify an "unjust" reference by the director to the intermediate students.

The student statement, however added the strikers wished in no way to cause prejudice to the community "of which they recognize the real merit or to the direction of the Institute."

Father Leopold did not disclose what action Institute officials planned. "We are awaiting developments," he said.

P.E. County Barn Is Burned

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 23—(CP). — Rapidly spreading through a straw-littered stable after a lantern was upset, flames last night destroyed a barn owned by Earl Purtelle, at Doxsee's Corners, Prince Edward County. Three head of cattle, hay, grain, straw and tractor were also lost in the blaze. Clifford Purtelle, son of the owner, was knocked unconscious by a cow he was trying to rescue, and was saved by his father. The barn was insured.

HAD THREE WIVES, GETS 12 MONTHS

HAMILTON, Nov. 23.—(CP). — Parliament thinks this offence sufficiently bad to warrant a maximum sentence of seven years in the penitentiary," said Magistrate H. A. Burbridge to-day when he sentenced William F. Moore of Hamilton to the Ontario Reformatory for 12 months definite and six indeterminate on a bigamy charge. Moore pleaded guilty.

Detective Howard Moreau testified that in August, 1926, Moore married Mildred Helen Brochbank in Toronto and lived with her until 1932. At that time he said Moore and a common-law wife took up residence in Hamilton. On Oct. 31 a child was born to this woman, and two days later Moore was in Ottawa, where he had earlier married Germaine Quesnel.

Miss Quesnel saw the accused only when his trips as a truck driver took him to Ottawa, the detective said and the girl eventually came here to investigate Moore's marital status. The charges followed.

6 SPIES NABBED FRENCH BORDER

STRASSBOURG, France, Nov. 23 (U.P.). — Six supposed spies, led by a German, were arrested last night near France's famous $400,000,000 Maginot line of frontier defences as Minister of War Edouard Daladier watched a military review near by.

The six, seized near the Alsatian Franco-German border, were placed in the Besancon Military Prison. The leader was identified by the name of Dengler, a German.

While the prisoners were being escorted from Mulhouse to the military prison, Daladier, accompanied by Chief of the General Staff Marie Gustave Gamelin, presided at a ceremony here commemorating the nineteenth anniversary of the entry of French troops into Strassbourg after the Great War.

19 Are Drowned In Jamaica Torrent

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 23. — (CP Cable).—Nineteen persons were drowned as raging flood torrents swept through the Montego Bay district on the north side of this British West Indies island, said reports reaching Kingston today.

Rain still fell in the district, where several small houses have been washed away. The ground floors of stores and business establishments flooded, the meagre reports said. Montego Bay is virtually isolated from the rest of the colony.

Wilkins Sets Up Base For Arctic Search

Will Seek Russians From Aklavik During Full Moon Of Mid-December

AKLAVIK, N.W.T., Nov. 23 (CP)—The Sir Hubert Wilkins search expedition was established today at its Arctic base in this settlement on the Mackenzie River delta after a 1,040-mile flight yesterday from Fort Resolution, N.W.T.

Air Commodore Herbert Hollick-Kenyon of Toronto, the expedition's chief pilot, landed the big Soviet-owned monoplane to set the stage for further flights over the polar wilderness in search of six missing Russian fliers.

Before resuming search flights over the Arctic toward the north during the moonlight period of mid-December, the party will concentrate on completing arrangements for the flight.

Sir Hubert said locating a suitable spot on the mainland Arctic coast or on Banks' Island for a proposed radio station, establishing emergency bases along the coast and amassing necessary data will keep the party busy until the approach of the full moon allows a flight.

W. R. Wilson of Toronto, radio engineer, and Al Cheesman of Port Arthur, reserve pilot, will be stationed at the wireless station while Sir Hubert, Hollick-Kenyon and Alan Dyne of Winnipeg, air engineer, will scour the Arctic for Sigismund Levanetfsky and his five companions lost since Aug. 13 on a transpolar flight from Moscow to the United States.

Skipper Dies As Boat He Captained Sails Past His Home To Scrap Yard

Cornwall, Nov. 23.

CAPTAIN Alexander Anderson, skipper of Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River vessels for more than 60 years, died here late today, aged 88. He suffered a paralytic stroke last Wednesday, from which he never rallied.

Captain Anderson and one of the vessels he captained ended their long careers almost simultaneously. As he lay dying in his home west of the city, the 72-year-old steamer Britannic passed up Cornwall canal on her way to the scrap yard at Kingston.

Born within view of the tumbling waters of the Longue Sault Rapids, a few miles west of Cornwall, June 6, 1849, Captain Anderson began his career as a boy of 11 years. In those days boats of all sizes were towed up Cornwall canal, and Captain Anderson drove his father's horses along the towpath for the schooner Star of Hope, of Detroit.

Obtaining his master's papers in 1874 Captain Anderson took command of the George Manley, in the Great Lakes timber trade. Later he captained the Britannic, plying in the passenger and freight trade between

Ontario Farmer Handicapped By Entire Lack Of Credit

Three Types Of Loans Outlined To U.F.O. To Put Agriculture On Its Feet

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—(CP).—An "entire lack" of satisfactory credit is Ontario agriculture's greatest handicap, W. G. Nicholson told the United Farmers of Ontario convention here to-day in his presidential address. He said there existed no source of credit "at rates commensurate with the earning power of the farmer."

Three types of credit were sorely needed—short term loans covering the crop season, intermediate loans of from one to two years for the purchase of machinery and equipment and long-term mortgage loans.

While the setting up of credit machinery through co-operative credit associations by the farmers themselves was the "ideal" method to remedy this situation, this took study and experience and in the meantime Mr. Nicholson declared it was the duty of the Dominion government to provide adequate loan service at reasonable cost. This service could be taken over gradually as a co-operative enterprise.

Others See Wisdom.

In other countries credit was being provided farmers at low cost and as these countries are competitors of Canada in world markets, "the Canadian farmer is at a disadvantage before he puts his product on the market."

Mr. Nicholson also urged that Dominion loans be provided recently-organized co-operative associations which have found tough financial sledding during depression years. Such loans would help them over a difficult period until they could build up reserves.

"I am not suggesting that the Federal Government should take at paternalistic attitude in regard to the provision of credit, but in the absence of any adequate form of credit, they should at least forsake their laissez-faire attitude in this regard and come to the assistance of the basic industry of this country in a way that would at least put us on a par with our competitors on the world market," he said.

Membership Holds Own.

In the year past, while paid-up membership in the U.F.O. had "just held its own," moral and business support of Ontario farmers had steadily increased and the co-operative company operated by the U.F.O. showed an improved volume of business.

Mr. Nicholson announced the Rural Co-operator, news organ of the U.F.O., was flourishing and a demand for the extension of discussion groups might result in its publication more frequently than once a month.

General outlook of the Ontario farmer was probably better than it had been since the late '20's. Crops in most sections had been satisfactory and although prices of farm products had been generally higher this was offset by increased cost of things the farmer must buy.

During the autumn "a technique of co-operative education which is entirely new in Ontario" was launched, based on a document known as the charter of economic action, issued at the last convention. Bruce-Huron was chosen as the area in which to launch the program of study and discussion and in the past eight weeks it has been conducted by Harvey MacDougall.

Economy of Abundance.

The purpose of the study of co-operative methods and principles was "the re-establishment of democracy." The profit system, based on the economy of scarcity, was to be replaced by co-operation on the economy of abundance; "an economy under which we can distribute that abundance."

"I believe this generation has a great responsibility," Mr. Nicholson told the convention. "If we let the present profit system pursue its course, we will revert back to an economy of scarcity. Still greater wealth will come into control of a few people. The inevitable result will be the rise of Fascism in Canada.

"Surely this would be contrary to the will of the great majority of Canadians. Then I believe there is at least one way out—the co-operative way. The co-operative economy is equal to the task."

Mr. Nicholson said from 1931 to 1936 the consumers' movement in the United States had multiplied five times. In Nova Scotia 400 study groups had been organized in the past year, bringing the total to 1,400 now functioning.

Plan For Tomorrow.

Secretary-Treasurer H. H. Hannam reported on the publication of a booklet, "Co-operation, the Plan for Tomorrow Which Works Today," presenting the history and principles of the consumer co-operatives. He believed it had found a place in the Canadian movement, the first issue of 3,000 copies being almost sold out. A thousand copies went to St. Francis Xavier University in Nova Scotia, while British Guiana received 100 of them.

Reviewing finances of the U.F.O. Company, Mr. Hannam said it now has assets of almost $1,000,000, capital investment of $642,000, business turnover in the past year of more than $10,000,000, with net surplus of $77,000. Gross earnings amounted to $118,000.

Two directors of the company, Harold Currie, president, and R. J. Ecott, vice-president, had been elected to the directorate of the National Co-operatives, through which the U.F.O. is linked with the United States movement. This connection had enabled the company to distribute the "Co-op tractor," and will lead to handling of other co-operative commodities, including "Co-op motor oil."

Mr. Hannam referred to organization of the Ontario Chamber of Agriculture in 1926 and its becoming active this year. The U.F.O. was a member of the new body which he said "is beginning to assume an important place in the field, particularly of "agricultural policy" in Ontario.

Finds Twin Calves Hard To Believe

FOREST, Ont., Nov. 23 (C.P.).—One farmer had twins and couldn't believe it. Thomas McPhedran, railway section foreman, saw a calf lying in the field. He reported it to a nearby farmer. Next day a calf was still there. He told the farmer again but he insisted he had the calf in his barn. Then the farmer learned he had twin calves.

SCHOOL CONCERT ENJOYABLE EVENT

(Examiner Correspondence.)

NORWOOD, Nov. 23.—On Thursday evening the Norwood Hall was filled with interested parents and friends of the pupils of the Norwood Public school who presented a splendid program, showing that Mr. Nelson and his staff had spent a great deal of time on preparation and the making of suitable costumes. The chairman for the evening was Mr. J. Marks, chairman of the Board of Education.

The program consisted of choruses by the different rooms; action songs by the juniors, "My Pony and Bossy Cow, and Jenny Wren; recitations by Frank Baldock, Langan Gardner, Eleanor Carleton, Ken Bailey, Donald Shore, Dorothy Pakenham, Ethel Gill, Doris Leeper and Mortimer Fennell; and the following playlets, "Bo-Peep Lost Her Sheep," "The Little Housekeepers," "The Truth-telling Machine" and "Visiting the Sick Room." Room four presented a pretty folk dance by the girls and a darky drill by the boys.

During the program the I.O.D.E. Society presented prizes to the pupils of each room who were the winners of various contests that were previously arranged.

Mr. Nelson outlined the new courses of study and thanked all who had helped to make the concert so successful.

SHORTER HOURS HASTINGS PLANT

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 22.—Effective immediately, the Breithaupt Leather Company's local plant will go on a forty hour week in place of forty-eight hours. The employees will work eight hours per day for five days and will have Saturdays off. L. F. Daly, plant manager, stated the cause of this, was a poor market and if the condition grew worse they would be forced to close down until the market improved. In his opinion, however, the condition will improve. The present plan of shorter hours will be in effect indefinitely. About seventy men are employed at present.

Boy, 14, Is Held On Armed Robbery

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—A 14-year-old boy who, the police charged, was the driver of the car used by four youthful robbers Saturday night after holding up a cigar store was taken from his bed Monday and charged with armed robbery.

He was the sixth arrested in thirty-six hours on similar charges. Sergeant of Detectives John Hicks, with Detective-Sergeant Norman Tinsley, grabbed the youth's trousers from the foot of the bed. In one pocket was found a $5 bill, which the detectives said was the boy's share of the $30 loot stolen from Maurice Charney, proprietor of a cigar store. He appeared in County Court last week on a charge reduced to taking a car without permission.

JAP NAVY PLANES POUND KEY POINT CHINESE DEFENCE

SHANGHAI, Nov. 23 (AP).—Japanese navy planes today attacked Wusih, key point in Chinese defence lines half way between Shanghai and Nanking.

Although Chinese troops previously were reported in flight from crumbling Wusih defences, Japanese officers said Chinese still held the city, some 96 miles southeast of the capital. Japanese seemed confident their troops could reach Nanking this week.

At mid-day, Japanese said their forces still were five miles east of Wusih. Roads to the front were almost impassable because of continued heavy rains, so Japanese used airplanes to transport food and supplies to troops in the Wusih sector.

Japanese planes ranged far to the west in bombing forays. They were said to have destroyed 20 Chinese planes stationed at Chowkiakow in Honan province.

Dr. H. H. Kung, Chinese finance minister, declared that China is prepared financially to see the war through.

(At Moscow, The Tass (official Soviet) news agency said the Soviet government had protested to Japan against statements of Baron Sadao Araki, former minister of war and member of Japan's high advisory council. The protest was described as terming Araki's statements a "direct appeal for war against the U.S.S.R." In an interview Oct. 25 Araki said "It probably is necessary to strike directly at Russia" to eliminate Communism in the Far East.)

PENSIONER BEATEN UP

TORONTO, November 23—(CP)—Thomas Tinsdall, 75-year old-age pensioner, in hospital with a dislocated jaw and head and face cuts, suffered when he resisted two men who pushed their way into his boarding house here Saturday. Tinsdal's trunk contents were searched by the intruders but nothing was taken, Mrs. T. Fine, his landlady, said to-day.

Mrs. Fine also said that her two children, Sylvia, four, and Marvin, five, were threatened by the two men because they began to cry when Tinsdall was slugged.

Just A Silly Idea

The suggestion made by Representative Virginia E. Jenckes of Indiana that Washington's famous Japanese Cherry trees should be uprooted and sold for firewood will strike most folk as about the limit in ridiculous ideas. A lot of Americans undoubtedly feel that Japan's actions in China merit rebuke but they are level-headed enough to realize that the proposal voiced by the woman representative is not practicable but merely silly—the kind of thing that makes the world laugh.

She might just as well have suggested that American dance bands be forbidden to revive the old favorite "Japanese Sandman" because of its title or that the Metropolitan Opera Company be prohibited from staging "Madame Butterfly" because of its Japanese setting. Neither of those things would be any more laughable than the recommendation that, because of Japan's invasion of China, and because, as she says, Japan purchased military secrets from an American navy officer, a row of beautiful trees should be destroyed.

When proposals of that nature are seriously advanced by folk who have managed to get themselves elected to positions of honor and responsibility there is reason to doubt sometimes whether judgment of democracy is to be trusted, if it lends itself to the election of such candidates.

Why Rush Into Court?

It does not require a great deal to touch our courts into action. A traffic officer charged a London, Ont., company in county traffic court with moving a house along the highway without a permit.

A permit was presented in court covering the dates November 2 to 5, but the claim was that the house was moved on November 9 and 10 from the city limits of London to the Base Line Road, which is not a very great distance as mileage goes.

We know very little about moving a house. At various times curiosity has prompted a stoppage of walking or moving about to stand and see the ingenious methods employed. We have seen fairly large houses moved with such little confusion that the people continued living in them while the moving progressed. But it is quite within belief that one might be out a day or so in the time given for being ready to start. It is not exactly the same as shifting the corn crib or moving the hen house a bit farther away from the granary door. And if all things were not ready on the fifth of the month then apparently they were on the ninth. The company which was moving the house was just as reliable and respectable on the ninth as it was on the fifth and the highway itself was possibly in exactly the same position and condition on each or either of the datest mentioned.

If officialdom felt that something was being done which should not be done then a telephone call would probably have set the whole thing right. It is quite possible the company might have been up to its neck in preparations and started the moving at the first possible hour. There appears to be such haste in having people brought to court over matters which are not serious enough, and bringing matters to court generally means a fine or costs and sometimes both.

Poverty And Crime

Miss E. C. Castendyck, Director of Juvenile Delinquency of the Federal Child Bureau in Washington, said Juvenile delinquency did not increase during the depression, although it is generally believed that poverty in the home is mainly responsible for the misdeeds of young people.

We believe it would take a good deal of proving to show that honest poverty in the home had much to do with the young folk in that home going wrong. If that were the case then we can think of one village in Ontario where on the south side of the railway tracks nearly every boy and girl should have entered the criminal class. If those homes were being inspected and standardized today most of them would have been put on relief. But no criminals came from those homes.

The poverty which was there was a known fact and the battle for existence in such homes was not something which was engaged in by only the father or the elder brother and the mother. It is a fact that poverty bound them together in resistance because every member of the family was being attacked. It was from that section of the village that people looked for boys to fill wood boxes, hold horses, clean walks in winter and deliver parcels and run errands in general. And the earnings even if they were small went into the family struggle for existence and a better chance. The meaning of thrift was learned early there. It was found too that the boys and girls from those homes were pressing always toward the top of their classes in school. They knew from the start they had no backing; they knew the time would come soon enough when they would have to go out and make their way in the world and it was against that time they were making preparation. Students today may contend that poverty in the home is the cause of crime, but that is merely scraping the surface in the hunt for reasons. And what's more we can't believe it. There is no association between honest poverty and crime.

Poor Old Bruin

Bears in the Marmora district threaten to chase the Sault Ste. Marie Wolves off the front page. At all events the bruins in that part of Ontario have managed to get themselves an unusual amount of publicity in recent weeks and the latest discovery that these big animals have been making a nuisance of themselves by eating deer that hunters had hung up and also by playing cannibal and devouring the carcasses of dead bear hung up in the same way will undoubtedly create a lot of interest.

Ontario's black bears have enjoyed a fairly good reputation up to now; it was generally believed of them that they existed largely upon nuts and berries and the fish they managed to scoop out of the creeks and rivers in the summer months and that in the winter they took themselves off to their dens and there peacefully passed the cold weather in slumber.

The appetite displayed by these Marmora bruins for fresh meat and the preference they have shown for the spoils of the chase put a different complexion on the affair and now we find a demand from hunters that the Government should clap bears into the same class as wolves and provide a bounty to encourage their destruction.

High Class Material

Radio set owners who have made the experiment of tearing themselves away from United States programs for a while and listening to the fare that is being provided by the Canadian Radio Corporation have discovered that there has been a noticeable improvement in recent months and that many of the Canadian programs will stand up well under comparison with similar offerings originating elsewhere.

The special program given each Sunday night and called "Within These Walls" is one that has been very favorably received. It deals with episodes in Canada's history, based on historic old buildings that have been preserved and each episode, presented in dramatic form by a capable cast of radio actors, is introduced by a narrator who speaks from the building that is being featured. The result is that Canadians who listen in get a good deal of interesting information about their own country and its history, prepared in a manner that is entertaining and appealing. Incidentally we believe that an orchid should be reserved for the writer of the preliminary continuity for the word picture given as an introduction each Sunday night; it is perhaps the finest feature of this unusual program. And while we are on this subject of radio entertainment the half-hour of familiar music that emanates from Toronto is equal to the best that is on the air.

Let Us Accept The Loss

There was a letter in the mail from S. Hayakawa, and looking at the top of the paper on which it was written we found the gentleman is vice-president of the Canada-Nippon League. (Nippon is but one variant spelling for Nihon or Dai Nihon, the Japanese name for Japan.) There was nothing personal about the letter, so we are certain Mr. Hayakawa intended it for publication. It appears elsewhere.

The writer discussed a resolution passed by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada which proclaimed a boycott among its members against purchasing goods which were made in Japan. Figures are quoted to show that Japan in 1937 purchased goods to the value of $21,629,600 from Canada, while Canada purchased from Japan merchandise to the extent of $4,796,000. There it would be bad business for Canada to have anything to do with a boycott against Japan.

On that basis alone Mr. Hayakawa makes out a fair enough case against what the Trades and Labor Congress proposes to do. But it is quite possible that if the figures were fully analyzed it would be shown that Japan had been for some time—years perhaps—buying from Canada a good deal of material which was going into the building up of the war machine, and it is the use of this war machine which has brought from the Trades and Labor Congress a demand for a boycott.

It is also quite possible this country would lose some money if the boycott became effective, but if the loss of the money would rid us of the knowledge that we had been helping create the force which is slaughtering men, women and babies in China then it is a loss which we should accept with gratitude.

When It Snowed on the Tenth

There was a snow storm in a section of Western Ontario and it was good for more than a column in a number of newspapers. Little reports from a number of places telling that some snow had fallen and rigs and cars were being stuck and also that the men of the Highways Department were getting out their equipment to open the roads at once. Some place it was referred to as two feet, while others were contented with reference to 18 inches.

And it makes a great chance for a number of people to get their names in the paper. One preacher looked out on the Sabbath community in the early morning but was unable to get to his place of worship. From Forest comes word that "Edward Leonard was forced to abandon a trip by horse and cutter to the Twelfth Concession after getting part way there."

And so a great deal of news comes from one bit of a snow storm. We can't recall having read a great deal about such stuff on the Tenth. There were no such things as highways, snow fences and snow plows then; just concessions and side lines. If there came a heavy snow fall of the drifting kind then it was taken for granted that something would have to be done about it. The first one out had to break a path to the barn, and likely there would have to be some shovelling done to get some of the doors open. By the time there were three or four trips made between the barn and the house the going was not so bad unless the drifting was keeping up. Then there would be a little side-line broken from the main path toward the chicken house. Everything could not be attended to at once and the chickens always had to wait their turn. By that time some of the folk in the house would have swept off the kitchen porch but they would be wondering when some one would dig a path to the pump. The pump would never freeze up this early in the season so getting the water service open for the day was not serious.

Some one was certain to have taken a look down the lane. There was a healthy looking cedar hedge along one side next the house and it was always referred to as a wind-break. And possibly it was but it was also a cause for drifts. It was possible to see up and down the road for a fair distance from the kitchen windows and if a sleigh and team was seen coming or going either way we'd know who was in it and also know the road had been "broke." If the Tenth stayed blocked for a a-day or so some time then it never seemed to make much difference. The cheese factory had been closed so it was no longer necessary to drive the stone boat down to the platform by the gate, so there was really nothing of importance to put in the papers about a foot or two of snow and a bit of drifting. But of course people are in such a habit of getting around quickly now and with no interruptions that it is considered worth while to print the fact that some chap started out from Forest to get to the Twelfth Concession and had to come home. If that is considered news today then we could have sent in a lot better items from the Tenth.

Several deer have been seen in the Milton district where there is no open season. Possibly the animals managed to get hold of a copy of the game laws.

WORKING FOR ME

(By A. B. R.)

¶ From out the window I can see, a very bare and naked tree, and it looks bent and old; and when I look I often fear, that when wind blows this time of year, the thing must feel the cold.

¶ When I crawl into bed at night, the tree's out there and out of sight, I think I heard it moan; it's naked as a thing can be, and it don't seem just right to me, it standing there alone.

¶ When it is warm in summer time, it has much covering on its spine, its leaves by thousands grow, but when the days of summer stop, the leaves they blush a while and drop and all its coverings go.

¶ But when it comes to days of cold, the tree seems left alone and old, its thousands leaves have fled; about the last thing that I see, is that old groaning naked tree, before I go to bed.

¶ But when I'm thinking of that tree, I guess it does its work for me, and it is not afraid; in heated times its leaves have come, and when hard beats the noon-day sun, I sit beneath its shade.

¶ So when the winter time has come, of shady spots I need not one, my tree stands cold and bare; and as I understand the thing, the leaves will come along by spring—so I'll find shade out there.

THE SHIP'S bell of the cable ship Tyrian is being sought by A. F. Hassentein of Glasgow, Scotland who was a cabin boy on the 1638-ton vessel half a century ago. The 68-year-old ship which acted as a cable ship in the Canadian Government service for 20 years is to be broken up at Halifax, her long career of service at an end.

Hassentein wrote Halifax's chief of police, Judson Conrad, saying that he had read in a Glasgow paper that the vessel was to be scrapped and revealed that he was anxious to purchase the bell. He sailed as cabin boy on the ship in 1886 when he was seven years old and his father was captain. His letter said that Hassentein believed that he had established a record for the Clyde and possibly for Great Britain when he had shipped at such an early age and said that the experience of that first voyage left memories which time could never erase.

Officials of the Federal Department of Transport have been communicated with and it is believed the request of the Glasgow man will be granted.

A story from Cartwright says that although only a few dogs were left to teamsters on the Labrador coast last spring after the ravaging distemper epidemic everybody seems to have been able to scrape up a team for winter driving this year. Every pup born during the spring and summer months was saved and raised with the greatest care. Usually a Labrador dog-team is made up of one female and five or more males but now however the order is reversed and drivers have to put up with what they can get. In some cases teamsters are now driving what they call "scrap" teams and one man has one male and six female dogs.

She Detects Measles.

DR. Jean Broadhurst, a New Jersey woman who has spent her life working methodically in her laboratory, has announced a method by which measles can be detected. After patiently trying more than sixty stains, Dr. Broadhurst finally hit upon ink-colored nigrosin a substance that would blacken inclusion bodies and not soak into the measles germs. The thing was simple after that. Tissues of 40 healthy persons showed no black spots; five hundred slides from 160 measles cases revealed plenty of them.

Since virus detection is now possible two or three days before the typical measles rash breaks out doctors will be able to quarantine disease spreaders who are themselves immune and cut down the annual roster of 750,000 cases of measles in the United States. What is more important, some similar staining method may result in the spotting of other viruses, such as the elusive infantile-paralysis culprit.

The Barbados Government-owned railway is coming to the end of its existence. A bill was passed in the House of Assembly at Brudgetown providing for the dismantling of the track and plant of the 20-mile road and another bill arranged that persons now receiving pensions for that service to the railway will continue to get their money from the government. Although a fight has been waged for the past four years for the retention of the railway service which employed 100 people, the strong competition of buses and lorries has finally forced it out of business.

Sampson's dog aroused his master the first time, the shrill barks waking the man when the cabin was already filled with smoke and flames. Two doors, one at the front of the shack, the other at the rear, offered the only means of escape.

Sampson groped for the rear door, hoping to obtain water to combat the fire. Hopelessly confused by the smoke he staggered through the front door, tripped over a boat drawn up in the doorway and fell inconcious just out of reach of the flames. The fire had advanced to within a foot or so of him when he regained consciousness and brought water from the lake to combat the blaze.

What Is He Going To Use For Money?

Foreign Observers Wondering How Mussolini Will Deal With Financial Problem

(From the Montreal Star)

IT IS ONLY a short two years since Mussolini fiercely shouted to a huge Roman crowd that capital levies were Bolshevist measures. But necessity knows no law—and 'no consistency—and three weeks ago Il Duce inaugurated his first direct capital levy upon Italian joint stock companies of ten per cent. on their capital and reserve funds to help pay for his enormously costly Ethiopian campaign, home expenses, and the exploitation of Abyssinia. Today it is further announced that he has raised the tax on gasoline by forty per cent, which elevates the price in Rome to sixty-eight cents per gallon. Significantly enough, this fresh levy is announced on the second anniversary of the League of Nations' application of sanctions against Italy during the Ethiopian war,—a measure that cut down the value of Italian exports from $28,500,000 to $9,000,000 in seven months.

Count Volpi, the Italian Finance Minister, went to London last week to seek a British loan of $100,000,000 or $150,000,000, it is reported. This is entirely likely, as is also the report from London today that he has been refused. It was not planned, the cables say, as a direct loan but as one to Italian industry. But evidently even this is too great a risk for British bankers to take. It will be recalled that only last week Mussolini made a fervent appeal to foreign capital to interest itself in Italian investments.

It is notorious that no Budget figures have been issued by the Italian Government since the end of the Ethiopian war, though it was promised eight months ago that they would be made public "shortly." But it is common talk in Italy that the estate tax imposed during the war was a big failure, bringing in only $125,000,000 instead of the $300,000,000 Mussolini had expected. Moreover, his invitation to foreigners to put money in the $3,500,000,000 worth of stocks and shares quoted on the Italian market has evidently fallen upon deaf ears.

Foreign observers are wondering what he is going to do now. The levies made so far will only give him, at a liberal estimate, fifty per cent. of what he has declared to be absolutely essential for the Government to continue it work at home and abroad. And already the burden of taxation upon the Italian people is a tremendous one. In March, 1936, Mussolini took over all the private banks in Italy. Three weeks later he took over all the large private industries, leaving only the medium and small sized ones to independent management. Today the Italian taxpayer is staggering under a load that is made up of the following, among other items:—

A state income tax from 8 to 20 per cent., with no exceptions, on all net earnings over $180 per annum, followed by a complementary income tax varying from 1 to 10 per cent. upon the combined family income; a municipal family income tax varying from 1 to 8 per cent. with a supplementary municipal income tax on professional men of 3 per cent. and a provincial income tax—the fifth—of 1½ per cent.; as well as taxes upon almost every conceivable thing and individual, from funeral coaches to rental of public benches and on servants.

Is it any wonder that Mussolini is finding it difficult to finance the Fascist State, or that Italians are groaning under the burden, or that foreign observers are asking what he will do next?

"Soak the Rich" Policy Not Always Sound

Something More Is Needed As Solution To Problem of Cost of Our Government

(From the Kingston Whig-Standard.)

IN AN ADDRESS before the Napanee Rotary Club a few days ago, Capt. W. C. C. Innes, of the Commercial Bureau of Canada, presented some arresting figures on the cost of government in Canada. Asserting that Canada is the most costly governed and the most over-governed nation in the world, he said that the cost of administration for Canada's population of about 11,000,000 in 1935 was slightly more than a billion dollars. In the last decade the population increased 18 per cent., while governmental expenditure rose 45 per cent. In 1925 the cost of government absorbed 14 per cent. of our national income; and in 1935 it absorbed 26 per cent., or a little more than one dollar in every four earned. The total public debt is over seven billions of dollars, or equal to $3,500 for every householder in Canada, and there is no effective effort being made to decrease it. Three of the provinces have governments which they are unable to maintain and are dependent on grants in the millions from Ottawa, he asserted, and on every hand there is costly overlapping. In the interests of the taxpayers there could be a wholesale reduction and abolition of governments.

This issue of the cost of government is the subject of the feature editorial in the November issue of Canadian Business, the organ of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. The editorial presents some different and no less impressive figures on the cost of government and the load of taxation.

According to Canadian Business, our individual average share of public debts is now about $725. In 1913 the per capita debt was only $142, so that our debt has increased 500 per cent. In this period the population has increased only about 50 per cent. "This increase in debt," says Canadian Business, "is out of all proportion to the increase in our resources and our capacity to support the burden." We have created and pay for about 27,500 administrative bodies, including municipal bodies. We pay for the provision of the same service by more than one governmental authority, undertaking as citizens of a province "what we could best do as citizens of the Dominion and vice versa," thus doubling what it should cost us for administration. As our wealth has increased, we have submitted to the imposition of new forms of taxes "by as many of our governments as could find a constitional way to apply them." We pay two or more groups to collect the same kind of taxes and two more spending groups to spend them. We find out a different kind of tax or financial report for as many governments as demand them, all of which means effort and expense.

There is an idea among some people—manifested in the slogan "soak the rich"— that they escape much of the burden of supporting our governments and meeting debt costs and that it is chiefly the wealthier who are affected. This is a delusion. It has been estimated, says Canadian Business, that the "tax-free" workingman earning $1,000 a year now pays over $150 of it in concealed taxes. "When taxes are labelled as taxes all the time," it observes, "we shall be more exacting as to what we are getting for our money."

These are figures and facts that ought to be faced and pondered by all of us. They lie behind a great deal of our financial worries, both public and private. There is no doubt that administrative costs are excessive and that they could be materially reduced by simplification of our governmental system and by unified and co-operative effort between provinces and Dominion. Public opinion that is awake to the dangers of the situation can demand the necessary remedies. Equally, attempts to provide them will be successful only if supported by public opinion.

EMPTY HIGHLANDS.

(The New Statesman)

QUEEN VICTORIA'S famous reflection that one of the pleasures of visiting the Highlands of Scotland was conversing with the Highlanders could scarcely have been made today; she was, of course, exceptionally privileged—but her observation cannot have been generally true even when she wrote. For the striking fact is that there are no Highlanders to converse with: the Highlands, which must at one time have been as thickly populated as Connaught is today are empty. The English tourist, guidebook in hand, reads of historic glens, each of which sent its fifty or hundred men to battle, but he finds himself in the most uninhabited country in Europe—looking down fertile valleys in which for several miles he can see no inhabitants at all—or at most an ancient ghillie attached to an hotel. The devastation is strangely complete—no ruins of ancient huts can be detected among the bracken and heather which have obliterated the boundaries of the crofter's fields. The people have been gone a long time—and though the process of eradicating the Highlanders was finally carried out when he was the most universally romanticised figure in the reign of Victoria, it had begun well before the nineteenth century.

A Bible Message For To-day . . . .

THESE words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee: as thou has given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. And this is life eternal that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou has sent.—John xvii, 1-3.

Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord, according as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue.—II Pet. i, 2, 3.

To the Editor

THAT BOYCOTT

Editor Examiner:

Sir: The Trades and Labour Congress of Canada has recently proclaimed a boycott against Japanese goods. As Canadian citizens interested in maintaining the friendly political and trade relations between Canada and Japan we believe that such a movement should be discouraged for if widely applied it would only lead to great financial loss to The Dominion.

In the fiscal year 1937 Canada's exports to Japan were valued at $21,629,600 while imports from Japan totalled only $4,796,000. The trade figures for this year are no exception the ratio of money exchanged between the two countries has been the same for many years, approximately five dollars coming into Canada from Japan for each Canadian dollar spent in Japan.

Thousands of Canadian workers earn their living through our exports to Japan. Canadian farmers this year sold over $3,000,000 worth of wheat to Japanese buyers. Other Canadians find gainful employment in the silk industry which is largely dependent on the silk imports from Japan.

Officially Great Britain and Japan are still friendly powers. They have been close allies for over 60 years. Under the circumstances we believe that any boycott or proposed boycott of Japanese goods is most unfair.

Yours sincerely,
S. HATAKAWA.

Red Cross Outpost Hospitals Do Great Work In Remote Areas

Planes Used To Rush Injured To The Outpost Hospitals

How a lumberjack, with severe concussion, was transported 89 miles, and an Indian child, horribly burned, was brought in 47 miles to the Red Cross Outpost Hospital on Manitoulin Island, was related by the Canadian Red Cross Society.

George Weir, 65-year-old lumberjack, Manitowaning, was teaming logs from a camp at Collin's Bay on the mainland of Lake Huron just opposite the eastern end of Manitoulin Island. A log caught in a tree, causing the opposite end to fly up and strike Weir a severe blow on the head, rendering him unconscious. He was brought back to camp by his fellow workmen who, expecting him to regain consciousness any moment, kept him there for two days. He was then moved six miles to the head camp where he remained over night and was then taken 18 miles to Killarney the next day. After another night here, he was transported across the north channel to Little Current, 30 miles, and finally to Mindemoya, 35 miles, where the Red Cross Outpost is located—a total of 89 miles. X-ray examination proved that he had suffered severe concussion without fracture. After a week he regained consciousness but, through protracted exposure, he contracted pneumonia which later was complicated by empyema. Operation was necessary to drain the chest cavity. The patient came through in excellent condition and by the time he had recovered completely, the nurse writes he had become so attached to the hospital that great difficulty was experienced in persuading him to leave. Finally when bidding goodbye, he expressed his gratitude by saying he was going to tell everyone he knew of the kindness shown him at the Red Cross Hospital.

The other incident relates to Teressa Wakegizig, six year old Indian child belonging to the Wikwemekong Reserve on Manitoulin Island, who was horribly burned when her dress took fire from the kitchen stove. So severe was the burn that the entire left side was affected, the child losing complete use of left leg and arm. Brought 47 miles from the Reserve to the Manitoulin Red Cross Outpost, the child's wounds were cleaned and treated. When treatment had prepared the wound sufficiently, the mother was brought to the hospital where the local doctor grafted skin from the mother to the raw wounds of the child. After two months in hospital, the little patient was discharged with full use of her arm and leg.

"Cases such as these make up in large measure for the trials and tribulations of pioneer hospitalization," commented a Red Cross official.

I learned about tobacco from him!

● I'll never forget that bright sunny morning in Victoria, B.C. A fresh, balmy breeze was blowing in from the sea. I was staying for a few days at the Empress Hotel, enjoying one of the most beautiful cities in the world. And a stranger beside me in the garden of the hotel had just lit his after-breakfast pipe.

Good Old Chum! That was my first introduction. "Pardon me," I said, "but that is a most delightful aroma. Might I ask what tobacco you are smoking?" "Old Chum," said he. "Have a pipeful."

CHAMPION CATTLE ARE FINEST SHOWN IN ROYAL HISTORY

TORONTO, Nov. 23. — Champions of all the cattle classes at the Royal Winter Fair, representing in value a fortune, will parade Tuesday at the Coliseum at 4.30 p.m. The champions will wear their winning ribbons and will present the finest display of cattle ever paraded on this continent, according to fair officials.

Whereas in the past the Royal has paraded cattle of each Province, the display on Tuesday will be confined to the first four winners in dairy, beef, and market classes regardless of their origin, whether United States or Canada. There will be 360 head representing sixty classes.

It will be the feature of a busy day. This morning the fox trophies were presented, judging of beef cattle and heavy horses continued, and a horse show program preceded the parade of cattle this afternoon in the main ring.

His Excellency the Governor-General, who was officially received at the Royal Winter Fair on Monday night returned this morning for an informal visit to the Fair, and tonight the Horse Show will be attended by Lieutenant-Governor Dr. H. A. Bruce and Mrs. Bruce. The program to-night will include three $1,000 stakes and jumping by the international officers' teams for the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson Military Challenge Trophy.

Another Big Crowd.

On Monday another huge crowd attended the Fair during the afternoon and packed the Horse Show to capacity at night. Visitors included A. J. Tanner, former Secretary of the Australian Aberdeen-Angus Society, who was an interested spectator of the beef cattle judging.

A large crowd attended the National Kennel Club Dog Show which opened with the largest number of entries of any dog show in the Dominion and will continue for the rest of the Fair, and another large crowd attended horseshoe pitching in the evening.

In keeping with the general atmosphere of prosperity about the show this year, prices at the annual sale of beef carcases on Monday averaged two cents a pound above last year. Outstanding win of the day in heavy horses was that of Nelson Wagg, Claremont, whose Clydesdale stallions topped all classes. All had been exported by James Picken of Torrs, Scotland, who was on hand to see the win.

ETHEL BARRYMORE RETURNS TO STAGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(AP).—Ethel Barrymore, who announced a year ago she was retiring from the stage permanently, returned to Broadway last night in the leading role of Sidney Howard's new play, "The Ghost of Yankee Doodle."

Miss Barrymore gave no explanation of her return to the stage, but she won applause from a first night audience that included Pauline Lord, Laurette Taylor, Robert E. Sherwood, Frederic March, Edna Ferber and Walter Damrosch.

In "The Ghost of Yankee Doodle" she plays the role of a mother who has a young son who wants to rush away to war and has a daughter who, too, wants to follow her lover to war.

Further, she has the complication of finding herself at the brink of old age and facing bankruptcy, and seemingly the only alternative is to wed the aged publisher of a chain of newspapers, a suitor she had refused in her early youth. But, he is the publisher, she charges, whose editorials incited the war which is about to take away her son and her daughter.

NO CO-OPERATION?

MONTREAL, Nov. 23—(CP). — Premier Duplessis charged to-day Quebec was not receiving from Ottawa the co-operation it should for effective application of the province's "padlock law" directed against Communism.

Questioned to-day if any move had been taken to keep the banned French weekly newspaper Carte (Light) out of the province, Mr. Duplessis said the highest civic and religious authorities had approached the Federal government without any success.

Main Blast Floods Toronto District

The five-foot deep hole shown (ABOVE), was blown in the pavement of a Toronto roadway when a huge water main burst flooding the surrounding district with water and inundating many blocks of the district. Water, shooting up six feet high, soon uprooted cement blocks between street car tracks and service was delayed, while motor traffic was brought to a complete standstill. Because of the break, city officials estimated residents would be short of water, a major catastrophe to housewives all prepared for washday.

Fair Share Of Profits Be Given Labor Attorney-General's Aim

Ontario's Legislation Is As Advanced As Any On North American Continent

TORONTO, November 23—(CP)—The Ontario Government is determined that Labor shall enjoy a fair share of industrial profits but at the same time industry shall not be regimented as has been the case in the United States, Attorney-General Gordon Conant of Ontario told the Toronto Board of Trade in an address yesterday.

"To this end we have set up legislation and regulations as advanced as any on this continent," he said. "In the United States, the Wagner Act has no conciliatory features. It is purely mandatory legislation, enabling the National Labor Relations Board, constituted under the authority of the act, to issue orders and make them effective by the machinery of the courts.

"According to our way of thinking, this can never bring about satisfactory relations between Capital and Labor.

On the other hand, we have in this province done everything possible to stimulate conciliation by the establishment of the Industry and Labor Board, but without any peremptory or mandatory powers.

Referring to industrial peace and maintenance of law and order, Mr. Conant said the Ontario Government had "conclusively demonstrated to the world, by the recent mandate of our people, a determination for sound administration of public affairs, for adjustment of differences between Capital and Labor according to constitutional and legal methods."

He said that the policy of the present administration was to assure capital and the investing world that so far as governmental action can accomplish it, Ontario will remain a safe field for investment.

12,000 GOODYEAR STRIKERS GO BACK

AKRON, O., Nov. 23—(AP).—Workers went back to their jobs at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. to-day after settlement of a three-day strike which halted operations and made 12,000 employees idle.

Gov. Davey ordered 2,000 National Guard troops on notice for possible action last Friday after the strike started with a sit-down Thursday night. Union leaders soon led the sit-down strikers out of the big rubber plants, but Gov. Davey kept the troops on notice continuing to-day.

The strike was a spontaneous outburst, without union sanction in protest against extensive layoffs. Principal points in the settlement were:

1. There will be no further lay-offs in the tire and tube division beyond the present program (that is, beyond the 1,642 workers whose lay-off caused the sit-down.)

2. All lay-offs will be made on a strict seniority basis in departments affected.

3. Employees laid off who can qualify for younger men's jobs may replace them as fast as possible.

4. Employees laid off will retain their present seniority and if work increases in excess of 30 hours a week, those laid off will be recalled.

Night Coughs Hard On The System

The dry, hacking cough, cough, day and night, is very wearing on the system, and the constant coughing not only disturbs the rest, but it keeps the bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition they get no chance to heal.

Sometimes it is the constant cough that won't be quieted, sometimes a choked-up, stuffed-up feeling that makes breathing difficult.

Obstinate coughs and colds generally yield to the grateful, soothing action of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It is indicated for this kind of a cough, as it is composed of the most soothing and healing expectorant barks, herbs, roots and balsams obtainable.

Mr. Harry Lane, Lakeville, N.B., writes:—"I had such a terrible cough I could not sleep at night. I tried different medicines, but they never helped me; my cough still hung on. I then got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and I was surprised to see how quickly my cough disappeared."

Libel On Duke Merits Whipping

CHIEF JUSTICE HEWART

GEOFFREY DENNIS

In lieu of what he hinted should have been a horse-whipping, Lord Chief Justice Hewart administered a blistering tongue-lashing to Geoffrey Dennis because of "foul and cruel" libel against the Duke of Windsor contained in Dennis' Coronation Commentary." The judge's outburst came after the duke was awarded "a handsome sum," estimated at about $6,000, which, authoritative sources claim, will be given to seamen's charities. Slurs and innuendos contained in the book were branded as false not only by the plaintiff's attorneys, but also by the defence.

FIND HAIRS HELD IN CLOSED HAND MURDERED GIRL

PEMBROKE, Nov. 23 (CP).—Mr. Justice E. R. E. Chevrier yesterday instructed the jury at the trial of John A. Comba, charged with the August 3 slaying of Ethel Hedderwick, to banish evidence regarding Adam Stufko as it had no bearing on the case.

While Defence Counsel J. A. Maloney was questioning Police Chief Moses Greer of Renfrew, it was brought out that Stufko had been detained by police August 10 and that samples of his hair were taken by police who were investigating the Hedderwick slaying.

Inspector E. C. Gurnett of the Criminal Investigation Branch, Ontario police, told of his investigation after the girl's body was found in a clump of trees on Carswell's Hill.

Watches Post-Mortem.

He arrived in Renfrew the day following the crime and was present at the post-mortem examination performed by Dr. E. R. Frankish, Ontario medico-legal expert, who is expected to testify today.

"The right hand of the little girl was clutched," said Inspector Gurnett. "Dr. Frankish opened the hand and there were a number of hairs in the palm of the hand. There were other hairs along the fingertips. They were different in color."

The Inspector told of an interview he had with Comba on August 6 when the accused told him of picking choke-cherries on August 2 and seeing Harry Hedderwick and his three children near Carswell's Hill.

Repeats Conversation

Witness then told of a conversation with Comba in which the accused said he was at a baseball game and heard a little girl had been lost. Later Comba told him he went to Carswell's Hill and found the body. "I tripped over something and it appeared to give and I fell over the body," Gurnett quoted Comba as saying.

On August 10 Comba directed police over the route he said he took on August 3. During the trip Comba pointed out a pair of socks near the spot where, he said, he had been picking berries. The socks were produced and entered as an exhibit.

Inspector Gurnett said he obtained a sample of Comba's hair August 12, which he turned over to Dr. Frankish.

LEADERSHIP CLASS LARGELY ATTENDED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 23. — For five successive nights November 15-19, there was held in Trinity United Church, Hastings, a leadership training class under the auspices of the Asphodel Township Sunday School Association, with an average attendance of thirty, 12 members being present each night.

Principles of teaching were ably dealt with by Leo W. Copp of Peterborough. To members of the class, namely Mrs. Wallace Orr and Miss Claudine Hoard completed the course and received their certificates on Friday night. Some others intend mailing their papers within ten days.

Rev. J. U. McIntosh, Norwood, dealt with the subject, "The Message of Jesus for the Life of To-day." Lunch was served on Friday night, and a social half-hour spent.

Japan shipped over 60,000 cases of mandarin oranges to the United States in the last year.

Too Many Questions Imprison Toronto Loyalist Months

Jailed By Party He Supported, Writer Claims Telling Of "Horrible" Experience

MONTREAL, Nov. 23 (CP)—Three "horrible" months in a prison of the Spanish Loyalists—whose cause he supported—were recalled today by William Krehn of Toronto, who arrived here Sunday after deportation from war-torn Spain.

The 24-year-old journalist and "political observer," a member of the League for a Revolutionary Workers' Party, explained why he was imprisoned while supporting a Loyalist faction, the Workers' Party for Marxist Unity.

The reason was in "the many divisions that split the Loyalists' ranks," said Krehn, who wrote in Spain for a Toronto weekly newspaper.

Prominent were the "luke-warm Loyalists, who lean toward the insurgents," the anarchists and the workers' parties.

"Probably because I asked too many questions," smiled Krehn, "I was arrested in Barcelona in mid-June on a charge of being a German spy—a charge used against all whom the powerful pro-Fascists desired out of the way."

"And then, without even being questioned, I was thrown into prison with a dozen or so other 'spies.' These vermin-infested prisons, operated by the secret police, generally were in the basements of respectable-appearing mansions and apartment houses."

His release and deportation—after almost a year in Spain—was obtained through the intervention of "defence committees" set up in New York and Paris by the League for a Revolutionary Workers' Party.

Krehn said he would leave for Toronto "within a few days" and then start a speaking tour in Hamilton, Niagara Falls, Winnipeg and several United States cities.

Kennedy-McAuliffe.

The Church of the Immaculate Conception was beautifully decorated with roses and chrysanthemums for the wedding of Sarah Geraldine, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Redmond McAuliffe of Park Hill Road, to Joseph Walter Kennedy, son of Mrs. Agnes Kennedy, and the late Daniel Kennedy, of Detroit, Michigan.

The Very Rev. Dean O'Sullivan officiated, assisted by the Rev. Father K. Malang, former classmate of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a graceful Victoria cut ivory velvet frock, in jacket style. The tight fitting waist was trimmed with rows of self-covered buttons, and the full skirt falling into a slight train, with clustered gardenias and ruching. Her finger-tip veil fell from a charming little halo hat of matching material; she wore ivory velvet slippers and carried a shower bouquet of Briarcliff roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Beth Bowie of Toronto, wore a gown of red currant velvet, with matching hat, and carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Harold Kennedy of Detroit.

The wedding music was played by Miss Margaret McCabe, and during the progress of the Mass, Mrs. D. Campanaro sang an "Ave Maria" and "Dearest Mother, We Belong to Thee." While the register was being signed, Miss McCabe played "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms."

Later at the home of the bride's parents, a reception was held, and luncheon served to about fifty guests. The pretty decorations were in autumn tints. Mrs. McAuliffe received wearing a gown of black cut velvet, and a corsage of American Beauty roses, and Mrs. B. Kennedy, aunt of the groom, was gowned in black sheer, with corsage of roses.

In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left on a motor trip, the latter travelling in a phosphorus green suedine dress with gold trim, a hat of green fur felt, accessories to match, and a black seal coat. After a short honeymoon the couple will reside in Detroit.

Whitehill-Miles.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in the United Church parsonage at Port Hope on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Helen Jane, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miles of 492 George street, north, was united in marriage to George Edward, second son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Whitehill, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The bride was dressed in a navy taffeta suit, wine-colored hat and accessories, and wore a corsage of rosebuds and baby's breath.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Newmaster (sister of the bride), of 701 George street, north, were the attendans. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James R. Gordon.

Kerr-Atkinson.

CENTREVILLE, Nov. 23.—A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Manse, Centreville, on Saturday afternoon, November 20th, when Elizabeth Violet Atkinson, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Atkinson of Menie, was united in marriage to Mr. Ross Kerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kerr, of Campbellford. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. A. McKenzie, B.A., in the presence of immediate relatives.

Returning to the home of the bride's father, a wedding supper was served to the immediate friends and relatives of the young couple.

They will reside at Menie and carry the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Webb-Gray.

PONTYPOOL, Nov. 23.—On Friday afternoon, November 19, a quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in Pontypool, when Olive, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gray, became the bride of Louis Webb, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Webb. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. F. Riding.

After the wedding supper, the young couple left for Peterborough and points east. Upon their return the young couple will reside east of the village.

Barnes-Grant.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. George's Church on Saturday at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, with the rector, the Rev. T. Gault, officiating, when Dorothy May, daughter of Mrs. J. Grant, and the late James Grant of Scotland, was married to Cyril E. Barnes, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Barnes.

The bride wore a charming gown of blue velvet, made on princess lines, with long sleeves and high neckline, trimmed with gold clips. Her hat and accessories matched her gown, and she wore a corsage of American Beauty roses, combined with white heather, sent from Scotland by her elder sister, Mrs. H. McMekin.

The attendants were Miss Winifred Grant, sister of the bride, and A. S. A. Powell, who assisted the groom.

The bridesmaid's gown was of green satin, made with full, petalled skirt, and bolero jacket, trimmed with silver lame collar and cuffs. She wore a small matching hat, silver slippers, and a corsage of Briarcliff roses and white heather.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, 268 Hunter Street West, when the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Grant, wearing a dress of green crepe, with brown accessories, and a corsage of Talisman roses and white heather. Mrs. Barnes, mother of the groom, was wearing a crepe dress with red paisley pattern, black accessories, and a corsage of Talisman roses. The rooms were prettily arranged with pink and white streamers and bells, and the bride's table with an Irish lace cloth, the tiered wedding cake, and roses in silver vases.

Following a honeymoon motor trip the young couple will reside at Crawford's Grove. For travelling the bride wore a frock of blue crepe, a black coat with brown fur trim, and black accessories.

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—Resolutions to be voted on at the meeting of the Provincial Council of Women at the Y.W.C.A. on Thursday and Friday include a proposal to ask the Department of Education to place housing, zoning and town planning on the school curriculum. A resolution directed toward curbing the liquor trade will be presented asking that the Liquor Control Board give newspaper publicity to its intention before granting licenses for beer parlors. Of wide-reaching import is a resolution to the effect that at least two women be placed on the Minimum Wage Board, and that further and more equitable adjustment be made in income tax exemptions, covering single women who maintain homes. Another resolution suggests that the Dominion Government be asked that money hitherto used to assist immigration of farm laborers be used as loans, at low rates of interest, for Ontario farm boys who wish to take up agricultural training.

Yet the same carrots, if pulled from the garden while young, have a delicious flavor—they're so sweet and tender.

What is true of carrots and other plants, is true also of tea leaves. The choice, young tea leaves are filled with delightful flavor—the older, coarse leaves lose their flavor and aroma.

You have a sure guide to the tea flavor and aroma you enjoy—select TENDER LEAF TEA. You get the choice, young tea leaves in every package. No coarse, heavy leaves are included for bulk.

A new scientific instrument showed the difference—it was used to measure the amount of aroma in 14 brands of tea. Tender Leaf Tea—and one other, more expensive brand—came first. Some of the remaining brands had as little as one-sixth the aroma of Tender Leaf Tea.

Your grocer has this tea in two convenient sizes. Call for Tender Leaf Tea—the name suggests how good it is!

Low In Price, Tops In Flavor For When Budget Runs Short

Helping Hand Often Needed To Provide Meals In Middle Of The Week

By MARY MOORE

(If you don't read this because you are not worried about money you are missing some eating treats.)

"Saturdays I do not mind the meal-planning, and Sunday and Monday are no real bother, but when the budget and the larder start to run low at the same time in the middle of the week, then it is that a gal needs a helping hand to get a tasty meal out of what she has and mayhap by spending a wee penny here or there."

So writes a correspondent in this week's mail. And truer words were never written by pen of man (or woman!) For if there's one theme song that runs through all the letters that converge on my desk it should be called "What's new, what's cheap, what's tasty, what shall I serve for dinner?"

Well, my hearties, I have a cheery word or two for you this week. Your chilc.en will rise up and call you blessed with all the ardour you could desire in your wildest dreamings. That is they will if warmed and nourished by a Salmon Pie, a Salt Pork Treat or one or other of these tasty offerings. See if they don't.

Salt Pork Treat

To do this slice the pork thinly or have your butcher do it. Then gash the rind edge a time or two to prevent curling; then "freshen" the pork by soaking in cold water for one-half hour, or parboiling for a few minutes—for it is usually a little too salt for frying.

Dry it thoroughly with a cloth. Mix an equal quantity of flour and fine corn meal and dip each slice in this. Fry in a hot frying pan until brown and crisp. Serve with:

Cream Gravy

(For Salt Pork Treat or Fried Chicken).

Blend well 2 tablespoons of the pork fat from the pan with 2 tablespoons flour. Add ½ cup milk and ½ cup cream, and stir in top of double boiler until smooth and thickened. Season with pepper, but no salt for the pork contains enough.

Salmon Vegetable Pie

One 1-lb. can of salmon, 1 cup of canned or fresh cooked peas, 3 tablespoons each flour and butter, 2 cups milk, salt and pepper to taste, 2 cups mashed potatoes, 1 or 2 tablespoons butter. Drain the juice from the salmon, reserving this liquid, and separate the salmon into flakes, and combine it with the peas. Melt the 3 tablespoons butter, blend in the flour and stir until smooth, then gradually stir in the milk until it all thickens. Add the strained salmon liquor and mix well. Season to taste with salt and pepper and combine this with the salmon and peas. Put in buttered casserole and cover top with layer of mashed potatoes. Dot with butter, sprinkle with paprika and bake at 400 deg. Fahr. until golden and heated through.

Casserole of Lima Beans and Ham

Use canned, dried or fresh limas, first soaking and cooking the dried, or precooking the fresh for 10 minutes. Make 1½ cups cream sauce by melting 2 tablespoons flour and stirring, then stirring in 1 and one-third cups milk until it thickens, then add the prepared beans and 1 cup diced cooked ham to it. Season with salt and pepper, put in casserole adding a small grating of onion, and crust of buttered crumbs, and bake at 450 for 20 minutes.

Tomato Rice Jumble

One cup diced bacon, 1 large onion sliced, 1 large can tomatoes, 1 cup each rice and water, salt and pepper. Fry bacon and onion together until light brown (if back bacon is used you will need a little butter for sauteing), then add the tomatoes, rice and water, season to taste, cover and let simmer slowly for ½ hour, stirring frequently. This is very good as a one-piece dish for supper and is improved if the quantity is doubled, and the leftover reheated the following day.

Corn With Tomatoes

Using 1 can of either cream style or niblet style corn add it to 1 No. 2 can of tomatoes with 1 tablespoon of butter, 1 teaspoon sugar, and some salt and pepper. Chop the large pieces of tomato pulp some and heat together for 15 minutes slowly. This may be made into a baked dish by pouring into a buttered casserole and covering with a half and half mixture of strong cheese grated and mixed with fine crumbs. Sprinkle top with paprika and bake slowly until crust is golden.

Kidney Bean Casserole

One cup kidney or lima beans soaked over night and par-boiled in water with ¼ teaspoon soda (or 1 can of kidney beans may be used). Drain and add 3 tomatoes or 1 small can, 1 green pepper chopped, ¼ lb. bacon diced and fried (including the fat too). Put all in casserole and bake 1 hour or add water and simmer on top of stove 2 hours.

Delmonico Potatoes Au Gratin

One pint diced boiled potatoes, ½ cup fine cracker crumbs, 1 tablespoon melted butter, ½ cup cheese.

White Sauce: 1 pint hot milk, 2 tablespoons each flour and butter, 1 teaspoon salt, shake of pepper. Mix the crumbs in the first part with the 1 tablespoon butter, and arrange alternate layers of potatoes, white sauce and cheese, having crumbs come on top. Two chopped hard cooked eggs may be added to the sauce to extend or enrich this dish. (Make the sauce of course, by melting the butter, adding the flour, and stirring in the hot milk until it thickens, and then adding the seasonings.) Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 30 minutes.

We may appear to have gone just a little too far on this economy binge this week, what with the recipes herewith and the long list of economical meals for the reader whose letter appears first in the question department, but there's method in it for next week we print Christmas cake recipes—the following week Christmas puddings and cookies—and you have to spend those extra few dollars you save on meals for fruit and nuts for these Christmas goodies. You are hereby forewarned.

Wenatchee Apple Marmalade

This is a "culinary secret" from the Great Northern Railway. It was served to a dear friend of mine while she was entrained and skimming through the Rockies—eating this luscious jammy dessert with French toast.

To every 6 lbs. shredded apples add 6 lbs. granulated sugar, 3½ cups water, the grated rind of 2 oranges, juice and grated rind of 3½ lemons, 2 level teaspoons ground ginger.

Bring to a boil the water and sugar and add orange, lemon and ginger. Let this simmer a few minutes, then and not before, add the shredded apples. Allow these ingredients to simmer over very low heat (preferably over asbestos pad) for 1 hour. Omit stirring as much as possible for apples should keep their shape and do not serve until thoroughly chilled.

Enquiry Column

Conducted by Mrs. MARY MOORE

QUESTION: I have often been going to write you about cooking and housekeeping directions.

I am a widower and have three boys, 16-14-12 years. I am unable to have a housekeeper as I only do seasonal work. Now I have had all kinds of advice but 90 per cent. of it doesn't work. At present I am working and I have to cook a day ahead and I find that making stews or roasts the day before it is either overcooked or burned up when warmed up. I don't know what to do when I am working. I will give you an idea of how I do things.

SUNDAY: Breakfast—Fried Bacon and bread and butter; Dinner—Roast meat, cabbage, potatoes and pie; Supper—Jelly, cake and fruit.

MONDAY: Breakfast — Oatmeal and toast; Dinner—Fried leftover vegetables, cold meat and pie; Supper—Rice or sago pudding.

TUESDAY: Breakfast—Same as Monday; Dinner—Stew cooked the night before and fruit,prunes, etc.; Supper—Blanc mange and cake.

WEDNESDAY: Breakfast—Same; Dinner—Macaroni and cheese and cake; Supper—Bread and butter and jam.

THURSDAY: Breakfast — Same; Dinner—Pork and beans made night before; Supper—Stewed prunes and cake.

FRIDAY: Breakfast—Same; Dinner—Canned fish; Supper—Chocolate pudding and prunes.

SATURDAY: Breakfast—Same; Dinner—Bread and butter and fruit; Supper—Chops of some kind.

You will notice that we are short of greens. I have been going on like it for near a year and the boys and I are getting fed up.

They take no tea or coffee. They get a cup of cocoa every night, before going to bed. I do the washing Monday morning at 4.30 o'clock and get to work at 9. I do the ironing after supper, tidy up other nights and do the sewing Saturday night, wash out the floors and everybody gets bathed.

Could you give me any idea of doing things better?

I have all kinds of potatoes, turnips, peas, cabbage, carrots and parsnips. I don't know how to line up the meals, so it is the same thing week in and week out. I am not giving up yet.

I may say I have a small war pension of $40 to pay everything, with a few weeks work at a time so I have to go very careful. Thanking you in advance.—W. J. R.

ANSWER: I herewith salute you as a hero.

Your menus and methods have plenty of good points and with your supply of winter vegetables on hand I know we can give some nice variety to your meals.

Three radical changes you could make would be to use your pie and cake money for more fruit and milk, and use some of your meat money for eggs—storage eggs have just as much nourishment as new laid and I will tell you ways of using them (as I do myself) so that the flavor is improved—and use some of your large store vegetables for soups and salads.

SUNDAY: Breakfast—Bacon and French toast (see method below); Dinner—Scalloped potatoes with crust of hamburger, grated raw cabbage and carrot salad, jello dessert; Supper—Tomato soup, brown bread, prunes.

MONDAY: Breakfast—Cornmeal porridge and toast; Dinner—Boiled parsnips (mashed with salt, pepper cheese sauce on toast, strips of raw carrots; Supper—Potato soup, brown bread, apple sauce.

TUESDAY: Breakfast — Cracked wheat porridge and brown toast; Dinner—Fried salt pork (see this week's cookery page), mashed parsnips, chopped raw apples with milk and sugar; Supper—Pea soup, Johnny cake.

WEDNESDAY: Breakfast—Cracked rye porridge and brown toast; Dinner—Fried beef liver and mashed potatoes, dates in lemon jello; Supper—Cabbage and celery salad, hot cocoa, bran muffins (make plenty).

THURSDAY: Breakfast—Toasted bran muffins and corn syrup; Dinner—Macaroni and Tomato and cheese dish, Stewed raisins; Supper—Chocolate pudding and prunes and milk.

FRIDAY: Breakfast—Rolled oats and brown bread toast; Dinner—Fish and potato cakes, celery salad, canned pears; Supper—Jam sandwiches, hot milk, dates.

SATURDAY: Breakfast — Cream of Wheat porridge, soy bean bread; Dinner—Steamed Cherry pudding, milk; Supper—Meat Cakes from ground shoulder of lamb, creamed carrots, wedges of raw cabbage, prunes.

Notes of Methods

Make French toast by beating one storage egg in flat bowl, adding ¾ cup milk and ¾ cup water, 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 teaspoon salt. Dip bread slices into this for 15 minutes each, then fry in bacon drippings.

Scalloped Potatoes with crust of Hamburger. Slice peeled potatoes into greased baking dish, barely cover with a mixture of milk and water, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and cover with a layer of minced beef, sprinkle top with salt and tomato juice and bake slowly for 1½ to 2 hours, covered—remove cover during last 10 minutes to brown meat.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

KEEPING PREPARED

WHEN YOU finesse against both a K and a Q, expecting the first trial to lose but the second one to win, you may desire to repeat the successful finesse another time. This necessitates keeping the entry in the hand which leads for the finesse. Such being the case, it is better on the first round of the suit to lead a small card, so that another card from the J-10-9 sequence can remain in the desired hand later.

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

After South's opening bid of 1-Spade on this deal, North bid 3-Diamonds, South 2-No Trumps and North 3-No Trumps.

The club K was the opening lead against this contract and South did not win a trick in the suit until the third round. His next move was to play the spade 9, which lost to West's Q. West lashed his fourth club and returned a diamond. South won with the A, cashed the diamond Q and overtook the diamond J with the K to cash the diamond 10 and try another finesse in spades. The 5 was led from dummy and the 10 finessed, which held, but it was only possible to get one more trick in spades and consequently the contract was set one.

With only one entry into the dummy, after the club A was knocked out, and hoping for two more finesses, the correct play of spades was to have led the 5 on the first round and finessed the 10. Then when the dummy was entered with the diamond K, the spade 9 could have been led, and if it held another finesse could have been tried from dummy.

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

What is the correct bidding on the North-South cards of this deal?

Avoid Public Errors by Knowing Etiquette

Whenever you're in public, you're on parade! That's why it's so important to do the right thing in restaurant, hotel, theatre, when dancing or travelling.

Our Bob and Betty are making a graceful entrance here because they know the head waiter should lead the way to their table, with Betty following and Bob bringing up in the rear. No awkward hedging for this one or that one to take the lead! It's apparent to the head waiter and the other diners that Bob and Betty know what's what.

Everywhere this gives them a great social advantage that you can enjoy too—with 32-page etiquette booklet to guide you! You'll know the well-bred way in introductions, conversation, conduct in public, and many other social puzzlements. A booklet that'll prove a complete etiquette guide to your whole family!

Send 15c in coins for your copy of ETIQUETTE FOR ALL OCCASIONS to The Examiner's Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Tasty Bites For Swank Breakfast

MOST good breakfasts consist of some variation of bacon and eggs, but this one while it has to have an egg and some bacon is so glorified you won't suspect it.

Great Northern French Toast

(Individual service)

One egg, 2 slices white bread, 1 teaspoon currant jelly, 2 rashers bacon, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon mixed with 1 tablespoon white sugar (or brown if you prefer it). Beat the whole egg to a fluff. Cut the crusts from the bread from all but one side. Spread the jelly between the sliced and dip the slices in the egg, holding the slices together. Drop in hot clean fat or butter and brown. When golden on both sides dip the toast in the cinnamon and sugar mixture and serve flanked with the rashers of bacon.

Ride Muffins With Bacon

Line muffin tins with strips of breakfast bacon. Make Rice Muffins by mixing 1 cup cooked rice with 1 cup milk, 2 beaten eggs, 4 tablespoons melted butter, and beat this well. Sift together ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 3 teaspoons baking powder, and 1½ cups flour, and sift these into the batter, pour into the bacon line gem pans and bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 25 minutes. Serve with red or black currant jelly.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"A good critic is never a fault-finder, he is one who looks for the best. I always try to shut my eyes to the faults of other people because they have so many—and so have I."

—Rev. R. J. Wardell.

Dear Friends:

How we all dislike criticism. Not that we think we have no faults, we know we have many, but we hate someone to enlarge on them too much.

And there are really some who think they have been appointed to tell others what they should do and shouldn't do. By their tone they themselves are perfect.

What I find particularly aggravating about people like that is—they seem to say "You do as I say, but I will do as I like." They must have a stupendous conceit in themselves to act like that. I wish I knew how they got that way.

We don't need so much criticism, what we need is some encouragement, for life and the things that happen to us are discouragement enough, God knows.

Our own thoughts are our worst critic, without onyone else butting in trying to make us smaller in our own estimation. But how many leave an unkind thought behind them instead of a kind one.

And what does all this fault-finding do? It makes us unsure of ourselves, it makes us resentful, and it makes us feel inferior, and none of those do us any good, now do they?

They would like to lay out a map for our behaviour, our speech, our dress. They show disapproval of our friends, our amusements, and where are our brains that we tolerate them?

Because, we do not have to listen, you know. Nor do we have to change our mode of life to please anyone. Moreover, if we DO try to please that way, we find criticism leveled on us even in that.

If you are truly in need of advice that is a different matter. Someone older with more experience will be only too glad to help. Yet even in that, none of us like the plain bald truth when it comes to our faults.

We want them coated a little with some of our virtues. We want to feel worthwhile, not as if we were a worm, and that is what the wrong kind of criticism does to us, makes us feel small and crawly and no one can do their best work feeling like that.

After all, what do these self-appointed critics have that we don't have? How much better are they than we? I'd like to know. Who gave them the liberty to come along and tell us "you are wrong in this and wrong in that," for believe me they never seem to tell us we are right in anything.

Candidly, I think they are covering up their own faults when they start in on us. And when one of them tries it on me, I gently turn the tables on them and bring some of their own shortcomings into the conversation.

It stops them every time. They can hand it out, but they can't take it when it hits home to themselves. So if you have a little critic in your home, or among your friends, try a little criticism towards them, and you'll be a lot happier in seeing them squirm, than in doing all the squirming yourself.

And when one of your friends say to you, "now I want the truth," remember to coat it with some of their good qualities and you will not lose your friends, as you would with the bald truth.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

LAD FACES DEATH FOR KILLING FATHER WHO BEAT MOTHER

FREEHOLD, N.J., Nov. 23—(AP)—Weeping at times and declaring he was "sorry" for what he had done, Robert C. Miller, husky and intelligent 15-year-old High school senior, was held to-day on a charge of slaying his father when the latter came home drunk and beat the boy's mother. Robert was to be arraigned to-day on a murder charge.

"Back of the whole case," said Assistant Prosecutor Edward Juska, "lies the tremendous affection" of Robert and his younger brother for their mother who has supported the family for three years by baking pies and cakes for the neighbors and a roadside refreshment stand.

The boy was quoted by Juska as confessing that he shot his unemployed father, Robert E. Miller, 41, with a .22 calibre automatic pistol when he came home drunk last night, woke up his wife, Marie, 36, demanded that she prepare supper for him, and scuffled with her when she refused to precede him downstairs.

The police closed in next on the office of the Friends of the Soviet Union. Everything readable on the premises was carried off. No padlock was applied at the F.S.U. office, thought.

Latest of the raids, over the weekend, brought into the police's possession what authorities purported to be a report of Communistic activities in Canada. It was seized in a private home. In none of the raids were there any arrests.

Meanwhile, the Civil Liberties Union is preparing to fight the padlock law through the courts. Union officers have announced a case is being drawn up, and they say they are ready to carry the right for "free speech" right up to the Privy Council if need be.

First Night Class Held At Lakefield

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 23.— The Lakefield High School is offering residents of Lakefield and district an opportunity to learn drafting and blueprint reading at a night class held in the High School on Thursday evenings. The first class was held on Thursday, November 18, with E. H. Brohman, who will conduct the class, presiding. The class can accommodate about eighteen members. Seventeen persons turned out on Thursday, the majority of whom were school pupils. "We are anxious that a larger percentage of villagers will avail themselves of this chance to learn drafting," Principal J. F. Harvey told The Examiner on Friday. Drafting materials are provided by the School Board. The classes begin at 7.30 p.m., and are held every Thursday evening.

HOME ECONOMICS FOR CAVAN GIRLS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAVAN, Nov. 23.—On Saturday afternoon the girls of Cavan district met at the home of their leader, Mrs. D. Tinney, for the purpose of beginning a new project in home economics, "The Milky Way."

Those present were: Mrs. Oakley Carley, Mrs. Norman Braithwaite, Misses Helen Smith, Nan Fallis, Bernice Richards, Norma Gillis, Beatrice Fallis, Dorothy Armstrong, Jean Trumpour, Gwenyth Staples, Mary Richards, Joyce Trumpour and Audrey Nill.

Mrs. Tinney presided for the election of officers. The following were elected: President, Helen Smith; 1st vice-president, Jean Trumpour; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Norman Braithwaite; secretary-treasurer, Gwenyth Staples.

The president presided for the remainder of the afternoon. The new club was given the name "Le Sentier du Lait."

It was decided that the meetings would be held from 2.30 till 4.00 every other Saturday, beginning on November 27. Mrs. Tinney offered her home for the next meeting. The leader distributed pamphlets on which discussion was held for a short time.

The practical work for the day consisted of lessons in measuring water, sugar, and salt in varying amounts. Mrs. Tinney read an interesting article, "Health via the Milk Route," which declared that milk contains a greater variety of health-giving elements than any other food and does more to improve physique, general health, and clear mentality than any other one food.

The dish-washers for the next meeting were appointed. Mrs. Braithwaite moved that the meeting adjourn. Jean Trumpour seconded the motion. During the informal half-hour which followed, Mrs. Tinney served a delightful lunch.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM McCORMICK

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BANCROFT, Nov. 23.—Suddenly at his home near Hybla, Ontario, on Friday afternoon, November 19, William McCormick, died before medical aid could be summoned. The deceased had been suffering from Asthma for the past three years, but his death came as a shock to his relatives and friends. He was fifty-six years of age and had spent practically all his life in that district.

Left to mourn his passing are his wife and seven children, one brother and five sisters.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon, November 21, from his late residence to Zion church, Hybla. Interment took place in the Zion Cemetery.

JEAN MARGUERITE DODD

HASTINGS, Nov. 23.—The funeral of Jean Marguerite, second youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dodd, who passed away on Wednesday, was held on Saturday afternoon, from St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and was attended by many relatives and friends from the entire village and surrounding district.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. D. K. Perrie of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. F. W. Newell of Trinity United church, who read passages of scriptures from the Old and New Testaments, which were words of hope and consolation to the bereaved friends.

During her illness of over eight year's duration deceased was always patient and will always be remembered for her sterling Christian spirit. Her last requests were fulfilled as she was laid to rest in a pink and white casket, taken to the church she used to faithfully attend and worship, and as the choir of which she was a member sang her favorite hymns, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "I Need Thee Every Hour" and "Unto the Hills, Do I Lift Up My Longing Eyes," the hymns she selected for her funeral; and as Mrs. Stewart Whitred sang "The Stranger of Galilee," the hymn she requested her to sing.

Seven young friends, Mrs. Alton Thompson, Mrs. A. Barker, Miss Dorothy Kerr, Miss Dorothy Turner, Miss Muriel Wilson, Miss Mildred Sherwin and Miss Verla Brinklow carried the many beautiful floral offerings, including tributes from St. Andrew's Young People's Society, the Public School Board, the town council, the Breithaupt Leather Co., the tannery employees, the family and many friends.

Six young men were pall-bearers: Messrs. Lynn Hill, Jas. Montgomery, Raymond Boyle, Howard Wilson, A. Barker and J. Brinklow. Interment was in the Trent Valley Cemetery, Hastings.

Friends from a distance were: Mr. Ed. Dodd of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dodd of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Lafave and friend of Peterborough; Mrs. Noah Gillis, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dunovan and Mr. Jack Peel of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. H. McGuire, Mrs. Allen Young, Mr. Thomas Turney; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGuire, Inspector W. J. and Mrs. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers and Mrs. Fosha of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Raycraft of Orland; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Raycroft and son Gordon of Morganston; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rayeroft of Warkworth; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kemp of Orland.

HUNTER DROPS GUN SHOT COSTS EYE

STRATFORD, Ont., Nov. 23—(CP)—William Robertson, 30, of Stratford, suffered severe injuries when the blast of a shotgun flashed past his face, tore the peak off his hunting cap and necessitated the removal of his right eye. The pellets ripped through his heavy hunting coat and lacerated his chest and inflicted painful wounds about his face and nose.

Robertson was hunting with companions Saturday near Tavistock when the accident occurred.

Robertson was standing on a stump when his gun slipped and discharged. The charge flashed within a hairbreadth of the man's head, the fringes of the pellet blast tearing through his coat and cutting his face.

The pellets which entered his right eye made it necessary to remove the eye when the man was brought to hospital here.

Laborite Killed

FR. COUGHLIN ASKS FRIENDS STOP AID

DETROIT, Nov. 23—(AP). — Rebuked by Pope Pius XI. through the apostolic delegate in Washington, Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower in Royal Oak, Mich., Sunday asked his "friends and followers" to stop their efforts to have his radio broadcasting resumed.

Father Coughlin's appeal, issued through his offices in Royal Oak, said:

"I have read the statement of His Excellency, Amleto Cicognani, the Apostolic delegate, as carried in the Daily press.

"As a loyal priest of the Catholic Church, I wish to state publicly, as I have stated many times privately, that I deplore deeply the public agitation which has been caused by the cancellation of my radio broadcasts.

"In the spirit of loyalty to my Church, I urge all my friends and followers to stop the holding of mass meetings or the sending of letters or telegrams to His Excellency the Archbishop of Detroit, or to the Holy See, with the design of securing the resumption of these radio broadcasts."

The Pope's statement described the action taken by Archbishop Edward Mooney of Detroit in ordering Father Coughlin to cease his public criticism of President Roosevelt as "just and timely," and declared that each bishop "has not only the right but the duty to supervise Catholic teaching in his diocese."

NEW IMPROVED PALMOLIVE HAS NEW MILDNESS, NEW LOVELY PERFUME, NEW HARDNESS—LASTS LONGER

DONALD AND I USE Palmolive EVERY DAY...

SAYS Irma M. Dampsy, prominent child psychologist

"Palmolive is the perfect beauty treatment," Mrs. Dampsy adds. "The blending of Palm and Olive Oils makes the lather wonderfully cleansing and refreshing."

And so, like millions of women everywhere, Mrs. Dampsy agrees with Dr. Dafoe. Like the guardians of the lovely Dionne Quins, she has selected Palmolive exclusively for use in her home.

Mothers! Choose Palmolive Now

Why should your children use any soap less gentle, less soothing than the soap chosen for the Dionnes? Why not decide now, that only Palmolive, made with Olive Oil, will ever touch your children's tender skin!

And you too, who want to keep your complexion smooth and lovely through the years! Why not give your skin the beauty care that only Palmolive's careful blend of Olive and Palm Oils can give. Why not use safe, pure, gentle Palmolive for your own face and bath!

DR. DAFOE SAYS:

"At the time of the birth of the Dionne Quintuplets, and for sometime afterward, they were bathed in Olive Oil... When the time arrived for soap and water baths, we selected Palmolive Soap exclusively for daily use in bathing these famous babies."

Central Ontario Rotarians Hold Inter-Club Meeting

Fred. L. Roy Shows His Pictures Of The International Meeting At Nice

Fred L. Roy's moving pictures of the convention of Rotary International at Nice, France, with a glimpse of the pageantry of the Coronation were the highlight of a most enjoyable inter-city meeting held in the Empress Hotel on Monday night by the Peterborough Rotary Club. Delegations from the Oshawa, Whitby, Bowmanville, Port Hope, Cobourg, Lindsay, and Campbellford clubs, as well as a number of other guests were present, with an unusually large attendance of local Rotarians, and the affair was voted one of the most successful in the history of the Peterborough club.

President Art Runions of the Peterborough Club was in the chair, and extended a most hearty welcome to the visiting Rotarians, after which he called upon the presidents of the outside clubs to introduce the members of their quotas. Ross Strike did the honors for Bowmanville, Charles Davidson for Campbellford, Jack Burnett for Cobourg, Dan McQuarrie for Lindsay in the absence of the president of the club, Hugh Hall for Oshawa, "Bonny" Bonnerville for Port Hope, and George Ashly for Whitby.

The musical program was in charge of John Smith of the Peterborough club, with George Nicholls at the piano. Included in the community singing led by Rotarian Smith was one of Peterborough Rotary's two new songs, this one written by Dr. R. W. Frank and sung to the tune of the Stein Song. The other, the words of which were written by Dr. A. T. Barr, was sung effetively by George Coleman, Jr., a guest of the evening. The air in this number is that of "Mandalay." Mr. Coleman later in the program gave a very enjoyable rendition of the popular "Home on the Range." George Lucy of Campbellford displayed a fine tenor voice in his enjoyable singing of "Friend o' Mine," and Bev. George of the Port Hope club sang most acceptably "Mother Machree" and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes."

Peterborough Souvenirs.

Visiting Rotarians took home with them souvenirs of Peterborough in the form of Made-in-Peterborough Westclox watches and alarm clocks as the result of a draw engineered by Ross Dobbin and Jack Gillespie.

The pictures by Fred Roy concluded the program. Rotarian Roy said by way of introduction that the world conception of Rotary he had been able to obtain as a result of his visit to the convention at Nice had been quite different from anything he had gained during his previous sixteen years in the organization.

His contribution to the program began with a reel of Coronation scenes in colors, taken outside Buckingham Palace. Then followed films dealing with the Nice convention, with some fine shots of the Paris Exposition taken en route. Noteworthy features of the Nice film were the scenes showing the arrival of the President of France to open the convention and the colorful "Battle of the Flowers," which was one of the most picturesque incidents of the convention. Included were some remarkably fine scenic pictures of Monte Carlo and sea and landscapes in colors taken by Mr. Roy during a motor trip along the coast of Southern France, the whole effect being most impressive.

President Runions expressed the thanks of local and visiting Rotarians to Rotarian Roy for his most enjoyable contribution to the success of the evening.

Faces Deportation

Characterized as one of the most undesirable persons ever permitted to enter the United States, the U.S. government is attempting to cancel the citizenship taken out six years ago, of Nicholas Bogomoletz, ABOVE, Hollywood cobbler. URGES CANADIAN WRITERS IN CHINA

VICTORIA, Nov. 23 (CP)—Suggestion that Canadian newspapers should have their correspondents in Chinese cities was made yesterday in the British Columbia legislature by George M. Murray (Lib.-Lillooet).

Claiming cable rates at from 50 cents to a dollar a word were too high, Mr. Murray said:

"Canadian news services are therefore compelled to depend upon foreign sources for news and this service is often colored. There should be Canadian correspondents of Canadian newspapers at Shanghai, Hong Kong and Singapore and Ottawa should assist in this connection."

Mr. Murray, who spent several months in the Orient last summer, also suggested exchange of Canadian journalists, school teachers, college professors and trade association officials with British communities in the Pacific.

DO NOT MINIMIZE JAPAN'S STRENGTH LECTURER WARNS

Visualizing the time when he hoped nations might live side by side in peace and understanding, the Rev. J. F. Goforth in a brief introduction to his lecture entitled "Colorful China," Monday night told an audience at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, "In my own small way I am hoping my lecture might help to break down barriers of mistrust and suspicion."

Son of the late Rev. Dr. Jonathan Goforth and Mrs. Goforth, both pioneer missionaries of the Presbyterian Church in Honan Province, the Rev. Mr. Goforth spoke with authority about China and its people and presented 1,800-feet of moving film, much of it in natural color.

John Anderson introduced the lecturer, and later during an intermission in the program sang a solo number entitled "Loch Lomond," with Martin B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., at the organ.

Due to a failure of part of the lighting system in the auditorium, the Rev. Goforth made the introduction to his lecture very brief, but he did not overlook the opportunity to remark on the close ties that existed between St. Pauls congregation and his late father.

Travelled in China.

During the past summer the Rev. Mr. Goforth travelled 10,000 miles through China and many of the pictures he presented showed the havoc wrought by Japanese bombs in the "miracle city" of Shanghai and in other parts of the war zone.

His pictures of China started with a view of the Great Wall built 200 years Before Christ. Calling attention to the remarkable preservation of the ancient wall, the lecturer said he liked to regard it as the symbol of the soul of China.

A nation which had suffered greatly down through the ages, the Rev. Mr. Goforth said, China had cultivated a strong spirit of endurance and forbearance. Patience, he said, was one of the most exalted of the virtues.

Due to Shintoism.

Earlier in his lecture, the Rev. Mr. Goforth touched briefly on Japan and warned "We must not minimize their strength." He believed that Shintoism was largely responsible for the militant spirit of the Land of the Rising Sun, and he prayed that China would yet be able to withstand invasion and be delivered from her desolation.

PAID AGITATORS CLAIMED BEHIND WILDCAT STRIKE

DETROIT, Nov. 23 (AP).—Charges that "paid, provocateurs" acted in the Pontiac, Mich., wildcat strike were voiced today as steps were taken to make the newest peace in the automobile labor field a lasting one.

Unidentified outside interests seeking to drum up business for labor spy organizations were blamed.

The United Automobile Workers of America, whose international leaders succeeded in halting the unauthorized strike at the Fisher body plant of General Motors Corporation yesterday, promised an investigation of the charges.

Aides of Homer Martin, union president, said the inquiry will be carried out along with the U.A.W.A.'s preparations for a grievance hearing next Monday and renewed efforts to negotiate another agreement with General Motors.

The hearing, before Willard E. Hotchkiss of Chicago as arbitrator, will carry hopes that a permanently peaceful means for adjusting disputes will be arrived at, union officials said. The Fisher strike came virtually on the first anniversary of the outbreaks of strikes which ultimately paralyzed the industry last winter.

Charges that 'agents provocateurs' had 'instigated' the Fisher strike came from Walter Reuther, member of the union's International Executive Board. Three men were reported "under suspicion."

TWO-MONTH TERM IS GIVEN DRIVER

Found guilty of a charge of criminal negligence when he appeared on remand before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., this morning, Brock Wright, market gardener, Howden Avenue, North Monaghan, was sentenced to two months' imprisonment.

After hearing representations of Defence Counsel T. J. Carley, K.C., His Worship ordered the sentence to date back to November 11, "as I think that at that time the Crown should have been ready to go on with the hearing."

A further charge of being intoxicated while in control of a motor vehicle to which the accused has entered a plea of not guilty, was set over for hearing at a later date. Both charges against Wright arose as the result of an accident at Lakefield on the evening of October 20 last, and in which William Brown of Young's Point was injured while changing a tire at the side of the road.

In delivering judgment on the criminal negligence charge, His Worship observed, "I am satisfied the accused was sufficiently under the influence of liquor to be of danger to himself and others. I have come to this conclusion after weighing carefully the evidence and giving full effect to the possible shock he might have sustained in the accident."

The Magistrate told the accused, "I have found you guilty of this offence. It was largely due to your own folly in taking liquor while driving, but in sentencing you, I am taking into consideration that the injury you did to Brown is probably severe punishment for you in itself."

Peterborough's Red Cross Campaign Gets Under Way With Canvassers' Meeting

The annual Red Cross appeal for funds opened on Monday afternoon with a well-attended meeting of the Society in the Officers' Mess at the Armouries. Cards and instructions were given out to the canvassers, who will be busy in the city for the remainder of the week.

N. R. Vinton, of Toronto, Field Secretary of the Ontario Division, Canadian Red Cross, addressed the meeting. "This past year has been one of emergency," he said. "One year ago at the annual meeting of the Ontario Division, the Red Cross was challenged with a situation that had to be met, that of alleviating the suffering of 250,000 fellow Canadians in the West." Bedding and clothing were sent to the distressed areas, and over $350,000 raised in funds and goods to provide the requisites of decent living which had vanished from many homes. "No gesture in the last decade," said the speaker, "has meant more to the cementing of good relationships between the east and west than that."

The American flood was the second emergency of last year, that was met by the Red Cross Society, when $30,000 was raised quickly and forwarded to the American branches.

The speaker had spent three weeks in the Thames Valley, at the time of "the greatest flood known to this part of the world." A description was given of the speed with which the Red Cross had leaped to meet this third catastrophe. The flood waters hit the city of London at seven o'clock on a Monday evening, but by five o'clock of that day the local branch had the Armouries ready to house the hundreds of refugees, with army equipment called into use. Lack of casualties was due to the fact that boats had been collected, and a rescue squad was ready to start out. An army of volunteers, over 1,000, worked under the Red Cross. Thousands were being fed every day, and in Thamesville, the Society ran a hot soup kitchen for people unable to cook in their homes. In the rural sections, financial and other assistance was given the farmers who had lost valuable stock.

Outpost Hospitals.

Speaking of the outpost hospitals, Mr. Vinton said: "Get a picture of over 10,000 kiddies in clinics in the north country, doctors going from the big centres to conduct ear, eye, nose, throat and chest clinics." These are held in the outposts, in school-houses or any available building. "Over 1,000 little new Canadians opened their eyes in outpost hospitals during the past year," said the speaker, "and without a single death." The words of the president of the Australian Red Cross Society, speaking to the New Zealand Division last year, were quoted by Mr. Vinton, "The only enemy of Red Cross is human suffering, the only weapon active benevolence, the only reward, the joy of doing good; whose truest records are written not in the books of the Society, well as they may be kept, but in the grateful hearts of mankind."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. R. Harstone, past president of the Society, and of whom Mr. Vinton said: "The flame of Red Cross is still burning brightly in the hearts of the soldiers, and as a soldier I want to pay tribute to Mrs. Harstone and her work of so many years." Appreciation was expressed for the work of the Peterborough Branch as a whole, Reviews Past Year.

The Society's president, Mrs. R. H. Turner, in opening the meeting, gave a resume of the general work of the Red Cross, including help sent to a distance and the various local departments, and spoke words of encouragement for the present campaign. Mrs. C. Ray, convenor of the Visiting Housekeeper Service, gave an account of the work of the housekeepers, two of whom were present at the meeting. A vote of thanks to Mr. Vinton was moved by Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner. Appreciation to Mrs. John Mills, convenor of the campaign committee, was expressed by the president.

Tea was served at the close of the meeting, when Mrs. Kenner and Miss Isaura Davidson presided at the lace-covered table, attractive with yellow and pink chrysanthemums in a silver bowl. Assistants were Mrs. C. Ray, Mrs. G. B. Boucher, Mrs. Fred Hooper, Mrs. John Mills, Mrs. Lynch and Miss M. Rush. Convenors were Mrs. C. G. Graham and Miss H. Munro.

100 ATTEND CLASS AT NIGHT SESSION

The prospecting class of 25, including one co-ed, was increased to one hundred at Monday night's lecture by Dr. H. C. Horwood of the Ontario Department of Mines in the public library auditorium. A few of the audience were women, and some of the men brought samples of rock for examination.

The lectures are designed in a series, but each is complete in itself. Persons who are interested in geology, mining and prospecting may attend any of the evening lectures from 8 to 9 o'clock, and the afternoon classes from 2 to 4 o'clock, without any loss of connection with the rest of the series. Six minerals were discussed Monday with explanation of the type of rocks in which they are usually found. Volcanic and igneous rocks were reviewed in the introductory lecture, with explanation of how the granite type of igneous rock occurred.

Dr. Horwood said that molybdenite was reported in some parts of this district, and if it could be found in quantity it would be a valuable asset to the district for the reason that molybdenum is rarely found in Canada.

Lectures will continue every afternoon and evening until Friday night.

Leopold Macaulay Born In Peterboro'

Leopold Macaulay who has been elected leader of the Conservative party in the Ontario Legislature was born in Peterborough fifty years ago on Thursday of this week. His parents were Robert Macaulay and Agnes Giroux and at an early age he moved to Lindsay where he received his public school education. When it came time for him to attend high school he was a resident of Toronto and there he went to Harbord Collegiate and later the University of Toronto and Osgoode Hall. In 1926 he was elected to the Ontario legislature for York South and has been re-elected at every election since. In 1930 he became provincial secretary and two years later Minister of Highways. He is married and has two sons and one daughter.

Functional Representation In Government Is Discussed

Confer Too Much Power On Producer Dr. A. S. Hill Tells W. E. A.

Government by functional representation was discussed by Dr. A. S. H. Hill at the meeting of the Workers' Educational Association, Monday night. Representation by population is the basis of government in this country, but one of the theoretic forms is the functional plan which would allot government representatives to occupational groups, machinists, engineers, laborers, doctors and so on. One phase of this system was adopted in Russia when the Soviet organization of working groups, inaugurated during the later days of the Czarist regime, was accepted as a political framework by the Communists who place all the emphasis on the proletarian elements.

Seemed Ideal

Dr. Hill weighed the factors in favor of and against the plan of functional representation. Broadly regarded, it seemed ideal, partly because it would ensure representation to every group of society contributing to its welfare. One of the difficulties that would have to be faced would be the comparative importance of constituent groups. Should doctors and college professors be restricted to the same share of representation as dock-workers and laborers generally? And who would determine their relative importance in the functional cycle? Should the financial affairs of a country be dominated by occupational influence?

Would Aid the Producer

Functional representation would confer too much power on producers to the detriment of consumers, Dr. Hill said. Members of a government, elected or appointed on that basis, would naturally be expected to give first consideration to the interests of their respective groups, and that interest would be from the position of producers. Although they were actually all consumers, yet in their primary interests they would endeavor to advance the claims of their respective groups as producers.

OBITUARY

J. E. LEVASSEUR

The funeral of Joseph Emile Levasseur was held Monday morning from the home of his son, Alphonse Ievasseur, 215 Perry street, to the Church of the Sacred Heart where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. J. J. O'Brien. The pall bearers were Edward Butler, A. Corbin, T. Collins, P. Milloy, C. Johnston and J. Condon. At the conclusion of Mass Father O'Brien spoke on death as the end of man's life and work on earth and the opportunity and necessity of making use of the means of grace to receive the rewards promised those who love and serve God. Interment was at St. Peter's cemetery.

MRS. A. E. COULTHARD

Daughter of one of the old prominent families of Peterborough years ago, Mrs. A. E. Coulthard died late on Monday at Nicholls Hospital after a short illness. Her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. John Ludgate, her father having been at one time a leader in the lumbering industry of this city and district. Mrs. Coulthard had spent all her life in Peterborough, living in recent years at 547 Downie street. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. R. R. Hall of this city and Miss Flora Ludgate of Honolulu, and two brothers, Bruce A. Ludgate of Philadelphia and James Ludgate of Parry Sound. The body is resting at the funeral parlors of A. Comstock & Sons, from which place the funeral will be held Thursday at 2.30 p.m. to St. John's Church and thence to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Canon Robertson will conduct the services.

W. C. BECK HEAD C.P.R. DIVISION

MONTREAL, Nov. 23—W. C. Beck, superintendent, Trenton division, Canadian Pacific Railway, has been promoted superintendent at Smith's Falls effective December 1, to succeed Andrew Williams, who will retire under the pension regulations on that date, according to announcement today by J. K. Savage, general superintendent, Quebec district.

Other promotions hinging on this one were announced by N. McMillan, general superintendent Ontario district and affected S. Thomson, assistant superintendent, Bruce division, who becomes superintendent of Trenton division, and J. R. Kimpton, chief clerk, department of personnel who succeedes Mr. Thomson.

Andrew Williams, who retires after more than 48 years of loyal and efficient service, entered Canadian Pacific service in November, 1889, as operator in the New Brunswick district. He became superintendent at Woodstock in 1914, and acted as superintendent at different points in New Brunswick and Ontario, being appointed to Smiths Falls in 1930.

His successor, W. C. Beck, joined the company as clerk at Chapleau, Ont., in 1906, and served in various positions there and in North Bay before becoming assistant chief clerk in the general manager's office at Montreal in 1916. He became chief clerk in 1917 and chief clerk to the vice-president of Eastern Lines in 1918. Mr. Beck was made assistant superintendent at Ottawa in 1924 and at Belleville in 1929. He was promoted superintendent at Trenton in 1933.

A MEAN THIEF

William Taylor who earns a precarious living as a peddler of market garden produce was on his rounds in the south-end this morning with his horse and rig, when someone helped themselves to a 5-pound pail of honey.

At the time Taylor discovered the theft he had sold only 5-cents worth of parsnips. He had hoped during the morning to make enough profit from his sales to attend Knox Church turkey supper this evening, but the loss of the honey left him with a deficit that could not be met.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLLE

Wednesday, November 24

According to the lunar as well as the mutual aspects, this day's prospects, while fair astrologically, may be enhanced by individual affort. The best possibilities will be in connection with mergers, rings or political or diplomatic circles. The mind may be in a restless or quixotic mood, but stick to routine anyhow.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year in which practically all profitable issues depend upon individual effort. And while planetary forces point to fair prospects rings, mergers, politics, diplomacy or secret organizations, craft is likely to score above direct methods anywhere.

A child born on this day may have a rather peculiar nature, with impractical or visionary urges, and a restless and adventurous spirit that may possibly buckle down to write mystery or adventure stories.

Had To Sell Cattle To Get Money To Pay Hired Men's Wages

Letter From Lydden, Sask., Woman Tells Of Conditions In Her District

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAVAN, Nov. 23. — When the Cavan contribution to the car, loaded at Millbrook, was being packed, Mrs. H. Tinney enclosed a letter in a bag of apples, and received the following letter:

Lydden, Sask., Nov. 17, 1937.

Dear Mrs. Tinney:

We were pleased to receive the car from Millbrook. It certainly was a wonderful car and much appreciated by the people. We would write to the organization there, thanking them for it, but we don't know to whom to write. I am enclosing a slip explaining as well as I can how the distribution was made. The car was unloaded, everything sorted, and resorted into groups, counted, and then they figured out how it could be divided. Several of us made out counter checks of each division and as the people came, one of the committee took that bill and a box and went around and filled out the order, as it were.

I think the majority of the people were satisfied with the way it was handled. My husband said he thought your letter came out of a bag of Tolman Sweets. There weren't enough apples to give any one family that many, so they were all dumped together, and then parcelled out. I had one and it certainly was a treat to taste an Ontario apple.

In a Peculiar Position

I lived in and around Ingersoll until I was sixteen, and then we moved up to New Ontario. I stayed there until I was twenty and came out her on a visit, met my husband, and have been here ever since. He came from near London and has been here since 1904. The people in this district are in a peculiar position. Most of us have full equipment, cars, trucks, tractors and a lot of land, good buildings, which we bought previous to 1929 and yet the most haven't five dollars in our pocket. We hadn't a kernel of grain of any kind this year; but up until this year, we have always had some. In '31 we had over ten thousand bushels, but we got as low as 19 cents a bushel, so it was a liability rather than an asset. We used to keep over one hundred head of cattle, but we have had to sell our cattle year after year to pay the hired help, so you can understand a little of the situation. We are about one hundred miles southwest of Saskatoon, but the people around Regina are much worse off than we, because they have had nine years like the past one. I don't see how they have stood it. That soil moving day after day is enough to send people crazy. ePople realize now they have tried to farm on too big a scale.

Thanking you again, I am

Yours Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Marian Thompson

P.S.: I used to know people around Havelock, Norwood, Lakefield and Indian River, but have forgotten their names, most of them anyway.

The way the contents of the car was distributed: I can of fruit to a family of 5, over 5 two cans; 1 can Toddy, Ovaltine, tomato juice or milk if more than two in a family; I can of vegetable to each member of a family and 1 can over to a family; 4 lbs. cereal or beans to each family; 1 cabbage to each family; - large pumpkin, or 2 small ones or citron to each family; potatoes, carrots, beets, and parsnips as needed; a small bag of apples to a family with children. Some of these things had to be grouped as there was such a variety, but we tried to equalize the value to each family—207 families or 948 people.

BURNED IN BLAST

INGERSOLL, Ont., Nov. 23. — (CP).— Herbert Case, 62, and R. Crane, 20, employees of the Ingersoll Cream Cheese Company, were burned in an explosion last night.

The mishap occurred in the pump house room at the plant. As Crane stepped from a ladder into the pump house room where Case was working carrying a lighted lantern an explosion followed.

INSTITUTE HEAD

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—(CP)—Mrs. Herbert McGregor of Penticton, B. C., today was named president of the Federated Women's Institute of Canada at the closing session of the federation's 10th biennial conference.

Other officers elected were: Miss Mabel Childerhose, Rosser, Man., first vice-president; Mrs. C. E. Petch Huntingdon, Que., second vice-president; Mrs. J. P. Ferguson, Trochu, Alta, recording secretary; Mrs. Harley Dunham, Petitcodiac, N.B., treasurer.

Four Mustangs Are Selected Intercollegiate All-Stars Aerial Offensive Counts

Attacks Around Gray And Munro To Settle Title Saturday

TORONTO, Nov. 23 (CP)—Four Western Mustangs and assorted other gridiron kickers from Queen's, Toronto and McGill make up the fifth annual Intercollegiate Union All-star football team, announced today by The Canadian Press. Coaches and sports writers selected the team.

In a division where the punt and the place-kick are popular scoring weapons, perhaps it is natural that ranking booters take precedence over running backs, passing backs, defensive backs and just backs. Anyway, three kickers were selected for the backfield and a place-kick expert was tossed in at outside wing for emergency purposes.

The All-Star Lineup

Flying wing—Jack Kennedy, Western.
Half—Cam Gray, Toronto.
Half—John Munro, Queen's.
Half (secondary defence—Don Mumford, Toronto.
Quarter—Ronnie Perowne, McGill.
Snap—George Willis, Western.
Inside—George Hornig, McGill.
Inside—Bill Ewener, Western.
Middle—Andy Anton, McGill.
Middle—Charlie Peck, Queen's.
Outside — Bernie Thornton, Queen's.
Outside—Charlie Box, Western.

All season the college teams have been deciding matters in the air. Western's offensive was built in behind the long-range punting of Kennedy, Queen's drive depended on Munro's punting and Thornton's place-kicking. Toronto had the brilliant Cam Gray, one of the country's best placement artists and a steady all-around kicker.

Outdistanced in the Air

Largely because they were outdistanced in the aerial exchanges, McGill finished in the ruck. Western was eliminated Saturday by Toronto's Blues who concocted for the playoff occasion a dazzling running and passing attack. But the Blues were kicked into the playoffs by Gray.

It will be Toronto against Queen's—and Gray against Munro—in Saturday's final here. Right to the finish the kickers will have the spotlight.

When the coaches and press-box experts put together a backfield they didn't have to look past the punters. Gray has been more than a hooter, so have Munro and Kennedy. Each of the three was considered more valuable to his team than such ball-carriers as Boyce Sherk of Western, Russ Merifield of McGill and Jim MacDonald of Toronto.

For plunging and secondary defence half they took big Don Mumford of the Blues, a battering-ram. And to strengthen the plunging division they called in McGill's burly Andy Anton, a middle wing and just as good a line-smasher as Mumford.

The voting strongly favored this attacking section, as it did fighting Ron Perowne of McGill for quarterback. Perowne was well ahead of two opponents, Barry Gray of Toronto and Ted Young of Queen's, in the balloting.

Close In The Wings

But competition along the wingline was close. George Willis, centre of a Mustang wall that stood up nobly until it collapsed Saturday, was returned to snap for the second time by a substantial margin. Elsewhere the selectors had different ideas.

Veterans George Hornig of McGill and Bill Ewener of Western got the inside posts with three others at their heels. The beaten were Bruiser McLean of Queen's, Turney Williams of Toronto and Lou Rischin of McGill.

Anton and Peck took the calls for middle wings by the closest possible margins over George Sprague of Queen's and Frank Sirdevan of Toronto. Peck's ability to forward pass and Anton's great plunging record tipped the scales against two steady defensive linemen who also can carry the ball.

It was a three-way affair at the ends and Toronto's Jack Holden, one of the best outside wings anywhere, lost to Thornton and Captain Charlie Box of Western. Not in several years has the Intercollegiate Union had three better tackling ends than these.

DES SMITH

To the National Hockey league via England is the unusual route taken by Des Smith, tall blonde defenceman with Montreal Maroons. He is performing nobly at left defence, the position vacated by Lionel Conacher, who has turned his attentions to politics.

Kingston Is Tops Van Horne Series

KINGSTON, Nov. 23.—Kingston took the lead early in the first period over the Belleville Redmen in the George VanHorne Memorial Series here last night when Dickson scored a goal on a lovely pass from Partis.

Tabby Gow, Kingston right wing, was carried off the ice when he crashed into the boards behind his own goal. Gow suffered an injured leg, and was later removed to the General Hospital.

Officials—Stein and Walsh.

SKI ENTHUSIASTS PLANNING TO CALL GENERAL MEETING

At an executive meeting of the Peterborough Ski Club last night, it was decided to hold a general club meeting next Monday night, November 29th, at the Y.M.C.A., and all members and ski enthusiasts of the city are invited. It will take the form of a dinner at 6.15 p.m., followed by a short business session to further plans for the Ontario zone championships to be held in Peterborough on February 5th.

H. E. Cliff, chairman of the Ontario Ski Zone Committee, will be present to give a brief talk on skiing in Europe. He accompanied the Canadian Olympic ski team to Germany in 1936, and his experiences were quite interesting. Don Morton, chairman of the motion picture section of the zone, is also coming to show two fine reels on ski-ing in the Austrian Tyrol. Mr. Cliff assures the local club that these films are better than those shown at the annual meeting last spring.

At this meeting announcement will be made as to the commencement of the dry ski school, under Jack Holland. The Telemarker, the Club's weekly news sheet, will make its first appearance of the season this week.

HAVELOCK

WRECKERS STAGE PARTY AND DANCE

HAVELOCK, Nov. 23— A very successful card party and dance was staged on Friday evening by the members of the "Wreckers" football and hockey teams, under the direction of their popular coach and manager, Robert McCutcheon. Some twenty tables of cards were played and net receipts from the evening including the lucky draw amounted to over $46.

Winners at euchre were: Ladies' first, Miss Katie McCutcheon, Round Lake; ladies' consolation, Miss Geraldine Moore; men's first, Mr. Donald Mathison; men's consolation, F. Keene, Preneveau. The fifteen pound turkey went to Mr. J. Peters.

Hayes Raps Patrons For Talking

She gave her 608th performance of Queen Victoria ih "Victoria Regina" last night. The play is a sell-out for the rest of its road tour.

"Now that I'm in a play that's a success, I can talk without anyone saying 'sour grapes'," the actress said, "Theatre audiences have forgotten how to respond. They don't applaud like they used to. They don't laugh. They talk.

"What do you think it feels like to look down at the second or third row, and see people slumped in their seats?"

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd C'uckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

HAD A short chat Saturday with Eddie Murphy, who used to play ball and rugby here before turning pro with Knotty Lee's Ogdensburg Colts. Eddie is back in Toronto now after playing semi-pro ball in Montreal through the summer—having left Ogdensburg early in the season. He says he had a fair season on the diamond but that the class of moneyed baseball in Montreal isn't too high. Eddie rather regrets he took the jump to pro ranks as the money wasn't anything to retire on and he hasn't landed a good job out of it either. Right now, Murphy misses rugby plenty. He was a fine amateur shortstop and gridder, but pro ballsters in the Class "D" and "C" circuit are a dime a dozen—and they never get rich. Eddie is wondering at present if he can't get his amateur standing back ere too long.

RIVERVIEW A.C. has arranged all its bouts now for the boxing card here Dec. 1st. The club has signed up Art Darnbrough of Toronto to meet Harry Low. Darnbrough is a Provincial titleholder at 135 and will represent Canada at the British Empire Games, so he compares with those other imported topnotchers, Bev. Carter and Joe Genovese of Toronto, which the club is giving the fans of Peterborough. There will be seven bouts, three main ones of five rounds each, that is five two-minute rounds, and three prelims along with a curtain-raiser. Also an exhibition of amateur rasslin' between Scotty MacKenzie and Harry Burford, Toronto welters, with one fall or a 30-minute time limit.

* * * * * * *

HERE'S THE fight card complete: Nick Orlando vs. Bev. Carter, Len Minicola vs. Joe Genovese, Harry Low vs. Art Darnbrough, Pat Jordan vs. Frenchy Bousley, Bill Joiner vs. Mal Packenham, Jerry Belland vs. Jack Chamberlain, and Buddy Redmond vs. Izzy MacIntosh. The last four are all-local bouts, but the boys are picked who will turn in a slam-bang performance and knock the ears off their rivals if they can. Since the club wants to survive and the promoters figure they'll have to give the fans a hotcha program to bring 'em back in gobs. Those three top scraps featuring Toronto and local pugilists would headline any Queen City card—no kidding, at all. Most of the mittsers on this program are lightweights or welters, but there are half a dozen kayo ringmen—goes with a wallop.

FLYING OFFICER Carling-Kelly, known as Cab, succeeds Squadron Leader Lawrence as manager of the Trenton Fliers, hockey team this winter. The outfit is in the Kingston pre-season loop and is likely to be again grouped with the Petes in intermediate company. And they'll be plenty hostile this winter after the shellacking they took here in rugby from ye Orfuns! Some 25 players were at a workout the other day, including quite a number of the championship 1936 "A" squad, guys like Gibson, Lalonde, Partridge, the McNeeley twins, Cowley and others. They also have a few good recruits from Western Canada, and probably a few more down Ottawa way. Yeah, those Fliers will be tough to take in our O.H.A. intermediate "A"—or will it be senior "B" this season?—grouping again this winter.

PUCK FANS here will no doubt be interested in the new players who received their O.H.A. transfers here. On the intermediate list are J. H. Barnes and Vic Brown, both of Weybourne, Saskatchewan. The former is a 175-pound defenceman, about as heavy as Archie Weir of the Petes. Brown has been here since last spring, being a utility ball player here all summer. He plays left wing. Both have good records in fast hockey in the district which produced North Battleford, Allan Cup finalist last winter. Junior imports to Peterborough are Honey Tompkins, centre, and Earl McNabb, goalie. The latter hails from Owen Sound and comes highly recommended. Tompkins was the speed merchant with Belleville juniors in our group last winter. And that is the dope on them.

* * * * * * *

LOOKS LIKE Belleville will enter a team in the gals' cage loop of Central Ontario which is being organized now. Lindsay and Trenton have been invited, too. Teams pretty sure of starting at present include two local entries, C.G.E. and Westclox, along with Port Hope and Cobourg. Probably a six-team circuit with the Quinte and Scugog teams climbing aboard within a few weeks. Final arrangements will be made at another session in Cobourg on December 3rd. This is something new in district sports and should prove popular with the players, though we doubt if club treasurers will require a wheelbarrow to tote their gate receipts to the bank the morning after a contest! Should be fun anyway.

* * * * * * *

OSHAWA SCRIVENER says: "Peterborough Collegiate, senior champs of this district, came through as expected when they trounced Albert College 28-0. Kelly and Curtin, former members of the Orfuns,"—no, not Kelly—"were two of the stars but both were penalized for fighting. Coach Bamforth had better straighten these boys away on the fact fighting isn't allowed in school games. Peterborough Orfuns played at Oakwood Stadium, the Toronto officials 'discovering' an available stadium after all. Orfuns trounced the Toronto team 19-5 right on their own field, so that series is conceded." Other Central Ontario scribes also figure Orfuns will go into the O.R.F.U. intermediate "A" finals against Sarnia.

* * * * * * *

THIS FROM the Sarnia Observer: "The Dundas-Sarnia game ended on Sarnia's three-yard line in a welter of swinging fists. Intermediate football may lack some of the streamline polish of the senior game, but it is more red-blooded pastiming. There has been more sockeroo to the Dundas-Sarnia series the past two years than 10 years of senior ball has sired. They tackled one another with thumping dives that echoed from the valley's walls. In the fourth quarter, Rich Jackson slapped Cahill down so hard while running back a kick the pair of them almost wrecked the press box at the end of their swirling slide. Dundas ran into some tough luck Saturday morning when Ross Craig, their booter, fell and broke his ankle in three places. Perry had a margin over the capable subs the homesters ran in." Craig is a son of Ross Craig, ex-Peterborough gridder of the old days who later played for Hamilton Tigers.

* * * * * * *

HITHER AND yawn: Bun Morgansen states four of the G.W. Grads, who ousted Oshawa in senior ball finals, will turn pro ere next summer . . . . In a Kingston City Loop puck tilt last night, Kingston beat Belleville by a 9-2 count . . . . Local hockey prospects for the O. H. A. teams are invited to nightly P.T. drills at the "Y" . . . . St. John's juvenile cage squad look like a good prospect for the Provincial church playdowns . . . . Quinte writer says Albert College crew ran into too much mud here Sat'day—are ya sure it wasn't too much P.C.I.? . . . . And Lindsay Post writer predicts Toronto City Club will make a bunch of additions to the lineup they bring here next Saturday to play Orfuns . . . . Hockey Club draw tickets locally are going quite well . . . . Lot of O.H.A. clubs will find themselves re-classified this winter, maybe Belleville being moved up to intermediate "A", the Petes to senior "B", and so on . . . . Lindsay juniors' protest of the Bowmanville rugbyists was not considered . . . . Q.—Did Oshawa hockeyists get many imports this wipter? A.—Sure, they got A. Tonn—a ton, Ab Tonn, see, ya dope?

American Goalie Sprawls On Ice To Stave Off Brunis

Trainer Predicts New Records For Trot Champion Greyhound

Lowered The 14-Year-Old Mark Of Peter Manning Last Summer

The grey flash, which stepped a mile in 1:56 at Lexington this fall to shave three-fourths of a second off Peter Manning's 14-year-old record, will be back next year attempting to lower the mark another notch.

"The only thing that will prevent him from racing next year will be failure to stand training," said Palin, here for the 43rd Old Glory auction sale which opens to-day at Squadron "A" armory. "Right now he is as sound as they come. He's out jogging every day at Indianapolis but probably will spend part of the winter at Orlando, Fla.

Better Than 1.56.

"I honestly believe he can break 1:56," Palin added as he admitted the big gelding probably could have broken Peter Manning's record earlier in the season had he so desired. As it was he hung up a new mark of 1.59¾ for a half mile track, lowered the 1½ mile time to 3.03½ and equalled Peter Manning's record before travelling a mile in the fastest time ever made by a trotter.

Palin said he intended to race his ace in some stakes although most of his starts probably will be against time. This year he was opposed by other horses in only one of his five starts.

Sep even ventured the opinion that and hunters a few things about taking fences.

"Why the other day, he found himself trailing a stablemate coming from pasture and took a short cut. There was a six foot fence in front of him but he took off like a finished jumper and cleared it with only a tick."

Ottawa-Notre Dame Game Under Replay

OTTAWA, Nov. 23 (C.P.). — The executive committee of the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union last night upheld a protest by Ottawa New Edinburgh's football team against Notre Dame de Grace of Montreal and ordered a replay of their Eastern Canada semi-final game here next Saturday.

The committee's decision was announced by Dr. Andy Davies, president of the Big Four.

Ottawa-New Edinburgh's contended Notre Dame de Grace had no right to use Ian Craig who played senior intercollegiate football last year with McGill University. Notre Dame de Grace last Saturday defeated the Ottawa club 20-11. Craig scored nine of his team's points.

Argos Name Morris And Cutler For Coveted Russell Award

Annual Reward Given Most Valuable Player To His Team In Interprovincial

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—Teddy Morris, the little Iron Man of Canadian football, and Wes Cutler, one of the sport's hardest tackling outside wings, were nominated by their Argonaut teammates last night for the Jeff Russel Memorial Award, given annually to the player in the Interprovincial Union adjudged to be the most valuable to his team and also most sportsmanlike.

Result of the poll taken Friday was announced last night by Manager Herb Boynton. Jim Palmer, line coach, and veteran inside wing, was a close third in the balloting, the boy manager said.

No wiser selection could have been made. Morris and Cutler have earned the respect of friend and foe alike for their ability and conduct on the football field. The two were recommended by Argonauts two years ago, but failed to make the grade at that time.

In Memory of a Sportsman.

The Russell Trophy was presented to the Big Four Governors to perpetuate the memory of the late Jeff Russel, who met a tragic death by electrocution about ten years ago, if memory serves correct. Russel, a star halfback with McGill University and even more prominent with Montreal (then the Winged Wheelers) was one of the most popular footballers in Canada.

Teddy Morris is rated as one of the best secondary defense players in the Dominion, and like Cutler, has received all-star team recognition many times. Teddy, who scales only about 160 pounds, takes a terrific beating because of his lack of stature and driving style of play. Wes Cutler has starred not only for Argonauts since 1933, their Canadian championship year, but was a feature player prior to that with University of Toronto.

ONTARIO COACH HAS BIG HOPES FOR BRONX CLUB

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. — (CP) — Reign of Manhattan's Rovers in New York amateur hockey soon many be ended. In any event they will have to battle to protect their honors from the newly-organized Bronx Tigers who threaten to cause a lot of upsets in the Eastern United States Amateur League this winter.

After a lapse of four years hockey has come back to the Bronx and Captain E. W. Whitwell, manager of the Coliseum, home of the Tigers, thinks it's back to stay. The almost all-Ontario squad that Playing Coach Frank Megaffin has assembled is determined to put the Bronx back in hockey's limelight.

Loads of Confidence

The 29-year-old mentor who learned his hockey in Toronto has loads of confidence in youngsters who wear the red, black and white livery of the Tigers.

"We have the heaviest team in the loop and that will count for a lot because this schedule is mighty tough in spots," said Megaffin, who was impressed by the showing of his boys as they tied Rovers 1-1 in their first league game a few nights ago. "They're a great bunch of kids and give everything they've got all the time.

Megaffin personally selected his players and figures the Tigers an all-star aggregation. The only man on the roster who has previously seen service in the league is Ken Clipp, fast-skating forward from Brantford, Ont. who spent three years with Atlantic City Sea Gulls and two seasons with Baltimore Orioles.

From British hockey ranks come Aud Grant, right wing and Bud Kashner, defence. Midland, Ont., boys who last winter played with Harringay Racers and Ham Riley of Hamilton who played defence with Richmond Hawks last season.

Hawse Marsh In Goal.

Six of the Jungleers are plucked from the Toronto British Consols. They are Hawse Marsh, goalie; Jack Hinchliffe and Georgie Boll, defence, and Bus Benson, Bill Burkart and Charley Good, forwards.

Nose Broken

RICK PERLEY

A fight between Clary Burt and Rick Perley during the Ottawa Roughrider - Toronto Argonaut game in Ottawa, which Ottawa won by a score of 15-11, resulted in the latter receiving a broken nose. Parley, Ottawa outside, clashed with Burt, Argo middle, during the latter part of the fourth quarter. Both players received match penalties for fighting.

Boll, a brother of Toronto Maple Leafs' Buzz, is bidding for the title of League's fastest skater while Hinchliffe has been placed on Boston Bruins' reserve list.

Sports Spice

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(AP).—Straight from the coast: California has just about made up its mind to ask Pitt to the Rose Bowl if Pitt gets past Duke Saturday. . . Because if some other team is picked it will clear the decks for the Sugar Bowl (rapidly becoming a major rival) to come up with Pitt vs. Alabama or some other such attraction. . . . When good old Gabby Hartnett was introduced at a Chicago fight the other night, 21,000 fans gave him a three-minute ovation. . . He still is the No. 1 Chicago candidate for manager of the Cubs.

Within a week two Broadway gossip columns have reported Lefty Gomez of the Yanks and the good-looking June O'Dea are arranging a friendly divorce. . . Harry Etchells, a shoe shop attendant in Manchester, Eng., won $100,000 in a football pool and flags were hoisted all over town in celebration.

You embryo fight matchmakers can earn $5,000 of Mike Jacobs' dough if you can get Lou Ambers to defend his lightweight title against Henry Armstrong. . . . P.S.: Mike can't. . . . Luis Angel Firpo was an even better business manager than Jack Dempsey, Max Schmeling or Gene Tunney, but wound up flat broke. . . Both Dempsey and Tunney rate $1,000,000 in any book.

Eddie Head, manager of Henry Armstrong, is sporting a watch bearing pictures of himself and Joe Lynch, former bantamweight champ, who was managed by Mead. . . . Lynch dug the watch out of a hock shop where Mead had parked it before he discovered Armstrong. . . . This sounds like the old hooney, but Jack Dempsey says he'll bet $50,000 his fighter, Red Burman, can lick any heavyweight in the world, Joe Louis included. . . . Now, Jack.

HONOR GREAT ATHLETE

GLASGOW, — (CP). — Scotsmen are celebratin gthis month the centenary of their land's most famous athlete, Donald Dinnie. Born in 1837, Dinnie died at the age of 79. He won 11,000 first prizes at sports gatherings.

DRILLON LEADS CANADIAN RACE IN N.H.L. SCORES

MONTREAL, Nov. 23 (C.P.).—Individually and collectively, the Toronto Maple Leafs are monopolizing most of the National Hockey League honors. Monday night's official league statistics show the team leading its section and its players ahead in points, goals, and assists.

Youthful Gordie Drillon of the Leafs is the standout in the scoring. His twelve points—made up of six goals and six assists—put him at the top of the league. Besides, he's tied with another Leaf, Harvey Jackson, ... goals, and he's just one behind still another Toronto player, Defenceman Red Horner, in assists.

The Busher is second to Drillon in total points too, with six goals and four assists. And right behind him is one more Leaf, Charlie Conacher of the mean shot, who has five goals and three assists. Doc Romnes of Chicago has four and four for a third-place tie with Connie.

Horner used to a big gun in the penalty figures, but he's just an also ran this year to Baldy Northcott of the Montreal Maroons. Northcott has served sentences totalling 35 minutes, 10 up on Babe Siebert of the Montreal Canadiens.

Unlucky Player

Probably one of the unluckiest players in the National Hockey League is Ralph "Scotty" Bowman. He started off the 1937-38 season in 100 per cent. Bowman style just before opening of the season, when a puck, shot by Hec Kilrea, a team-mate, knocked out five teeth and caused a four-stitch wound inside his mouth. In the 1935-36 season, he was out of the game only 32 minutes despite the fact he had 36 stitches taken in his face, all of them while the game was going on. Apart from these injuries the burly Detroit Red Wing defenceman can still smile.

Italian Interests Buy Track Horses

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(AP).—W. J. Rosemire, Kentucky horseman acting on behalf of anonymous Italian owners, Monday purchased 3-year-old American trotters for shipment to Italy.

The top price of $20,000 was paid to Bill Strang, Jr., of New York for Twilight Song, champion 2-year-old of 1936. Rosemire also purchased Paul Bowser's De Sota for $10,000, and E. Roland Harriman's Honeymoon for $7,500.

SIMCOE HARVESTER WINS SECOND SPOT

TORONTO, Nov. 23 — Only two heats comprised the harness racing activities at Dufferin Park yesterday afternoon. The events—unfinished from Saturday's card—saw Simcoe Harvester take down second money in the 2:14 pace event, which had already been won by Victor Patch.

In the classified pace, A. Donovan's Billie Lee captured the second award, leading Scotty Grattan home. This race had been won by Bert Patch, as the result of a three-straight heat score last Saturday.

Racing will contine Wednesday when a program of two races, including eight heats, will be offered.

A theatre party to Campbellford has been arranged for Wednesday, December 1st.

Ladies' only night will be held on Tuesday, December 14, and men's night on Thursday, December 16.

TABLES ARE TURNED

LONDON — (CP). — Camberley Heath Golf Club has reversed the custom by which a golfer making a hole-in-one buys drinks all round and a bottle of whisky for the caddie. Now the player himself is entertained.

HIS BIG DAY

MANCHESTER, England—(CP).—When Harry Etchells, young shoe shop assistant, won $100,000 in a football pool, flags were flown near his home in Hyde, Cheshire, in honor of the occasion.

GETS GOOD DISTANCE

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa—(CP).—Young Bobby Locke is now one of the longest drivers in South Africa. In the Orange Free State amateur golf championship he was credited with at least one 350-yard drive.

BORN

ALLEN.—Gift of twin sons to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Allen (nee Margaret Hamilton), on Monday, November 22, at Orange Memorial Hospital, Orange, N.J.; John Frederick and James Victor. Mr. and Mrs. Allen were former residents of Peterborough.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement is announced of Beatrice Olive, eldest daughter of Mrs. Kidd and the late Bruce A. Kidd of Smith, to Clarence Miles, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Northey of Smith. The wedding to take place early in December.

DIED

COULTHARD, Mrs. Eva E. — At Nichols Hospital, Peterborough, November 22, 1937, Mrs. Eva E. Coulthard, widow of the late Albert E. Coulthard, and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Ludgate. Funeral, Thursday, November 25, from the Funeral Home of A. Comstock and Sons, at 2.30 p.m., to St. John's Anglican Church. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

BLODGETT.—In loving memory of Thomas L. Blodgett, who passed away November 23, 1936.

Your last parting wish we would like to have heard,
And breathe in your ear our last parting word;
Only those who have lost are able to tell
The pain in the heart of not saying farewell.

—Ever remembered by Wife and Daughters.

WILSON.—In loving memory of a dear Wife and Mother, Mary Alida Wilson, who passed away at Coe Hill, November 24, 1936.

The gold gates were open,
A gentle voice said, "Come";
And with farewells unspoken
She calmly entered home.

—Sadly missed by Husband, Christopher Wilson, and Daughters.

FLANNERY, — In fond and loving memory of our dear Sister, Laura, who entered into rest on November 23, 1936.

Deep in our hearts lies a picture
Of a loved one gone to rest;
In our memories' frame we will keep it,
Because she was one of the best.
Sweet are the memories that never fade
Of one we loved but could not save.
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory she left behind.

LEMORE.—In loving memory of my dear Sister Mrs. Bert Lemore, who died two years ago, November 22, 1935.

God knew that she was suffering
And the hills were hard to climb,
So he closed her weary eyelids,
And whispered, "Peace be thine."
The Golden Gates were open
A gentle voice said, "Come";
With farewell unspoken
Our dear Madeline entered Home.

—Ever remembered by her Sister, Mrs. T. McDonald.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Joseph Emile Levasseur wish to thank their friends and neighbors for their many kind expressions of sympathy, also the priests and sisters who visited and attended him during his illness.

GERMAN COLONY CRY TO INCREASE

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Germany had Chancellor Hitler's assurances today that "I know the world will be unable to refuse" Germany's demands for "colonial living room."

Hitler reiterated Germany's colonial claims in an address at a Nazi rally at Augsburg yesterday on the same day that Great Britain's goodwill envoy, Viscount Halifax, ended his German visit. Lord Halifax described his discussions with Hitler as "free, frank, informal —and confidential."

The chancellor spoke of the colonies taken from Germany at the end of the war as "our lost property", and said that "the world will have to return it."

He said Germany would shout her colonial demands louder.

"What the world shuts its ears to today," he said, "it will not be able to ignore in a year's time. What it will not listen to now it will think about in three years' time, and in five or six, it will have to take into practical consideration."

Hitler is to confer Thursday with Hungarian Premier Koloman Darányi, who received a military welcome to Berlin yesterday. Observers believed exchange of views might draw Hungary into the German-Italian-Japanese anti-Communism pact.

FIND GIRL IN GRAVE

LOCOURRO, N.M., Nov. 23 (AP)—The criminally attacked body of pretty Rose Garcia, 16, was dug from a shallow sand-filled grave today, ending a 46-hour search.

Sheriff Frank Knoblock said the find followed a 24-hour questioning of a prominent business man, arrested yesterday.

Knoblock said the man had led officers to the grave.

No charges have been filed pending an inquest.

OPERATION BROADCAST

Officials of the United Hospital Campaign to raise $3,171,000 for 92 voluntary hospitals said they believe the broadcast idea was the first of its kind.

Dr. William W. Blackman, 80-year-old surgeon, was chosen to describe the operation.

180TH BANKER

LUNENBURG, N.S.—(CP)— The Harry W. Adams, Lunenburg's 180th fishing schooner, was launched from the shipyard of Rhuland and Smith to join the great fleet of Nova Scotia bankers.

CHAPTER 44.

"I've been thinking things over," Tim told Adams, after reaching the conclusion he must tell him, "and I believe I can manage to raise the £1,000 you demand for the letter. It'll take a day or two of course. But I'm writing a few letters this morning, and if all goes as I expect, at most cance, all my appointments for Friday and go to town. I think I'll be able to let you know definitely on Thursday morning."

It was then Tuesday, and Tim, anxious as he was to bring things to a head at the earliest possible moment, decided that verisimilitude demanded a short delay. He went so far as to write letters asking for appointments on Friday morning with his solicitors and a firm of stockbrokers with which he had dealings, with the result that there arrived by the first post on Thursday two replies in business-like typewritten envelopes. Adams brought them to Tim.

"These anything to do with our business?" he asked.

"I believe so," Tim answered. He took the letters and opened them. "Yes, it's all right. . . . I shall go to town tomorrow. I shall be able to pay you in the evening."

"What, are you getting cash in town?"

"Bit chancy, isn't it, carrying all that money about on you?"

"I'll take precautions, naturally."

"I reckon I'll go up on Friday too. I'd rather leave it to the last moment. Since you were so smart the other night. . . . I'll come straight back. I suppose we'll be able to clean up in the afternoon? Or perhaps it will be best if I meet you in town."

This did not suit Tim. "Just as you like," he said. "But the risk of carrying the money about in London will be yours. In any case the afternoon is no good. One of my appointments is not till late, and I may be delayed. I think, though, I can get back to West Shilston by the 8.30 train. That means we can hand over at about a quarter to 9, if that suits you."

Tim had his reasons for suggesting that time. On Friday evening the housemaid was out. The cook, he knew, disliked Adams intensely, and any evidence she was called upon to give was likely to be biased against him. If Tim wanted to insinuate the idea that sounds consistent with aggression and violence on Adams' part had been audible in the kitchen, she would probably meet him halfway.

"Better make it half past 10," said Adams. "I want to be down at the Goose Quill that night. There's the semifinals of the annual darts competition on Friday, and if I get through, the final on Saturday. I won the last two years and I get the cup for keeps if I put it off again."

"I thought it was unfortunate you were to get out of town right away?"

"Very well then; half past 10 on Friday." It was not so good; the girl might have returned by then, but it would provoke suspicion to haggle about an hour or two. Tim thought on the whole he had managed things well; Adams did not seem to have any doubt of his bona fides.

But when, that evening, alone in the living room, he went to the drawer where his revolver had lain untouched for 15 years, he found that he had been assuming too much. The drawer had been forced open, the revolver, and cartridges were gone. Adams, at the best, was not taking any chances, and at the worst he was in a position to turn the tables.

By the morning Tim was still without a plan. The one thing clear in his mind was that he must not betray knowledge of the advantage Adams now had over him. He had left the drawer as far as possible as he found it, and he now laid himself out to give no indication of awareness of his loss. By avoiding any appearance of bad faith he might lull Adams into a false security from which he might yet draw some advantage.

Indeed, Adams, nothing no reaction, apparently decided to put the matter to the test. "I don't know if you missed anything last night," he said. "But if you did, don't worry. I thought I'd better take charge of it for the time being."

"Take charge of what? I don't know what you're talking about, Adams. I haven't missed anything."

"Well, look in the left-hand bottom drawer of the desk in the living room if you want to find out."

"I don't even know what's . . . . Good lord, my gun. I haven't touched it for years. Evidently you don't trust me very far, Adams."

"Not an inch farther than I see you. I thought I'd let you know, in case you were getting ideas."

"Come to that, I don't know that I trust you. How do I know you'll give me a square deal, if you're armed?"

"Poon, I've nothing to gain by starting a shooting match. It's only a precaution, Kennedy, you ought to see that."

Tim shrugged his shoulders. He did not, indeed, actually think Adams would be foolish as to demand the price by menaces without delivering the article. If it came to that, however, the price was not going to be there.

Tim, as has been said, had no plan. He had decided to go up to London as arranged so as to keep up the pretense to the last moment, he could always return with the story that his negotiations had failed after all. It looked now as if the only hope was to return by an early train, get to his West Shilston bank before the bank closed, and withdraw practically the whole of his balance. Confronted by the solid cash, Adams might not be able to withstand the temptation of securing it, even if the amount was only half what he expected.

Directly after breakfast, Tim drove to town, left the car at his garage, and proceeded on foot to the station. He had offered Adams a lift down, to convince him that he was really going, but Adams had declined. He wanted to shave and doll himself up a bit, and thought he would take a later train.

Tim was glad enough not to have his company on the journey. Above all, he wanted an opportunity to think, and it was because he always found the motion of a train stimulating to the thought processes that he decided not to motor up. He bought a firstclass return ticket, and was lucky enough to get a compartment to himself.

BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S WIG.

"Did you hear anything?" asked Uncle Wiggily of Mr. Chip, the striped animal gentleman barber in the woods.

"No, I didn't," chattered Mr. Chip. "I was so busy mixing my lather in this acorn cup to get ready to shave you I didn't hear any noise. The lather makes a flippy floppy sound, you know."

"So it does," agreed Uncle Wiggily listening to the brush going flip flop in the soap lather. "I guess that was it."

Uncle Wiggily settled himself back in the barber chair to wait to get shaved, when, all of a sudden, he heard another noise.

"What's that?" asked the rabbit gentleman, sitting up.

"Oh, I'm just sharpening my razor on a leather strap," said the barber chipmunk who liked to stand out in front of his own shop, his striped fur back showing like a regular barber's pole.

"Maybe that was it," agreed Uncle Wiggily settling back in the chair and waiting patiently for Mr. Chip to spread lather on his whiskers.

"Must have been," said Mr. Chip.

Another.

When he had the lather mixed to a lovely foam in the acorn cup, he gathered up a brush full of it and reached over to spread some on Mr.

Longear's whiskers so they could the more easily be shaved.

Then, all of a sudden the rabbit gentleman exclaimed:

"What's that noise?"

He sat up so suddenly in the barber chair that his face went plop against the lather brush. And as Uncle Wiggily had his mouth open, a lot of the soapy lather went right inside.

"Oh, phaugh!" cried the rabbit.

"Excuse me!" chattered Mr. Chip. "No, that was my fault," said Uncle Wiggily. "But don't you hear a noise, my striped barber friend. Listen!"

Mr. Chip listened, holding his lather brush up in the air and then, surely enough, outside his shop he heard, as did Uncle Wiggily, a voice saying:

"He's in there all right!"

"Are you sure?" asked a second voice.

"Yes, said the first voice. "I have been trailing him through the woods since he left his bungalow to get shaved. This is a barber shop. I have often seen a striped pole out in front."

Knows Them.

"They are talking of you, Mr. Chip, whispered Uncle Wiggily.

"I suppose so, yes," agreed the barber. "But who are they?"

"Bad Chaps!" whispered Uncle Wiggily. "I can't see them but I'm sure it's the Fox and the Bob Cat. Take a look, please."

"Oh, what shall I do?" whispered Mr. Longears. "Can you shave me so I'll look like a French poodle dog so they won't know me?"

"I can do better than that," said Mr. Chip. "I'll lend you a wig to wear out of here. Then they won't know you. But first I'll shave you so you'll be ready for Thanksgiving."

Quickly Uncle Wiggily's whiskers were lathered and shaved. Then Mr. Chip gave him a big wig of hair that belonged to Mr. Stubtail the jolly bear gentleman. With this shaggy wig on his head, Uncle Wiggily looked like a little bear. So when he went boldly out, neither the Fox nor the Bob Cat knew him.

"I guess I was mistaken about Uncle Wiggily," said the Fox.

"Yes, you were," mewed the Bob Cat. So the shaved bunny got safely home.

And if the grasshopper doesn't try to feed its automobile on hay instead of gasoline I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's Thanksgiving.

SUBSTANTIAL SUM SETTLES EDWARD'S SUIT OVER BOOK

LONDON, Nov. 23—(AP)—Settlement of the Duke of Windsor's libel suit against the publishers and author of "Coronation Commentary" for a "substantial sum" in damages and costs was announced today before Lord Chief Justice Hewart.

Sir William Jowitt, K.C., appearing for the Duke, announced that William Heinemann, Ltd., the publishers, and Geoffrey Dennis, author, would pay the "substantial sum."

He added the Duke would contribute the damages to charities in which he, as King and Prince of Wales, had taken "a deep interest."

The book was withdrawn from sale and a letter of apology written after a protest by the Duke last April. It dealt with King Edward's reign and what it termed his "muddling, fuddling and meddling."

Reluctant Decision.

The Lord Chief Justice said he agreed to the dismissal "reluctantly" because the case involved "foul, cruel libel" which a jury might have thought invited a "thoroughly efficient horse whipping."

Sir William Jowitt explained the Duke filed action because the book contained "utterly groundless allegations of fact." He said they could not be allowed to stand unchallenged.

Sir William also indicated the Duke was satisfied he had spiked rumors surrounding his abdication and did not intend to take similar libel action in the future "whatever the circumstances may be."

Sir William stated as the "true facts" of the abdication:

"The then King desired to contract a marriage against which his ministers advised him. As a constitutional monarch he felt he could not disregard that advice; as a man he felt he could not well support the great responsibilities of his office unless he were allowed to marry the woman of his choice."

Apologizing before the court, the publishers' counsel said the book published the abdication rumors in order to destroy them and that the book in its objectionable form was withdrawn from circulation.

YELVERTON

On Friday evening November 19 the Young People's Union of Yelverton United Church held a most successful crokinole party at the home of Miss Edna Robinson convenor of the Christian Fellowship committee of the society. Six tables were occupied for eight lively games at the conclusion of which scores were counted. It was learned that Mrs. Frank Joblin and son Bobby Joblin held the high score cards for the ladies and gentlemen respectively.

Murray Clarke, teacher at Ragian, and week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Clarke acted in the capacity of chairman for a miscellaneous program and in well-chosen encouraging words addressed the assembled guests.

Rev. C. H. Ferguson, pastor of the church, who was in general supervision of proceedings got the program off to a good start by leading in the singing of several rousing community songs. An instrumental duet with Floyd Stinson on the violin and Miss Audrey Stinson at the piano was much appreciated. Miss Edna Robinson, the hostess member favored with a splendid reading. Frank Joblin a visitor from Janetville contributed a pleasing solo. At the conclusion of the program a dainty luncheon was served by the young people and a jolly social time was enjoyed by all present. The proceeds of the evening were very gratifying to the young people who had planned this special meeting for the purpose of augmenting the funds in the treasury of the society at the commencement of the season's activity. There will be no regular meeting of the union next week as the young people plan to attend the Leadership Training Classes held at Janetville for several evenings during the week.

be concluded, had now to be ruled out; Adams was prepared.

But was there no possibility of catching him off his guard, prior to the interview but subsequent to the time when Adams had retrieved the letter?

Tim tried to map out Adams' day. He would presumably return to West Shilston by some train arriving before 6 o'clock; he wanted to go to the Goose Quill. What train it was impossible to say, but Tim, returning early, could at least meet each train and find out. Suppose, then, he met Adams at the station.

Could he say he was anxious to get the business over as soon as possible, take him to some public place where Adam could not produce a revolver, hand him a wad of paper with a few genuine bank notes on the outside, secure and destroy the latter before the trickery was clear? Puerile; the idea had only to be formulated to reveal its absurdity.

The Goose Quill. . . . Plainly nothing was to be done there. Could he meet him outside, offer to drive him up, disable him by a surprise assult? Equally ridiculous; Adams was not born yesterday. Besides, he would be riding back to The Wilderness on his bicycle. . . .

Tim lit a vigaret wit htrembling fingers.

PLAINVILLE Y.P. SPONSORS SUPPER

(Examiner Correspondence.)

PLAINVILLE, Nov. 23. — About seventy people sat down to the banquet tables on Thursday evening for the annual Young People's banquet.

At intervals during tea, singsongs were led by Glen Cole with Mrs. J. Morton at the piano. Rev. H. Mellow called the roll which was answered by some very amusing jokes and stories.

Gerald Lander and Edgar Bowman had arranged the program and George Gray was toast-master of the evening. Misses Evelyn Brisbin and Bernice McKinley sang a duet and Miss Ruth Fowlie a solo. The toast to the King was proposed by Malcolm Buttars. To the ladies by Allan Dines and replied to by Miss Emily Pratt. The toast to the gentleman was given by Mrs. Clifford Manley and responded to by Hilton Down. The president of the Y.P.S. Bill Benson, presented the toast to the church which was replied to by the guest speaker, Dr. Mellson, D.D., of Welcome. His inspirational address was very much enjoyed by all present.

The banquet altogether was a great success and will be looked forward to again another year.

Plainville school has been closed owing to a case of infantile paralysis in Gore's Landing. Billy Meggs, not a pupil, but a younger brother of one, has the disease. He is reported to be recovering favourably.

Typhoid In London Brings Rebuke

LONDON, Nov. 23 (CP Cable).—The outbreak of typhoid in suburban Croydon and Kensington brought a rebuke to-day from Viscount Dawson of Penn, the King's physician, and Sir Kaye Le Fleming, chairman of the British Medical Association, in a joint open letter.

The number of cases rose to-day to 149, with seven deaths.

"So soon as the distinguished medical officer of health knew the epidemic had started, surely it would have been profitable to have sought the confidence and counsel of the medical profession of Croydon by means of its chosen representatives," the letter said.

Large Attendance At Stewart Hall

The fine weather on the holiday, Thursday, November 11th, attracted an excellent crowd to Stewart Hall to partake of the splendid fowl supper so bountifully supplied by the ladies of the district.

The tables were artistically arranged and decorated with red candle in silver holders and flowers. They were well supplied with good things to eat, and supper was served to almost four hundred people. A programme, with Rev. Mr. Rowland in the chair, was given, composed of mixed numbers, piano duets by Marion and Helen Moncrief of Bensfort, songs by Mr. Gordon and Mr. Sands of Peterborough, also duets by Mrs. Hepburn and Mrs. Telford, cornet solos by Mr. D. Wilson and readings by Velma Staples of Springville.

A number of ladies from Stewart Hall W.M.S. attended the "Hostess Tea" given by the Bensfort ladies on Tuesday afternoon, November 9, from 3 to 5 p.m.

BRITAIN OPPOSES JAPS ON CONTROL OF SETTLEMENT

LONDON, Nov. 23—(CP)—Foreign Secretary Eden indicated in the House of Commons to-day Great Britain would not grant Japan's demand for virtual control of Shanghai's International Settlement without the consent of the Chinese Government.

(Japan notified authorities of the Settlement yesterday that she wanted control of Chinese maritime customs, the postal and telegraph administrations and courts.)

At the same time Geoffrey Shakespeare, Parliamentary Secretary to the Admiralty, denied that Admiral Sir Charles Little, commander of the British naval forces in the Far East, had congratulated the Japanese commander, General Iwane Matsui, on his Shanghai victory.

Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House the Government was taking "definite, positive action" to solve world economic problems.

He cited trade negotiations with the United States as an example.

His statement replied to a question concerning the Government's intentions concerning a speech of King Leopold of Belgium last week appealing to Great Britain to take the lead in seeking world economic improvement.

Clement Attlee, Labor Leader, asked when a statement would be made as to the results of Viscount Halifax's trip to Germany. The Prime Minister, pointing out he had not yet seen Lord Halifax, said he could make no statement, and asked Mr. Attlee to delay his question until to-morrow.

FLOATING HATCHES INDICATE TRAGEDY

LOUISBURG, N.S., Nov. 23 (CP)—Evidence of probable tragedy at sea, three bunker hatches and a meat block to-day were objects of speculation here.

Only markings on the hatches were the letters "SD," and this afforded no solution to the name of the ship to which they belonged. Found at nearby Baleine Cove, there were not waterlogged, indicating they had been in the water only a short time.

There was a possibility the hatches and meat block belonged to the former Great Lakes freighter Calgadoc. The vessel that left Sydney, N.S., on October 30 with a cargo of coal for Wabana, Bell Island, has not been reported.

Hope for the 1,564-ton coal carrier has been abandoned. She carried a crew of 18 when she left Sydney on the voyage that ordinarily should have taken 60 hours.

MILLBROOK

Miss Sadie Rowland entertained a number of her friends at a trousseau tea on Friday from three to five in the afternoon, and again in the evening from seven to nine, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rowland, south of the village, previous to her marriage to Mr. Howard Brackenridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brackenridge, of South Monaghan, which takes place in St. Andrew's United Church on Wednesday, November 24, at 2.30 p.m.

The bride-to-be was assisted in receiving her guests by her mother, who answered the door, and by her aunt, Miss Agnes Johnston, and her grandmother, Mrs. W. Johnston, who were in the living room.

Tea was poured by Mrs. J. McKnight, the table being centred with orchid 'mums in a silver basket, and having orchid candles burning in silver holders; girl friends of the hostess who assisted with the service of the tea were Misses Margaret Armstrong, Aileen Widdis, and Jessie Armstrong. Miss Margaret Larmer ushered the guests upstairs to see the lovely trousseau, and the many wedding gifts which have already reached the bride-to-be.

On saturday afternoon and evening, Miss Rowland and her mother were again at home to a large number of friends, who were unable to attend the tea on Friday.

French Police Discover Arms For Revolution

MARX DORMOY

COL. DE LA ROCQUE

Huge supplies of ammunition, rifles and even artillery, supposedly in preparation for a Rightist revolution, have been discovered by the French government, according to Premier Camille Chautemps, who informed the French chamber of deputies that the plot was one of "terrible gravity." The large stores of arms were discovered by police in a series of raids throughout the country. The affair, according to Marx Dormoy, minister of interor, "is getting bigger and more serious every minute." In Rightist circles it has been an open secret that an organization, known as the National Revolution committee, has been formed with membership chosen from extreme Rightists. Leader of the now outlawed "Croix Du Feu," is Col. de la Rocque, thought to be playing an important role in the new organization.

RELIEF TABOO TO SINGLE MEN SAYS HEPBURN

Jobs Open in Bush "Cushion" Winters Over

TORONTO, Nov. 24.— (CP).— Single men will not go back on relief as far as Ontario is concerned as long as jobs are available in Northern Ontario timber and pulpwood camps, Premier Mitchell Hepburn to-day told Controller Ralph Day, Toronto. The province would contribute nothing towards relief costs for single men.

"The idea of thrift and industry seems to have been lost by these men," Mr. Hepburn said. "They have been able to get good seasonal work at good wages but when they are finished they expect to go back on charity. Well it is going to stop."

Lumber and pulp companies complained they could not get Ontario men, said the Premier. Thousands were being brought in from Saskatchewan and Quebec "while our own unemployed stay down here expecting to be supported out of public funds."

67 Fit, 7 Willing.

Recently, said the Premier, the province agreed to pay rail fares of single men to the northern jobs. One group was examined and 67 were found to be physically fit. Only seven agreed to go to the bush. Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Lands an., Forests, was canvassing timber and pulp operators to find out their requirements.

"We won't provide relief so long as there is work and it appears that many of these men won't work so long as there is the cushion of relief," he Premier said.

"If Toronto wants to take care of them that is Toronto's privilege.

"Any single unemployed man who seeks relief while such jobs are available ought to be ashamed of himself," the Premier said.

Macaulay's Stand.

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—(CP). — Leopold Macaulay, Ontario Conservative House leader, commenting on Premier Mitchell Hepburn's edict today that the province will give no relief to singe men, said:

"Able-bodied men who are willing to work and can't find work are just as much entitled to relief now as they ever were. If there is no employment for them, they should be fed. We're going to have a session of the Legislature in a few days. We'll open up on him then."

GINGERING HORSE BRINGS $100 FINE

TORONTO, Nov. 24.—(CP)—Ewell Lane, manager of the stables of Mrs. Ruth Ludington Carpenter, Rochester, N.Y., today was fined $100 and costs or 30 days in jail for administering chewed ginger to a carriage horse entered in competition at the Royal Winter Fair here.

Lane's defense was he did not know it was unlawful to administer ginger to horses in Canada and that in any case it didn't hurt the horse. Humane Society officials said the ginger caused suffering to the horse and that the practice was becoming too common.

Two charges faced Lane. They were that he unnecessarily cruelly used a horse, thereby causing injury or suffering and that without reasonable cause or excuse he administered ginger to a domestic animal.

"I'm guilty of gingering, not doping," said Lane, unrepresented by counsel, when the charges were read. Magistrate Robert Browne entered this statement as a plea of not guilty to both charges.

William Wetherspoon, Humane Society inspector, said November 16 at the Fair, Lane was preparing Kentucky Lane Chief, saddle and carriage horse, in the hitching ring. He saw Lane take a stick of ginger from his pocket, chew a bit off and then administer the chewed ginger to the horse.

"The ginger causes extreme suffering and a burning sensation to the horse," said Wetherspoon. "It was put there to give more action and make the horse hold its tail up."

"His tail went up and his hind legs

Fall Snow Storm

Bringing the first taste of winter to residents in the Sarnia district, a 30-inch snow fall buried the entire district under a blanket of white. The young chap (BELOW) doesn't seem the least bit worried about his automobile which is covered, almost out of sight, by snow. The snowstorm was said by old timers to be the worst since 1913, when a score of lake freighters floundered.

Present Trade Dip Is Only A Pause Before New Climb

No Need to View 1938 With Fear, Says Ford; Raps Profit System—Money Too Long Key to Trade

DETROIT, Nov. 24—(AP)—Henry Ford, in an interview today, said the present business recession is "temporary and artificial."

"No one need look at next year with any uncertainty," he said. "The present slow-down is not a set-back; it's the pause before another climb. Two things helped to bring it on just now and one of them was the uncertainty of business regarding political interference, but Congress is taking care of that. The other was the stock market fluctuation.

"Everybody knows the stock market has no permanent effect on the state of mind of the American business man who plays the market. He often mistakes his personal depression for a business depression. The stock market has no more real effect on American business than the results of a dog race in California."

System Out of Date

A contributing factor to the "pause" has been the fact money too long has been a "principal commodity of commerce," Ford said.

"Money has become a business in itself instead of an adjunct to business," he said. "Money is not wealth; wealth is what money buys. But that has been turned upside down. The present system has got us twisted into producing things to buy dollars with, when what we need is a money system that will produce dollars to buy goods with. Under the present system the tail wags the dog. Money is just a part of society's transportation system for moving goods from man to man; it breaks down so often that it is time our financial engineers developed a better model."

The present money system as ex-

DEATH DECREED ARAB TERRORIST

JERUSALEM, Nov. 24. — (CP-Havas)—The newly-created military tribunal at Haifa passed sentence of death by hanging on one of Palestine's most dangerous Arab terrorists today as large contingents of troops and police went into action after a new series of disturbances.

The death sentence was decreed for the 70-year-old, bearded Shiek Farhan Es Saadi, captured with seven of his followers in a wheat bin in the Jenin Region on Monday. Only Major - General Archibald Wavell, commander of the British forces in Palestine, can modify the sentence of the military tribunals, established to stamp out terrorism. The men arrested with the sheik also face trial by the court.

25 YEARS FOR SPYING

MOSCOW, Nov. 24—(CP).—Two foreigners, Paul Züberhorn and Irving Klein, were sentenced to 25 years in prison to-day by a military court on charges of spying and sabotage under the orders of a foreign consulate at Leningrad. The court said both pleaded guilty.

HEPBURN TO DITCH FORMAL OPENINGS OF LEGISLATURE

TORONTO, Nov. 24 (C.P.). — Frills and pomp will be dispensed with when Ontario's new Lieutenant-Governor, Albert Matthews, formally opens the first session of the Province's 20th Legislature on December 1. The King's representative will wear morning clothes instead of the customary Windsor uniform.

There will be no state procession to the Legislative Buildings for the opening, no booming guns in salute. The Lieutenant-Governor will not be met at the main entrance by a guard of honor and no escort will lead the way to the Legislative Chamber.

"We got along very well with only one formal opening of the last Legislature in three years," Premier Hepburn said to-day. "I think we can very well do without them altogether."

Most Chorley Park Fixtures To Go

TORONTO, Nov. 24.—(CP).— As soon as Dr. H. A. Bruce moves out of Chorley Park the mansion will be closed and only sufficient staff retained to maintain the house and grounds in good order, the Premier said to-day.

All of the pictures of any historical value will be moved to Queen's Park and some of the furniture which can be used in the remodelled Speaker's chambers will also be kept. The remainder of the contents, the Premier expects will be sold at auction while the government is seeking a purchaser for the House itself.

Former Lindsay Boy Succeeds Bruce, Taking Over Nov. 30

Opens Special Session as First Official Duty; Aims to Maintain Active Interest in Business

TORONTO, Nov. 24.—(CP)—Albert Matthews, Toronto financier and philanthropist, will be Ontario's next lieutenant-governor, succeeding Hon. Dr. Herbert A. Bruce, but he plans to maintain an active interest in business, while acting as the King's representative in the province.

The appointment of the 64-year-old investment banker was announced in Ottawa yesterday by Prime Minister Mackenzie King. Mr. Matthews, receiving the news in his North Toronto home, declined to be interviewed, but said: "I deeply appreciate the honor conferred upon me. I shall endeavor fully to discharge the responsibilities and obligations of this high office."

The announcement ended a week of uncertainty concerning the vice-regal position. It was not known officially until Monday night, when Dr. Bruce released a copy of his letter of resignation, that he had resigned. Political speculation as to his successor mentioned Duncan Marshall, former provincial agricultural minister, and Senator Arthur Hardy of Brockville.

In his letter to Prime Minister King November 16, the lieutenant-governor requested that his resignation take effect not later than December 1. He was appointed October 25, 1932. Mr. Matthews' appointment is effective November 30 and his first duty will be to open a special session of the legislature the following day.

Dr. Bruce's Last Duty

Dr. Bruce made his last public appearance in Toronto as lieutenant-governor last night. Speaking in the horse show arena at the Royal Winter Fair, he said "my term could not have ended at a happier time." He said he had desired to relinquish his position only after "various engagements in connection with this fair had been completed."

The lieutenant-governor-designate will confer in Ottawa with the prime minister concerning his future plans and later is expected to leave for a short holiday in the United States. A brother, W. E. Matthews, said in Ottawa last night he had had a telephone conversation with Mr. Matthews who, the brother said, plans to visit "some watering place" in the United States with Mrs. Matthews.

Mr. Matthews will be the first holder of the office since 1914 who has not moved into government house in Rosedale's Chorley Park. Premier Hepburn has said the $1,000,000 structure will be closed. Its annual upkeep approximates $25,-

NO COMMITMENTS MADE WITH NAZIS ON HALIFAX VISIT

LONDON, Nov. 24 (CP Cable) — Viscount Halifax, Lord President of the Council made no commitments to Chancellor Hitler, Nor will any commitments to Germany be made without the House of Commons having full opportunity to discuss them.

Thus, in brief words, Prime Minister Chamberlain sketched in the House today the result of the Berlin conversations.

The prime minister dismissed press speculations as to what transpired between Herr Hitler and Lord Halifax as "not only irresponsible but highly inaccurate." The French government would be informed during the coming visit of the French premier and foreign minister.

Ernest Thurtle, Labor, brought up the Berlin conversations in a question as to whether Mr. Chamberlain was in a position to make a statement.

The prime minister replied Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, had informed the House Nov. 12 that the visit of Lord Halifax to Berlin was entirely private and unofficial.

Saw Leading Nazis

Lord Halifax took the opportunity to see Herr Hitler, Konstantin von Neurath, the foreign minister, General Goering, propaganda minister Joseph Goebbels, and other prominent leaders in Germany.

"These conversations were all of a confidential character and the House will not expect me to make any further statement at this stage," Mr. Chamberlain added. "I am satisfied, however, that the visit has been a valuable one, furthered by the desire, which I believe to be generally felt in both countries, for the establishment of closer relations."

A question came from the Conservative back benches as to whether press reports of the conversations were correct.

Mr. Chamberlain: "I should like to France Widens Her Net To Block Civil War

Seek Leaders In Monarchy Plot That Would Set Nation Warring Like Spain

PARIS, Nov. 24 (A.P.). — Grim operatives of the Surete Nationale ranged the length of France to-day to arrest the "higher ups" of a thwarted civil war plot to replace France's Republican Government with dictatorship and monarchy.

The conspiracy had been wrecked, the Popular Front regime announced, and "the Government is sure of itself. It is capable of subduing all crimina; action directed against the Republic."

Raids by the National Police organization, extending from the German frontier through the capital and to the southern regions near the frontier of insurgent Spain indicated the hunt for the plot leaders was in full swing.

The implications of the conspiracy smacked of fantastic fiction—yet of the reality that France has seen 'n 16-months' civil war in Spain, her southern neighbor.

Papers seized in the most important of a long series of raids disclosed plans for an uprising similar to that which plunged Spain to armed conflict.

The documents, confiscated yesterday in a Paris loan office, brought to light what police said were complete arrangements of a conspiracy.

BLAST RAZES BARN

GEORGETOWN, Ont., Nov. 24 (C.P.). — The barn on William Harding's farm, near here, was destroyed by fire last night after explosion of a lantern in the granary. The season's crop of grain and hay was lost. Loss was $8,000.

Nazis Plan 32 Hitler Schools To Train Future Leaders

Lads Start At 12 And Get 17 Years' Education At State Expense

MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 24. — (CP-Havas).—German youth leaders to-day outlined a project for education of future Fuehrers—leaders of the nation.

As explained by Dr. Robert Ley, leader of the German Labor front, the first step in the porjected educational process will be the creation of 32 "Adolf Hitler" schools, at which prospective candidates will undertake 17 years of study, sport and labor at the State's expense.

The system, which Dr. Ley credited to Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi ideologist, is designed to inculcate in the young Nazi "Fuehrers of the future the purest principles of Nazis philosophy."

Four thousand candidates for Spartian training will be chosen at the age of 12. Class distinction will play no part in their selection. The only qualification demanded will be perfect health.

After the first six years each candidate will be "sent out into the world" to learn a trade, which he must follow for seven years. During that time he must also serve his regular army and labor camp terms.

After this seven-year period the 4,000 candidates will undergo an elimination test to select 1,000 for the last lap.

JUDGE DECLINES TELL COMBA JURY VOTE NOT GUILTY

PEMBROKE, Ont., Nov. 24.—(CP)—Justice E. R. E. Chevrier today declined to instruct the jury to render a verdict of not guilty in the murder trial of John Comba, Renfrew cripple accused of the sex-killing of 13-year-old Ethel Hedderwick of Renfrew.

At the close of the prosecution's case this morning, Defence Counsel J. A. Maloney moved the judge direct the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal because its case had not been proven.

The judge ruled it was not within his power to do so as it was the duty of the jury to render a verdict.

A recess was called to give Maloney time to consider whether he would call defence witnesses.

Charles W. Ewing, forensic chemist from Toronto was the last Crown witness. He said he examined hairs forwarded by Dr. E. R. Frankish, Ontario medico-legal expert, some taken from the dead girl's head and others found in her clenched fist.

Ewing said he examined a pair of blue pants and a checked shirt and later, a pair of striped trousers, with a blue fibre which had been found in the girl's hand, but they did not match.

Neighbors Show Up With New Home

STREETSVILLE, Ont., Nov. 24 (C.P.). — On the ruins of William Nunan's fire-destroyed home stands a spick-and-span cottage to-day. Neighbors dragged the cottage four miles with tractors and set it in position.

From all over this suburban Toronto district farmers came yesterday to help out the homeless Nunans, whose 100-year-old farmhouse was destroyed three weeks ago. They found an unused cottage, pulled it into position and their wives are fitting it for occupancy.

HOW IS OTTAWA AIDING FARMERS REEVES DEMAND

Price Spread Too Great; Probe Is Sought

Erection of a high level bridge over the Canadian National Railway crossing on the sixth line of Otonabee, and west of the Keene station, was recommended by the county council at its opening meeting Tuesday afternoon by a resolution from Otonabee township council, and discussion was deferred until later in the week.

"This idea originated with Mr. Duffus," Reeve W. A. Anderson said. "We have always known the crossing is a dangerous one. It was discussed twenty-five years ago that I can remember, but there was no fund then for the elimination of grade crossings. We have a Member of Parliament who is looking around to see things that would be of benefit to the riding and this is one of them."

Mr. Duffus explained that the Dominion government appropriated $4,000,000 a year for the elimination of dangerous railway crossings. The "S" shaped crossing on a sharp grade west of Keene station seemed to be a menace to traffic. He had written the Minister of Transport about the procedure of application for a share of the fund, and was informed that the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners had jurisdiction, and could direct the work to be done after the crossing had been inspected. As it was on a county road, the cost would probably be borne also by the county and provincial government.

Deputy-reeve Harry Reid said the crossing was one of the most dangerous in the county and, since No. 7 highway was paved, traffic had increased up and down the sixth line, leading south into Keene.

Several suggestions were briefly made that there might be worse crossings in the county, but the council decided to pospone the discussion until later during the present concluding sessions of the year.

BRITAIN BACKING SHANGHAI COUNCIL

LONDON, Nov. 24—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden said in the House of Commons today Great Britain was supporting the Shanghai National Council in resisting Japanese efforts to extend their control of Shanghai to the International Settlement.

In answer to questions, Mr. Eden said Japanese authorities "are discussing with municipal authorities various matters which come under the head of suppression of anti-Japanese activities and Chinese government organization in the Settlement."

He added the British authorities in Tokyo and Shanghai repeatedly had reminded the Japanese of their promises to respect foreign rights in Shanghai and would continue so to remind them as occasion required.

(The Japanese yesterday gained a major share in control of Shanghai customs when Sir Frederick Maze, British inspector-general of Chinese customs, appointed two Japanese to high posts in the customs office.)

Mr. Eden added, during questioning about Japanese efforts to extend their authority throughout Shanghai, that it is "unhappily true that the settlement is in a very difficult situation today."

He said British merchants in Shanghai had not regained free access to their warehouses in certain districts. Representations on this subject, he continued, are being "constantly pressed on local Japanese authorities in Shanghai."

FALLS TO HIS DEATH

TORONTO, Nov. 24—(CP). — A woman identified as Helen G. Merrill, Toronto, fell to her death today from an uptown viaduct. The body was found below the 135-foot high span by a man on his way to work. Miss Merrill was believed to be about 30 years old.

Manhunt Ends With Suicide Of Sister-Slayer In Shack

HUNTING CYCLIST

COBOURG, Ont., Nov. 24 (CP).— Police today sought a bicyclist who last night struck and knocked down Walter Rosebush, 60, near Salem. Rosebush, picked up on the highway, said he was hit by something. Suspicion a car was involved was found incorrect when police found a broken bicycle near the scene. Rosebush suffered shock and bruises and was taken to Cobourg Hospital.

Children Claim Uncle Threatened To "Get" Them All—Land Deal Dispute

BONNYVILLE, Alta., Nov. 24 (C.P.). — A manhunt over snow-filled roads and rough bush country ended yesterday when Royal Canadian Mounted Police found the body of Fred Mykolyshyn, 44, in a log shack in a cemetery 21 miles north of Bonnyville.

Sought in connection with the slaying of his sister, Mrs. Dan Sawchuk, 40, police said Mykolyshyn shot himself through the head as the posse approached.

The woman's body was found yesterday after her three children spent the night with their dying mother in the farm cabin in this district 130 miles north-east of Edmonton. Mr. Sawchuk was working in the Morecambe district 40 miles south-west. Police believe a dispute over a "land deal" was involved in the killing.

Two bullet holes were found in the shack's window and the children told police Mykolyshyn approached the house on Monday night and fired twice through the window. One bullet struck their mother in the right shoulder. She was found dead on a pile of blood-soaked rags and appeared to have bled to death.

Matthews Family Taken Leading Part In Development Of Peterborough

ONTARIO'S new lieutenant governor, Hon. Albert Matthews is a member of a family that has played a prominent part in the development of this city and district and he himself as a young man was a resident of Peterborough for a year or more. His father, George Matthews senior founded the packing business that was to become so famous, the first start being made in Lindsay. When that plant began to prosper the business was expanded to take in Peterborough and the local plant was launched, followed soon after by the Brantford and Hull plants. Albert Matthews, after a short connection with the firm here was transferred to the Hull end of the business and remained with the Matthews enterprises until they were sold to the Allied Packers in 1919. He, of course is an uncle of Gordon S. Matthews, chairman of the Peterborough Utilities Commission and head of the local plant of Canada Packers, and is a brother of T. Frank Matthews who for many years was prominent in the business, social, sporting and municipal life of Peterborough until his removal to Toronto.

Three Years For Jap Who Criticizes War

Winnipeg, Nov. 24 (CP)

DR. Barclay Fowlell Buxton, an Anglican missionary to Japan, told newspapermen here today Canadians probably knew more about circumstances of the Sino-Japanese war than the people in Japan.

"Japanese do not express their feelings, for there is a penalty of three years' imprisonment imposed on any one who criticizes the war," Dr. Buxton said.

Gun That Shoots Self Into Sea Floor Throws Light On Earth's Past

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)

A "CANNON" which shoots itself into the ocean floor is throwing new light on the earth's past, Dr. Charles S. Piggot of the Carnegie institution said today.

The cannon, a highly specialized piece of artillery, is lowered from a ship on a long cable. When the muzzle strikes bottom, a trigger sets off a charge of powder, driving the gun into the ocean floor. The barrel bites out a vertical core, or sample, of the sediment, much as an apple corer operates.

During millions of years, a continuous record of the changes the planet has undergone has been kept in the sediment. The record consists of rocks, pebbles and sand brought by ice, clay and mud carried by rivers and ocean currents, and skeletons of marine organisms which evolved into various forms.

Among other things, the cores so far examined have shown that there were successions of cold and warm eras. This was indicated by the remains of tiny sea creatures in the mud at different levels. Some are known to exist only in warm water; others can live only in cold.

INJURIES TO HEAD BLAMED IN DEATH OF RENFREW GIRL

PEMBROKE, Nov. 24 (CP).—Dr. E. R. Frankish, Ontario medico-legal expert, in giving evidence at the trial of John A. Combs, charged with the sex-slaying of Ethel Hedderwick, said yesterday he agreed with Dr. J. McCann, Renfrew Coroner, that the girl was criminally assaulted.

Dr McCann was present when Dr Frankish conducted an autopsy on the girl's body August 5, two days after it was found in a clump of trees on Carswell's Hill on the outskirts of Renfrew. "The notes from which Dr. McCann read were taken down by him at my dictation and I agreed with him," said Dr. Frankish, who followed Dr. McCann on the stand.

"The only cause of death I found was due to the head injuries," the expert testified. Shown a stone which the Crown alleges was used to bash in the girl's head, Dr. Frankish said it was one handed to him in Renfrew. "A hair taken from the stone was compared with a hair taken from the head of the child and they were similar."

Clothing Examined.

The pathologist testified he received at his Toronto laboratory a pair of blue trousers, a white shirt, a handkerchief, a grey zipper shirt and a blue checked shirt. "All these articles were examined for bloodstains. There were no bloodstains on any of them.

"I may say now that they belonged to John Combs."

He said bloodstains could be eliminated from clothing if thoroughly washed. "The blue trousers were quite soft and appeared to have been washed. Later I got a pair of grey trousers, a green colored rag, a pair of blue darned socks. I also received a card on which there was some blue darning wool.

U.F.O. ASKS PUPILS HAVE KNOWLEDGE CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

TORONTO, Nov. 24 (C.P.)—Seeking to promote the co-operative movement, United Farmers of Ontario asked the Provincial Department of Education to permit a booklet on co-operative effort being placed in rural school libraries.

The organization, in annual convention here, passed a resolution to that effect yesterday, adding it was desirable pupils and other students should have an opportunity to acquire information concerning basic principles of the movement.

Another resolution adopted urged that "during the coming year a special effort be made to work out a basis of federation in such a way as to unify the greater part of all co-operative effort in one large, efficient and virile association operating on the best co-operative business practices."

From E. R. Bowen, secretary of the Co-operative League of the United States, delegates heard a suggestion that Canadian farmers manufacture farm machinery under co-operative principles and reduce the price of farm implements.

Cheaper Farm Machinery.

"One of the main reasons I am in the co-operative movement is to get farm machinery to the farmers at the right price, and the right quality," said Mr. Bowen, for five years vice-president of a United States power machinery company.

"The private implement companies never can or will decrease their prices to what they ought to be reduced," he said. "The answer to the problem, as the Parliament Committee (at the last session) suggested is for the farmers themselves to go into the co-operative manufacturing of farm machinery."

W. G. Nicholson of North Bruce was re-elected president for his third consecutive term. D. E. Stauffer of Oxford County was re-elected vice-president and R. S. Hetherington of Freeman was elected third member of the executive.

National Gallery Is Presented Canadian Masterpiece

Late J. E. H. MacDonald's "Tangled Gardens" Given As Memorial To Richard Southam

By Guy E. Rhoades
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

OTTAWA, Nov. 24.—(CP)— The National Gallery of Canada to-day acknowledged the gift of an important "group of seven" canvas by four members of one of the country's most distinguished publishing families.

The picture, the late J. E. H. MacDonald's "Tangled Garden" was presented to the Gallery as a memorial to the late Richard Southam of Toronto, by his four brothers, H. S. Southam of Ottawa, W. M. Southam of Ottawa, F. W. Southam, of Montreal, and William Southam, of Hamilton.

In addition, the Southam's will distribute throughout the country a number of fine reproductions of the famous painting which shows the brilliant, blowzy profusion of an autumn garden.

Gallery officials said they believed the picture was sought by numerous wealthy private collectors and galleries, but that heirs of MacDonald, one-time principal of the Ontario College of Art, would not permit its sale except to a public gallery.

MacDonald, native of Durham, England, but a son of Canadian parents, whose forebearers came to this country in the 1730's, showed "Tan-

LARGE BUCK SEEN NEAR SIXTH LINE

HASTINGS, Nov. 24. — Driving down No. 7 highway on his return home from Peterborough on Monday morning, a Westwood merchant spotted a deer standing on the road ahead of him, near the Sixth Line turn. The animal did not make any effort to move as the car approached. The motorist stated he was almost close enough to touch it before it hurdled the fence and disappeared into the woods on the south side of the road. It was quite a large buck and had five horns, he said.

BLAST SHATTERS FISHING VESSEL

COLLINGWOOD, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP).—An explosion in the engine-room destroyed the fish-hatchery vessel, Amos B., here last night as the craft was being drawn from the water preparatory to winter storage. One of 12 workmen was injured critically and was taken to hospital.

The stern of the 48-foot vessel was torn apart by the blast, origin of which was not determined. Debris was scattered for 100 feet on either side of the ship. Fire, which broke out immediately, left the Amos B a wreck.

All of the workmen were knocked to the ground by the force of the explosion. Several suffered severe bruises. Most seriously hurt was Fred Raymond, taken to hospital in a critical condition, suffering from severe burns, shock and bruises.

Tilted at an angle, the vessel was being pulled up on timbers used for a runway. Without warning, the after end blew up in a shower of flame, smoke and broken bits of wood and steel. The blast was felt by residents of this Georgian Bay town for several blocks around the shipyard.

BELMONT WOMEN TO AID HOSPITAL

HAVELOCK, Nov. 23. — The regular meeting of the Belmont Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Anderson on Thursday, November 18. This was grandmothers' day, and a large number of members and grandmothers were present. The roll-call was answered by naming your birthplace. This was a very interesting and amusing roll-call for the day.

The business consisted of sending five dollars to the Sick Children's Hospital, and twenty-five dollars were reported made at the Institute dance.

The program was opened with community singing. Readings were given by Mrs. W. Ketchen, Miss Dorothy Davidson, Mrs. Seabrook, and Mrs. James Longmuir, and a very interesting paper was given by Mrs. (Dr.) Thompson. Mrs. Thompson's paper was on interesting facts and people from the year 1830 until the present day. She also gave a display of old-fashioned sewing and knitting, lace shawls, jewellery and this was enjoyed by the older grandmothers present.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Mack for the oldest grandmother present, and Mrs. Ketchen for the youngest grandmother present. Lunch was served by the hostesses appointed for the day.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Nov. 24—(CP).—One and half-cent gains in wheat futures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange were virtually wiped out in nervous dealings to-day. Final prices were 1 cent lower to ⅝ higher. November $1.13⅝; December, $1.10⅝ to ⅝; May, $1.09¼ and July $1.05¼.

Governed largely by action of United States wheat markets and trends of erratic stocks, traders seemed to be in a hesitant mood.

amplified by those "who manipulate it for profit" is entirely out of date and is in large measure responsible for recurring business recessions, he said. "It is a system that seeks to control labor; wants to control government, finance, food, industry and even the schools. It manifests an avariciousness that would control everything."

A Terrible Handicap.

Ford explained he had no over night panacea for what he termed the out-moded system. "But any system," he added, "that seeks profits alone is terribly handicapped to begin with."

"Here is a nation that might be the richest nation in the world when actually we haven't enough of anything, because there is not enough production. The need is here; the ability to produce is here; the stoppage is in the system that puts profits before production—and that is the money system."

The solution, Ford said, lies in teaching the coming generation the real purpose of money and "an understanding of a system that may have been adequate for society's needs many years ago, but no longer meets its requirements to-day."

"Why did you administer it," the magistrate asked Lane.

"I didn't know it was unlawful in this state," he said. "It just makes his tail go up."

"Can't a horse operate its tail without getting ginger in this fashion?" asked the magistrate.

"It isn't injurious to the horse," said Lane. "If it were, do you think I could use it in my mouth?"

"Is this a common practice?" the Court asked Mr. Borins.

"My instructions are the Humane Society is informed it is becoming very common and they are anxious an end should be put to it," was the answer.

FAST SETTLEMENT OF NEW CORNWALL STRIKE PREDICTED

CORNWALL, Ont., Nov. 24 (C.P.) —Early settlement of the dispute between 35 employees of Canadian Options Limited, and company officials, was forecast to-day as D. N. Campbell, inspector of the Ontario Labor Department, prepared to hold further conferences.

Campbell predicted after a conference with Arthur Laverly, president of the Cornwall Trades and Labor Council, at which the workers' side of the matter was discussed, the dispute would be ended speedily.

The company's side of the matter will be dealt with at a conference which officials of the company's three local plants will attend.

Thirty-five employees of the napping department at one of the mills struck yesterday and resulted in a layoff of 975 mill hands. The partial strike and layoff affected only two plants, but union members said the third one would be forced to close if settlement was not reached as it depended on the others for a portion of the manufacturing process.

Want Definite Action

Percy Laurin, chairman of the Cotton Workers' Union, announced last night that the men resolved at a mass meeting not to return to work unless some "definite action" was taken by the Ontario Industry and Labor Board, investigation of local working conditions, hours of labor, and wages.

The napping department employees struck after they objected to transfer of a permanent employee of the slashing department to the napping department and transfer of a napping department temporary employee to the slashing department.

Nappers objected to the transfers despite claims of company officials that it was a means of promoting the permanent employee sanctioned by the Workers' Committee.

11 SAVED OFF FLOE

OAK POINT, Man., Nov. 24 (C.P.)—Eleven Lake Manitoba fishermen were rescued by boat yesterday after they were marooned on a big ice floe two miles out on the lake. Rising temperature and a stiff wind caused an ice breakup and a 50-yard channel was opened. Nets valued at 2,500 were feared lost.

BUSINESS SHOWS BOOM IN OCTOBER HITTING NEW HIGH

OTTAWA, Nov. 24 (CP)—Business operations, despite the reactionary influence of deflation in commodity and common stock prices, recorded a marked gain in October, rising to a new high point in recent years, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The bureau reported the October standing of its index of business operations, using 1926 as the base year, was 127.4 compared with 123.8 in September and was almost a full point higher than the previous high for the year in July.

While a number of declines from the September levels in seasonally adjusted factors used in the index, it said, "several brilliant increases were disclosed registering higher points than in any October in the post-war period or longer.

"Activity in manufacturing plants was outstanding in October, heavy purchases of raw materials for further processing being a feature. Marked gains were shown in the imports of crue rubber, raw cotton and petroleum."

Nickel Up On Month

Nickel exports were greater than in any other October but a slight recession was shown from the preceding month.

Gains were recorded in lead production and zinc exports, while shipments of gold from Canadian mines were higher than in any preceding month. After the seasonal adjustment, gold shipments, however, were at a lower level than in September.

Imports of crude rubber were 13,400,000 pounds against 5,400,000 in September. The inward shipment was greater than in any other month of the last 16 years. Imports of raw materials by the textile industry showed a marked gain, the index moving up from 78.3 to 163.3. The purchases of raw cotton amounted to 19,100,000 pounds against 4,600,000 in September and imports of wool rose from 1,200,000 to 1,900,000 pounds.

Newsprint production was only exceeded in one other month, but a recession was shown from September after seasonal adjustment. A gain was recorded in exports of wood pulp while lumber and shingles moved in considerably lesser volume. Activity in the iron and steel industry was well maintained, a marked increase being shown in the output of pig iron. The production of automobiles rose from 4,417 units to 8,103. Petroleum imports were 158,800,000 gallons against 153,300,000, a contraseasonal gain.

Margaret Walsh of Toronto was a weekend visitor with her parents.

Morris Tape returned to his duties at the Royal Bank after a three-weeks' vacation. Mr. Barclay, who has been relieving him, returned to Toronto.

Betty Foley left on Saturday for her home in Toronto, where she will attend Western Technical School.

Reeve Fairman and his party of four returned Saturday from a deer hunt, near Stoney Lake, where each one was successful in bringing back a deer.

The third annual ball of the Hastings Badminton Club, which was held in Lynch's Hall Friday evening, November 1, was a most successful event. About 150 people were present. Two pleasing features of the evening were novelty dances, won by Miss Louise Jones of Peterborough, in the confusion dance and Miss Gertrude Maynard of Campbellford in the spot dance. Doug. Hutchison and his orchestra of Havelock furnished the music.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Smiling broadly as he presents a cup to one of the lucky contestants in a horse jumping event at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto, is Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada. His excellency, who seems to have closed his eyes to avoid the glare of the cameraman's flashlight bulb, was officially received at the Fair for the evening performance, but returned the following day for an informal visit with Lady Tweedsmuir.

Ontario Second Of Provinces Closing Governor's House

Quebec Leads In Maintaining Lavish Residence Costing Her $55,000 Yearly

TORONTO, Nov. 24 (CP) — Ontario joins a small minority of Canadian provinces at the end of this month when it discontinues paying upkeep of an official residence for the lieutenant-governor.

Premier Hepburn long has contended that the $25,000 spent annually for the maintenance of Chorley Park could be put to some other purpose. So when Lieutenant-Governor Herbert Bruce moves out of the stately residence in Rosedale at the end of the month, the Ontario government no longer will maintain it as the official domicile of the King's representative. It may be sold.

Of the other provinces, New Brunswick is the only one actually without a state residence. Many years ago the government house was sold to the Dominion Government and it now is used by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The lieutenant-governor of New Brunswick, at present Col. Murray MacLaren, lives in his own home in Saint John and rents a residence in Fredericton, the provincial capital, during legislature sessions. His expenses are paid from interest on $50,000, the sum obtained from the Dominion for the old government house.

In Prince Edward Island, the lieutenant-governor pays for the upkeep of the official residence at Charlottetown. There is an arrangement, however, whereby the government defrays the cost of repairing.

Lavish Quebec Residence.

Except for Rideau Hall at Ottawa, the residence of the Governor-General, maintained by the Dominion Government, the Province of Quebec maintains the most lavish of the Vice-Regal establishments.

Quebec's Government House is at Spencer Wood, a 69-acre property on the south-western fringe of Quebec City. It has housed 17 Lieutenant-Governors since Confederation. Its yearly maintenance cost is about $56,000, not counting the $10,000 salary to the incumbent, at present Hon. E. L. Patenaude. In recent years the upkeep has gone somewhat about the $55,000 figure.

The Government House at Halifax as built in 1827. Present cost of maintenance is about $5,900 yearly, paid by the Provincial Administration.

Manitoba Government House was built at a cost of $126,605, and the Legislature at Winnipeg appropriates $10,000 a year for its support.

In Alberta, about $12,000 a year is spent to maintain the Government House at Edmonton. In 1934, the Legislature passed a resolution asking that no further appointment be made at the end of the term of the Lieutenant-Governor in office. The resolution recommended an inquiry into the possibility of turning the Government House into a sanitarium. No action has been taken yet on the resolution.

It costs about $36,000 annually to keep British Columbia's Government House in operation. The structure was built in 1903.

Hon. Archibald Peter McNab, who receives $9,000 annually, lives in Government House at Regina, which is maintained by Saskatchewan.

Ticking In His Head Has Veteran Worried

Shawnee, Okla., Nov. 24 (AP)

CHARLES Hester, Shawnee's human alarm clock, may soon learn what has caused the audible ticking in his head for the past 19 years.

Mrs. Jewell Adams, Red Cross executive, said today the Veterans' Bureau had arranged for Hester to enter a Chicago hospital for diagnosis. Hester's head has ticked like a clock since a shell exploded at his feet in the Great War. The ticking can be heard three feet away.

TURKEY DINNER AT KNOX CHURCH MOST SUCCESSFUL

The twenty-seventh anniversary services of Knox United Church which have been held over the week-end came to a successful conclusion Tuesday night.

Sunday throughout was a day of inspiration under the ministration of the Rev. J. Wesley Magwood of Toronto. Mr. Magwood did not come to Knox United Church as a stranger since he had been the highly acceptable supply paster, after the untimely death of the Rev. S. G. McCormack, and as such had won many friends.

This was evidenced in the large congregation which greeted Mr. Magwood at both morning and evening services on Sunday.

His inspiring messages came with a strong appeal on this anniversary occasion, when he chose for his morning theme "A Human—Divine Partnership", pointing out that we, as Christians, are co-workers with God.

In the evening, Mr. Magwood spoke on the subject "The Sin of Silence". Special music arranged by the organist and choir leader, W. R. Potter included solos by Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt, B.A., B.D., the present pastor of the church, who sang "O This Church Bless with Righteousness" set to Del Riego's "O Dry Those Tears" and "My God and Father While I Stray" by Marston.

The anthems for the day by the choir included "I Will Sing of the Lord" by Darnton and "O Sing Unto the Lord" by Minshell. "Sweet Hour of Prayer" was sung by the male quartette, Messrs V. E. R. Zufelt, Arthur Pitchford, John Donaldson and Albert Lee.

Dinner and Concert

Continuing their anniversary celebration Tuesday night, nearly one thousand people enjoyed a most delightful turkey dinner and the fine musical concert following was a fitting climax while the ladies of Knox United congregation are noted for their culinary art and splendid hospitality at last night's dinner they excelled themselves. In clock-like precision the vast crowd was entertained in relay. "Waiting in the Church" was perhaps the chief number on the program. But this waiting was not in vain. Nor was it monotonous, for the very efficient program committee had evolved an innovation by dividing the varied numbers, so that while one section was at dinner, the others were being entertained.

Acting as chairman, Rev. Mr. Zufelt welcomed the large company of friends to his church and announced the various numbers. Largely musical in character, the program included vocal solos "Give Me a Little Cozy Corner" and "She's All the World to Me" sung in sweet voice by Mrs. G. A. Spicer.

Mr. Treneer, formerly organist at St. Andrew's United Church is also a well-known singer and playing his own accompaniment his "Carmencita" was a delight to those who heard him. His piano solo was also much enjoyed. In his fine tenor Albert Lee sang "Thinking I Hear Thee Call" A pleasing variation in the program, were the readings by Miss Velma Staples, a promising young artist, who chose for her first selection "The Lady Who Lived Next Door." The other group included "Betty At the Ball Game" and the "Quintrains of Callandar" with encores "The Evolution of Mary" and "Who Sent the Flowers". Charming piano duets were brilliantly played by Mr. and Mrs. George Nicholls and the Knox Quartette, Messrs Zufelt, Pitchford, Donaldson and Lee sang a delightful group of plantation songs. Mr Potter and Tom Allen acted as accompanists for the singers and also gave several fine organ numbers.

U.F.O. Sanctions Sterilization

TORONTO, Nov. 24.— (CP).— Sterilization of the mentally unfit should be made legal in cases where it is requested by a patient or guardian and approved of by a properly constituted authority, the United Farmers of Ontario convention voted unanimously last night.

The delegates defeated a resolution favoring legislation to compel all applicants for a marriage license to present a certificate of psychical and mental health. W. C. Good, Paris, commented it would be impossible in most cases to determine the mental fitness of an applicant.

Harold Currie, Adelaide township, favored making sterilization legal as a method of combatting a rising tide of mental cases, but he asked who would be competent to judge and grant a certificate.

Heading Off An Election

Hon. Colin Campbell, Minister of Public Works, will not have to fight a second battle to secure a seat in the Legislature. He now has one at Sault Ste. Marie. In order to make certain there would be no chance for any other candidate entering the contest voters affixed their signatures to the nomination papers to the extent of 5,000. Somewhat of a record we should think and a rather sensible way to head off a by-election which no person appeared to want and for the holding of which no adequate reason could be advanced.

Once it has been established beyond doubt that a party is firmly in power, then the leader of that party ought to be given every assistance to go ahead and complete his ministry. And the people of Sault Ste. Marie were probably wise enough as well to see that it would do them no harm to have a cabinet minister as their representative.

May Account For It

Huron County Council has finally disposed of a case which has been hanging fire for a good many months. During the season of bad floods in the spring a farmer was called upon one night to go to the assistance of five people—three of them children—in a car. The car was stuck in a road where the water was running deeper every moment.

The farmer had no hesitation about going. He did not wait to have the authority of the township council or the county council or any other body. He took a team of horses, went out into the flood and hooked on to the car and got it to safety.

But that is not all. When he was making the rescue one of his horses got tangled in the harness and was drowned.

Later the farmer asked that he be compensated for the loss of his horse. The county council had some legal authority to look into the matter and it was declared that the flood was "an act of providence," or some such thing. Meaning, of course that as providence had caused the flood and not the county, then the county could not be held liable for the loss of the horse. And as argument goes we suppose that was as good as any other which might be advanced.

But the question was not allowed to drop there and at the last session the county councillors agreed that the farmer should be paid $100 for the loss of his horse and thanked as well for the courageous thing he had done. Many of the members spoke saying they did not want the world to be told they were too mean to pay a bill where a man had risked his horses and also his own life. In fact they all seemed filled with desire to say the same thing at the same time. And the flood was a long time ago and in the interval nothing was done toward paying the bill. It may be that the near approach to another election had something to do with the fine and entirely proper attitude being so generously adopted.

It Was A Failure

When nations send delegates to form such a conference as has been taking place in Brussels to discuss peace there is no notice given out at the conclusion to say whether the affair was a success or a failure. Without being given unduly to pessimism it is correct enough to say that the Brussels gathering has been a failure. The immediate purpose was to find some way to bring the war in China to an end, and while the powers discussed matters in Brussels Japan kept on with its campaign in China. And Japan had no delegation at the Brussels conference. Without the chief belligerent being present it was impossible that anything of moment could have been done.

Nor could the conference be described as a triumph for diplomacy. One idea which appeared to rise above all others was that the nations represented were in favor of some other nation or some other group of nations being named to go and tell Japan just where she got off at. A group of international representatives standing around pointing to or nodding at each other was not timed to cause Japan to worry. So the sign must go up that the Brussels conference was a failure.

That Is Not Unionism

Word coming from Pontiac, Mich., tells that Homer Martin, International president of the United Automobile Workers, "led 200 sit-down strikers out of the General Motors Fisher Body Plant today." The strikers had held the plant in idleness from Wednesday until the following Monday evening, and the strike had not been sanctioned. It is reported the strikers acted in defiance of their officers. Finally Mr. Martin was sent for, and it is recorded that an hour and a half after he entered the plant "the men emerged and the company was notified that the strike was over."

And that of course must have been a very impressive moment. The men who were holding the plant in idleness did not own it; they had risked nothing in bringing it together. They seek to take as much out of it as possible, but they can take nothing out of it when it is not operating. It is evident enough these workers in Pontiac do not understand the meaning of unionism; they do not regard a contract as something which must be carefully observed. They do not recognize authority within their own ranks and they care little whether the people for whom they work and from whom they draw wages are placed in an unfavorable position when it comes to getting the product of the plant finished and sold. That is so lop-sided a form of industrial organization that the wonder is the thing can survive.

Being King Of Spain

Pictures published in the papers of Don Juan, Prince of the Asturias, and third son of the former King Alfonso of Spain, show him to be a pleasant looking young man. The reason for printing the picture was that a lull in the fighting in Spain called for a little explanation. The rebel leader Franco is said to be in hopes of making arrangements with the now almost beaten Loyalists to have this young man placed on the throne and restore monarchy to Spain.

There may be a number of people in the world who have a feeling they would like to be king of some place or other, but it would be a bold individual who would put up his hand to indicate he desired to become king of Spain and sit upon the throne of that troubled country.

It might be possible when the sun was at its height at noon and when all things moved in the open that one could have a brief feeling of security, but with the going down of the sun so would there be a going down of that feeling of security. When it grew dark we fear the king would be called upon to use a tremendous amount of discretion regarding where he went. A number of armed men would have to walk in front and at the rear, while others would have to troop along on either side. With little enough mental exertion we can think of a number of appointments, assignments and vocations more pleasant than being king of Spain with General Franco standing to one side or a little to the rear telling the king what to do.

Easy To Understand

Now and then a little bit of speaking is done with a frankness which is admirable. Such has happened in connection with the report (or rumor) that Senator A. D. Hardy of Brockville was considering taking office as Lieutenant-Governor of the province. Truth is such a report has been in circulation several times in several years.

When the Senator was asked by a reporter if he were in line for the position he was moved to give an answer which might have been turned in several directions. Then the story ran this way:

"You haven't denied that you may be the next Lieutenant-Governor," it was suggested.

"Oh, I will do that," interjected the Senator's wife. "My husband will not be the next Governor."

And that seems to be that. Truth is a good deal of the business of the country could be clarified and simplified if there were more of that sort of direct speaking. It is so easy to understand exactly what the Senator's wife said.

A Preacher In Jail?

It looks as though things were closing down on Rev. E. N. O. Kulbeck, of Woodstock. It is a matter of weeks since he was brought into magistrate's court and fined because there was too much noise coming from the place where his services were being held. The claim was the noise disturbed the neighbors, and the neighbors did not like to be disturbed.

Mr. Kulbeck had before him the option of paying the fine or going to jail for a season, but he appealed to courts higher up the scale, and has been informed that the higher courts will have nothing to do with it and for that reason the finding of the primary court stands as it was. So as the situation is at the moment the Woodstock pastor will pay the fine or go to jail.

Nor should he grieve too much about it. It is recorded of Paul and Silas in the 16th chapter of Acts:

And when they had laid many stripes upon them they cast them into prison, charging the jailer to keep them safely;

Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison and made their feet fast in the stocks.

And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed and sang praises unto God, and the prisoners heard them.

And all that took place at Philippi many years ago. Whether folk who lived near the prison were moved to protest and ask that something further and more drastic be done against these joyful prisoners is not recorded. But if Mr. Kulbeck of Woodstock elects to go to jail he will not be the first to have done so.

The Examiner has stated previously that some sort of investigation might well be carried out before this man goes to jail. If he is just locked up for thirty days and then set free nothing will have been demonstrated. We have plenty of churches where a bit of something approaching noise might well be injected. It would cause people to cease from doing so much yawning; prevent others from sliding deep in the corner of the pews and nodding to the point of slight slumber, and it might ruffle or blast entirely the feeling and appearance of complacency which settles deep upon so many congregations. And apart from all that there is something about sending a minister to jail because some members of his congregation found something about which to be joyful which annoyed the neighbors that we find it difficult to like at all.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The British army will not bar men with false teeth or spectacles, the Minister of War announces. They must be going to soften up the iron rations.

Hosiery workers in Ontario are to ask for a code fixing wages and hours. How about one for the consumers guaranteeing against runs in their stockings?

A fourteen-year-old Toronto boy is under arrest as a bandit. That sounds like too many gangster pictures, detective magazines and radio crime plays.

That hunter who fired at a tree in shooting practice and killed a deer is no doubt home now and boasting about the unerring nature of his marksmanship.

General Jan C. Smuts has been urging the people of Africa to encourage tourists. Canada has found they are a crop that bring a rich harvest every year and never need to be ploughed under.

Two men tried to escape when an alleged Toronto gaming house was raided by jumping out of a window. They would have the same sensation as the horses they bet on in the steeple chase events.

It looks as if the Marmora district can boast the hungriest bears in Ontario. They have eaten everything down that way except the rock ridges, according to the stories coming in.

According to one newspaper article pitching horseshoes is a grim serious business. The writer evidently has never seen the boys at the engine house play the game.

The plumbers' strike at Windsor seems to have been settled without deciding just what should be paid to the fellows who have to go back for the tools they forget.

Six Canadian provinces and five American states were represented in the beef cattle classes at the Royal Winter Fair and that tells its own story of the interest taken in the big event.

Osteopath declares that the world is in for another epidemic of influenza. There was one with the last great war so perhaps he means another world conflict is just around the corner.

Toronto police are organizing a campaign against the gambling fraternity although of course it will be quite all right to gamble at the track where the racing associations and the government get a slice of the revenue.

Over 5,000 names appear on the nomination paper of Hon. Colin Campbell, Minister of Public Works, who is a candidate in the Sault Ste. Marie by-election. Apparently so far as he is concerned the Campbells really are coming.

News correspondent has been expelled from Berlin because the Nazi government did not like his articles on the foot-and-mouth disease in Germany. It would seem that this journalist opened his mouth and put his foot in it.

Valerie Brook, 21, daughter of Sir Charles Brooke, the "white rajah" of Sarawak, was married in London to Bob Gregory. Sisters of the young lady have married titled gentleman, so Valerie of 21 years has done the same thing. Her husband, Bob Gregory, has the title of catch-as-catch-can wrestling champion of Europe.

MECHANIC

(By A. R. K.)

¶ The handy man put on his door, and he don't have to worry more, it swings just like it ought; the top is even I can see, the bottom's like it ought to be, and no place it gets caught.

¶ I saw him working at the thing, like when he took it off last spring, and no one helped him there; he knew just what 'twas all about, and never once I heard him shout, to fetch a kitchen chair.

¶ I shed the fly door yesterday, and careful put the thing away, and that was half the race; I guess I made a noise and bang, when I went out to nail and hang, the storm door in its place.

¶ There's lots of holes around the door, in fact there couldn't be no more, and they are big and deep; when I stand on the kitchen chair, the screw nails simply drop in there, as though they'd gone to sleep.

¶ And then my storm door starts to drag, and at the corner has a sag, it rather makes me grieve; for if I want to close it tight, I have to shove with all my might, and also lift and heave.

¶ And then there's other holes I try, that look as how they're high and dry, once more I swing my door; and then I find the thing will stick, I have to give it quite a kick—it's worse than 'twas before.

CERAMICS ACCORDING to Edward C. Kinsman of Alfred University is probably the oldest lasting occupation of mankind with the possible exception of war. The oldest Egyptian tombs and Greek ruins contain ceramic wares of all kinds. In fact, we can often trace the history of entire peoples from the remnants of their glass and clay products.

❖ ❖ ❖

A definition as accepted by the American Ceramic Society is briefly: Ceramics is the study of the behavior of burnt, non-metallic earthen materials. Such a process as the melting of steel is distinguished from ceramics as steel is metallic. Baking bread might be termed a burning process but it is not ceramic because it is not earthen.

❖ ❖ ❖

The ceramist works primarily with a very few common substances supplemented with rarer materials to give special desired results. The most important materials are clay, feldspar and sand. The clay is mined in much the same way as coal when it occurs underground, but since it often occurs in extensive surface beds it can be easily obtained through the use of steam shovels. The large deposits of clay in the United States are found in an extensive semi-circle starting in New Jersey and swinging down through Georgia and North Carolina and up through Tennessee and Kentucky and over through Missouri. The more important ceramic raw materials are silicates that is they contain silicon which is second only to oxygen in abundance in the earth's crust.

❖ ❖ ❖

So important is aging porcelain work in China that Chinese potters often invest in quantities of clay and start aging it for their grandsons' use.

❖ ❖ ❖

A Chinese secret for turning out the highest qualities of chinaware is to see that of the total quantity of materials used about 45 per cent. is to be cattle bones burned to a powder.

❖ ❖ ❖

Heels on shoes are of Persian origin. They were first introduced to elevate the feet from the burning sands.

Notes On Photography.

Having a watchmaker's jewel as a lens, the smallest camera in the world exhibited in London is about the size of a man's thumbnail.

❖ ❖ ❖

The world's longest range photograph was taken of Mount Shasta from an elevation of 331,000 feet and a distance of 331 miles by a captain in the United States army air corps. The photo covered the greatest amount of earth's surface ever taken at a single exposure.

❖ ❖ ❖

Visitors leaving a European factory pass through a room in which any camera film negatives which they may have concealed are destroyed by a ray.

❖ ❖ ❖

In a few seconds 456 "vertical contour" photographs of the head of a sitter are taken in a new Japanese photo-sculpture process by which extraordinarily accurate bronze busts are produced with facility.

❖ ❖ ❖

Obscured by fog in daytime the Pavlof volcanoes on the Alaskan peninsula can be satisfactorily photographed in the light of the midnight sun.

❖ ❖ ❖

❖ ❖ ❖

During the Ethiopian conflict in 1935 excellent action pictures were obtained on films about the size of a postage stamp.

❖ ❖ ❖

Many varieties of deep sea fish burst when brought to the surface. The change in air pressure is too great for their air bladders.

❖ ❖ ❖

About the busiest things in the world must be the wings of the common house fly. Scientists tell us that they vibrate at the rate of approximately 19,800 times a minute.

Hardships in Croatia.

AMONG THE FOLK in this world who find life is hard may be listed the Croatian peasants. Ninety per cent. of the people of Croatia belong to the rural class and their poverty is strikingly brought out in the lack of tools most essential for the tiller of the soil,—the plow, the ox and the cart. In the district of Livno for example half the peasants in many of the towns own neither plow or farm cattle. They turn over the land with hoes. The more affluent peasants who do own plows rarely have all-iron implements; they must be content with wooden or half-iron plows which barely scratch the surface of the earth.

❖ ❖ ❖

Where the villagers are fortunate enough to posses a cart, these conveyances are of ancient vintage. In the Bosnian Mountains can be seen carts costructed without a single piece of iron, their wheels made angular by constant wear. Twelve hundred years ago the Frankish Kings used such vehicles.

❖ ❖ ❖

Nor is the kindling of a fire a simple matter for the peasant of Croatia. Before the war he exchanged a pound of barley for a parcel of matches; now twenty pounds of barley is the price for the same quantity of matches.

❖ ❖ ❖

Probably the severest hardships are borne by the littoral peasants on the Velebit mountain range, for no matter how hard they toil their store of food is eaten up by Christmas time. Then in the bleak winter months they tramp over the Velebit into the Lika and there barter whatever they still possess—mostly figs—for beg for bread. The march across the Velebit in the dead of winter is no light task. Many peasants have been frozen to death in the frequent snowstorms; others have tumbled headlong from the narrow, steep, chamois trails.

Seek Husband Five to Eight Years Older

This Subject Has Been Studied Carefully For Years; Man of 40 Is Likely to Marry a Girl Who is 30

(From the Milwaukee Journal)

THE "FORGOTTEN" women of depression days who were unable to find husbands because of adverse economic conditions are advised by Harvard University sociologists to seek mates five or ten years older than they are.

The aspiration of these women to marry men of their own age and their refusal of proposals of others who are older is a contributing factor to the "old maid" problem, the sociologists have found.

This advice is based on an investigation carried on for three years by Walter C. McKain, Jr., an assistant in the sociology department, in collaboration with Dr. C. Arnold Anderson. Dr. Anderson is considered one of the foremost authorities on marriage.

❖ ❖ ❖

In an interview at Harvard's Dunster House, Mr. McKain, a candidate for the doctor of philosophy degree, said that the investigation had shown that women of 25 years of age and over are "not likely to marry men of their own age in normal times like these."

Men who are looking forward to marriage have a natural preference for younger women, he said. Also, the older a man gets, the older the woman he marries will tend to be.

"Figures show that a man of 25 will marry a girl of 21. The ages grow increasingly disproportionate until the man is 30 or 35. At these ages he will likely marry a girl of 25 and not one of his own age. At 40 the woman he marries will likely be 30."

In abnormal times, such as the height of depression years, marriages of men and women of the same age are more likely. "In prosperity, beauty is often sufficient for marriage because marriage is not so weighty a problem then," said Mr. McKain. "In depression the type of affection which combines beauty with comradeship and mutuality of interests plays a more important part. As incomes are reduced both parties are forced to rely more and more on each other's company and resourcefulness. Thus men and women select mates who are nearer their own age.

"The girl who in 1931 was 21 years old and unable to find a husband because of the loss of jobs, insecurity and lower salaries of prospective males is, of course, anxious now to marry a man of the same age, or 27. The boy who went to school with her, however, has not the same idea. If economically secure now, he will seek a wife between the ages of 21 and 23. Beauty at this age is fresh and more appealing, in their estimation.

"Accordingly it ill behooves a girl in that position to discount attention being paid her by a man of 30 or 35 simply because of the difference of age. If there is mutual respect and attraction between both parties, I heartily advise the couple to marry. Failure to do so on the part of the girl may result in her reaching the status of 'old maid'."

The prevailing belief that an economic depression tends to raise the ages at which men and women marry has been dispelled by the investigation, the first stage of which has been completed.

Statistics in the office of the Massachusetts Secretary of State reveal that in 1931, at the height of the depression, thirty-nine per cent. of couples married in Massachusetts were between 20 and 24 years old. In 1926, considered a normal year, 32 per cent. of couples married were in the same age group. Last year, the same as 1926, the figure was 37 per cent.

Kicking About the Price Paid For Milk

When Prosperity Comes It Means an Era of High Prices; Machine May Be a Little Hard to Start on Its Way

(By Rusticus) in Stratford Beacon-Herald)

TORONTO HOUSEWIVES have gone on a milk strike. Prices of milk advanced, the farmer getting part of the increase and the distributor the balance. In this age of organizations it is not surprising that some groups should decide to organize a strike against the use of milk, with the price as the grievance.

The price of a quart of milk in Toronto is now 12 cents. The producer receives $2.52 per hundred-weight for his milk, and it is generally agreed that there are about 38 quarts in one hundred pounds of milk. Thus, the producer receives about 6 2-3 cents per quart. The question then is being asked: Is 6 1-3 cents a fair charge for handling a quart of milk?

The other night we read where the garagemen and service station operators were going to ask the government to create a code whereby one could not retail gasoline for less than four cents per gallon profit. Milk and gas are very much in the same class now. Most of us practically consider them necessities of life. For comparison let us see how the two fluids are handled.

The oil company's truck delivers the gas to the retailer's tank, and stores it in tanks which generally are the oil company's property. The retailer pumps it into the tank of his customer's car. There is some shrinkage it is true, but there is no packaging.

On the other hand, the dairy requires expensive equipment. The milk must be carefully pasteurized, bottled, and then delivered from house to house.

Of course farmers will readily agree that the dairy is getting too much of the consumer's milk dollar. That has been the battle cry of farmers' co-operatives for years. But if the dairies can provide this service for slightly over 6 cents per quart or unit and be called profiteers, then what of the gasoline vendors, who have no such expense and yet are anxious to have a law passed to make compulsory a four-cent per unit profit?

Milk is one of the essential foods. There is no satisfactory substitute. Milk in its various marketable forms is one of the chief revenue-producers on the farm. The price of milk, be it quoted as whole milk, cheese or butter, is a reliable barometer of the economic condition of this country. We are wondering today how many of those Toronto women would protest if the price of admission to their favorite theatre were to advance? Or how many of them spend needless pennies for food that hasn't anywhere near the value of milk?

We discussed this question with one of those "union" fellows the other day. Some years ago this man shouted about the victory that had been won by his union when they secured the eight-hour day. His argument was that milk was too high in price. He could not afford it. The only difference in his wages was that he now worked 44 hours per week whereas some years ago he put in 50 hours per week. The hourly wage rate was exactly the same. Official government figures prove that the rate of wages paid various classes of labor was slightly higher in 1936 than in 1919, but the farmer received $3.06 for a cwt. of milk in 1919, compared with $2.52 since the last advance in 1937.

Oh, yes, they howled about the high cost of living in those days. But wasn't prosperity a fine thing? There is no milk shortage or butter shortage. There is no shortage of food of any kind, and when the consumers begin to howl about the high cost of living, that is as music to the ear. We have heard them at it before and always it has meant a little more money in our pockets. What is more important to the consumer is the fact that while he was hollering about the high cost of living, he was buying more milk and other farm produce, more furniture, more clothes, more of everything, and his pay cheque was elastic enough to pay for it all.

Those women in Toronto may not believe us, but they are actually inviting the return of those dark days now definitely left behind when depression stalked through the land. We are all a part of "prosperity." Prosperity may be described as a vast machine that has been inactive for some years. Some of the bearings may be a bit stiff when she first moves. Some parts rebel at moving at all, but in a short time the whole works begin to hum in true relationship to one another.

MY PRAISES ARE—

Not for the winner, the powerful winner
Who claims victory in his stride
Passing the weak that nothing may hinder,
Whose prowess is flaunted wide;

But for the gallant, the struggling gallant
Who, fighting for breath in his wake,
And knowing his loss, unheeding a'cant;
Fights on for the fighter's sake.

Not for the pompous, the conquering herd,
Who tramples a path that's assured,
But for the humble of action and word
Fighting temptation yet lured.

Not for the preachers of silver and gold,
In sepulchres shocking His word,
But for the brothers so wan in the cold
Whose sacrifice dies unheard.

These will I sing, the humble and low
Who are trampled 'neath worldly feet,
The white fuel of civilization's glow
Tasting of life's bitter sweet.

UNIFORMITY NEEDED

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

Each municipality using stop signs buys the number it requires from one or other of a number of manufacturers, with the result that there are many shapes and styles challenging the attention of motorists. Uniformity would seem to be as desirable as in the case of license plates, and as feasible, if the Department of Highways would act as purchasing agent.

A Bible Message For To-day . . . .

HO EVERY one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price . . . Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live. . . . Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon Him while he is near. . . For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater: so shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it. For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.—Isa lv. 1, 3, 6, 9-12.

And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. . . . And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her. And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them. Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him: and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.—Luke iv, 14, 38-40.

VALUE OF IMMUNIZATION

Retiring Lieutenant-Governor Addresses Crowd At Royal

Dr. Herbert Bruce Makes His Last Official Appearance In Toronto

TORONTO, Nov. 24.—Before thousands of spectators, who packed to capacity the Horse Show Arena at the Royal Winter Fair, His Honor Dr. Herbert A. Bruce Tuesday night made his final Toronto appearance as Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. And in a brief, impressive speech, epilogue to distinguished service in high office, Dr. Bruce declared: "I am glad that the last Toronto function of my official career should be in connection with the Royal Winter Fair.

"When a week ago I tendered my resignation to the Prime Minister of Canada, I suggested that it should become effective after various engagements in connection with this Fair had been completed. My term could not have ended at a happier time. Realizing as I do the enormous value and importance of this Fair, I wish to congratulate the executives and officials who worked so hard to make this Fair so brilliant and outstanding a success," he said.

Dr. Bruce Praised.

He also, he said, wished to express appreciation of the work of the judges. And then he added, with a smile and some laughter: "Their duties not only require continued application, but apparently are not without certain hazards, involving even bodily injuries."

This final function in which Dr Bruce participated was his welcome to distinguished visitors at the Royal, the representatives of other countries, the visiting international army teams. This all involved some colorful ceremony, with a parade of the military horsemen. And in it, too, there was tribute to Dr. Bruce as a notable Canadian citizen, and as fitting expression as part of the Royal's activities there was praise for his many contributions to the success of this great Fair.

A spectacular display by six-horse teams was in progress when Dr Bruce and Mrs. Bruce entered their box. The Lieutenant-Governor and his wife were accompanied by Baron Robert Silvercruys, Belgian Minister to Canada, the Baron's sister, Gordon Perry, president of the Fair, and Vice-President F. C Fletcher. They joined in the applause for the event in the ring.

New Jap Envoy?

Kensuke Horinouchi, Japanese vice-minister of foreign affairs, who, according to an authoritative Tokio news source, is slated to be Nippon envoy to Washington in a shake-up of diplomatic posts. The present Japanese ambassador to Washington, Hirosi Saito, would be transferred to London, the report adds.

A Cough Won't Go Away Of Itself

Many people get a nasty cough and do not pay any attention to it, saying, "Oh, it will wear away in a short time," but even should it, serious injury may have been done to the bronchial tubes by the prolonged, harsh, racking coughing.

Too much stress cannot be laid on the fact that on the first sign of a cold or cough it should be gotten rid of immediately, as failure to do so may prove a serious matter to the general health.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has been on the market for the past forty-eight years, and we can recommend it as being one of the best remedies for colds and coughs you can possibly procure.

MISS AGNES S. FRASER, R.R. 4, New Glasgow, N.S., writes:—"I had a terrible cough. I used to cough a lot at night. I could not get rid of it. A friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It relieved my cough right away."

SIX PERSONS FACE LIQUOR CHARGES IN LINDSAY COURT

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Nov. 24.—Following up the campaign against bootlegging operations in the northern part of Victoria County, Provincial constable Adair and Corp. Woods, R.C.M.P., assisted by county constable Dixon, raided the home of T. Fitzgerald near Victoria Road, and as a result six persons will face Magistrate Gee in police court on December 3. Charges were laid by the police on Monday.

The residence has been under observation by the police for some weeks. On the night of the raid the officers saw a party leave the house, and on searching them found a quantity of liquor in their possession. More liquor was found in the house. The charges will be one of keeping, charged jointly against the owners of the residence; three charges of having liquor and one of obstructing an officer.

Following up a raid recently made at Kinmount, a charge of keeping for sale has been laid against a resident of the village.

Population Increases

According to the assessor's returns Lindsay's population shows an increase of 143. The increase is accounted for by the fact that a number of families moved into the municipality during the summer while road work was being done in the district.

Hydro at Kinmount

The residents of Kinmount will enjoy electric lights shortly after the new year. The Hydro line will be extended from Minden to the village and a gang of men will start immediately on the work.

Rink Nearly Ready

Omemee's new $16,000 arena is rapidly nearing completion and it is expected that it will be ready for use in about three weeks. It will be 192 feet by 90 feet.

Bomb Proof Raid Shelters Ready

LONDON, Nov. 24.— (CP).— A recruit has been added to the army of high-pressure salesmen in the British Isles—the chap offering private bomb-proof air raid shelters.

Models of such shelters have been on exhibition at the Public Works, Roads and Transport Congress here. They can be erected in a private garden, or any other convenient spot for £75 ($375).

The family model, so much down, and so much per month, accommodates 10 persons. There is also a larger model for 50 persons, fitted with electric light, water supply and an air-filtering plant.

and then as this class was ended and the ring was cleared there was a momentary pause and silence. Then the Governor-General's Horse Guards Band paraded in with the International Army Officers' teams, lined up with their display of flags and colors for the National Anthem.

Dr. Bruce was escorted to the centre of the arena by Gordon Perry and Lieut.-Col. R. K. Barker, secretary of the Horse Show. And there Mr. Perry voiced the pleasure of himself and his colleagues in welcoming the Lieutenant-Governor, noted "his almost daily association with the Fair this year and for so many years past." Dr. Bruce, he pointed out, at one time had been a member of a number of Fair committees. "And we are pleased at this time," Mr. Perry continued, "to tell him how much we thoroughly appreciate all the great things in which he has had a part," events and activities, as Mr. Perry observed, that have been identified with the success of the Royal Winter Fair.

It was then that Dr. Bruce spoke of this, his last official Toronto function, extended his official welcome to Baron Silvercruys and his distinguished sister; welcomed, as well, the international officers. He thanked these horsemen for their part in the Fair's events, but he did not forget the Canadian team, congratulated the Canadians not only on their success here, but in New York.

British Soldiers Killed In Shanghai

This picture was taken shortly before a Japanese shell exploded at this British outpost in the International Settlement at Shanghai and snuffed out the lives of William Christopher Howard (sighting the Lewis gun) and James Mellon (holding the mounting with both hands). Following the deaths of these British soldiers, orders were given all British outposts to open fire at will against any Japanese aeroplanes which came menacingly close to British lines around Shanghai.

Father's Annulment Plea Is Granted Child Bride 14, Freed Of Mate

Chicago, Nov. 24 (AP) MARION Horton, 14, went back to her sixth grade classes today, her marriage to Harry Ruud, 24, annulled by a judge who said she "should be playing with dolls."

Superior Judge John L. Lupe granted a plea for annulment asked yesterday by the child bride's father, Waverly Horton, a golf professional, estranged from his wife.

The girl testified that Ruud in obtaining a marriage license gave her age as 21. Her father said she was married June 29 but never lived with her husband.

4 SASKATCHEWAN MAYORS RETURNED

REGINA, Nov. 24 (CP) — Chief magistrates of four Saskatchewan cities today faced new mayoral terms and in Moose Jaw Walter P. Johnsone, former police chief, became mayor-elect to succeed Harris Johnston, who did not seek re-election.

A. C. Ellison was returned in Regina for a third term, R. M. Pinder for a fourth term in Saskatoon, H. J. Fraser for a fifth in Prince Albert and W. H. Bowers for a third term in North Battleford. Civic elections were held yesterday.

In Moose Jaw Mr. Johnson, Civic Progressive Association nominee, had a 576 majority over his only opponent, F. W. Torney, K.C., former police magistrate. Mr. Johnson polled 3,270 and Mr. Torney 2,694.

Mr. Ellison, first elected Labor mayor of Regina in 1935, polled 10,876 to 2,712 for his only opponent, Henry Black, a former mayor and candidate of the Home Owners' Association.

In Saskatoon Mr. Pinder had a 1,300 majority over Howard McConnell, K.C., member of the Conservative Provincial Government of 1929-34. Mr. McConnell, a former Saskatoon mayor, campaigned for refunding the civic debt. Mr. Pinder advocated a work and wages program.

Mr. Fraser was returned in Prince Albert with a 296 majority over H. J. Coutu, K.C., former mayor of Gravelbourg, Sask.

Mr. Bowers was given a 271 majority in North Battleford over J. Deans, former alderman.

150 PLAYERS AT CROKINOLE PARTY GIFTS PRESENTED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waters of Seymour township extended the hospitality of their home on Monday evening to over one hundred and fifty guests who met together for a progressive crokinole party held under the auspices of group No. 1 of the Trent River United church W. A.

Fourteen tables were played, being supervised by Rev. S. A. Kemp and Mr. Umphreys and prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies first, Miss Ila Free; gents' first, Mr. David Brown; ladies' consolation, Mrs. E. Greenly; gents' consolation, Keith Longmuir.

During the evening Mrs. Arthur Waters read a very appropriate address as Mrs. William Preston presented Mrs. Frank Davidson with a beautiful bed spread and as Miss Florence Shearer presented Miss Aleitha Davidson with a lovely compact, the gifts of her friends of the church. Mrs. Davidson and daughter are leaving to reside in Campbellford and have a host of friends who extend to them the best of good wishes.

A short program consisting of a few remarks by the Rev. S. A. Kemp and a solo, "Nobody's Darling but Mine," by Betty Green and a recitation by Ila Free, and a dainty luncheon provided by the ladies of Group I, all made the evening one of the best.

Hunter's Back

Messrs. Wallace Orr of Hastings, Farley Chard of Gunter, and Robert Fairman of Campbellford, returned, on Saturday ater a two weeks' hunting expedition at Devil's Lake. The hunters reported a most delightful time spent in hunting and received their full quota of deer. Mr. W. Orr was successful in shooting a large buck and one deer. Although they had only five days of actual deer hunting, they were pleased with their returns.

Family Reunion

A family reunion was held on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dainard, when all of their family, their sons, daughters, sons-in-law, daughters-in-law and five grandchildren, surprised them and had a bountiful dinner and a pleasant time together for the first time in four years. A few intimate friends were also present. The family present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dainard, Ruth, John and Allan, of Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dainard, of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart and son Jack of Foxboro, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Dainard and daughter Cloa of Wooler, and Bernice and Wesley of Hastings. Guests were Miss Vera Nichols of Wooler, Miss Jessie McManus of Smiths Falls and Mr. Lloyd Lee of Lindsay.

Friends of Rev. William Stocks, incumbent of St. George's Anglican church will regret to hear that he has been confined to his home through illness and was unable to take charge of the services on Sunday.

5,000 JOIN PROTEST

TORONTO, Nov. 24—(CP)—Mrs. Bertha Lamb told a meeting of the Toronto Housewives' Association last night 5,000 men had joined the organization in protest of recent "tenta-quart milk price increases which lifted the retail price of the commodity to 13 cents.

An especial honor was conferred on Mr. and Mrs. John Corkery, Sr., of 487 Gilmour street, on Sunday last, the occasion of their 55th wedding anniversary, when they received the blessing of His Holiness, Pope Pius XI.

❖ ❖ ❖

The prizes displayed at the Sodality booth at St. Peter's bazaar were won by the following: Mrs. George Daley of Rubidge street, the Kenwood blanket; Miss Geraldine Dunsford, of Stewart street, the permanent wave; Miss Mary Ryan, of Rubidge street, the lace centepiece. The coffee table has yet to be drawn for.

❖ ❖ ❖

The Rev. J. W. Magwood of Toronto, who was the special preacher at the morning and evening anniversary services in Knox United Church on Sunday, was a guest at the home of Mrs. A. B. Cunningham, Reid Street, during his stay in the city. The Rev. Mr. Magwood returned to Toronto last evening after attending the big turkey dinner in connection with the anniversary.

In Knox Church on Tuesday evening, a most enjoyable program was given in connection with the tremendously popular turkey supper, the attendance at which broke all records. Interesting items on the program were vocal and piano solos by H. C. Treneer, who but recently moved to Peterborough. Mr. Treneer has been totally blind since birth. His fine tenor voice and accomplished playing were much enjoyed last evening.

Mrs. J. W. Kennedy, formerly Miss Geraldine McAuliffe, whose wedding took place this past week-eld, was the recipient of many handsome gifts on severing her connection with Stock's Bread Company, Limited. The manager, Alderman James Dutton, and Mrs. Dutton presented the bride-elect with a cabinet of silver; the office staff gave a Kenwood blanket and a pyrex pie plate with silver mounting; a very substantial cheque was received as a wedding gift from "The Boys" of the Company, and Mrs. Kennedy was also presented by the Company with her three-tiered and beautifully decorated wedding cake.

Birthday Party
Miss Velma Sweeting.

A very jolly birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sweeting of Springville, for their daughter, Miss Velma Sweeting, and also for Irvine McIntosh and Jack Brown, whose birthdays all fell near the same date.

Also Messrs. Jack and Archie Brown, Stanley and Milton Dunford, Cecil Neils, Charlie Whittington, Irvine McIntosh, Harold Davis, Percy and Elmer Johnston, Clarence and Clifford Johnston, Claremont Morgan, Melville, Gordon and Sherman Morrison, Manson and Donald Cathcart, Harvey Clifford, Willis Cunningham, Bud Edgerton, Duncan Seymour, Percy Sweeting, Barney Foster and Earle Palister of Millbrook.

President Addresses
St. Andrew's Young People.

The Young People's Union of St. Andrew's Church met in the Ladies' Parlors on Tuesday evening with the president, Jack McKone in the chair.

Alec Young gave the Scripture passage, and Miss Frances Clarke read a Devotional story.

Taking as his topic, "Sincerity," a powerful address was given by the president. A number of illustrations showed how insincerity may creep into people's lives, and the necessity for pure motives in everything undertaken was emphasized by the speaker.

Arrangements were made for a social meeting and election of officers next Monday evening, and for the illustrated travellogue to be given by Ken Weldon on Tuesday, December 7.

Evening Tea
All Saints' W.A.

A most successful tea was held by the Evening Branch of All Saints' Church at the home of Miss Frances Dawson, 457 Downie street on Tuesday evening.

The president, Miss Gwen Dobbin, and Miss Dawson received the guests. Tea was served from a table most charmingly arranged with an attractive lace cloth, bronze and yellow chrysanthemums in a silver basket placed on a reflector, and yellow candles in silver holders. Mrs. J. D. Paterson presided, and was assisted by the Misses Meta Hart, Gwen Lucas, Ethel Allen, Myrtle Dark, Laura Powell and Annie Williams.

In the living room, a table of novelties, pretty suggestions for Christmas gifts, made by the members, Christmas cards and calendars, were sold by Miss Marjory Worboy. Home-made candy in little yellow and brown baskets was sold in the dining room by Miss Hilda Harris.

An enjoyable musical program included a solo by Miss Gwen Lucas, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Gloyer; a solo by Mrs. J. Howard, accompanied by Mrs. Fowlie; piano solos by Miss Eleanor Glover and Miss Elsie Chambers.

Silver Anniversary
Tea St. John's C.W.A.

A most delightful tea in honor of the silver anniversary of its founding was held by the Church Women's Association of St. John's on Tuesday afternoon in the Parish Hall.

The guests were received by the president, Mrs. Fred Hooper, and a number of past presidents were hostesses, and included, Mrs. T. W. H. Young, Mrs. H. A. Morrow, Mrs. J. H. Seela, Mrs. John Comstock and Mrs. A. W. Turner.

The tea table was an attractive picture, arranged with mauve-pink chrysanthemums in a green glass bowl and green and mauve candles in silver holders, on the lace cloth. Silver predominated in the other decorations, charmingly carried out on the individual tea tables. At the large table, Mrs. H. Morphet poured tea, and Miss Margaret English poured coffee, and assistants were Mrs. Lionel Scott, Mrs. R. W. Frank, Mrs. Hutchison, Mrs. Brooks, and Mrs. Percy Bond. Mrs. B. D. Hall was general convenor for the tea.

A home-made cooking table was in charge of Mrs. H. Anderson, with assistants in Mrs. W. R. Thompson and Mrs. D. Milton.

A beautifully iced and silver decoraied birthday cake, donated by Miss English, was won on a draw by Mrs. Ford.

Mrs. Charles Stanton acted as treasurer for the afternoon.

Mrs. M. Abramson
Hostess Farwell Party.

A most enjoyable farewell party was given by their bridge club to Mrs. A. Neiman, Mrs. L. Florence and Mrs. M. Florence, who have left to spend some time in New York City.

Mrs. Neiman will attend the wedding of her eldest daughter, Miss Ada Neiman to Nat August of New York, while Mrs. M. Florence and Mrs. L. Florence will attend the wedding of their nephew, I. Klouer to Miss Finklestein of New York.

The party was held at the home of Mrs. M. Abramson, Aylmer street, and after a pleasant evening at bridge, the three guests of honor were presented each with a pretty compact, the presentations being made by Mrs. Skeinker. The bridge prize was won by Mrs. A. Fine. Refreshments were served from a table attractively arranged with a linen cloth, and basket of flowers as a centreplece.

The guests included Mesdames A. Neiman, M. Florence, L. Florence, H. Abramson, M. Abramson, S. Levine, A. Fine, Skeinker, Smith, Gluekstein.

Fairbairn-Crowe.

Zion Church, Hall's Glen, was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers for a pretty autumn wedding on Saturday last, when Ottie Isabel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Crowe, became the bride of Keith Sidney Fairbairn, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Fairbairn of Springville, with the Rev. Mr. Wilkinson of Warsaw officiating.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk taffeta and lace, made on princess lines. She wore a finger-tip veil, silver slippers, and carried a Colonial bouquet of red roses. She also wore the groom's gift, a gold wrist watch.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Susan Slack of Toronto, who wore a gown of grape velvet, a matching hat, and gold slippers. Her bouquet was of bronze chrysanthemums.

Reginald Pearson of Lakefield attended the groom, and the ushers were Trevor Little and Garfield Crowe. The wedding music was played by Miss Jean Fairbairn, sister of the groom, and during the signing of the register, Mrs. Wilkinson sang a solo.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Little, where a wedding dinner was served. Assistants in serving were the Misses Alma McCracken and Kathleen Lane. The decorations were prettily carried out in silver, pink and white, with the bride's cake centering the table.

The young couple left later for a short trip, after which they will reside at 308 Louis street, Peterborough. The bride's travelling costume was a wool suit, brown felt hat and accessories, and a leopard coat.

The groom's gifts to the bridesmaid and pianist were pearl set clasps; to the soloist a china dish; to the best man a silver ash tray; and to the ushers gold tie clasps. Many very useful and lovely gifts were received by Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn.

Trent River Visitors

Rev. S. A. Kemp preached to a large congregation Sunday afternoon on the subject, "The question of sin." Previous to the address Mr. Kemp read a letter which had been received by Mrs. Brownsell from the president of the Women's Auxiliary of East End Saskatchewan, acknowledging a quilt sent by Mrs. Brownsell for western relief.

A play, "The Valley Farm," with a character cast from St. James' church, Peterborough, will be presented at the United church Thursday, December 2nd.

Wednesday, December 22 is the date set for the annual Sunday school Christmas tree and entertainment at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Deck of Peterborough were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thain and Miss Helen were recent Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thain and family of Warkworth.

Mr. George Wigmore of Norwood was a recent visitor with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. K. Thompson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hendren and son, Leland, visited Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hendren of Cottesloe recently.

Mr. Sherwood Scea has a birthday anniversary Monday, November 29.

Group 1 of the Ladies' Aid held a crokinole party Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waters, West Seymour.

Mrs. Thos. J. Brown and Mrs. Joseph McNeely returned Friday night from Toronto where they spent three days in attendance at the Women's Institute convention held at the Royal York. Miss Doris Scott, who attended as delegate from the local branch, is remaining in the city to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Wood and Miss Irene spent the week-end at Toronto.

Mr. Joseph Lean and son, Elmer, of Cambourne spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Lean. Mr. Elmer Lean accompanied his brother, Melville, back to the deer hunt in the north country for a few days.

Full Swing Back

An interesting study in dove gray and periwinkle blue is worn here by Lucille Ball, young picture player. The swagger coat is of rich gray duvetyn with a full swing back. Self-material cording outlines the high turned-down collar and broad cuffs of the three-quarter length bell sleeves. Under this coat Lucille wears a heavy silk crepe dress of contrasting blue which emphasizes pencil slim silhouette and features a high draped bodice trimmed at the neck with self-cording. Gray accessories and an off-the-face hat complete the outfit.

The Kennedy-McAuliffe Wedding

Solemnized in the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Saturday last, of much interest was the marriage of Miss Geraldine McAuliffe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Redmond McAuliffe of Parkhill Road, to J. W. Kennedy, son of Mrs. A. Kennedy of Detroit and the late Daniel Kennedy. The bridal attendants were Miss Beth Bowie of Toronto, and Harold Kennedy of Detroit, brother of the groom.

THE STARS SAY

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLLE

For Thursday, November 25.

The unexpected and unforeseen dominate the atmosphere of this day, judging by the ruling planets. This applies to employment, where there may be a rather surprising token or sign of preferment.

Those whose birthday it is may participate a delightful year, with many unexpected and surprising developments. There is promise of preferment from employers or superiors, with promotion as well as business expansion. This may call for a radical rearrangement of the life, its environs, associates and plans.

A child born on this day may be above the ordinary in talents, attributes and impulses, and it may be idealistic, altruistic and romantic. However, it should attract employers and others who may assist it to turn its singular ingenuity to splendid practical account.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"Consider how much more you often suffer from your anger and grief, than from those very things for which you are angry or grieved."

—Marcus Antoninus.

Dear Friends:

Isn't it the truth? Doesn't our anger and grief hurt us more than the things that are done to us?

I remember a bad sickness I had, brought on by something that was done to me, something that hurt me so much that I went down under the strain and the unhappiness of it all, so that I came near to dying because of it.

But—when I was getting better, I noticed that those who had caused all this were able to go about their business without being sick or worried. And I said to myself, "if they can take these things so lightly, why cannot you learn to take them as lightly? Why let them get you down so that you suffer like this?"

And so a new philosophy was born in me, let the other fellow carry more of his own load. Not to feel so responsible for every little thing. Not to think I must live my own life and the lives of others at the same time.

They were getting along alright. Why was I not getting on the same way? Why did I let it get me sick, when those who were responsible remained strong and healthy, eating their three meals a day, while my body refused food?

And I realized it was my anger and hurt which was doing this to me. Life had not altered much, it was me who was being altered. So I began to put a stop to this, and since then I have never been as sick, and with the help of God, I never will again.

If only we could learn to keep our guard up as it is done in fencing or prize-fighting, we would not get pinked so often, nor suffer so many body blows, so that we are too weak when we get the "Knock-out" punch, to withstand it.

We all have a tendency to think that things will stay as they are, not realizing we are in a constant state of change. Each day sees us a little older, and when I hear someone complain at the eternal sameness of things, I marvel, for it had never been like that with me, and it not yet.

We suffer, but we have never been taught how to avoid so much that is un-necessary, and by the time we have learnt it (and the learning is hard) it is about time to pass on and let some other take our place.

I used to think friendship would last forever when each played fair, but now I know we change, and so do our friends. So that I enjoy it while it lasts, but do not grieve as I did, when it fades.

We want permanence in this life, in our homes, our husbands and wives, and our children, and when changes occur as they must, we cry out with the hurt of it, or carry a broken heart around in silence.

If only we could be taught to take things more lightly, how much happier we would be, pleasanter all around. It should be taught as part of the curriculam in schools and colleges.

Thank God many Universities and colleges are taking up psychology as a course, and maybe the next generation will learn better the proper way to live. Not until then will they escape all this un-necessary pain. More later.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

Raise Your Blood-Count
And You'll Feel "In the Pink"

NORMAL BLOOD has a count of 4,500,000 red corpuscles. If your blood count is below this you just can't feel well, because only these tiny cells can carry the necessary nourishment from your food and the energizing oxygen from your lungs to every part of your body. With a low blood count you're bound to be always tired, easily upset, nervous and depressed, without appetite, sleepless, under weight. Everything is drudgery.

You needn't go on in this way! Take Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Originated by a Canadian physician, this tested tonic quickly raises your blood count. You get new energy and vigour, your depression and nervousness disappear, your appetite and normal weight return, you sleep soundly, and your life is worth living again. If this is not your experience your money will be refunded. 50c at all druggists.

Splendid Cough Remedy Easily Mixed at Home

To get quick relief from a distressing cough, mix your own remedy at home. Once tried, you'll say it's your favorite cough medicine, and it's so simple and easy.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a compound containing Norway Pine in concentrated form, well known for its prompt action on throat membranes.

Put the Pinex into a 16 ounce bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make 16 ounces of very efficient remedy, and you get four times as much cough medicine for your money. It tastes fine and never spoils.

And for quick, blessed relief, it is splendid. You can feel it penetrating the air passages in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Health Run Down Housework A Burden

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and miserable, but is it any wonder that when they are run down in health they become nervous and irritable, weak and worn-out, and the lightest household duties seem a drag and a burden?

Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills are a remedy that all nervous, tired-out, weary women should take to help them back to the blessing of good health, and when this is done their household duties will be a pleasure instead of a burden.

Mrs. A. K. McLean, Pleasantfield, N.S., writes:—"A short time ago I was in a badly run down and nervous condition. I got so that my housework became a burden to me. I started taking Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills, and now I feel like a different person, and again am able to do all my own housework.

Hereafter I shall always recommend H. & N. Pills to my friends."

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross and lifeless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls along who are full of pep.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "sailing through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Sailing Through."

Actress Starts Her New Life at 65; Maude Adams Created Dean of Drama

NEW YORK, Nov. 24—(C.P.). — At last the modern are discovering that life begins at any age. And so Miss Maude Adams can stand upon the campus of Stephen's College in Columbia, Mo., to-day and say, in that quiet though firm voice that captivated so many theatre audiences in the early years of the century, "life begins again at 65."

The dean of United States actresses has just celebrated her 65th birthday amid her newest career which follows the two distinguished ones she has already achieved. From her many stage triumphs, the greatest of which was the Peter Pan she played 1,100 times, she went into a nun-like retirement that suited her seretue, peace-loving nature. When she left the "cloister" it was to finance and collaborate in electrical experiments with the genius, Charles Steinmetz.

She retired from the stage in 1918 but came back for a brief tour in 1931-32 with Otis Skinner in "The Merchant of Venice." Now she is at Stephens College as professor of the drama school, and trade papers report she is receiving a salary of $5,000 for the two months she will direct the classes. The first play her pupils will perform will be the "Chantecler" in which she starred in 1911.

Miss Adams paid $50,000 for the movie rights of Rudyard Kipling's "Kim," but it was never produced. She gave her magnificent estate at Lake Ronkonomo, Long Island, to the Catholic order that nursed her in a nervous breakdown in 1918, although she herself is a Protestant.

There was never such wide speculation about romance in the life of any actress as there was about Miss Adams. But, in the public's mind there was only one man and that was the producer, Charles D. Frohman. He perished in the sinking of the torpedoed Lusitania off the old Head of Kinsale, Ireland, in 1915.

Miss Adams was playing in "Quality Street" in Kansas City that night, but she went through with her performance gallantly, tears falling from her eyes as she moved blindly into the exits after each of her scenes.

Cherished Custom Of Cutlers Broken

SHEFFIELD, England, Nov. 24 (C.P.). — Another cherished tradition disappeared when the Cutlers' feast first held in 1677, took place this year. For the first time in its long history, a woman guest was present.

The Lord Mayor of Sheffield always attends the feast. This year the city's head is Mrs. A. E. Longden, and she attended.

The "no women" tradition was endangered back in 1928. The master cutler usually invites mayors of neighboring towns to the feast. That year Miss Violet Markham was the Mayor of Chesterfield. But Miss Markham was not invited to the feast—instead she was asked to a reception to the Mistress Cutlers' guests on the same night. She declined, declaring it would not be in keeping with the prestige of her town for her to accept any lesser position than that normally accorded a Mayor of Chesterfield.

ASK MORE TEMPERANCE

TORONTO, Nov. 24 (C.P.).—United Farmer of Ontario convention here last night adopted a resolution urging greater restriction upon beverage rooms, increased emphasis upon the teaching of temperance in the schools and the prohibition of all liquor advertising. The action of the Department of Education in removing the emphasis from written examinations was approved and the regulation requiring post-normal work for the obtaining of a permanent teaching certificate was condemned.

Short Fur Jackets Are Liked By Debutantes

In Boleros or Finger-Tip Length They Are Worn Over One-Piece Wool Dresses

(By Central Press)

The cloth coat with fur trim is a great favorite with the smart young set for shopping and lunching in the city. Pause before one of any large city's intimate little restaurants and you will see smart young things — and well-dressed older women — emerging wearing clever fur-trimmed suits and coats.

Two debutantes are pictured coming out of one of New York's swank and well-appointed hotel lunch rooms. The girl on the left is wearing one of the black Persian boleros over a black cloth dress trimmed with Persian. The "bracelet" length sleeve is used in the jacket, and long suede gloves wrinkled at the wrist, suede pumps and bag and contrasting turban are the accessories.

The other model wears an ocelot finger-tip jacket over a green wool dress. Keep in mind, when choosing a coat, that straight lines are newer than flared but that semi-flared, fitted coats have a place.

Herringbone Topper

A smart and practical casual coat for the junior miss is a herringbone topper to wear over the short-jacketed wool suit, the wool frock or the classic skirt and sweater combination so dear to the youthful heart.

Brown and beige is the favorite color mixture in this type of coat.

Also liked by the junior miss, or jeune fille, as the French say, is the shaggy fleece boxy topper with velveteen collar. This usually is double-breasted and trimly buttoned with ten buttons down the front. Both these casual types are liked for general wear.

Also for the junior is the reversible evening cape lined with a contrasting color. Black and red is one combination that will make a big hit with the adolescent miss who is going to her first parties. The long fitted wrap is, however, generally the one chosen by the girls, as it is by their mothers and grown-up sister.

Treatments For Those Chilblains

(By Logan Clendening, M.D.)

I saw five sick people in a clinic the other day, all suffering from disturbance in the circulation of their feet. One of them was a potential case of chilblains. That is, he was a case of chilblains last winter, and may possibly be next winter, although he has been taking some preventive treatment this summer and fall which it is hoped may reduce the incidence, or perhaps even entirely prevent his attacks.

All of these conditions are in some way inter-related. The feet are in bad shape as regards circulation and gangrene, which is lack of circulation, is commoner in the feet than anywhere else in the body. The ways in which the feet suffer on the basis of circulation are two. First, the circulation tends to get bad in any peninsula away from the heart, which makes the arternial circulation of the feet faulty, and, second, the feet are dependent, and the load of blood which goes up from them in returning to the heart suffers under more mechanical stress than blood returning from any other part of the body, which makes the venous circulation bad.

The arteries of the feet, like the body, are under the control of the arteries of all other parts of the vegetative nervous system. This system works while you sleep and entirely without your volition or control. When a certain kind of impulse shoots along these nerve tendrils to the arteries of the feet, their muscles contract, the amount of blood that goes through them is diminished and the parts blanch. When another kind of impulse goes along these nerves, the muscles of the arteries relax, more blood goes into them, and the foot gets red and hot.

Impulses Heat and Cold

The impulses which cause these changes are mostly heat and cold, and the results are always, under normal conditions of health, beneficial and protective. But sometimes the mechanism gets mixed up, and impulses without any recognizable or sensible cause go down to the blood vessels. In one of these conditions, which was described by a physician named Raynaud, and is therefore called "Raynaud's disease," the skin on the toes, for no conceivable reason, at times gets white and cold and insensible. Attacks of this kind may follow each other at short intervals until they become practically continuous, and the blood supply is so fully cut off that the skin decays from lack of nutrition — the condition of gangrene. The most curious feature of this disease is that it is symmetrical—both little toes, or both big toes, for instance, will be the seat of the change. Obviously the mechanism is that the arteries go into spasm, but what causes that no one knows.

A different condition, first described by our American physician, S. Weir Mitchell, goes by the jaw-breaking name, erthyromelalgia. Here the foot flushes and gets purple and painful.

Chilblains, obviously, is a condition somewhat like these, in that the victim has unstable circulation in the feet which is upset by cold and damp.

To attempt to improve this, treatment before the onset of cold weather consists in a period of elevation of the feet for several minutes several time during the day, and morning and nightly use of contrast baths for the feet—putting them first into very hot, then into very cold water.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

BEWARE A SINGLETON

IF YOUR partner's bidding indicates that he has practically nothing of importance in his hand except one suit, a no trump contract is highly risky unless you possess at least a couple of cards of that suit. With just a singleton you are in position to make only one lead of the suit, and so require side entries in the dummy to use it. There is the additional fact that your holding of the singleton automatically increases the number of cards in the suit held by the defenders.

One-Club was South's initial bid on this deal and 1-Diamond was North's response. South now bid 1-Heart and North rebid his diamonds at the two level. When South bid 2-No Trumps, North took the contract to 3-No Trumps and West doubled.

The spade 6 was the opening lead. The spade 2 was played from dummy, to attempt to create an entry in that suit into the dummy. East, however, decided to do all he could to kill the dummy, so played the 9 and South won with the J. The diamond 7 was finessed and the J held. The diamond K was now laid down and West won with the A. A spade was returned and West cashed his K and A. It was now impossible for South to set up the diamond suit, as the club Q was the only entry to the dummy and an additional entry was needed to drive out the diamond Q before running the remainder of the suit.

Had South held one more diamond, it would have been a simple matter for him to have made this doubled contract.

More Science in Kitchen Garden Advocated at Institute Session

TORONTO, Nov. 24—(C.P.). — Raising of standards—"more science in the kitchen garden and more planned beauty in farm home surroundings"—was advocated at the biennial board meeting of Federated Women's Institutes on Wednesday in the report of Mrs. C. A. Good, national convenor of the Committee on Agriculture.

Urging "cover-up" plantings in ugly corners and greater use of berms, the report said "we can hardly estimate the full influence of a garden on the mental and bodily health of the family.

"The flower garden and landscaping not only may help the soul, but it makes that soul more pleasant to live with because it lives in a body kept healthy by the products of a well-managed vegetable garden." Institute members were asked to make a systematic study designed to improve gardens in their neighborhoods.

Elizabeth Bailey Price of Vancouver, publicity secretary, urged board members to "pay your publicity debt to newspapers that record your activities by supplying live copy, subscribing to the paper and buying goods advertised therein."

Mrs. Allan Lancefield of Aldershot, Ont., corresponding secretary, told of world-wide interest in the Women's Institutes movement.

Be Extra Careful about STUBBORN COLDS

Relieve their misery this PROVED Way

TOO often, the cold that "hangs on" is a result of neglect . . . and neglect of colds is risky at any point. Be extra careful of a stubborn cold. But the safest course is to be careful of all colds. Don't experiment. Relieve the misery of colds this doubly proved way.

Here's What To Do: It's best to stay in bed and get lots of rest. Eat lightly, drink plenty of water, and keep elimination regular. And use your dependable Vicks VapoRub without delay.

VapoRub has been proved by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind—further proved by the largest clinical tests ever made on colds. (Full details in every VapoRub package.) Only Vicks give you proof like this.

Vicks VapoRub is direct external treatment. No "dosing"—no risk of stomach upsets. You simply massage it on throat, chest, and back (as illustrated). Then—to make its long-continued double action last even longer—spread a thick layer on the chest and cover with a warmed cloth.

No Long Waiting for Relief to Begin...

Almost before you finish rubbing, you begin to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub goes to work direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time its medicated vapors, released by the warmth of the body, are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation and coughing—helps break up local congestion. And long after restful sleep comes, Vapo Rub keeps right on working.

NOTE: If there is much irritation and coughing, or the air-passages feel clogged with heavy mucus or phlegm, even stronger vapor action is helpful. Pour boiling water in a bowl, melt a teaspoonful of VapoRub in it, and inhale the steaming vapors for several minutes.

Now White—Stainless

Thanks to a new process, VapoRub now comes to you in white stainless form. Only the color is removed; it is the same VapoRub—the same formula and the same effective double action.

HOW IS OTTAWA AIDING FARMERS

that the council apply to the Federal Department of Agriculture to have a soil survey of Peterborough county made next year was temporarily sidetracked by Reeve Gifford's statement that the government should take some action even by appointing a royal commission, to ascertain the causes of the difference between the cost of agricultural production and the prices received for agricultural products.

The rural budgets were taken up in succession by Reeve McDonald of Dummer and Reeve Anderson of Otonabee, resulting in a resolution by Reeve Frank Leahy of Douro, seconded by Deputy-reeve M. H. Johnston of North Monaghan, appointing Reeves Anderson, McDonald and Gifford to draft a resolution to the federal government embodying the several proposals in the interest of farmers, "especially the farmers of Ontario," Reeve Gifford commented.

"We would like to hear what is being done for the Ontario farmer," Mr. Gifford said earlier in proposing a motion, seconded by Reeve Anderson, that Mr. Duffus be invited to address the council on that broad and general subject.

Mr. Duffus replied that he had been caught unprepared by the council to deal with that subject. In the provincial field the remission by the government of one mill in taxes and relief from the cost of old age pensions and mothers allowances were a direct help.

"Conditions generally in the country have improved considerably, but they are not yet what we would like," Mr. Duffus continued. "The revenue of farmers is not entirely sufficient to cope with the situation. The bonusing system in agriculture on cattle, implements and cheese did not work out as was expected."

Accurate knowledge of soil condition would be of great assistance to farmers because they wouldn't be working in the dark. The government had done this work in some of the counties of Ontario, and was prepared to go further. Improvement of the quality of livestock was another field in which much could be done. Canada had not sold its quota of bacon to Great Britain during the last year, largely because the quality of many hogs was not up to export standard, especially for competition with the Danish product.

Defect of Transportation

Reeve McDonald said he had been told that much of the fault was in the transportation system. Canadian bacon did not reach the British market in as good condition as Danish bacon because of defects in the shipment.

Reeve Gifford—"All the processors get good wages, and when they have all taken their profit the farmer has to take what is left, if there is any. The workmen who turn out bacon in the packing plants, and the others who make wheat into flour, they come first. It isn't fair to the farmer, and I can't see much hope for him unless the government takes some action, even if they have to appoint a royal commission to find out the cause of these spreads."

Reeve Anderson—It is nearly fifty years ago since we first heard about the bacon type of hog. I doubt if the product is much better now. I have heard two Ministers of Agriculture in Ontario condemn our hogs, and the answer would seem to be that it is up to the farmer to see that the right kind of hog goes to the market. The Dominion Department of Agriculture passes for export only the proper kind of hog. If there is any dumping to be done, let it be at home. And there should be such improvement in our transportation system that if our bacon is shipped in good condition it should reach the Old County in the same condition.

Reeve Gifford declared that some effectual steps should be taken to find out for the farmer why he didn't get more revenue for his own products.

The Leahy - Johnston motion wound up the discussion, some of the members being due for a meeting of the Children's Aid Society in the city council chamber at 4 o'clock.

Soviet Russia's exports in the first half of 1937 were $8,851,000 greater than its imports.

gled Garden" for the first time at an Ontario Society of Artists' exhibition at Toronto in 1916.

Aroused Comment.

It was received with a critical howl conceded to have been as loud as any uttered in this country. Among descriptions given to the work, and others of the new school of painting, was "that rough, spashy, meaningless, blatant, plastering and massing of unpleasant colors which seems to be a necessary evil in all Canadian art exhibitions now-a-days."

MacDonald died Nov. 26, 1932, at the age of 59. He had survived the critical uproar to become the head of Ontario's chief artistic educational institution. His death was recorded as a loss to the nation.

In contrast to the 1916 outburst, Eric Brown, director of the National Gallery wrote in the announcement of the gift:

"MacDonald's 'Tangled Garden,' together with such pictures as A. Y. Jackson's 'Terre Sauvage,' also in the National Gallery, and Tom Thomson's earlier works are as important as anything in the history of Canadian art."

Chemist To Testify.

Last link in the Crown's case is expected today, when Charles E. Ewing, Toronto consulting chemist, will be a witness.

Ewing's evidence, it was said, will deal largely with microscopic examinations of articles of clothing and hair given him by Dr. Frankish and police.

It will include his opinion on the origin of dark blue fibres found in debris taken from the hand of the dead girl.

Dr. B. Morgan Vance, Deputy Chief Medical Officer for New York City, will be defence witness.

Dr. Frankish, chief Crown witness during yesterday's hearing, said he had received scrapings from a walking stick and four envelopes containing soil samples. However, he added, no examination had been made of the soil samples.

Under cross-examination he told Defence Counsel James A. Maloney Inspector E. C. Gurnett of the Criminal Investigations Department of Ontario Police had turned over to him six hairs; that twenty were found in the hand of the child, and that he took about 100 from her head. He did not examine them all but sent them to Ewing, he said.

Maloney asked if it were possible to find hairs with pointed tips in women with long hair, and the medico-legal expert replied: "You are more likely to find hairs with pointed tips in such women."

Deeply interested in educational and church matters in addition to his widespread business affairs, Mr. Matthews has not been prominent in politics. In 1926 he ran for parliament as a Liberal candidate in Toronto North East, now Toronto Eglinton. He was defeated by Richard L. Baker, Conservative.

Mr. Matthews said last night "I have five brothers and I'm the only Liberal of them all." A brother, Hon. R. C. Matthews, was Minister of National Revenue from 1932 to 1935 in Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett's Conservative government.

An Old Lindsay Boy

Born in Lindsay, Ont., the son of George and Ann Matthews, Mr. Matthews was educated at Lindsay Collegiate Institute. In 1930 McMaster University, Hamilton, conferred upon him an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. He is chairman of McMaster's Board of Governors and is treasurer of the Baptist World Alliance.

He and Mrs. Matthews, who said she was "naturally thrilled" at the apointment, have travelled extensively in Europe. Last May they attended the Coronation and were presented to King George. He is a personal friend of Prime Minister King, the first to congratulate him Mr. King telephoned from Ottawa.

Mrs. Matthews is a prominent church worker and for years was president of the Baptist Women's Foreign Mission Board. She is on the national council of the Young Women's Christian Association. Like her husband, Mrs. Matthews is an ardent golfer. Her favorite place to visit is Sicily, where the Matthews have vacationed on three occasions.

OBITUARY

EDMUND G. TENNISON.

The death took place in Sarnia General Hospital on Friday of Edmund G. Tennison of Moore Township, aged 53 years. Death was unexpected, following an operation.

Mr. Tennison was born on the farm on which he has lived all his life, the son of Daniel Tennison and Jane Gray. In 1910 he married Evelyn Capes, to which union was born two sons, Charles of Petrolia and Roy G., at home. In 1929 his wife died. He married again in 1932, Myrtle Marie Payne, daughter of the late Stewart and Bessie Payne of Warsaw, who survives him.

Mr. Tennison was one of the most prominent farmers of West Lambton. He was keenly interested in the co-operative movement, and was one of the chief organizers of the Brigden Co-operative Company, of which he has been a director since its beginning. He has been a director of the Brigden Cheese and Butter Company for many years, and must be credited with a large share of the success of that venture. In his political convictions he was a Socialist, and has been very active in advocating political and economic reform for greater social justice.

As a member of Calvary United Church, he was active in church, Sunday school and religious educational council. He was an ardent supporter of the idea that the individual Christian and the church as an institution have a definite and unlimited duty and responsibility in shaping a wiser, happier and more just human society, and in putting his convictions into action he feared no odds and stopped at no obstacles.

The funeral was held Sunday, with services at the family residence and Calvary United Church, to Bear Creek Cemetery, services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Husser of Calvary, assisted by Rev. Mr. Bannatyne of Brigden.

Competent Group Of Men Are Needed To Study Drought R. O. Sweezey Tells Engineers

Peterborough Branch of Engineering Institute Holds Successful Dinner

The drought problem in the prairie provinces has attained the proportions of a national calamity and those in authority "must cease sticking their heads in the sand" and appoint a competent group of men with technical and commercial skill to deal with it, R. O. Sweezey, prominent consulting engineer declared last night.

Speaking to a group of about seventy members of the local branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada and guests who included G. J. Desbarats, national president of the Institute at the annual dinner of the branch at Empress Hotel, Mr. Sweezey urged that "those in authority forget political pettiness and appoint a competent group of men to study the question—not men of mere political and legal sagacity, but men of technical and commercial skill."

An Engineering Problem

He advocated a project for control of moisture in the West where he claimed drought areas of 40 million acres cost Canadians 300 millions of dollars this year. Total drought loss in the last nine years he estimated at close to one and a half billions of dollars.

The speaker's projected plan included control of the South Saskatchewan River by dam and ditch, of that portion above Medicine Hat, including main tributaries; control of the South Saskatchewan by a large dam near Elbow with canals and ditches; control of the North Saskatchewan and Red Deer rivers by dams and ditches; and control of hundreds of small streams and lakes throughout an area of 40,000 acres under drought conditions.

He warned that should next year be fair in moisture "of course all efforts to control these horrible drought conditions will be postponed, at least until the cycle returns." "Drought conditions are bound to prevail over some 25 million acres at least," he said, "and the application of positive remedies is imperative.

Immigration Proposal

"It is time for us to recognize that this country, which is really capable of supporting several millions of people, is entitled to our best consideration for opening the gates to new immigrants. If we were to set on foot a well directed movement to take into our prairie lands at least a million German people we would probably be doing their fatherland a friendly turn, besides helping ourselves as well," the speaker suggested. "A further effort to add as many British people may be commended to the attention of Canadians."

"We in Canada must get the idea firmly fixed in our minds that if democracy and increasing prosperity, or higher standards of living are to prevail, capital must be free," he declared.

He claimed finance, industry and general welfare have suffered as much from blundering and false political economy as from world conditions. An abundance of cheap capital is suffering from frustration while immense natural resources and urgent need for public utilities remain undeveloped "because of an apparent lack of mental forces to match them," he asserted. "Many of our troubles are reflections from some rather comical but tragic laws of the United States where all the political fervor of a generation has been put into uncontrolled hatred of capital," the speaker said.

Capital Shackled

Mr. Sweezy claimed that capital in the United States has become so frightened "under the unusual restraint and by the ugly shackles that have been fastened around it" that new enterprises and industrial expansion of all kinds have been at a standstill for years.

"Capital has lost its freedom in the ill-founded political tirade against profits," the speaker contended. "The power for mischief in that direction is rather appalling," he claimed. Washington has realized at last that capital must be free and that fact makes "a bright spot at the moment."

V. R. Currie of the Trent Canal staff, as chairman of the Branch, acted as efficient toastmaster. After he had welcomed the guests he referred in sympathetic terms to the condition of "our senior councillor Archie Gates who is very, very ill." He hoped Mr. Gates would soon be with his fellow members of the branch again.

The Guests

Guests included: R. O. Sweezey, Montreal; G. J. Desbarats, president of the Engineering Institute of Canada; James Vance, Woodstock, councillor of London district E.I.C.; Major H. H. Lawson, professor of engineering at Royal Military College and chairman of Kingston Branch E.I.C.; Colonel W. P. Wiegar, Kingston; E. V. Buchanan, London, Ont., and J. J. Duffus, M.P.

During dinner an orchestra led by Mrs. E. Foster, violin and including Harold McFarlane, piano and Jack Thackeray, 'cello, presented a fine program of music. As usual the junior members of the branch featured on the program of entertainment and presented a comic skit which was the occasion of much mirth.

Guest Speaker

R. O. SWEEZEY

Prominent consulting engineer who spoke to members of Peterborough Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada on "The Drought Situation in the West". Mr. Sweezey urging the need of immediate action on the part of those in authority contended the problem was an engineering one. He suggested appointment of a group of technical and commercial men to deal with the situation.

TRUCK CRASHES BRIDGE RAILING OVER EMILY CREEK

LINDSAY, Nov. 24. — N. Pogue and a companion of Kinmount, had a narrow escape from death by drowning on Tuesday when their truck crashed through a bridge railing and plunged into Emily Creek on the Lindsay-Bobcaygeon Highway.

The truck was virtually submerged, but the door window was open and both men were able to swim out and reach the shore.

It is thought that the driver fell asleep at the wheel, and before he could gain control of the vehicle it had careened across the road and crashed through the flimsy wooden rail. Soaking wet, the two men managed to get out of the water and walk to a nearby farmhouse where they were able to change their clothing. The truck was practically demolished.

The bridge is a temporary structure, erected last July when the highway was widened and paved from Lindsay to Bobcaygeon. The bridge is much narrower than the road and vehicles have to make a sharp swerve to drive on to it.

This is the second vehicle to crash through into the creek this year. Shortly after the structure was built, a car mistook the red lights on the bridge for the side of the road and crashed through, with all passengers escaping serious injury.

WORLD TRAVELLER MOST INTERESTED HISTORICAL DATA

The glamour of Samarkand and Palambang, of Carcassonne and Angkor Wat, depends on the resources of imagination you take along on your travels. Richard Halliburton, famous world traveller and author, who is lecturing at the Collegiate Institute tonight under the auspices of the Lions' Club, told The Examiner at noon today on his arrival here.

"Some men probably rhapsodize over an automobile factory," Mr. Halliburton said, "but it would leave me cold. In fact I can't imagine myself wandering around a motor factory. The glamour of far away places is largely that quality of mind and intellect with which you invest them, the ruins of the Incas in Peru, of the Egyptians along the Nile, of Palmyra and Cyprus, of the Parthenon and the Roman forum."

Mr. Halliburton was born in 1900 at Brownsville, Tennessee, fifty miles from Memphis, the place he calls home. A graduate of Lawrenceville Preparatory School, New Jersey, in 1917, he entered Princeton University, joined in its naval unit during the following summer of the war period, and was discharged in 1919. He obtained his degree in Arts in 1921, after a year's journeying in Europe, and that experience directed his footsteps when he decided to make literature and travel the twin lodestars of his career.

Started in 1923.

Halliburton is a modern of the romantic tradition of Ulysses. He began his Odyssey in 1923, like Leander and Lord Byron he swam the Hellespont, and in the intervening fourteen years has travelled about the earth, attracted primarily by a keen and restless interest in history and archaeology.

If Memphis is his home, so is New York and California these days, but only temporary dwelling places. He never knows when and whither he will be on the move again.

"I was doing some writing in California when the Bell Syndicate, representing some fifty newspapers, telephoned me an offer to go abroad and write a weekly story for one year. I was gone then in 1935 and part of 1936 for fourteen or fifteen months. The Ladies' Home Journal sent me to South America for twelve monthly instalments of travel."

Trip Cost $100,000.

Mr. Halliburton journeyed one year at a cost of slightly more than $600, but when he bought an airplane which he called "The Flying Carpet" and spent two years in a flight by easy stages around the world, with periods aground in Africa, Egypt, Persia, Iraq, India, Borneo and Europe, his personal expense account amounted to $100,000 a year.

The Halliburton tales relating his travels have reached seven books, and he has two more partly finished. More than 1,000,000 of them have already been sold, evidence of their present appeal; several of them at least are becoming recognized as classics. Not only has he walked in the fabled footsteps of Odysseus, but perhaps it may be said of Halliburton also, in the lines of Tennyson:

"I am become a name;
For always roaming with a hungry heart
Much have I seen and known; cities of men
And manners, climates, councils, governments,
Myself not least, but honored of them all....
How dull it is to pause, to make an end,
To rush unburnished, not to shine in use.
As though to breathe were life."

Mr. Halliburton was met at the C.P.R. Station at noon by Arnold Deyell representing the Lions' Club, whose enterprise has brought to Peterborough for one evening one of the most adventurous men of his generation, whose writings have gained high place, and personality has won audiences at thousands of lectures.

"I never keep any account of the distances I have gone, and I have no set speech," Mr. Halliburton concluded. "I am not so greatly interested in present customs and habits, as in the historic features of places I have seen. I have so much I could talk about, naturally, of course, from having travelled so far, that I try to gauge my address to the audience and make it as interesting as possible."

OBITUARY

MAXINE EVONNE MURPHY.

The death of Maxine Evonne Murphy, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Murphy, 8 Auburn street, occurred at the home, 8 Auburn street, Tuesday, following a short illness. The child was eight months of age.

Surviving besides her parents are two brothers and four sisters.

The funeral will be held Thursday at 1.30 o'clock from the D. Belleghem and Sons' Funeral Home to Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. W. P. Robertson officiating.

JOHN McNAUGHTON.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 24. — The funeral of the late John McNaughton was conducted from the family residence on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. McNaughton, who was in his eightieth year, is survived by his wife, the former Esther McDonald, one son Frank and two daughters Mayvert and Mildred, all of town. Mr. McNaughton succumbed after a brief illness. Following the funeral service at the house, which was conducted by Rev. Mr. Smart, assisted by Rev. B. Simpson Black, the remains were interred at Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Wilson, Arthur, John, and Frank McDonald, James Cameron, and Robert Innes.

JAMES E. NOBLE

James Ellethorne Noble, formerly of Peterborough, died in Toronto Monday night in his 68th year. Born in Quebec he came to Peterborough when he was 15 years old, and worked here for years as a plumber and steamfitter, assisting his father in business for a time, and later in a partnership known as McAndrew and Noble on Simcoe street. He married Mary Ann Culling, daughter of Cornelius Culling of this city, and later moved to Toronto, where he was employed by the Ontario government for 19 years and gained a wide reputation as a writer for Canadian and United States magazines on engineering problems. He is survived by his widow, three daughters, Mrs. Henry Warriner, Misses Nora and Lillian Noble, and three sons, Edward J., Harold B., and William C., all of Toronto. The funeral took place this afternoon in Toronto. Miss Hannah Culling, and Mrs. J. E. Daynard of Albert street, and Mrs. A. N. Shepherd, Alfred street, of this city are sisters-in-law of the deceased.

Canada's First "Cloverleaf" Opened For Traffic

Canada's first "cloverleaf crossing", designed to speed up traffic and cut down accidents, is shown (ABOVE), in an air photograph shortly after it had been opened near Port Credit, Ont. The "cloverleaf," situated on the Toronto-Hamilton highway, is constructed of concrete and is expected to handle the heaviest traffic in the province. No left hand turns are permitted and arrows drawn on the photograph show exactly the turns necessary to go to the left or right depending on the direction from which the automobile approaches the turn. Though motorists were confused the first day, watchmen stationed at vantage points straightened out their problems with little difficulty.

Lakefield And Smith Ask For Lower Assessment

Sale Of Power Plants To Hydro Has Made Them Not Taxable

A decline of $268,787 in Lakefield's assessment and $33,000 loss by Smith mainly as a result of the sale of the Canada Cement Company's two power plants at Lakefield and Young's Point to the Hydro-Electric Commission, was reported to the County Council this morning by Reeve Tanner and Reeve Mullen, respectively, with claims of proportionate reductions in their equalized assessment.

"We hope the Council will deal fairly with us," Mr. Tanner said, "and on that basis we would ask for a reduction of $200,000 in our equalized assessment."

Reeve Tanner said assent had been given to a suggestion that any municipality losing a substantial part of their assessment would be compensated by a corresponding drop in the assessment on which they pay their county tax rate. Reeve Anderson commented that conditions had materially changed since then, and Reeve McDonald was inclined to question the breadth of Reeve Tanner's assertion. The Lakefield-Smith proposal was left over until the afternoon.

School Trustee.

Harry Roche of Havelock was appointed to the Havelock High School Board, as representative of the county, replacing Harrison Wing, who attended only one meeting and automatically disqualified himself.

The Council instructed the clerk to send a copy of a resolution of sympathy by Reeves Milby and Shearer to Reeve John Clark in the recent death of his nephew, killed in a bush accident.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

By an Examiner Reporter.

GOOD SKATING.

Skating was general on the lower reaches of the canal Tuesday and some of the Peterborough hockey players took advantage of the chance to get in their first ice practice.

TO ADDRESS KINSMEN

At their dinner meeting at Empress Hotel on Thursday night the members of Peterborough Kinsmen Club are to hear H. L. Garner, managing director of The Examiner speak on advertising.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

Letters from the Ontario Department of Highways officially notified the County Council today that the Burleigh-Apsley Road and the Oregon Trail had been assumed as Provincial highways.

ERECTING THE LIGHTS.

Employees of the Utilities Commission were busy this morning erecting colored lights at the intersection of Charlotte and George streets as the first step in the program of lighting up the city for Christmas.

MILLIONS OF FISH.

Culture of 121,000,000 spawn of whitefish, herring and lake trout for restocking next spring of the Bay of Quinte and lakes and streams of the Central Ontario district has been begun at the Dominion Fish Hatchery east of Belleville. The spawn was obtained in the Bay of Quinte and Georgian Bay.

ICE FOR CURLERS.

Even some of the curlers will shed no tears if Herb Martin's ice-making ambitions are temporarily wilted by milder weather. A year ago the curlers went into action about December 3 and were nearly broom weary by Christmas. Today's sunshine and comparative mildness presumably halted Mr. Martin's work of laying the foundation of his ice sheet.

BAGS TWO BEARS.

Hilliard Cooper, driver for the Board of Works, took a little time off on a hunting trip near Buckhorn last week and it netted him two bears, one around 200 pounds and the other about two and a half times that weight. The two bruins were bagged last Saturday just after Mr. Cooper had shot at a flying deer and missed. The smaller bear put in an appearance first and the hunter stopped him with two shots, when the big fellow came over the ridge and was also dropped.

WILL HEAR APPEALS.

His Honor Judge Smoke will hear five appeals against judgments of the Court of Revision in his chambers at 10 o'clock on Monday, December 13. Two of these are appeals by Hon. G. N. Gordon against decisions made by the Court of Revision in the case of the assessment of the Raybestos and De Laval Company, and the others are appeals entered by the Elliott Drug Store, and the Maple Leaf Milling Company, and Hall, Hall and Stevenson for the Holloway estate.

HOLD SALES CONFERENCE.

Retailers of the Cities Service Oil Company from Peterborough, Oshawa and Colborne districts gathered at Empress Hotel last evening at a conference presided over by Elwood Dudley, divisional manager of the company's eastern division. Other officials present at the meeting where various problems of the oil and gasoline retail trade were discussed included: A. M. Wofford, general manager; H. Rowe, sales promotion manager, and A. Foote, special oil representative employed by Cities Service Oil Company of Pennsylvania. District agents present were: J. K. Hughes, Peterborough; S. Dudley, Colborne, and A. R. Robinson, Oshawa, and also the men under their supervision. A buffet supper was served.

Swivel Chair Is Not Appreciated By Reeve Frank Leahy Of Douro

When Reeve Frank Leahy sat down in his new chair at the opening of the county council Tuesday afternoon, an unexpected movement beneath him conveyed an uneasy intimation that something was wrong. The seat rotated, and no one knew better than he did, because he is chairman of the property committee, that he hadn't ordered a swiveller. He glanced at his neighbor's chairs and noticed that they were firmly fixed from the floor up. The new furniture was according to specifications except his own quarter cut oak, natural finish, chair that swung around as if geared for some industrial executive.

"Something special for the chairman," Reeve Tanner of Lakefield remarked, and all members of the council were watching the reeve of Douro as he convinced himself that somehow or other a strange chair had crept into the council semi-circle.

"Comstocks made a mistake on this one," Mr. Leahy explained. "I certainly didn't order it. They were all the same."

Expressions of doubt floated across the chamber in Mr. Leahy's direction, and the business of the council was begun with the chairman in the swivel seat. One of the members had seen it on the judge's dais in the main courtroom, where it is an extra, and substituted it for Reeve Leahy's new chair which is identical with the other nineteen that were ordered to be bought for the council chamber, replacing the old seats that have seen many years' service with successive councils, and now have been relegated to the discard.

ADDRESSES ARE SHOWN ENGINEERS

Members of Peterborough Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada and their guests Monday night had the opportunity of seeing a display of illuminated addresses presented to the Institute by similar associations in Great Britain and the United States on the occasion of the semi-centennial of its incorporation celebrated this year.

Much time and considerable expense was involved in the preparation of these tokens of respect. As many as twenty of the addresses delivered to the Institute and brought to Peterborough by G. J. Desbarats, national president, bear rich ornamentation.

Displayed in the rotunda at Empress Hotel where the engineers held their annual dinner, the exhibit of illuminated addresses was admired by a large number of people. The lettering on the parchments was a welcome reminder that great artistry has not disappeared, despite the advance of mechanical methods.

Expressions of congratulation and appreciation from members of the engineering and allied professions in other countries, most of the addresses were received from societies in Great Britain, but the United States was well represented, together with Denmark. Verbal messages were received by the E.I.C. from other lands, including Australia, New Zealand and India, being conveyed by loud speaker at the Institute's banquet in Montreal last June when His Excellency the Governor-General, an honorary member, was guest of honor.

DUCK HUNT NEARLY OVER FOR SEASON

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BAILIEBORO, Nov. 24.—The duck hunting season on Rice Lake is fast drawing to a close. The waters are now becoming very cold and are beginning to freeze at nights and soon the birds will wend their way to more open water.

Reports indicate that ducks are becoming more plentiful each year on the local waters.

The increasing growth of weeds in the deeper waters give the ducks a decided advantage as they feed out in the deep waters and have the opportunity of escaping from the hunters snares.

Despite this fact, however, local hunters have bagged many of the wild ducks during the season and report duck hunting as splendid on Rice Lake.

Marmora Trucker Allowed Bail

PEMBROKE, Ont., Nov. 24—(CP)—Martin Murray of Barry's Bay, Ont., and Archie Crossan of Marmora, Ont., appeared in court yesterday on a charge of manslaughter and were remanded until December 2. Both are on bail of $2,000.

The men were charged following an inquest into the death of Michael Billings, killed when Murray's automobile, in which he was a passenger, was in collision with a truck, driven by Crossan.

CHILDREN'S AID MUST EMPLOY SOCIAL WORKER

Reorganization of the society executive, and employment of a fully qualified social service worker will be necessary to put the affairs of the Children's Aid Society in proper shape and improve its rating with the Department of Welfare, directors were told by H. V. Heisey, provincial superintenednt of Children's Aid Societies, Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Heisey came to the city at the request of the Society for an explanation of its "D" rating at Queen's Park and discussed the subject at length.

The public and the press were excluded from the meeting on instructions from the Department in Toronto. Mr. Heisey is reported to have taken the floor before the Society directors with a file of data six inches thick for reference. He spoke for 90 minutes, dealing with the record of administration of the Society for three years back. He answered a few questions by directors before sitting down.

Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, Society president, was in the chair.

No action was taken by the directors, the meeting being adjourned shortly after Mr. Heisey had concluded his report on conditions. He was tendered the Society's thanks for coming to the city.

It is understood definite action on the report will be left to the next regular meeting of the Society.

RED CROSS FLAGS AT MAST HEADS

The Red Cross flags which are flying from Quaker Oats building, the Examiner office, the City Hall, the Public Library and J. J. Turner and Sons building, along with the attractive window cards in the merchants windows on the main street and the splendid display in Grafton and Company's window, are causing much favourable comment.

W. G. Morrow, Honorary Campaign Chairman of the present Red Cross drive, expresses the thanks of the Society to all the merchants and others who have co-operated in the publicity as well as the Examiner, who has contributed generous news space. Special thanks goes to the theatre managers who have shown a Red Cross trailer this week.

Contributions still continue to pour into campaign headquarters at the Toronto Savings and Loan, where G. H. Thompson, Campaign Treasurer, reports that the total so far received is considerably ahead of last year.

D. A. Loomis, chairman of the men workers in the drive, anounces that all the workers envelopes are in the hands of the men canvassers and that they are out on the job. Advance returns denote that a good reception is being met with.

The following are the men workers in the appeal:

ERIC W. HOWE HOCKEY PLAYER DIES SUDDENLY

Taken unexpectedly by complications which followed an appendicitis operation, Eric W. Howe, young Peterborough hockey player, died at Nicholls Hospital early this morning. He was 26 years of age.

Hockey fans knew him well as a popular and able defence player, who followed the game devotedly winter after winter since a young boy. He began with the St. John's O. H. A. juniors, and later graduated to the Peterborough Intermediate O. H. A. team, starring in the defence berth. Last year he played in the Senior City Hockey League.

Eric Howe was born in this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Howe. He attended local public schools and the Collegiate and was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. He was also a member of the Corinthian Lodge, A.F. and A.M. Lately he had been engaged with the Prudential Insurance Company here.

The funeral will be held Friday at 2.30 p.m. from the residence of his father, 288 Park Street, to Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr will officiate.

PETERBORO DRIVER INJURES MAN

WOODSTOCK, N.B., Nov. 24 — (CP).—Ralph Boyer, injured at nearby Wakefield Monday when struck by a motor car driven by Robert Brotherstone of 600 Armour road, Peterborough, Ont., was "not expected to recover," physicians said to-day.

No charge was laid against the driver, who, police said, probably would continue home to-day. The boy was injured critically when a sled on which he was coasting ran under the wheels of Brotherstone's car.

Your Feet

Your health and vitality can be impaired by painful or weakened feet. Fallen arches frequently result when the strength of foot and leg muscles is diminished because of an imperfect supply of nerve energy to these muscles. In conditions of this kind spinal manipulation is highly important, for it corrects a cause of muscular weakness.

OUR ATTENTION

is also devoted to manipulation of the joints and ligaments of the feet to restore normal relationship between all of the twenty-six bones which make up the framework of each foot. This type of treatment accompanied by properly designed and correctly fitted shoes enables the foot to perform its natural function as a weight-bearing and propelling mechanism.

LOTS OF SHOPPING DONE BY COLLEGES FOR STAR PLAYERS

DETROIT, Nov. 24.—That much ado about nothing much at the University of Michigan only indicates that proselyting alumni should know their schools.

Before hustling a good football team, old grads unable to take it and too impatient to permit nature to take its course, first ought to make sure that their dear old alma maters want a first-rate club obtained in that fashion.

Subsidization.

Tom Harmon of Gary, Ind., and two or three boys from Kiski Prep School were so outstanding among Michigan freshman that their presence started reports of subsidization.

This may have been due to the scarcity of topnotch prospects at Michigan for the last four seasons.

Anyway, it seems that young Harmon took exception to the rumors, and sought to make it clear that Michigan wasn't the only place where he could have obtained his higher education.

Harmon flashed a telegram from Bill Bevan, former All-America guard at Minnesota now coaching the Tulane line, advising him that "our offer still stands," and that "your help at a simon-pure school always will be subject to criticism."

The Michigan Daily printed a photoengraving of the message, and quoted Harmon as saying that before entering the university last fall he had "offers" from five Big Ten schools and several other leading colleges. The paper named Pudue, Illinois, Indiana, Chicago, Northwestern, Alabama, Louisiana State, Yale, Princeton, Southern California, Pittsburgh, Cornell, Washington, and Michigan State.

Shopping Here

There undoubtedly was considerable shopping, but Harmon landed at Michigan. A four-sport man at Gary, Ind., Harmon a year ago was described by Fielding H. Yost, veteran Wolverine athletic director, as "the nation's outstanding high school athlete."

Now, there was nothing wrong with Harmon hopping from Gary, Ind., to Ann Arbor, Mich., to attend college.

There is nothing wrong with boys traveling 1,000 miles or more to go to college.

Many college boys like to get away from home. They wish to see something different than the school in the old home town or 100 miles down state. It possibly might be that their parents attended the school they pick, or that friends happen to be going there.

High school coaches often like to see their stars pack off to the school they attended, and high school boys usually are easy marks for their coaches. They listen to them.

Then there is the question of finances. Hundreds of eastern athletes go to southern, mid-western, or far western schools because it is so much cheaper for them to do so. Tuition is costly at the big majority of eastern institutions. It runs as high as $400 a year in some cases, whereas boys can attend large mid-western schools, for example, for as little as $100 a year, and living expenses in most cases are cheaper.

Should Get Together.

It's perfectly okeh for alumni, intensely interested in their school's football fortunes, to try to send outstanding high school talent to Old Siwash, but first they should ascertain Old Siwash's attitude on subsidizing. Old grads are dead wrong when they make rash promises which they cannot hope to fulfill. That certainly is unfair to the boy who could have made some other and better choice.

PITTSBURG RANKS A.P. GRID CHAMPS

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP).—Whether or not they go back to the Rose Bowl, Pittsburg Panthers are likely to wind up as 1937 United States football champions in the Associated Press ranking poll.

They are likely to do so, that is, provided they dispose of Duke, their final opponent, at Durham, N.C., Saturday. For Pittsburg today ranks at the top again in the weekly ratings made by sports experts all over the United States.

Thirty-seven of 48 ballots named Pitt as No. 1 team. Another split top ranking between the Panthers and Fordham, the team that held Pitt to a pointless tie.

California's unbeaten and Rose Bowl-bound Bears continued in second place. Yale was displaced by Notre Dame in the first 10, while Minnesota, Dartmouth and Villanova moved up.

The first 10: Pittsburg, California, Fordham, Alabama, Minnesota, Dartmouth, Villanova, Santa Clara, Notre Dame, Louisiana State.

Second 10: Nebraska, Vanderbilt, University of Washington, Yale, Texas Christian, Colorado University, Holy Cross, Duke, North Carolina, Tulsa.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd C'uckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

NICK ORLANDO, who hails from Montreal and figures on taking up residence here, is a noted amateur mitt-slinger. In the past week or so, sparring with good local scrappers at the Riverview A.C. gym, Orlando has just about ruined several opponents. Hits with tremendous force, short, hard and lightning blows. Has quite a ring rep, having held the Quebec light weight title, going to the Dominion Olympic finals, and holding a decision over Dave Yack. He will appear here in a main bout next Wednesday night at the Brock against Bev. Carter, colored flash of Toronto, who has not been beaten in two years of headlining bouts in that town. So something will have to give. If Nick can beat Carter—and he has an excellent chance of doing so—Queen City promoters will get very interested in a hurry. It should be a pip of a fight.

* * * * * *

HOWEVER, THE local mitt program shapes up more like an all-star boxing revival for Peterborough, half a dozen of the bouts sounding most promising. Two very tough babies clash in another main melee when Joe Genovese, smart Toronto lightweight, trades punches with the hard-hitting Len Minicola. And then there is Art Darnbrough, who will represent Canada at the British Empire Games, clashing with Harry Low in the third big bout. These pugilists are no novices—they are all experienced ringmen who pack a kayo wallop and plenty of moxie. To say nothing of ringcraft. Anyone of these three bouts would be a feature in a Toronto card. We are quite sold on this program and wouldn't miss it for a moonlight engagement with Myrna Loy.

* * * * * *

SEVERAL ALL-LOCAL fights in this show should not be overlooked, either. We expect all kinds of stabbing gloves to be seen when Pat Jordan and Frenchy Bousley, 138-pounders, tie into each other. Jerry Belland and Jack Chamberlain are liable to tear down the ring posts when they settle their feud in another tussle. Bill Joiner and Mal Packenham will mix it, too. Buddy Redmond and Izzy MacIntosh provide the curtain-raiser—or the hors d'ouvres of the course. Also an exhibition rasslin' match. Incidentally, fans here may recall when Pat Jordan and Jerry Belland used to lift the curtain as mosquito-weights some four years back. Both have grown up now and can really handle their dukes. Just keep that p.m. open if you like action—and none of this comedy stuff that pro rasslers pull off. Fighting is serious.

* * * * * *

AS ORFUNS are liable to meet the Sarnia-Dundas winner shortly for the O.R.F.U. intermediate "A" title, we might mention the fact that these two teams are close to senior calibre. Dundas, in fact, has a number of former Hamilton Tigers, and holds a decided victory over Hamilton Panthers—senior O.R.F.U. squad—in an exhibition game early this fall. Sarnia has twice won the Provincial championship and is made up of former Sarnia Imperials and some good prospects who expect to be with the Imps in a year or two. Chances are that the Sarnia Wanderers—that is the intermediate outfit—will win out and Orfuns will meet 'em for the championship. It is a long, long trip to Sarnia. But then it is quite a distance from there here.

* * * * * *

BY THE way, Coach Bill Turnbull of the Orfuns hails from Sarnia, it being his home town. Bill played several years of high school football there, later playing for Guelph O.A.C.—and then moving to Peterborough about three years ago. He is in business here on George St. and has been coaching the local O.R.F.U. entry, aided by big Gill Putnam, who used to play for Sarnia Imperials. Between them they know quite a few of the Sarnia players and have a pretty fair idea of the type of football played in that town. It's another angle, eh?

* * * * * *

BOTH OUR rugby squads—and they're beginning to cast covetous eyes toward Provincial championships—will likely swing into action again this weekend. City Club of Toronto plays Orfuns here at 2.30 in Riverside Park, facing a 14-point deficit. While P.C.I. meets Barrie in a sudden-death scrap in the C.O.S.S.A. finals, but we don't know where the game will be played yet—maybe in Toronto. Winner will probably go into the Ontario finals, or at least the semi-finals. Both local outfits are practising hard and they don't expect to be out of harness for a couple of weeks yet. This is the first time we can recall two Peterborough teams being still in the race at such a late date the same season. And it is just 30 years ago since Peterborough copped an Ontario championship in rugby—though we had a number before then and have been in semi-finals and finals frequently since 1907. Maybe this is the big year for the local gridders.

* * * * * *

ONE OF these days we will mention a few more newcomers in puckdom here, there being several lads who may be playing hockey here this winter and who do not require O.H.A. transfers, coming in under one of the transfer exception clauses. Just as Oshawa has obtained several. Meantime, it looks like the Hockey Club will not sponsor an intermediate "B" team, just running two as in the past and sponsoring the Junior City Loop. Shorty Burgess tells us he will not have sufficient time to manage the Colts, but will help. Frank Buckland is just getting over a lengthy spell of sickness, having been in a rundown condition, so he won't be able to take an active coaching part in the Petes. Efforts are being made to get Pick Hines to take over this end of it. And, we hear it rumored, Herb Payne has been mentioned as a possible junior manager. Not enough of the O.H.A. prospects are taking in those nightly P.T. drills at the "Y"—all are urged to attend.

* * * * * *

TWO HOCKEY meetings are called for in Toronto and we have been asked to make notes of 'em. The Ladies Ontario Hockey Association has its annual session at the King Edward Hotel at 2.30 p.m. Dec. 4th, and anyone interested in gals' hockey may attend. Or write to Miss "Bobbie" Rosenfeld of the Globe and Mail. Annual session of the Ont. Juvenile Hockey Association will be Nov. 27th at 5.00 p.m. at the Lockwood Clinic, 300 Bloor St. East, Toronto. All juvenile puck enthusiasts are invited. Incidentally, all O.H.A. entries must be in by Sat., Nov. 27th, and groups will be arranged after that.

* * * * * *

DESE, DEM and dose: Cobourg Galloping Ghosts and Stratford start their O.R.F.U. intermediate "B" finals this Sat'day . . . . Annual meeting of the Church Hockey League will be next Monday p.m. at seven in the "Y" . . . . There may be a six-team Trent Valley Hockey League revived this year, including Madoc, Marmora, Stirling, Trenton, Tweed and Campbellford . . . . Hamilton has declined to enter the senior O.H.A. this winter . . . . A district cricket meeting will be held at Port Hope in a couple of weeks and maybe a Central Ontario loop formed . . . . Lorne Beare, who was barred as a Lindsay puckist, has been reinstated by the O.H.A.—but he has been playing all along in the States . . . . Orfuns haven't been getting the fan support at home that they deserve—not by a heck of a long shot—and 'tis hoped a huge crowd comes out Sat'day to see this smart team in action here . . . . Some of the 1936-37 Petes' hockeyists will not make the squad this winter; in fact, players on both teams will have to really battle for berths . . . . Eric Howe, local hockey player, died last night after an appendicitis operation . . . . And Jim Dorris is at home sick now . . . . Kawartha Motorcycle Club has its annual meeting tonight at eight in the Chamber of Commerce to elect officers, etc.; all members invited . . . . Sufficient for the day is the evil thereof—or something.

Three Unbeaten Grid Squads Prove Notre Dame System Isn't Outmoded

CHICAGO, Nov. 24—(UP). — Let the calamity howlers wail—there's nothing wrong with the Notre Dame system of Fordham, Santa Clara, and Alabama can prove it.

Whenever Notre Dame loses a couple of football games, critics of the Irish system insist it has become out-moded in this day of five, six and seven man lines.

The clamor reached its peak early in the year, when Notre Dame was tied by Illinois and dropped one to Carnegie Tech, 9 to 7. But ever the Irish haven't been doing badly with their own system, including Minnesota's Big Ten champions among their late victims.

Best advertisements of the system, however, are the mighty teams of three former Rockne pupils—Jimmy Crowley at Fordham, Lawrence (Buck) Shaw at Santa Clara and Frank Thomas at Alabama.

All three teams are candidate for one or more post-season bowl games. Alabama and Santa Clara are undefeated and untied, Fordham is undefeated and played Pittsburgh to a scoreless tie. Fordham and Pitt are the pick of the East, Alabama leads the deep south, and Santa Clara ranks with the best on the coast.

Of the three, Santa Clara probably has added more frills to the original system devised by the late Knute Rockne than any other.

Other Irish - coached elevens among the leaders were Villanova, unbeaten but tied by Auburn; Holy Cross, unbeaten but tied by Temple and Carnegie Tech and Michigan, which dropped one to Manhattan, 3 to 0, but came back strong.

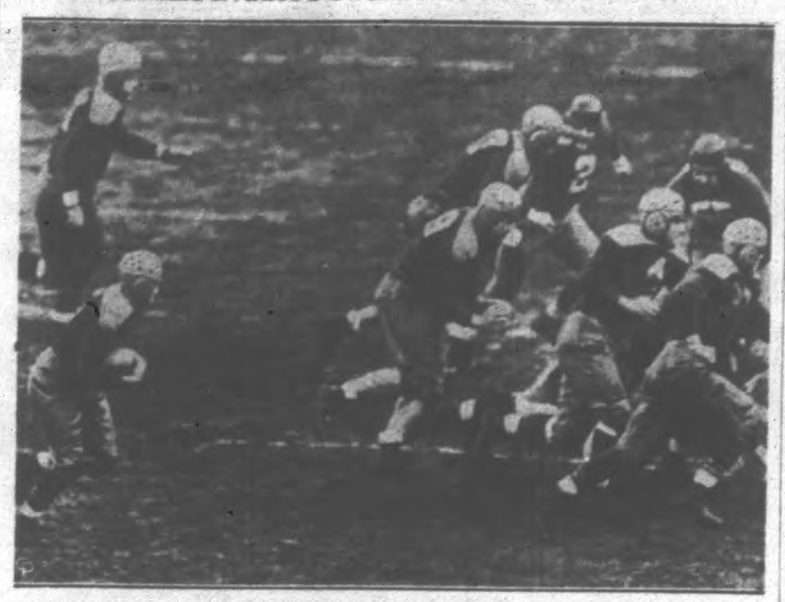
WHAT'S THIS?

BUENOS AIRES—(CP).—I. Caswell was Argentine's most surprised man the other day. English referee on a year's contract to instruct football players in British methods, he was cheered after officiating at a game.

AFTER HILL'S RECORD

ADELAIDE—(CP).—If Don Bradman scores 637 runs in first-class cricket this year he will break Clem Hill's 17,221-run aggregate. Hill's mark represents 32 seasons, while Bradman has been in the game since 1927.

Corzine Evades Powerhouse To Nail Runner



Robert Monnett, former Michigan State star, now halfback for the Green Bay Packers, seems to be off for a good start behind some typical powerhouse interference in this action picture. Les Corzine of the New York Giants broke through, however, a second later and threw Monnett for a 6-yard loss. With both teams in line for their sectional championships, the game took on considerable importance, with the Giants emerging victorious.

Johnny Risko's Ring Comeback Astounds The Fistic World

Legs Hold Up In Olin Bout Though He Has Been Idle For Three Years

CLEVELAND, Nov. 24. — One day last summer bland-faced Johnny Risko sat rocking on the front porch of his cottage on the shore of Lake Erie between Lorain and Cleveland Old Jawn, puffing at a large cigar, appeared the image of contentment. Nearby was Dnny Dunn, his diminutive manager. A newspaperman sat on a rail of the porch.

"The trouble with most fighters is that they never know when to quit," the sports writer was saying. "Look at Loughran. Sharkey tried to come back. Walker fought too long. They——"

Old Jawn looked sheepish when he interrupted. "Well, I'm gonna fight again. I'm gonna start training. I can get in shape in a couple months. I could beat mosta these bums right now."

Danny Dunn hopped up from the porch as though it were a hot stove. "OK, big fella," said Danny, "let's go."

✧ ✧ ✧

But why? Risko, nearly 35 years old (December), with a trust fund income of more than $500 a month. Risko weighing 230 pounds, with a roll of fat around his waist that seemed to have been stuffed in there. Risko, nearly three years out of the ring, fighting them all as they came: Sharkey, Schmeling, Maloney, Heeney, McTigue, Ropas, Godfrey, Delaney, Berlenbach (ah, there was a battle, boys), Tunney, Walker, Wiggins, Loughran.

Every one of them retired, or dead like Rickard, who promoted a couple of Johnny's fights in the old days. But John Risko fighting again?

In every sport room where the news was read I venture to say, men were a little bit sorry to hear that Ol' Jawn had decided to "come back." They just don't come back, and the whole world seems to know that, except the fighter. Maybe Risko would win a couple of rounds, yes. A rough guy like Johnny always could win a couple of rounds, with his great courage and the knowledge gained through many a bruising brawl.

But Risko never had won any medals as a boxer. When he won, it was because he was in there swinging, rushing, slambang style. He always was a strenuous boy, and it took a lot of wind and legs to fight the only kind of fight he ever waged. He might still have it, for a couple of rounds. But after that?

Bob Olin, former light heavy champion, was the man they matched with him. Not too good Bob Olin, and not too bad, either. He had beaten Rosenbloom, broken a jaw or two here and there, floored Tommy Farr a couple of times. Yes, he would be a pretty good test.

✧ ✧ ✧

Risko huffed and puffed and trained, and the pounds rolled off by fives and tens....It took weeks of boxing, roadwork, dieting. It must have been pretty painful at times, but Old Jawn never complained. "I still think I'm right," he told sports writers. They looked at that tire around his waist, and walked away.

✧ ✧ ✧

When at last they climbed into the ring, Old Jawn didn't look so bad, even though that fat was still evident. He had taken off 35 pounds. All fall he had been working like a football team, and as I say, he didn't look bad but that fat was there. How would he react when Olin planted a couple in that breadbasket? How long would those stubby legs hold up? I know what kind of an answer Mickey Walker and Jack Sharkey and Paul Berlenbach would have had for that question. It would have been "Not long!"

✧ ✧ ✧

These eyes have seen some strange and unexpected things happen inside those ropes. But the fight between Johnny Risko and Bob Olin must be placed first.

Thousands of his friends stayed away. They didn't want to see him slaughtered. But other thousands came, urged by their old faith in Risko, their belief that with Johnny in there everything would be all right, for he never had let them down, never had quit, never had been involved in "one of those things."

✧ ✧ ✧

He started with the same old rush, throwing a load of leather into Olin's face. He kept it up the second round and the third, but when Olin started to smear him with body punches that could be heard a block away, the boys at the ringside wore that look, "it won't be long now."

But he kept right on coming, amazingly, and after the fifth actually got stronger. Bouncing around on those thick legs, swinging punches from all parts of the house, crowding, uppercutting, jabbing, and swinging that well-known old looping overhand right. That right? I'm not fooling—it was better than I ever had seen it.

What's more, he kept right on from that first bell to the last, and when the end of the tenth round came, and a rafter-shaking roar went up from the 5,000 who had come to see, he danced back to his corner happily, with the old grin spreading from ear to ear. He knew he had won, just as every last man in the house knew it. Announcement of the decision was a formality that couldn't be heard for the din.

And that was Risko's first comeback fight! Next? I wouldn't know about that, but the first one certainly was miracle enough. And—

Say, I wonder if they do come back?

Toronto Rink Gains Mutual Life Final

KITCHENER, Ont., Nov. 24 (CP) —Two more rinks qualified for the finals of the Mutual Life Trophy, premier event of the Kitchener Granite Club's fourth annual bonspiel when W. B. Cowan, Toronto High Park and T. Pratt, Plattsville, won third round games last night from W. H. Weller, Hamilton Thistles and G. F. Neale, Glanford.

Cowan defeated W. H. Weller 13-11 and Pratt outscored Neal, 19-9 to emerge undefeated in the second day's play of the spiel. The winning fours each day return Friday for the final round.

In the Goodrich Trophy, secondary event, V. Vallance, Hamilton Thistles and P. D. McCallum, London, gained the finals with victory over A. Lockhart, Kitchener, Bruce Smith, Orangeville. Vallance scored a 11-10 extra-end decision over Lockhart while McCallum routed Smith 16-6.

Nottingham Hopes For 1st Division

LONDON, Nov. 24.—In all England there is no city that desires to see First Division football more than Nottingham, home of Notts County and Notts Forest, but that time is still some distance away. It is true that the Forest is playing in the Second Division, but the team's chances of promotion are the reverse of bright. Points are coming slowly, and the team occupies a lowly place in the standing. The County squad is in the Third Division, and in a strong position, but that is due to its fine defense, which is the best in the league.

At the start of the present season things looked bright, the more especially as Hughie Gallacher, the famous Scottish international centre-forward, had been secured, and who was expected to give the attack the needed zest to win games. Notts County made an auspicious start, winning the first three games, but of late goals have been coming only at infrequent intervals.

PONSFORD COMES BACK

MELBOURNE — (CP). — W. H. Ponsford, who retired in 1934, will break his retirement from first-class cricket play to take part in the testimonial match for V. Y. Richardson and C. V. Grimmett at Adelaide, November 26 to 30.

BALDY NORTHCOTT HAILED AS BEST CHECKER IN GAME

"Drillion and Dillon Dazzling Duo." Head writers given to alliteration would bite their teeth on that one after considering how Drillon leads the Canadian section in point-getting and Dillon is the top scorer in the American division though Doc Romnes with goals and points is the actual leader.

Dillon did very well by himself against Maroons, so much so that in future that eminent camper on trails the well known Baldy Northcott will likely be assigned the task of keeping him in check.

Northcott, the "sacrifice battery" so to speak on the Maroon line usually draws all the tough boys but Dillon eluded him, and in doing so fattened his average.

It is a matter of record that the big shots of the game the starry right wings like Charlie Conacher, Bill Cook, Mush March and Dillon scored less goals and points when playing against Northcott than any left winger in the league. Bill Cook after one exasperating evening once referred to him as the best checker in the game.

✧ ✧ ✧

It has looked that way ever since Sprague Cleghorn selected Baldy away back in 1932 to spike Charlie Conacher then as now the blazing Big Bertha of the right lane.

In doing this Baldy has sometimes had to curb a natural tendency towards goal getting which asserted itself one season when he was well up among the leading scorers of the circuit.

It may be that he will draw Drillon for a while now that Conacher is out for a while, and those who see below the surface a little to extract satisfaction of technical efficiency, figure that if Baldy gets that assignment, he should render Drillon very null and void.

✧ ✧ ✧

The Monctonian has been steaming away at a rapid gait, and they say he is taking some of the sheen away from Apps, who was the curly haired kid last year. Apps was so much that way that Andy Lytle of the Toronto Star, the Anatole France of the blue lines, referred to him not only as the darling of the hockey gods, but also of the hockey goddesses who sit in chilly elegance in the Maple Leaf Garden boxes.

He has even taken some of the spotlight away from our old favorite, the well-known Busher Jackson, who in the Canadien game was honing his stick on every chin in sight.

The Drillon, Apps and Jackson line rescued Leafs in the Canadien game, not only from the slough of despond several times, but from the brink of an abyss, to say nothing of the verge of defeat, and earned them a reprieve; at least till Boston took away the strain of carrying an undefeated streak, while inflicting the pain of putting them in the extremely populated area behind the eight ball.

Fights Last Night

(By the Canadian Press).

Toronto.—Jack Armstrong, 120¾, Toronto, stopped Georgie Pace, 117¾, Cleveland, who was disqualified by referee in sixth round.

Buffalo, N.Y.—Henry Armstrong, 130, world featherweight champion, knocked out Joey Brown, 128, Syracuse, N.Y. (2).

New York.—Pedro Montanez, 138½, Puerto Rico, stopped Joe Peninho, 141, Brooklyn, N.Y. (3).

JOHNSON SUFFERS FOOTLIGHT FRIGHT IN AMERKS' GAME

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (CP)—Manhattan's most rabid hockey fans, the gallery boys from the east and west sides who shout for the Amerks had a new idol of the rink to cheer for today—Ivan (Ching) Johnson.

The Bald Eagle of the backline, nervous as a debutante but still the same glamorous figure in the glare of the ice floodlights, came back to the hockey wars last night wearing the brightly hued trappings of the New York Americans.

The pair formed one of the stoutest rearguard combinations Amerks have dug up since Red Dutton took charge of the outfit three seasons ago. Johnson bowled over the opposing Detroit Red Wings last night with great enthusiasm as the crowd of 12,000 roared encouragement. The Americans won the game 3-1.

The founcation of Madison Square Garden shook when Johnson got in his first true bodycheck, a jolt to the shoulder which sent Larry Aurie spinning 15 feet.

"Sure I'm tired," Ching admitted with a broad grin. "But you gotta expect that. After all, it was my first game. It'll take me a couple more to get in stride."

Ching said he was never more frightened than when he took his first turn on the American defence.

JOHN MONTAGUE WILL NOT ENTER BIG TOURNAMENTS

DETROIT, Nov. 24.—Worn down to a feathery 220 pounds and blooming with the complexion of a man who has never suffered any ailment worse than a hangnail, John (Laverne Moore Montague paused in Detroit Sunday on a flight to Hollywood and remarked that the problem immediately before him was to "get back in shape." Montague's lament about his health was in response to a question as to whether he intended to put his reputed wizardry against the great ones of golf in big-time tournaments, now that there was no longer any need for him to play the mystery man.

The robust Montague, whom Elizabethtown (N. Y.) authorities took away from Hollywood and tried as one Laverne Moore on a seven-year-old charge of robbing a roadhouse, said that he did intend to compete in the major tournaments. But first must come a good rest and a business conference in Hollywood. Montague was evasive on the question of a movie career.

He was interviewed at the City Airport when he alighted from an American Airlines ship to stretch his legs in company with "Scotty" Chisholm, who refereed Montague's recent golf match with Babe Ruth, Mildred (Babe) Didrikson and Don Forker, an advertising man. Montague did not seem inclined to talk about much of anything but the golf match, which was notable for the fact that so many people swamped the Fresh Meadows (New York) course that a true public estimate of Montague's ability could not be made.

"They'd give you this much room to make a shot in," Montague said, grinning and spreading his powerful hands about two feet apart. "You'd hit one and then get up to where your ball stopped and find the spectators kicking it around. Somebody took my driver right out of my hands on the back swing."

But Montague didn't seem angry about it as he concluded:

"About 20,000 saw it and we turned 10,000 away."

A BIG BUSINESS

TORONTO LEAFS BEATEN 2 TO 1 MONTREAL GAME

FORUM, Montreal, Nov. 24 (CP). —With Toronto Maple Leafs until this year, King Clancy sent his Montreal Maroons against the Leafs last night for the first time. Coach Clancy sought his second victory of the National Hockey League schedule while Toronto was out to extend its sectional lead.

George Parsons and Ab Corrigan, rookies who started with Leafs in their 5 to 0 conquest of Detroit on Sunday, were in the line-up again.

First Period.

1—Maroons, Northcott (Ward) 14.35

Penalties—Hamilton, Ward.

Second Period.

2—Maroons, Ward, (Northcott) 13.31

3—Toronto, Thoms (Boll) ... 14.10

Penalties—Runge, Trottier, Marker, Chamberlain.

Third Period.

Scoring—None.

Penalties—Gracie, Horner, Cain, mberlain, Horner, Shields.

Canadiens' achievement in holding Bruins to a 1-1 overtime tie was darkened by injury to their scorer, Armand Mondou, who was checked by Eddie Shore and taken to hospital with what may be a fractured leg. Mondou got the Habitants' goal in the first period while Shore was serving the game's only penalty.

Toe Blake laid down the pass for Mondou and Shore assisted Dumart in levelling the count 13 minutes after the second chapter's start. The teams skated fast through the third period and overtime, but Short and Babe Siebert rallied defences that turned back every thrust as the 15,000 customers appealed for a Bruin goal.

Ching Johnson, long a defence ace with Rangers, made a better-than-good comeback on the Americans rear guard in the win over Detroit. Replacing Johnny Gallagher in the lineup, he drew the plaudits of the crowd of 12,000.

Jack Adams brought up Carl Liscombe and Clarence Drouillard from the Detroit International-American League farm at Pittsburgh to replace Johnny Sherf and Johnny Sorrell, but the alterations didn't improve the Wings, who have lost five of their seven contests. Red Doran went in for the injured Ebbie Goodfellow.

Art Chapman passed to Eddie Wiseman and the wingman transferred to Nels Stewart for Americans' first goal in the 1st period. Schriner scored unassisted with less than two minutes to play in the chapter, but before its close Marty Barry had cut the margin to 2-1.

Schriner set up a pass for Lorne Carr to end the scoring half way through the second period and, as at Boston and Montreal, the teams skated fast and unsuccessfully through the third.

Amerks announced release of veterans Leighton (Happy) Ebbs and Lloyd (Dede) Klein to Pittsburgh under an optional agreement. Acquisition of Johnson left the club with an over-abundance of defencemen, necessitating Ehrms' departure, and off-season deals have strengthened the forward lines to force Klein's going.

Named For Team

Billy Brade, of the Winnipeg Brades club, who at 16, is Manitoba amateur bantamweight champion. He has been recommended for the provincial team to compete at Vancouver in the Canadian British Empire boxing trials. Billy was runner-up in the flyweight division in the last Dominion title fights at Montreal.

$22,275,787 BET CANADIAN TRACKS

OTTAWA, Nov. 24 (CP). — Race track betting in Canada totalled $22,275,787 this year, an increase of $1,324,077 over 1936, the Dominion Department of Agriculture reported today.

The year's record showed 29 racing associations held 37 meetings for a total of 302 days' racing, compared to 28 associations, 36 meetings and 300 days' racing in 1936.

The largest amount wagered at a single meeting was $1,474,037 at the spring meeting at Woodbine Park, Toronto. Smallest was the $263 total wagered at a two-day meeting at Red Deer, Alta.

Prize money paid out during the year was $1,046,440, compared to $1,002,794 last year. Gate receipts increased from $566,190 in 1936 to $651,491 in 1937, but the Department points out, this takes into account passes or free admissions on "ladies' days."

Rugby Coach Turns To Canvas

Robert C. Zuppke, known everywhere to football fans as the "artistic" coach at the University of Illinois, also knows how to execute "spinners" and "reverses" off the football field and is shown here, following his avocation. New York, long familiar with "Bob's" feats on the Gridiron will now be able to see the extent of his prowess with brush and palette. His works, consisting of 25 landscapes, were on exhibit at New York. He's working on "Winter 1937" in the ABOVE photo.

BABE RUTH HAILED INTO LINE FOR JOB AS BROWNS' PILOT

CHICAGO, Nov. 24—(UP).—For all those who are weary of reading and hearing about spinners, mousetraps, and deep reverses and would relish a little baseball news, there's relief just ahead.

The annual minor league meeting is scheduled at Milwaukee, Dec. 1, 2 and 3, and will be followed by the major league conclave at Chicago Dec. 6, 7 and 8. The minor league convention will be attended by fifteen of the sixteen major league pilots, and the ground work will be laid for trades which will be engineered during the Chicago meetings. Only Connie Mack, venerable manager of the Athletics, who is convalescing from prolonged illness, will be absent from the Milwaukee sessions. He has announced his intention of attending the major league convention.

To De-Rabbitize Ball

One of the most important matters which will come up at the joint meeting of the two major leagues Dec. 8 is the adoption of the baseball which will be used during the 1938 season.

Last year the two major leagues voted to have manufacturers submit samples of a new baseball, but these samples proved unsatisfactory. Attempts were made to make the ball less lively by tampering with the cover and stitches in tryouts. These experimental balls became lopsided when clouted solidly.

President Will Harridge of the American League confirmed the fact to-day that the baseball for 1938 will be less lively than the one used in 1937.

"We positively intend to take a little rabbit out of the ball," said Harridge. "But instead of altering the cover or the stitches, we will achieve our purpose by having a smaller cork centre."

Another matter of importance coming up is the renewal of the major-minor league pact, which expires in February. The minors are said to favor the inclusion of a clause in the new agreement preventing the majors from signing a college player until his class has been graduated.

Brisk business is expected on the player marts because of the general tendency of all American League clubs to cast off their conservative methods in an effort to build up to the New York Yankees, world champions the past two years.

Jimmy Dykes, White Sox manager, is in the market for a third-baseman, and has deals pending with at least four clubs. Dykes soured on First-Baseman Zeke Bonura near the end of the season and may use him in a deal.

The St. Louis Browns are open to offers for almost anybody, but this attitude may be changed as soon as the club names its manager for next season. Gabby Street, who finished the season as coach, supposedly has the inside track, but to-day Babe Ruth's name was linked with the job. Oscar Melillo, veteran Red Sox second-baseman, who reportedly has been offered a job as Browns' coach, is boosting Ruth for the post.

Detroit, Washington, Cleveland, Boston and Philadelphia are other American League clubs who have opened negotiations for players they want. Jimmy Foxx, Red Sox first-baseman, and Harlan Clift, the Browns' third-baseman, are two of the leading stars said to be on the market.

The big bidding in the National League is expected to centre around Van Mungo, Brooklyn's bad boy. The Cubs, Giants, Pirates, Cardinals and Reds are all after him. Billy Jurges, Cubs' shortstop, is ticketed for trading, along with Paul Waner, Pirates' outfielder, and Hal Schumacher, Giants' pitcher, among others.

N.H.L. All-Stars

(By the Canadian Press).

Baldy Northcott and Jimmie Ward, Maroons, combined for their team's goals to beat Toronto 2-1.

Armand Mondou, Canadiens, scored Canadiens' goal that brought 1-1 tie and ended Boston's winning streak, before being taken off with broken leg.

McMaster College May Apply For Senior Football Berth

Officials Anxious To Have Team In Intercollegiate Senior Union

HAMILTON, Nov. 24—(CP).—The old argument for senior rating in inter-collegiate football has followed McMaster University's victory in the Intermediate Intercollegiate final over Queen's University here last Saturday. While there has been no word from school officials on the possibility of moving to the senior union, the student body is eager for the move.

The Maroons defeated Queen's, 22 to 2, demonstrating complete superiority with an all-round display that the students believe would have done credit to any senior college team. The victory gave McMaster its third intermediate title in four years.

Five good men will be lost before another football season rolls around. Bud Turnbull, Captain and flying wing; Willard Bush, outside; Jack Barry, middle; Gord McKinley, backfielder, and Ossie Cox, snap, are all due to graduate. While their departure means a severe loss, prospects are bright for adequate replacements.

Those who believe McMaster is ripe for senior competition point to the great 1937 record of the Maroons— they scored 128 points against 36. The nucleus of the team for next season will include the McAdam brothers and Al Imrie, brilliant back.

Hockey's Big 7

(By the Canadian Press).

Bill Thoms of Toronto and Marty Barry of Detroit, getting goals while their teams lost, were the only members of the National Hockey League's big seven to enter the scoring lists last night. They stepped into a sixth-place tie with Sylvanus Apps of Toronto. Gordon Drillon, Harvey Jackson, Red Horner and Apps of the Leafs were silenced by Maroons, while Charlie Conacher, out of the Toronto lineup with an injured shoulder, and Doc Romnes of Chicago were idle.

Wrestling Last Night

(By the Associated Press).

CAN STILL GIVE IT

LONDON—(CP).—When counsel suggested a man of 30 should not attack a man of 59, Mr. Justice Charles, 66, a former amateur boxer, said, "if a man of 30 knocked me about he will know all about it!"

Makes Pro Debut

Twenty-two-year-old Henry C. Poe, of Durham, N.C., former star of the Duke university golf team, who tied for first place honors in the mid-south open golf championships, at Pinehurst, N.C., is seen here. It was his first appearance as a professional. Poe turned in a sub-par 70 for 36-hole aggregate of 142, which placed him in a tie with E. J. Harrison, of Little Rock, Ark.

LIFFORD LINE MAN HAS HAND MANGLED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LIFFORD LINE, Nov. 24. — On Monday evening, the local live stock trucker, Russel Kerr, suffered a very painful accident while assisting his brothers in shingle sawing at their own mill in Frosty Hollow. The victim's left hand became entangled in the saw, severely mangling the first three fingers and necessitating the calling of a doctor for medical attention. Providing there are no complications, it is quite probable that the fingers will be saved from amputation, but it will be several weeks before the unfortunate victim is able to again enjoy the normal use of his hand. It is expected that a brother will relieve the injured man from his trucking duties, which are particularly heavy at present.

LONG OPEN FALL HAS BEEN BOON

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BAILIEBORO, Nov. 24.—The recent heavy frosts have been the means of stopping plowing and forcing farmers to stable livestock for the first time this season. It is, however, much later than usual and the exceptionally long open fall has been beneficial to the agriculturists in many ways.

The acreage of fall wheat and new seeding in this district is believed to be considerably below normal and this necessitated a much larger acreage being plowed for spring seeding.

An exceptionally large acreage of old meadows and sod have also been broken up this fall and the lengthy season has made it possible to get this work accomplished.

The past dry summer made it very difficult to prepare soil suitably for fall wheat, while in many fields new seeds failed to germinate during the dry season and this largely accounts for the increased amount of land left for spring seeding.

Farmers will turn their attention to preparing their buildings for the coming winter months and doing the numerous odd jobs always found around a farm that need doing.

Turkey is seeking to modernize its radio broadcasting.

CHAPTER 4[illegible]

Tim's two appointments in London were for half past 10 and a quarter past 11. He kept them both, asking about the progress of the probate of Edifer's will at his solicitors, and making some inquiries about investments at the stockbrokers. By half past 11 he was free.

He mounted a bus, which took him to Islington, and not far from the Angel he found an ironmonger's, where he purchased a dozen yards of stout wire rope. The parcel was heavy, but Tim resisted the shopman's offer to deliver or send it, and took it away with him. He struggled to another bus, and then to the cloakroom at Victoria station, where he deposited the parcel.

He had a hurried snack at one of the station buffets, and then took a train to Clapham. In the High Street he entered another hardware store, buying a couple of iron stakes or pins, about two feet long. These he carried away with him, and returned to Victoria. There he bought a large suitcase, at a shop in the Vauxhall Bridge road, dealing in railway lost property. He then reclaimed the wire, and put it with the stakes in the suitcase.

It was now a quarter to 3, and Tim would have been glad to get home at once to make his preliminary dispositions. But it was impossible to foretell Adams' movements: he might be intending to return to The Wilderness before going on to the Goose Quill, and a premature meeting would be fatal.

Reluctantly Tim checked the suitcase again, this time in a cloakroom at the other end of the station. Then he crossed the road to the New Victoria Picture theater and spent upwards of two hours there, finally catching the 6:30 train home.

It was, of course, dark when he got back to The Wilderness. It would have suited his purpose better to make a close inspection of the terrain by daylight, but it was impossible, and he had to let it go.

His first care was to have a word with the cook, to whom he explained that he had had a busy day in town, not finding time for more than a scratch meal, and he would, therefore, like to have a cold supper at once. He stayed in the kitchen for a few minutes, and in the course of conversation asked if the housemaid was spending the afternoon and evening at her mother's, as she usually did on her half-day off.

This was important, because if she was she would return to The Wilderness from the other end of Box lane, whereas if she had gone to the town she would pass by the same route as Adams, probably at about the same time. For Box lane was actually a connecting link between the Bradstock road, high up on the ridge, and the Westbourne road, well down in the valley. There being a better road serving the same purpose a little nearer town there was hardly ever any through traffic during the daytime and never after nightfall.

The Wilderness was the only house of any importance actually reached by the lane. There were three cottages, but the inhabitants were farm laborers working for Gales at the top of the ridge; they retired and rose early. Apart from people going to and from The Wilderness, and a few lovers in the summertime, Tim had hardly ever seen anybody in Box lane later than 10 o'clock.

The girl had gone to her mother's; and that meant a clear field. So far so good. Tim ate his supper as quickly as possible, and then went to his garage at the back of the house. He switched on the electric light, and took the suitcase out of the car.

On beginning to uncoil the rope he quickly realized that it would be too long. The banks in Box lane rose almost sheer from the sides of the roadway. If the stakes were planted too far apart the rope would stretch too high: Adams might be killed, but there would probably be marks high up on his body inconsistent with the accident hypothecated. It would be necessary to get measurements as exact as possible.

Tim shut up the garage, and strolled out into the lane, taking a tape measure and his big torch with him. He did not feel pressed for time. It was barely half past 7, and except in the improbable event of Adams again returning from the public house before closing time, he had the best part of three hours at his disposal. That was to the good, for it would be advisable to choose the ground carefully.

Tim knew every wind and turn in the lane, every sudden dip and every stretch of comparatively level ground. So did Adams for that matter; that was why he was able to take the descent at such terrific speed.

It would have to be near a bend; Tim did not believe Adams' bicycle lamp carried effectively more than a dozen yards, but that might be sufficient to enable him to pull up. It would also have to be at one of the steepest parts of the lane, to reduce still further the possibility of braking in time.

Tim thought he knew just the spot, almost exactly where Adams had flashed past him that night when he was beginning to suspect something amiss. About halfway between The Wilderness and the only cottage between it and the Bradstock road, the lane took a wide curve and dived deep; the turn was sufficient to blind what lay beyond, yet not sharp enough to compel a reduction of speed.

Tim reached the place he had in mind, and went over the ground carefully. It would do; the only question was to settle the exact point. It was desirable to fix it as far down as possible, so as to get the maximum advantage from increased speed on the dip, but not, of course, too far.

Tim walked up the hill round the corner and then returned, holding his lighted torch in front of him. He thought that about 10 yards from the point where an unobstructed view of the lane ahead was obtained was as much as he dared risk. He took out his tape measure. The lane proved to be just 12 feet wide, and the spaces where it would be feasable to fix the stakes did not ex-

BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S THANKSGIVING.

"Oh, Unkie Wig, aren't you gland and happy?" asked Baby Bunty, the little orphan rabbit, one afternoon.

"Glad and happy about what?" inquired Mr. Longears, twinkling his pink nose at the orphan rabbit and pretending not to know what she was talking about.

"Why, about tomorrow, of course," said Bunty in surprise.

"Tomorrow isn't going to be any different, is it?" asked Mr. Longears, and he cuddled Baby Bunty closer to him for she snuggled close up to him as he sat in his easy chair on the bungalow porch in the sunshine.

"Of course it's going to be different," laughed Baby Bunty and she gave a little shiver of delight. "It's THANKSGIVING!" and she made her eyes almost as big as the loud way in which she said the word.

For you know boys and girls Uncle Wiggily lives in the United States the great country to the south of Canada and his Thanksgiving day comes later in the year than ours in Canada.

"Of course, to be sure! Thanksgiving!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I was almost forgetting about it. I thought it was Christmas."

11-24

"Glad and happy about what?"

Not Far Away.

"Oh, Unkie Wig! Did you, really?" asked Bunty, giving another shiver of delight. "But I know you didn't. You're just teasing me. But if tomorrow is Thanksgiving, as it is, Christmas isn't far off, is it? "

"Just about a month!" laughed the rabbit gentleman. "Well, now, Bunty, as long as tomorrow is Thanksgiving suppose you and I take a hop to the woods. On the way we can think up what we have to be thankful about. That's what Thanksgiving is for, isn't it?"

"Yes," said Baby Bunty, slowly. "That and eating good things."

"Oh, is Nurse Jane going to give us something extra good to eat tomorrow?" asked Mr. Longears, just as if he didn't know.

"Of course, she is, Unkie Wig!" laughed Baby Bunty. Then she took hold of the jolly old rabbit gentleman's paw and hopped with him to the woods.

"Do you think we may find an adventure?" asked Baby Bunty.

"I think so," said Uncle Wiggily, remembering the one he had yesterday when he had to put on a wig in Mr. Chip's barber shop, where he was getting shaved, so the Fox and Bob Cat wouldn't know him.

After a while Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty came to a hollow tree where the little orphan rabbit often used to play hide and go seek. The hollow tree made a wonderful place to hide.

"I would hide in it now and make you look for me, Unkie Wig," said the orphan habbit, "only you would know where I was."

"Yes, I guess I would," said Mr. Longears. "Is the hollow tree large enough for us both to hide in, Bunty?"

"Oh, yes, Unkie Wig, there's plenty of room in it for both of us. But why do you ask that?"

Hears Something.

"Because we had both better hide in it right away!" said Mr. ongears suddenly and his pink nose stopped twinkling.

"Why must we hide in the hollow tree?" asked Bunty.

"Because," whispered Uncle Wiggily. "I hear a noise coming. It may not be one of the Bad Chaps, but it is best not to take any chances. Quick! Into the hollow tree.

Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty popped inside. There was a dangling piece of bark for a door and this the rabbit gentleman shut. But no sooner was it shut when there sounded a knocking on it and a voice cried:

"Let me in! Let me in! Quick! Let me in!"

Uncle Wiggily held the bark door shut. So did Baby Bunty. But it was pushed aside and in popped—not a Bad Chap at all but Buster, one of Uncle Wiggily's own little rabbits.

"Custer is chasing he!" panted Buster. "I want to hide from him. Ha! Ha! Ha!" Then Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty laughed. "Ha! Ha! Ha!"

Pretty soon, when Custer couldn't find his brother, out popped Buster and then all laughed and hopped to the hollow stump bungalow. And the next day was Thanksgiving and a very jolly one it was.

And next, if the pumpkin pie doesn't go to sleep in the ice box, I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily's snow.

4 IN STOLEN AUTO OUTRUN 2 CHASES

TORONTO, November 24—(CP)—Four men who broke into a service station at Burlington, near Hamilton, and drove off in a stolen car won a race Tuesday with a Toronto police cruiser. One cruiser gave up the chase when a wheel came off and later another was outdistanced when police believed they were pursuing the same men.

Toronto police, informed the men were headed toward Toronto, met the stolen car near the city limits. The car turned north toward Islington and the police car followed.

The two cars sped over county side roads and along main highways, hitting 70 to 75 miles-an-hour. Suddenly the pursued car sped around a corner on two wheels. The police attempted to negotiate the turn, but their car struck a curb and a wheel came off.

The car in which the men were driving was stolen in Toronto Monday night.

Later another Toronto police cruiser spotted a car with four men in it travelling at terrific speed along Weston Road. A new chase began, circling dizzily through north township streets for nine miles until the car eluded police in the Thistledown area.

Police believed the same four men were in the second chase. It was thought they abandoned the stolen car, owned by Fred Culliton, and took another.

Burlington police reported to Toronto the four thieves gained entrance to Cities Service station there by forcing a rear door. A quantity of cigarettes and stamps were taken. It was believed police interfered with them and prevented them from taking more from the service station.

SUES FOR $2,000 ON BURNED WHEAT

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 24—(CP)—Lee Middaugh, who formerly farmed on the Second Concession of Lobo Township, at the Non-Jury Session of the Supreme Court yesterday asked Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland to award him $2,000 from the Canadian National Railways because a field of wheat burned sixteen months ago after a locomotive passed by.

Middaugh was on the witness-stand most of the afternoon. Trial of the action will continue to-day.

Middaugh is asking compensation for alleged damage to eight acres of uncut wheat, surface soil, fences, and the necessity to sell some stock at a sacrifice through lack of feed.

Middaugh, a former railway engineer, testified he was cutting wheat with his two sons when he saw the locomotive pass to the north of his farm, at times belching black smoke so thick the train was at times partly obscured and throwing off sparks.

A little later, he said, flames spread through his wheat field to the railway right-of-way. He said he could not tell where the fire started.

CENTREVILLE

Mr. Ronald Deyell, of Banff, Alberta, spent the week-end at the home of his father, Robert Deyell.

Mrs. Ray Rivers and daughter, Margaret, are visiting friends in Toronto.

Miss Flossie McIndoo, R.N., has gone to Smiths Falls, where she has accepted a position in the General Hospital.

Mr. John Moncrief has gone to Winnipeg to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Gray.

Mrs. (Dr.) Wood (nee May Moncrief) after a month's visit among friends has returned to her home in Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Horner and family, of Millbrook, visited Mrs. Jas. Kinsman on Sunday.

Messrs. James and Percy Gainer obtained third prize on their Percheron horse, Elm Grove Laehovah, at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto.

The farmers have practically all their fall plowing finished. There is a fine showing of fall wheat, a large acreage has been sown.

Science May Pull Houdini Stunt With "Iron Lung"

Science it is expected soon will enable Fred Snite, Jr. the smiling prisoner for the past 18 months in the "iron lung" to perform an escapeof which even the great Houdini might have been proud. Fred is shown (TOP) in the "iron lung" with his father at their winter home in Miami playing chess. The nurse moves the chessmen for the infantile paralysis victim. Young Snite (LOWER) in a new "rubber lung", temporarily, which leaves the arms and legs free.

FRENCH ENGINEER ON SUSPECT LIST

PARIS, Nov. 24—(AP)—Police today searched the luxurious apartment of a prominent engineering consultant in what they described as the latest foray in the hunt for evidence of a secret revolutionary society accused of plotting against the government.

The wife of the consultant, Mme. Edouard Deloncle, told operatives her husband was travelling in Italy. The search produced a quantity of papers, seized for further examination.

Officials of Surete Nationale said the expanded investigation had failed to add to the large supply of arms and munitions already seized. Raiders had been active at Cannes, Lyon, Toulouse, Nantes, Marseille and also near Dieppe, Rouen and Valenciennes.

A Paris janitor found four small bombs without fuses on a sidewalk where police said they probably had been dumped by someone wanting to get rid of them.

Premier Chautemps summoned his ministers to a cabinet session today, when it was expected Interior Minister Mark Dormoy would give a detailed accounted of police investigation of "The Hooded Ones."

CAMPBELLFORD

Miss Violet Patrick, Portage Street, attended the wedding in Peterborough on Saturday of Miss Geraldine McAuliffe to Mr. Joseuh W. Kennedy.

Amish Farmer Prefers Jail To Fine For Defying School Law

Honey Brook, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP) AARON King, prosperous Amish farmer of this Chester county borough, chose a two-day jail sentence last night rather than pay a fine imposed because he refused to send his 14-year-old daughter to school.

King was lodged in jail in default of a $2 fine and costs of $5.40 following a hearing on charges brought by the Honey Brook school board.

King pleaded innocent to the charge he violated the Pennsylvania school code by failing to send his daughter, Rebecca, to school. He argued that the school board had failed to serve proper legal notice that the girl must go to school.

Previously he had said he kept his daughter away from school because it might take her away from her people."

Predict Monarchy Back In Spain

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 24 (CP).—The people of Spain are not temperamentally suited for democratic government, Rev. Edward J. Ferger, editor of the Catholic Union and Times, Buffalo, N.Y., said in an address here last night. He and Jane Anderson, the Marquessa de Cienfuegos, a war correspondent, spoke under auspices of the Assumption College Lecture League.

Father Ferger predicted that if the insurgents win in Spain a military dictatorship will result for four or five years, followed by restoration of the monarchy with Prince John, son of King Alphonso, placed on the throne.

THOSE TURTLE DAYS

LONDON — (CP). — The recent Lord Mayor's banquet prompted a writer to The Times to state he possessed a menu and list of guests at the 1937 banquet attended by Queen Victoria. Among other items the menu mentioned 220 tureens of turtle soup and 20 pea fowls.

BANCROFT

Miss Nell O'Brien, who has spent the past month visiting relatives and friends in this district, returned to her home in Campbellford on Thursday last.

Girl Pickets Father's Factory In Workers Wage Fight

Manufacturer Brands Her Red, Proposes To Retire And Fight Communism

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Nov. 24 (CP) —The beginning of Brooklyn's rather short and dismal Main Street, where a keen wind from the East River swirled around the foundations of Brooklyn Bridge, an old struggle was re-enacted in modern form yesterday.

Anna Warshaw, 24-year-old graduate of Columbia University, kept her promise to picket the lithographing plant of her 63-year-old father, Nathan Warshaw. It was the claim of class balanced against the claim of kin.

On the sidewalk the girl paraded in the interests of the United Paper Workers' Union, a Committee of Industrial Organization affiliate, seeking higher wages. Six storeys overhead, her father, who developed a $1,000,000 yearly business from an original investment of $100, pounded a desk.

The father who came to United States 24 years ago penniless, claims his daughter is a Communist, and said he will retire on January 1 "to devote all my time to fighting Communism."

"My father is shouting about Communism," countered Anna. "But that is an old trick that labor haters have used in the past. As a matter of fact, I'm not for abolishing capitalism, though I think it can be improved."

Mme. Chiang Rules Chinese To Fight

TOKYO, Nov. 24—(CP-Havas)—A Shanghai dispatch to the Nichi Nichi reported a disagreement between General and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek on the issue of war or peace in China.

Mme. Chiang was for continuation of the war at any price, the dispatch said. The general was ready to sue for peace. Mme. Chiang's view prevailed, according to this account.

URGE DRY PLEDGE FOR CAR DRIVERS

TORONTO, Nov. 24—(CP)—Strict rules governing railway employees, and alleged laxness of regulations regarding sobriety and physical fitness of drivers on the highway, were contrasted by E. C. Drury, former United Farmers of Ontario premier, before a meeting of transport drivers Saturday night.

"Every one who takes out a driver's license should be required to give an undertaking that under no circumstances will he operate his car after taking liquor, even in a small quantity," said Mr. Drury.

He deplored the system whereby a young man of his acquaintance was in trouble over his driving several times, and finally was responsible for the death of a young woman, and yet was allowed to drive again, when he had completed a jail sentence.

Reconquer Throne

A decision "to reconquer the throne of my fathers" has been announced by Duc de Guise (ABOVE), pretender to the throne of France, in a 5,000 word manifesto distributed in Paris. The exile now living in Belgium, left no doubt that he would launch on a pacific conquest to restore monarchy to France. The manifesto was distributed at a time when French police were busy uncovering huge stores of arms, supposedly for use in a Rightist revolution.

INSURANCE COMPULSORY

TORONTO, Nov. 24 — (CP).—The annual convention of the United Farmers of Ontario today passed a resolution recommending legislation making insurance covering public liability and property damage compulsory for owners of all cars before a license is issued.

Wife Who Was Cross and Touchy

Put Herself Right With Kruschen

"I am 39 years of age," a woman writes, "Yet some days I have been feeling and looking 100 years old. I would get fits of exhaustion for no good reason at all. I was not fit to live with because I would be so cross and touchy. I did not seem to have any ambition to do my housework, and I was tired all the time.

"Two years ago I had sciatica all down my left side from the hip. My doctor says all this is caused through my nerves. I took Kruschen and found it helped me very much. Since I started taking it I am a different person. My work seems a lot easier and I have a lot more enedgy."—(Mrs.) G.M.

The "little daily dose" of Kruschen puts an end to tiredness and depression, because it restores the eliminating organs to proper activity by providing them with the daily reminder and daily aid that they require. Cleansed and invigorated blood is sent circulating all over the system, carrying new vitality to every nerve and new vigour to every limb.—Advt.

tend for more than a foot on either side. Tim marked the spot with a big-gish stone he found at the roadside, and then returned to The Wilderness.

Back in the garage, he uncoiled the rope, measured and nipped off a length of six yards. At two feet from either end he worked the wire strands apart with forceps and a lever, and thrust the stakes between the strands. The effect of so rough-and-ready a method would be, of course, to weaken the strain, bue he had neither the time nor the mechanical skill for anything better.

Would it hold? Tim found it impossible to say. Certainly a heavy moving body, as a bicycle, coming into sudden contact with the contraption, would be likely to uproot it and carry it away. But would the impact be sufficient to unseat the rider first? It was a question of dynamics, of strains and resistances, and Tim had little enough practical knowledge of such objects.

On the whole, he thought the contrivance would work. But it would be better to have something in reserve in case of failure.

He decided to plant his car in the middle of the lane a dozen or 15 yards farther down. Then if Adams' bicycle were to snap clean through the wire or carry it away without a sudden check, the probability was he would crash into the back of the car. Not so good, this—it would connect Tim more directly with the accident, but it was better than failure. One of the two ways, in any case, Adams was unlikely to escape.

It was not yet 9, and there began for Tim a very bad period. He dared not set his trap much earlier than 10 o'clock, for until then there was no reasonable certainty of the lane being deserted, and it was, anyway, obviously safest to block the road for the smallest margin of time.

Yet the delay was almost intolerable. Suppose Adams decided to return earlier? His darts match was probably over long ago; if he had won might like to stay on, drinking and boasting, but if he had lost he would be likely to leave pretty quickly. He was not the stuff of which good sportsmen are made.

In any case, would not the prospect of handling what must to him seem a huge sum of money bring him away before time? Or might he not still be mistrustful, in spite of his precaution in abstracting the revolver? Might he not divine that Tim still had a shot in the locker, and thwart him by appearing before his time, before any trap could be laid?

The more Tim thought of it the less likely it appeared that Adams would appear on schedule; but he tried to control his imagination. He went into the house, into the living room, and tried to play solitaire, but he could not concentrate on the cards. His ears were on the alert for the familiar clatter of Adams' bicycle on the yard outside, and two false alarms brought his nerves close to breaking point.

PICKERING MURDER BRANDED ACT OF VENGEANCE

NO EVIDENCE TO HURT COMBA SAYS DEFENCE

All Circumstantial; Raps Police Part

PEMBROKE, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP).—Defence Counsel James Maloney began his address to the jury today as the trial of John Comba, Renfrew cripple, drew to a close. He was charged with the sex-murder of 13-year-old Ethel Hedderwick of Renfrew, August 3.

The evidence against Comba, Maloney said, was merely circumstantial and, in his judgment, insufficient to convict him. He asked if it were reasonable to believe that Comba, if he violated and killed the girl, would be the one to lead police to her body.

"I say it could not have been done by John Comba," Maloney continued. "What an unreasonable thing for him to do to find the body and lead the police to it... Is it possible that while she was picking sherries, a hobo or tramp who had been given a handout, went up the hill, saw the little girl and violated her? Is that not possible?"

"I suggest to you," Maloney continued, "the police officers in this case are convinced, as well as I am, that John Comba is innocent of this crime. But they had to make an arrest.

"I have never heard more contradictory evidence than that given by the police in this case. They came in here and, one after another, contradicted themselves. There are things done by the police in this case which will stand inspection."

The defence counsel was followed by Prosecutor T. M. J. Galligan. He reviewed the evidence, referring to Comba being seen near the scene of the crime by several people, including children.

THREE SAILORS DIE OF WOOD ALCOHOL

AMHERST, N.S., Nov. 25 (C.P.).—Thomas Andersen, 50-year-old seaman from the Norwegian freighter Blink, was in serious condition in hospital here to-day, as police prepared for an inquest into the death of three companions.

Medical authorities blamed poisoning from wood alcohol for the deaths yesterday of Leis Skaar, 35, Erling Marcinseri, 26, and Evear Marchinsen, 21. Marcinsen and Marchinsen died aboard the freighter at nearby Pugwash, while Skaar died in hospital here.

According to police, the four seamen purchased wood alcohol from a Pugwash drug store on Monday, telling the proprietor it was to be used to wash special machinery on the freighter. They bought a quart the first time and another quart later, intimating they would be back for more.

Dr. J. A. Langille of Pugwash said he was called to the freighter by Captain V. Laurelzon on Tuesday night, when he found the four men suffering great pain and almost blinded. He ordered Skaar and Andersen taken to hospital, but said the other two could not be moved.

"EXTRA" RACKET STARTS INQUIRY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25 (A.P.).—District Attorney Buron Fitts' "gang buster" squad questioned studio casting directors to-day in its widening investigation of reports racketeers are collecting thousands of dollars weekly from movie extras.

Investigator John Klein admitted he has information that various extras "clubs" have been formed under the purported control of racketeers.

The inquiry is an outgrowth of the slaying last week of Hymie Miller, "bit" player and former prize fight manager, which Klein indicated may have resulted from a war over the control of extra work.

Extra John Fisher, a friend of Miller, pleaded guilty to vagrancy yesterday and was given a suspended six-months sentence on condition he return to New York.

Walter (Good Time Charlie) Friedman, New York fight manager, arrested here last week, held in jail 60 hours and ordered to leave the city, said he intends to stay.

The District Attorney said Thomas E. Dewey's anti-racket drive in New York was responsible for an "influx of hoodlums here."

Search Asked For Boats Of Sinking Steamer

Freighter Last Seen Sinking Off Haiti With 17 On Board

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 25 (AP).—The British steamship Chagres broadcast an alarm today for all ships in the windward passage to watch for lifeboats or rafts from the sinking freighter Nollington Court.

"Ships in the vicinity of Tortuga Island and windward passage keep lookout for steamship Nollington Court boats or rafts with crew," said the message picked up by tropical radio here. "Ship last sighted in sinking condition drifting toward Tortuga Island (off the northwest coast of Haiti) with 17 of crew aboard."

The Chagres had taken off 18 other seamen last night from the British freighter which struck a submerged object Tuesday off Turks Island in the Bahamas, ripping a hole in her hull.

Port Hope Selects New Civic Slogan

Port Hope, Nov. 25

SELECTIVITY of the slogan "Where Canadian Radium Is Refined" has led judges to choose the clause from 200 entries as Port Hope's new civic slogan. Board of Trade felt forced to abandon the old slogan "The Prettiest town in Canada" because too many other towns had adopted a similar description for themselves.

MISSING YACHT MAKES SHELTER

HALIFAX, Nov. 25 (C.P.). — The 34-foot yacht Star Quest was heading toward Sheet Harbor to-day, after being missing nine days on a trip from Baddeck, N.S., to Halifax. The trip ordinarily takes three days.

Delayed by head winds, and buffeted almost continually by storms, the auxiliary-powered pleasure craft crep into Moser River, 70 miles from here, late last night. She was expected to reach Halifax late to-night or to-morrow. The yacht carried a crew of three—Captain Wilson, Phillip MacKenzie, and Ralph Pennealt, all of Baddeck.

Still being sought was the coal-carrying schooner Rose Lee, bound for Rose Blanche, Nfld., from North Sydney, N.S.

Robbed Train Passengers, Crew Turn Tables On Bandits

Capture Pair, One From Nova Scotia, After Yardman Is Fatally Wounded

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 25 (AP).—Two gunmen held up a Southern Pacific passenger train at Mt. Riley, N.M., today, fatally wounded a railroad yardman and then were overpowered by passengers and trainmen. Mt. Riley is 40 miles west of El Paso, Tex.

W. L. Smith, El Paso yardman, shot above the heart, died before the train entered Arizona.

Smith and K. C. Moon, a switchman, tried to halt the pair as they were leaving the train. Others pounced on the holdup men and turned them over to officers at Deming, N.M.

The prisoners gave their names as Harry Dwyer, 27, Digby County, N.S., and Henry Lorens, 22, Manitowoc, Wis.

The robbers boarded the train at El Paso. One went to the rear as the train neared Mt. Riley and forced Conductor W. H. Holloway to go to the front, where another gunman waited.

One of the bandits then returned to the rear of the train and began taking watches and purses from passengers.

Disease Plays Havoc In German Cattle

Berlin, Nov. 25. (CP-Havas)

TWO per cent of Germany's cows have been afflicted with foot and mouth disease, it was announced yesterday.

A total of 6,458 animals were reported infected up to Nov. 15.

Recently Paul Ravoux, head of the Berlin Bureau of Havas News Agency, was expelled from Germany on the grounds that his despatches about German affairs were "malicious." Specifically he was accused of reporting falsely that foot and mouth disease was prevalent among German cattle.

Radio Phony 'Betty Lou' Keeps Partner Busy Ditching Fan Child Advice

Hollywood, Nov. 25.

OUT in the hinterlands, folks just won't believe that Betty Lou, the honey-voiced child on Rudy Vallee's program, is phony.

They send in long letter of advice on her upbringing. Her other partner, Tommy Riggs, married but childless, gets invitations to all parent-teacher groups about child psychology.

Riggs is Betty Lou.

Nature gave him two voices. One is a resonant baritone; the other is so high-pitched, cute and cuddly it seems to belong to a gingham-dressed girl of 5 or 6.

Doctors say Riggs is an unusual phenomenon—a true bi-vocalist.

Police Hunt Woman Whom They Fear Is Also In Danger

Suspect More Than One Person Involved In Brutal Surprise Attack on Big Caretaker

PICKERING, Ont., Nov. 25—(CP)—Police today called the bestial killing of Michael Chevoluke "a clear act of vengeance" and sought a woman whose life they believed also endangered.

Chevoluke was killed, mutilated and almost decapitated early last night as he walked from Pickering to the cottage in a Jewish summer camp where he lived. He had visited Toronto, 15 miles west of the village, earlier in the day.

Police said they feared the Ukrainian's murderers may be seeking a woman victim next. If they locate the woman, whose name is known, she will be placed under guard.

One of the strongest men in the district, Chevoluke was apparently struck down by a man he did not see. There were no evidences of a struggle on the road where the body was found and the authorities believed more than one assailant overpowered the summer camp caretaker.

Coroner Dr. A. C. Pearson said after examining the body found in a ditch last night near this village 18 miles east of Toronto he believed the man was killed with either an axe or a sharp heavy knife.

Theory he was a victim of a hit-and-run motorist was discounted by the coroner who said the man's clothes were not covered with dirt or dust.

Police theorized he did not see his attacker and pointed to an evening paper in one pocket of his coat and a hand stuffed in the other.

Authorities were inclined to believe Chevoluke was attacked and killed near the village, where a pool of blood was found on the road, and the body carried in a car and dumped into the ditch a mile north where it was found.

Herbert White of Pickering discovered the body while driving along Church street. His car headlights picked out the figure lying half in the ditch and half on the shoulder of the road.

Camp Yngvelidt, of which Chevoluke was caretaker, is sponsored by a Toronto organization known as the workman's circle shool. Lectures were delivered and week-end political meetings held there.

Only Relatives In Ukraine

Members of the circle were at a bazaar at the Labor Eyceum in Toronto last night when word of Chevoluke's death was received.

Officials said Chevoluke was about 37 years old and had been in Can-

DETROIT SHOOTING KILLS EX-GUNMAN WOUNDS 4 OTHERS

DETROIT, Nov. 25 (A.P.). — Harry Millman, former purple gangster was shot and killed to-day in an uptown restaurant and bar which was invaded by gunmen. Four other men fell wounded as 20 or more shots were fired.

The wounded were identified by police as Abe Betensky, 42, a Detroit linoleum salesman; Harry Gross, 27, described as a Detroit hoodlum; Harry Zhulak, 24, a Toledo, Ohio, furrier, and Hymie Cooper, an employee of the restaurant.

Millman escaped death on August 26 when his automobile was blown to pieces on the parking lot of a downtown night club. Instead of getting the car himself he sent the club's negro doorman for it. The doorman was killed as a bomb exploded beneath the hood.

The police homicide squad predicted after the attempt to kill Millman that he would be slain in a short time by rival racketeers.

"The next time they will get him and they will use something better than a bomb," a detective said.

Pt. Hope Asks CNR Aid Flood Fight

PORT HOPE, Ont., Nov. 25 (C.P.). Board of Railway Commissioners on December 13 will hear argument as to whether it was jurisdiction in the application of the Town of Port Hope for an order to compel the Canadian National Railways to do certain flood control works on the Ganaraska River.

Announcement of this was made by Chairman Hugh Guthrie at the end of a brief session here to-day. R. E. Laidlaw, C.N.R. solicitor, raised the jurisdiction issue. The town seeks to compel the railway to construct a spillway in its embankment at the dam and to remove debris from the river, the town contending this has come from the railway.

Starving Chinese Storm Shanghai Rice Shops

City's Food Supply Enough Only For Three Days Is Guarded With Bayonets

SHANGHAI, Nov. 25 (AP).—Mobs of hungry Chinese stormed Shanghai rice shops today in an effort to buy or beg something to eat.

The Shanghai volunteers corps guarded docks with fixed bayonets when a British steamer unloaded a cargo of rice at the Bund. Other guards protected rice-laden trucks from attacks by starving refugees.

With the advent of cold weather, 2,000,000 Chinese refugees suffered acutely. They presented a tragic picture, roaming the streets by day and sleeping on pavements at night.

International settlement officials said political problems resulting from Japanese occupation of the city were minor compared with the task of furnishing food for Shanghai's swollen population.

On the front to the west, Chinese reinforcements moved forward to meet a threatened grand offensive aimed at Nanking, 100 miles away. Although the Japanese big push awaited final preparations, Japanese planes bombed troop concentrations along the Wusih-Kiangyin line. Japanese batteries bombarded scattered Chinese defence positions.

Thanksgiving Day In United States

Washington, Nov. 25.

THE United States laid aside its business, political and economic cares today and sent up prayers of Thanksgiving for the fruits of another years toil. Stores, offices, schools and factories were closed as millions sat down to steaming tables to observe the annual feast of the pilgrim fathers.

New Governor Visits House

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (C.P.). — Albert Matthews, who becomes Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario on December 1, paid his first visit to the Legislature Buildings in several years to-day. He visited Premier Hepburn's office and then accompanied by other ministers toured the buildings.

Mr. Matthews discovered for the first time the location of the Lieutenant-Governor's office with its unmarked door near the main entrance. He saw also the Speaker's Chambers where, with the closing of Government House, he will do his official entertaining.

Selling Jobs That Never Developed Brings Youth $250 Fine

Windsor, Nov. 25 (CP)

CONVICTED of selling jobs that never materialized, Lawrence Dupuis, 18, Windsor, was fined $250 and costs or one year in jail. His plea for time to pay the fine was denied by Magistrate W. A. Smith.

Evidence of Raymond Parent, and Sebastian Michalerk, Windsor, was that they paid Dupuis $10 and $15 respectively for which he promised to get them jobs in an automobile factory here. They contend Dupuis approached them with the offer while Dupuis' defence was that they asked him to try and get them jobs and gave him the money of their own free will.

Dupuis was convicted of a similar offence in city court last month and fined $10 and costs or 30 days in jail. He pleaded guilty at that time and made restitution to nine persons.

Cool Lone Gunman Robs Sudbury Bank Of $1,000

Teller Acts Fast on Threat "I'll Shoot to Kill"; Bandit Vanishes in Crowd—Suspect is Held

SUDBURY, Ont., Nov. 25—(CP)—Sudbury's first bank holdup was conducted quietly and efficiently today by a man who walked out of the downtown branch of the Bank Canadienne National with more than $1,000 after threatening the teller.

Wearing a mackinaw coat and bushmen's clothes, the armed robber passed a note into the teller's cage which read: "You are covered. Put the money on the counter." He pointed a revolver at the teller, Adrian Metiver, saying: "Give me the tens and twenties or I'll shoot to kill."

When Metiver handed over a bundle of bills, the robber stuffed them in his pockets, walked quickly from the bank and was lost in heavy traffic. It was believed he got into an automobile around the corner from the bank.

No Customers Around.

Manager George Tittley, out to lunch when the holdup took place, estimated the loss at from $1,000 to $1,500, all in $10 and $20 bills.

No customers were in the bank during the robbery, but A. Duval, accountant, was aware of the holdup and followed the robber to the street. He lost track of the fleeing man in the crowds.

Jim Zonick, nearby when the robbery occurred, gave police their first clue that two men may have been involved.

"I saw a man dash out of the bank with something that looked like a gun in his hand," Zonick said. "He turned down Elm Street and climbed into a car parked five or six car-lengths from the corner.

"There must have been another man in the car for it started right away from the curb."

Thirty minutes after the hold-up police picked up a man answering the description supplied by the bank staff and took him to the bank. Duval and Metiver were unable to identify him.

He then was taken to the police station and detained there. Police Chief D. Loudon refused to comment on the purpose of the detention.

DESTROY OLD PLATES

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—Police today asked purchasers of new Ontario automobile license plates to destroy the old plates and help thwart automobile thieves who have developed new methods in the last few weeks. Officers said thieves stole automobiles, removed the license plates and substituted others.

still usable legally, thrown away with garbage by car owners who already have bought the 1938 issue of Ontario plates. Numerous cars had been stolen in this way and used in holdups in eastern Ontario, they said.

2 MASTER MINDS OF FRENCH PLOT NABBED IN PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 25.—(CP-Havas). — Eugene Deloncle and General Edouard Duseigneur, alleged masterminds of the Cagoulard Secret Society were formally arrested to-day on charges of plotting to overthrow the French government.

Deloncle, a banker, described as the political and financial guiding brain of the secret hooded group, was taken into custody at the corner of the Rue Rivoli and the Place Theatre Francais.

General Duseigneur, rounded up yesterday for questioning, was formally indicted on charges of complicity in the undercover armed preparations of the Extreme Rightist Society. The former air ministry official was said to be the military chieftain of the organization.

The arrest of Deloncle came as a surprise in the sensational nation-wide investigation, since he was reported to have fled to Italy. His brother, Henri Deloncle, also is un-under arrest.

Think Plot Broken.

Police held the view that with these two men in their grasp they had "decapitated" the secret organization which allegedly planned to topple the government by armed force and establish a dictatorship in prepaartion for a restoration of the monarchy.

Following indications the Bourbon-Orleans family, whose scions claim the French throne, was linked with Cagoulard plottings, police raided and searched the ofices of the Courrier Royal, organ of the Duke of Guise, the French Pretender. The Duke, now in Belgium, early this week issued a manifesto urging a restoration of monarchial rule.

Draper Upholds Union Heads' Right To Enter Canada

Resents Call For License Plan —Says More Spent In Canada Than Sent Out In Dues

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (C.P.).—Denial of charges levelled against International Labor Unions by W. T. Burford at Toronto yesterday was voiced to-day by P. M. Draper, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Draper also declared union officials from the United States should have the same freedom to enter Canada to confer with labour men in Canada as representatives of capital and other organizations enjoyed in crossing the border.

He was commenting on a memorandum submitted to Premier Mitchell Hepburn by Burford, who is secretary of the Canadian Federation of Labor, and declared that organization was "not worth noticing" in so far as its membership and representative character was concerned.

The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, on the other hand, had chartered 1,800 labor organizations in Canada with a paid-up membership of about 175,000.

"To say that these organizations are 'foreign' controlled," he went on, "or tend to destroy the independence of their Canadian membership or that they resort to violence through strikes, chiselling, nuisance picketing, stench bombs, and dynamite as was charged in the memo. submitted is a deliberate, malicious and

TWO TYPHOID DEATHS

CROYDON, Eng., Nov. 25. —(CP. Cable.)—Two deaths and 15 new cases in Croydon's typhoid epidemic were reported to-day.

They brought the number of deaths to nine and the total cases to 195. Health officials declared the latest cases were less virulent than previous ones and believed the epidemic had been definitely checked.

$4,000,000 TYPHOON

MANILA, Nov. 25 (A.P.) — Government officials estimated to-day damage in last week's typhoon at $4,000,000. The storm killed 247 persons, wiped out many uncut groves.

Holy War Against Great Britain Is Cry Of Tokyo Nationalist Paper

TOKYO, Nov. 25. (CP Havas))

THE Kokumin Shimbun, nationalist paper, to-day demanded a "holy war" against Great Britain.

"The Sino - Japanese conflict must end in the crushing of British influence not only in China but in all Asia," the paper said.

The Asahai Shimbun wrote: "We are following the example of Italy which annexed Ethiopia. We are imitating the courage of the fascists. Japanese blood that is flowing thickly is giving us rights which no one will dispute."

A declaration of war against China was again recommended by the Hochi in order to facilitate establishment of an effective blockage, especially of the South China coast, including Hong Kong.

TWO YOUTHS ARE CHARACTERIZED AS GANGSTERS

One Gets Year for Assault Other, One Month

Two local youths who were dealt with this morning on charges of assault, were characterized by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K. C., as "juvenile gangsters".

They were Cyril Huard, 19, who received a year in Ontario Reformatory with an indeterminate sentence of three months on charges of "assault with intent to rob" and "aggravated assault"; and Joseph Fontaine, 16, who was given one month in the county gaol on pleading guilty to a charge of "aggravated assault".

Speaking to the first of the two charges against Huard, Chief Constable Samuel Newhall said that on June 20, 1936 Edgar Puttick left his store late at night with a large sum of money and was garaging his car at his Gilmour street residence, when he was attacked by two men. One of them jumped on Puttick's back and the other struck him over the head with a billy made from a piece of hose pipe loaded with sand.

The Pair Fled

The Chief added Mr. Puttick was strong enough to resist his assailants, but the pair ran away. "Huard would not reveal the name of his accomplice. But we know him. He is at present serving a year on another offence", he stated.

Circumstances connected with the other charge of assault involving both Huard and Fontaine were outlined by the complainant Hugh Imming, 346 Antrim street.

Imming declared that on a recent evening he was in a Charlotte street pool room and met Huard there. Subsequently while walking with Huard witness said, they met Fontaine at George and Charlotte streets. Fontaine called Huard aside and there was a whispered conversation.

When on King street, Imming related he left the company of Huard and Fontaine and started to walk through Dinsdale's woodyard. "Huard and Fontaine followed me and Fontain said, "I'm going to get rid of a rat. I'm going to clean up the town of rats. I'll get rid of one tonight".

Witness related he was then attacked by both the accused and was thrown into the creek. He got out of

2 BUSH CHILDREN SAID BEYOND CURE

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (C.P.). — A Tomiko Lake settler's two crippled children, brought to hospital here for treatment, were said to-day to be suffering from hypertrophy of the muscles, an incurable disease.

The two, Mike Peterson, 17, and his sister Annie, 10, had received no medical attention until a hunting party led by David Loukideles of North Bay became interested in their plight after hunting in the Tomiko Lake area, in the North Bay district.

Cause of hypertrophy of the muscles was unknown, according to Dr. W. W. Barraclough, but it is not believed to be a hereditary disease. Muscles of victims are said to waste away and be replaced by scar tissue.

While the disease is incurable, it is not believed to cause death. Patients have lived a normal length of time while suffering the disease.

Doctors here said the two patients were definitely not suffering spinal meningitis as it was at first believed.

CROLL LIKES 13

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP)—The superstition that 13 is an unlucky number is not held by David Croll, former Ontario Minister of Welfare, and Liberal member for Windsor-Walkerville. He may be given the 13th chair in the legislature. He says he does not mind where he sits, so long as it is on the Liberal side.

CHILD IS SCALDED

STREETSVILLE, Ont., Nov. 25. — (CP). — Lenore Evans, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Evans, Streetsville, died in hospital today from scalds received yesterday when she fell into a tub of boiling water while her mother was out of the room.

COUNTY REEVES WILL BANQUET JUDGING TEAMS

Ratepayers Pleased With Westwood Bridge

The Peterborough boys' judging team that competed at the Ottawa and Royal Winter Fairs will be guests of the county council at a dinner this week to which the city council will be invited.

Reeves Milby and Gifford and Deputy-reeve Harry Reid were appointed a committee Wednesday afternoon to arrange the details. Although the two teams of young men were not so successful as the Runtons-coached boys who swept the same fields in 1935 and 1936, members of the council expressed the opinion that they should be encouraged in their special work and that their comparatively high success should be recognized.

At the same time the council desired to return the hospitality they had received from the city, and to that end they are sending invitations to Mayor Macdonald and the members of the aldermanic board.

Gets Salary Increase.

The council recognized the industry of James Brownlee, caretaker of the court house, by increasing his salary from $800 to $900 a year. Prior to his engagement the preceding caretaker was paid $1,000 with residence, fuel and light, but it was reduced during the depression.

Reeve Milby of North Monaghan, proposed that Mr. Brownlee's service merited an increase of at least ten per cent. and Reeve Tanner, who seconded the motion suggested that Mr. Brownlee be paid the even $900. Opinion of the council was that Mr. Brownlee is one of the most efficient caretakers the county has ever employed at the court house.

Ratepayer's Compliment.

George Renwick of Asphodel, was a visitor at the opening session Tuesday afternoon, but he arrived just as the council adjourned to enable some of the members to attend a meeting of the Children's Aid Society. His message was conveyed to the council yesterday through Warden Roy Brown. Mr. Renwick wished to call attention to the new bridge built this year at Westwood under the supervision of A. E. Chalmers, county engineer. This bridge is 52 feet long and 30 feet wide, including a walk for pedestrians on each side, and it cost $2,500. He contrasted this expenditure with the cost of Welbeck's bridge, a mile south of Westwood, constructed in 1921 at a cost of $5,400. It is of the same length, 52 feet, but is only 21 feet wide.

Mr. Renwick also spoke of the commendable work done in reducing the grade and widening the county road at Crocker's Hill, about half a mile north of the three churches at the corner west of Westwood.

Assessment Appeal.

Reeve Tanner and Reeve Mullen of Smith assented to the deferring of their claim for readjustment of the equalized assessment of their municipality until next year, probably at the June sessions of the council. Sale of power properties by the Canada Cement Company to the Hydro Electric Commission had resulted in a corresponding reduction in assessment which the two reeves said should be carried into the equalized assessment on which the county tax rate is levied.

E. A. Peck, K.C. county solicitor, declared that there was no provision for appeal against the equalized assessment within twenty days after it had been determined. That period having lapsed nearly a year ago there was no other present redress. The council, if it desired, might petition the Ontario government for a general amendment of the Municipal Act to admit the Lakefield-Smith claim.

The present assessment is effective for the 1938 taxation, and in the routine course the question of assessment equalization does not come up again until next June.

Reeve Gifford of Eninsmore, said he did not consider the present session the proper time to bring up the question.

Reeve Milby's comment was that he agreed with the basis of the claim for reconsideration of assessment but the council should be supplied with correct figures by both municipalities, and that the Department of Municipal Affairs should be consulted in regard to any contemplated action being within the law.

Reeve Tanner moved, seconded by Deputy-reeve Armstrong of Smith, that the equalized assessment be reduced $200,000 if that step was legal. "If it is not legal at least we will have an expression in regard to the fairness of our appeal, and let it drop there."

Discussion hedged around the point brought up by the two municipalities, and at length there was no alternative for Reeves Tanner and Mullen, and Deputy-reeve Armstrong but to retreat for the time being and hope for more favorable auspices next June.

Two Rosebuds Brave Winter To Bloom

Midland, Nov. 25.

ROSES are blooming again — maybe not all over—but Mrs. Roy Fenton, 352 Mildred street, Midland, donned her goloshes and plucked two rose buds that were peeping above the snow in her garden. Opening in the warmth of the house, they were just as beautiful as though they had been picked in the heartof the season, Mrs. Fenton said, and carried as delicate a perfume.

ada about 10 years. They said he worked practically all that time in camp activities. He was unmarried, they said, and his only relatives were in the Ukraine.

Friends recalled trouble between Chevoluke and a man, said to be a Russian, living in the Pickering-Oshawa farm belt. It was reported that Provincial Police were investigating information that the slain man supplied evidence that led to an arrest a short time ago.

Last September Camp Yungvelldt was looted of electric light bulbs and other articles. At that time, Chevoluke's friends said, the dead man said he thought he knew the man responsible. Since then he had reported to his friends that a Russian farmer had been "making trouble" for him.

Wednesday morning Chevoluke drove in a motor truck to Toronto for a supply of wood and returned in the afternoon. He boarded with Mr. and Mrs. Ole Christensen near the camp, Christensen being the caretaker of an adjoining summer camp.

Mr. Christensen last saw his boarder when Chevoluke left for the village for his mail and evening newspaper. Supper was held waiting his return for two hours until a neighbor came with the news he had been found dead.

No Open Enemies.

A six-footer, Chevoluke, although rather secretive, was described as being well liked and having no open enemies. He spent little time in Toronto, but kept close to the camp in which he was known as "a moving spirit," according to friends.

A teacher at the Workman's Circle School, a close friend of Chevoluke, commenting on the mutilation-slaying, said he was sure there was no "domestic triangle" situation involved. Other friends said there were no women in his life and the teacher added: "He wasn't the kind. I don't think he paid any attention to girls."

canals to the interior damaged by repeated bombardment, and 1,500 square miles of rich Kiangsu Province occupied by Japanese, only scanty food supplies trickled into the city of more than 3,000,000.

Municipal officials taking stock of the situation found but three days' food on hand. Prices of staples mounted rapidly. Chinese farmers in Japanese-occupied areas were unable to bring their products to market. Acres of fertile land surrounding Shanghai had been abandoned or war-damaged to such an extent that cultivation was impossible.

The municipal council prevailed upon Japanese to release a boatload of rice which had been consigned to Chinese in the city.

Franklin Covert Dies In Montreal

MONTREAL, Nov. 25—(CP). — Franklin A. Covert, 58, Montreal representative of a Toronto advertising agency and a native of Warkworth, Ont., died yesterday. He will be buried Thursday in Kingston, Ont.

Mrs. John Wood of Warkworth is a sister.

Toronto Wants Two Specialists Named To Aid Polio Victims

M.O.H. Stresses Proper After-Care Is Vital, Much Of It Being Done At Home

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—(CP).—Appointment of two physiotherapists to assist in the ultimate recovery of infantile paralysis victims still suffering from some degree of paralysis, was recommended yesterday to the city council by the Board of Control. Scores were attacked in the epidemic here this fall and summer.

Dr. Gordon Jackson, Medical Officer of Health, advised the Board that proper after-care was vital in the ultimate recovery of more seriously stricken polio victims. As hospital accommodation is limited and expensive, the majority of cases have to be cared for in their own homes.

"The Provincial Government in providing hospitalization and the necessary splinting, gave as well a minimum of instruction to parents in the removal and re-application of splints, and in the rudiments of massage and exercise," said Dr Jackson. It was not to be expected, however, that the parents would absorb this knowledge to the point where they could employ it to the best advantage and with most benefit to the sufferers, the doctor added.

YOUTH RALLY DAY TO SWEEP ONTARIO

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP)—Rallies of Ontario youth will be held in various provincial centres Sunday in an attempt to increase interest in the Dominion-provincial training program.

"More than 1,000 young people are receiving assistance under the program," J. F. Marsh, Deputy Labor Minister of Ontario said today in discussing the program. "These figures include the number who have received assistance up to Nov. 16 and there are a number of placements, including one group of 50, which will go through in the very near future."

Prominent public men will address the Sunday rallies. Retiring Lieut. Governor Bruce of Ontario will address a Hamilton rally.

Rallies at Kingston, Niagara Falls and St. Catharines will be addressed by Federal Labor Minister Norman Rogers, Deputy Labor Minister Marsh of Ontario, and Dr. C. Sinclair, respectively.

Within a few days of youth rally Sunday, other meetings will be held at Prescott, Napanee, Chatham, Kitchener, Peterborough, Oshawa, Orillia, North Bay, Fort William and Ottawa.

Shortage of skilled labor in Ontario would continue indefinitely unless manufacturers as a whole assured themselves of an adequate supply of skilled men through the apprenticeship system, according to Mr. Marsh.

CAMPBELLFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Prior and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hammell, Booth Street, visited friends in Belleville on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Horkins of Toronto were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Horkins, Bridge Street.

LILY LAKE

Among those from this district who attended the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto were: Mr. and Mrs. William Steinkraus, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steinkraus, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ferguson and Barbara, also Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McManus.

Mrs. Stan. Blewett and daughter, June, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. S. Wood, who is ill at her home at Ayr, Ont.

Mr. Ferdinald Rowland and Miss Dorothy Rowland motored to London during the weekend to visit Mr. Lemuel Pamment.

Donald Wilson is progressing favorably following his operation in Nicholls Hospital, and expects to return to his home this week.

SHOT BY RIVAL

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Nov. 25. —(AP).—Leo Lincourt, 22, was shot and killed early to-day as he escorted Mrs. Matilda Berthiaume, 33, home after a dance.

Police Captain John Flaherty identified the slayer as a young North Adams man infatuated with Mrs. Berthiaume. He was taken into custody, Flaherty said, but no charge was placed immediately.

Robin Hood Jailed

Police of Los Angeles, Calif., invaded "Sherwood Forest" to arrest Johnnie Fisher (ABOVE), playing the part of "Robin Hood" in a motion picture production. Fisher, romping through wooded glens before a moving camera, was in a "Robin Hood" costume when arrested as a material witness in a murder case. Taken to the hall of justice, police declare he admitted having once served a term in Trenton, N.J., for a gun violation.

HITLER NOT ACTING MINUS ITALIAN AID HE ASSURES DUCE

PARIS, Nov. 25 (C.P.-Havas). — Genevieve Tabouis, foreign affairs writer in L'Oeuvre, Radical-Socialist (Moderate Left) organ, said to-day that while French and British statesmen are preparing to discuss the Hitler-Halifax interview, Chancellor Hitler has sent Premier Mussolini of Italy a three-point message on the same subject.

Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos told the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Deputies last night that the trip he will make to London next week with Premier Chautemps is not a "counter-balance" to the visit to Germany of Viscount Halifax, Lord President of the Council.

Instead, he said, it is a "normal and natural" diplomatic complement to that event.

Mme. Tabouis outlined the reported German message to Italy as follows:

1—Hitler told Mussolini that he was not entirely satisfied with the Halifax visit because he had a feeling that the Franco-British alliance was deep and strong.

2—Hitler assured Il Duce that in any case nothing would be done in any field without Italy.

3—Steps were to be studied by Germany and Italy to prepare to meet at once any economic pressure which Great Britain, France, and the United States might some day come to bring to bear on the two countries.

slanderous libel on these organizations which have been in existence in Canada for over a half-century.

"They have always pursued a lawful and peaceful attitude in the operation of their business.

Wants Equal Rights

"Union labor officials from the United States should have the same freedom to enter Canada under the immigration act to confer with their organized brother workers as representatives of capital and other organizations are now entitled to do.

"I trust that the federal government will pay no heed to representation coming from any quarter to amend the act having for its purpose the exclusion from Canada of international labor officials.

"The Canadian membership of the international trade union movement receives more money in payments of old age pensions, sick, mortuary and other benefits than they remit to their international headquarters in the United States.

"The international labor movement in Canada has helped Canadian workers to bargain collectively for shorter hours, increased wages and more humane conditions of living and is responsible for all the laws now on our federal and provincial statute books which protect labor.

"Finally, it represents bona fide labor unions who pay their way and support their members when in need and does not have to resort to organized scabbery or pursue a policy of seeking to divide and create strife between Canadian and United States workers to induce workers to join its ranks."

the creek on the opposite bank and ran through a hotel yard and up to the corner of George and Hunter streets. Huard and Fontaine followed him.

Imming further declared, "On Saturday last Fontaine threatened me that if he got ten days for the assault he would do two years for throwing me off Hunter street bridge."

Rough-neck Stuff

Addressing Fontaine, the magistrate observed, "This assault I suspect is different from the usual assault. I am satisfied you were trying to intimidate this boy. Rough-neck stuff is to be discouraged. You will be sentenced to one months' imprisonment."

"What did you ask me in Wally McIlymoyle's," he demanded with reference to the poolroom incident.

"Nothing," Imming replied.

"What did you ask me about J. K. Hughes?" Huard persisted.

"Nothing. Not at that time."

"What was the conversation in the pool room?"

"You asked me to lend you a quarter."

"And what else?" the accused pressed. "Are you sure you did not ask me something about J. K. Hughes?"

"No. That happened some time ago, and I would not go in on it," Imming replied.

Addressing the Bench, Huard alleged, "Imming asked me to crack J. K. Hughes. I told him I would not do it. That I was going straight."

"That is no excuse for this assault," the magistrate interposed.

"Under the circumstances I felt that it was. I felt he was ratting and was trying to frame me," Huard declared.

Asked by the accused for his interpretation of the term "ratting," Huard said he believed Imming was a person who had been taking two sides for the purpose of trying to frame him.

His Worship said he would need an encyclopedia to get a proper interpretation of the term, and then passing sentence he told Huard, "Evidently you have made up your mind to be a juvenile gangster. That is what both of you appear to have done. But all I can say is that the only thing I see in your favor is your youth." Referring to the fact that one of the offences for which he was being sentenced dated back to June of 1936, His Worship stated, "Perhaps this will remind you that the law has not only a long arm and a strong one, but a strong memory also."

POISON EPIDEMIC KILLS 13 'PEG DOGS

WINNIPEG, Nov. 26 (CP)—Winnipeg dog lovers today joined police in efforts to trace source of poison which has killed 13 valuable animals in the last two weeks. Police expressed the belief a person with a warped mind is responsible for the poisonings.

With few exceptions the dogs have died in the Fort Rouge suburbs of the city. Poisoned meat and bones have claimed their lives, investigation showed.

Ralph S. Misener's fox terrier was a victim of a poisoned bone snatched while on the leash accompanying a maid and Misener's two-year-old daughter.

Miss Sally Warnock, secretary of the Humane Society, urged dog owners to keep pets indoors. She said she understood the poison was coming from outside the city as the type police believe used is purchased by farmers to kill gophers.

POLIO VICTIM IS RUSHED BY SPECIAL

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (AP).—James Helmer, 23 - year - old infantile paralysis victim, rested comfortably in an "iron lung" today after a special train brought him here from Stevens Point, Wis., over 240 miles of cleared tracks.

He was placed in a respirator only a few minutes after the special Soo line train arrived. His father, Dr. P. A. Helmer, a Kewanee, Ill., dentist, had an ambulance waiting at the station. Helmer, who was graduated from Marquette University at Milwaukee, Wis., and served as student manager of the football team there in 1936, was stricken yesterday.

Other trains were taken off the route to allow the special's passage.

RAILWAY BOMBED

HONGKONG, Nov. 25.— (AP).— Six Japanese planes bombarded the Canton-Kowloon railway to-day in an attempt to destroy four bridges.

Chinese said a passenger train was struck by a bomb with heavy civilian loss of life in the Japanese attack yesterday on Canton Changsha, Hunan province city.

MOUNT JULIEN

Miss Florence Tedford of Lakefield spent the week-end visiting friends in this district.

Mrs. C. Cooper of Warsaw was called here by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Ephriam Bronson.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Bearish reports of Argentine crop conditions and weakness at Liverpool induced general selling on Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day to send all grain futures skidding. New seasonal lows were established in a few positions with wheat futures closing 3¾ to 2¾ lower; November at $1.09¼; December, $1.07¾; May, 1.07⅛, and July $1.03¼.

Prices eased from the start, dropping nearly three cents in the first hour on sales by locals, eastern and seaboard firms, though trading was light in view of the United States holiday. November and December dropped more than four cents near the close.

Little support was offered. Export sales of Canadian wheat were confined to odd lots. Cash prices dipped sharply due to heavier offerings and lull in demand.

November wheat and all the flax futures established new low levels for the year.

WAR DEBT STORY SAID SPECULATION

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP-Havas). — The treasury circles today denied reports a settlement involving resumption of payments on the British war debt to the United States will be reached soon.

They said no negotiations are now being held, and qualified as "speculation" a story in which the Daily Express (Independent) outlined an agreement which it said would be announced next year.

At the same time, financial circles did not exclude the possibility that the war debt problem would be discussed while negotiations are being held for an Anglo-American trade pact.

The Daily Express said settlement of the debt question will follow the conclusion, early next year, of an Anglo-American trade pact.

The newspaper said the United States will insist upon complete payment of the $4,600,000,000 total set for the debt in 1922, but will agree that the £415,000,000 paid by Great Britain from 1923 to 1934 shall count as capital payments.

The remainder, £505,000,000, will be paid in 50 annual instalments of £10,000,000 each, the Daily Express declared. According to the article, this plan was first formulated last July.

MONTAGUE ABOUT TO TRY MARRIAGE

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Nov. 25 (AP).—Mysterious John Montague, who veiled his past in strict secrecy until revealed as Laverne Moore of New York, turned up with a mysterious bride-to-be today—then disappeared.

Friends announced the mighty golfer plans to wed Mrs. Esther Plunkett, described as a wealthy Beverly Hills social figure. It may be a Thanksgiving wedding. And it may be in Southern California or Las Vegas, N.M., or Yuma, Ariz.—which wasn't much help to the curious.

This much is certain—the ceremony will be soon, probably this weekend, said Montague's friends, who vouched the engagement is authentic.

Collegiate Pupils Strapped By Principal In Leamington

Three Students Are Said To Have Received More Than 126 Blows

LEAMINGTON, Nov. 25. —This Essex County town hummed with talk to-day about treatment of students by the new principal of Leamington High School, A. C. Ritter. It was alleged that for disturbing an assembly meeting yesterday three boys received more than 126 blows on the hand with a heavy strap and that before the offenders were discovered, eighty boys were kept standing at attention for nearly three hours.

According to pupils, Principal Ritter asked boys responsible for a commotion to identify themselves. When this was not done, girls of all classes and first-form boys were dismissed to their classes and approximately eighty boys of remaining forms stayed in assembly. Pupils said they were kept standing from shortly after 9 o'clock to nearly noon. Finally the offenders confessed and were taken by Mr. Ritter into a school hall. The three were: Benson Wigle, 13; Robert Large, 17, Leamington, and James Stanley, 16, Mersea township.

Large was asked if he would prefer suspension from school or the strap. He chose the latter, but changed his mind after thirty blows were rained on one hand. Mr. Ritter continued the strapping, however, with thirteen blows on the boy's other hand, it was alleged.

Stanley and Benson were given no option and were strapped, it was learned, with Stanley receiving approximately fifty-three strokes and Wigle, thirty.

"Necessary," Says Teacher.

Admitting he had ordered approximately eighty boys to stand at attention for nearly three hours and had strapped three of them an undetermined number of times, Mr. Ritter contends such disciplinary measures are absolutely necessary and warranted. He termed complaints that have arisen as "merely a tempest in a teapot."

"On the whole, conduct of the pupils is good," he said. "But there are three or four disturbers who require disciplining, that is all."

A report one of the pupils had fallen while standing at attention was denied by Mr. Ritter.

"He did not fall; he sat down," he said.

He branded as ridiculous a claim that while the boy remained prostrate, Robert Nicholson, a teacher, attempted to go to his side, but was told not to interfere by the principal.

"I have tried to reason with the boys on a number of occasions, but to no purpose; therefore it was necessary to adopt other methods," Mr. Ritter said.

"As for the trouble-makers, I may say that some of them have been making it a practice to cause trouble in the morning assembly exercises. Four or five of them purposely prayed out of time during the Lord's prayer. I would like to know how order is going to be kept if disciplinary measures are not adopted now and then."

School Board members said no meeting had been planned to discuss the situation.

PRIZES ARE GIVEN AT SCHOOL PARTY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 25. — The annual school party in honor of the junior members of the Campbellford High School was held in the school auditorium on Friday evening last with a large number of the students particularly those from the lower forms present. Those winning prizes were: Miss Jean Tubbs, girls' birthday dance; Bob Curle, boys' birthday dance; girls' spot dance, Monica DeCarroll; boys' spot dance, Ross Richardson. Arnold Bates and George Frederick supplied the dance music and the evening was an enjoyable one for all who attended.

Wooler Visitors.

The Young People of the United Church, Wooler, were visitors on Monday of St. John's Young People's Union on Monday evening, when a very interesting program was presented by the visitors under the direction of Howard Orvis. The meeting opened with the reading from the Scriptures by Miss Evelyn Stotts, after which a reading, "The White Fire," was given by the president, Miss Ruth Palliser. When the president had extended a welcome to the visitors she then called on Howard Orvis who took the chair for the balance of th program which included a musical quartette by the Misses Austin, Mr. Austin, and Miss Steinburg. Arthur Darling gave the topic which was followed by a reading, "The Silent Stenographer," by Mrs. Rogers. Miss Edith Austin contributed a vocal solo and Miss Lois Sharpe gave a reading entitled "The Lost Chime." A vocal solo by Douglas Steinburg brought the program to a close. Before lunch was served by the hosts Donald Holmes conducted several interesting games after which the meeting was brought to a close with the National Anthem.

TWEEDSMUIR RAPS LEFT-WING POETRY

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (C.P.). — Lord Tweedsmuir feels a good deal of sympathy with the view of "our younger school of poets" who say the present age is one of mechanics and social unrest. In his opinion, great poetry cannot be deaf to the "still, and music of humanity."

But Canada's Governor-General is not prepared to accept without question the offerings of the younger, present-day poets "who crowd their verse with technological phrases." He said in a Canadian poetry night address last night that "what is proudly called 'left-wing poetry' should often, to my mind, be properly described as 'half-baked poetry.'"

Lord Tweedsmuir noted a present-day tendency "to forget about the masters or treat them disrespectfully," partially due, he believed, to "the impatience, the natural impatience, of our somewhat disintegrated youth." He said there now are an "inordinate number" of clever writers, but "there is a remarkable and admitted dearth of great ones."

The Governor-General presented his annual literary awards personally for the first time last night. Among them was the posthumous award to T. B. Roberton—"T.B.R." in the Winnipeg Free Press—of the medal for general literary achievement for his newspaper writing.

Six Canadian poets gave readings from their work during Poetry Night, sponsored by the Canadian Poetry Magazine. They were Katherine Hale, Sir Charles G. D. Roberts, Wilson MacDonald, E. J. Pratt, Prof. George H. Clarke, and Nathaniel Benson. The Seranus Prize for poetry was presented to Prof. Clarke by Lady Tweedsmuir.

MILLBROOK

Mrs. Harold Bigelow and her daughter Miss Eleanor were hostesses for a most enjoyable party on Thursday evening at their apartments, Waverley Building, when they entertained in honor of a bride-to-be of next week, Miss Sadie Rowland, whose marriage to Howard Brackenridge of Bailleboro takes place in St. Andrew's United Church on Wednesday, November 24, at 2.30 p.m.

The event was a complete surprise to the guest of honor, a kitchen shower being the form chosen for presenting the gifts, and when the bride-to-be had been seated in a large chair facing the company Bobby and Kathryn Bigelow, the little son and daughter of the home, drew in a wagon attractively trimmed in pink and white, and piled high with daintily-tied parcels, while the wedding march was played by Esther Might.

Coming to a stop in front of Miss Rowland's chair, the little "horses" left their load, and the guest of honor had the pleasant task of unwrapping the gifts, which included nests of bowls, aluminware, graniteware in cream and green, tea towels, dish cloths, practically everything that would be needed in a well-furnished kitchen. Previous to the untying of the parcels, the wedding atmosphere was emphasized as Miss Eleanor Bigelow emptied a package of confetti on the bride's head, and when she had voiced her thanks for the shower, all joined in singing "For she's a jolly good fellow."

Simple Home Treatment For Varicose Veins

Swollen veins may become dangerous and sometimes break. Sufferers should get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at McDermid & Jury or any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once. A small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush or the finger tips as directed until the swelling is reduced.

So effective is Emerald Oil that it is highly useful in reducing troublesome simple swellings due to strain and hastens their disappearance.

URGING BASIS OF STANDARDS COVER NATION

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—Since the Privy Council threw out the Bennett government's unemployment insurance and wages-and-hours bills, social legislation in Canada has been in a virtual impasse.

The Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial relations, which begins work at Winnipeg next Monday, will try to solve this Gordian knot. It will try to work out a new balance of obligations and taxing powers between the governments.

After years of doubt as to where jurisdiction to enact social legislation lay, the Privy Council's decision left the provinces definitely with that legal power. The joker was that the provinces, with their limited revenue sources, lack the financial power.

Then there is the equally vital question of whether provincial schemes for social measures would be workable. Economists and sociologists generally feel that if social insurance and labor standards are not established on a national basis, it would be difficult to make them effective at all.

Would Amend B.N.A. Act

Just recently the Dominion government, refusing to permit a deadlock on social legislation to continue until the commission made its recommendations, took the first step towards establishment of a national unemployment insurance scheme. It asked the provinces to yield their jurisdiction in that specific matter and to consent to an appropriate amendment to the British North America Act.

To operate such a scheme involves collection of weekly premiums from workers and industry. The Supreme Court of Canada and the Privy Council hold that this comes within "civil and property rights," which belong to the provinces. The Dominion thus lacks power to compel compliance. Hon. C. H. Cahan, who knew some of the Fathers of Confederation, claims they intended a broader interpretation of their words.

While the provinces have legal authority over such matters, there is little incentive for any province to set up its own unemployment insurance, health insurance or uniform wages and hour of labor. Even if the funds were available in provincial treasures, the economic consequences might prove undesirable. A variety of problems would be immediately raised.

For instance, there is the comparative mobility of Canada's working population. Economists say it is desirable to maintain a fairly free movement since industries shift seasonally and, with advances in technology, some industries wane while others spring up elsewhere. Miners, woodsmen, farm workers, fishermen, may want to move from one province to another.

If a worker pays for years into an unemployment scheme in one province and then gets a chance to improve his position elsewhere, the question arises of what happens to the benefits he has earned.

As To Immigration

If only one or two provinces had such a scheme, they might attract workers from the rest of the country. The courts would probably be called on to decide whether a province could set up a kind of immigration barrier to stop that flow.

Industries operating in a province having unemployment insurance, which entails a substantial contribution by industry, or wages-and-hours laws, which also affect costs, might find it difficult to compete with industries in other provinces. They might even move into those provinces where costs were lower.

While exactly the same scheme might not be necessary in every province, administrative experts agree the fundamentals would have to be similar. Some central co-ordination would be as essential as support from the federal treasury.

Second Elopement With British Title Pulled By Former Cincinnati Heiress

LONDON, Nov. 25. — Another runaway marriage by the Duchess of Manchester, who was Helena Zimmerman of Cincinnati and heiress to $10,000,000 before she eloped thirty-seven years ago after a costume ball, was revealed last night.

The daughter of the late Eugene Zimmerman, who was director of many railroads before his death in 1915, slipped away quietly yesterday to Edinburgh and married the 11th Earl of Kintore, a fifty-eight-year-old bachelor.

The couple returned to London for a small reception and are en route to Southern France on their honeymoon.

The Duchess' marriage to the Duke of Manchester was dissolved in 1931 after their marital troubles had been bandied about in the newspapers for twenty-three years while first the noble, but impoverished peer and then his wealthy wife sought separation or divorce.

She finally obtained the divorce on the ground of misconduct.

The Duke had variously been reported engaged to Ethel Barrymore, Edna May, singer, Miss May Goelet, American society girl, and others before he met the Cincinnati heiress at a Paris costume ball in 1900.

They left the party, returned to London, and announced one afternoon that they were going "for a walk." They returned married.

The Earl of Kintore, Arthur George Keith-Falconer, is a captain of the Scots Guards, a lieutenant of the Cameron Highlanders, and has a feudal estate, Keith Hall, in Inverurie, Scotland, and a Mayfair home in London.

Had Many Boils On His Neck and Body

While the skin seems to be the cause of the irritating and painful boils the real trouble is rooted in the blood, and when you think you are rid of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your agony.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do does not, as a rule, get rid of them. What is most essential is to give the blood a thorough cleansing.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized by Burdock Blood Bitters the boils disappear, your misery is at an end, your health and strength renewed, and the skin clean and smooth.

MR. ALFRED A. FERRIER, Falkenburg, Ont., writes:—"Several years ago I suffered greatly from numerous boils on my neck and body, and had three blind ones on my knee.

Our druggist advised me to take Burdock Blood Bitters, so I took two bottles, and in a short time I was completely rid of the boils."

Can Blast This Family

Canadian Immigration officials have a case to deal with at Vancouver and they are stumped, puzzled, worried, and all such. No wonder. The laws and regulation of several nations have united to make a puzzle picture the pieces of which are not readily placed together. This way:

An East Indian entered United States illegally, and there married a Mexican woman who had also entered the country illegally. To them a son was born.

After which all three entered Canada illegally. And now comes the riddle.

The father can be deported to India, but India will not receive his wife or son.

The son could claim American citizenship by right of birth, but the United States will not admit his father or mother.

Mexico would not refuse to admit the mother, but will have no place for her son or husband. And the family does not want to be broken up. If the breaking up process were carried into effect the father would be in India, the mother in Mexico and the son in United States.

When the world was created in the first place there was nothing to mark off India, Mexico, United States or Canada. People who came into the world and organized themselves into groups or clans have been attending to the international fence building for many centuries, and they have also been engaged in the making of rules and regulations telling who should or should not pass from here to there and from hither to thither. They have made so complete a job of it that this troubled little group of people gathered together in a proper family unit at Vancouver at the moment are in danger of being blasted into corners of the world so far separated that the word family could not well be applied to them.

Seems A Bit Silly

We do not like to believe it, but evidence seems to thrust itself to the front showing that the world is going crazy. Today there is a story coming from Washington, D.C., and it was considered good enough to get itself on so well-regulated an affair as the Canadian Press run of news for the day. And it told of a number of persons having met together to form an Association for the Abolition of Round Fish Bowls. The organization was recently founded in Wellesley, Mass.

We learn it is cruel and not at all proper to have gold fish swimming about in even a large round bowl. We read too where one of the prime movers made the claim: "Psychologists have pointed out that the round bowls distort a small harmless fish into a ferocious denizen of the deep, producing a bad effect on children who look at it."

Before we get too deeply caught up and do too much weeping and wailing regarding the bowls in which gold fish live we might do well to recall that there are a good many human beings who are living in places which are not at all right. Might also keep in mind that we have plenty of men, women and children in our Dominion to whom the problem of existence is tough and hard. We can think of a number of worthy projects to which we can attend before taking collective action to improve the living conditions of gold fish.

Not Likely To Happen

E. R. Bowen, secretary of the Co-Operative League of United States, was one of the speakers at the annual meeting of the United Farmers of Ontario, and he had something very definite to propose. Just this: That the farmers should act together and go in for the manufacture of their own farm implements. Mr. Bowen seemed convinced that existing manufacturers of such machinery would never let the farmer have it at the price he was prepared or able to pay for it, so the cure for the situation was that the farmers should cooperate and start making machinery themselves.

We cannot recall where a farmer has yet been satisfied that the price he pays for a machine is right; it is nearly always higher than it should be and that situation does not appear to be curing itself. Nor have investigations been able to arrive at the point where their findings and recommendations appear to make things much better.

There are more farmers in the country than any other class of people, and they are all potential purchasers of the machines which their own plant would make. They might find it would take a good deal of capital in order to erect buildings and buy machinery and raw material and engage mechanics. It might also be discovered that they could not make some of the commonly-used machines because of patent rights on certain parts or devices.

We do not believe the suggestion will ever be made effective because the farmer is a farmer. He knows a good deal about his own business, but he is not a manufacturer of Machinery.

From Jail To Jail

William Labadie, 17, will leave the Sarnia jail shortly for Kingston and it looks as though he would stay there for a long time. He was condemned to be hanged but the sentence was changed to life imprisonment. For several weeks Labadie had been staying in the death cell at Sarnia, and it is stated this "wore him down" a good deal. He was glad enough to get out where he could see and partially associate with other prisoners, and it is said he was glad enough of the chance to go to Kingston.

One may be pardoned for having a little difficulty in trying to appreciate or understand the mental outlook of some people. We read that Labadie at his own request was taken out to see the scaffold which had been erected in the Sarnia jail for his execution, and he was somewhat shaken as the mechanism of the thing was explained in detail to him.

As he quits Sarnia for Kingston it is said this 17-year-old prisoner sentenced to life has hopes for the future. He thinks he will learn a trade and will be released in about ten years. Of course no such promise has been made to him, but of course when one has passed out from under the shadow of the gallows life may be inclined to take on a brighter hue.

We Will Be Well Served

This section of Ontario cannot but notice with a bit of pride that there is an increasing tendency to look for its men when it is necessary to fill high office. Albert Matthews, who becomes Lieutenant-Governor of the province in a few days, was born in Lindsay and later associated with business interests in Peterborough. He succeeds Col. the Hon. H. A. Bruce, who was born at Blackstock in Durham County, and that is not far removed as miles go from Lindsay.

It appears certain enough Mr. Matthews will not carry on with the full degree of pomp and circumstance which has attended the office within recent years. It is announced that Chorley Park, the million-dollar home of former representatives of the British monarch in Ontario, will be closed and much of the furnishing removed or offered for sale. So Mr. Matthews will not carry on in that great home. It does not come as a surprise to hear that Premier Hepburn is through with Chorley Park. Truth is he campaigned on that issue several years ago. Whether he will find a ready buyer for the property we know not; he may have to take what some person is moved to offer for the place.

Undoubtedly some adequate provision will be made for quarters where the Lieutenant-Governor can administer such of his public duties as require adequate housing. It is well to remember that in any such situation the occupant of the office is greater than the premises he inhabits. That will undoubtedly be true in the case of Albert Matthews. The integrity and honor of the Matthews name and tradition is in him and the province will be well served under his hand.

They Played Crokinole

Our correspondent at Hastings tells of a gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waters of Seymour township, where some of the folk from Trent River United Church gathered to play crokinole. There were 14 tables in operation, so that would mean 56 individuals shooting those little discs about. We have noticed other reports from various parts of the district where reference has been made to crokinole contests. We know of people in the city who tried several weeks ago to buy a crokinole board in Peterborough, but after making nine calls at stores found there was not such a thing to be secured. At one place the explanation was offered "We did have some here but they were all sold to people in the country." The stock has no doubt since been replenished.

It is not by any means a new game is crokinole. It is difficult to think of any game where one has to stand and fall so rigidly in accord to his or her own merits or defects. The high and lofty one can be brought low indeed by coming in contact with the humble individual who can make his discs attack correctly without becoming entangled with that miserable row of pegs which rings the centre. One who is inclined to bang can do so without working injury to anything save his own finger. And when 14 tables were placed in play in Seymour township we dare say there would be quite a demonstration of how the game should be played.

Picking On The Wood Pile

The Ottawa Journal reports "the city's wood pile is being sold off slowly," and then turns rather critical, saying: "This huge quantity of wood should never have been bought, as it was bought at the very time the city council had in mind a change from vouchers to scrip in the relief system."

There always has been an open season for criticizing what the council does. It was so in the village many years ago, and we recall it used to come into print when the minutes of the village council were placed in type for the weekly paper. And the criticizing business used to go on before the council held its meeting. When a couple of loads of gravel were brought in and dumped along the main street most of the folk stopped to have a look at it. Before the village constable had opportunity to get his rake and shovel and poke the gravel into the mud holes the critics would have seen the stuff; they would have noticed the size of some of the rocks or the amount of stuff that looked little better than as much sand, and they would shake their heads and wiggle their tongues, both in disgust.

It was much the same when the constable would order up a few planks from the saw mill in order to do some repair work on the wooden sidewalk. One such ran along in front of the printing office, and it was so easy to see all that was going on. The man who ran the Royal Hotel across the road (his bus met all incoming trains) the hardware man next door, the grocer down the street and the man from the livery stable would meet to inspect the planks and one of them would then come to the printing office and call out the boss. As we recall it the planks were always condemned, but the boss never put anything in the paper about them as he got a good deal of job printing from the saw mill man.

And it was the same when they once put in half a dozen new lamp posts to replace old ones. As soon as the holes were dug and the new posts placed in position the village critics met. They were good cedar posts, nicely trimmed and painted green with a little white here and there in the color design, and at once it was decided they were much too gay and a waste of money. You'd think a circus or minstrel show was coming to the village!

So when the Ottawa Journal man turns his pen on the civic wood pile he is probably doing just what has been done pretty much all over. People who run a village, a town or a city never did seem to know any too much about it.

Premier Duplessis complains that Ottawa is not assisting him in his fight against Communism. He seems to be doing all right on his own account and possibly, having regard to the cause of liberty, the Dominion Government feels that he has been doing too well.

COUSIN EZRA

(By A. R. K.)

¶ My Cousin Ezra I believe, was all set up to run for reeve, he dotes on public life; his own folks never urged him to, and every time this urge comes through, it's frowned on by his wife.

¶ But Ezra talks with lots of men, the thing gets mentioned now and then, and he hears all that's said; and he gets thinking he can win, about all there'd be for him, just nodding of his head.

¶ And Ezra's got a platform too, it's fairly long but scarce half through, it's numbered one, two, three; he lists all things that bring us grief, tells how he'll hasten with relief, he'll start and set folks free.

¶ The taxes are by far too high, and he will sock them in the eye, he'll weed out half the staff; and Ezra's dead against all frills, when he eliminates these bills, they'll be reduced by half.

¶ He'll get his platform in a book, let voters see just how 'twill look, he thinks that plan is sound; then just before election time, he'll peddle them along the line, and pass the rest around.

¶ But Ezra's not entirely rash, he found 'twould take some ready cash, to get his printing done; and 'twould take dollars for his signs, more than he figured several times—and so he will not run.

THE LAST FRENCH colony in North America the St. Pierre consular district comprises the archipelago of St. Pierre and Miquelon, consisting mainly of the islands of St. Pierre, Grand Miquelon and Little Miquelon and Ile-aux-Martins, a total area of 175 square miles. This territory, situated a short distance off the south coast of Newfoundland, has been in the possession of France since 1816 and much of the simplicity of living and working of the early nineteenth century is to be found there.

❖ ❖ ❖

The inhabitants, with the exception of a few natives of Newfoundland, are the descendants of old French colonists from the Basque country, Brittany and Normandy and linguists say the purest French is spoken by these interesting folk.

❖ ❖ ❖

The islands, according to E. D. Whittlesley, writing in Travelore supply France's choicest wines and they are cheaper than water in St. Pierre. A bottle of vitals water costs 35 cents while a quart of table wine can be obtained for 25 cents. You have to ask for water because it is not served at the table except by request.

❖ ❖ ❖

Shops are scattered throughout the streets of the little fishing village and in addition to French wines and liquors these merchants sell French tobaccos, perfumes and candles. Gin is 30 cents a pint, champagne only $2.00 a bottle and cigarettes 75 cents a carton. Genuine French kid gloves and authentic Parisian berets delight the women shoppers at 75 cents each.

❖ ❖ ❖

There is electric power only from dusk until 11 p.m. when the electricity is turned off for the night so that radio reception, except for battery sets is curtailed. Once a week the place sees a French movie with all the dialogue in the French language.

Some Moon Beams

THE MOON, in the opinion of some astronomers, is being gradually drawn nearer to the earth. Should the moon reach the danger zone it would eventually break into many small fragments which like a ring of Saturn would encircle the earth and every night, as a shining belt, illuminate the sky.

❖ ❖ ❖

According to some astronomers the gravitational influence of the moon is distorting the face of the earth.

❖ ❖ ❖

The planet Mars has two moons, Uranus four, Jupiter nine and Saturn ten. Neptune and the earth each have one, but Mercury and Venus whose orbits lie within the orbit of the earth have none.

❖ ❖ ❖

The distance between North America and Europe, according to Dr. Harlan T. Stetson, astronomer and Dr. A. L. Loomis, physicist, varies as much as sixty-three feet, owing to the attraction of the moon.

❖ ❖ ❖

Every part of the moon's visible surface has been explored telescopically and mapped, and thirty thousand craters have been photographed according to a recent broadcast by Miss Dorothy Bennett.

❖ ❖ ❖

Tests made by noted astronomers indicate that the moon consists principally of pumice or some similar porous substance.

❖ ❖ ❖

The moon rotating on its own axis at the same rate as it revolves about the earth always turns the same face to terrestial observers.

A chief feature among San Francisco's attractions for tourists is Chinatown. Every California town of any size has its Chinese quarter but that of San Francisco is by far the largest on the Pacific Coast—a compact city within a city.

The Story of Sugar

A HUNDRED YEARS ago sugar was so rare and expensive that the average American consumed only 10 pounds of it a year while today the consumption of sugar by every man, women and child in the United States is around 100 pounds a year. Americans too eat, on the average, a pound of candy each month.

❖ ❖ ❖

As far back as present day knowledge goes, honey for thousands of years was the only known sweet. Most authorities are agreed that the art of sugar making really originated in India whence it spread into China and other parts of the Orient. The modern word sugar comes from the Persian language.

❖ ❖ ❖

During the Middle Ages when the Crusaders set forth on the Holy Wars they found in the Orient such strange luxuries as silks and satins, spices and above all, sugar. After they returned home a trade in sugar began and the great palaces of the Spanish kings at Madrid and Toledo were built with the proceeds of the sugar trade. One of the chief uses of sugar at that time was as a medicine.

❖ ❖ ❖

A milestone in the march of sugar came during the Napoleonic wars France had been cut off from the cane sugar supply of the world for some time and for many years French scientists had been trying to obtain sugar in commercial quantities from apples, pears, plums, quinces and even walnuts and chestnuts. In 1802 a German chemist, Franz Karl Achard, built the first factory for making sugar from the beet. The French soon learned of Achard's experiments and by 1811 a Frenchman, Benjamin Delessert had produced a quantity of well crystallized beet sugar.

❖ ❖ ❖

Napoleon was so delighted with the discovery that he took the Cross of Honor which he wore on his breast and pinned it on the astonished Delessert.

❖ ❖ ❖

Just as Leo Blais entered the door of the Kahn Silk Corporation in Pawtucket, Rhode Island, he felt something hard pressing against his back. "I want the pay roll" a voice growled. Blais let the bandit run off with the small bag he was carrying. It contained a purchase of nuts and bolts.

Says There Was No Reduction of Debt

It Has Not Yet Been Felt By the Taxpayers Attacking Hepburn's Claims as Being Not Correct

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

IN THE LIGHT of information contained in the public accounts of Ontario, now published, Toronto Star explains how the Hepburn government managed to reduce the provincial debt by $39,000,000 in the fiscal year ending last March. The editorial is a long one, but the sum and substance is that the government did not reduce the debt by any such sum. Reviewing the shifting of Hydro indebtedness from direct advances to the status of government-guaranteed securities, a somewhat similar transaction in connection with T. & N. O. finances, and the use of $2,200,000 in bank balances, the Star concludes:

"The outstanding feature of the whole thing is that nearly $27,400,000 of so-called debt reduction is offset in large part by new government-guaranteed debt of the Hydro and T. & N. O. Railway."

All this, in fact, was evident from the tabulations contained in Premier Hepburn's budget speech in March last. The Sentinel-Review attempted to set forth the situation, particularly in respect of the bookkeeping stunt which accounted for a decrease of nearly $21,200,000 in direct indebtness on Hydro account.

Nevertheless, when the election campaign opened the government virtually built its presentation of financial record around the statement that it had "reduced the debt of the province" by $33,000,000 in a single year. No speaker for the party omitted to repeat the statement, it was the theme of much advertising and of a campaign leaflet. And it went over big.

Anyone disposed to give the matter a serious thought must have been struck by the fact that outlay for interest in the fiscal year 1937 was $20,436,000, and that the government, while claiming an enormous reduction in debt during that year, and receiving the benefit of cheaper money in its borrowing, was nevertheless budgeting for interest payments in 1938 of $19,653,000. That is the real point of contact with the taxpayer's pocket. On March 13 last this newspaper submitted these figures and said: "Debt reduction that is not reflected on the interest charges does not mean a great deal to the taxpayer." The Star in September said the statement about $33,000,000 debt reduction was "misleading." But bigger type was used in campaign literature and it prevailed.

Taking Drunk Drivers Off the Highways

One City Catches Them Before They Do Damage; Expensive Plan But It Has Produced Results

(From The Indian News)

THE NEW motorcycle squads' "Drunk Traps" or blockade, which takes intoxicated motorists off the streets and to jail before there is an accident, is the answer to the rapid decrease in traffic deaths, believes Chief of Police Sears, of San Diego, California, who originated the idea in San Diego.

How well the plain operates, Sears said, is shown by the records, which reveal San Diego is one of the few cities of the nation with more than 100,000 population to show a decrease in traffic deaths.

Under Sears' plan, squads of officers, each night, are sent into various parts of the city. There are eight men to a squad, all equipped with motorcycles.

Officers are stationed at each entrance to an intersection, and every approaching car, truck or other motor vehicle is halted. The operator is carefully studied by the policeman.

All suspected of being in the least intoxicated are ordered to the side of the highway and more exhaustive tests made.

If the driver is found to be intoxicated, he is taken to jail and booked.

In the first six months of the year, the "drunk traps" sent 339 motorists to jail, but the number is decreasing monthly, from a high of 80 in March, 1937, to 48 in June.

Sears asserted these figures prove the efficiency of the "traps"—that motorists hesitate to take "even one little drink" before they venture out on the city streets, for they never know when or where they will run into a "drunk trap."

Here again motorcycles prove their efficiency in being able to make the squad more flexible in that each man has his own transportation and can readily be despatched from one point to another with extreme ease.

Sympathy For China, But Nothing Else

Right Now She is Going the Same Way as Ethiopia Roosevelt's Chicago Speech Was Not So Much

(The Ottawa Journal)

THE STORY of Ethiopia, appealing vainly to the world, the while being massacred by a merciless aggressor, is being told again in China. Reeling back before mechanized legions, the perhaps oldest and most peace-loving people in the world have fled their capital city, see the map of their country being rolled up by Japan. Said a despatch yesterday from Brussels:

"Despite a dramatic, eleventh-hour effort by Dr. Wellington Koo, the Chinese delegate, to salvage some kind of aid for China, delegates of various countries were doubtful anything positive would be done in the way of effective action to halt the Far Eastern conflict."

Washington confirmed Brussels. That brave Chicago speech by Mr. Roosevelt, in which he called upon the world to "quarantine" nations like Japan, apparently meant less than it said. There is to be no quarantine. Nor—if we are to take the word of the chairman of the United States Senate foreign relations committee—little else of consequence.

Summed up, the story is that the world is not in a position to help China, will not help. Sympathy it will give, just as it gave sympathy to Haile Selassie, but for the time being, the state of the earth being what it is, Japan will be allowed to do in China what Mussolini's bombers and poison gas did in Abyssinia.

And Japan, judging by the tale that comes, is well on her way. Nanking—chosen capital of Sun Yat-Sen and Chaing Kai-Shek, symbolizing the break with the past, the effort to liberate China from foreign exploitation—is being lost, and there is terrible pathos in the cabled words of a Chinese official: "What is the use? We have tried hard to pull our country up to the standards of others. It now appears that all these efforts are coming to naught."

Thus the state of civilization in 1937. Over large tracts of the earth there is the law of the jungle, and much as millions of good-will may want to prevent it, they are apparently powerless to do so. After two thousand years of groping, often blood-stained, towards peace, it is a solemn thing.

VOTING ON A WHISTLE.

(Winnipeg Tribune)

DOWN IN FLORIDA, we read, the residents living along the right-of-way of a certain railway complained of the shrill whistles used on the locomotives. The railway company decided to do something about it. They arranged to give the people the opportunity of assisting in choosing another kind of whistle.

The method adopted was to equip a locomotive with six different types of whistles and to have it stop at 19 cities from Jacksonville to Miami. At each centre all six whistles were tooted in turn and the people asked to vote. Between 80 and 90 per cent. favored "No. 3," described as an instrument producing a "deep, pleasing tone — capable of providing ample warning without being offensive."

A Bible Message For To-day . . . .

AND HE SAID unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on. The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment. Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse nor barn; and God feedeth them; how much more are ye better than the fowls? And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit? If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest? . . . And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you.—Luke xii, 22-26, 29-31.

NEW TRAINING.

(St. Marys Journal-Argus)

HERE IS A live idea. Starting later this month or earlier in December a course in wayside booth selling, advertising proper cabin accommodation and the care of overnight tourists will be made available to all young people interested, by the Women's Institute Department of Ontario in connection with the National Employment Commission. One of the newer vocations opening up for the young people and becoming a major industry, is the tourist-catering profession. A training in this line of service will be of real use to young people in districts well travelled by tourists.

SIMPSON'S RADIOEAR EXPERT
Will be at the EMPRESS HOTEL
All Day Saturday, November 27th

Radioear, the new modern hearing aid, is laboratory-built to suit the individual impairment of each patient. At no charge and with no obligation, you may have Simpson's Radioear expert analyze your own hearing impairment scientifically by means of the "Silex-A-Phone". This analysis will make it clear how Radioear differs from other hearing aids, and will also serve as a basis for construction of your own individual Radioear if you should decide to place an order.

Residents of Peterborough and vicinity who wish their hearing impairment analyzed on Saturday should make their appointment early.

ROSENEATH COUPLE MARRIED 50 YEARS FETED BY FRIENDS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, Nov. 25.—Upwards of seventy-five people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Duff on the evening of November 20, to do them honor on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

Dancing and community singing were enjoyed, and refreshments were served. This was followed by a presentation of a chair and foot stool to the guests of honor. Reeve J. W. Pacey made the presentation on behalf of the community, and J. T. Drope, in an address, expressed good wishes of all present. Mr. and Mrs. Duff were given a hearty hand clasp by all who sang "For they are jolly good fellows."

Mr. and Mrs. Duff have two sons, John of Hastings and James of Alnwick township; and three daughters, Mrs. William Stevenson of Havelock, Mrs. Palmeteer of Norham, and Mrs. Alex Spiers of Alnwick.

Present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. William Stevenson, Miss Evelyn Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Stevenson, of Havelock, and John Duff of Hastings.

Personals

Under the auspices of the local W.M.S. Dr. F. Lloyd of Cobourg will show moving pictures of the coronation in the Orange Hall on Saturday night, November 27. Dr. Lloyd will also give his lecture on the coronation.

At an executive meeting of the United Sunday School on Sunday morning, it was decided to hold a Christmas entertainment and Christmas tree on the night of December 23. Various committees were named to arrange the program.

The Women's Institute are sponsoring a euchre party on the night of November 30. Refreshments will be served and prizes awarded the winners.

Miss Dorcas Atkison, of Dartford, was a guest during the past week, of her friend, Mrs. Frank Brown.

Divine service was withdrawn in St. James' Anglican church on Sunday, owing to the illness of the rector, Rev. William Stocks.

William Coyle of Cobourg, visited his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Down, during the past week.

Lyle Milne has returned home following a stay of some months in Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Macklin and Lorna are visiting relatives in Western Ontario and Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite are on a motor trip to Niagara Falls and Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Norris are motoring through Western Ontario and the State of Michigan and visiting relatives enroute.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Nurse, and family, Dorothy and Donald, of Omemee were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Yule and daughter, Reta, of Dartford, were recent guests of his sister, Mrs. Wm. Houghtailing.

SHOWER IS STAGED FOR POPULAR GIRL

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, Nov. 25—The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Larmer, east of the village, was the scene of a happy social gathering on Monday evening, when over sixty neighbors and friends gathered for a community shower in honor of a bride of this week, Miss Sadie Rowland, whose marriage to Howard Brackenridge of South Monaghan, took place in St. Andrew's church at 2.30 p.m. on Wednesday, November 24, with the Rev. A. L. Siscoe officiating.

The large and comfortable homestead was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and when the bride-to-be entered she was greeted with the wedding march, played by Miss Grace Johnston, A.T.C.M. The shower, which was of a miscellaneous character included a large number of beautiful and useful gifts in china, cut glass, linen, etc., was arranged on a daintily-covered table, over which was suspended a white wedding bell, and from this central point fluted pink streamers were carried to the four corners of the table beneath. Fronting the guests were a miniature bride and groom, suitably attired, and behind these the gifts, each with card attached, were tastefully arranged.

Preceding the presentation of the shower, a mock wedding was an enjoyable feature of the program, Phyllis and Robert Larmer taking the part of the bride and groom, while Gordon Muspratt filled the roll of minister. The father of the "bride", Smith McCutcheon, a visitor from the West, provided an added note of interest and comedy by carrying a gun, apparently prepared, should the groom show any signs of weakening from his share in the ceremony, to use force, if necessary, to see the event went through.

The mock wedding was carried through in the hall, the bridal couple standing under a big white bell, with the color scheme of pink and white continued in the streamers and other details. When the highlight of the evening had been happily carried through, with the guest of honor in a central position, the cards bearing their many good wishes were read, as each gift in turn was reached and admired, the bride-to-be expressing her thanks in brief, well-chosen words. Following the time-honored custom, the guests all joined heartily in singing "For she's a jolly good fellow."

Mr. J. Staples took the chair for the program which included community singing, accompanists being Misses Gwen Hutchinson and Grace Johnson; readings by Mary Larmer and Leatha Rowland; solos by McIntosh Bradshaw, who accompanied himself on the guitar; and other numbers.

Supper, with an abundant and attractive menu, was served by Mrs. Larmer, assisted by her daughter, Miss Margaret, and other helpers, and afterward dancing was enjoyed until a late hour, music being furnished by Messrs. Atchison, Emberson, Bradshaw, and others.

PEACE PROGRAM BY WESTWOOD W.I.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WESTWOOD, Nov. 25.—Twenty members attended the November meeting of the Women's Institute which was held in the town hall on Tuesday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Mrs. F. E. Birdsall, Mrs. James Clysdale conducted the meeting.

The subject "Peace" featured the program; a peace idea being given in answer to the roll call. Mrs. Stewart Graham gave an excellent paper on the subject "Oh Canada I stand on guard for thee". Mrs. Graham urged patriotism to our fair Canada, by acts of kindness and generosity to our fellow citizens.

The report of the annual Women's Institute Convention held at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, was given by the delegate, Mrs. J. Maloney, who brought messages of inspiration from Lady Tweedsmuir and others who were guest speakers at the convention.

The members are selling tickets on a hooked mat, an eighteen piece china tea set and a pair of bath towels. The treasurer, Miss Edith Bray, announced the proceeds of the recent card party to be $11.70.

A contest under the direction of Miss Isobel McColl was won by four members, Misses Mary Barrie and Edith Douglas, and Mesdames A. Wood and E. Sargent.

Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

ENNISMORE

On Wednesday a social evening was held for Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Neill at the home recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Cadigan. Many valuable articles were received by the young couple, before leaving for their home in Downeyville.

Messrs. Thomas Cavanagh, W. J. Scollard and Gerald Cavanagh spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. David Scollard at Brantford.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Carlow and family of Douro were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien.

Messrs. David Garvey and Thomas Sheehan of Douro attended the funeral of the late Michael Pluard on Thursday.

Mr. R. Card of Cavan made a business trip here on Tuesday.

On Monday Pigeon Lake was frozen over for the first time this season.

Mark St. W.M.S.
Regular Meeting.

Mark Street Women's Missionary Society held the monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon in the church parlor.

A very satisfactory report was read by the secretary, Mrs. Mitchell. The correspondence included a letter from Miss Marion Coons, thanking the ladies for their car. A nominating committee was appointed, consisting of Mrs. Hay, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Murray, the annual meeting being the next, with election of officers.

A "Worshipping Church" was the theme for the month. The scripture was read by Mrs. Scriver, and prayer was led by Mrs. Alton. A beautifully sung solo by Mrs. Mitchell was much enjoyed. An interesting synopsis of the study book, "A New Church Faces A New World," by Dr. Jesse Arnup, was read by Mrs. L. Cunningham. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

10th Anniversary
Women of the Moose.

The Ladies of the Moose, Peterborough Chapter, fittingly observed their 10th anniversary on Tuesday evening.

A delightful banquet was enjoyed at the Mayfair Cafe, attended also by visiting members from Port Hope and Belleville. Returning to Moose Hall several new members were initiated. A most happy social evening followed, when guests were the men's Lodge, and a number of visitors.

Song and tap-dance numbers by Betty Bestard and Audrey Fontaine were much enjoyed. Refreshments were served at 11 o'clock, when the large birthday cake, decorated with 10 candles, was cut and served by three charter members, Mrs. F. Roberts, Mrs. M. Gagnon and Mrs. S. Suddards. Dancing to Bob Orr's orchestra completed the evening.

"Mother's Moment"
Presented by Baptist Y.P.

"Mother's Moment", a comedy-drama in three acts was presented exceptionally well by the Young People's Union of Murray Street Baptist Church.

An excellent attendance filled the Sunday School Hall and showed appreciation of the talent displayed with much applause. Between acts, Miss Pearl Smith gave a piano selection, and Mrs. L. Groombridge was heard in a delightful solo.

Splendid performances were given by the whole cast, with especial praise due to Barbara Pearson as Ma Burt, Jean Metcalfe as Hester Sharpe, and Bernice Weart as Julie Ederly, and to Walter Fitzgerald, the able director of the play. Sven Valentin was master of ceremonies. The furniture used on the stage was by courtesy of A. Comstock and Sons.

In the play, a young man, Johnny Burt, and his wife, Polly are unkindly treated by members of their family, yet Johnny is the one who defends his father in a shooting quarrel, and goes to prison in his place. Two years later, the eldest son, Joel, (the father being dead) persuades Ma Burt to deed the old home to him, and Polly, who had stayed with the mother, is turned out. Later Ma Burt is being sent to the poorhouse through the unkindness of Hester Sharpe, Joel's wife, but is saved by Polly, who has inherited a fortune, and Johnny, who after being released, made good in South America.

Salvation Army
Successful Bazaar.

The Boys' Sunday School Hall in the Salvation Army Temple presented a most delightful Christmas picture for the annual bazaar on Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The wide entrance to the row of separate little classrooms on either side of the main hall, were gay with red and green streamers, bells, colored Christmas lights and many pretty touches. Evergreens and streamers were attached to the ceiling of the main room, and a large decorated Christmas tree stood near the entrance to the "Yuletide Tea Room," made very attractive with lighted lamps, and more pretty decorations.

The bazaar was opened at half past two by Mrs. G. A. Spicer, President of the Home and School Council introduced by Mrs. Warrander who led the opening song. The Bible reading was given by Mrs. B. Smith, and Mrs. E. Hedge, president of the Salvation Army Home League, offered prayer.

A large percentage of the many lovely things offered for sale, was very quickly sold to the crowd who were present for the opening ceremonies.

In the novelties' booth, where many pretty and useful suggestions for gifts were displayed, a most decorative addition was a "red brick" fireplace with a fire. In true Christmas fashion a number of presents were displayed hanging from the mantle. Mrs. R. Routly, Mrs. W. Magee and Mrs. J. James were in charge. The delicious home-made cooking was in charge of Mrs. Drummond and Mrs. J. Richardson, Sr. In the Girls' booth, pretty little handkerchiefs and novelties were sold by Florence Rose, Ruth Smith, Ardith Richardson and Betty Craig. Children's wear and dollies' clothes were in charge of Mrs. J. Craig and Mrs. Masters.

Quilts and pillows were in charge of Mrs. Warrander. Home-made candy in pretty little baskets and boxes was sold by Mrs. L. Cox and Mrs. C. Thomas. A "white elephant" booth, below a great elephant sign on a rug, was looked after by Mrs. Grieves and Mrs. Withers. Pretty fancy goods were sold by Mrs. G. Routly, and Mrs. W. Jones, and ladies' wear by Mrs. M. Braund and Mrs. R. Routly. The apron booth was in charge of Mrs. N. Shadgett and Mrs. Winterbottom.

Ice-cream sundaes of all flavors were sold by Mrs. J. Isles and Mrs. T. Craig. In the tea room, the assistants were Mesdames G. Thomas, T. Rose, R. C. Braund, A. Scott, F. Gray, A. Wilson, A. McDonald. The convenor was Mrs. S. Richardson, Jr. From five o'clock on, supper was served. Later in the evening the Saxophone Band played in an adjacent room, and a social evening was spent. Mrs. E. Hedge was general convenor for the bazaar, and Mrs. B. Smith acted as treasurer.

Hunter-Luxton.

A quiet wedding was solemnized in Timmins United Church when Georgina A. Luxton, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Luxton, became the bride of Stanley Hunter of Roupyn, Que., son of Mrs. Joseph Hunter and the late Mr. Hunter of Peterborough. Rev. W. M. Mustard officiated. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white silk net over moire taffeta, made with fitted bodice, full sleeves and skirt. Her shoulder-length tulle veil fell from a turban of the moire and net. She carried a period nosegay of red roses, lilies of the valley and white heather, a gift from a friend in Scotland. Gwendolyn Luxton, sister, acted as bridesmaid. She wore pale blue satin striped sheer, made with full skirt and fitted jacket, buttoning from the Peter Pan collar to the waist. In her hair she wore a coronet of roses and carried shaggy bronze 'mums. Clarence Mitchell, of Norands, attended the groom. During the signing of the register, Mr. L. E. Kelly sang. Laura Shaw was at the organ. Following the ceremony friends gathered at the bride's home, where a buffet luncheon was served. The bride's mother received in a black velvet gown trimmed with gold and corsage of roses, with Mrs. A. H. Cooke of Schumacher assisting. The bride's bouquet was presented to a friend, Mrs. Sharp, who was unable to attend the wedding. The couple left later for Montreal to sail for Bermuda, the bride travelling in a smart brown ensemble with corsage of 'mums. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will make their home in Rouyn.

Whitworth-Ellery.

The marriage was solemnized at the United Church parsonage, Fenelon Falls, recently, of Katie Leveda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ellery, Fenelon Falls, to Joseph M. Whitworth, son of George Whitworth and the late Mrs. Whitworth of Humber Bay. The Rev. William Sterling officiated.

The bride was becomingly gowned in royal blue transparent velvet, with close fitting hat to match and shoulder length veil, navy shoes and white gloves. She wore a shoulder bouquet of red roses and maidenhair fern. Miss Greta Ellery of Peterborough was her sister's bridesmaid, and was dressed in red crepe with silver clasp at neckline and silver girdle, navy shoes, hat and white gloves. She also wore a shoulder bouquet of yellow roses and maidenhair fern. Archie Ellery of Sturgeon Point, brother of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the bride's home to thirty guests, the three-storey wedding cake centering the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitworth are now residing on Salisbury Avenue, Humber Bay.

Fashion Service

You'll be prepared for any occasion in this charming day dress . . . and prize it for its practicality. A soft draped bosom, slim corselet waistline and center seamed gored skirt that creates pleasing height, makes it so figure flattering to mother or daughter. A lame' scarf will add glitter for more formal after 5 o'clock parties. Pattern of the scarf included; also long or bracelet length sleeves. Sheer woollen, velvet, rayon novelties, gleaming metal fabrics, etc., are nice mediums. A complete diagrammed instruction chart accompanies the pattern.

Style No. 3214 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42-inches bust. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39-inch material with ⅝ yard of 39-inch contrasting.

Beige Is Rival of Black For Coats

(By Central Press)

Black, which is the big favorite in costumes generally, and that means coats, too, has its rivals for sartorial honors. And the rivals that probably come nearest to black in the race of favors are the very light shades—tans, grays, beiges.

One of these light colors is shown, an apricot beige collared with Persian lamb. This smart imported woollen coat makes a striking contrast as part of a costume and worn over the suit's dress, an all black silk crepe. The coat is lined with the same crepe as the dress, and the dress has elaborate clips worn at the neckband.

Style Whimsies

✧ ✧ ✧

Wine and black is an excellent combination in town suits this year. A most attractive suit was in a nubby wine material with Persian lamb for a little jacket and band at hem of skirt. A black twisted jersey turban and black suede gloves and bag completed the costume.

✧ ✧ ✧

Suits trimmed with embroidery in lighter shade than the suit are one of the highlights of the season. Hats are also embroidery trimmed.

✧ ✧ ✧

The bishop sleeve looks extremely new in woollen coats. It is very youthful used in sport coats, and is also employed in more formal coats.

✧ ✧ ✧

In addition to the bright overblouse, the one-piece dress with entire bodice in bright color is popular for wear with two-third and tree-quarter coats.

Mrs. Davis Hostess King's Own Class

The annual meeting of the King's Own Bible Class of St. Jame's United Church was held, with a good attendance at the home of Mrs. A. Davis, Prince street on Monday evening.

This meeting is a summing up of the work of the year and in the fine reports given it was found that the financial objectives of the class had all been won as well as its many other aims along social and spiritual lines. The worship period was in charge of Mrs. Hess, assisted by Mesdames Harris and Elliott.

A season of silent prayer was led by the class teacher, Mrs. Elliott in memory of Mrs. Frank Carter, a member of the Friday afternoon sewing class, who had passed away after a very short illness.

In the social hour which followed, games in charge of Miss Waterman, were enjoyed, with Mrs. Sloane carrying off the prize.

At the December meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Bert Pitchford, the election of officers for next year will take place, when the nominating committee brings in its report, with the slate for the new executive to be ratified at this meeting.

The hostess, Mrs. Davis was tendered the thanks of the class for her hospitality voiced by Mesdames H. Bannon and G. Pearson and endorsed in the usual way by all present.

Germany has a shortage of raw materials and skilled labor.

With The Girl Guides

1st Company held their usual meeting on Monday. The following guides passed morse, Isobel Mitchell, Margaret Graham, and Ruth Sage. This completes Ruth's 2nd class. Plans were made for our bazaar, to be held Thursday, December 9.

2nd Company was reorganized on Thursday under supervision of Mrs. Whalon, District Captain. Mary Stewart was promoted to company leader while Zita Spencer, Ruth Bennett, Mary O'Brien, were made patrol leaders.

Brownies—On Saturday, "Golden Bar" badges were presented to Joan Reed, Winifred and Catherine Ryan.

Narcotics Is Subject of Address At November Meeting of W.C.T.U.

With the president, Mrs. H. T. Rehill, presiding, a splendid attendance and a good program, the local W.C.T.U. November meeting proved both interesting and instructive.

Taking part in the devotional service, Rev. G. S. Easton, pastor of the church in whose hall the meeting was being held, offered earnest prayer.

The Scripture lesson, chosen from the 24th Psalm, was read by Mrs. G. H. Rowe, with Mrs. Allen leading in prayer.

A brief business session followed when reports were heard from the secretary, Mrs. B. Manning; the treasurer, Mrs. A. B. Cunningham, and from department superintendents.

Announcements followed and three ladies were appointed to examine the papers in the "Scientific Temperance in Sunday Schools" contest, which will be concluded next week.

Mrs. L. Groombridge brought an inspiring message in her beautiful solo, "Spirit of God Descend Upon My Soul." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Greenslade.

The hymns chosen for the day also added much to the worship periods, when Mrs. Glover presided at the piano.

Narcotics Subject of Address

In his illuminating address on Narcotics, Rev. F. W. Craik, of St. James' United Church, brought a direct challenge to the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The problem to-day, he said is alarming, and demands more steady. When we consider the 9,500 people who are unfit for life through the use of narcotics, it is time for us to do something. In the narcotic business, said the speaker, there is no profit-sharing. It is all loss to the men, woman, boys and girls who indulge.

We must realize and see that narcotic drugs are properly used, for if in unscrupulous hands there is no limit to their evil.

While narcotics may relieve pain by deadening the nerves, it does not remove the cause of the pain.

The promotors of the use of narcotis get well paid. They work through dope rings, agents and recruit their victims from all walks in life. Our men and women, our boys and girls. These dealers in dope have no sense of shame, no conscience, no pity, no responsibility and no scruples. What can we, as Christians, as parents, as temperance workers do to forestall the narcotic habit?

We must demand law enforcement. Our girls and women must lift the standard of life. We have a powerful influence in our homes over the youth of our community and should use it in every possible way to save them. We must not wait until they have gained the habit, but teach the influence and evil of the narcotic. We must form—not wait to reform.

Mr. Craik gave several examples of the result of narcotics on the lives coming into his notice through his work, and appealed to the ladies of this organization to stand true to the responsibility which they have assumed.

An invitation from Mrs. T. Barrie was received, asking that the union meet at her home, 757 Water street, for their December meeting, and was gratefully accepted.

After the closing hymn, "God Will Take Care of You," Rev. Mr. Easton dismissed the meeting with the Benediction.

Your Favorite Poems Will Lighten Dreary Day

Now, when the leaves have fallen and the days are chill, do your spirits droop? Let your favorite poems remind you, there's much to live for.

There's patriotism, as Scott tells us in:

"Breathes there the man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is m yown, my native land!"

And inspiration in the vision of Abou Ben Adhem who:

". . . saw, within the moonlight in his room,
Making it rich and like a lily in bloom,
An angel writing in a book of gold."

Longfellow recalls happy childhood in his familiar "Children's Hour":

"Between the dark and the daylight
When the night is beginning to lower,
Comes a pause in the day's occupations,
That is known as the Children's Hour."

Our 32-page booklet gives you these cherished poems and others by James Whitcomb Riley, Browning, Tennyson, Poe, Burns and others.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

FORGET EXTRA TRICKS

DON'T TAKE a chance of letting the other fellow lead through your guarded king if there is some way to prevent it, and thereby make your contract sure. Unnecessary finesses, which might produce an overtrick if they work, but put yourself in danger of defeat if they do not, are not sound bridge.

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

West overcalled South's opening bid of 1-Heart, with 1-Spade and North went to 2-Clubs. South rebid his hearts, North assisted and the contract ended in 4-Hearts by South.

West led the diamond 2 and South decided he could make an extra trick if West had been obliged to lead away from the diamond K. He therefore played the diamond 8 and East won with the diamond K. The spade 9 was returned and allowed to hold, but East was able to continue leading the suit with the spade 2. West overtook and cashed three spades.

Had South gone up with his diamond A, he would have made the contract, for after drawing trumps, he could have tried the club finesse. As this happened to be favorable, two spades could have been tossed on the two set up clubs and the contract could have been made.

• • •

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

How should East and West defend against South's 3-No Trump contract after the lead of the spade Q?

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"What shall we do when the world seems unkind?
What shall we do when Life's paths twist and wind?
What shall we do when Hope fades in the mind? . . .
What shall we do?
What shall we say when folks praise us—or blame?
What shall we say when we're losing the game? . . .
What shall we say?
What can we do then, and what can we say? . . .
All we can do is be silent—and pray. Pray for the guidance that comes from within. Pray for the courage to live and to win!"

—Patience Strong.

Dear Friends:

How many times some of us say," What shall I do?" We get so confused in this business of living, no one can make the decisions but ourselves, we are not sure we are right, and so we question ourselves with, "what CAN I do, what would be the best thing to do, how will it turn out?"

Sometimes I have found it satisfactory not to do anything at all when I am in doubt of the outcome. But other times I know something MUST be done, and I feel like an animal caught in a trap, for the result of my decision will rest on me and I will have to abide by it.

Sometimes too, our faith seems to dessert us. We feel forsaken, and as if we were all alone in the world. God seems far far away, and what we need is someone near to comfort and sustain and put more courage into use.

But it is only a cloud that has come over our faith, just as one will blot out the sun for awhile, but understand it still shines on.

So, when you are dispirited, when even the ones you thought would understand seem to have turned their face away from you, pray, even altho' all belief seems to have left you. What ELSE is there for us but prayer?

He knows we are stumbling around in the dark, barking the shins of our belief on the things that have hurt us. He knows also that this too will pass, and that we shall come out again into the clear sunlight of everyday things.

"Perfect love casteth out fear," but how many of us have reached that state of perfection? We see the actual problems of our lives confronting us, we long for strength to grapple with them, but all we seem to get is fear of the outcome.

I have gone around in such a dither that I could not see straight. Maybe so have you .From your letters I judge many of you have. And so I have learned to say, with faith or without it, "God Help Me," and He always has every time.

It is so hard to live on the spiritual plane all the time. The problems of life get us down, we are humans with the needs of human beings, we can praise God with gladness, but when the fact of the rent, the light and water, the hundred and one things nag at us, with an inadequate income to top the bill, then is when our faith gets low to the vanishing point.

Yet, out of a life which has not been easy by any means, I tell you to PRAY, and it will all be taken care of, and anyone who knows me will assure you I do not lie. Forget about your lost faith, it will come back. So for all who are in trouble believe that I am praying for you, and do the same for me.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLLE

For Friday, November 26.

A day of excellent progress upon the pursuit of high goals and ambitions, with much of an expansive and productive nature, is presaged by major planetary activities. While dealings with large interests and corporations may succeed, yet there is need for caution and sagacity. Safeguard papers and other property and shun strife.

Those whose birthday it is have a year of excellent prospects before them for the expanding of their fortunes and reaching high goals. Speculation and big propositions in connection with influential and friendly interests should succeed, if you use sagacity, refrain from disputes and safeguard papers and other property.

A child born on this day may be an efficient, versatile and ambitious character, although it may have traits calling for self-discipline and control. It may have a rather impulsive and pugnacious disposition and integrity. It should succeed in business or writing.

SILVER WEDDING JOYOUSLY MARKED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BENSFORT, Nov. 25.—The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Howson of Bensfort, was the scene of a happy and interesting event on Tuesday evening of last week. A large number of the friends and neighbors gathered there for the purpose of extending to Mr. and Mrs. Howson general best wishes, this being the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

When all guests had arrived a short program was enjoyed, a "Mock Wedding" stated by some of the neighbors, causing much amusement. Those taking part in this were, Mrs. R. Perrin, Mrs. C. Emerson, Mrs. C. Barnard, Helen Howson and Messrs. H. Perrin, J. Staples, C. Barnard, C. Patton, G. Robinson and W. Patton. Following this Joan and Norma Pue sang "The Wedding of Jack and Jill." and "Put on your old grey bonnet."

At this time Mr. and Mrs. Howson were given prominent seats and a bouquet of flowers was presented to them by their small daughter, Betty Joan, also a cabinet of silver by the guests, Mr. H. Beebe acting as chairman. Mr. Howson very graciously replied on behalf of himself and his wife.

Lunch was served at midnight and a social time was spent playing cards.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Howson and Betty Joan were visitors to Toronto over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moncrief visited friends in St. Catharines for a few days last week.

Mr. Judson Pue was a visitor to Millbrook on Friday.

Mr. R. Benke, of Toronto, was a visitor at Long Island over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dawson, Mrs. T. Dawson and Mrs. S. Finnie, were visitors to Peterborough on Thursday.

Mr. Howard Brackenridge, of Millbrook, was a visitor here on Friday.

Fourteen teachers and officers of Fairview Sunday School attended the teacher training class held at Wesley United church last Tuesday evening. The classes were conducted by Rev. C. C. Miller and Rev. R. D. Wright. The next meeting will be held at Selwyn Tuesday evening, November 30. These meetings are sponsored by the O.R.E.C. of Smith township.

Economist Gloomy On '38 Outlook

CHATHAM, Kent., Nov. 25 (CP)—Sir George Paish, the economist, painted a gloomy picture of prospects for 1938 in an address to a League of Nations Union rally here.

"The world is in danger of a complete trade breakdown," he said. Unless the nations stood together 1938 would be the worst year in the history of the world.

He expected revolution to come before war, not in one country but in all countries, due to the distress that would arise unless nations come "to their senses and help one another out of their difficulties.

THREE-YEAR SESSION

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Nov. 25. — (CP-Reuters)—In pursuance of an election promise, a bill has been introduced by the government reducing the life of the New Zealand Parliament to three years.

The last government extended the life of Parliament to four years.

The new bill also gives Naori voters the privilege of the secret ballot.

Great Britain has organized a balloon barrage for air defence.

BETTER BEAR DENS MOOTED AT COAST

VICTORIA, Nov. 25 — (CP). — Brula, residents of Vancouver and Victoria Park zoos seemingly are unconcerned over proposed legislation to air-condition their living quarters.

E. E. Winch (C.C.F.-Burnaby) gave notice yesterday he would introduce in the British Columbia Legislature a bill for better bear dens.

While the member drafted his plans for ventilated dens opening on hard-surfaced court yards, tree-shaded grass plots and concrete-lined bathing pools, park board officials shrugged off such ideas as "too expensive."

"Besides," said A. S. Wooton, Vancouver park superintendent, "grass plots wouldn't be sanitary and as for trees—well they'd have to be full grown to withstand the antics of such bears as Trotsky."

Trotsky is a half-ton Siberian bear acquired a quarter century ago.

SENT BACK HOME

BOBCAYGEON

The anniversary services were held at St. John's United church, Verulam, The Rev. Stirling of Fenelon Falls preached both services. Special music was rendered by the choir of the United church, Bobcaygeon. Both services were well attended.

HITLER PROPOSALS SEND BRITISH CALL TO FRENCH HEADS

LONDON, Nov. 25—(AP).—Great Britain has invited the French Premier and Foreign Minister to London to discuss Germany's ambitions in Europe, reliable quarters disclosed to-day.

Diplomats said the French statesmen "undoubtedly" would accept the invitation and study with Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Eden the future of the hitherto well-established British-French policy of collective security based upon the League of Nations.

This policy was said to have been challenged as a result of what were described as Chancellor Hitler's demands to Viscount Halifax, Lord President of the Council, during his recent visit to Germany.

The proposed talks with Premier Chautemps and Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos were expected to be more than a conference on Lord Halifax's discussions with Hitler. Informed sources saw them as preparation for Delbos' coming tour of European capitals.

A Government spokesman said at Paris Premier Chautemps and Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos, expect to go to London next Monday.

Hitler's main demands, according to a consensus of the British press, were:

1. Recognition of Germany's right to colonies in return for German willingness to delay action on the matter for six years.

2. A free hand for Germany to obtain the return to the Reich of her national minorities in Austria and Czechoslocakia, with the reservation that Germany was not to use force.

3. A four-power agreement among Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy.

Germany would not return to the League of Nations, it was stated, until these conditions were fulfilled.

Informed quarters said the conditions would be impossible without the abandonment of the British-French collective security policy which makes a guarantee of Russian and eastern European frontiers as much a part of a general settlement as a western European agreement.

Beauty Is Troubled By Long Name

DETROIT, Nov. 25 (CP)—Tamara, dark-haired Russian beauty who is neither an acrobat nor a dancer but a singer of sweet songs, is tired of being mixed up with Tamara Geva, blond dancer, and Tamara, a circus performer.

She has recently been offered contracts to hang by her teeth from a tent-roof in Texas for 10 weeks and to pose for an advertisement with her leg wrapped round her neck.

Her life has been confusion ever since she lost her last name—Draisen—because it would not fit in an electric sign. She is now seeking a new name, "something short, snappy," before she returns to New York, following an engagement here.

Probe Death

Although Brunswick, Ga., authorities believed the death of Howard E. Coffin (ABOVE), 64-year-old nationally-known industrialist and friend of two United States presidents, was the result of the accidental discharge of a hunting rifle, at his winter home, an inquest was ordered. Coffin, who had entertained the late President Calvin Coolidge and former President Herbert Hoover on his estate, was killed by a single bullet from a hunter's rifle, which lay near his body in his apartment on Sea Island, Ga.

JAPS RAID NANKING KILL 40 CIVILIANS

SHANGHAI, Nov. 25 — (AP). — Two Japanese bombing planes protected by pursuit craft dropped a score of projectiles to-day along the main thoroughfares of Nanking, killing 40 civilians.

It was the first time Japanese planes had struck within Nanking's walls since Sept. 26. The National Art Gallery was damaged.

While pursuit planes engaged Chinese craft in a dogfight, the bombers passed through anti-aircraft fire to attack the Chinese emergency airfield between Nanking and Wuhu, a short distance up the Yangtze.

The bombardment came as a foreign sources confirmed reports long-awaited Russian manufactured planes had arrived at the capital to bolster the Chinese air force. The Japanese raid was believed to have an attempt to smash the new craft quickly.

Earlier to-day the 62 foreigners remaining in Nanking asked the Japanese to make their quarter a neutral zone to prevent possible destruction by bombs and shells.

Little Satisfaction.

Japanese authorities said they favored the proposal in principle but added there were military considerations which the army had to take into account.

The two warring factions issued conflicting communiques on the fighting along the Wusih-Kiangyin line, some 100 miles east of Nanking.

Japanese claimed steady progress, but Chinese said they were repulsing attacks south of Lake Tai and preventing attempts to land behind the Chinese lines. They asserted 10 Japanese launches attempting to cross the lake were sunk with the loss of 200 men.

North of Shanghai in Shantung Province, martial law was proclaimed in coastal Tsingtao because of threatened Japanese landing attempts.

((Reports from Hong Kong said Japanese planes bombarded Canton, killing about 100 civilians.)

PASTOR GETS LIFE, HAMMER SLAYING

PITTSFIELD, Ill., Nov. 25—(AP).—Rev. E. C. Newton was convicted to-day of slaying a loyal church worker and the jury fixed his punishment at life imprisonment.

The Missouri country preacher had pleaded he was the victim of circumstances in the brutal hammer-slaying last July of Mrs. Dennis Kelly, 45-year-old of Paris, Mo.

"I'm not surprised at the verdict because of prejudice in this case," said the 51year-old minister when his fate was declared. "I intend to ask for a new trial."

Merill Johnston, youthful State's Attorney who read to the jury Newton's purported "confession" to slaying his former Sunday school teacher "with something, I think a hammer" the night of last July 12, said: "I'm well satisfied with the decision."

Ship Flashes SOS Off Bahamas

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 25.—(AP).—Two coast guard cutters and a freighter sped to-day to the assistance of the British steamship Nollington Court which flashed an SOS last night after colliding with a submerged object in Machori Passage, Turks Island, in the Bahamas. A hole was stove in her side.

The Nollington Court, a 6,000-ton vessel, told the coast guard her pumps were keeping her afloat and there was no immediate danger.

The cutters Majave and Marion were dispatched by the coast guard headquarters. The British freighter Chagres also responded.

Stormount Mill Forced To Shut

CORNWALL, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP)—Due to a shortage of colored yarn, the Stormount Mill of Canadian Cottons, Ltd., was forced to suspend operations today. The shortage was occasioned by the shut-down yesterday of the Canada and Dundas mills of the same firm. In all, about 1,500 workers are out of employment. The situation was created through a dispute yesterday, which resulted in the refusal of about 35 men to continue work, and necessitated the company closing down two of the three mills.

GREEN GABLES BURNS

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP)—Green Gables, owned by the W. E. Sanford estate, and one of the largest residences on Hamilton Beach, was destroyed by fire last night. The loss was estimated at several thousands of dollars.

Fireman Robert McKay was overcome by smoke while fighting the fire and was rescued from the flaming building by fellow-firemen.

HERE'S THE SECRET OF SERVING GOOD COFFEE

● Carnation in coffee adds flavour and a rich colour. On cereals or fruit, Carnation takes the place of cream deliciously and economically. In all cooking where milk is used, Carnation adds richness, because Carnation itself is twice as rich as ordinary milk; smoothness, because every drop of Carnation has its share of butterfat.

All the food value of the best cows' milk is in Carnation, making it a splendid food for babies. In addition, it is more digestible and has extra "sunshine" vitamin D. Carnation is the evaporated milk the Dionne Quintuplets use.

Earlier to-day the 62 foreigners remaining in Nanking asked the Japanese to make their quarter a neutral zone to prevent possible destruction by bombs and shells.

Little Satisfaction.

Japanese authorities said they favored the proposal in principle but added there were military considerations which the army had to take into account.

The two warring factions issued conflicting communiques on the fighting along the Wusih-Kiangyin line, some 100 miles east of Nanking.

Japanese claimed steady progress, but Chinese said they were repulsing attacks south of Lake Tai and preventing attempts to land behind the Chinese lines. They asserted 10 Japanese launches attempting to cross the lake were sunk with the loss of 200 men.

North of Shanghai in Shantung Province, martial law was proclaimed in coastal Tsingtao because of threatened Japanese landing attempts.

(Reports from Hong Kong said Japanese planes bombarded Canton, killing about 100 civilians.)

PASTOR GETS LIFE, HAMMER SLAYING

PITTSFIELD, Ill., Nov. 25—(AP).—Rev. E. C. Newton was convicted to-day of slaying a loyal church worker and the jury fixed his punishment at life imprisonment.

The Missouri country preacher had pleaded he was the victim of circumstances in the brutal hammer-slaying last July of Mrs. Dennis Kelly, 45-year-old of Paris, Mo.

"I'm not surprised at the verdict because of prejudice in this case," said the 51year-old minister when his fate was declared. "I intend to ask for a new trial."

Merill Johnston, youthful State's Attorney who read to the jury Newton's purported "confession" to slaying his former Sunday school teacher "with something, I think a hammer" the night of last July 12, said: "I'm well satisfied with the decision."

Ship Flashes SOS Off Bahamas

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 25.—(AP).—Two coast guard cutters and a freighter sped to-day to the assistance of the British steamship Nollington Court which flashed an SOS last night after colliding with a submerged object in Machori Passage, Turks Island, in the Bahamas. A hole was stove in her side.

The Nollington Court, a 6,000-ton vessel, told the coast guard her pumps were keeping her afloat and there was no immediate danger.

The cutters Majave and Marion were dispatched by the coast guard headquarters. The British freighter Chagres also responded.

SHOOTS 95-POUND WOLF

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Nov. 25. — (CP).—Ray Waldron, Chatham, Ont., shot a timber wolf weighing 95 pounds while standing on a runway near Black Bay, Crotch Lake.

WELDON IS BOOKED TO GIVE LECTURE

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 25.—The St. Andrew's Young People's Society will sponsor a travelogue by Ken Weldon of Peterborough, globe-trotter on Dec. 6th in the church basement it was reported from the meeting held on Monday evening. Mr Weldon will supplement his talk with slides of his interesting adventures in 40,000 miles of travel in twenty-seven different countries.

It was decided to hold a Provincial Night next Monday.

The president, Mrs. Bruce Grills presided. Miss Jessie Linn conducted the impromptu program which followed, and included a piano solo by Miss Helen McGee, scripture reading, Murray Meiklejohn; vocal duet by Mrs. McGee and Mrs. MacMillan; piano solo, Charles Allan; the topic, "Loyalty to our Society" by Mrs. Charles Fraser. Rev. B. Simpson Black spoke briefly about the rally in Port Hope this week-end.

Stormount Mill Forced To Shut

CORNWALL, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP)—Due to a shortage of colored yarn, the Stormount Mill of Canadian Cottons, Ltd., was forced to suspend operations today. The shortage was occasioned by the shut-down yesterday of the Canada and Dundas mills of the same firm. In all, about 1,500 workers are out of employment. The situation was created through a dispute yesterday, which resulted in the refusal of about 35 men to continue work, and necessitated the company closing down two of the three mills.

GREEN GABLES BURNS

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP).—Green Gables, owned by the W. E. Sanford estate, and one of the largest residences on Hamilton Beach, was destroyed by fire last night. The loss was estimated at several thousands of dollars.

Fireman Robert McKay was overcome by smoke while fighting the fire and was rescued from the flaming building by fellow-firemen.

HERE'S THE SECRET OF SERVING GOOD COFFEE

● Carnation in coffee adds flavour and a rich colour. On cereals or fruit, Carnation takes the place of cream deliciously and economically. In all cooking where milk is used, Carnation adds richness, because Carnation itself is twice as rich as ordinary milk; smoothness, because every drop of Carnation has its share of butterfat.

All the food value of the best cows' milk is in Carnation, making it a splendid food for babies. In addition, it is more digestible and has extra "sunshine" vitamin D. Carnation is the evaporated milk the Dionne Quintuplets use.

MISSING FLIERS ARE FOUND DEAD

THE PAS, Nov. 25 (CP). — Body of Flying Officer G. H. Porter of the Royal Canadian Air Force, victim with Aircraftsman E. G. Doran of a plane crash at Morrison Lake on August 7, was reported found with arrival here yesterday of an Indian dog driver.

The two fliers met death about sixty miles east of The Pas. Aircraftsman Doran's body was found in the wrecked plane, submerged in Morrison Lake. Poor flying weather was said to have caused the crash.

The Indian dog driver bringing word of finding of Porter's body was Sam Pranteau, who mushes the mail from Grand Rapids, about 100 miles east of The Pas. He said it was found by Indians early this month, but could not be reported until ice hardened sufficiently to permit first dog-team journey of the season from Grand Rapids.

The stocky Indian driver said he was informed the body was found half a mile from the crash. Skin was scraped from hands and knees indicating a futile crawl for assistance by the injured aviator.

It was thought Porter either jumped from a burning plane or was thrown out while it plunged to earth. Forest fires were burning at the time and smoke is believed to have hindered the fliers' vision.

Old Enough To Seek Divorce Pointers

Sarnia, Nov. 25.

ADDRESSING a young woman sitting in the spectators' gallery in Lambton Court House, Mr. Justice J. A. McEvoy asked if she were not too young to be in court in view of the fact that a divorce action was about to begin.

"I am married," the girl said rising from her seat. His Lordship did not appear to hear the answer.

"She says she is married," a member of the Bar said.

"Oh, all right then," his Lordship agreed and the girl resumed her seat.

BUCKET BRIGADE PUTS OUT FLAMES

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TRENT RIVER, Nov. 25.—What might have been a disastrous fire broke out at the home of Mrs. George Dart, Tuesday morning. Fire was seen through a downstairs window by Mr. Fred Scott, next door neighbor, the alarm was given, friends and neighbors quickly gathered, and formed a bucket brigade. The blaze penetrated through the partition but through the efforts of those assisting, the fire was soon extinguished. Considerable damage was done to the interior of the house. The furniture on the first floor was carried outside.

Mrs. Dart is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Radcliffe at Rochester, N.Y., and Douglas was at work on the highway near Campbellford.

The cause of the fire is thought to have been a defective electric wire. Contents are partially covered by insurance.

DOG, HORSE SHOW WINDS UP ROYAL

TORONTO, Nov. 25—(CP).—This is Manitoba Day at the Royal Winter Fair, but to thousands of workers, officials and exhibitors it's just plain closing day. The tread of animal hoofs and the hammering as temporary fixtures go down were heard to-day. Many livestock men prepared yesterday to leave when judging was completed.

Market sales switched to cattle to-day and dog and horse show classes are planned, but other activities have concluded with the exception of horseshoe pitching. A parade of winning horses will feature the afternoon session in the Coliseum.

COUNTY CONSTABLES A GHOSTLY FORCE

Many Members Of County Force Been Dead Several Years Others Left The Municipality

New Constables Are Recommended By Members Of The County Council

The County Council made the rather sad and slightly humorous discovery this morning that its force of county constables was mostly a ghostly company, some of them dead these many years, some long resident elsewhere, and others far along the narrowing road of the sunset of life nearing the Great Divide.

Reeve Thompson of Norwood inadvertently disclosed the merely nominal aspect of the county constabulary by requesting that the authority of Harry Baker, recently appointed village constable at Norwood, be extended beyond its municipal boundaries into county precincts.

Reeve Anderson of Otonabee said the list of county constables should be revised, "because I think most of them are inactive and some of them are dead. I don't think Otonabee ever had a very active county constable."

Looked Up List.

At Warden Brown's suggestion, Miss Batten, clerk, turned up the list of constables from the minutes of 1932, and as their names were read out the representatives of the various municipalities reported whether these men were still on duty.

Some of them were as follows: T. Walsh of Westwood, gone from that vicinity about fifteen years ago; E. Williams, Havelock, dead; R. J. Webster, Lakefield, dead; Archie Moore, Peterborough, inactive and retired; Norris Whitney of Oak Lake, Belmont, past seventy; R. Scott, Norwood, moved to St. Catharines many years ago; J. O'Brien, Douro, dead a long time; Harry McLaughlin, Keene, transferred to Bridgenorth; H. Clements, Warsaw, dead; Augustus Whibbs, Indian River, "getting old but still a good constable"; J. J. Davis, Curve Lake, dead; Isaac Puffer, Norwood, far advanced in years; and so on.

New appointments recommended this morning were: Chief Constable, W. Hendren, Lakefield; Harry Ayotte, Douro; Fred Bowen, Cordova; Bruce Menzies, Chamberlain Street, proposed by Reeve Milby of North Monaghan; C. O'Riley, Ennismore; H. Parkison, Lakefield; H. Baker, Norwood; Frank Brown, Keene; Edmond Dickson, Otonabee; John Smith, Nogie's Creek; Percy Darling, Young's Point; W. D. Wilson, Westwood; John Fulton, Buckhorn; Roland Payne, Warsaw.

No Salary Paid.

The county does not pay salaries to its constables, but they receive fees for any work they do. Men who were suggested this morning have first to decide that they will accept the authority, and must be sworn in by Judge Smoke.

Reeve Anderson said it was highly important to the rural municipalities that constables be appointed. He was informed that, if a provincial constable was required in the country, permission had to be obtained from headquarters in Toronto. "That is too roundabout, and it wouldn't cost us any more if we had men of authority in our own sections. In recent months we have had some severe losses to farmers by dogs killing sheep, and there should be some check on dogs to see that the Sheep Protection Act is enforced. A local man could do that work more quickly and would probably be in a better position to know where to go."

Reeve Griffith of Belmont supported the movement to revise the county constable list. "We need young men who are not too nosey and officious. There is such a thing as causing trouble, and we don't want that. We should consider the personality of men who are appointed and make sure they are the right kind."

Injuries Are Fatal To Woodstock Boy

WOODSTOCK, N.B., Nov. 25—(CP)—Ralph Boyer, 10, died in hospital today from injuries suffered when struck by a motor car driven by Robert Brotherstone of Peterborough, Ont., who was absolved yesterday after an inquiry into the accident.

Police said the boy's sled, coasting out from a school-yard at nearby Wakefield Monday, ran under the wheels of Brotherstone's car.

Dies In Toronto

HENRY BEWELL

For several years a teacher at Norwood who died on Wednesday in Toronto.

HENRY BEWELL DIES IN TORONTO

On Wednesday, November 24th, at the age of 79, the death occurred in Toronto of Mr. Henry Bewell, who was well-known to many in the Peterborough district. In early life he was for several years a teacher at Norwood and had many life-long friends among its present and former residents. Mrs. Bewell, who survives, is a sister of the late W. R. Widdess of Peterborough.

Mr. Henry Bewell was born at Greenbank, Ontario County, on May 7, 1858, being the son of Mr. Henry Bewell and Margaret, Horne Bewell. He was educated at Port Perry High School, Galt Collegiate Institute and Toronto Normal School and in later years at Manitoba University. As many a farmer's son did in those days, he helped to educate himself by starting to teach early and earning money to continue his course. He taught for several years in country schools, his first school being at Scarboro, but later he was on the staff of Galt Collegiate Institute, Woodstock Baptist College and Brandon Collegiate Institute. Returning to Ontario he became principal of Mount Forest public and model schools, but after holding that position for several years went to Winnipeg as inspector and investment manager for the Canada Permanent Loan Company. He followed this work in Winnipeg for seventeen years, and later was investment manager for the Mutual Life of Canada at Regina for five years. Mr. and Mrs. Bewell had been living retired at 506 Dovercourt Road, Toronto, for a number of years.

In early life Mr. Bewell was an ardent amateur sportsman. In 1888 he toured Great Britain and Ireland as a member of a football team from Ontario. Two others of the team, Messrs. Garratt and Killer, are still living in Toronto. Mr. Bewell maintained a keen interest in sports all his life and even during his last illness wanted the sporting news read to him each day.

While a student at Galt Collegiate Institute he met a young man who is now President Cody of Toronto University. They became fast friends and their intimacy was preserved through life, although President Cody was very much younger. President Cody paid a visit to his friend in his last illness.

Mr. Bewell was always an ardent churchman, and wherever he lived was closely associated with the work of the Presbyterian Church. During his long residence in Winnipeg he was an elder in St. Stephen's Church and an intimate friend of its pastor, the late Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor).

Mr. Bewell married Miss Eulalie Widdess of Lindsay, Ontario, who survives him with their two sons, Ralph of London and Lloyd of Winnipeg, Manitoba. Another son, Fred, died in Winnipeg some years ago.

HAROVITZ QUITTING

CORNWALL, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP)—Mayor Aaron Horovitz, seven times chief magistrate of this city, announced yesterday he was retiring from municipal life. He was said to have been the first Jew to be elected mayor of any Canadian town.

Dr. W. A. Mulligan, reeve of the present council, and Dr. Elzear Emard, councillor, have signified their intention of entering the mayoralty race. Nominations will be held Friday and elections Dec. 6.

HEADS FARM WOMEN

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP)—Mrs. G. G. Anderson of Wingham was elected president of the United Farm Women of Ontario at its annual convention here yesterday of the United Farmers of Ontario.

Mrs. W. H. Hamilton of Renfrew was elected vice-president and third member of the executive was Mrs. G. B. Laidlaw of Wilton Grove.

WORLD TRAVELLER TELLS OF SLAYING ROMANOFF FAMILY

Relating his interview with one of the three Russian Bolsheviks who carried out the assassination of the Romanoff family in 1918, Richard Halliburton, world adventurer-seeker and author, told a Peterborough audience in the Collegiate auditorium last night of his proof that Anastasia, Romanoff princess who, popular legend says, is still alive and possibly somewhere in America, is dead.

"I saw Anastasia beaten to death with the butt of a rifle. She is the deadest princess in history. I spread her ashes with a shovel across five versts of Siberia." These were the words dying Peter Ermakov gasped out in revealing for the first time the full details of assassination in a Siberian prison guard-room, Halliburton related.

Brought to this city by the Lions' Club and addressing a gathering of four hundred men and women, the adventurer said an incurable interest in the story of the Romanoff family as the central highlight of the entire Russian Revolution for him, led him to Russia to ferret out for the first time the complete facts surrounding the assassination on the night of July 16, 1918. He said he found the prison in Ekaterinburg where the bloody event took place still standing despite the fact vicious struggles between the Red and White armies had centered around the town. Scores of bullet holes in the walls and floors of the guard-room of the prison still remain to bear testimony to the facts, he said.

In his tensely dramatic manner, Halliburton recounted how close he came to missing his great experience. He located and reached the bedside of Ermakov when the chief assassin had but a few hours to live with a serious throat ailment.

Kept Mute

"Until that moment he had kept mute on the subject of this massacre—one of the three men who knew everything. He, himself, helped organize it and carry it out. And then, for seventeen years, he listened, half-amused, neither denying nor affirming the wild rumours that spread around the world concerning the facts of the assassination."

Ermakov's confession was a matter of historic interest, for although half a generation has passed since the tragic and bloody night in Ekaterinburg, the story of the execution of the Romanoffs remains, like the beheading of Marie Antoinette, or the assassination of Lincoln, one of the most dramatic and most vivid chapters in history, he said. A very persuasive book had been written to prove that Anastasia, the Czar's youngest daughter, escaped and is still alive.

The Bolshevik related that he, with two Soviet deputies, herded the entire Romanoff families from their prison bedrooms at midnight into the guard-room and themselves fired the shots from Mauser pistols which felled them, Halliburton told his audience. The dying assassin told how Anastasia and a Romanoff family maid were missed by the bullets in the confusion and Hungarian guards finished the job with the butts of their rifles. He related before the close of his interview with Halliburton how he took the bodies to a lonely vale and burned them on a great funeral pyre, later scattering their ashes over a wide area.

One Of Three

The interview story was one of three which the eloquent entertainer told in his rapid-fire, colorful manner. He got many laughs reciting the story of his response to a schoolboy urge to duplicate the feat of Hannibal by renting an elephant in Paris and riding over the Alps to Turin, Italy. With his amazingly imaginative outlook, he told of the ponderous Dolly's difficulties in making the great climb, of disrupting church services in a small town enroute which had not seen an elephant since the time of Hannibal, of almost putting to flight an Italian army engaged at manoeuvres.

Highly imaginative but amusing was his story of his visit to Bagdad in his aeroplane, the "Flying Carpet," reliving the Arabian Nights by taking for a ride on his Flying Carpet the modern Prince of Bagdad.

Fred Cripps, Lions' president, introduced the speaker, reminding the audience that the lecture effort was in the interest of the Lions' boys' band endeavour.

U.F.O. DIRECTORS

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP) — The United Farmers Co-operative Company Limited elected the following directors at the annual meeting here yesterday: W. A. Amos, Palmerston; L. Currie, Strathroy; N. E. Lindsay, Renfrew; R. J. Scott, Belgrave; Agnes Macphail, Ceylon; W. C. Good, Brantford; W. G. Nicholson, North Bruce; Hugh Bailie, Dundalk; B. S. Milburn, Peterborough.

The last two directors were the only new members elected.

The contributions of old toys by citizens have been generous but more can be used now that December is almost here.

WAR CARTOONS AND PICTURES

Cartoons that caricature the "hated" Japanese and present the invaders of their homeland in anything but favorable light, adorn the walls of the kitchen at the Mayfair Restaurant on George street. In addition to the cartoons there are news pictures from the war front as well as maps of the war-torn areas, pasted on the wall, indicating the real interest which local Chinese are taking in the struggle that rages in their homeland. Among the news pictures was one captioned, "United States makes "Tommy" guns to aid Chinese".

PUBLISHES BOOK

"New Light From Old Lamps" by Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church is to be published next week and available in Peterborough stores, it was learned today. Sub-titled "Sermons for Today," the work is a commentary on present-day conditions presenting existing opinions in various spheres of thought and seeking to apply the Christian solutions. It is being printed by the Thorn Press, Toronto, and distributed by Presbyterian Publications. For the benefit of their society funds, the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's is now engaged in soliciting advance orders.

40 FARMERS AID IN BARN RAISING

Gathered together for one of those old-fashioned barn-raising bees so common in the days of yore, forty farmers from the neighboring district in North Monaghan and from as far away as Cavan and Smith townships joined in erecting a barn on the farm of W. E. Stewart, three miles west of the city on the Port Hope Highway, yesterday afternoon. The new barn will replace one destroyed by a spectacular fire a year ago.

The foundation of the new barn had been constructed and the floor laid by Mr. Stewart and his hired men. The forty volunteer barn-raisers began to assemble shortly after they had taken care of their noon-day chores on their home farms and found timbers all cut and laid out ready for erection. They set to work about 1:30 p.m. and by 4 p.m. the barn had taken shape with all wall and roof timbers in place. The structure measures 30 by 50 feet.

In accordance with old-time barn-raising tradition, the men assembled in the barn basement with the baskets their wives had sent along and enjoyed refreshments at the conclusion of the job. Coffee was supplied from a generously-large urn by the hosts. The gathering broke up with the approach of evening as the workers returned to do their home chores.

YOUTH GROUP HAS SUCCESSFUL RALLY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 25.—The regular meeting of the Campbellford Youth Group opened on Monday evening with the usual devotional exercises after which the meeting was handed over to the literary convenor, Miss Amy Gibbs, who conducted the balance of the program which was opened with a song by the group entitled "Saviour Like A Shepherd Lead Us". Alice Snelling led in prayer and Miss Phyllis Pickering gave a reading on "Fellowship". A vocal duet by Misses Joyce and Jean Pryke was much appreciated and Earl Johnson gave a few interesting bits collected from newspaper clippings. Miss Bernice Pickering gave a reading entitled "He'll Bring You Together Again," which was followed by a vocal duet "I Come to the Garden" by the Misses Phyllis and Lilly Pickering. Readings by Miss Beatrice Pickering and Mrs. Sharpe brought the program to a close. Following several interesting contests Mrs. Sharpe pronounced the Benediction.

CONCERT ARTISTS ARE AVAILABLE UNDER NEW PLAN

TORONTO, Nov. 25.— An interesting though entirely impromptu event occurred a few nights ago at the Union Station here when six outstanding Canadian concert artists met, each on his or her way to or from engagements for the Canadian Concert Association. Adolph Wantroff, Russian-Canadian baritone and his accompanist, Reginald Geen were arriving back home after a tour which included Sudbury, North Bay and Kirkland Lake. Reginald Stewart, distinguished pianist-conductor was leaving at 10.50 p.m. to open the first series of concerts under the Thunder Bay branch of the C.C.A., and Jean Chown, contralto with Adolph Koldofsky, eminent violinist and Gwendolyn Williams, accompanist, were catching the 11.15 p.m. train for Timmins.

In the hurry of getting home or boarding their cars, the unexpected meeting only lasted a few moments, Wantroff telling the others of the fine receptoin accorded him by the audiences in Northern Ontario, Stewart bidding all bon voyage and the Timmins party looking forward to their first journey to the great gold mining belt.

Mr. Stewart was actually starting upon a trip of many thousands of miles for, immediately following his appearance in Vancouver, he will set out upon the longest "jump" of his career, to Charlottetown, P.E.I., a distance by rail of 3,741 miles. His total mileage on this tour will be 7,482.

On the following day the Toronto trio left Toronto by motor for St. Thomas while Scott Malcolm and Reginald Godden returned from Sarnia. Immediately upon their return from Timmins, Mr. Koldofsky will go go on to Oshawa, where he will give a concert for the Music Study Club of that city.

On two occasions recently, George Mitford, director of the Canadian Concert Association has visited Peterborough with a view to including this city on the Concert Association map. Last Friday evening he outlined the plan of operation before a group of interested people who were largely of the opinion that Peterborough would welcome the opportunity of hearing fine concert artists in a series of three concerts each season. It was estimated that of a total membership of 500, approximately 145 members were assured even before the organization was statred. The names of Reginald Stewart, Mischa Elman, Ria Ginster, Wantroff, Etta Coles and Naomi Yanova and several others were mentioned as being available under the plan proposed.

A meeting is being held in the Chamber of Commerce this Friday evening at which time it is hoped that a goodly number of music enthusiasts will be present and that the decision to proceed with the plan will be reached, in order that Peterborough may have a series of concerts this winter.

Need Three New Motor Trucks For Collection Of Garbage

Cost Of Making Change Over Is Estimated At $21,800 By Property Committee

Cost of complete motorization of the collection of garbage, with the discontinuance of the system of private contracts, was estimated by the Property Committee of the Council Wednesday night at approximately $21,800, involving a fractional increase in the tax rate for this service next year.

Purchase of three new motor trucks was assumed at $7,500, a capital investment; operating expenses, including gasoline, oil and repairs, was calculated at $3,600, and wages of ten men at $10,700.

Alderman McIntyre, chairman, and Aldermen Wilson and Dutton were authorized to go to Hamilton and enquire into details of the garbage collection system of that city.

Aldermen Dutton and Wilson recently visited Toronto, and presented to the committee a comprehensive report of their observations with helpful information regarding the types of trucks used there, distance of haulage. Items of costs and other facts. Mayor Macdonald and Ald. McIntyre complimented them on the thoroughness of their enquiry and the manner in which they reviewed their impressions and details of Toronto's method of garbage collection.

The proposal to visit Hamilton was made by Mayor Macdonald. "That city is nearer our size," he said, "and it might be well to have some one go there and see what they are doing."

Three Trucks Ample.

Alderman Stocker seconded Mayor Macdonald's motion. With the present truck as an auxiliary, three new ones of heavier type were regarded as sufficient for collection service for the entire city. Reducing their guaranteed period of operation from twelve to six or seven years, Alderman McIntyre remarked that the capital expenditure would be only $1,000 a year.

One of the points mentioned in the Dutton report mentioned the Toronto practice of specifying the maximum capacity of garbage containers and the number to be collected from any one place, with an additional charge for other containers in excess of that number. Ald. McIntyre said he did not think a restriction of that kind was necessary for Peterborough, although Ald. Dutton remarked that several factors could be mentioned in its favor.

William Millen, foreman of the present truck crew, said that one grocery store would probably half fill the hopper in the Thursday collection. Some places in the west-end put out barrels of ashes that require two men to lift them, an abuse of the service, members of the committee commented, that should be corrected to lighten the work of the men.

Long Day's Work.

"We started work last Monday at 7 a.m.," Mr. Millen related, "collected six loads of garbage and five loads of ashes, finishing the day's work at 7.25 p.m., with only half an hour's rest for dinner. We have never had a full hour at noon since we started."

The district from London Street to Park Hill Road, and from the river to Jackson Park, will turn out on an average, at this season, three loads of garbage and three of ashes, and each load of ashes weighs about three tons. A day's work in the area from King to Hunter Street usually amounts to five loads of garbage and five of ashes. Mr. Millen and the committee agreed that present truck is too light for the loads it has to carry at present.

Work Is Appreciated.

Alderman Dutton paid a tribute to the spirit of co-operation shown by Mr. Millen and his associates. "We all appreciate the way you have done the work this year, and we hope you realize that it is still in an experimental stage. We still need more time to get to the stage of development we are aiming at, but we are doing the best we can to facilitate the work of collection, so that the men will not have to work any longer than eight hours a day at the most."

Mr. Millen thanked the committee for its expression of confidence. "We appreciate the treatment we have received by this committee, the week's holidays with pay and the friendly relations that have existed," he said.

The garbage collection tax rate this year is 8-10 of a mill, and if the department is motorized for 1938 the tax rate will be increased to more than one mill. This would be more than offset, Mayor Macdonald said, by an expected decline in the money required next year for relief and also the amount requisitioned by the City Trust Commission.

JANETVILLE.

MISSING CATTLE FOUND DROWNED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

JANETVILLE, Nov. 25.—The mystery in regard to the disappearance a week ago of a number of young cattle belonging to Newton Armstrong and Elwood Grandy was solved last evening.

The owners, while engaged in another search through their ranch, which runs along the east shore of the Scugog, were amazed to see the bodies of the missing animals floating in the lake.

Allan Irvine, a neighbor, found a couple of his sheep drowned also, and several more on the shore where they had been worried to death by dogs.

It is presumed the cattle were victims the same night, but the bodies didn't rise for a few days.

During the cold spell over the weekend the mill pond was frozen over and the younger folk had an enjoyable time skating and playing hockey for the first time this season.

LACK OF POTASH FOUND IN SOIL OF MANY FARMS

A general deficiency of potash was found to prevail in soils of 36 Peterborough County farms from which 80 soil samples for analysis were taken this summer by R. J. Bryden of the Department of Chemistry, Ontario Agricultural College. The final reports on the analysis were forwarded to the farmers concerned last week.

"A lack of potash is unusual, Agricultural Representative A. D. Runions commented, summing up the reports. Frequently are farm soils found low in phosphorous but seldom are they deficient in potash. Potash is a necessity in root growth so its absence affects the maturity of all farm plants, particularly the root crops.

Mr. Runions said a number of farmers in the County have taken heed of the soil-analysis results and have used straight potash fertilizers this Fall. Others have used the standard fertilizers of other years with increased potash proportions.

"The results obtained on these farms next year ought to demonstrate the advantage of soil analysis and the wisdom of the farmer in having full knowledge of what his soil has and what it lacks," Mr. Runions commented.

Mr. Bryden's tests revealed that Peterborough County soils are well supplied with calcium.

The soil samples were collected by Mr. Bryden on two visits to the County earlier this year. He obtained a number when grain growers met during the late Spring months and other samples were given him by farmers attending the County Plowing match. The 80 samples analysed were from 36 farms throughout the townships of the County.

It is expected that the reports from these tests will be given attention when the series of County meetings at which soil conservation will be discussed begin next week. The series was initiated by J. J. Duffus, M. P., who promised the County Council early this year that a thorough soil survey of the County would be made by the Government in 1938.

Married In Spite Of Air Tragedy

Prince Ludwig of Hesse (the new grand duke) and his bride, the former Miss Margaret Campbell Geddes, daughter of Sir Auckland Geddes, former British ambassador to the United States, are pictured at London after their wedding following the air crash at Steene, near Ostend, Belgium, in which the Grand Duke of Hesse and four members of his family were killed. They were flying to attend the wedding. As soon as the shock of the tragedy had passed, a conference was held between the bridegroom and the bride and her family. It was decided to go ahead with the wedding plans.

London's Great Armistice Silence Found Quiet As Purr Of Cat

London, Nov. 25 (CP)

THE great silence which descended on London, November 11 was measured and found to be as quiet as the purr of a cat.

Equipped with a sound meter Sir Christopher Robinson, secretary of the Anti-Noise League, made a test in the Strand. Five minutes before the silence meter registered 72 decibels—units of sound measurement. During the silence the meter recorded 32 decibles and afterwards 75 decibels.

While the noise during the two minutes was as low as the purr of a cat it was slightly louder than countryside sounds recorded in a field. These sounds usually measure from 25 to 30 decibels. Ordinary conversation corresponds to 45 decibels.

TORONTO CLARIONS SEIZED, MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Nov. 25 (C.P.). — Hundreds of copies of the Toronto Daily Clarion were stacked to-day alongside other periodicals, books, and documents seized here by Provincial Police raiders acting under Quebec's "padlock law" against Communism.

The 700 copies of the Clarion, which has supported the Communist Party in its columns, were taken yesterday in a raid on the paper's Montreal office. The office was not padlocked, though a fortnight before the officers had clamped a lock on the door of Clarte, Montreal French weekly.

Back numbers of Clarte were taken in yesterday's visit to the Clarion office, police said. A few old issues of Le Jour, Montreal weekly, also were found on the premises and taken away, together with some books, newspaper clippings, and correspondence.

(In Toronto, Thomas C. Sims, Clarion's editor-in-chief, said he believed Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec and other provincial authorities were "far exceeding their rights." He said there was "nothing un-Canadian, illegal, or undemocratic" about the paper.)

Second Raid on Shop

The raid on the Clarion office, located at the rear of the Modern Book Shop on Park Avenue, marked the second time the Provincial Police had visited the shop since Duplessis, as Attorney-General, put the law into operation. The first raid came two weeks ago.

At that time, the raiders seized a number of books and pamphlets. The shop was not padlocked.

The raid yesterday brought the total to seven since the province began implementing its new enactment, aimed at choking off Red propaganda. Hardest hit has been Clarte. Not only has its office been padlocked, but the police closed up the plant where it was printed and slapped a seal on the door of the rooming-house home of Jean Peron, one of its editorial writers.

Since then, though, Clarte has been appearing for sale in Montreal. In Toronto, Mr. Sims said the French weekly was not being published in the Clarion office.

KEEP REGULAR

TRANSPORTATION HAS NO SET LIMIT SAYS HUNGERFORD

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP).—Various systems of transportation, railways, highways, waterways and airways could find "their best field of economic activity" through co-operative action, in the opinion of S. J. Hungerford, president and chairman of the board of governors of the Canadian National Railways.

Addressing a civic dinner in his honor here last night, the railway president said "there is no set limit to the amount of transportation that can be sold."

Thirty years ago, few people thought there would be 30,000,000 motor vehicles on North American highways. Today air services were opening hitherto inaccessible parts of the world.

Mr. Hungerford, who is also president of Trans-Canada Air Lines, spoke of the part air services had played in the development of Canada in that respect. Trans-Canada would soon provide the Dominion with a coast-to-coast passenger and mail air service.

No Restrictions

Association of railways and air services would not restrict development of air services, he said.

"It is the settled policy of the Canadian National management to promote in every feasible way the development of this new air service and it will employ all of its facilities and resources for this purpose. I am sure that the association will prove to be mutually beneficial in a great many ways."

Trans-Canada Air Lines would develop a "substantial amount" of new business that did not exist at the present, he said, and would assist in the development of existing air services by providing "through" passenger and mail facilities.

Importance of railways in Canadian commerce and business was stressed by Hon. C. D. Howe, Dominion Transport Minister, in another address. Trains were the "great carriers" of the country's business and he hoped "the day will never come when their services are interrupted on a large scale."

CAMPBELLFORD

Mrs. M. Keighton and Mrs. Frank Outingdyke of Trenton visited on Saturday last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McAvella, Second Street.

Charged With Keeping For Sale Evidence In Court Reveals Purchases Totalling $622.05

Judgment Reserved In Charge Against Park Street Man

Evidence produced at an all-day hearing in police court here on Wednesday revealed that Alex Lyons, 534 Park street, North, accused of unlawfully keeping liquor for sale, spent a total of $622.05 on beer and spirits during September and October last. The amount did not take into account purchases he admitted he might have made at Port Hope and Lindsay during the same period.

After hearing the evidence and the arguments of Crown attorney and defense counsel, Magistrate A. E. Gee adjourned the proceedings until Monday next on which day he proposes to deliver judgment.

In his own defense Lyons who described himself as a retired railroader declared he had not sold any liquor, but had got rid of it in his capacity as "entertainer" for a distillery and also various brewing firms.

From the Toronto office of a distillery firm, Lyons said he received a weekly cheque varying in amount from twenty-five to as much as sixty or sixty-five dollars, while one brewery sent him a weekly cheque varying from twenty to seventy dollars, while another brewing concern was good for a weekly cheque anywhere from fifteen to twenty-five dollars.

Searched House

As the first Crown witness, Constable W. R. Piercy declared that on October 30 he searched Lyon's house but found nothing by way of liquor in the house. "I asked him what had happened to the liquor he bought the day before and he produced three 40-ounce and two 12-ounce empty rye bottles. He said 'It is all gone'," the officer testified.

On the night of the Policeman's Ball, the witness said, "Lyons was hanging around the Legion Hall." He was taken into custody by the witness and was detained at the station overnight on an intoxication charge, hearing of which is still pending.

Cross-examined the officer agreed Lyons may have bought a ticket for the Policemen's Ball, but he could not say whether or not Mrs. Lyons was at the Ball with her husband. On the way to the station he might have said to the accused "orders are orders."

David Fleming, manager of the Peterborough Liquor Store testified that in September the accused spent $89.25 and in October $87.80 on liquor purchases.

"You did not think he was purchasing so much liquor that you wanted to stop him as you had authority to do," defence counsel asked in cross examination.—"No."

Beer Purchases

Norman Hughes an employee of the Brewery Warehouse gave evidence of beer purchased by the accused during the two-months period in question. Figures were later given in evidence by Chief Constable Samuel Newhall showing that in September Lyons spent $215.19 and in October $229.10 in beer purchases.

The evidence of Constable A. W. Clarke which related to Lyons visit to the Policemen's Ball on the night of October 29 and his "intoxicated" condition was summed up by defence counsel as "verbiage that clutters up the records." There was no cross-examination.

Constable Newhall asked by the Crown what work Lyons was engaged in replied, "Not a tap 'I know except monkeying around with beer and liquor."

The Chief said he knew of Lyons as a "bootlegger" and alleged he has tried to give me liquor and has been interfering with members of the force." Witness declared Lyons had admitted on several occasions that he was a bootlegger.

Offered Chief Liquor

Asked in cross-examination why if Lyons had admitted being a bootlegger proceedings had not been instituted against him, the Chief retorted, "I know my business better than you do." When Lyons had offered him liquor on one occasion the Chief asserted, "I told him to go about his business."

The Chief related incidents connected with Lyons visit to the Policemen's Ball. He declared that earlier in the evening he had occasion to warn Lyons and subsequently gave orders that Lyons be taken into custody.

Witness stated he had seen Lyons in the Legion Hall "brandishing" a bottle of liquor and had observed that he made frequent trips outside to parked cars.

In cross-examination the Chief explained he had not been able to arrest Lyons in possession of liquor at the dance because he got out of witness's reach too quickly and the Chief was unable to follow him because he had recently recovered from a severe cold and was clad only in a light dress suit.

After Chief Newhall's evidence had closed the Crown's case, defence counsel argued there was no case to answer and urged the Crown had failed to produce any evidence of sale. On the contrary counsel argued an officer had sworn there was not a drop of liquor found when he searched Lyon's house.

Defence counsel did not agree that heavy purchases of beer and spirits made by Lyons shifted the onus on the defence and argued strongly, "You must actually find possession of liquor before any presumption of guilt arises."

Bench Makes Ruling

Ruling that the Crown had established a prima facie case His Worship called on the defence, following the luncheon adjournment.

Edgar Benson testified he was at Lyons' house on the night of October 29. He had a couple of drinks of rye there and afterwards went to the Policemen's Ball. Lyons was perfectly sober, the witness said.

Fred Greer offered similar evidence. He was at Lyons house on the evening of October 29 and had "a couple of small drinks of rye" in the company of Benson.

Frank Goselin speaking as to Lyons', condition at the Policemen's Ball declared "In my estimation he was sober."

Paid Social Calls

Garnet Walker, manager of Walkers Bread Company gave evidence of having been a visitor to Lyons' house on a few occasions in September and October. The visits had been social calls and witness had partaken of liquor there.

He told the Crown he understood Lyons was a representative of United Distillers but stated he only assumed as much from hearing the evidence produced at the hearing.

"What do you think of a man spending over $600 on liquor in such a short time," Mr. McElderry queried.

Witness who said he was at one time employed as a brewer's representative replied he knew something about "spending allowances." He himself had received a weekly allowance of seventy-five dollars "travelling and entertaining expenses," he said.

In reply to further cross-examination witness explained, "I did not mean to say I received the whole of that amount. I had about forty dollars per week."

It was, Walker said, the only way the law allowed liquor to be advertised and brewing concerns used this means of "entertaining."

Lawrence O'Brien stated Lyons called for witness and three girls at a Simcoe street address on the evening of the twenty-ninth October. They all went to Lyons' house before going to the Policemen's Ball and had some drinks there as guests of Mrs. Lyons.

State Accused Sober

Witness agreed with other previous witnesses who had been at Lyons' house on that occasion that the accused was perfectly sober and did not have any intoxicating liquor to drink. He added that Lyons had no suggestion of liquor in the car, nor did he see Lyons "brandishing" a bottle of liquor in the dance hall.

Frank Hillier was at Lyons' house before going to the Policemen's Ball he testified and had "three drinks of rye." He had been there on several previous occasions often in the company of his wife. He saw no evidence of intoxication on the part of Lyons at the Ball and did not see Lyons take anything to drink at his own house.

Agreeing with all the other witnesses who had visited Lyons' house, Hillier denied that on any occasion he ever paid for drinks while there.

"From what we have learned Lyons was very hospitable that night," Mr. McElderry suggested.

Hospitable Host

"Well, it was the night of the Policemen's Ball you know," Hillier countered. He added Lyons was always very hospitable.

William Shannon of Toronto said he came to Peterborough on October 29 with his wife and brother-in-law. They had lunch downtown and then went to "Alec's place." There was something in the nature of a reunion during the afternoon and witness and his friends had some drinks before returning to Toronto. He declared "Lyons did not have anything to drink that I saw."

Going into the box on his own behalf Alex Lyons said he bought three 40-ounce and two 12-ounce bottles of rye at the government store on the day prior to the visit of the police. The liquor was all consumed at the house as witnesses had stated, he declared. He added that on the day of the Policemen's Ball he had nothing stronger to drink than "stone ginger ale."

"Uncalled For"

He declared that after being taken into custody by Constable Piercy outside the Legion Hall on an intoxication charge, he had told the officer, "I have to meet my wife. I think this is uncalled for."

Lyons stated Constable Piercy replied, "I'm acting on orders." Accused said he walked to the station with the officer and Constables Wheeler and Deannard were at the office as well as some specials. Later Lyons stated Constables Stevenson, Clark, and Naples were in the police station.

Accused said he owned two houses in Peterborough. He lived in one and rented the other for forty dollars a month.

While he did not admit being employed by a firm of liquor manufacturers, Lyons said he received a weekly cheque from a distillery firm and also from various brewers "for the purpose of entertaining."

"Do you understand it is proper for distillers and brewers to entertain like that?" he was asked.

"Yes. It is the only way they have of advertising," Lyons replied.

He declared the amount of his cheque was governed by the success of his entertaining and that success of his entertaining was judged by the amount of the firm's products sold legally through the government vendors.

Denies Selling Liquor

"Did you sell any liquor or beer in September or October," he was asked.

"No, sir, I never sell any of it," he replied emphatically.

Under cross-examination Lyons said he got a weekly cheque from United Distillers, Toronto office "for entertaining with the products of the firm" and which varied in amount from twenty-five up to sixty or sixty-five dollars. He said he also received weekly cheques varying from twenty to seventy dollars in one case and from fifteen to twenty-five dollars in another case, from brewing concerns.

"Your cheques depend on the amount of the firm's products sold in Peterborough," the Crown suggested.

"I don't know the cheques come any way."

Out of Question

Mr. McElderry suggested that Lyons was in the habit of taking orders for beer and liquor on printed slips, but the accused denied it. "It is out of the question now," he said.

He was unable to say from what source his beer cheques came. All the accused could say was that he received them from Waterloo and Hamilton.

Lyons recalled being at the Policemen's Ball but strongly denied having asked Detlor or Spargo to testify in court they had been drinking rye at his house that evening. Accused said he was perfectly sober on the night of October 29. He denied having been responsible for placing beer in Rooms 6 and 7 at a certain hotel on the afternoon of October 29, but admitted having been at the hotel in question.

Lyons did not dispute the figures relating to beer and liquor purchases but reminded the court there was a rebate of about fifteen dollars on every hundred dollars for empties.

"I do not usually reserve judgment. I like to dispose of matters as the cases are concluded especially where the liberty of the subject is at stake. But in view of the authorities quoted by defence counsel I might be justified in reserving judgment," His Worship declared, adjourning the proceedings until Monday.

Albert Matthews Becomes Lieutenant-Governor

Ontario's new lieutenant-governor, Hon. A. E. Matthews, appointed to succeed Hon. Dr. Herbert A. Bruce when the latter resigns his vice-regal post Nov. 30, is shown here on the steps of his Toronto home following announcement of his appointment. He will not have available as an official residence, Chorley Park, home of Ontario lieutenant-governors since 1915, since the Hepburn administration has announced its intention of disposing of the property. Mr. Matthew's own residence, 169 Warren Rd., Toronto, which may now become Ontario's government House, is shown at the RIGHT. The investment house head and brother of Hon. R. C. Matthews, former Bennett cabinet member, is pictured again at (lower RIGHT) along with Mrs. Matthews, who now becomes the province's first lady.

Financial Experts Concur Taxes Too Many – Haphazard

Royal Commission Will Tackle Problem And Seek Adjustment

OTTAWA, Nov. 25—(CP).—Taxes have probably always been too high to suit taxpayers. Lately they've begun to think also there are too many of them—and governments now are agreeing with them.

Not only are taxes too numerous in the opinion of many public finance authorities, but they are falling pretty haphazardly, without sufficient regard for convenience, ability to pay, effect on legitimate enterprises or economy in collection.

Like the weather, taxes have been a traditional subject of complaint—and the complaints usually got about equal results. Now the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial relations is planning to do something about it, beginning with its public hearings at Winnipeg starting Nov. 29.

The commission, headed by Hon. Newton W. Rowell, will tackle the whole Canadian tax structure, built up bit by bit in the last 70 years. It will try to devise some simplified formula for the most efficient collection of necessary revenue and for its fair distribution between the various governing bodies.

Present tax levels are due largely to expanding government services, increasingly demanded by the public, and, in less degree, to war costs. Last year, for example, the Dominion government collected $372,506,000, roughly three times the revenue collected 25 years ago. Other taxing bodies are doing about the same thing.

During the war tax practice was revolutionized. To raise the billions of dollars necessary then, the Dominion relied heavily on direct taxation, cutting deeply into the only tax field available to the provinces.

Some Thrice Taxed

During the depression, every possible source of revenue was explored by the hard-pressed provinces and municipalities. Undue inconvenience or inequitability made little difference in some instances. In some cases one income was subjected to three income taxes, federal, provincial and municipal.

Taxes of doubtful validity were collected, too, such as the gasoline tax. The legal question was whether the tax was collected directly from the motorist or from the vendor who passed it on in the higher price of gasoline. If the latter were the case, it would be an indirect tax, over which the provinces had no jurisdiction. It has never been directly decided.

British Columbia tried to impose a fuel-oil tax, collectd at the refinery, but the Privy Council ruled it out. When the tax was charged directly against the invidiual householder it was held valid.

Such taxes could obviously be collected with substantially less expense and annoyance at the refinery and then be passed on to the consumer, but under the present division of taxing powers the revenue would then go (as an indirect tax) to the Dominion—and the provinces saw it first.

Tax officials today recognize the lack of scientific taxation in the past. Some steps towards a measure of co-ordination were taken two years ago through the National Finance Committee (composed of provincial treasurers and the minister of finance) but little came of it. Each body continued to levy its imposts without consulting other bodies having jurisdiction over the same set of taxpayers. Overlapping, undue obstruction of business, nuisance, waste in collection methods, continued where they had been before.

Of growing concern is the increasing cost of "tax compliance." Finance department officials are studying it.

Business operating nationally, such as insurance companies, must estimate the requirements of each taxing authority under which they operate, file returns with each (10 separate returns being possible), and be liable to make their books available to any one authority at any time.

The more complicated and numerous the taxes, the more clerks and accountants they must obtain. Thus, in addition to the taxes they pay directly, they bear this cost of "tax compliance," which ultimately is passed on to the consumer.

Some finance authorities believe the elimination of this expense would materially lessen the tax burden, without reducing the net revenue to the several governments.

PONTYPOOL

Mr. Albert McMahon, Bert Richardson and Harry Carter returned home from the deer hunt on Friday with their full quota, and report deer plentiful.

Mr Verdun Fiske of Toronto spent the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fiske.

Mr. Edward Kellett and sons Ivan and Morley visited Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough on Sunday where Mrs. Kellett is a patient undergoing an operation last week.

Mr. Lloyd Webb of Tyrone spent the week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Webb.

Mr. Roy Kellett and son Gordon of Oshawa spent the week-end with friends around Pontypool.

Mrs. Fred Nimigeon visited her daughter Annie, who is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough on Sunday.

On Friday evening, Nov. 19th a jolly crokinole party was held in the basement of the United Church, Manvers, under the auspices of the Women's Association.

Seven tables were occupied for a series of interesting games at the close it was found that Mrs. James Richardson and Mr. David Thomas were winners and appropriate prizes were given by the committee in charge.

The ladies of the church had provided lunch which was then served and a social time enjoyed.

TRENT RIVER

Messrs. B. T. Lean, Frank Garneau, E. J. Lean (Cobourg), Gordon Lacey (Cambourne), Frank Cope (Toronto), returned Saturday from the north country bringing two deer home.

Messrs. H. Revoir, Mel. Wright, John Ruttan, Francis Ruttan, and Bill McLaughlin, returned Saturday with three deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dunford and daughter, Joan, were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Bolton, of Warsaw.

Mr. Ted Dunford of Peterborough was a Sunday visitor with his brother, Mr. Harry Dunford and Mrs. Dunford.

Our local hockey enthusiasts plan to get away to an early start this year. They are working on the grounds preparatory to flooding.

Mr. Carl Nixon returned Sunday from Selwyn after a few days spent with Mrs. Nixon and family. Mrs. Nixon accompanied her husband home and will remain for a few weeks. Miss Hazel Nixon left Sunday for Selwyn with her sister, Lois, and brother Morley of Selwyn, who spent Sunday with Mr. J. E. Nixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Richardson of Baltimore are visitors with Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Lean and family.

3-POUNDER TO LIVE

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Nov. 25—(AP).—A tiny mite of life, saved by a Caesarean operation a few minutes after the death of the mother, Mrs. Robert Helms, snuggled today in a hospital incubator. A baby specialist, Dr. Jasper Hunt, said the three-pound, 12-ounce girl, born two months prematurely, had a "fair chance" to live.

TRUCK, BUS DRIVERS TO BE ORGANIZED

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP).—Organization of all workers in motor transportation is being attempted by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employees, an affiliate of the All-Canadian Congress of Labor.

M. M. Maclean secretary-treasurer, said the brotherhood had set up an automotive section in which men driving buses and trucks on highways and in local transport were being enrolled. Already twelve strong lodges had been organized in Ontario and an application made to the Ontario Labor and Industry Board for a code covering the industry.

An attempt is also being made to organize men employed in garages and in servicing automobiles, apart from those in gasoline stations. They are being organized in the National Garage Workers' Union, affiliated with the All-Canadian Congress but separate from the automotive transport section of the brotherhood.

There was no thought of entering the field of automobile manufacturing, Mr. Maclean said, commenting on statements attributed to Joe Wall, Montreal organizer.

The United Automobile Workers of America, affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization, is already active in that field. So far, however, there has been no union attempting to organize the Automotive Transport Workers in Canada.

HASTINGS

Mrs. George Herriot of Percy township, who will dispose of her stock and implements by public auction on Wednesday, November 24, and who will in the future reside near Campbellford was pleasantly surprised on Thursday evening when over one hundred of her neighbors and friends assembled at her home for a farewell party before her departure.

Although taken by surprise the honored one graciously welcomed every one. A most enjoyable time was spent in round and square dancing with Mr. and Mrs. Rae Archer furnishing the music. The main feature of the evening, however, was the presentation of a beautiful cedar chest and a purse of money, the gift of her neighbours and friends, while Mr Peter Fairman read a suitable address. Little Shirley too was presented with a gift, a lovely set consisting of comb, brush and mirror, from her school associates of the Stone school.

The members of St. George's Women's Auxiliary had a busy afternoon on Thursday at the home of Miss D. Plant when plans were made for their annual bazaar to be held in Lynch's Hall, on Saturday, December 4th. A quilt was pieced and work done on the many aprons after the devotional and business meeting. A lengthy report of the Board meeting held in Swansea was received from Mrs. T. Johnston of Toronto and Miss Plant displayed many beautiful pictures of the new Aklavik hospital and of the missionaries in the far north. Three dollars was donated towards the western relief and it was decided that the treasurer pay the pledges and send seven dollars extra. A letter was received from a Prince Albert mission acknowledging the receipt of the gift of church linen, donated by one of the members at Easter. At the close of the meeting lunch was served.

SPLINTER IS COSTLY

LONDON—(CP).—A splinter that pierced the thigh of 12-year-old Alfred Coulson when playing on a council see-saw cost the borough of Brentford and Chiswick $50 in a case at Brentford county court.

School Attendance Drops At Hastings

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 25.—A decrease of twenty pupils, from the 1936 total of 171 for Hastings schools, was noted, when the average attendance figures for 1936 and 1937 were obtained from the principals of the two schools. Figures for 1937, are average since Sept. and 1936 figures are in brackets.

Public School: Senior room 56 (56) Junior room 48 (60). Total 104 (116). Separate School, Senior room 23 (28). Junior room 24 (28). Total 47 (56).

STATE MEDICINE NOT SATISFACTORY U.F.O. RALLY TOLD

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (C.P.). — The 24th annual convention of the United Farmers of Ontario entered its third and final day here to-day with sessions devoted to business connected with the United Farm Young People of Ontario.

Farquhar R. Oliver, member of the Ontario Legislature for Grey-South, was scheduled to address the meeting this afternoon. The secretary's report will be presented and officers elected.

The United Farm Women of Ontario held a special meeting last night apart from the general U. F. of O convention, and were addressed by Dr. J. A. Hannah of Toronto, chief medical officer of the Associated Medical Services Incorporated.

He criticised state medicine and advocated co-operative medical services such as his organization offered. The medical service was started four months ago and was initially financed by the Ontario Medical Association. There are 538 doctors in Toronto associated with the organization.

In Three Centres.

It operates in Toronto and in the counties of Norfolk and Oxford.

"The political implications of state medicine are not conducive to the type of service you as laymen will want," he said. "You cannot expect anyone to set down on paper the answer to the problem of medical economics."

E. R. Bowen, of New York City, secretary of the Co-operative League of the United States, told the general U.F.O. convention that if the co-operative movement in Canada were established on a cash basis it could control the price level and abolish unemployment. He stated a sound co-operative company could not be built when money was owing the banks.

LAY IN RUBBER STOCK

Uncertain developments in the Far East are causing tire manufacturers in Argentina to lay in large stocks of crude rubber.

Dog Fire-Fighter Valued By Owner

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (C.P.). — Marnie Brazen Marina, 18-months-old Sealyham, bred and owned by Mrs. Harry Giddings, Oakville, Ont., won the National Kennel Club Trophy for the best dog in the Royal Winter Fair dog last night.

Marina is an undefeated champion, and besides a row of ribbons that stretched across her stall had five big pieces of silver to represent her Royal Winter Fair winnings. They represented her victories as best in show, best Canadian bred in show, best Canadian bred terrier, best of her breed, and best terrier.

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD.—The old Hollywood hotel received a visit the other day from a woman who asked to be shown up to suite 204. The management obliged and, guessing from her manner that it was a sentimental pilgrimage, allowed her to spend some time in the rooms.

Jean Acker

What makes the incident dramatic is that the woman was Jean Acker and that the suite was the one in which she and the late Rudolph Valentino registered on their honeymoon.

Now a bit player in the films, Jean Acker recently took a small part in the picture, "Hollywood Hotel."

+ + +

Hardly what the gossips expected, but Elaine Barrie and John Barrymore just celebrated their first wedding anniversary. He worked all day on the set of "Romance in the Dark," arrived home in time to have a late dinner and to greet a few close friends who dropped in to join the celebration.

+ + +

Encouraging news for Anna May Wong. Her sister, who was in Shanghai during the early fighting, working in the customs office, escaped before the city's fall. The Chinese actress' father, brother and another sister also are safe—in Hong Kong.

+ + +

It's common knowledge that movie styles are copied by the dress manufacturers, but the record for one costume, believes Edward Stevenson, R-K-O designer, must be held by the wedding gown worn by Lily Pons in "That Girl From Paris."

One of the big manufacturers put out a copy at $19.75 and, in the last six months, has sold the dress to more than 3,000 brides.

Chatter . . Don't know whether she has it straight, but Anita Louise says that in moving, she found evidence of her telephone having been tapped . . . When he sailed for Honolulu, Pat O'Brien was told good-by at the dock not only by his parents but by his aunt and uncle Mr. & Mrs. Charles Taberner, of Milwaukee. The star brought his relatives out on a visit. . . .Al Wager, the theatrical booker who inherited a fortune not so long ago, is going into the movie business as a producer. Director Bob Florey, of Paramount, will be glad to hear from you if you have any Napoleonic relics you want to sell. . . .And the worst disgraced pooch in Hollywood is Luise Rainer's scotty, which trailed tar all over her newly decorated apartment.

Pat O'Brien

+ + +

Don't miss the Warner Brothers Cosmopolitan picture, "Submarine D-1." The camera goes beneath the sea and photographs a submarine passing under battleships, also the thrilling rescue of the crew of a sunken underwater craft.

It's trick stuff, of course, but so is "Hurricane."

+ + +

At the age of 20, Fannie Brice's daughter, Frances, looks a good deal like the star and sings most of her mother's famous numbers. She played in her first movie scene recently—one of the 500 peasant girls in "Rosalie," but, later on, may have a serious try at acting.

+ + +

Ten thousand yards of lace worn on the women's costumes for the Comus ball in "Jezebel" made this set one of the worst fire hazards of recent pictures. Studio assigned 19 firemen to the set and imposed a no smoking ban that carried the teeth of a $10 fine or instant dismissal from the payroll.

Only one caught with a cigarette was Bette Davis who paid the fine.

+ + +

HOLLYWOOD.—Here's a new party game to add to your list. It goes best toward the shank of the evening and is less destructive than wrestling, though not to be recommended if you bruise easily.

Glenda Farrell

Anyway, here is how it was played the other night at Glenda Farrell's house, by the star, Drew Eberson, Anne Nagel, Dick Powell, Joan Blondell and Gordon Oliver.

Blindfold two contestants and make them get on their hands and knees. Arm each with a rolled-up newspaper (not too tightly rolled) and give the go signal. Then let the players crawl around the floor and try to sock each other.

It has proved funnier to allow only two socks apiece.

+ + +

William Hopper, actor son of Hedda and the late De Wolfe Hopper, has put an engagement ring on the finger of Ann Evers, Beverly Hills beauty. Both are 22.

+ + +

It is always nice to tell a story of loyalty that paid dividends. Not so many months ago, four girls were modelling fashions in New York for the movietone news. Their names were Iva Stewart, Alice Armand, Irma Wilsen and Elizabeth Palmer. The girls formed a pact that one would never accept a job without the other.

About this time, Darryl Zanuck happened to see one of the fashion reels in Hollywood and was struck by the beauty of Iva Stewart, former contest winner of Hebron, Me. On his next trip to New York, Zanuck offered Iva a screen test. She refused it unless the other girls were given tests, too.

Because he admired the loyalty and because, of course, the girls were all beautiful, the executive agreed. Result was he signed the entire quartet.

What makes it a happy ending is that the options of all four have been taken up and they are going to work together in "Sally, Irene and Mary."

+ + +

The romance of Joy Hodges and Robert Wilcox may be waning, as Hollywood thought, but he talked to her long distance in her dressing room in New York right after the premiere of "I'd Rather Be Right." And when Joy's picture, "Merry-Go-Round of 1938," opens here soon, he'll call her from a Hollywood theatre to report on its reception.

Cantor's adventure into commerce must be good for he is opening a gift shop on Vine St. some time before Christmas. This in addition to his business in antiques.

+ + +

Chatter . . .Latest beauty on Rudy Vallee's arm was Hazel Forbes. They were at the Club Ball. . . And where was Robert Page?. . . Vallee's favorite drink is a frozen diaquiri, like they make them here at Lindy's. In the cocktail room at this spot the other night, he put in a request to the singer for "My Man." . . .Patricia Ellis planed in after film work in London . . Rose Stradna, the Viennese actress, is sending for her mother and father to come and live with her in Hollywood . . Shirley Temple's next vacation, coming up in a few weeks, will be spent at Palm Springs . . And here's a way for you to preview part of Virginia Bruce's trousseau. The start is buying a number of outfits that Dolly Tree designed for her in "Arsene Lupin Returns."

It's an extra thrill of David Niven going into the Lubitsch picture, "Bluebeards' Eighth Wife." Three years ago, when Niven first came to this country, he begged an invitation to one of Elsa Maxwell's parties so he could meet the director and try to sell himself as an actor. The crush was so great he didn't even get to say hello. Now, at long last, here he is working for Lubitsch.

Couple Launched On New Careers

Jackie Coogan, former child motion picture star, and Betty Grable, one of Hollywood's newest stars, are shown (ABOVE), as they were greeted with a shower of rice following their marriage in St. Brendan's church Hollywood. The nuptials, which culminated an engagement of more than a year, was witnessed by more than 150 relatives and Hollywood celebrities.

We pay the set a visit this week. They are doing a simple exchange of dialogue between Bette and a slave girl.

Sure enough, Wyler shoots it six times. When he lets her go at last, Bette is still unruffled. At the first opportunity, we ask her how she likes Wyler.

She knows what we are talking about and laughs. "Fine," she says. "Yesterday, he made me do a close-up 17 times. It was a new experience, but it was all right with me. You see, he doesn't just sit there and say, 'Take it again.' He tells you what was wrong and he is always patient—never raises his voice."

So maybe there won't be any fireworks after all.

+ + +

Bette, whose natural speech is crisp New England, assumes a southern accent in "Jezebel." She did it once before on the screen in "Cabin in the Cotton," but that was an Alabama accent. They have a special coach on the set to teach her to talk like a New Orleans belle. He is Dalton S. Raymond, L.S.U. professor, who came out to Hollywood on a sabatical leave and fell into the job of voice coach on the Mervyn Le Roy production "Deep South." Now he is converted to the movies and will stay in the film colony.

He says Bette is an apt pupil—that she is "speech-conscious."

+ + +

We conduct a few inquiries about "Jezebel" while we are on the set. Its heroine has the wilfulness of Scarlett O'Hara and the same attraction for men. But the story has nothing to do with the civil war. The climax concerns the yellow fever epidemic in New Orleans in the fifties.

The play also appeared before the publication of "Gone With the Wind." Owen Davis wrote it and Katharine Cornell and Guthrie McClintic produced it in December of 1933. Tallulah Bankhead rehearsed for the role, but her health broke down. Miriam Hopkins finally played it. The production had only 32 performances—was a Broadway flop.

+ + +

On another stage at R-K-O they are making a picture called "Easy Millions." Preston Foster, Sally Eilers and Big Boy Williams are in it. Christy Cabanne, an old-timer, is directing.

Wisecracks fly on this set.

They are shooting a scene of Foster being aroused from sleep to answer a telephone. Foster wants to do it with his eyes half shut, arguing that a sleepy man answers a telephone that way. Cabanne, for camera purposes perhaps, wants the eyes wider open.

In the midst of their argument, Williams drawls:

"What do you care, Christy? Half the people who are watching Foster will be asleep, too."

Bette Davis

Bette is a star who is used to getting a scene in a few takes.

William Wyler, who directs her in "Jezebel," always works the other way. He shoots a scene over and over again.

AIRLINER AND 6 MISSING

WARSAW, Nov. 24 (CP-Havas)—Three passengers and three crew members have been missing for 24 hours in a Warsaw-Palestine airliner, according to word received here today. The plane had not been heard from since taking off from Salonika, Greece, for Bucharest.

Uncle Ezra

PAT BARRETT

Pat Barrett, creator of the mythical station EZRA and radio character Uncle Ezra was born in Holden, O., in 1897. Pat trouped the country with his father and mother, studied architecture, but joined the theatre again in 1907 when he became a member of a Wellington, Kas., stock company. Especially able at character roles, Barrett continued with different stock companies, entered vaudeville and later married Norma Cuneen, also a professional performer. Signed on the radio in 1931, he created Uncle Ezra the next year and has developed him into one of radio's most popular characters.

Many Major Ground Gainers Develop From Grid Accidents

Morrison's Vanderbilt Hidden Ball Trick Chief Play Of Current Season

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Some of the more useful plays in football were stumbled upon occasionally.

The most widely discussed play of the year was conceived by Ray Morrison of Vanderbilt, but looks like an accident, and scarcely will be incorporated in the Commodores' or the system of any other coach. It served its purpose, however. It beat Louisiana State in an upset, 7-6.

Describing Vanderbilt's hidden ball trick, you run the risk of being warned to quit drinking the stuff before you go blind. The diagram looks like a map of Boston.

There have been several explanations, but motion pictures show that this is what happens before thousands of pairs of astounded eyes as Vanderbilt shaded Louisiana State by snaking a tackle, Ricketson, loose for a 56-yard touchdown run in the first five minutes of play.

Quarterback Reinschmidt deftly took the ball from centre, placed it on the ground between the legs of Hays, a guard, and faked out to the left as if he had the ball. Ricketson dropped back and fell on the ground as though he were down. Then, with the Tigers' defence sucked to its right, Ricketson got up slowly, picked up the ball, and scampered to the touchdown behind three linemen. Now you tell one.

◇ ◇ ◇

SPINNING THE SPINNER.

As related in the foregoing, many of our deceptive plays were born by sheer accident, most notable to which are the spinner and the dust-covered Statue of Liberty, more familiarly known as the Michigan "33."

Dyke Beede, Carnegie Tech back, stumbled upon the spinner in 1924. Taking the ball from centre, he spun around to hand it to another back who was supposed to come across. The other back wasn't there, and when Beede's momentum spun him around again he saw a gaping hole in front of him and shot right down the middle.

One of the late Dan McGugin's backs at Vanderbilt staggered into the Statue of Liberty. Dropping back to toss a forward pass, the pigskin fell from his hand just as he brought it back. For some inexplicable reason, a teammate was racing around behind him as he cocked his arm. He caught the ball as it fell from the would-be passer's hand and continued wide around end for a substantial gain.

◇ ◇ ◇

They're still working the quick lineup, too. In Hardin-Simmons' engagement with Loyola of Los Angeles, the ball went out of bounds, and the referee brought it in.

QUICK SCRIMMAGE.

The Hardin-Simmons players sauntered to their positions slowly. The Cowboy centre stooped down and apparently started tying his shoe laces. But instead he passed the ball back to a backfield man who lateraled to another back who passed down field for a touchdown.

The play caught the Lions' fast asleep.

But the officials, told by the Hardin-Simmons coach before the game that the Cowboys were going to pull the play, saw nothing illegal about it. The Cowboys had seven men on the line of scrimmage when the ball was snapped back.

Loyala pulled the same trick on Saint Mary's a week later.

Trick plays are great when the element of surprise is there, or when you catch the other side asleep.

Few go as a steady diet, but like the spinner, some of them serve to improve offensive football in general.

Leads Scorers

GORDON DRILLON

Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey league, are scoring plenty of goals with their wide-open brand of hockey this season. At this stage of the schedule, Gordon Drillon of the Leafs is leading the league in scoring points. Close on his heels is Harvey Jackson, one of his line mates on the high-scoring line of Jackson-Apps-Drillon.

Starting Lineup For N.L. Hockey?

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.— (AP).— Major league hockey, believes Bill Stewart, should adopt organized baseball's starting line-up rule.

Baseball rules require that a starting line-up be handed to the plate umpire before a game, while hockey law merely calls for a list of eligible players, leaving managers free to change their battle fronts at the last minute.

Stewart, new manager of Chicago Black Hawks, will ask the National Hockey League Board of Governors to adopt the rule as the result of a lineup-shifting contest with Manager Jack Adams of Detroit Red Wings last week. Adams refused to make a starting lineup, whereupon Stewart likewise refused. The match was delayed almost ten minutes while the managers and officials wrangled over which should put his team on the ice first.

DEMPSEY CALLS MAX SCHMELING TO BEAT LOUIS

The world's heavyweight boxing title will change hands with Maxie Schmeling becoming the first heavyweight champion in history to regain the throne if you take the word of Jack Dempsey for it. The former champion, regarded by many as the greatest of them all and certainly one of the most colorful men in ring history, expressed this opinion during a chat at dinner in his room in the Chateau in Ottawa this week.

Dempsey, a gracious host, looking little older than when he came within a second or two of recapturing the crown from Gene Tunney that memorable night in Chicago ten years ago, talked freely and engagingly of highlights in an illustrious career.

Can't Take a Punch.

There isn't much doubt in the "Manassa Mauler's" mind that Schmeling can repeat his victory over Louis when they meet again next July. Not because Schmeling is an improved fighter, but because in Dempsey's opinion the colored titleholder has not impressed him as possessing the rugged qualities necessary to sustain a champion of the world.

"I saw Schmeling beat him once, and Louis has shown me nothing since to change my mind about the same outcome in their next engagement," Dempsey declared.

"What do I think is wrong with Louis? Well, I'll tell you what I honestly believe it is. He's a hard hitter, but he can't take a punch. He showed that against Schmeling the first dangerous and smart man he met.

"Tommy Farr made him look like a 'bum.' By that I mean a 'bum' as a champion. He kept backing up, blinking his eyes every time Farr punched at him."

That type of battle for a champion plainly didn't impress Dempsey, himself a man who fought it out with every one of his opponents, drawing the greatest gates in boxing history.

He was impressed with Farr, but he doesn't think the Welshman can beat Louis. "Tommy's as game as they come, but he doesn't hit hard enough to make a champion," Dempsey went on. "Tommy is what we call a 'swinging fighter.' He steps in there and takes everything that comes his way. He lands often, but not hard enough to put Louis down."

Fought Under Handicaps.

Did he think Farr's story of being badly handled by Teddy Broadribb had anything to do with his defeat?

"Well, Farr went in there with two bad cuts over his eyes. He has a fair complexion you know, and cuts easily. That was a handicap, but I don't think he can beat Louis. Farr has a better chance of beating Schmeling. Maxie will be older when they do meet. He won't be as fast and he won't be shifty enough to stand off Tommy. Farr, I think, will be too strong for him by the time they get together."

PROS LIKE IDEA OF CANADA TOUR

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP)—Suggestion of Dr. W. E. Dean, Toronto, that a team of professional cricketers visit Canada has been received with interest here. Dr. Dean's idea arose out of the retirement of several of England's leading cricketers in recent years.

He suggested the team might include players like Jack Hobbs, Pat Hendren, Andy Sandham, Maurice Tate, Frank Woolley and Andy Ducat.

"I think it's a good idea," said Pat Hendren, genial Middlesex pro and idol of London crowds at Lord's. Pat has a warm spot in his heart for Canada. When he retired a few months ago he received letters of congratulation on his career from the big Dominion.

He thought some of the players would be glad to make the trip, although he would be free only in school holidays. Hendren now is coach at Harrow.

Members of the Marylebone Cricket Club team that toured Canada during the summer returned with glowing reports of the reception accorded them wherever they played and all hope to pay a return visit to Canada. Members of the team are holding a reunion dinner here shortly before Christmas.

The first cricket team to visit Canada, that of George Parr in 1859, was made up of professional players. It is not likely a team of pros playing in county championship class cricket could be selected of men who have retired in recent years.

'OLD VIC' HEAD DIES

LONDON, Nov. 25 (A.P.). — Miss Lilian Baylis, 63, manager of "Old Vic" and Sadler's Wells Theatres, died to-day.

She became manager of the Royal Victoria Hall, "Old Vic's," in 1912, and made it famous for production of Shakespearean and standard plays and opera in English.

She reopened Sadler's Wells Theatre in 1931 and combined the management of the two theatres.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd C'uckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

IT WAS quite a shock yesterday to hear of the sudden death of Eric Howe. We had seen him only recently and the husky defenceman looked as healthy and happy as ever. We liked Rick Howe a lot—so did every one who knew him. A pleasant and popular young fellow, liked by teammates, rival players and fans. He was with St. John's junior O.H.A.-ers here some 10 years back, later graduating to the Petes' O.H.A. intermediate squad and holding down a regular defence berth for several seasons. He was in the Senior City Hockey League last winter with Outboard Marines. Never a great scorer—he'd agree with a chuckle to this remark himself—Rick was a strong and efficient defender and opposing forwards respected his blocking ability. He was even-tempered and a clean player—any of his penalties being minor ones for unintentional infractions. An untimely end to a fine fellow.

* * * * * *

NETHER COACH Frank Buckland of the local Hockey Club nor Shorty Burgess, Colts' manager, expect to be very active this winter. The former has been sick and will turn the reins over to Pick Hines—friend of his and noted puck coach of parts—if Hines will take the task, Frank just sore of acting in an advisory capacity Of course, Pick Hines, if he accepts the post, will run the club his own way entirely And it must be a good way, judging from past results in London and Windsor. Burgess feels he will not have sufficient time to look after the juniors properly this year, so he will resign as manager but be willing to help in any way he can.

* * * * * *

SO IT is not like these two chaps, Buckland and Burgess, are retiring—no, they will be as interested as ever and around the O.H.A. teams quite a bit. But they will not be as active as in recent years. Both have done plenty of work—spending night after night at the rink for workouts or games and travelling all over with the teams—and we hope the officers and players appreciate it. Family life is often disrupted when a manager or coach in any sport is a married man with a family and yet is forced to spend a great deal of time on the road with a club. Though possibly it proves a boon to some hitched geese! Dunno who will manage the Colts.

CITY CLUB of Toronto and Orfuns clash here Saturday at 2.30 p.m. in Riverside Park. The second game of the semi-final serial, with the ex-Westsides—who knocked off Lindsay last year by a 12-5 count—down 14 points. It's a long time since a local team looked so well in the O.R.F.U. semi-finals (with a very fair chance of copping an Ontario title) and we should see a huge crowd of cash customers on deck this weekend. The Orfuns rate plenty of support, and they haven't been getting it at home so far this season. They came from behind to turn in a near-senior brand of rugby here two weeks ago to rub out Trenton Fliers, but hardly 400 fans saw the epic struggle. We'll never get senior football here with that kind of fan support.

* * * * * *

THOSE BIG City Clubbers will not accept that 19-5 win of a week ago at Orfuns' hands without making a lot of noise here this Saturday. They decline emphatically to concede a local win, claiming Orfuns were the luckiest blinkety-blanks alive to gain that edge at Oakwood Stadium. They hope to have their ace hoofer back Saturday and, with the squad bolstered plenty—and how those Toronto teams can locate starry subs when needed!—they will be tough to take here. Especially if the breaks go with 'em and against the homesters this time. They are powerful, experienced and full of fight. We expect 'em to dish up a dandy scrap here. But Orfuns ought to win.

SAYS THE Sarnia scribe: "Sarnia's two-time intermediate O.R.F.U. champions are preparing for their final 1937 appearance on the home field Saturday when they oppose Dundas Red Bombers in the second game of the semi-final round. Victory or a tie will put the locals into the final round likely against Peterborough. Ontario Union officials have given Sarnia management to understand that the title will be decided in a sudden-death game either at Peterborough or on a neutral field." 'Twas first expected that the finals would be a two-game series but it's getting pretty late and such a serial would take the boys out till Dec. 11th—a pretty late date for the gridiron game. So it'll probably be a sudden-death final and we hope to gosh 'tis here—always provided, of course, that the ex-Westsides don't gum up the works by booting the dope bucket for a loss.

* * * * * *

WORD HAS been received that P.C.I. Seniors and Barrie will meet Saturday a.m. on the back campus at Toronto Varsity in a sudden-death C.O.S.S.A. final struggle. Winner advances into Provincial semi-finals or finals—don't know which, to tell the truth—and loser knocks off for the season. From dope available, it sort of shapes up as a victory for Coach Bamforth's local Garnet and Grays. P.C.I. should be at full strength for the tilt and hard to stop at this time, since the lads are gunning for a title. We would suggest this slogan for 'em: "Smear 'em lads; remember the Barrie-Colts' puck series!"

* * * * * *

LOT OF interest apparent around town in the boxing show here next Wednesday We've had a number of inquiries, and quite a few fight fans have asked if we really thought it would be a hot card. We sure do—if the past reps of some of the starry scrappers listed is any indication. We look for three or four sweiegant bouts on this program, at least, and two or three heats to end abruptly by the kayo method. The Riverview A.C. gang has made no mistake in bringing in guys like Genovese, Darnbrough and Carter—they're Toronto headliners—nor in using such local fighters as Minicola, Jordan, Low, Chamberlain, etc. The amateur rassiin' exhibition on this program features Scotty MacKenzie and Harry Burford, Queen City middleweights, who grapple 30 minutes or for one fall.

Stratford Trims Oshawa In S.P.A.

TORONTO, Nov. 25. — Stratford Midgets showed brilliant form to trim Oshawa juniors 8 to 2 in the second game of the S.P.A. double-header at Maple Leaf Gardens.

The Midgets had too much condition for the Oshawa youngsters and after being held even in the opening frame, went on a scoring splurge in the second, picking up five goals and blanking the Motor City squad.

Jud McAtee was the leading scorer for the winners, netting three goals. Bobby Neilson and Hank d'Amore were also outstanding.

FAVORABLE VIEW N. H. L. NEW DEAL HEARD IN LEAGUE

Looking over reports from the various centres where professional hockey has got under way there's a sign of all round appreciation of the change in the offside rule. The greater freedom allowed the players has resulted in less whistle blowing and more combination in play and now the arbiters will have an opportunity to demonstrate how much they know about the rule in a general way, for there'll no longer be any excuse for glueing themselves to the line as in the past and furnishing that volume of whistle music that proved nothing but an irritation to the fans. . . . There's that new red line on the ice thirty feet out from the goal representing the take-off for the penalty shot. . . . Latter has been so infrequently ordered into play in the past that the rule might just as well not have been in the book, and the only real emphasis laid on its existence so far has been Jack Adams' wail to effect that it will make goals cheap. . . . There are those who argue very forcibly to the contrary that the goalie have had so much advantage up till now over the sniper in way of bulky clothing and permission to flop all over the crease, that it's high time they were obliged to stand for an eye test, which the new penalty shot will undoubtedly provide. . . . But it won't be much of a test in any sense if the rule be not applied. . . . The action of the referees in the past almost forced one to the conclusion that they were afraid to enforce it lest some one of the team managers vent their wrath against them. . . . Just recently in Montreal when Boston met Maroons, Johnny Mitchell had an opportunity to let the 5,800 odd spectators see what a thrilling effect the shot under the new conditions can provide, but Mr. Mitchell either made up his mind that with only one goal separating the two teams it would have been a bit too severe at that point of was completely lost for a proper understanding of the rule. . . . When Tiny Thompson lunged out of his goal to snare the puck and missed it a Boston forward made a dive and smothered it with an immediate piling on of a number of his mates, thus preventing the attacking Maroons from getting possession of the disc in a very favorable position for a score, more particularly as the goalie was sprawled on the ice. . . . Mitchell calmly hustled the huddled players to their feet, called for a face-off when he saw distinctly that the puck was under a Boston player and consequently smothered by him in direct breach of the rule. . . . Right there a penalty shot should have been given, so it's a certainty that if the referees will be further permitted to make decisions apart from the written word of the book there'll be a continuance of the squawking that the N.H.L. authorities are trying to overcome. . . . Mr. Calder would do well to take time out and circularize each of his tooters along such lines.

'PEGS TO VIEW EASTERN FINAL

WINNIPEG, Nov. 25.—(CP). — Winnipeg's Blue Bombers, Western Canada Senior Rugby football champions, will leave for the East Dec. 2, nine days before they are scheduled to meet the Eastern Canada titlists in the Dominion final.

Twenty-six players will be named by Coach Bob Fritz to make the trip in the Winnipeg Rugby Club's effort to recapture the Grey Cup won in 1935 and brought West for the first time in history.

Blue Bombers will personally scout the Eastern final between Sarnia Imperials and the Big Four champions, either Ottawa Roughriders or Toronto Argonauts, Dec. 4.

Their plans thereafter are indefinite, but President Les Isard hopes to take the athletes to Ann Arbor for a five-day training program in the University of Michigan's field. While the Winnipeg team continues light workouts here no attempt at scrimmaging will be made until the team is in the East, Manager Lou Adelman said.

TWO ARGONAUTS PICKED ON BIG FOUR ALL-STARS

The Big Four football all-stars, with many a star left on the outside, came down last night almost on the eve of the final play-off struggle between Ottawa Roughriders and Toronto Argonauts. The Canadian Press announced the team, selected by sports writers and coaches.

Significant or not, four of Ross Trimble's Roughriders and only two of Lew Hayman's Argos were placed on the squad. Montreal Indians won four places, and Hamilton Tigers two.

Jotkus An Absentee.

The last group to be entirely satisfied with this brigade would be the selectors, whose difference of opinion made voting close for more than half the positions. Some of the season's most brilliant performers just failed to win election.

Among these was Toronto's Ted Morris, hard-running, tackling back, who has been recognized for years as one of the top line-wreckers in the business. Though he has made fewer long runs than in other years, Morris is finishing a campaign in which he hasn't failed to distinguish himself.

Pete Jotkus, perennial all-star of Montreal, was left out. So were Art West, sensational young Argo running back, and Bob Isbister, also o. the Scullers, and one of the union's best punters.

But the appointed backfield has about all a coach could ask—Elowitz to pass and run, Ferraro to plunge, pass and catch throws, O'Neil to run the ends and play safety, Welsh to punt. There's speed and size and experience in the group.

Ferraro, boss and playing star of the Indians, barely got the nod over Morris for flying wing. O'Neil got eight of a possible 16 votes for halfback, winning his post outright, but Welsh had a margin of only one vote over Isbister for the other spot and West was just two votes away.

Close Struggle on Half-line.

Other backs in the running were Ted Manorek of Tigers, Red Storey of Argos, Chapple O'Connor of Indians, and Morris, whose ballots were divided between flying wing and secondary defence half.

Morrison won the quarterback job by a 7 to 5 margin over Annis Stukus of Argos, with Ferraro winning two votes and Bill Stukus two. The little Ottawa field general, winner of the Jeff Russel Trophy in 1936, had never been given all-star recognition before.

Right down the wingline, voting was close. Ryan captured the snap post with seven votes to five for blond Bud Lewis of Argos and four for Curly Moynahan of Roughriders. Herman received eight votes for inside, the other position going to Palmer, who had five, one more than Brown of Indians.

Sprague and Burns, plunging middles, who also are perennial all-stars, won nine votes each. Clarence Burt of Argos, a great defensive player, had six. Cutler won nine ballots for outside wing, and Simpson eight, Tony McCarthy of Ottawa trailing in third place with five.

RUGBY SEMI-FINAL HERE ON SATURDAY

The City Club squad of Toronto tackles the local Orfuns here this Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in Riverside Park. It will be the second of the home-and-home series of the O.R.F.U. intermediate "A" semi-finals, and the Toronto team is 14 points down as a result of the 19-5 win for Orfuns at Oakwood Stadium last Saturday. With points counting on the round, the locals are favored to win out this weekend here and advance into the Provincial finals against the Sarnia-Dundas winner. A huge crowd of Peterborough and district fans is expected to view the gridiron semi-final scrap at Riverside the day after tomorrow. Orfuns appear headed toward an Ontario championship, and they are worth seeing. They need the financial and vocal support, also.

City Club is the team which played under the name of Westsides last year, eliminating Lindsay and falling before Sarnia in the finals. The Toronto players are husky veterans who had some tough breaks when they lost to Orfuns a week ago. They promise to make it a great battle here and maybe cop the contest. If the locals play up to form and do not get over-confident, they should win the series with this lead. But it will be fine football fracas between two near-senior squads—both battling hard.

Canadiens' Centre Breaks Left Leg

BOSTON, Nov. 25 (AP).—X-rays disclosed Wednesday Armand Mondou, centre for Canadiens, would be out of the National Hockey League limelight for eight weeks as a result of a broken bone in his left leg.

Mondou, whose goal for the Montreal team Tuesday night broke the Boston Bruins' six-game winning streak, fell and twisted his leg during a tangle with Eddie Shore, Bruins' defence man. He managed to skate off the ice after the accident.

Billy Beauhold, Jersey City, N.J., battler, is seen here as he bounces off the canvas after being dropped by Henry Armstrong of Los Angeles, featherweight champion, in the first round of a scheduled 10-round bout staged in New York. Referee Arthur Donovan stepped in and stopped the bout at the end of the fifth round. Armstrong was declared the winner by a technical knockout. The Negro has won all but one bout by the knockout route.

PATRICK PICKS HIS THIRD LINE FROM RAMBLERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (CP) — Through design or coincidence, it looks like Manager Lester Patrick of New York Rangers has another complete line to pluck up any time he wants.

First it was the famed Frankie Boucher, Bun and Bill Cook line that played with the National Hockey League team. For years they delighted the fans with their intricate passing. The years finally broke up that combination but Patrick had other complete lines to shift up.

Using Philadelphia Ramblers of the International-American League and New York Rovers of the Eastern United States Amateur League as his clearing house, he plucked up first the ace line of the Colville brothers, Mac and Neil, and Alex Shibicky. Then this year he moved up a combination made up of Clint Smith, Bryant Hextall and Bobby Kirk.

Another From Ramblers

Now it looks as if Ramblers can supply him with another.

The Philadelphia team swept to a 3-1 victory last night over Pittsburgh Hornets in the only scheduled Int.-Am. game. Pacing the attack was a trio comprising Lloyd Roubell, Barton and Gustafson.

In the first period it was Roubell who scored after his two linemates set him up for the kill. Then in the second period it was Barton's turn as Gustafson and Roubell figured in the play.

The only Pittsburgh goal was scored by Happy Emms, playing his first game for the minor league Hornets after being sent down from New York Americans with Dede Klein. Klein figured in the goal, scored while Murray Patrick and Wally Kilrea were serving major penalties for fighting in the third period.

Big Vernon Ayres, who also has seen service in the major league, put the game away with a solo goal near the end of the period.

Meet Barons Next

Hornets swing right back tonight to play Cleveland Barons at home while Syracuse Stars, one of the league's two unbeaten teams, will journey to Providence to play the Reds. Syracuse have won three and drawn two in their five starts to date, a record duplicated by Springfield Indians.

Announce Senior Swim Meet

The following is the program for the Y.W.C.A. senior swimming pageant to be held on Friday evening, November 26. The contests, which will be held in the Y.W. Pool, will start sharp at 8 o'clock:

Opening, Public School finals, diving competition, Littlefield Trophy, Pigeon race and address by Judge Smoke. Senior city championship, Morrow Trophy. Silver Pinnettes, ornamental swimming and figure floating. Egg and spoon race. Life-saving race, medals donated by the Ontario Life-Saving Society. Umbrella race. Hands and feet tied race. Candle race. Special trick swimming in costume by four members of the Silver Pinnettes. Balloon race. Under-water swimming. Fifty yards free style. Twenty-five yards free style. Grand treasure hunt.

Presentation of all trophies and prizes will be made at the close of the water pageant. Prizes donated by Judge Smoke and spoons donated by Mrs. E. E. Harvey.

AUSTRALIA GETS ENGLISH HITTER

SYDNEY, Nov. 25 (CP)—A young English club cricketer, described here as the "Bradman of English Club Cricket," has arrived in Australia where he will make his home. He is Norman W. Cutler who scored more than 3,000 runs in club cricket in each of the years 1934, 1935 and 1936. His total for 1936, in fact, was 3,701 from 40 innings for an average of 116.66. His best average, however, was in 1936 with 154.22.

In the last match in England, Cutler is said to have made a century against Mitcham in 48 minutes. Since 1931 he has made 70 centuries.

Cutler is being introduced to Sydney cricket circles by W. A. Oldfield, Australia's veteran wicket-keeper. He has joined Gordon Cricket Club.

One thing that always puzzled him, Cutler said on arrival, was why men like Don Bradman and J. H. Fingleton could go on the field in club games and repeatedly make merely double figures, whereas in international play they did practically what they liked with the flower of English bowling.

CHAPTER 46

As Tim awaited the fatal hour, the hands of the clock crept round. At 20 to 10 Tim could stand it no longer. He had suddenly discovered an excuse for action. If the thing was to come to a collision with the back of his car it was necessary that there should be tire marks leading down the lane; it would not do just to back the car up from the front gate of The Wilderness.

He put on his hat and coat and returned to the garage thrust the wire and stakes, together with a heavy mallet, into the back of the car, and drove out. He turned down the lane, speeded a couple of hundred yards along the road from Westbourne, and then made the circuit so as to enter Box lane from the Broadstock road. He drove down the lane very slowly, and pulled up at the point he had decided.

It was now five to 10, and he thought he could get to work. He took his gear out of the car and switched off the lights.

The work did not take him long. The earth on the banks took the stakes easily and held them firmly. He hammered them in nearly a foot without striking rock. The wire was now stretched taut across the roadway at a height of rather over a foot from the ground. By the light of his torch it was plainly visible at a dozen yard's distance, but not obvious unless one was looking for it. Tim kicked it once or twice. It yielded an inch or two, but showed no sign of giving way. He returned to the car, turned out the lights, and sat down at the driving wheel in the dark.

Twice he struck matches to look at his watch. Five minutes past 10 . . . Twelve minutes past.

The air was very still; it was likely that the sound of the bicycle would make itself heard in time to give ample warning. Seventeen minutes past; due now.

Tim began to bite his nails with anxiety. Suppose Adams was really drunk, had sense enough to know it, and was going carefully? . . . Or suppose there was something wrong with his bike, he hadn't taken it, was walking home, or worse, getting a lift?

There were a dozen possible slips, each in itself unlikely, but in aggregate amounting to a strong possibility.

Twenty past. . . . It came almost without intimation. The light hiss of tires suddenly audible, a leap of the heart, a tearing scrape of brakes, lasting the barest fraction of a second, and then the crash.

Adams had rolled over on to his side, near the middle of the road. Not far from the back of the car; another two or three yards and he would have landed on the top. Tim shone the torch on to his face. It was covered with blood and dust. There was an open wound on the front of the skull, from which blood was gushing. His right arm was bent in an impossible position.

Gingerly Tim turned him over, unbuttoned his shirt. The heart seemed to be beating, or was it his own racing pulse, communicating itself to the feel of the inert body? Never mind; no time to take chances. Tim straightened himself, gripped the torch more firmly, stepped back half a pace.

He knew where to aim. He lifted the torch.

He wiped it clean with his handkerchief, and dropped the handkerchief by the body. Safe enough now; Adams would never speak again.

What next? Rapid action; the letter could wait, but all traces of foul play must be removed at once. He had some difficulty in finding one of the pins, it had been dragged out of the earth, and torn from its fastening to the wire. Eventually he retrieved it, within a few yards of the car; he coiled up the whole apparatus and thrust it into the box under the seat. Time enough to dispose of it finally tomorrow.

He stamped down the earth where the stakes had been driven in, until he was satisfied no trace of the hole remained. The large stone by which he had marked the spot decided on he placed near the middle of the lane, to account for the accident. The bicycle had fallen against the bank on the right; he left it where it lay. Now for the letter.

But Tim had barely got down to the body for the second time before a light flashed in the lane above. It was Robson, the farm laborer in the cottage above, who came hurrying round the bend. Impossible to rifle the pockets of the body; Tim rose to meet him.

"Adams, ain't it, sir?" said Robson.

"Yes," said Tim. "I'm afraid he's dead."

"I knew he'd break his neck one of these days. I heard him whiz past just now, as I have many a time before, and then a crash. Yes, his number's up, Mr. Kennedy, or I'm a Dutchman. Proper mess, poor beggar. How did you get here so quick, sir?"

"I was driving home. I must have been just in front of him."

"How d'you reckon it happened? He didn't crash into your car?"

"No, it wasn't that. It may be he saw the car, thought he couldn't pass it at the speed, and braked too suddenly."

Robson's eyes fell on the stone. He indicated it with his torch. "That's got something to do with it, I'll lay. Wonder how it got there. We'd better get him to my cottage, sir, then you can drive for the doctor. Though I guess he's past doctors, poor chap."

Tim saw it was urgently necessary to make a move. Crowds collected round accidents, in the most unlikely spots, and once there was a crowd, control of the situation would be taken out of his hands.

"Yes, we'd better move him," he said. "But I think The Wilderness will be better."

"My cottage is nearer, sir."

"Not much. Anyway, it's uphill—take longer. And we can phone the doctor from The Wilderness."

"All right, sir. Shall I take the head?"

They laid him down in the hall. The cook had evidently gone to bed. Tim decided against waking her; the fewer people about the house the better.

"Will you phone Doctor Arkwright, Robson?" he asked. "In the meantime I'll see what I can do. . . . It may not be too late. . . . In the living room, the door on your left . . . one five eight, the number is."

Tim was left to himself for a few moments at least. He felt certain the letter must be on Adams' person; after the other night he would never have left it at the house.

BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SHOW

"Look, Unkie Wig! Look over there!"

Baby Bunty, the orphan rabbit, whispered these words to Mr. Longears as they were out in the woods one day.

"What is it Bunty? What do you see?" asked Mr. Longears. He was just going to twinkle his pink nose but he stopped it. For there was something in Bunty's voice that made the rabbit gentleman just a little bit afraid.

"Do you see a Bad Chap?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, my ears, no!" laughed Baby Bunty who really was very cute. "It's just some round balls over there in the woods under a tree. I don't remember to have seen any like them before."

"Maybe they are snowballs," said Uncle Wiggily, "though we haven't had any snow yet. My rabbit friends up in Canada tell me they have had some there, though."

"No, these aren't snowballs, Unkie Wig," said Bunty using the only two words of baby talk she was permitted. "In the first place they are brown. And in the second place they are too small."

Muddy?

"A snowball can be any size, Bunty," said Mr. Longears. "But I grant you if the ones you see are grown it isn't likely they are snowballs unless they have been playing in a mud puddle."

"Ha! Ha! laughed Bunty. "Wouldn't that be funny—snowballs playing in a mud puddle."

"Well, show me what you saw and I'll tell you about them," offered Mr. Longears.

"Over this way!" invited Baby Bunty and she led the rabbit gentleman beneath a large tree from which most of the leaves had fallen.

"There are the little brown balls," spoke Bunty pointing to a dozen or more mingled with the brown tree leaves.

"Oh, those are button balls or cotton balls," said Uncle Wiggily. "They are also snowballs, too."

"How can they be both?" asked Baby Bunty.

"Because they have inside them white, fluffy seeds, like cotton and when the balls are bust open and the fluffy stuff flies out it looks like snow," said Uncle Wiggily. "Look!" He opened one of the brown balls by crushing it in his paws.

All at once out flew what looked like a cloud of snow flakes.

"Oh, I must shiver!" laughed Bunty and she pretended to be cold though it wasn't real snow, of course.

Seed Balls.

"These brown balls are the seed pods from the sycamore or plane tree," Uncle Wiggily explained. "They do not often last as late in the year as this without bursting and scattering their snowy seeds."

"In the Fall, when the seed balls on the sycamore trees burst, the fluffy stuff flies through the air and in some places it is called 'snow.' These balls haven't yet burst for some reason."

"May I take some of these brown seed balls from the sycamore tree with me?" asked Baby Bunty.

"Yes," said Uncle Wiggily. "But what will you do with them?"

"Take them to the Hollow Tree School so the Lady Mouse Teacher can show them to the other children," said Bunty. "They might like to see it snowing when it really isn't."

"All right," said Uncle Wiggily. So Bunty gathered up many of the seed pods or balls, with the queer snow inside them and she and Mr. Longears started to hop home. Before they reached there something happened.

I'll tell you about it in the story of Bunty saving Uncle Wiggily. And I hope the puppy dog doesn't tie the pussy cat's neck ribbon on her tail and make her look as if she was carrying a flag in a circus parade.

NEW YORK VISIONS POWER ECONOMIES SEAWAY PROJECT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(AP).—The New York State power authority reported yesterday proposed government projects on the St. Lawrence river would result in large annual savings to electric consumers.

The report, comparing the economy of government Hydro Electric and private steam power supplies, was prepared for President Roosevelt by the State authority headed by Frank P. Walsh of New York City.

The report was transmitted to members of Congress by the President.

The State authority estimated the proposed government power development of the St. Lawrence, with a capacity of 625,000 kilowatts, operating at 50 per cent. capacity could deliver power to markets within a 20 mile area at a cost of 4.1 mills per kilowatt hour.

Equivalent service by private steam plants on a comparable basis it would cost consumers 6.3 mills per kilowatt hour.

On the basis of this comparison, the report said "the St. Lawrence projects could serve a normal utility load without auxiliary steam capacity at a saving of $4,975,468 annually as compared with a steam power supply for the same market.

Over 8 Million Saving

The report said that operating at 80 per cent capacity the St. Lawrence projects could deliver power in a similar market for 2.6 mills per kilowatt hour compared with five mills per kilowatt hour for similar service from privately operated steam plants.

The anual saving on this basis was estimated at $8,970,468.

The report said the publicly owned Ontario Hydro Electric System "offers the strongest refutation of the contention that Hydro-Electric power does not by itself afford a satisfactory source of power supply for a system.

"This system which is wholly dependent upon Hydro electrical power, serves 782 municipalities, including 26 cities, 98 towns, 275 villages and 383 rural townships.

"Perhaps the most striking fact is that this Ontario system provides residential service at the lowest rates on the North American continent. Other systems (in Canada) served entirely by Hydro electrial stations, have achieved rates for residential consumption comparable with those in Ontario and considerably below those in corresponding cities in the United States.

"The conclusion is irrefutable that a properly co-ordinated system of Hydro electric plants can be depended upon for power supply and that under both public and private ownership such power supply will make possible distribution of electricity at the lowest possible rates."

side pockets—not there. He felt something like an envelope in the buttoned hip pocket, and drew it out. . . . Yes . . . A superscription in Adams' writing—"Messrs. Major and West 163 Lincoln's Inn Fields." . . . Robson returned.

Tim slipped the letter in his pocket. . . . Not now. He would postpone the supreme moment; its savor would be sweater. He busied himself with the body.

For two hours he played a part. Dr. Harold Arkwright came, found that Adams was indeed dead, a police sergeant from West Shilston came, took statements from him and Robson.

Tim wondered what was going on in his mind. It was the same man who had been called to The Wilderness on the night of Esther's death. He must be thinking it a strange coincidence; two fatal accidents within three months, and Mr. Kennedy present in both cases. Was he suspicious? Maybe; but there was no motive now or then, and no proof, no possibility of it.

Tomorrow he would dispose of the wire rope and the pins safely at a distance. And in a few weeks, when the trouble had blown over, he would steal quietly out of West Shilston, never to return. Life would begin again.

London Entertains Leopold III, King Of The Belgians

MISSION IS HELD BY CHURCH ARMY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

APSLEY, Nov. 25.—The pupils of S. S. No. 1, Burleigh, supplied the musical part of the service at Eden United church, Haultain, on Sunday afternoon and demonstrated their ability in part singing in the hymns and the anthem "O God thou art the Light and Life", the trebles and altos being well balanced, and blending perfectly. Mrs. George Kilborn the schools music supervisor accompanied on the organ. The Rev. R. M. McMullin warmly thanked the pupils for their able and pleasing contribution to the service, and congratulated them on their musical talent disclosed by their effective and harmonious singing.

Captain Rowe of the Church Army in coducting a week's mission in Apsley and the other stations of the Mission. He conducted service at St. George's church on Sunday evening, when the large congregation were visibly impressed by his pleasing personality and earnest inspiring address.

Former Resident Dies

Word reached Apsley on Monday afternoon of the sudden death from pneumonia at Washington, D.C., of H. M. Emmal, a former resident here and proprietor of Selby Hotel. The news was a great shock to the neighborhood where "Monty" as he was popularly known, was a favorite with everyone, and whose services were always available to anyone in trouble or distress. He was president of the local Red Cross Branch when he left here a year or two ago. Sympathizers clubbed together and sent a beautiful wreath as a token of their esteem, for the funeral service at Washington, on Wednesday afternoon.

Friends of Mr. Fred Hie will regret to learn of his continued illness in Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough.

Miss Hilda Thompson, of Port Hope, spent the week-end the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Thompson.

Rev. E. M. Cook conducted anniversary services at Carmel United church Sunday School on Sunday. In the absence of Mr. Cook, Rev. A. L. Siscoe of Millbrook conducted afternoon services in the local United church. In the absence of the Sunday School superintendent, Mr. Fred Barnard on Sunday the worship service was conducted by the Ladies' adult Bible Class.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnard and Ralph left on Saturday to attend the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

The Examiner BULLETIN BOARD

LINDSAY ASSURED ELECTION FIGHT

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Nov. 25.—Lindsay is assured of a municipal election at the close of the present year. Mayor Dr. Logan, it is announced, will retire from municipal life at the close of his term, and it is believed that Ald. A. T. Claxton, will be a candidate for the office. Reeve Alex Horn and Deputy-Reeve J. Baker will again appeal to the electors for their respective positions. It is unofficially announced that at least three members of the present council will not seek re-election. The electors will also be called upon to vote on two measures—one calling for the erection of a sewage disposal plant and the other for the adoption of Daylight Saving during the summer months.

Scores of congratulatory messages went in over the wires today to Albert Matthews, who has been named Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario. May of them were sent by citizens who were school mates of Mr. Matthews at the old Grammar School, when John Hallett, who later taught in the Public School in Ashburnham, (now East City, Peterborough) was headmaster.

Assistant Game Inspector R. D. Windsor has returned to Lindsay after a nine-day patrol at Severn Bridge. He stated today that he never saw so many deer in his experience. Hundreds of hunters, including a great many Americans, came out with their full quota.

17 MORE TYPHOID CASES

WARRANT OUT IN PICKERING'S MURDER CASE

Police Reveal Victim Shot Through Heart

PICKERING, Ont., Nov. 26.—(CP).—Efforts to pentrate the mystery of the killing and mutilation of Michael Chevoluke, 35-year-old Ukrainian, centred to-day on a warrant police held for the arrest of a man wanted for questioning and the whereabouts of a woman they wished to warn as they feared she might also be killed.

Names of the missing persons were not revealed. Police said they knew the woman's name and wished to place her under guard to avert the second murder they fear planned. Inspector John Miller and two other members of the Ontario Criminal Investigation Department are working on the case.

Shot and Mutilated.

Reports unconfirmed by authorities said Chevoluke was shot through the heart as well as being mutilated by a knife or axe. Chevoluke was emasculated and almost decapitated Wednesday between this town on Lake Ontario 18 miles east of Toronto and his cottage at the Workman's Circle camp where he was the caretaker.

His head was resting on a magazine and the legs sprawled in the roadside grass when found by Herbert White, Pickering storekeeper, about a mile north of the town.

Police termed the killing 'a clear act of vengeance" on receipt of a post-mortem report. Reports the caretaker complained about petty thefts about the camp were investigated by police.

Chevoluke was known to have been in Toronto the afternoon before he was killed. Nicholas Kosak told police Chevoluke was in his barber shop at Toronto and "seemed to be in a very great hurry." Kosak said he had known Chevoluke eight years.

JAPS REPORT REDS MASSING PLANES

TOKYO, Nov. 26 (A.P.). — The Tokyo newspaper Hochi to-day published a despatch from Tsuruga asserting 1,500 Soviet airplanes had been massed in the maritime provinces, that part of Siberia nearest Japan.

The same source reported 1,000 Russian bombing planes were entering China by way of Sianfu, capital of Western Shensi Province, presumably to buttress China's resistance to Japan.

(Tsuruga is a port on Japan's western coast normally the terminus of steamship services to Vladivostok. Japanese correspondents there frequently forward rumors of developments in Siberia which are not confirmed. Latest reports have not placed the Russian air strength in Far Eastern Siberia at more than 700 or 800).

The Hochi despatch also said the Russians were rushing submarine parts to Vladivostok, where they were being assembled. This report was repeated in a Harbin, Manchouquo, despatch to the Tokyo Nichi Nichi. Transportation facilities on the Trans-Siberian Railway, main source of supply for Soviet forces in the Far East, were reported being increased.

(Reports that Soviet Russia was assembling a submarine fleet at Vladivostok and doing its utmost to increase the capacity of its railways across Siberia have been coming out of Siberia for three or four years, and in large measure have been confirmed.)

Freighter And Tug Risk Wreck To Save 35 Men

British Craft is Complete Loss on Bahaman Beach After Two Days and Night of Dramatic Rescues

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 26—(AP)—Tropical radio was advised today the 17 seamen remaining aboard the British freighter Nollington Court in distress off Haiti had been rescued by a tug, but that the vessel was a total loss.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 26—(CP Cable)—The British freighter Chagres arrived here today with 18 officers and men rescued from the Nollington Court. Crews of both vessels told of a grim struggle which ended with 17 crewmen of the Nollington Court still aboard their sinking vessel. Officers of the Chagres said they felt sure there was little hope of finding any of the 17 men alive.

On her way to England, the Chagres changed her course last Thursday and raced to the assistance of the stricken freighter which had ripped a hole in her bottom when she struck a submerged object in the vicinity of Turks' Island.

The Nollington Court, heavily laden with a deck-cargo of wood, had a marked list to port and was being swept by mountainous seas when the Chagres hove in sight, her crew said.

First thing the crew of the Chagres noticed when they got close to the Nollington Court was that the captain had all his men lined up along the starboard side. Later they learned he was giving the crew a chance to stay with their ship or take to life-boats.

In took more than an hour to manoeuvre the Chagres within hailing distance of the Nollington Court. First boat off the stricken freighter

JAPS TAKE OVER ALL OF SHANGHAI COMMUNICATIONS

SHANGHAI, Nov. 27.—(Saturday)—(AP).—Japan tightened her grip on Shanghai to-day by taking over control of all communications facilities hitherto held by the Chinese government in the International Settlement as well as the native parts of the city.

The post offices, telegraph and radio administrations and broadcasting stations XQHC and OGRG were placed under Japanese rule. Many of the principal offices and installations of these services are in the International Settlement.

Japanese authorities have not indicated whether they intend to establish their own censors in the cable and radio offices communicating with foreign countries.

Evangelist's Tilt On Spirits Gives Congregation Fun

Debate With Mediums Results In Bedlam And Meeting Breaks Up

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (C.P.). — Rev. Martin S. Charles still had his $100 safely pocketed to-day, his challenge to Spiritualism having produced plenty of excitement but none of the real McCoy in spirits.

What had been heralded as a test of Spiritism at Mr. Charles' church here last night developed into a debate in which more than a score of Spiritualists and most of the congregation took informal parts. The evangelist, a one-time magician, had offered $100 to any medium who could make a speaking trumpet dance in the church atmosphere or read the contents of a sealed envelope.

A doughty defender of her beliefs, Mrs. Sarah Jane Evans spoke for the Spiritualists who attended to hear Mr. Charles' expose of their practices. She made no attempt to call forth the spirits, but put the doubting evangelist under a crossfire of questions.

"Do you believe that while on the mountain, Jesus Christ communed with Moses and Elias—that He communed with them in the spirit world?" she asked. "Yes, I believe that."

"Oh, you believe that. Well, do you believe that a voice came out

Catholic Missionaries Murdered In China

Peiping, Nov. 26.

NINE Catholic missionaries in North China were murdered October 8 at Chengtin, South Hopea railway town, investigation indicated today. The victims included three French citizens, three Dutch, two Czechs and a Pole.

Their bodies were said to have been burned in a public square during the night. Identity of the murderers was not established. Catholic authorities, with the aid of the Japanese, were investigating.

Jobless Wage Earners Total 223,000 A Drop Of 45 P.C. In Year

Ottawa, Nov. 26 (CP)

UNEMPLOYED wage earners in Canada at the end of September totalled 223,000, it was reported today by the National Employment Commission. This was a decrease of 45 per cent from October 1936 figure, and last night The Canadian Press, made erroneous comparisons.

The number receiving unemployment relief in one form or another in October was 868,000, a decrease of 16 per cent from October 1936 but 1½ per cent higher than Sept. 1937.

Of the unemployed, 7.7 per cent were trade unionists in October, a decrease of 30 per cent from Oct. 1936 but an increase of 1.3 per cent from Sept. 1937.

Construction contracts awarded in October were 35 per cent higher than the total for October 1936.

FARMHAND JAILED 3 YEARS FOR THEFT, SLUGGING WOMEN

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Nov. 26—(CP)—David J. Lunn, Melrose farmhand, was sentenced to three years each on four charges in Kingston penitentiary, when he pleaded guilty to theft of money, indecent assault of Mrs. Arthur English, wife of his employer, assault causing actual bodily harm and assault of Mrs. English's daughter, Marion. Sentences were to run concurrent. According to testimony of Provincial Constable Carruthers, who arrested Lunn on a lonely road after the incidents, Lunn attacked Mrs. English with intent and struck her daughter when she intervened. Leaving the house the man stole $9 from a purse.

Cyril Harris, Sturgeon Falls, was convicted of passing worthless cheques in this city and was sentenced to serve two years in Kingston penitentiary. A number of former convictions were read into court proceedings before sentence was passed.

Hunt 3 Trappers Overdue In Bush

THE PAS, Man., Nov. 26 (CP).—Police and veterans of the Manitoba hinterland organized dog-team expeditions to-day to search for three missing trappers.

Fears were expressed the three men might have plunged through soft ice of Cormorant Lake, 40 miles north-east of The Pas. Those sought are Wilfrid Vickers, 29, son of Magistrate Hugh Vickers, pioneer of Herb Lake; George Turner, Cormorant Lake; and Leslie Turner, his 16-year-old son.

Magistrate Vickers and Constable J. Lee of Gillam planned a search trek by dog team from Mile 185, Hudson Bay Railway.

Two weeks of mild weather softened the ice of Cormorant Lake and northland veterans feared the trappers were caught on treacherous ice.

Arab Sheik To Die On The Gallows

JERUSALEM, Nov. 26 (CP-Havas)—The evident determination of the authorities to make an example of 75-year-old Sheik Farham es Saadi scarcely helped today to ease the tension created throughout Palestine by the continuing wave of terrorism.

The Arab sheik, condemned by a military tribunal as the leader of a terrorist band, faced death on the gallows at Acre tomorrow, following the refusal of Majoh-General Archibald Wavell, British military commander, to commute the sentence.

Pilot Starts Search In Light Plane, Of Mining Wilds

Officials Hope Craft Sheltering at Some Camp Waiting for Ice and Fog Hazards to Clear Up

HUDSON, Ont., Nov. 26—(CP)—Pilot Len Fraser of Starratt Airways left here this afternoon in a light Moth plane to search for the Airways missing Fairchild machine which left Pickle Lake Wednesday with 10 persons aboard.

The Starratt Airways plane, a Fairchild 82, took off from Pickle Lake for a 120-mile hop to Sioux Lookout. Officials believe the plane encountered fog and Pilot Ken Smith elected to land rather than proceed with visibility dangerous.

The Toronto-trained pilot was accompanied by Chief Engineer Keith Gregson of the airways firm founded nine years ago by R. W. Starratt, Moncton, N.B., who farmed in Alberta's Peace River district before establishing at Hudson, 18 miles west of here.

Reports said the plane carried nine passengers, all believed miners from the Pickle Crow workings. Their names were not available but a wireless message from Pickle Crow last night confirmed passengers were aboard the plane.

Officials of the air company expressed confidence the 28-year-old Smith made a safe landing and that the plane and its occupants probably are at Root Portage Camp, 6 miles north of Hudson. The camp is fully equipped with good shelter and food sufficent for several weeks.

Precedent for officials' belief the missing fliers are at Root Portage is the experience of two Pickle Crow mines officials, Jack Hammell and A. O. Smith, missing three days several years ago. They flew to Hudson when weather permitted them to leave the Root Portage refuge.

Ice Dangers Too Great.

Adverse weather kept aircraft grounded yesterday. A wet mist prevailed since Wednesday and flights would have been hazardous because of ice forming along the leading edge of wings and propellor.

Temperatures dropped early today, however, and a light snowfall was regarded as favorable to chances of an early takeoff by the search plane. Fliers said a plane could fly safely through snow.

The missing plane was equipped with skis a week ago when lakes and rivers showed strong ice surfaces, but the subsequent high temperatures honeycombed and weakened the ice in places. Officials said even if the weather clears the party might be marooned several days until a cold snap rebuilds the ice for a safe takeoff.

DUKE SWELLS LIST FRENCH NOBLEMEN JAILED AS PLOTTER

PARIS, Nov. 26—(CP-Havas)—Duke Pozzo di Borgo, former lieutenant of Colonel Francois de la Rocque, leader of the French Social party, was formally charged today with "association with malefactors."

The duke was lodged in a cell in Sante prison here after long questioning at Surete Nationale headquarters and a search of his home by Surete agents.

Pozzo di Borgo recently has been the bitter adversary of De la Rocque in libel litigation.

Great interest was attached to the duke's arrest in view of the investigation underway into the activities of the hooded Cagoulards, who the government charges plotted to seize control of France and restore the monarchy.

The Communist newspaper L'Humanite has repeatedly charged Pozzo di Borgo was a friend and accomplice of General Edouard Duseigneur, retired former air ministry official now under arrest in connection with the investigation.

When Col. de la Rocque formed the French Social party, Pozzo di Borgo turned against him, and the two have been involved in libel suits.

Yesterday the homes of seven leading members of the French Social party at Montbeliard were searched.

Searches Extended.

Pozzo Di Borgo was accompanied by two inspectors of the Surete National when he arrived at its headquarters for questioning.

Meanwhile new searches were added to those which have uncovered arms caches in cellars and provincial castles, and the examining magistrate handed down formal indictments against persons already under arrest.

Eugene Deloncle, a banker described as the financial backer and political brains of the secret society, was charged with "association with malefactors."

The same charge was brought against Count Hubert Pastre, owner

Canadian Cheese Tops All Producers Are Told

Better Price Sends Output Up To 10.4 P.C.—Commissioner Reviews Whole Situation

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP)—Cheese production in Canada was up 10.4 per cent, while that of creamery butter was down 1.5 per cent in the 10 months ended Oct. 31 as against the corresponding period of 1936, J. F. Singleton, Dominion dairy and cold storage commissioner, told the Cheese Makers' Association of eastern Ontario here today.

Cheese prices averaged 7.1 per cent higher this year and butter prices 12.5 per cent higher. Cheese prices still are relatively higher. Cheese prices stil are relatively higher than butter prices. The May-to-October period is the all-important one to producers as major production takes place in that time.

The swing of cheese exports to the United States last year after tariff reductions under the Canada-United States trade agreement was retarded somewhat this year, Mr. Singleton reported, but this was more than offset by big increases in shipments to the United Kingdom.

The commissioner found that some Canadian cheese was being sold in Britain as a United States product, although the U.S. has shipped no cheese there since 1930. "It is prob-

'Mixed Dress' Robbers Loot Beer Parlor

Los Angeles, Nov. 26. (AP)

THE scene in Ray Comstock's beer parlor yesterday was a little out of the ordinary, even as robberies go.

Three robbers walked in. One wore the white cap, sun-glasses and yellow slicker of a yachtsman. Another was dressed as an aviator, helmet, goggles and everything. The third wore a college boy's skull cap and sweater.

The fellow in the yachtsman's get-up shot open the cash drawer with a shotgun and the trio left with $20 and a bottle of whiskey.

BENNETT VISIONS NEW TRADE PACTS ENDING MANY JOBS

VICTORIA, Nov. 26.—(CP).—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett claims the Dominion Government contemplates trade agreements which "will be the harbinger of discord and conflict" rather than peace.

Contemplated trade agreements with Great Britain and United States would result in unemployment "to a greater extent than ever before in Canada," the former Prime Minister said last night, speaking in support of Bruce A. McKelvie, Conservative candidate in the Victoria Federal by-election of next Monday.

Mr. Bennett said his government of 1930-36 "during the greatest depression period the world has ever known" received nothing but complaints from the Opposition.

"But the country survived," he said. "With Canada also survived the trade agreements we arranged within the great family of nations that comprise the British Empire."

He declared the present Liberal government had swung around until in February this year it approved Imperial preferences arranged by the Conservatives by renewing the 1932 agreements with practically no changes.

"Now the government of Mr. Mackenzie King proposes to fall in with the idea that not the British family alone but others outside the family as well shall share in our good fortune.

Discord Not Peace.

"We are told that revision of the Canadian-United States trade agreement and approval by the Canadian Government of consummation of an Anglo-United States treaty will mean peace. But I say now that it will not bring peace. Rather, it will be the harbinger of discord and conflict."

Ottawa trade agreements concluded in 1932 with Great Britain and her Dominions resulted in huge increases in Canada's sales abroad, he

Conscript Wealth Before Taking Men

VICTORIA, Nov. 26 (CP)—J. S. Wadsworth, Dominion leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, said at a political meeting here last night that in event of war, Canada must conscript wealth before it begins to conscript men.

"The greatest thieves in Canada go free," said Mr. Woodsworth speaking on behalf of Prof. King Gordon, son of the late Dr. (Ralph Connor) Gordon and C.C.F. candidate in the Nov. 29 by-election to fill the House of Commons seat vacated by the death of Hon. S. F. Tolmie.

Rogers Urges Schools Teach Respect For Freedom

Living In Fools' Paradise If We Think Canada Free Of Ideas That Ruined Others

OTTAWA, Nov. 26—(CP).—Canadian schools and universities have the duty before them to "inculcate into the minds of our younger people a knowledge of and a willingness to respect" the basic principles of the Canadian constitution, Labor Minister Rogers believes.

In an address last night, the minister, a former professor of political science at Queen's University, said "In recent years I have been impressed with the willingness of the young people to forego security for some vague and nebulous reward which inevitably result in Fascism and Communism."

It was the responsibility of schools and universities of this country to see to it young people knew what they were giving up, he said.

"If Communism and Fascism make any headway in this country of ours," Mr. Rogers said, "it will be because of our own failure to appreciate the value of freedom."

In a Fool's Paradise?

Incidents of recent months, not confined to a single province, "suggest that we are living in a fool's paradise if we assume that our own country is entirely free from tendencies which have wrecked self-government and destroyed civil liberty in other parts of the world," he said.

Sees War Nearer Every Month

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)

VISCOUNT Cecil of Chelwood, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize for 1937, sailed for England today, reiterating the belief that an international police force should be organized to prevent the spread of war.

"I believe in force to keep order among the nations," he said. "I would not guess as to when a European war will happen, but I disagree with those who say it is less likely than a year ago. It seems to me that every month war becomes more likely."

Denmark reports its economic outlook to be the best in many months.

FOUR IN FIGHT FOR QUEEN CITY MAYOR'S CHAIR

Woman To Have Try In St. Thomas Election

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (CP).—Municipal election battles in several Ontario cities, including Toronto, Provincial capital, got underway today with official nominations. Large fields in several cities are expected to be cut down when the last hour for filing qualification papers arrives. Voting is December 6.

Four mayoralty candidates, all going to stay in, they say, are after the chief magistrate's chair in Toronto, though only W. D. Robbins and Controller Ralph Day are regarded as serious contenders.

In St. Thomas, Ald. Edra Saunders, barrister, was nominated for the mayor's chair. Mayor Ernest Duckworth was renominated and Ald. C. Donald Lloyd will also have a chance to leave his hat in the mayor's ring. Miss Saunders says she's going to run.

Three others besides the present mayor, Charles P. Dalton, were nominated for that office in Kingston. Here there was an acclamation for the two vacancies on the Public Utilities Commission. At Brantford four were nominated for the mayor's office being vacated by Hon. M. M. MacBride, Ontario Labor Minister.

Woodstock saw three nominated for the mayoralty and the three immediately filed qualification papers. Of course any one of them, or all, can formally retire again. Twenty-nine were nominated for the 10 council seats in the Oxford city.

Belleville this year will elect nine school trustees by a general vote instead of 21 by the ward system. Ten were nominated for mayor here and three are expected to run.

PICKET LINES FAIL HALT FORD PLANT

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26. — (AP).—Striking United Automobile Workers of America, massing a heavy picket line with the aid of other Committee for Industrial Organization unions, failed to-day in a second attempt to halt production at the Ford Motor Company's St. Louis assembly plant.

The picket line was broken, with little disorder, by automobiles loaded with workers and escorted into the plant by police cars.

At dawn, the first motorcade of 30 automobiles approached the main gate, where a police detail watched milling pickets. A few stones were thrown. An hour and a half later, a count made by newsmen showed 474 workers had entered the plant in 137 automobiles.

The gate remained heavily guarded by police although the large picket line dwindled as sympathetic union men dropped out to go to their jobs in other industries.

Cripple's Body Is Found In Snow

FOREST, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP). — Authorities today investigated the death of Clarence Bright, 23-year-old cripple of 10th Concession, Plymouth Township, whose body was found yesterday in a snowbank one mile from his home.

Bright was believed to have became exhausted Tuesday night while returning home from having supper in Forest with a friend. His home is two miles from here.

WAR AGAINST CANCER

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—(CP).—Cost would be no consideration in Ontario's "war" against cancer, Health Minister Harold Kirby said last night in an address at a complimentary banquet tendered him by his Toronto Eglinton constituents.

"We have declared war on cancer and cost will be no consideration," he said. "As fast as science develops new weapons to fight it we shall have them in Ontario and they will be available to those in all stations of life.

London Plans 9th Tunnel For Thames At Cost Of Well Over $15,000,000

London, Nov. 26 (CP)

A NINTH tunnel may make its way beneath the murky Thames. The London county council has decided to seek parliamentary powers to launch a scheme which will cost $3,000,000 ($15,440,000),

The tunnel—20 feet wide—would run parallel with the Blackwall tunnel between Poplar and Greenwich and each would carry one-way vehicular traffic.

The first completed Thames tunnel was opened in 1843 between Wapping and Rotherhithe,

JUDGING TEAMS ARE GUESTS OF COUNTY COUNCIL

City Council Guests At Banquet to Teams

Peterborough county council's complimentary dinner at the Empress Hotel Thursday night to the junior farmers of Arthur D. Runions' judging teams cast the members of the council themselves in a pleasing and characteristic light. They were giving the young people a pat on the shoulder not only for their success in ranking among the first flight of judging teams at the Ottawa and Royal Winter Fairs, but also as an encouragement for the future and as an expression of understanding of the difficult position in which the boys found themselves as successors to the champion teams of the two previous years.

Congratulations to the boys and also to the girls of the county demonstration team and to Mr. Runions, were extended by the council and also by their guests, Mayor Macdonald and nearly all the members of the city council, J. J. Duffus, M. P., Alex L. Elliott, M. L. A., and others.

The dinner was arranged on a scant twenty-six hours' notice, and was a thoroughly enjoyable affair, splendidly managed by the special committee, Reeve James Gifford, Ennismore, Reeve James Milby, North Monaghan, and Deputy-reeve Harry Ried, Otonabee. Members of the city council particularly enjoyed the thoughtful hospitality of the county administrators, according to comments heard among them afterward. The wives of the hosts and their guests were also present. Warden Roy Brown was chairman.

The Younger Guests

The junior guests of the county council were as follows: Girls' demonstration team—Laura Taylor, Reta Torpey and Alma Robinson of Otonabee.

Boys' livestock and seed judging team at the Ottawa Winter Fair—Jim Moore and Gordon Stalker of Smith; Jim Hunter of North Monaghan; Harold Donaldson, Otonabee.

Boys' livestock judging team at the Royal Winter Fair in which they ranked seventh in competition with thirty-seven teams—Bruce Graham and Archie Clydale of Asphodel and Ralph Hanbidge of Ennismore.

Boys' Seed Club team—Gordon Stalker and Jim Hunter.

Boys' Foal Club team—Clare Leahy of Douro and Jim Moore of Smith.

2 BUSH CHILDREN SAID BEYOND CURE

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (C.P.). — A Tomiko Lake settler's two crippled children, brought to hospital here for treatment, were said to-day to be suffering from hypertrophy of the muscles, an incurable disease.

The two, Mike Peterson, 17, and his sister Annie, 10, had received no medical attention until a hunting party led by David Loukideles of North Bay became interested in their plight after hunting in the Tomiko Lake area, in the North Bay district.

Cause of hypertrophy of the muscles was unknown, according to Dr. W. W. Barraclough, but it is not believed to be a hereditary disease. Muscles of victims are said to waste away and be replaced by scar tissue.

While the disease is incurable, it is not believed to cause death. Patients have lived a normal length of time while suffering the disease.

Doctors here, said the two patients were definitely not suffering spinal meningitis as it was at first believed.

JURY FINDS COMBA GUILTY OF MURDER, HANGS FEBRUARY 10

PEMBROKE, Nov. 26 (C.P.). — John A. Comba, 26-year-old Renfrew cripple, was convicted last night of the murder of a 13-year-old girl and sentenced to be hanged next February 10.

An Ontario Supreme Court jury deliberated four hours and forty-five minutes before finding the lame young man guilty of murdering Ethel Hedderwick in the bush where she had gone to pick chokecherries last August 3. Mr. Justice R. E. Chevrier pronounced the death sentence.

A hushed courtroom, filled largely with women, heard the verdict. The foreman of the jury uttered only one word, "guilty," and the crowd uttered an audible gasp.

Comba Led Search.

Comba, who, the Crown said, criminally assaulted the child and then killed her with a five-pound rock, heard the verdict without a show of emotion.

It was Comba who "found" Ethel's body, leading a search party organized to look for her when she failed to return with other children who had been picking cherries. He told police he stumbled over her as he broke through the underbrush during the search, and that he had kicked from its place on the ground a large stone beside her. The Crown claimed he had used the rock previously to slay the child and prevent her telling of his assault upon her.

The jury took the case at 3.35 p.m. after hearing addresses of the Crown Prosecutor, T. M. J. Galligan, and James A. Maloney, defence counsel, and the charge of Mr. Justice E. R. E. Chevrier.

His Lordship instructed jurymen to discharge from their minds all appeals to prejudice they might have and to base their decision on the evidence alone.

ROGERS PROPOSES SCHOOLS TEACH

The minister stressed necessity of political education in Canada based on principles of freedom, tolerance, unity and responsibility. "We must ask ourselves whether our Canadian systems of education tend to train our young and our older people in these essential qualities, which lie at the very base of our political institutions."

Merely to put such questions, he said, "is to raise grave doubts and misgivings concerning the adequacy of Canadian education as a support to our system of government.

"If I had the time to do so I could confirm these misgivings by reminding you of a number of incidents in recent months which have revealed a confusion of thought regarding the true meaning and value of civil liberty and an absence of conviction on the importance of national unity and the advantages of the democratic way of government. They have occurred in different parts of the Dominion and among different groups of our population."

Mr. Rogers said it would be an exaggeration to contend these tendencies were wholly due to failure to adapt education to the system of government of the country.

"I do believe, however, that a proper regard for the legitimate political ends of education would give us a far greater strength to prevent or resist attacks on freedom and unity whenever and wherever they appear, he added.

"Our educational institutions have a great opportunity before them, not with the idea of developing a formal system of instruction in the constitution, but rather the purpose of inculcating in our young people knowledge and conviction with respect to these basic issues of self-government."

ODD APPETITE

PORT ARTHUR, Ont.—(CP). — When a young man hailing from Toronto and calling himself De Villo marched into a newspaper office here, he gave the staff a real surprise. De Villo started eating razor blades, glass, bullets and other articles. He was eager to show anyone just how it's done.

TEACHERS ARE BLAMED.

WINDSOR. — Separate School teachers are much to blame for the fact that large numbers of Roman Catholics are falling away from the church, Rev. J. T. Maloney, Diocesan Director of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, told 200 teachers of the Essex County District Inspectorate in convention here to-day.

DANGEROUS WILD MONKEYS

Wild monkeys have become so bold in Durban, South Africa, raiding orchards and biting natives who tried to drive them away, that they are to be destroyed.

COUNTY COUNCIL ASKED TO IMPROVE ROAD INTO DOURO

Improvement of the road extending easterly from the Peterborough-Warsaw road past the Douro church was sought by a large deputation from the township at the meeting of the county council Thursday afternoon. Their request was referred to the county roads committee. The deputation was introduced by Reeve Frank Leahy.

P. G. Towns told the council the present road is narrow and crooked and dangerous to traffic. In some places it was dangerous for two cars to try to pass one another.

John Leahy, former reeve of the township, said this road was assumed by the county three years ago. "In that time I don't think a shovel of gravel has been placed on the road. The only work done was a little grading. If the county doesn't want to improve the road, we are asking that it be taken over by the Suburban Area Commission."

Martin Coughlin said that at times this road carried as much traffic as the Warsaw Road, and fifty per cent of the traffic to the north and east of the city passed over it.

Heavy Sunday Traffic

Rev. J. J. McCarthy, parish priest, informed the council that eight hundred people attended St. Joseph's Church, and a large number of them used the road in going to and from church. Father McCarthy suggested that a census of traffic on the road would be much more impressive on Sundays than on Mondays.

Centre of Township

Reeve Leahy and the speakers for the deputation contended that a census taken one Monday last summer counted the traffic from 9 to 12 in the morning and 1 to 4 in the afternoon, a time when traffic was comparatively light. Reeve Leahy said there was a church, two stores, garage, blacksmith shop and ten houses in the central community, that a great deal of the traffic to the city moved over the narrow, winding road the county had assumed and then left unimproved, and urged that it was the kind of road the Suburban Area Commission should improve if the council declined to do so.

Reeve McDonald of Dummer, expressed his support of the petition, and explained that road work had been curtailed because the county council had adopted a course of economy, appropriating less money for county roads during the last three years.

Road Rate Reduced

"Ratepayers wanted a lower rate, and when we put it down to 1.8 mills for county roads something had to be let go," Reeve McDonald said. "It seems now that a lot of the people are so favorable to our policy because they are asking for more road expenditure. The people of north Dummer are well served by the provincial highway from Lakefield and by the road to Warsaw, and quite a number of those in the south of our township use this road through Douro." He also was in favor of improving a road that would enable people to attend church, because that duty seemed to be neglected these days in some communities.

Reeve Anderson also expressed himself in favor of the petition. Fred Walsh spoke briefly as another representative of the deputation, and Reeve Milby moved that the Douro question be referred to the county road committee.

Deputy-reeve M. H. Johnston of North Monaghan said his township had drawn a lot of wood over the Douro road, and he knew it was not in good condition. "In fact it has got to have a lot of money spent on it to do any good, and Douro has got a lot of money in the last few years. We have started other county roads that have got to be kept up, and that is why we did nothing on this road."

Reeve Milby's Figures

Reeve Milby said the county and the Suburban Area Commission had spent $12,884.71 in Douro last year and the county road tax for this year was $2,350.77. Nearly as much money had been spent again this year. Most of the expenditure was on the Warsaw road.

Reeve Milby quoted corresponding figures for North Monaghan, $3,804.-33 spent on roads of the township last year and the levy for this year was $2,536.43.

Reeve Gifford suggested that the petition should be referred to the committee of the whole council, and Mr. Milby said that was his intention. The motion was changed to that effect, and Reeve Leahy withdrew his motion proposing that the Suburban Area Commission also consider the appeal of the deputation.

HANDS BADLY CUT BY PLANER KNIVES

MILLBROOK, Nov. 26.—H. Attwooll met with a painful accident on Wednesday, while repairs were being made to the planer in the saw mill, when in some unexplained manner his fingers came in contact with the knives and were badly cut. Fortunately Mr. Attwooll was wearing heavy leather gloves at the time, and though these were torn to shreds, undoubtedly they saved his hand from worse injury. Dr. Hobbs gave the necessary medical attention; the left hand is the one on which the first three fingers are deeply cut.

CENTREVILLE

The Women's Institute of Bailleboro sponsored a progressive euchre party in the community hall on Tuesday night. There were several tables and keen interest was manifested by the players. Following the games dainty refreshments were served and all report an enjoyable evening.

Ottawa Asked To Assist Young Farmers Start

U.F.O. Also Urges Ontario Set Up Rural Leadership, Sociology Branch At O.A.C.

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (CP)—Ontario's organization of young farmers—the United Farm Young People of Ontario—wants some help from the Dominion Government for young persons starting farming.

Concluding the United Farmers of Ontario three-day convention yesterday, the organization's youth movement passed a resolution urging the Dominion Government provide credit assistance to young people beginning their farming career on their own farms.

They passed another recommending the Ontario Government establish a department of rural leadership and sociology at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

The resolutions came after they heard Farquhar Oliver, U.F.O. member of the provincial legislature for Grey South, urge them to unite "in one gigantic organization to follow the middleway political philosophy expressed by the co-operative movement."

It was their duty to see Communism and Fascism made no headway in this country, he added, and that the farm movement "adopts the middle-way approach."

Mr. Oliver said there was need for extension of government credit to young farmers beginning their farm careers and he said he hoped pressure would be "brought to bear on the governments that some system of extension of credit to young farmers just starting up may be introduced.

He said he planned to work for a new system of farm credit in Ontario.

Vincent Black of Rodney, Kent County, won the U.F.Y.P.O. public speaking contest, speaking on: "Do we want democracy?"

FREIGHTER, TUG RISK PILING UP

brought 16 officers and men. A boat from the Chagres made the return trip and came back with three more, leaving 17 still aboard the hard-pressed Nollington Court.

Grim Battle in Darkness.

As darkness fell over the wind-whipped waters, a grim struggle began, with the Nollington Court drifting slowly before the wind and currents, and the Chagres attempting to stand by. At 10 o'clock that night, crewmen said, they stood to their life-boats as it looked as though they would have to go promptly to the rescue of the men still aboard the Nollington Court.

The damaged freighter's dynamo failed, and her wireless went out of commission but her captain apparently thought they could keep afloat and signalled the Chagres not to risk a night rescue.

At 2 a.m. the Chagres shivered from end to end and the word passed around that the Nollington Court had gone aground. Just a few minutes before, captain of the stricken freighter had sent up rockets signalling that his vessel was going ashore and urged the Chagres to save herself. A minute later, the lookout of the Chagres glimpsed the hill of Haiti rising ahead, and it was the sudden pull as the freighter went full astern that jarred the ship.

The lifeboats were again manned, but the Chagres was herself in such a precarious position that the crew dared not launch a boat. Helpless to do anything but save herself, she stood out from the treacherous shore and lost sight of the Nollington Court.

Switches Tactics.

"I'll ask you a question," Mr. Charles came back. "Whose voice was it?"

"Im asking you the question, said Mrs. Evans.

"Im asking you, Mr. Charles insisted. The congregation roared with laughter.

Howls of indignation burst out, interspersed by cries of "witch" and "sorceress," as the questioning proceeded. Finally, Mr. Charles said: "Say, who's preaching to-night, anyhow?"

Continued interruptions brought bedlam and the meeting, brought to order briefly by loud hymn-singing, broke up.

Mr. Charles did not say whether the $100 challenge was still open.

CARRY FIGHT TO LONDON

PONOKA, Alta., Nov. 26 (CP)—Alberta's Social Credit government is "prepared to carry its fight for responsible government right through to the Privy Council if necessary," Premier William Aberhart told a Social Credit meeting here last night. The premier was referring to the proposed Supreme Court of Canada reference on banking and newspaper bills on which assent was reserved by Lieutenant-Governor J. C. Bowen.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Nov. 26 (CP)—A brisk buying rally caused on reports of rust damage in Entrerios Province of the Argentine and late recoveries at Chicago instilled strength into Winnipeg Grain Exchange prices today. Final wheat future prices were 2¼ to 3¼ higher, November $1.11½, December $1.10¾, May $1.10¼, and July $1.06¼.

Chief influences that reversed a four-day market slump that sent wheat eight to four cents lower were revival of export demand for Canadian wheat, stock market rallies and forecasts of rainfall in the Argentine.

Export business worked overnight was estimated at 600,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and 300,000 to 400,000 bushels of United States grain.

of a chateau at Ivry-Sur-Seine which police have investigated. The count was also accused of illegally possessing weapons.

Count Pastre, who returned from Hungary and presented himself to police yesterday, was questioned this morning. He said that when he lent money to Robert De La Motte De St. Pierre, he believed it would be used for scientific work, and he had no knowledge of hidden arms.

Charges of "associating with malefactors were filed today against the two men first arrested in the investigation—Michel Hariste, engineer, and Paul Renne, salesman. They had already been charged with illegal possession of arms.

Henri Place, also arrested on September 16, was provisionally freed in the absence of serious charges against him.

A mechanic employed in a flour mill near Pontoise put police on the trail of a new suspect believed to have hidden arms for the Cagoulards.

NEW IRISH SENATE PROVING PROBLEM

DUBLIN, Nov. 26.—(CP).— How to elect the Irish Free State's new senate is the toughest problem of the preparations in full swing for introduction of the new constitution Dec. 29.

The constitution, sodpted July 1 last by a plebiscite, gave only a bare outline of the new set-up so that provision must be made for filling in the blanks by ordinary legislation.

Like the old senate, abolished some years ago, the new second chamber will consist of 60 members. Eleven are to be nominated by the Prime Minister of Taoseach (pronounced Teeshuck), three by Dublin University (Trinity College) and three by the National University and its constituent colleges.

The remaining 43 members must be elected from panels representing vocational interests but the constitution left it to the Dail (Parliament) to define the allocation of the seats among the interests to be represented.

The government brought forward the senate electors' (panel members) bill proposing that the 43 seats should be allocated as follows: Agriculture, 11; labor, 11; industry and commerce, nine; public administration, seven; and art and literature, five.

Various bodies chosen by the government of the day were to have power to nominate candidates for each panel. As a new senate is to be elected after each Dail election, it was suggested the best way to pick suitable men from the panels was to constitute an electoral college of all Dail candidates receiving 50 votes and over in the preceding election.

R. E. Council Centre Hastings Holds Rally At Ivanhoe

Irvine Bateman Re-elected President Of Organization For Another Year

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BONARLAW, Nov. 26.—The annual convention of the Religious Education Council of Centre Hastings was held in Beulah United church, Ivanhoe, on Wednesday afternoon. Afternoon and evening sessions, both of which were well attended.

The afternoon session was opened at 2 p.m. Rev. A. W. Harding conducting the worship period followed by an address of welcome from Rev. H. H. Lackey.

President Irvine Bateman extended greetings and called for reports from the various Department Superintendents which were very encouraging.

A round table conference led by Miss Tetannis Semmons, the provincial representative, proved very instructive. The temperance question was stressed and many excellent suggestions were made.

The evening session was opened by Rev. W. A. Hunter of Madoc after which the officers for the ensuing year were elected. The following officers and department superintendents were impressively installed by Rev. Canon W. G. Swayne of Bonarlaw:

President, Irvine Bateman; vice presidents, Mrs. Fred McCauley and Harold Varty, Arthur Wyatt and Wm. Johnston; secretary treasurer, H. M. Wood, Crookston, Ont.; assistant secretary, J. F. Baker Bonarlow, Ont. Department superintendents—Children's work, Mrs. H. Herrington, Thomasburg; girls' work, Miss Bessie Fleming, Ivanhoe; boys' work, Fred Elgie, Stirling; Young people's work, H. V. Hoover, Harold; adult department, Miss Ida McCaw, Queensboro; home department, Mrs. W. G. Swayne, Bonarlaw; leadership training, Rev. W. R. Tristram, West Huntingdon; Missionary, Miss Frances Keene, Madoc; temperance, Mrs. J. McCaffery, Madoc.

The secretary's report was presented by J. F. Baker who made a strong plea for promptness in reporting on the part of township officers as his report was incomplete owing to some failures this year.

Fred Elgie in a brief address explained some points in connection with older boys' parliament and the coming election.

Mrs. Chester Sills gave the report of the resolutions committee. The thanks of the association were extended to the officials of the church, the county officers, the provincial representative, the ladies and all those who assisted in making the convention a success.

Nine girls of Ivanhoe Public school contributed a pleasing chorus.

Miss Tetannis Semmons, official representative of the Ontario Religious Education Council delivered a splendid address on "Do our children need religion."

Carman Sine extended an invitation to hold the next county convention at Springbrook United church, which was gratefully accepted.

Pie Social Held

A very successful pie social was held at Bethel United church on Thursday evening of last week, pies of all descriptions being in evidence and a bountiful lunch preceding the pie course.

Rev. J. E. Beckel, pastor of the church, presided as chairman in his usual capable manner and Rev. Dr. Reddick, of Campbellford, guest speaker of the evening delivered a short but very interesting address. The following program was enjoyed by all:

Vocal duet, Misses Vivian and Ruth Wellbourne; reading, Miss Lulu Hoover; vocal solo, Master Bobby Elliott; reading, Mrs. Hayton; vocal solo, Mr. J. F. Baker; vocal duet, Messrs. Albert and Howard Hutchen of Burnbrae; vocal duet, Mrs. Morrow and Mrs. Warren; vocal duet with guitar accompaniment by the McMullen sisters; vocal duet, Miss Irene Tucker and Mr. Eric Cappell; reading, Mrs. Hayton; vocal solo, Mr. J. F. Baker; vocal duet, Messrs. Albert and Howard Hutchen.

News Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. John Sargent, of Belleville, and Miss Violet McLean, of Picton, were guests of Rev. Canon and Mrs. W. G. Swayne, on Sunday last.

A very complete report of the county Sunday School convention which was held at Beulah church, Ivanhoe on Wednesday last, was given by Mrs. Jason Baker at St. Mark's Sunday School, Sunday morning.

Following the regular league meeting in Springbrook United church on Monday evening of this week, a meeting of the young men of this district was held in the interests of the local candidates for the Ontario Older Boys' Parliament, Messrs. Roy Juby and Ralph Richardson, of Stirling.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. A. W. Harding, and Mr. Fred Elgie, district returning officer acted as chairman. Both candidates delivered splendid addresses outlining the work they hoped to accomplish and the planks in their platform. Mr. Elgie stressed the importance of this work and explained that voting would take place on Saturday, November 27. A pleasing solo was contributed by Mr. William Jeffrey.

SERVICE FOR TORONTO

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (CP).—Every consideration would be given to Toronto's service requirements when schedules for the trans-Canada air route were being drawn up, S. J. Hungerford, president of the Canadian National Railways and of the trans-Canada Air Lines, promised at the civic dinner that honored him here last night.

Toronto, he said, was the largest mail-distributing centre in Canada.

B.C. Court Moves To Bush For Trial

To hear a manslaughter charge against a 16-year-old boy accused of killing his father, British Columbia's assize court moved into the woods, 25 miles from Vancouver to the stump ranch where Samuel Lamont Metcalf, 53-year-old war veteran, was shot to death. This graphic picture shows the court in session, with R.C.M.P. officers in charge and a leaf-littered clearing in front of the rough cabin as a courtroom. The accused lad is shown at RIGHT (arrow) facing the court. He was acquitted by a jury which debated their verdict only five minutes after hearing how the father had kept his wife and two children in constant fear. Spectators, usually quiet in Canadian courtrooms, broke into applause when the verdict was announced. Judge Robertson immediately ordered the boy's release.

FIGHTS, ARRESTS KEEP BUS STRIKE LIVELY, 16 STATES

CLEVELAND, Nov. 26 ((CP). — The strike of union bus drivers, marked by fist fights and four arrests here, spread Thursday over a network of Greyhound Bus Lines in 16 states, as last minute peace moves by Labor Department conciliators met with failure.

Violence broke out at the Greyhound terminal here when, police said, a striker threw himself in front of a bus just as it pulled out of the dock, and defied the driver to run over him.

As the vehicle, carrying about 30 passengers bound for New York, stopped suddenly, the man crawled underneath the bus, where he remained until company officials announced temporary abandonment of the trip, and the passengers were unloaded. Police said he would be held for investigation.

Three arrests followed a few minutes later, when an attempt was made to stop a heavily loaded Pittsburgh bus. Fists flew as police cleared a path and the bus roared east with an escort of police cruisers.

S. R. Sundstrom, president of the Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines with headquarters here, said the company would "continue to move busses as long as we can get experienced drivers.

Officials of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen who called the strike after a break down in negotiations for a new contract, estimated 1,300 drivers affected. Company officials placed the number at 1,000.

SELWYN

Among the ladies who attended the Woman's Association convention held in St. James' United church, Peterborough, last Wednesday were: Mesdames Wm. Purdy, Evans Blewett, Gordon Fitzgerald, Lloyd McConkey, Norman Stockdale and Miss Emma Elliott.

Last Sunday evening the Young People's Society held a missionary meeting in the church, which was very well attended. All who were present thoroughly enjoyed the address given by the guest speaker of the evening, Mr. Robert Kitchen, of St. James' church, Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson, also Mr. and Mrs. Percy Stenner and son, Douglas, all of Young's Point, visited with friends and relatives on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bradburn have vacated their picturesque summer home, "Red Wing," on the Buckhorn road and have taken up residence in the house owned by Mr. Carmen Whitmore and situated opposite his grocery store at Selwyn.

Mrs. Evans Blewett was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fitzgerald for a few days last week.

Mr. Glen Crapp of Lakefield was the guest of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Bell, last week.

CROKINOLE PARTY IS WELL ATTENDED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

EAST EMILY, Nov. 26. — A most enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Faulkner on Monday evening when part of the south group of the W.A. of Bethel United Church held a progressive crokinole party.

There were ten tables played and thoroughly enjoyed by the young people until 11.30 p.m. when pretty luncheon cloths were spread on the small tables and their partners for supper were the partners they finished playing with.

The ladies served refreshments of Boston baked beans, brown bread and sandwiches and cake. Community singing and a short program was given and prizes presented for the crokinole. Ladies 1st prize going to Mrs. W. Darling and the gentleman's to Lawrence McConnell, consolation prizes to Hazel Casey and Foster Eggleton.

The proceeds amounted to $8.20.

A special consecration service will be held in Bethel United Church on Sunday Nov. 28th at 8.15 in the evening.

This service will be spinsored by the young people, and the speaker will be Miss Dorothy Dayman president of the Y.P.S.

Sunday School will be held at 10.30 in the morning. A special invitation is extended to the surrounding community to attend this service.

Mr. E. Storey is in Toronto this week visiting with his daughters, the Misses Helen and Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Fee spent the week-end with relatives in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jackson attended the Royal Fair last week.

Master Billie Jackson of Orillia is visiting with his uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jackson.

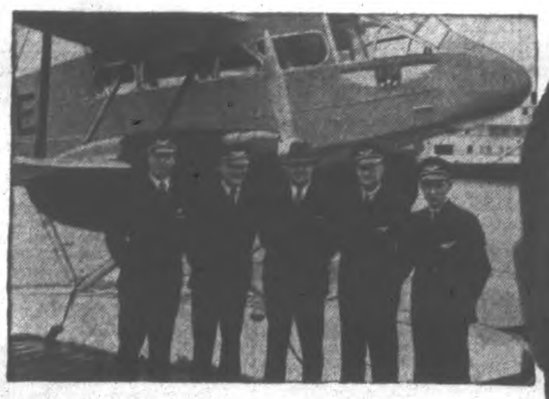
KILLED BY GIRL DRIVER

HAILEYBURY, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP) —Thelma Provost died in hospital yesterday, her 17th birthday anniversary, almost 48 hours after she was struck by an automobile allegedly driven by 17-year-old Freda Prout of New Liskeard.

Police said the Prout girl was accompanied in the car by Roland Regimbal of Haileybury.

Officers said the automobile carried the Provost girl about 80 feet and travelled 60 feet more before it was stopped.

An inquest was scheduled for Friday afternoon. No charges were laid.



"OUTSTANDING VALUE at a mighty small price"

Tip Top Tailors Ltd.
Boulevard Drive,
Toronto, Ont.

Gentlemen:

In this flying business we get to be pretty particular about a lot of things. That is to be expected; we can't take chances on wind, weather or flying conditions—we have to analyse them all and know just where we stand. No doubt this developed tendency of extra caution affects us in other things as well. For instance, we knew when we bought all our pilots' uniforms from Tip Top Tailors that we weren't taking any chances as to quality or general value. In my own case I buy Tip Top Clothes with all the confidence in the world because on past tests I know that they have 'what it takes'. In my own opinion Tip Top gives outstanding clothes value at a mighty small price.

CAPTAIN W. ROY MAXWELL, Operations Manager of British North American Airways Limited, has been in most cities of the United States and Canada. He has bought a lot of clothes—but Tip Top is his favorite tailor. It's the outstanding value in Tip Top clothes that appeals to Captain Maxwell. He likes their top flight British woolens; their smart style, as up-to-the-minute as the latest airliners; their fine fit and superior workmanship, made possible by skilled and enthusiastic union craftsmen. The hand-cut individuality of every garment tells him that these clothes were made for him alone. No wonder Captain Maxwell says that Tip Top gives "outstanding value at a mighty small price!" You, too, will find that Tip Top values are extraordinary, and greater now than ever before.

Best Place For Him

Lawrence Dupuis, 18, of Windsor, was fined $250 costs or one year in jail, and court ruled there would be no time extension so he might raise money to pay the fine. And that of course might be interpreted as meaning that court considered the prisoner had better go to jail.

The evidence against Dupuis was furnished by several young men who told that they had been promised jobs in a factory, for which they had paid sums ranging from $10 to $15. The jobs did not materialize and it was shown that Dupuis had no way in which he could secure a position for any of those from whom he accepted money. He had been in court on the same charge about a month ago, but had then made restitution to nine individuals and had paid a small fine. Now that he persists in this kind of business it would be as well—in fact better—if he were to go to jail.

It is difficult enough to imagine anything meaner than trying to make money out of the desire of a young fellow to get a job and go to work. Those young fellows who went to Dupuis had probably made the rounds themselves; maybe they had exhausted what they considered their own efforts or ability to find work. If they were not working they were probably short of funds, but possessed of one desire greater than all others—to find a job. Then when they place their case in the hands of this party who would take their money knowing he could not guarantee jobs—well you have the making of an entirely miserable situation in which no red-blooded man would care to participate. So if this Windsor man goes to jail for a year because he cannot pay his fine he will be just where he ought to be.

The "Lay-Off" Period

Information from Detroit is that some of the automobile plants are planning what they term a "seasonal" layoff. The exact figures have not been announced, but in one plant it was said that 4,000 would be out, and in another there would be at least 6,000 and so on. It is said the suggestion has been made that there should be a reduction in working hours below 32 per week in order that fewer men might be laid off.

The annual lay-off is something which has come more to the front with the growth of industry into highly-specialized branches, and where mechanical equipment is so great and so efficient that full operation for a limited time will put the business of production well up to and ahead of demands. When that point is reached there appears to be no other solution than laying off the very men who have been taking part in the speeded-up operations, and looked at from any angle it is not a good solution.

Against that is the claim of the automobile makers that they must have their cars for the year at the height of the selling season. People are not purchasing them regularly each month the year through, so there can be no regularity in production operations. Hence the coming of the busy season followed by the period when lay-offs are enforced.

There are cases too where the laying-off of a man means a potential applicant for relief. Since relief has come to be a recognized agency in almost every community there is not the incentive for a worker to save something during the good months to tide him over the slack period.

The lay-off is not a good thing for the morale of the men affected. It provides them with plenty of reason for believing their one hope is in being banded together so they can make sure of receiving the maximum amount of pay during the time when they are working. Just what the solution is in the automobile world we do not know, but some solution there must be. The economic effect of telling some thousands of men in any given community that they are through for several months is about as bad as could be.

Would Mean More

From Baltimore comes word that the names of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor will be included in the Baltimore Blue Book. The names were dropped from the winter edition of the New York Social Register.

It may be there will be some satisfaction for the Duchess of Windsor having her name in the Baltimore Register, that being the old home town, but apart from that it looks like a good deal of tomfoolery.

We can think of a number of things which the Duke of Windsor would desire above having his name printed in that book indicating that he is socially acceptable, that he possesses wealth and so on.

We believe it would be more satisfactory for him to have his name in some sort of a directory showing he was happily and gainfully occupied with some work which would cause him to rise in the morning and be off to business, and where he would have so much to do during the day that he would be tired by night and glad to get home for a rest. That, we are certain, would be more satisfactory than having it broadcast to the world that the Duke and Duchess of Windsor have had their names printed in the Baltimore Blue Book.

This Is Called Discipline

From Leamington, Ont., comes a report of an unusual method of maintaining discipline in the High School. According to the story all the boys with the exception of those in the first form were asked to remain standing in the assembly rooms until certain offenders identified themselves. This was accomplished after three hours of waiting. Then the three who admitted responsibility were taken to a room and received in all 126 blows from a heavy strap on the hand. The principal of the school says it is necessary to maintain discipline.

The story runs at considerable length and one follows through such a recital in the hope of coming to the place where the nature of the exact trouble might be plainly stated. The one reference found to it is in the principal's complaint: "Four or five of the boys purposely prayed out of time during the Lord's prayer." So that was the trouble. In place of the well-marked regularity of repetition there was the discordant voice which failed to keep beat. And that of course raises the larger question of how much the repeating of the Lord's Prayer means in the opening exercises. One might even ask if the pupils were repeating it with some certain knowledge of what they were saying, or if they looked upon it as part of the day's work and also saw in it a place where there might be a little annoyance injected. And if the boys who received 126 welts with a strap for not repeating the Lord's Prayer properly now fall in line and keep pace with the others we cannot but wonder what effect the recital will have upon them. It may readily enough fall within the classification of vain repetition.

"Magnificent Sport"

Vittorio Mussolini, 20-year-old son of Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy, has written a book for boys, the title assigned to it being "Flying Over Ethiopian Mountain Ranges." This young fellow was an aviator during the Italian invasion of Ethiopia, and he is deliberately concerned with setting forth what he calls the beauties of war. It seems that he found nothing gruesome about it at all. The man who said that war is hell was entirely wrong.

He recalls the time when his bombing plane came upon some Ethiopian cavalry. A load of explosives was dropped and of the effect Mussolini Junior writes:

"It was exceptionally good fun and they were easy to hit as we were not too high up. They offered a perfect target."

He explains also that the horsemen on this occasion were entirely unaware of the coming of the planes. They had no chance to escape; they had no weapons with which to fight back, and yet it is all put down under the general heading of "magnificent sport."

It is hardly necessary to recount the conditions under which this "magnificent sport" was staged. The brown men of Ethiopia lived as best they could, and existence for them never reached a high plane; for generations their tastes had been simple and their wants had been few. If they found it necessary at times to engage in warfare it was of a primitive sort; they trusted to a spear and to their intimate knowledge of their own land. When Italy sent its highly mechanized army into that land the Ethiopians had little or nothing at all with which to fight. The group of horsemen to whom the young Mussolini refers in his book would be as defenceless as anything could be against the wrathful visitation of a modern bombing plane. They would be right there in the open and all that would be necessary would be to release bombs which would kill them and blow them to pieces—horses and men. The men in the plane would be as safe as could be.

That a young man of 20 years of age, with every opportunity for education, in the year 1937 should seek to make all this damnable horror and butchery appear as "magnificent sport" is entirely beyond the range of our understanding. It is a school of thought entirely foreign to anything which is recognized or tolerated in British lands or in British thought. If the mind of young Italy follows closely and with approval the leadership of the younger Mussolini then war and its survival has received a new lease of life which might well make this old world shudder.

Questioning Mr. Duffus

J. J. Duffus, M.P., attended the session of the County Council and apparently his intention was to discuss the possibility of securing a high-level bridge on the Keene Road to eliminate the present level crossing. That place is just about as bad and dangerous as it could be, but after having discussed the bridge Mr. Duffus found it was not easy to put on his hat and walk out. He is not much given to haste in such matters, but he found reasons for staying. Members of the Council wanted to ask him questions; they saw in him visible and tangible evidence of the greater government at Ottawa. They may find it hard to ask questions of the government at Ottawa, but it is easy enough to ask questions of Mr. Duffus.

And from there on was just the sort of discussion which reveals what people are thinking about. No person seemed anxious to hear of new airplanes, nor the part the government intended to take in the next world conference, and no person asked to have the world situation in general explained. But members of the County Council did want to know why the farmers were not getting a greater share of the price ultimately received for the goods which they produced. And it may be they expected Mr. Duffus to stand up at once and deliver the answer.

Reeve Gifford of Ennismore who can be counted on at any time to put in a plain and formidable way the case for the farming population, was inclined to believe the processors were looked after first, and when they had taken their share the farmer was given what remained. The men who operate and work in packing houses receive their returns or their wages, and the people who take wheat and turn it into flour do much the same, and Mr. Gifford was certain the returns received by all those engaged in the business of "processing" were more satisfactory than the share which was returned to the farmer. Had the meeting decided to go deeply into that question we believe it would have been in session until far into the night.

Take so well-known a thing as a pig. A farmer may have ten or twenty moving along to the market stage. If he kept them on the farm they would become increasing liabilities on account of the amount of feed they eat. They become an asset only when he sells them, and in selling them he loses control of them. He has passed them over to what Mr. Gifford refers to as the "processors," and the business of killing, dressing and preparing for market has become the problem of some other agency. Nor is that other agency entirely in command of the situation. The Bacon Board meets regularly each week in London and names the price to be paid for the week, and the price has a considerable bearing on the price which will be offered by the various packing houses to the Canadian farmers for their hogs. The thing is not simple like it used to be when a farmer killed a pig, dressed it and took it to town, sold it himself and put the money in his pocket. The thing is actually complicated and we do not know whether Mr. Duffus or Mr. Gifford could go to any one man with certainty and say "You are the individual who is responsible for the farmer not getting more for his pigs." One thing is certain—the visit of Mr. Duffus to the County Council resulted in bringing a great old question up to the front of the meeting. If they will continue their discussions through the winter they may make some progress at revealing the answer. So far it has been hidden.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Washington is considering the deportation of two C.I.O. officials on the ground that they are aliens and we do not suppose Premier Hepburn will offer to give them shelter in Ontario.

The term "Honorable" is to be dispensed with in taking divisions in the Ontario Legislature henceforth. Queen's Park will soon have less frills than the sessions of a county council.

The gravitational influence of the moon is said to be distorting the earth's surface. We had an idea that it was second-class golfers that were doing that.

We feel better now. New York's famous gangster-buster, Thomas E. Dewey, admits that he has been unable to solve the murder mysteries in three detective novels he has been reading.

A moving picture director was wounded during the filming of a picture when a knife intended for a tree trunk struck himself instead. He could not even have the consolation of complaining that the acting lacked realism.

WEE ANGUS

(By A. R. K.)

¶ Wee Angus' britches needed care, and one side showed a good-sized tear, 'twould let out lots of heat; another rent was on the knee, where it was far too plain to see, another in the seat.

¶ Wee Angus left his trousers home, so they could be repaired and sewn, he stripped his pockets too; he'd have to carry all his stuff, and he had much more than enough, I noticed but a few.

¶ Wee Angus has a pocket knife, it's seen an awful lot of strife, I don't know where 'twas made; I don't think that the thing would cut, nor will it open up and shut, he got it in a trade.

¶ He had a little ball of string, and from some clock he had a spring, 'twas bent and rather strange; three handkerchiefs were stowed away, they might come out some washing day, likewise three cents in change.

¶ He had a piece of chalk in there, two keys that fit not anywhere, some stubby pencils too; there were three screws, a piece of wire, a patch for fixing on a tire, a dog tag far from new.

¶ I asked Wee Angus of this stuff, said he had most three times enough, 'twould weight him when he'd go; Wee Angus stowed his stuff away, and paused a minutes just to say—his stock was rather low.

You may find it HERE

SOME FIFTEEN years ago there were just two beavers in the whole area of Banff National Park in the Rocky Mountains. These were a captive pair and when their cage was found empty one day, officials suspected foul play. But a happier solution of the mystery developed. Soon a few miles from Banff a beaver lodge and dam suddenly took shape and now every backwater and tributary of the Bow River for a distance of twenty miles or more has its popular beaver colonies.

❖ ❖ ❖

Under government protection the industrious furred folk have staged a real comeback over extensive regions where ruthless trappers spread desolation a generation or two ago.

❖ ❖ ❖

In the Banff region however the increasing beaver population has created somewhat of a problem for the authorities. By constructing dams across near-by streams they have flooded large sections, sometimes even putting the highways under water. Spreading into Forty-Mile creek they have caused pollution in Banff's vaunted water supply. As fast as low-lying park areas have been drained, as a measure of mosquito control, Brother Beaver and his family have reflooded them. They have even invaded the town limits, threatening dangerous inundations at high water season and cutting down trees on the residents' lawns. Nothing so simply as wire netting several feet high around the trees will stop the beaver, who quickly builds a platform of mud and branches to reach above them.

❖ ❖ ❖

In spite of these annoyances however a benevolent parks bureau has no intention of harming the culprits. The cruel steel-trap is not being resorted to. Instead, special cage traps have been designed, in which the wily ones may be caught without injury. No doubt places will be found, far from human settlement, where the beaver families may be released. There they can build dams to their hearts' content, without damage to anyone.

Notes On Neckties.

PRODUCING a technicolor of a necktie as external wearing apparel may occasion a four-thousand dollar cost, based on the time spent and the proceedings involved in judging the color values of the neckwear.

❖ ❖ ❖

Florenz Ziegfeld, theatrical producer who died in 1932, often bought at the one time several dozen neckties and at the time of his death possessed more than a thousand that had never been worn.

❖ ❖ ❖

On the other hand, Toyohiko, Japanese Christian Social worker and organizer owns one necktie at a time. Wearing a tie until it is completely worn out he sees no need of possessing a lot of them.

❖ ❖ ❖

The word cravats was derived from "cravates," French for Croatians who in the seventeenth century, as soldiers in the French Royal regiment, wore neckcloths or neck ties.

❖ ❖ ❖

The most popular prices of neckties in the United States are twenty-five and fifty cents and 65 per cent. of men's neckwear is bought by women shoppers. Policemen and firemen wear leather necktes, which are manufactured by five different firms in the United States. The prosperous princes of Napal, an independent kingdom between India and Tibet, wear two neckties.

❖ ❖ ❖

At Milford Haven in South Wales, a part of the French battleship "L'Orient" which blew up at the battle of the Nile is kept as a relic of Lord Nelson. This is the ship on whose "burning deck" the boy stood "whence all but he had fled."

❖ ❖ ❖

The Iguassu Falls, abutting on Paraguay and Brazil, are a thousand miles up the Parana River but nevertheless attract many visitors. They are among the finest falls in the world, being two miles wide and 210 feet high.

Bouncing Cranberries.

FEW PEOPLE have an idea what a cranberry has to go through before it finds its way to market, the American Weekly points out. For one thing the berry has to prove that it is, in a manner of speaking, something of an athlete—it has to bounce over a barrier in order to get by the inspector and eventually go to the storehouse or the corner grocery as a proper member of its species to be made into sauce and jelly.

❖ ❖ ❖

Some time ago this business of making cranberries bounce was adopted as the surest test of good condition. The berries, deep red in color, have a rather thick skin. If the berry is sound inside and its hide is prime it will hop when dropped. If it is decayed or bruised it just plops down and refuses to leap over the barrier—and if it cannot get over the fence it cannot go to market.

❖ ❖ ❖

The berries are picked in the late summer or early fall but it is not until Thanksgiving and Christmas time that the market demand for the crop is active.

❖ ❖ ❖

This makes it necessary to store the berries until people are ready to buy them and in the past this period of waiting has taken the bounce out of a lot of berries.

Government experts have found that heat is the biggest factor in robbing a blushing cranberry of its sprightliness and are telling growers that their store-houses should be kept at a temperature of about 36 degrees—about four degrees above freezing—to keep the bounce in their harvest.

❖ ❖ ❖

In the vicinity of Cape Cod, Massachusetts, the cultivation of cranberries commenced early in the last century. Wide tracts of waste land have been used for the purpose. Low easily flooded, marshy ground, worth originally not more than from $10 to $20 an acre has been made to yield annually from $200 to $300 worth of the fruit per acre.

Inventor of Baby Carriage Is Not Known

May Have Got the Idea From a Wheelbarrow; First Patent Taken Out in England in 1850

(The Stratford Beacon-Herald)

A RECENT bulletin of the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities printed an article about a familiar vehicle in which nearly everybody has sometime traveled, although nobody can remember that presumably pleasant experience.

Who can say how it feels to ride in a baby carriage?—to be perambulated in a perambulator? One was very young. Later when one began to store up personal experiences for future reminiscence one had forgotten how it felt to be perambulated.

Readers of the bulletin had no doubt taken the baby carriage or perambulator as of ancient origin, the sort of thing that an archaeologist might reasonably turn up in the valley of the Nile.

This, it appears, is not so. The Perambulator Era, as it might be called, began in the earlier decades of the nineteenth century. It is still a young era. During the included Horse-and-Buggy Era, recently recalled as a figure of speech, the baby carriage aped the buggy in design and appearance, and like that vehicle was drawn instead of being pushed.

What thoughtful parent first devised some kind of a wheeled vehicle in which to perambulate his child can probably never be known. The author of the article thinks that his invention may have had its inspiration in the wheelbarrow. This is admittedly surmise.

It is known, however, that Issachar Hughes made a baby carriage for his firstborn, subsequently used to perambulate his second, third, fourth and so on to his ninth; that some of these used it to perambulate his grandchildren; and that it eventually came to rest in the ownership of the Association of the Oldest Inhabitants of Washington.

One knows also that the first patent for a baby carriage was taken out in England in 1850. That was by Charles Barton, an Englishman who conferred baby carriage distinction on New York by perfecting his improvement in that city, though he patriotically went home to patent it.

By that time sidewalks, rare in the earlier decades, had become common, and the making of infant perambulators had ceased to be an infant industry. No experimental study can tell us how baby Hughes felt when he was taken out for his first ride. Or, perhaps, she for hers.

Strange People Living in This Country

Case at Sault Where Court Was Well-Ordered; Reporters From U.S. Found It Hard to Understand

(St. Catharines Standard)

SAULT STE. MARIE has a hunting tragedy, in which a dead woman and a former baseball player, both of United States origin, are the principals, and which is being subject to enquiry by the Crown. Such a case naturally would attract a flock of reporters from the United States, who wanted at once to know all about the case, not willing to await evidence there might be submitted in open court.

The police officers would not talk, nor would officials of the police court. A woman was turned back at the door of the jail and refused any opportunity to interview the man who accompanied the woman to Algoma. "These are queer people over here," said the woman newshound, and no doubt she thought it. No such thing as law officers in Canada competing and breaking their necks to secure publicity in a case promising to be sensational. Just plain, matter of fact persons, doing a job without fuss and with complete impartiality. No such thing as news stories fixing guilt or innocence before the witness were all heard.

Probably the greatest travesty in the history of criminal jurisprudence, not excluding those farcial Russian trials, was that of Bruno Hauptmann, when the Sheriff charged $5 and $10 admission for seats—he secured $100 from one society dame—when the turnkey of the jail sold at so much per the paper utensils where with Hauptmann ate his meals, and where townspeople in Flemington, New Jersey, exhibited the most callous, cold-blooded commercial racket possible to visualize, touts paraded the town with replica ladders to that used in the snatch, and the semblance of justice was shattered. In truth, the whole form of justice was degraded and prostituted and the Fourth Estate itself was guilty of every deception and form of chicanery in the calendar.

Yes, we are a queer people in Canada when such things are not permitted. It is queer, too, how expeditiously, impartially and inexorably murderers are found guilty and hanged, without fuss and with very scant publicity.

Why the Price of Milk Goes Higher To-day

Wages of Farm and City Help Used To Be Lower; And There Was No Outlay to Pay for the Containers.

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

ALMOST ANYONE of middle age can recall when vendors poured milk from a can into pitchers or jugs at the customer's door, and collected five cents a quart. It is not surprising that current retail prices appear high. But other food commodities have followed the same road. When an old lady in Toronto termed the present price of milk "disgraceful," she was asked by Wellington Jeffers, financial editor of the Globe and Mail, what she paid for other food articles back in the 80's and 90's. She told him she paid 15 cents a pound for the best cuts of meat, 10 cents a dozen for eggs in summer, 17 cents a pound for butter in the winter, five cents a loaf for bread, and 50 cents a bag for potatoes.

"This lady," Mr. Jeffers writes, "does not pay 13 cents a quart for the same kind of milk for which she used to pay five cents. She pays nowadays for bringing the milk a much longer distance, for having it pasteurized, for having it homogenized and having it put into bottles under conditions which prevent the entrance of germs before it is ready for consumption. To prevent disease, city inspectors visit all the dairy farms which supply the city, and the farm buildings and equipment and utensils have to be up to a high standard because milk from substandard farms is barred. Cows are tested periodically in order that those affected by tuberculosis may be eliminated. As that disease does attack cows in even the best cared for herds, this inspection is important, but it is an important element in cost.

"Back in those days when milk was five cents a quart, farm labor, both male and female, was cheap. The city dairies had cheap distribution, too, because city labor needed then far less in the way of wages, rents were less than half what they are now and the cost of living was generally quite low. The consumers provided their own containers and the dairy company of those days did not need such expensive machinery as they do today and they had smaller territories to cover . . . Despite all these circumstances, every angle is being canvassed constantly by up-to-date, well managed companies, who raise the price of milk with reluctance because they know that the immediate response by many consumers is to keep the cost of milk down by decreasing the amount used."

Is Not All Wealth Produced By Labor?

What Happens if 50 Per Cent of the People Are Idle? Means That Workers Would Have to Carry the Others

(Letter in Montreal Star)

SIR—YOUR correspondent, J. L. Jones, says: "If there is employment for only 50 per cent. of the people, the other 50 per cent. must be taken care of by insurance."

I am very anxious to know what insurance really means in this particular instance. Since labour produces all wealth, the 50 per cent. who are working become at once the sole supporters of their idle brothers—so why not go to the root of the matter and put the 100 per cent. to work, and divide the results?

We admit, however, that it would be extremely difficult at the moment to divide a ten-hour day job between two men. What the government should do is to put every able-bodied man to work at some useful occupation. He will be thus producing wealth of which many of his fellow-men are in sore need; he will keep his respectability, and at the same time be contented with the thought that he is "earning his livelihood."

A man loses his responsibility as a citizen the moment he receives the dole, which is another name for unemployment insurance.

This, however, is not the real reason for the weakness shown in the system. There is much work to be done. We are not within sight of the time when all people will be supplied with all their needs, which is, of course, the product of Labour.

Presumably the government will borrow the money to pay the men who are not working. Why not borrow a somewhat larger amount (call it wages) and see that every man has a job. In this way, with the product of his effort, he will balance the account with the government and the country will be richer by the transaction.

The great loss for the moment to the nation is not the payment of the dole or insurance, for this simply means the changing of money from one person to another, but the loss is entailed by the fact that the workman is idle, not producing wealth, and this applies to thousands who have supposed jobs that produce no wealth, who might truly be said to be on the dole, even though their salaries would make the dole look small.

My point is however, that all men should be earning a livelihood by some useful honest occupation. Continued idleness lowers the capacity of men in nearly all lines of human endeavour. At the present time in this city it is very difficult to find efficient workmen among the skilled laborers who have been idle for some years. Through easy living on the dole they have become quite indifferent, and the younger element, also on account of idleness in recent years, are not efficient at any particular calling.

I repeat in closing, every idle person, mental or manual, rich or poor, is a load that civilization must carry against its will. At the moment the load is extremely heavy. Every man now in a military uniform in Spain and China must be carried, plus all war armaments, loss of life, and human suffering.

A Bible Message For To-day . . . .

TALK NO more so exceeding proudly; let not arrogancy come out of your mouth: for the Lord is a God of knowledge, and by him actions are weighed. . . . He will keep the feet of his saints and the wicked shall be silent in darkness; for by strength shall no man prevail.—I Sam. ii, 3, 9.

❖ ❖ ❖

Help, Lord; for the godly man ceaseth; for the faithful fail from among the children of men. They speak vanity every one with his neighbour: with flattering lips and with a double heart do they speak. The Lord shall cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things: who have said, With our tongue will we prevail; our lips are our own: who is lord over us? For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the Lord; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him. The words of the Lord are pure words: as silver is tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times. —Ps. xii, 1-6.

PAYING THE PIPER.

(Philadelphia Bulletin)

NOWHERE is there any great upsurge of public demand to restrict or reduce services which municipal governments perform. Virtually every municipal body is constantly facing demands for increased services, but there seems never to go with that demand any realization that the cost of such expansion must be met.

Frequently, too, original appropriations for new services may be small but entail commitments for larger expenditures in the future. If tax limits are to be imposed, it seems only equitable that there should be a limit, too, on the number, kind and quality of services a municipality is to furnish.

PUPIL OF MASIAGNI.

(Exchange)

A STORY is told of an organ-grinder who began to play the famous Intermezzo beneath Masagni's window. He played at such a fast tempo that the composer could not stand it. Rushing down to the street, Masagni seized the handle of the instrument and turned it at the proper speed, explaining to the bewildered organ-grinder that, since he had composed the piece, he wished it to be played correctly. The next morning the organ-grinder appeared outside the composer's house with a huge sign in front of the organ, which read, "Pupil of the celebrated Mascagni."

Canada's Trade Expansion Reflected In Bank's Report

Bank Of Montreal's Total Assets Stand At $829,633,950 —Loans Are Increased

A year of steady expansion in its business operations, in keeping with the general business activity of the country, is reflected in the annual statement for the year ending October 30th, now being forwarded to its shareholders by the Bank of Montreal.

The assets of the Bank, now standing at $829,633,950.98, show an increase of $24,552,000, as compared with a year ago.

An analysis of the assets reveals the remarkable strength of the institution, the proportion of quickly available resources standing at $599,051,153, as compared with liabilities to the public of $752,736,753, being 79.58 per cent of these liabilities.

Improvement in Current Loans

The Bank has again followed its custom of some years' standing by issuing the statement in an easily understandable form, grouping the figures with annotations that explain their purport.

From the public standpoint the most interesting feature of the statement is the demonstration that it gives of the expanding scale of the country's industrial and commercial operations, reflected particularly in the improvement in current loans in Canada, which, at $204,760,812, show an increase as compared with last year of more than $30,000,000.

On the other hand, due no doubt to the restricted operations in the security markets, call loans in Canada are down from $8,169,988 last year to $6,857,700 at the present time. A similar movement is noticeable in call loans abroad, these now standing at $19,878,944, as compared with $25,400,166.

Total deposits amount to $717,799,105—an increase of $26,487,000 as compared with last year's statement.

Moderate Increase in Profits

In keeping with the larger scale of the Bank's business, the profits show a moderate increase. The net total after deduction of Dominion and Provincial Government taxes of $942,957, amounts to $3,408,328, being at the rate of 4.47 per cent on the combined capital, reserves and undistributed profits. After payment of the usual dividends and an appropriation of $400,000 for bank premises, the sum of $128,328 was carried forward to profit and loss account.

The principal accounts, with comparisons with those of the previous year, show:

	1937	1936
	$	$
Total Assets	829,633,950	805,081,998
Liquid Assets	599,051,153	606,472,587
Gov't and other Bonds	437,381,895	442,781,097
Call loans outside Canada	19,878,944	25,400,166
Call loans in Canada	6,857,700	8,169,988
Total Deposits	717,799,105	691,312,054
Capital	36,000,000	36,000,000
Rest	39,000,000	39,000,000

BOY CANDIDATES AT CAMPBELLFORD STATE PLATFORMS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 26.—Candidates for election to Ontario Older Boys' Parliament outlined their platforms at a meeting held in the basement of St. John's United Church Thursday evening. Ernest Brown of Brighton and Theodore Poulter of Wooler are the contestants who are seeking election to the parliament as representatives of East Northumberland in the seat made vacant by Jack Carr of Campbellford.

Ernest Brown the first speaker referred to the value of Father and Son banquets which he claimed helped the fathers to take a greater interest in the boy's work. He stated that if he were elected he would encourage this type of get-together. The wars which are threatening the peace of the world today would not occur if the commandment "Love thy neighbor as thyself," were adopted and it is the boys who must take this commandment of the Lord seriously and thereby put an end to war.

"A boy who expects to make anything of himself must have a clear brain, and it is the brain that is first effected by liquor," said the speaker pledging himself to bring the temperance matter strongly before the parliament at its next session if he were given the honor of representing East Northumberland. Finally he pledged himself to support the C.S.T. program.

Organizing Boy Groups

Theodore Poulter who was defeated in the contest last year spoke of the organizing of boys groups of Trail Rangers and Tuxis Square as part of his program. "These groups present for you boys who take part in them a normal happy and wholesome life," said the speaker. A field day during the coming summer and hockey during the winter for those interested in sport and debates for those who had a literary inclination would help the boys from the different groups to get together and become better acquainted. Referring to the bond selling campaign which is the chief method used of raising money for the support of the Older Boys Parliament the speaker claimed that he would lend strong support to this activity in an endeavour to raise sufficient money to finance the boys work in this constituency.

Several musical numbers formed a part of the program and included a piano solo by Hector Macmillan and a trumpet solo by Wilsie Phillips who was accompanied by Jack Cassan.

BAILIEBORO

The Young People's Union of the United church held their regular weekly meeting in the church Tuesday evening with a goodly number in attendance.

The meeting was under the direction of the christian cultural convenor, Fred Barnard, who directed the worship service and addressed the young people on Christian youth building a new world by the transforming individual life.

At the conclusion of an enjoyable recreation period in which the group enjoyed games and contests followed by a sing song, the meeting was closed by the president, Miss Clara Seens. Miss Frances Watt presided at the piano throughout the service.

The adult ladies Bible Class of the United church Sunday School met at the home of Mrs. Ida Parson on Tuesday afternoon and quilted the Sunday School quilt.

A goodly number were present and an enjoyable afternoon spent in social intercourse.

Messrs F. White and H. Lancaster were business visitors to Peterborough on Tuesday.

Mrs. F. Hie and Everett visited Mr. Hie in Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, on Wednesday evening.

Many of the villagers attended the Ladies Institute progressive euchre party at Centreville hall on Tuesday evening.

Defends Her Lions Against Attacks

Mrs. Mary McMillan, of Los Angeles, Calif., pictured with one of her pets faced a Los Angeles court to answer a charge of keeping lions without a permit after neighbors had complained that a pair of full-grown African lions which she keeps in her backyard were a menace to their safety. Mrs. McMillan admits keeping Tawny and Tunis for almost 20 years, but declares they are harmless as kittens. The neighbors think otherwise and pictures introduced into court show two massive beasts with long sharp fangs and heavy manes. Their owner thinks she'll die of lineliness if the court takes them away; the neighbors are afraid they may do the dying if the court doesn't . . . So it's up to the judge.

Famed Regiment 256 Today

LONDON, Nov. 26 (AP). — The Royal Scots Greys, famous British cavalry regiment, celebrated its 256th anniversary Thursday with the assurance that it will keep its grey horses, red tunics and bearskin hats.

Mechanization of the British Army had threatened to substitute tanks, overalls and steel crash helmets. The public protested, however, and the Scots Greys were saved by War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha.

Although army belief is that steel is superior to horse-flash, officials agreed the Scots Greys might play an important part in the next war. They also noticed that when the Greys prance down the street, recruiting soars.

STEWART HALL

The Women's Missionary Society of Stewart Hall held their monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon, at the home of Miss Vida McNaughton, with a good attendance.

The meeting, with the president, Mrs. W. Dawson, in the chair, opened with a hymn, followed by prayer.

The Bible reading was given by Jean Savigney. Minutes of the October meeting were read by the secreary, and the roll call taken.

The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. G. Savigny showing a very favorable year. Means of raising money were discussed by the ladies, to complete the allocation for this year.

The meeting was closed with a hymn and the Mizpah Benediction.

During the afternoon a quilt was finished to be sent for relief work

Supper was served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Miss Jessie McNaughton.

WOMAN CLIMBER WINS NEW LAURELS

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Having completed her 13th ascent in the Canadian Rockies, Miss Georgia Engelhard has just returned to her native New York after adding 23 peaks to her list in the Banff-Lake Louise area. She managed also to score three exceptional "first ascents" among the peaks in the Freshfield Glacier group northwest of Lake Louise. She climbed Mt. Freshfield (11,000 feet) and Prior Peak (10,700 feet) each being thus conquered by a woman for the first time. She also scaled a 10,000-foot un-named peak in the region—the highest first ascent the Canadian Rockies still has to offer. Her sole reaction to these achievments is a great impatience to return to the region for more climbing.

Miss Engelhard began her ascents in the Canadian Rockies six years ago. In childhood she always feared high places—preferred not to look down from the roof of her home on Madison Ave. She has also had two summers of climbing in the Austrian and Swiss Alps, but her major experience has been in the Canadian Rockies. Resuming her muntaineering there in June, she spent a few weeks in the Selkirk range near Glacier, B. C., packed her supplies to Glacier Circle and climbed Outlook Peaks (8,500 feet). Then she scaled Mt. Tophan and Mt. Macoun, each by a new route.

The rest of her time was spent in Banff Park and in Yoho Park.

Sterilization Of Mental Defectives Is Urged By Bishop Of Birmingham

RT. Rev. E. W. Barnes, Bishop of Birmingham, last night urged voluntary sterilization of mental and physical defectives and contended the falling birth-rate of Great Britain was like "the handwriting on the wall" to experts.

Addressing the Local Committee for Voluntary Sterilization, the modernist bishop said that "when an increasing proportion of children are born so tainted mentally and physically that they can never make good citizens, a bad situation must become worse"

He asserted mental defectives and persons of low intelligence were increasing. "Social services make life for such persons easier" than formerly. The remedy was sterilization.

Because the birthrate was declining, the bishop said children who are born "should come from the better stock" of the nation.

BUILDING GALLOWS VICTIM LISTENING BRANDED INHUMAN

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 26—(CP).—Jail-yard construction of gallows within ear-shot of prisoners under penalty of death was branded as "inhuman" today by Brigadier Wallace Bunton, divisional head of the Salvation Army, widely known for his efforts on behalf of convicts.

Advocating establishment of death chambers in penal institutions, the Army official struck out at authorities of the Lambton County Jail as he made particular reference to the case of 17-year-old William Labadie, Sarnia Township farmhand, convicted of murder of his employer's five-year-old son.

For two or three days, the Brigadier said, young Labadie in his death cell heard the sawing and the pounding as workmen erected the scaffold on which he was sentenced to die. Labadie, now granted clemency, would live long before he could forget that hammering in the jail yard, Brigadier Bunton said.

Labadie, the Brigadier said, was removed today to Kingston Penitentiary, where he will begin serving a life sentence. Just back from a visit to the boy in his Sarnia cell, Brigadier Bunton said young Labadie, after commutation of his sentence, was shown the scaffold at his own request.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hamilton of Stoney Lake have returned home after spending two days in Toronto, attending the Royal Winter Fair.

✧ ✧ ✧

Mr. and Mrs. E. Benson of 57 George street were guests at the Breckenridge—Roland wedding in Millbrook on Wednesday afternoon.

✧ ✧ ✧

The many friends of Tim Dineen of 174 Dublin street will be sorry to learn that he has been ill in bed for over a week at his home.

✧ ✧ ✧

Miss Florence Hutchinson and Miss Helen Rozelle left on Wednesday to attend the Provincial A.Y.P.A. Conference being held this week in St. Catharines.

✧ ✧ ✧

Miss M. Shipley, missionary home on furlough from Honan, China, and who will be the special speaker in George Street Church on Sunday morning, is the guest of Mrs. G. Baird, 58 George street.

✧ ✧ ✧

Mr. and Mrs. T. Smith of 195 Auburn street, who are observing to-day the forty-fifth anniversary of their wedding, will be "at home" to their friends this evening at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Reginald Akers, 819 George street.

✧ ✧ ✧

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Drain of Stoney Lake entertained at a most delightful dinner party at their home on Thursday. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Charlton and daughter, Miss Cora Charlton of Lakefield, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. John Drain, and son Basil, and Mrs. Elliott.

✧ ✧ ✧

Little Richard Tulley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tulley, of 69 James street, celebrated his 5th birthday, with a very jolly party on Thursday evening. For tea, blue and white streamers decorated the table, with candles and favors for each little guest. The beautifully decorated birthday cake, with lighted candles, occupied a place of honor. A Major Bowes contest was won by Adele Miller and Jean Manice, for the girls and by Larry Cunningham for the boys, and little Bobby McGarrity won a prize for being the youngest guest at the party. Mrs. Tulley was assisted by Miss B. Murdoch. The guests included: Adele Miller, Jean Manice, Wenda Jaquith, Ray and Jack Graham, Bill and Jack Murdoch, Larry and Albert Cunningham, Doug. Miller, Teddy Payne, and Bobby McGarrity.

✧ ✧ ✧

St. George's A.Y.P.A. Fifteenth Anniversary.

St. George's A.Y.P.A. celebrated their fifteenth anniversary on Thursday evening, with a "hostess tea" followed by a program and dancing.

A. Busby, the social convenor, was in charge of the delightful program, during which he read a letter of congratulation from the Local Council to St. George's A.Y.P.A. Mrs. Ray King was presented with a handsome lamp by Ken Gibson, on behalf of the members, in recognition of her many kindnesses and her co-operation with the Association. A community sing-song was enjoyed with Jack Marshall at the piano. Mrs. R. King was accompanist for those taking part in the program, which included: a duet by Mrs. A. Busby and Tom Maudsley; a reading by Miss Queenie Hope; a tapdance, Betty McIlwain and Joyce Wilson; Scotch reel, Jean Millard; piano solo, Miss Ethel Sims; tapdance, Gloria Wilson.

The tea tables were very prettily arranged with lighted candles gracing each one. A very lovely cake, decorated with fifteen candles was cut by the president, and served to those present. Mrs. A. Busby and her committee, including Mesdames Dorrell, Alcock, Fallis, Gibson, and the Misses A. Lefebure, E. King, M. Sims, B. Curtis and O. Cookman, were in charge of the tea. A radio was kindly loaned to the A.Y.P.A. by Mr. Childerhose for the evening.

Big Bazaar In Legion Hall.

Many suggestions for Christmas presents, including colorful and useful little novelties, beautifully done fancy work, pillow cases with exquisite white embroidery and various pretty designs, artistic quilts, well-made pyjamas, attractive aprons of every variety and color, were among the many things displayed at the bazaar being held by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, in the Legion Hall.

Patriotic colors decorated the long tables placed on either side, and at the end, the charming little tea tables were arranged with attractive cloths and bouquets of bronze, yellow or mauve baby chrysanthemums. Tea was poured at a central table, where the lace cloth was centered with a large bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums in a silver basket.

The ever-popular wish to have one's fortune told might be gratified behind a mysterious screen, and in the opposite corner, a fish pond was second to none in popularity. Beautifully decorated in Christmas colors, the home-made candy stall held all sorts of little red and green baskets of candy, and farther along, unusual and delicious looking home-made cooking was being sold beside the "country store," where preserves, canned goods, etc., were displayed. Tickets were being sold on a richly-colored afghan, and a woolly blanket in pastel shades, also on a silver flower basket, holding a bouquet of red carnations, and on two beautiful Christmas cakes.

The president, Mrs. W. Hughes, and Mrs. Joseph Mills welcomed the visitors to the bazaar.

Mrs. J. Mackness was convenor of the tea room. On Thursday, tea was poured by Mrs. Max Sloan, and to-day Mrs. Angus McIntosh will preside at the table. Mrs. E. Graham assisted in serving, and Mrs. F. Gray in gay gypsy costume told tea cup fortunes. Mrs. A. Castle, Mrs. Little, and Mrs. Gracie assisted in the kitchen.

The candy stall was in charge of Mrs. A. Parrington and Mrs. J. Gynane; the pillow cases, etc., were sold by Mrs. F. Wagstaff, Mrs. E. Houghton, and Mrs. E. J. Waterman; the fancy work was in charge of Mrs. G. Foster and Mrs. C. H. Porter; the home-made cooking and country store were looked after by Mrs. E. Dormer and Mrs. G. Chambers; Mrs. A. Kent had charge of the afghan and blanket; Mrs. E. Cook and Mrs. T. Sarginson sold the novelties, and Mrs. J. Bradley, Mrs. P. Golds and Mrs. J. Monks, the aprons. The fortune tellers were Mrs. R. Lynch and Mrs. R. Bugg, and the fish pond was in charge of Mrs. A. Skipper and Mrs. E. Millard. Mrs. A. E. Paterson acted as treasurer.

The bazaar was held yesterday afternoon and evening, this afternoon, and will continue this evening, when the draws will be made for the prizes.

R. J. Scott To Address Farmers.

At the annual United Farmers' Convention in Toronto on Wednesday last, Vivian S. Milburn of the Ghemong Road, was elected one of the nine members of the United Farmers Co-operative Company Board, to guide its work for the 1938 season.

Earle Tully, Alex Huston, Willard Waterman and E. A. Scott, secretary, were delegates from the Peterborough U.F.O. Club, Number 519 to the annual convention.

It was announced that R. J. Scott, of Belgrave Huron County, past president of the United Farmers of Ontario, will give an address on Saturday evening, December 4, in the Department of Agriculture room on George street. His subject will be "How They Operate the Fertilizer Mixing Stations in Western Ontario.

Miss M. Shipley To Speak George St. Church.

A special Thankoffering service will be held in George Street United Church on Sunday morning under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society. The society has been most fortunate in securing as guest speaker for the occasion, Miss Minnie Shipley, missionary home on furlough from Honan, China.

Miss Shipley who has a first hand knowledge of China during these war days, is known as a highly acceptable speaker. During her twenty-three years of mission work in Honan, she has accomplished a remarkable work in developing the raw missions, assisted by Miss Chi, secretary of "Christianizing the home for the Christian Church in China."

Miss Shipley has been recommended very highly as one who has brought the church to the minds and hearts of many. It is hoped that large numbers will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear her.

Delightful Bridge Business-Professional Women.

A most delightful event of Thursday evening was the annual bridge of the Business and Professional Women's Club, when thirty tables were played at the clubrooms.

The decorations were charmingly carried out in the Christmas colors.

The guests were received by the President, Miss Trucie Pearson, Miss Aleitha Davidson and Miss Cathleen McCarthy. At the close of the bridge games, His Worship, Mayor George A. Macdonald made the draws for the very lovely two-tone blankets on which tickets have been sold. The winners were: 1st, Miss Ella Distin, and 2nd, Miss Leila Burgess. The bridge prizes were won by: 1st, Miss Alex Kennedy, 2nd, Miss Gertrude McFadden, 3rd Miss Leith Johnston.

Miss Parson, Miss Aleitha Davidson and Miss B. Latimer were in charge of the arrangements for the bridge, and in charge of the refreshments were, Miss N. Jamieson, convenor, and Mrs. H. Kelso, Miss Agnes Dixon, Miss May Warner, Miss F. Cochrane, Miss Josephine Garden, Miss Helen Anderson, Miss Mae Anderson, Miss Lois Stewart and Miss Mina Edwards.

Way-Johnston.

The manse, Centreville, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, November 24th, when Constance Mary, R.N., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John W. Johnston of Campbellford, was united in marriage to Horace Foster Way of Brighton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. A. McKenzie, B.A.

Following the ceremony and wedding dinner the happy couple went on a motor trip to Boston and other American cities. A host of friends join in heartiest congratulations and best wishes.

✧ ✧ ✧

Moon-Downey.

TWEED, Nov. 26.—A quiet wedding took place at the United Church parsonage on Thursday evening, with Rev. R. R. Nicholson officiating, when Mrs. Helen May Kerr Downey was united in marriage to Wallace Sylvanis Moon. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moon. After a short honeymoon, they will reside in Tweed.

✧ ✧ ✧

Moore-Goulah.

TWEED, Nov. 26.—A quiet wedding took place at St. Edmund's Church, Stoco, on Tuesday of this week, when Reta Goulah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Goulah, Stoco, was united in marriage to Harry Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moore, Sulphide. Rev. Fr. Meagher officiated. The attendants were Miss Valeria Goulah, sister of the bride, and Miller Moore, brother of the groom. Only immediate relatives were in attendance. After a short honeymoon, they will reside in Sulphide.

Fashion Service

Mummy or Aunt will enjoy every stitch she takes in sewing these darling Tyrolean pajamas. Buttons give a double-breasting effect and emphasize the high waisted bodice with full shoulder sleeves. The roomy bloomer legs are as fetching as they are practical. Make it of a flannelette print to keep her cozy and warm or of plain or printed cottons as broadcloth, chambray, challis, percale, etc.. For special occasions as visiting over night with grandma, she'll be thrilled with these little pajamas made of crepe de chine or satin crepe in soft powder blue shade, or of pale blue cashmere. Another nice suggestion for Auntie is to give her the pattern and the material in a Xmas box.

Style No. 3284 is designed for sizes 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. Size 4 requires 2¾ yards of 39-inch material.

Fine Recital Pupils, F. G. Mann

The fourteenth annual recital by pupils of Frederic G. Mann was held in St. John's Parish Hall on Thursday evening. The large number of guests who attended listened to a charmingly varied program, arranged with happy success to avoid monotony. Numbers by the old masters, and from grand opera, were exceedingly well played and well sung, the young artists seeming to appreciate to a very full extent the story that accompanied their music.

Ranging in years from nine years to adults, those who took part are certainly deserving of much praise (especially as it was the first public appearance for several, we believe) and the fine accompanying of their teacher, Mr. Mann, whose thoroughly accomplished playing is so well-known and widely appreciated, added greatly to the enjoyment of the recital.

The Rev. Canon Robertson presented certificates to the successful students in musical examinations of McGill University, Toronto Conservatory of Music and the Dominion College of Music.

The program was as follows: "The Traction Engine" (Marchant), "Where the Pools are Bright" (Lloyd), Chas. Lawrence, C. Selkirk and J. McMahon; "Friend o' Mine" (Sanderson), Jack Flagler; "Caprice" (Atherton), Wray C. Mathews; "Come to the Fair" (Martin), Malcolm Campbell; "The Lass With the Delicate Air" (Arne), Robt. D. Scott; "Adieux" (Beethoven), Walter J. Dyer; "The Trout" (Schubert), Leslie G. Groombridge; "At the Donnybrook Fair" (Scott), Miss Katherine M. Hendry; "On Wings of Song" (Mendelssohn), Ernest J. Lee; "Love Will Find a Way" ("Maid of the Mountains"), Miss Peggy G. Edmonds; "Song of the Brook" (Hewitt), Miss Eleanor M. Scott; "Invictus" (Huhn), Ernest E. Davis; Grande Polka in A Flat" (Gottschalk), Miss Marguerite Dummitt; "I Attempt From Love's Sickness to Fly" (Purcell), "Yes, Let Me Like a Soldier Fall" (Maritana") (Wallace), Irvin J. Luther; "Fifth Nocturne" (Leybach), Miss M. H. Eleanor Glover; "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair" (Haydn), Miss Dorothy E. Allen; "Toreador Song" ("Carmen") (Bizet), Griffin J. Young.

Poor Letters Make the Wrong Impression

Oh, dear! What a bad impression Mabel's letter is making on Mrs Hale. She tried so hard to make it extra special, too.

It begins the worst possible way—with an apology, and without pronouns, "Am terribly sorry I did not write sooner. Hope you will not think I am too awful."

How much better to be more complimentary—to say that she has been thinking of Mrs. Hale often!

Mabel writes stuffy words, too, that she never uses in speaking. "Converse" for "talk," "commence" for "begin," "residence" for house."

Learn to write letters that show you at your best. Our 22-page booklet helps you dash off personal notes that glow with charm—invitations and answers that are socially correct—business letters that are crisp and clear.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of GOOD LETTER-WRITING MADE EASY to The Examiner's Home service Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"Take thy beak from out my heart, and take thy form from off my door!
Quoth the Raven, "Nevermore."
And my soul from out that shadow that lies floating on the floor, Shall be lifted—Nevermore!"
—Poe.

Dear Friends:

I had rather a nasty letter this week from a woman who signs herself "Stepper" She says in part: "It is very easy for you, Roberta to sit at a typewriter and tell us what to do. I'll bet no man other than your husband ever made a pass at you."

"I suppose you have never been let down by a man, so you cannot know how it feels to try and give as good as you got so that they will know how it feels."

Well now, "Stepper," you cannot have read my stuff as often as you say, else you would understand that there is nothing in human pain I have not suffered.

You say you are stepping out, and are having a very good time. I doubt it. Why, all through your letter is the heartache you are trying to cover up.

You go car riding, you have a few drinks you do a little petting (thank God you have gone no further) but where are your thoughts, all the time?

They are back with the one whom you claim let you down. What are you getting out if this stepping out? You are only lowering yourself and you cannot do that and come out ahead of the game.

Never forget that two wrongs never made a right. What someone else done to you is nothing to what you are doing to yourself. How do you feel when you wake up at night?

Do you feel clean, can you say your prayers, are you not worse in reality than the one whose weakness hurt you so much? Are you getting any "Kick" out of what you are doing, or are you just cutting off your nose to spite your face?

Your face will look funny without a nose, now won't it? Your brain will wonder why you are letting it down, for your letter clearly shows you HAVE a large intelligence which you are not using right now.

Come off it, "Stepper" We could all do what you are doing because of your heartache, but where would it lead us? Would it right the wrong, would it ease us, would we be any the better, any the wiser, any less hurt? I think not.

So come on back to where you belong, among the nuns of life same as I do. I don't resent your letter, why should I? But I do say you will not get any fun, any ease of mind, any real pleasure, until you DO come back.

You are out of your class, and why should you keep on hurting yourself because someone else hurt you? Did you ever spend your life advising other people as I do?

Don't you realize that there are certain things we MUST do, irrespective of what others do to us? Think of the many you are letting down when you let yourself down.

You think you have found the way of escape as many more have done, but to some of us there is no escape. We must do what we were meant to do. I shall write on the different ways in which humans try to escape realities later. Do write again.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

British Cautious Of "Local Dishes"

LONDON, Nov. 26 (CP). — W. S. Morrison, Minister of Agriculture, has launched a campaign to popularize local dishes in hotels throughout the United Kingdom, but hotelkeepers report a discouraging response from the guests.

The Minister, speaking at a conference of the Hotels and Restaurants Association, criticized standardization of British hotels and deplored the sameness of the food served. He suggested menus should include palatable dishes, whose recipes had been handed down from generation to generation.

Here are some of the lesser-known dishes introduced by hotel proprietors anxious to test the Minister's theory: acelet—a meat roll made of spiced pork; stuffed chine—boiled bacon stuffed with herbs; checky pigs—pastry filled with mince-meat; blue vinney—a rare Dorset cheese. They also offered better-known delicacies such as Coventry pigeon pie, figgy squabs, giblet pie and boiled mutton stuffed with oysters, and haggis.

Prejudices of town visitors, however, have proved difficult to break down. Said one country hotel proprietor:

"I find many of them, particularly Londoners, are very conservative in their choice of food and rarely choose the local dish. It is rather disheartening, but I'm convinced that with a little tactful education we could overcome this prejudice."

GIFT TO NATION

LONDON, Nov. 26 (CP). — Old Devonshire House, Bloomsbury, built by the Third Earl of Devonshire after the great fire of 1688, has been presented to the nation.

It contains a rare collection of virginals, harpsichords and beautiful furniture, all part of the gift. Major Benton Fletcher is the donor.

A Black Frock With Distinction

Simple dress with corselet

(By Central Press)

Elegant simplicity is the keynote of this little frock which was inspired, strange to say, by a recent book written by Sara Pennoyer, titled, "Polly Tucker, Merchant." The dress is just such as the chic young heroine of the book would choose.

The book (in case you are curious) is about a girl who makes fashions her career and is successful.

The dress has many possibilities for changes of accessories. It has fine details, such as the sleek set-in waistline and wide corselet suede belt. Its simple high neckline and short sleeves with just the right fullness at the shoulders, are other good points.

It may be obtained in wool or acetate crepe, in black with red belt, Scotch mist with wine, green with rust, rust with green or brown with chartreuse.

Raise Your Blood-Count

And You'll Feel "In the Pink"

NORMAL BLOOD has a count of 4,500,000 red corpuscles. If your blood count is below this you just can't feel well, because only these tiny cells can carry the necessary nourishment from your food and the energizing oxygen from your lungs to every part of your body. With a low blood count you're bound to be always tired, easily upset, nervous and depressed, without appetite, sleepless, under weight. Everything is drudgery.

You needn't go on in this way! Take Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Originated by a Canadian physician, this tested tonic quickly raises your blood count. You get new energy and vigour, your depression and nervousness disappear, your appetite and normal weight return, you sleep soundly, and your life is worth living again. If this is not your experience your money will be refunded. 50c at all druggists.

Elegant Trend Is Shown In Simple Wool Dresses

New Materials Lend Themselves to the Popular Sculptured Lines, Making Little Frocks Important

(By Lisbeth)

Even the less formal of the new dresses in lightweight wool show the current trend toward elegance. Fine textures and lovely colors express this trend, and the materials have a sheer smoothness and suppleness which makes it easy for designers to drape them to perfection on the fitted lines favored this season.

The result of this is that the "little wool frock" leaps to the front as an important gown for dressier occasions, as well as filling its traditional place as correct for general utility wear and spectator sports.

Stiffly cut, with an air of smart simplicity, the wool frocks for all-occasion wear place a great deal of emphasis on fabric types and textures.

Ideal for Sculptured Lines

Soft, lightweight woollens in bright monotones, and sleek wool jersey in both solid colors and patterns, are largely adapted to the sculptured draping so much in evidence in this year's dressmaker frocks.

In the more sporting mood flannel is important for its nice tailoring qualities and durability. Gay authentic plaids are increasingly popular in these smooth-finished woollens, and are unusually attractive in the smart new all-round pleated skirts reminiscent of the Scotchman's swinging kilt. Bright colors and "winter pastels" share honors in the tailored models, with trim leather belts and tailored buttons. Short sleeves are the rule rather than the exception for this type of dress.

The all-round pleated skirt of the plaid dress shown on the seated model in sheer wool, is stitched flat through the waist for a slim silhouette. Short sleeves and Peter Pan neck are equally youthful features, and a full-length buttoned back closing is used. A narrow black leather belt outlines the fitted waistline.

Equally adaptable is the drape model, right, in kitten-soft rabbit woollen with elbow length push-up sleeves and horizontal diaphragm tucks achieving a smooth "plastered" fit through the waist. A high-rolled collar is finished with a large jeweled ornament at the front.

Seated, sheer plaid wool dress with black belt; standing, rust frock in soft texture rabbit woollen, jeweled ornament at throat.

Diet Beneficial To the Men Also

(By Gladys Glad)

Back in the seventeenth century, I am told, that famous French philosopher, Descartes, used to weigh his total intake of food on finely balanced scales every day. This he did in order to keep a check on his daily diet.

Men, as a rule, need more nourishment than women because they use up more energy. But every man should be careful of his diet, nevertheless, and there are men who go on a diet one week out of every month, not to lose or gain weight, but to gain energy. Any man who works at the expense of nervous energy could do well to follow this example.

The average male has a weakness for spicy seasonings, such as chili sauce, ketchup, salt, pepper and like condiments, and these should be banned. Lemon juice gives just as much taste to foods and can be used on meats and vegetables for seasoning. It is a good idea also to banish sweets and starches, and eating between meals.

The diet recommended for men is a seven-day diet that is to be followed one week out of every month. The routine is as follows:

MONDAY, — Breakfast: Honey Dew melon, toasted whole wheat muffin, coffee. Luncheon: Clear vegetable soup, chicken sandwich on rye toast—no butter, tea or coffee. Dinner: Celery, plain broiled lamb chops, broiled pineapple, lettuce and tomato salad—no dressing, tea or coffee.

TUESDAY — Breakfast: Mixed fruit cup, rye wafers, coffee or hot milk. Luncheon: Minute steak, sliced cucumbers and green peppers, stewed peaches, coffee. Dinner: Celery, tomato juice cocktail, chopped grilled steak, plain asparagus, tea or coffee.

WEDNESDAY—Breakfast: Sliced fresh pineapple mixed with fresh berries, one boiled egg, one slice Melba toast, tea or coffee. Luncheon: Chicken broth, mixed raw vegetable salad, slice rye toast, tea or coffee. Dinner: Broiled trout, mackerel or flounder, plain spinach, tomato and chicory salad, tea or coffee.

THURSDAY—Breakfast: Grapefruit, poached egg on whole wheat toast, coffee. Luncheon: Pineapple juice, unsweetened; crabmeat salad, coffee or tea. Dinner: Mixed vegetable juice cocktail, broiled liver, plain broccoli.

FRIDAY — Breakfast: Mixed grapefruit and orange quarters, Gluten toast, coffee. Luncheon: Lean roast beef, stewed tomatoes, string beans, endive salad, fresh fruit. Dinner: Clear broth, cottage cheese and sour cream, rye crackers, coffee.

SATURDAY— Breakfast: Baked apple with milk, coffee or tea. Luncheon: Carrot cocktail, two poached eggs with spinach, rye toast. Dinner: Broiled chicken, carrots, broiled cabbage, stewed tomatoes; fresh fruit for dessert.

SUNDAY—Breakfast: Half cantaloupe, fruited bran muffin, light coffee. Luncheon: Melted cheese sandwich on rye toast, fruit compote, tea or coffee. Dinner: Mixed grill (lamb chop, kidney, mushrooms), coleslaw, melba toast, sliced oranges.

Try this diet one week out of every month, boys, if you are inclined to corpulence or to extreme thinness. For you'll find that it will not only help to improve your build, but will also increase your energy and vitality.

CAR KILLS CYCLIST

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP) — George Swanson, 45-year-old railway employee, was killed today when thrown from his bicycle into the windshield of an automobile.

Joseph Johnston, 23, alleged driver of the automobile involved in the accident, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving when he reported the accident to police after taking Swanson to hospital. He was released on bail.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

REVERSING THE PROCEDURE

BRIDE IS a funny game. It has in it many spots in which you completely reverse the usual procedure. We all know the advisability of knocking out a side entry from the dummy, so that its suit cannot be run. Upon occasion, the thing to do is to knock the declarer's side entry out so that he cannot run his suit.

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

Here North started the bidding with 1-Diamond, South called 2-Clubs, North 2-Diamonds, South 2-Hearts, North 3-Diamonds and South 3-No Trumps.

The spade Q was West's opening lead and East, without giving any thought to the matter, jumped in with the Spade A in order to immediately knock out the club A in dummy to prevent the run of the diamond suit.

That play gave South the contract, for it cleared the way for him to run his own club suit while still retaining an entry into his hand with the spade K. After cashing the club A, the declarer led a low diamond, which West won with the Q. Another spade lead put South in to run four club tricks and five diamond tricks, making 11 tricks.

The East player regretted his haste in returning a club the moment he had done so. Figuring that South held two diamonds, the most West could have held was three, so that all South had to do was to duck one round of diamonds and the suit would have been cleared. Had the first trick been won by South with the K of spades, three spades, one diamond and two hearts would have been won by the opponents.

Next Problem

(Dealer: East, North-South vulnerable.)

What is the correct defense against South's 4-Hearts contract after the lead of the diamond K?

SMALL CHILD KILLED

HAWKESBURY, Ont., Nov. 26—(CP).—Four-year-old Audrey Allison was killed by an automobile in Point Fortune, Que., 12 miles east of here, last night.

The child was walking with her 82-year-old grandfather, William Allison, when she was frightened by a team of horses coming out of a yard. She dashed across the street, directly into the path of a car allegedly driven by Samuel Mosel, Montreal.

The Government of the Philippines will buy more automobiles and establish its own central garage.

SAVED 100 SHINPLASTERS

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP) —A lot of "shinplasters," as people are wont to call the 25-cent bills, arrived here this week. A rural depositor brought 100 of them to a bank.

FALLS FROM CAR, DIES

OSHAWA, Ont., Nov. 26 (C.P.). — Donald Elliott, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Elliott, died last night from a fractured skull. The child was driving with his mother in their automobile, and pressed on the car door handle. He fell out on his head.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLLE

For Saturday, November 27. ..

While employment and dealings with elders or superiors should prosper, judging by the lunar and mutual aspects, there are angles calling for wise, shrewd and careful manipulation of current issues. There is a menace of subtlety, craft, even trickery, especially in connection with contracts or tacit agreements. With vigilance and the co-operation of wise heads, all should thrive.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of fair success in employment and in co-operation with superiors or elders, but beware of intrigue, subtlety and, possibly, downright trickery. Be careful with contracts, writings and secret agreements. And do not spurn advice or support of wiser heads.

A child born on this day may have, perhaps, "an old head on young shoulders," being deep, calculating and shrewd, but having its dreams and longings also. While having sound business ability, it may yearn for solitude and reverie.

MEN WHO FEEL OLD

Get Back New Youth, Energy, Vitality

Too many men to-day feel tired out all the time—can't work, hate to get up mornings, haven't the vitality to do the things they used to do. A weak unhealthy liver caused by modern living, soft foods, lack of exercise, is the chief reason. Your liver is the storehouse for glucose or the "energy part" of the food you eat—it supplies energy to muscles, tissues and glands. If it is not strong and active no wonder you feel old! Take "Fruit-a-tives", it will build up your liver like nothing else will. You'll be surprised how young you soon feel. 25c., 50c., all Druggists.

WINNIPEG BLUES PRESENT STRONG GRIDIRON SQUAD

WINNIPEG, Nov. 26—(CP)—Winnipeg Blue Bombers will present a formidable array of football warriors when they invade Eastern Canada for the national final.

Twenty-five players average 197.7 pounds and the mean age is 26. They possess a wealth of experience. Although two former United States players, Martin Gainor and Ole Midgarden, are not eligible for the final under the "import" rule, seven other products of American College gridirons will make the eastern trip.

Seventeen members of the current Bomber machine were with the team in Hamilton in 1935 when Winnipeg won for the West its first Canadian senior championship. The newcomers are Art Stevenson, Steve Olander and Bill Boivin, halfbacks; Mel Wilson and Ches McCance, outsides; Ben Hatskin, snap, and Bill Nairn and Bert Lucid, linemen.

Coach Bob Fritz, graduate from Concordia College, Minnesota, in 1934, is quarterback and one of the West's great plungers. He is 28 and weighs 202.

Greg Kabat, 195-pound captain and line coach, captain University of Wisconsin before he came to Winnipeg in 1933 and gained all-star ranking as a Big Ten guard. Now 26, he plays in the backfield, plunges, passes and place-kicks. He punts when necessary.

Fritz Hanson, 24-year-old blond flash whose great ball-carrying featured the 1935 win at Hamilton, is the team's lightest man at 150 pounds and probably the most dangerous. A North Dakota State College product, he can pass effectively as well as run.

Art Stevenson, who came to Winnipeg this year from Hastings College, Nebraska, is 21 and 185 pounds. The team's ace punter he is a fine ball-carrier and forward passer.

Bud Marquardt, former team-mate of Hanson at North Dakota State, weighs only 180 pounds despite his six feet, five inches. A deadly tackler, he is a wonderful receiver. Bud is 24 and plays outside wing.

Son of Percy Nicklin, famous hockey coach, Jeff Nicklin's 200 pounds make him a punishing tackler from his outside berth. At 23 he has been with 'Pegs three years.

Lou (Rosy) Adelman, snap, is the "daddy" of the team after 18 years in senior football in Winnipeg though he is only 33. Rosy has carried his 220 pounds into four Dominion finals, the first at Ottawa in 1925. He threatened to retire this season but returned to fill a gap at centre.

Herb Peschel, 23, came to Winnipegs in 1935 from North Dakota State. He weighs 220 pounds and is one of the West's most useful middle wingers.

Lou Mogul, middle wing, played his first football in 1932 with Winnipegs. At 27 he is one of the greatest gridders ever developed here. Weight 230.

When Bert Oja played with Minnesota's famous Gophers he was selected All-American by Knute Rockne. Now aged 30, Bert missed much of the present campaign because of a shoulder injury but played a prominent role in the western final at Calgary. An inside, he weighs 200.

Tubber Kobrinsky, young Winnipeg interne, is Hanson's backfield relief. Weighing 165, he can run, pass and kick. Tubber is 23.

Nok 28, Dynamite Eddie James was once rated the West's greatest halfback. He still uses his 210 pounds to great effect. Eddie helped Regina Pats win the Canadian junior title in 1928 and was with Regina Roughriders in Dominion senior finals before returning to Winnipeg.

Bill Ceretti, 26-year-old inside wing, is a fine blocker and good tackler. The 190-pound Winnipegger is a source of inspiration to the team with his continual chatter.

Marsden (Sluah) Harris, 24, played with Toronto Argonaut juniors in 1934 and next year helped Winnipeg trim Hamilton Tigers. His 235 pounds are mightily useful at inside wing.

Herb Mobberley, "the mighty atom," is 32 and weighs but 150 pounds. Herb is a great defensive end.

Mel Wilson, aged 20, graduated from junior ranks this year. He weighs 200 and shows great promise at outside wing.

Bill Boivin, 22-year-old halfback, is in his second year with 'Pegs and is regarded as one of the brighest backfield prospects. An all-round star at 175 pounds, his forte is blocking.

Twenty-eight-year-old Eddie Kushner sees much action at inside wing. He weighs 200 and is a powerful tackler.

Bail Nairn, recruited last year from junior company, is a fast-improving inside wing. He is 23 and weighs 200.

Percy Daigle, relief quarterback, is one of the team's best passers. Percy weighs 155 pounds and is a good tackler and blocker. He is 22 years old.

Cliff Roseborough played with Regina Roughriders become coming to Winnipeg. He weighs 210 and is one of the West's strongest line plungers. Cliff is 27.

Bert (Tiny) Lucid weighs 240 and is a strong middle winger. Bert, 26, played with Calgary Bronks until this year.

Ben Hatskin at 20 is the team's heaviest player, 250 pounds. He is an alternate snap.

Ches McCance, 23-year-old outside wing, is an outstanding basketball player and his court experience makes him a sure pass receiver. Ches weighs 170.

Steve Olander is Winnipegs' 190-pound "ace in the hole." When Stevenson was injured the 26-year-old Olander stepped into the backfield to give an outstanding display of punting in two Western final games. He is a good ball-carrier too.

Fooled The Camera

Just when everyone had definitely decided that it couldn't be done Joseph Dunninger, New York magician comes along and performs the rope-and-disappearing-boy trick right in front of the camera. He declares that the Indian fakirs who pull the stunt in the open air just can't do it! Dunninger is shown performing at home. Don't ask us how he worked it because he swore the photographer to secrecy, but he used a miniature rope and a doll and he made the doll scuttle up the rope and disappear into thin air. What's more he offers to do it in Madison Square Garden. All right gang, you've got the floor now!

Australian Plants Will Use Alkali

MELBOURNE, Nov. 26—(CP).—Industries in which new capital of £2,000,000 ($8,000,000) will be invested by Imperial Chemical Industries of Australia and New Zealand, Ltd., will be in operation in Victoria and South Australia early in 1939.

Work has already begun on the new £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) plant at Port Adelaide to produce alkali products. Salt fields have been completed and flooded to provide soda ash and other products and the factory at Osborne has been started. Construction is underway at Deer Park, Victoria, of the factory for manufacture of sporting ammunition and commercial high explosives, including a black-powder plant.

In six months, a factory for manufacture of nitrate cotton explosives and nitrate cellulose lacquers is expected to begin operations, and another factory is to be built at Yarraville for ammonia syntheses and oxidization.

CELEBRATE PACT SIGNING

TOKYO, Nov. 26—(CP-Havas).—The entwined colors of Japan, Germany and Italy fluttered on a thousand Tokyo flag poles to-day in celebration of the first anniversary of the signing of the anti-Communist pact.

A mass meeting attended by 50,000 persons and the most prominent leaders of the government took place at Korakuen park in honor of the occasion.

CHICKEN THIEVES RAID MARLBANK

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Nov. 26.—An epidemic of thieving seems to have broken out in the vicinity of Marlbank. Poultry, both chickens and turkeys have been taken from several farmers. Reports that iron wheels, coolers, and parts of machinery have been stolen are numerous. Thieves have become bolder and recently beef cattle have been stolen and trucked away from different ranches.

John Letoine, Township of Elzevir, was fined $20.00 and costs for infractions of the Game and Fishery Laws when he appeared before Magistrate Lloyd on Thursday, and was convicted for illegally taking otter out of season. Latone was apprehended by Inspector Herb McCabe of the Game and Fisheries Department, who also preferred the charges on Thursday. The lone otter found in Latone's possession was confiscated by the Department. The fine and costs amounted to $36.30 in all and were paid.

The brick building at Chapman's Corners, until a few months ago occupied by Alex Barr and conducted as a store, was burned to the ground, by fire of unknown origin. The premises had been unoccupied for some time. It was owned by Ed. Fitchett of Tweed. When the alarm was sounded, the Tweed Fire Department was immediately called, but the fire had gained considerable head-way on their arrival. Fortunately the west wind carried the sparks away from the other buildings in the immediate vicinity. It is not expected that the building will be rebuilt.

A pumpkin weighing 116 pounds was grown and harvested by Lawrence LeSage of the Bogart district this fall. He is now looking around for the person who can produce a larger one.

QUEEN'S STANDARD FLYING

LONDON, Nov. 26—(CP-Havas).—The standard of Queen Elizabeth, bearing the coat of arms of the Bowes-Lyon family alongside that of the Royal family, floated over Buckingham palace for the first time to-day.

The standard will remain over the palace during the absence of the king, who is visiting Sandringham, in Norfolk.

171,401 OLD AGE PENSIONS

OTTAWA, Nov. 26—(CP). — National old-age pensions were being paid to 171,401 persons in Canada on September 30, 1937, according to a Finance Department summary in the November Labor Gazette.

During the quarter ended September 30, the Dominion Government contributed $7,000,839, its share since 1931 being 75 per cent. of the total cost. From inception of the Act in 1927 the Dominion has contributed $109,552,778.

WED SIXTY YEARS

STONEY POINT, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP).—Mr. and Mrs. Emil P. Chauvin, of this village, 25 miles east of Windsor, celebrated the 60th anniversary of their wedding this week. Mr. Chauvin has been Reeve of Tilbury Township for seven years.

EXPECT LIVENING OF BOND SELLING

TORONTO, Nov. 25—(CP).—Announcement of a $100,000,000 Dominion bond issue removed uncertainty in the high-grade bond market and more activity is anticipated for November.

Bond financing by governments and municipalities was at low ebb throughout October. No direct Federal or Provincial issues were put out but there were some Vancouver and district sewerage and drainage bonds guaranteed by the province and a number of small municipal issues, a total of $627,048, according to a compilation of Wood Gundy and Company, Limited.

Two new issues of Dominion of Canada three-months treasury bills, for refunding purposes, totalling $50,000,000, were sold during the month at a .696 per cent. cost for the October 14 issue and .781 per cent. for the October 29 sale.

In the 10 months of 1937 the aggregate government and municipal bond financing in Canada, apart from treasury bills, was $374,808,635, compared with $527,061,265 in the same period of last year.

Corporation bond financing in Canada this year has been substantially less than last year, but larger than in any preceding year since 1930. The aggregate for the 10 months was $125,356,100 compared with $214,453,724 last year. Refunding has accounted for a large share of this year's corporation financing.

Westerners, Cropless 9 Years Moving To Tweed Area

Neighbors Get Graham Estate In Shape For Newcomers From Saskatchewan

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Nov. 26. — Feeling that further effort on their part to gain a livelihood in Western Canada is futile, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reynolds and family of Bracken, Sask., will shortly take up their residence on the estate of W. F. Graham, near the Lodgegroom, which until recently was occupied by Edward Rivers. Mrs. Reynolds and family have already arrived from the West and are temporarily residing in Tweed until her husband arrives with the settler's effects and livestock.

For twenty-five years the Reynolds have resided in the Canadian West, coming from the State of Michigan. He owns one-half section of land, composed of 320 acres, and has left the property which is free of practically all incumbrances. Mr. Reynolds, who has not enjoyed a good crop yield for nine years, feels that prospects for the future are more encouraging in Eastern Canada, and that is why he has chosen this section. Only two weeks ago, a severe sandstorm swept the area where they live.

He is transporting to the east his horses, chickens, livestock, effects and machinery.

Mrs. Reynolds states that foodstuffs from Eastern Canada to the stricken area in which she formerly lived, were distributed among four hundred families.

The farmers in the vicinity of the Lodgegroom gathered recently on the Graham estate, and prepared the land and put the farm in good shape for the Westerners, who are to occupy it, and in the near future the farmers plan to further assist the new arrivals.

RUBBER HIGHWAYS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26—(AP)—Motorists soon may glide along rubber composition highways.

Bruce Petrie of Singapore, heading for his 35,000-acre rubber plantation at the end of a globe-circling tour, to-day visualized the replacement of concrete and asphalt roads with a mixture of cement and liquor rubber.

The new roads, he said, would be bump-proof, non-porous and everlasting, developed from British government experiment at Singapore.

SOME HONEY FIGURES

OTTAWA, Nov. 26—(CP). — Approximately 40,000 bee-miles of flight are required to obtain one pound of honey, the Department of Agriculture figured to-day.

The Department issued a press release calling attention to its household Bulletin No. 2 dealing with honey and said bees, carrying a payload of .0001 pound of nectar on each hiveward flight, must land on millions of flowers before they have enough to make one pound of honey.

Call To License Trade Unions Stings Labor Congress

Points Out Federation Has Only 3,000 Members, After Burford Sees Hepburn

OTTAWA, Nov. 26 (CP).—Norman S. Dowd, secretary-treasurer of the All-Canadian Congress of Labor last night commented on a Canadian Federation of Labor memorandum to the Ontario cabinet by saying "the so-called Canadian Federation of Labor has fewer than 3,000 members in Canada."

Dowd made his statement after being shown a Toronto despatch reporting the federation had asked the Ontario cabinet for an act licensing and regulating trades unions.

He also referred to statements by W. T. Burford, secretary of the federation that his organization would be satisfied to have the government decide what unions should be permitted to register "provided they (the government) sought information from informed sources."

Dowd's statement said: "The all-Canadian Congress of Labor is not interested in any statements by Mr. W. T. Burford."

Talk With Hepburn

A Canadian Federation of Labor delegation at Toronto yesterday told Premier Mitchell Hepburn foreign unions have waged relentless war on Canadian unions regardless of the interests of the workers. The deputation asked Ontario legislation for the licensing and regulating of trades unions.

A memorandum for the cabinet said it was objectionable that Canadian workers should pay dues to union offices in the United States. Tactics used by "foreign unions" to destroy "independence among the organized workers" included the anti-union strike, chiselling agreements, nuisance pickets, stench bombs and dynamite, it was charged.

The immigration act permitted international unions to carry on "shaky insurance schemes," the memorandum said. Yet when the unions were sued in Canadian courts they pleaded they were beyond the law.

The deputation suggested international unions might be granted registration on contributing to the provincial treasury a sum equal to the amount of their foreign remittances.

"Would you be satisfied under such an act to permit the government to decide what unions should be permitted to register," asked the premier.

"Yes, provided they sought information from informed sources," said W. T. Burford, secretary of the federation. The government should be able to say what union was bona fide and what was not.

Envoy Dismissed

DIMITRI N. BOGOMOLOV

In a mysterious move the Soviet Union has dismissed its ambassador to China, Dimitri N. Bogomolov (ABOVE). At the same time, Russian-Japanese tension increased with the publication, by the Russian army, of a warning to Japan to keep hands off Outer Mongolia or risk immediate war with the Soviet Union.

HEALTH INSURANCE BOOSTED IN B.C.

VICTORIA, Nov. 26 (CP).—Provincial Secretary George Weir told the British Columbia Legislature yesterday he intended to make whatever contribution was possible "to bring about state health insurance in the best interests of the people, the medical fraternity and the state."

Dr. Weir said the government consulted sociologists and medical economists in drawing up the Health Insurance Act passed by the Legislature last year and "they said it was sound and practical." The Act was not implemented after criticism by medical organizations and other bodies. The principle of health insurance was endorsed in a plebiscite held in conjunction with the June 1 Provincial election.

"Many medical men have told me that 80 per cent. of their profession would be better off under the Act," Dr. Weir said. "I have met many doctors in the last two months and believe the saner elements in that and other professions will prevail, that we shall come to an amicable understanding and that health insurance can be brought into effect."

Mother's Favorite For Coughs And Colds

It is hard to keep the children from taking cold. They get overheated, get their feet wet, and do a dozen things the mother cannot prevent.

Mothers should never neglect the children's coughs and colds, but on the first sign get a remedy that will give relief, and for this purpose we would highly recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It is so pleasant to the taste the youngsters take it without any fuss, and its promptness and effectiveness in loosening the phlegm and healing the bronchial tubes is such that the trouble is checked before anything serious may develop.

MRS. J. STAHL, Solsque, B.C., writes:—"For some years I have been using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for myself and family of four children. I have used lots of other kinds of cough medicine, but I like 'Dr. Wood's' best, as it acts much more quickly than any of the others."

NORTHERN IRELAND UNIONISTS AFTER LORD CRAIGAVON

BELFAST, Nov. 26—(CP). — The Conservative party, which regards the result of the general election in Northern Ireland early next year as a foregone conclusion, is not in a hurry to open its campaign but other Unionist groups are pushing ahead with their plans. The date for the election has not yet been set.

Viscount Craigavon, the prime minister, it is believed, will be able to devise a solution for the problem of the dissident wing of his party which is looking to W. J. Stewart, M.P. for South Belfast at Westminster, for leadership.

Mr. Stewart is seeking to capitalize dissatisfaction with the record of Lord Craigavon's administration for the past 15 years.

13 Independents Out

Independent Conservatives, who have three seats in the present parliament, are also to make a bid to increase their representation at the expense of the official Conservatives. They have already selected 13 candidates, including four to contest country seats, and if sufficient finance is forthcoming, will nominate 10 more.

Mr. Stewart's "Progressive Unionists" hope to field 12 candidates. This dissident M.P., who is still a member of the official Conservative, or Unionist party announces his group will fight election on the issue of unemployment and the alleged neglect of the province.

Northern Ireland, he declares, is in the backwater and its people are being treated as hewers of wood and drawers of water.

It has the highest unemployment rate of any area in the United Kingdom and also practically the highest infant mortality rate.

MILLBROOK

Music, games and contests filled the hours happily until it was time for the shower, prize-winners in the musical story contest being Jean Burnham and Dorothy Smith, who each received dainty dress clips; and in the college airs contest, Bea McDowell and Leatha Edworthy, who were given boxes containing English soap and lavender.

Mrs. Bigelow, assisted by Miss Eleanor, served supper shortly after the presentation to the guest of honor, and while it was in progress William Edworthy played piano selections. Miss Ruth Thorndyke played for Bea McDowell's whistling solo, which was warmly encored.

Mrs. G. E. Burnham is visiting her niece, Mrs. Russell Howe, and Mr. Howe, with other friends in Toronto.

Miss Phyllis Kidd is spending the current three weeks visiting her aunt, Mrs. Gordon Earle, in Peterborough.

Miss M. E. Needham is spending a few days in Toronto, and attending the Royal Winter Fair.

Messrs. Jeffrey and Ernest Powell, and W. Francey motored to Toronto on Thursday and spent the day at the Royal Winter Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Fallis entertained a number of guests at their home on Friday evening at five hundred, six tables being in use for play.

The name of Miss Leatha Rowland was inadvertently omitted from the list of artists who provided the program for the fowl supper in connection with Grace Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening. As always, Miss Leatha's recitations were cleverly rendered, the large audience demanding a recall for each one of her selections.

The many friends of Miss Ethel Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Rowland, will regret to learn that she is seriously ill in Nicholls' Hospital, Peterborough. Two blood transfusions have been necessary, her cousin, and brother, Johnston and Orville Rowland, supplying the necessary quantity. Some improvement in the patient's condition is reported.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dawson were their nephew, Dawson Richardson, of Winnipeg, Judge R. Ruddy, and son, Donald, of Whitby.

Owing to so many other events at this season, the hot supper which the W.A. of St. Andrew's church had billed for November 13, has been postponed until Saturday, December 11, at the Waverly Club rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. O'Brian motored to Peterborough on Friday evening and attended the play, "Mary-Gold", given by the Y.P.U. of George street United church. Afterward the cast of the play, for which Miss Marian O'Brian was script reader, with Rev. M. C. and Mrs. Parr, the directress of the play, Mrs. G. W. Thompson and Mr. Thompson, and other guests were entertained at supper at the apartment, Water street, of the Misses May Wilson, Marian O'Brian, and Viola Dobson, hot waffles and maple syrup being an item of the menu that was particularly enjoyed.

Assisting at the trousseau tea for which Mrs. John Rowland and her elder daughter, Miss Sadie, entertained on Friday and Saturday, were Mrs. H. A. Earle, who poured tea on Friday evening, the Misses Marian Earle and Anna Rowland serving, while on Saturday the aunt of the bride-to-be, Miss Agnes Johnston, poured tea and Marian Earle assisted with the service of the guests.

Mrs. T. C. Ingram, and her daughter, Miss Vanita, visited at the home of the former's brother, Mr. Talbot Davidson, at Fleetwood last week, going on then to Lindsay where they were guests of Mrs. M. Blackwell.

Wilson Ford, student at the O.A.C., Guelph, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ford.

Miss Margaret Russell was the guest of Miss Joyce Gardiner, at Port Hope, last week. This week Mrs. C. C. Ashby, and two children, Tommy and Arleigh, of Peterborough are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Russell.

But 40 Replies To 486 Protests Give Indians New One

Iroquois Chief Grieves Over Act That Cost Him Six Councillors

CAUGHNAWAGA, Que., Nov. 26—(CP).—Down the boulder-pocked road that snakes over a ridge to his little brick home, Mayor Joe Delisle trundled yesterday with a team of shaggy horses and a load of trouble.

For Mayor Delisle, a bronzed farmer in a tattered windbreaker, life is not too smooth. There is a lot of political unrest and general dissatisfaction among the some 3,000 Iroquois living on this Indian reserve.

Joe manoeuvred his team and wagon chassis through a narrow gateway, upsetting the gate as he passed, and then shuffled into the house to tell newspapermen why seven of the reserve's 12 councillors had sent in their resignations to the Department of Indian Affairs at Ottawa.

"We want to get rid of this Indian Act," said His Worship, ruffling his greying hair to emphasize his feelings. "When the government offered this act to the Indians, they said, 'Take it and try it out; if it doesn't work, why bring it back'. So we have found it doesn't work and we want them to take it back."

Some More Wrongs

But that is only one of the grievances voiced by the chief magistrate of Caughnawaga, whose family has lived alongside the Lachine Rapids nearly 300 years. The Whiteman, he says, is infringing on the Iroquois rights. White foremen oversee road-building jobs. White storekeepers cut in on the business of the town across the river from Montreal. And white residents on the reserve are increasing in number. All this appears unfair to Joe and his fellow councillors. So they complained to Ottawa.

"And what do we get from that?" demanded the mayor. The reporters couldn't answer that, so Joe, leaning forward in his easy chair, volunteered to continue. "Well, this is what we get: In the two years I have been mayor, we have passed 468 resolutions and forwarded them to Ottawa for action. Mind you, 468 resolutions! In reply to those resolutions we get 40 answers. That's what we get.

$7 A Month Relief

"We get only 40 answers because in the Indian Act it says we can pass whatever resolutions we wish, do whatever we wish and ask whatever we wish. But at the bottom of the act there is a provision that says it will be all right if the government says 'yes.'

"We asked $3,000 to build a road and give work to our people on relief. The government gave us $1,100 and a white foreman. We didn't want the white foreman so they withdrew the grant. Now we have families on relief, some with six or seven children, getting seven dollars a month. Figure out what that comes to per meal."

The council was divided on the question of asking Ottawa for withdrawal of the Indian Act and for permission to re-establish tribal government. So seven of them quit. They sent in their resignations to Ottawa. The other six still are in office. A new election will be held in January.

SLAUGHTER STARTS OF 2,000 BUFFALO

WAINWRIGHT, Alta., Nov. 26—(CP).—The sharp crack of intermittent rifle fire echoed through Buffalo National Park to-day as the historic annual slaughter of buffalo continued. Lack of sufficient grazing area forces reduction of the herd.

Central figure in the slaughter, intended to reduce the herd by 2,000 to 4,500, is the official "executioner" steady-fingered Sam Purshell, rifleman for the Dominion Government at Wainwright, 120 miles southeast of Edmonton, and at Elk Island National Park, about 35 miles east of Edmonton.

Slayer of 6,000 buffalo and renowned throughout the West as a topnotch marksman, Purshell usually kills each shaggy animal with one shot, a bullet squarely between the eyes.

The slaughter, a spectacular ceremony remindful of the vanished age when hunters on horseback slew buffalo by thousands over the prairies, will continue at the rate of about sixty a day until the herd has been decreased by 2,000.

War Described As Beautiful By Young Son Of Mussolini

Ethiopians Cavalry Described As "Budding Roses" When Bombs Struck

ROME, Nov. 26—War is the "quintessence of beauty," Vittorio Mussolini, youthful aviator-son of Premier Benito Mussolini, assures Italian youth in his book on Italy's conquest of Ethiopia, which was put on sale Wednesday.

Young Mussolini, who recently returned from a visit in the United States, describes his seven months' service bombing Ethiopians as a period of "magnificent sport."

The whole of the 150-page book, entitled "Flying Over Ethiopian Mountain Ranges," is devoted to the beauty of war and relates the young flier's experiences during the campaign as a second lieutenant of aviation.

To Vittorio "everything was fun."

Describing a bombardment of Ethiopian Galla cavalry a few days before Christmas, 1935, he writes:

"We arrived upon them unobserved and immediately dropped our loads of explosives. . . . I remember that one group of horsemen gave me the impression of a budding rose as the bombs fell in their midst. It was exceptionally good fun and they were easy to hit as we were not too high up. They offered a perfect target.

"The bombing of Adowa," Vittorio writes, "failed to give us any satisfaction owing to the fact there were only small huts which flattened out without raising smoke or flames as one would see in an American film."

In the preface to the volume Vittorio states the purpose of the book is "to have Italian youth learn from a young man what it feels like to be fighting a war when only 20 years of age and to be above war's sorrow, appreciating only its beauties."

MADE IN CANADA

CANADIAN CHEESE TOPS ANY MADE

able," he said, "that during the coming season manufacturers of Canadian cheese will be required to stencil, probably in two places opposite each other, on the sides of each cheese 'Canada' or 'Canadian'."

A high percentage of Canadian cheese arrived in U.K. markets in broken boxes, the commissioner said, and some effort should be made to strengthen the boxes. He did not favor shifting to crates instead of boxes.

Boxes a Canadian Mark.

"All other countries supplying cheese of the cheddar type to the United Kingdom, such as New Zealand, Australia, Union of South Africa, Irish Free State, and Holland use crates," Mr. Singleton said. "Canada is the only country using a box and for this reason it is a distinctive package, which until the cheese is removed from the box to be placed on the retail counter, is equivalent to a national mark. For these reasons it certainly appears advisable to endeavor to strengthen the box which is now used rather than to abandon it in favor of a crate. Further, cheeses in crates cannot be as easily turned out for inspection and are more susceptible to damage from vermin such as rats and mice.

"The Forest Products Laboratory of the Dominion Department of Mines and Resources is now making a study of construction of cheese boxes with a view to securing information as to how they may best be strengthened. When this study is completed it is expected that regulations under authority of the Dairy Industry Act will be sought in order to provide legal minimum specifications for cheese boxes."

Production of factory cheese for the first 10 months of 1937 was 121,321,591 pounds and in the corresponding period of 1936 it was 109,911,360. Ontario produced 87,-960,343 pounds this year, and 81,-250,823 last. Production of creamery butter for the past 10 months was 221,328,932 pounds and last year 224,606,618. Ontario had 71,192,025 pounds this year and 75,885,105 last.

Canadas cheese exports for the past 10 months with the corresponding period last year in brackets were: United Kingdom 64,597,400 pounds (47,504,200); United States 4,429,000 (10,863,500).

A big demand has developed for mature Canadian cheese for making process cheese in Great Britain, Mr. Singleton said. One outcome is that Canadian cheese thereby loses its identity.

Canadian Quality Tops All.

"While many engaged in the cheese trade in the United Kingdom consider that the best English and Scotch farm cheddar cheese are superior to any imported cheddar cheese," he said, "it is generally conceded that not only is the Canadian product of a higher quality than any other imported cheese, but also it is the highest quality of any source, domestic or imported, which is available in quantity."

The Commissioner quoted from a letter by James H. Henderson, dairy produce grader of the branch now in England, dealing with a call on the manager of a chain store organization which annually buys and matures 50,000 boxes of Canadian cheese.

"He (the manager)," Mr. Henderson wrote, "advises that his best trade asked for old English cheddars, and the next best cheese was good old Canadian, but it took patience to mature the cheese and age them suitable for his market, yet there were no cheese imported into England could equal our Canadian cheese; and he strongly recommended the holding of the Canadian cheese on the factory shelves just as long as possible before offering them for sale."

Officers of another firm which Mr. Henderson visited advised him that no cheese imported into the United Kingdom will mature and hold its high quality flavor like Canadian cheese.

The Unpasteurized Advantage.

"It is believed by many in the trade in the United Kingdom," Mr. Singleton continued, "that cheese made from pasteurized milk will not during maturing develop a characteristic cheddar cheese flavor, and further, that cheeses made from pasteurized milk are not safe to carry longer than about six months from the date of manufacture. Also cheese made from pasteurized milk when cut and allowed to stand for a few hours develop a hard surface with a glazed appearance and the surfaces open up. These hard surfaces must be cut off with resultant loss to the retailer.

"Manufacturers of cheese in the United Kingdom and the Union of South Africa are being forced to adopt pasteurization of milk for cheese making, and it appears probable that in the near future factory cheese from unpasteurized milk will be available only from Canada.

"The relatively high quality of Canadian cheese coupled with the fact that it is made from unpasteurized milk has given Canada an important advantage in two directions.

Canadian cheese is for reasons already mentioned considered to be most suitable for maturing purposes and one chain store organization last year bought for maturing purposes, 50,000 boxes of Canadian cheese, equivalent to about 6% per cent. of Canada's total exports of cheese to the United Kingdom during 1936. The trade in fully matured high quality cheese is confined almost exclusively to Canadian cheese and while opinions differ, the trade in matured cheese is generally believed to be increasing.

"The manufacture of pasteurized process cheese is increasing in the United Kingdom, and it is reported that some 40 firms are manufacturing this product. The quantity of pasteurized process cheese produced during 1936 is believed to have been about 40,000,000 pounds, of which the greater part was made by a very few firms.

Need Canadian For Quality

The process cheese produced in the United Kingdom has a much more highly developed cheese flavor than has the process cheese produced in Canada, and this higher flavor is secured by using a high percentage of mature cheese in the mix. Manufacturers of process cheese are, therefore, buyers of large quantities of Canadian cheese.

One manufacturer of process cheese, probably the one with greatest output, stated that last year he bought 140,000 boxes of Canadian cheese, or almost one-fifth of our total exports to the United Kingdom last year which amounted to 745,000 boxes."

Cheese prices had been relatively high this year, Mr. Singleton said. "The unweighted average price of cheese delivered in Montreal during the six months of heavy production, May to October inclusive, was during 1937, 14.25 cents as compared with 13.3 cents during the same months of the previous year, an increase of .95 cent per pound equivalent to 7.1 per cent.

The unweighted average price for first grade pasteurized butter delivered Montreal during the same months of 1937 was 25.59 cents per pound as compared with 22.76 cents per pound during the same months of the previous year, an increase of 2.85 cents per pound, equivalent to 12.5 per cent. That is, the advance in the price of butter during the past season was greater than the advance in the price of cheese.

"However, even on a basis of the relative values during these months of 1937, namely a pound of butter equalizing in value 1.8 pounds of cheese, cheese appears, taking everything into consideration, to be relatively higher in price than butter and this relative higher value of cheese seems to be reflected in increased make of cheese both in all Canada and in Ontario and also by a decreased make of creamery butter.

BENNETT VISIONS NEW TRADE PACTS

declared, but this advantage was in danger of being destroyed by proposed negotiations between Great Britain and United States and between Canada and United States.

"The British Government stands pledged to give free entry to many Canadian products until August 20, 1940, by the renewal last February of the Ottawa agreements," Mr. Bennett said. "But the right is still there to terminate the agreements by approval of both parties.

"Remember this, my friends, the preferences Canada now enjoys on the British market can only be destroyed with permission of the Canadian government. If they are changed, it will mean taking away the jobs of men and women in Western Canada, and we will have in this country unemployment to an extent we have never known before."

Speaking of defence, Mr. Bennett said Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, now in Victoria campaigning for R. W. Mayhew, Liberal candidate, had brought up the subject on the political platform.

"If defence is to become a political football, we might as well shut up shop and say we're through," Mr. Bennett remarked. "Defence should never be a party matter but one of natonal interest, involving all parties."

"Don't let us make defence of our shores a political issue," he said.

Mr. Bennett stated Canada's trade shrank by two-thirds in 1929 and 1930. Imports fell by $165,000,000 and exports by $325,000,000. In those years the United States raised the highest tariff barrier it had ever applied on Canadian goods.

The Conservative leader charged that the Liberal government "has not done anything" to change that condition. All improvement shown since 1932 was the result, he said, of the Imperial preferences arranged in Ottawa five years ago.

"Preferences are the life blood in other Dominions. They are the difference between success and failure, profit and loss to us in Canada.

"When we first introduced the subject of preference in parliament, the Liberal Opposition spent three weeks denouncing the agreements as 'vicious and iniquitous.' Five years later the Liberals turned completely around and signified their approval of the agreements by renewing them, with practically no change but a slight change in wording.

"I ask you and the people of all Canada, to use your power and influence to see to it no change is made in the Imperial preference for Canada's primary products," he said. "Never have you faced such a serious problem—one that affects your future more.

"The British Empire is held together by very slight bonds. A few Governor-Generals, the Privy Council, and trade agreements. Any altering of the trade agreements will weaken the links between the sections of the Empire."

ASK INDUSTRIES AID IN YOUTH TRAINING

Industries Are Asked To Help In Youth Training Program City Executive Is Organized

Apprenticeship And Leadership Side Recommended By H. C. Hudson

Industries of Peterborough were called upon to co-operate as representatives of many organizations and interests gave their approval of the Dominion-Provincial Youth Training Program at a meeting called by Mayor George Macdonald in the City Council chambers Thursday night. Carl S. Browne of the Collegiate staff, long a student of vocational guidance problems, was named president of an executive committee to put the plan into operation here.

The apprenticeship and learnership side of the great program was recommended particularly for attention in Peterborough by H. C. Hudson, general superintendent of Ontario Employment Services, as he explained to the forty men and women present the idea and operation of the program. The problem with which the governments are dealing is that of the unemployed young man, who may never have had a job and has no experience on which he can seek a job, and the unemployed young woman without training or experience, he said.

Forestry Camp

The Department of Labor began its program with the establishment of forestry camps in the far north and benefitted 369 selected young men by giving them a forestry course earlier this Fall, he continued. He pointed out that Peterborough is represented by one young man in the course selected for benefits of a mining course at Haileybury. Efforts to organize a household arts course which will give inexperienced girls sufficient training to permit them to hold down superior domestic jobs are being made, he said.

Not Relief Idea

"These are not in the nature of relief work projects of any kind," Mr. Hudson stressed. "The idea is to help these young people to get some kind of training which will permit them later to get permanent jobs. For Peterborough with its many industries I think the apprenticeship and learnership side of the program is the most important."

Explaining this plan, he said it is up to the manufacturers to co-operate by canvassing their own future needs in the way of skilled workers. Industries here will be solicited for apprenticeship openings and boys will be provided. No element of compulsion exists in the plan, the manufacturer selecting boys sent to him according to his own judgment, he explained.

While the manufacturer will be expected to pay the usual apprenticeship wages to the boys thus taken in, the Department of Labor will assist by paying up to $10 a week as a living allowance during a training period not to exceed 13 weeks, he continued. For Peterborough, with lower living costs, the allowance would likely be up to $7 or $8 a week, he said. This allowance is not to be paid to all, but to be paid at the discretion of the Department in cases where boys would otherwise be unable to take advantage of the opportunities afforded.

Learnership

Explaining the "learnership" plan, he said the Department is prepared to pay up to 40 per cent of the cost in inefficiency and waste of materials experienced by the manufacturer in taking on the learner.

Up To Citizens

"The Government cannot make a success of this plan," Mr. Hudson declared. "It must be done by the citizens of the community and the employers. It is not an appeal on charity or relief basis. We want to convince employers that it is to their advantage, it is to the advantage of the community." He said the province has already extended the benefits of this plan to 900 young men and women and has as its objective 3,000 by next March.

Mayor Macdonald thanked Mr. Hudson and told the meeting it remained to present the matter to the public in an appealing way. Alderman Malcolm McIntyre, second by Harry Gainey, moved endorsation of the plan by the meeting and named the executive officers in his motion.

Mayor Macdonald was named honorary president and Dan Douglas, Employment Services superintendent, was chosen secretary. The following were chosen members of an executive committee: Alderman James Dutton, Charles Elliott, Judge Sheldon Smoke, Fred Overend, F. E. Johnston, Rev. Father Kelley, Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, Tom McMurray, Mrs. W. R. Morris, Miss E. Deannard, D. H. Melton, I. F. McRae, A. D. Runions, Al. Sharpe, and representatives to be named, one from each local service club.

WINNERS NAMED IN BABY CONTEST

Jackie Loucks, son of Mr. John Loucks, 282 Aylmer Street, won the baby contest (Catholic section) conducted in connection with the St. Peter's Cathedral parish bazaar with 117,500 votes. Marie and Teresa Begley, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Begley, 280 Thomas Street, were second with 107,900 votes and Terrence O'Keefe, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Keefe, 114 Robinson Street, with 75,800 votes, was third.

In the guest baby section, Barbara Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lewis, 278½ Simcoe Street, with 193,300 votes, was first; Robert Malby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Malby, 532 Charlotte Street, with 95,700 votes, was second, and Keele V. Tewsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. V. Tewsley, 599 Gilmour Street, with 48,000 votes, was third.

The prizes are to be presented and the draw to take place at the Lyceum this (Friday) evening.

ADDRESS GIVEN BY GRAND MASTER

APSLEY, Nov. 26.—On Tuesday evening the Orange Hall was filled when an open night was held under the auspices of L.O.L. 1072, with the object of giving fresh impetus to the activities of the local lodge.

The Rev. R. M. McMullin was chairman for the occasion. Addresses were delivered by the Grand Master of Ontario East; Mr. E. N. Mitchell of Lindsay; Mr. Moore, also of Lindsay; County Master, Mr. R. Darling, Lakefield, and the Master of the Apsley Lodge. Other visitors from Lindsay and Lakefield were present in the audience. The Grand Master gave a vivid and detailed description of his visit to the Triennial Conference held at Glasgow, and participation in the celebration at Belfast, and held the close attention of the audience for a full hour.

Between the speeches vocal and instrumental numbers were given by local talent, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott winning great applause for their guitar numbers. Ten year old Rodney Kilborn played a solo on the cornet. Mr. W. S. Carr contributed a very fine recitation, and Mr. L. E. Blackwell gave a vocal solo. After the National Anthem was sung, the audience was served with coffee, cake and sandwiches, bringing to a conclusion a very enjoyable evening.

DR. MART CROUGH NEW PRESIDENT OF KINSMEN CLUB

Dr. Mart Crough was elected president of the Peterborough Kinsmen Club for 1938 at the annual elections held on Thursday evening. Dr. Crough is a charter member of the Peterborough Club, and has always taken a keen interest in Kinship. A year ago he was the club's delegate to the National convention in Saskatoon, and this past year he has been in charge of the club's programs.

Donald Scott moves up from the position of secretary to that of vice-president, while Jimmy Ireland is the new secretary, and Harold Constable the new registrar. Dave Hubbert retains the office of treasurer. The three directors elected were Ken Smilie, Hal Leybourne and Howard Shimer.

Mac MacDonald of the Royal Bank staff, was introduced into the club membership by Dave Hubbert and initiated by the president, Donald Loucks.

H. L. Garner, managing director of The Examiner, discussed advertising, giving a brief history of its early beginning, present day advertising, the relation of the news to advertising and a resume on the collection of news for newspapers.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Garner by George Cunningham.

BELIEVED CHASED BY HOLD-UP MEN, ONLY THE POLICE

Edward Rowe of eDtroit pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., this morning and was fined $15 and $4 costs.

He explained to the Bench that one time outside Chicago he was ordered to stop his car and was robbed by hold-up men of forty-eight dollars.

When ordered to stop his car last night as he was proceeding north through the city on the way to visit his father at Young's Point whom he has not seen in nine years, Rowe said, "I wasn't taking any chances."

In the United States he told the magistrate whom he addressed as "judge"—"our police scout cars have a red light." The officer who ordered him to stop he said had no red light on the car and Rowe believed he was being chased by hold-up men.

"I didn't see the other car gaining up on me until I got to Nassau, and as I said before I didn't want to take any chances so I speeded up my car."

When he was eventually overtaken somewhere near Lakefield, Rowe declared, "I told the three other occupants of the car to get out on the opposite side and be prepared for a hold-up." A few seconds later he learned for the first time, he asserted, that the driver of the pursuing car was a police officer.

The Chief Constable told the court that Constable A. W. Clarke noted in his report that Rowe was driving through the city at a "terrific rate of speed." The officer followed the car and tried to stop it by tooting his horn as a signal, but Rowe was stated to have accelerated to seventy miles-an-hour.

After hearing the decision of the Bench Rowe out of pocket forty-eight dollars on a previous occasion for stopping, was minus nineteen dollars for not stopping.

FACIAL INJURIES SUFFERED BY CHILD

Injured when a motor car driven by her father was involved in collision with another vehicle at Argyle and Water streets on Thursday afternoon, Mary Foster, 4, was treated at Nicholls Hospital for head and facial cuts.

Clarence Foster of Lakefield, reported to police he was driving his automobile south on Water street and claims that another car coming from the opposite direction, attempted to turn west on Argyle street in front of him.

KILLED BY A TRAIN

CORNWALL, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP)—Charles Alanott, 20, was killed and a companion, Allan Ellenberg, 20, was injured when their automobile was struck today by a Canadian National Railway freight train at the Lancaster level crossing, 18 miles east of here. Both were district residents. Wreckage of the automobile was strewn along the railroad right-of-way.

SHEEP KILLER

DAFOE, Sask.—(CP).—W. Proats, farmer of Dafoe, in the Saskatoon district, is hunting for the dog which destroyed 53 of his sheep. The dog hopped into the corral and killed some of the animals, the others dying from injuries suffered in the stampede that followed.

Unique Distinction

Miss Jennie A. Batten who has the distinction of being the only woman in Ontario holding appointment as county clerk and treasurer, is here seen at Warden Roy Brown's chair during the present sittings of Peterborough County Council.

WOULD BE GOOD RINK

Youthful hockey players are hopeful that when the city council is arranging its program for winter sports that the new lacrosse bowl will be included among the city rinks. With its boarded sides the boxla arena would make an ideal hockey cushion, it is pointed out.

DANGER SIGN ERECTED.

A new danger warning has been erected on Park Hill road to warn motorists of the presence of the C. N.R. crossing on the east side of the Otonabee. The crossing is now guarded by warnings apparent to drivers approaching from both directions.

NO FIRE DAMAGE.

When smoke from the exhaust of a car filled the premises of Metcalfe Auto Electric last night, an alarm to the Fire Department resulted. No damage was caused. Firemen also attended to a chimney fire at the home of G. Temple, 403 London street.

MEETING TO-NIGHT.

All citizens interested are being invited to attend a further meeting in the Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock this evening (Friday) in the interests of a Peterborough Concert Association. The object of the association will be to bring some outstanding musical artists to the city during this winter.

TWO MEDALS DONATED.

The Toronto branch of the Life-Saving Society has sent two medals here to be competed for by local girl swimmers at the Y.W.C.A. swimming pageant tonight. The annual senior championships and trophies will be awarded this evening in a series of aquatic competitions, with fancy swimming in colored costumes and illuminated trick displays also on the program.

IS COUNTY CONSTABLE.

Bearing a letter of authority from the Reeve of North Monaghan Township, Bruce Menzies presented himself before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., this morning to be sworn in as county constable. He was referred by His Worship to Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., who undertook to complete arrangements to have Mr. Menzies sworn-in later during the day.

THE C.A.S. CRISIS

"The crisis in the local Children's Aid Society calls for notice" said J. H. Burnham, one of the original founders of the movement to Examiner today. "It will never do that the original C.A.S. in this province should have become a failure. Report of the government officer calls for action, no doubt and there will have to be a reconstruction but to make a sacrifice of Mr. Edgar will not satisfy the requirements. There is more behind it, I am bound to believe than that. There seems to have been faulty administration for which he is not to blame."

LABOR'S REPRESENTATIVE.

Organized labor made a successful bid for a say in the administration of the Dominion-Provincial Youth Training program at the Mayor's general meeting of citizens on Thursday night. In this city at the present time to organize a second Machinists' Union to include garage mechanics and apprentices, A. F. of L. Organizer Richard Riley was present at the meeting and took the floor to nominate to the executive committee Tom McMurray, president of the Trades and Labor Council here. "Should not organized labor have a representative on the executive?" he asked as he made his nomination. Mr. McMurray's name was approved by the meeting along with other additional suggestions.

CORRECTION IN PRICE.

In the Carload Groceteria advertisement of Thursday the item Libby Pork and Bean appeared with the price of 2 Cans for 27 Cents. The correct price should be 2 Cans for 15 Cents.

YOUTH MEETING CALLED.

President C. S. Browne and his committee, appointed by the citizens' meeting last night to supervise the Peterborough end of the Dominion-Provincial Youth Training program, have decided to meet in full committee on Tuesday evening at 7.00 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce. A date and place for a big public meeting in the interests of the program will likely be arranged at that time.

UNEMPLOYED LIST INCREASES.

The registration of applicants for work at the Employment Services Bureau has been swelled considerably by the cessation of work on the northern highways, Dan Douglas revealed today. The registration total is around 850, the high of the year. The only major road job under way at present is the shoulder grading project on Highway No. 7. Co-operation of the citizens in supplying casual employment for odd jobs to the men registered would be of great value in view of the approach of Christmas, Mr. Douglas commented.

RED CROSS BRANCH FORMED IN LINDSAY

The newest branch of the Red Cross Society in Ontario has just been organized in the town of Lindsay.

The branch proposes to carry on an active Red Cross program not only in Lindsay, but in the district, and at the present time it is planned to make the society county-wide taking in all of the other towns in Victoria County. Besides the conducting of home nursing and nutrition classes and the promotion of Junior Red Cross in the schools, the branch is at the moment starting a survey of the children of the town with a view to finding out those who need dental and toxoid treatment.

N. R. Vinton, field secretary of the Ontario Division, visited the new branch this week and reports that a county-wide campaign is being planned to be held early in the New Year with J. W. Deyell as campaign chairman. The committee is yet to be named.

The following are the officers and executive committee of the branch:

Hon. president, Judge McGibbon; Hon. Vice-president, Lady Eaton; President, Jasper Forman; Vice-presidents, Alexander Horn and Mrs. J. H. Meehan; secretary, D. McQuarrie; treasurer, Newton Smale; executive committee, Mrs. T. J. Begley, J. W. Deyell, Miss Naomi Edwards, Dr. H. J. Gleeson, Dr. H. D. Logan, Miss M. McKenzie, Mrs. J. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. Everett Mitchell, Mrs. Ruby I. Moore, James Wood.

OBITUARY

MRS. JAMES T. HALL.

The death occurred at Yorkton, Saskatchewan, on November 16 of Margaret, Shearer, wife of the late James T. Hall. She was born in Otonabee, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shearer, and lived the greater part of her life in this district, removing to Saskatchewan about nineteen years ago. Mrs. Hall had been seriously ill for six weeks, and her death was not unexpected. She leaves to mourn her loss five sons and two daughters, all residing in Saskatchewan, three sisters, Mrs. W. J. Porter, Mrs. John Breckenridge, Mrs. Andrew Evans of Otonabee, also one brother, James Shearer of Keene. The funeral was held on November 18 from Yorkton Baptist Church to Yorkton Cemetery.

COUNTY COUNCIL VISITS CROSSING IN OTONABEE TWP.

Most of the members of the county council put an hour to outside service this morning by a motor trip to examine the C.N.R. crossing on the sixth line of Otonabee where J. J. Duffus, M.P., has suggested a high level bridge be built to eliminate the traffice hazard. They had also several roads to inspect.

Reeve Allan Caldwell of Chandos had gone home to do some electioneering, the municipal change in the north-eastern corner of the county taking place in the first week of December. Reeve John Clark of Galway was still absent, and may not report at all this week. He was greatly affected by the recent death of his nephew, who was killed by a falling tree. Reeve Shearer of Harvey and Reeve Griffith of Belmont could not be present this morning, and for that reason the work of the council was held up.

Rather than waste an hour in the council chamber, the others decided to accompany Reeve E. N. McDonald of the road committee on the short inspection trip that was proposed earlier in the week.

Emily Deputation.

An appeal to the county council to bear half the cost of improving the boundary road north of Fowler's Corners was made by a deputation headed by Reeve Joseph Guiry Thursday afternoon. Other members of the deputation were Vernon Harry Stanley and Perle Lowes, Ira Switzer, Howard Clark, Wm. Hambridge, Herman Franks and others. The road is between Emily and Smith townships. The request was referred to the county roads committee.

The "morning after" touch from Thursday night's dinner came at the opening of to-day's session with Warden Roy Brown's reminder to the members to pay Miss Batten, clerk, for their tickets. The dinner's only cost to the county was for its guests, the boys and girls of the judging teams and the members of the city council.

All the members of the council attended the dinner except Reeves Griffiths of Belmont-Methuen, E. W. Seeney of Havelock, Russell Thompson of Norwood, Deputy-reeve M. H. Johnston of North Monaghan and Reeve John Clark of Galway, who has been unable to attend the sessions this week.

PETERBORO' DOGS WIN AT THE ROYAL

Peterborough dogs made a fine showing at the dog show at the Royal Winter Fair, under the auspices of the National Kennel Club and conducted according to the Canadian Kennel Club rules. Three dogs made up the Peterborough representation. James Dutton, Jr., who has taken a keen interest in Irish setters made an entry in the show with Morna of Longford and she proved very successful among such a large entry of Irish setters, being placed second. This was Morna's first appearance in the show ring and she has every appearance of making a real show dog.

The Liftlock Kennels, owned by W. Welch, also made a big hit with the good Boston terrier Hagerty's King's Captain which was placed first and third in his respective classes.

OWNS NEWSPAPER PRINTED IN 1863

CALGARY, Nov. 26 — (CP). — Among treasures of Mrs. E. T. Malden of Calgary is a newspaper, the Daily Citizen, published at Vicksburg, Miss., July 2, 1863.

Filling its columns is news and notes of the American Civil War. The wallpaper that it is printed on bears proof of the hard times that the people of the South were then facing.

The news reported events prior to July 2, but the paper apparently was not issued until a few days later. In one column there is a sneer at General Ulysses S. Grant, commander of the Union Army, telling of his intention to enter Vicksburg and celebrate July 4 there. A short note at the end announces Grant's arrival.

Argentina's new film production studio will have four large sets.

Council Is Asked To Protest Age Limit Of Sixty-Five On Automobile Liability

Insurance Companies Placed Age Limit Of 65 On Auto Drivers

Imposition of an age limit of 65 years on automobile owners who may obtain liability insurance was reported to the county council this morning by Thomas McIndoo of Cavan township who requested that the restriction be called to the attention of the provincial government.

"When I did not receive the usual notice of the expiration of my insurance policy this year I called at the local office of the company and asked him about it," Mr. McIndoo said. "The agent told me the company did not wish to carry me any longer because I had passed the age. I have been driving a car twenty-one years, I have never had an accident, I am physically fit and a total abstainer from liquor in all forms. I have been paying automobile insurance all these years, paying gasoline tax and helping to pay for the improvement of our roads. I told the agent I would not expect to obtain insurance if I could not present a doctor's certificate that I was physically fit in ever way.

Reinsured For Year.

The agent went back to Toronto about this matter, and as a result of what I told him I was reinsured for one year. Beyond that time I don't know whether I will get insurance again. Such a regulation is affecting a multitude of men in their sixties, and I have brought it before the county council in the hope of starting the ball rolling, and because this council is a medium between the ratepayers and the provincial government. I was told the rule was general with all companies, and I also learned that a man at Springville about my age was turned down.

Liability insurance is issued to young men who we all know drive cars while under the influence of liquor, but men like myself would practically have to withdraw from the highways. I hope you will consider the matter."

Reeve Gifford said that if he might speak on behalf of the council the confidence of Mr. McIndoo in the county council was fully appreciated, 'and I think we should take it up for him and all the others who are affected by it." His motion to refer the insurance question to the legislative committee was seconded by Deputy-reeve Reid.

DRUNKEN DRIVER IS GIVEN 15 DAYS

George Martin, described as a Toronto dental supply salesman, was sentenced to fifteen days imprisonment on pleading guilty to a drunk-driving charge before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., this morning.

When asked to plead the accused wavered with indecision. First he pleaded guilty then changed it to not guilty and finally decided to admit his guilt because, "I might as well get it over."

With his patience getting sorely tried the magistrate warned, "Now understand if you plead guilty you have had every chance to do otherwise. It will mean a gaol term. While I have the power to suspend sentence for such offences you will learn that we do not take that lenient course with drunken drivers here."

Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., detailing the circumstances told the court he was informed the accused drove a motor truck at a fast speed through the city and refused to stop even after Provincial Traffic Constable Lloyd A. McClure had jumped on to the running board when the truck slowed down. Afterwards the officer proceeded in pursuit of the truck and arrested the driver for the offence charged.

MAN IS INJURED IN FALL FROM ROOF

Sustaining serious injuries in a fall from a roof he was shingling on Thursday afternoon, Herbert Turan, 65, is lying in St. Joseph's Hospital in a critical condition.

The accident occurred at 107 Aylmer street, Mr. Turan losing his footing and crashing to the ground from a height of fifteen feet. One fractured rib punctured a lung, and emphysemy, a rare complication caused by the escape of air from the lung to the sub-cutaneous locations in the body, has resulted. He also suffered a dislocated shoulder.

When the accident first occurred, the extent of his injury was not realized, and he was taken indoors to be treated at the home. Dr. C. M. Scott ordered his removal to St. Joseph's Hospital.

SEEK BLOOD OFFER TO SAVE TWO RARE DISEASE VICTIMS

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 26—(CP)—A recovered victim of streptococcus viridans, with blood of the Group Four type, was sought to-day by Windsor physicians fighting to save the lives of two young sufferers from the rare and deadly disease. A suitable subject for a blood transfusion was hard to find.

Many offers have been received from former streptococcus sufferers, authorities at Grace Hospital said, but it was feared their blood would not be suitable. Little hope of recovery was held for Weston W. Fletcher, 28, Grand Blanc, Mich., while only a fighting chance was given 17-year-old Robert Shafer of Windsor.

Shafer, receiving blood transfusions from his father whose blood is of the Group Four type but who had not suffered the disease, was said to be in a slightly improved condition to-day. But Fetcher's only hope of recovery lies in the discovery of a person who survived the infection and who has the right type of blood.

Many Donors Appear

From Toronto, Guelph and other Ontario points, Quebec Province and from the United States have come offers to aid the stricken men. But the names of the would-be donors were not divulged pending the finding of a suitable subject.

Carl MacAllister of Guelph, whose wife said he had the disease four years ago and had recovered, offered his blood. It was not known, however, whether his blood was of the right type, nor whether the infection he suffered was the viridans type.

Mrs. MacAllister, who made the offer on behalf of her husband, said the couple "have no reason not to" believe Mr. MacAllister's blood type is in Group Four. The offer was made in a sincere wish to "really help," she said, and she desired as little publicity as possible.

FRASERVILLE

Rev. A. L. Sisco of Millbrook had charge of the service at Fraserville on Sunday evening.

Messrs Russel Darling, Percy Moncrief, Kenneth Moncrief, Roy Bothwell, Stewart Hogg, Howard Lawrence, Mrs. Walter Moncrief and daughter Mae were among those from here who attended the Royal Winter Fair.

Miss Jean Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Reg Atchison and daughter Joyce were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hanbidge of Ennismore on Sunday.

The Ladies Aid held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Percy Moncrief on Tuesday evening, those present were Mrs. W. A. Wood, Mrs. S. Hogg, Mrs. J. O. Pue, Mrs. E. M. Cook, Mrs. R. Moncrief, Mrs. R. C. Finlay, Mrs. B. Wood, Mrs. K. Moncrief, Miss Mildred Moncrief.

Rev. Clarence Ferguson of Bethany will speak at the afternoon service in Fraserville United Church on Sunday at 3 o'clock.

Found Murdered

Nearly 12 miles after he left the village of Pickering, Ont., (near Toronto), where he had been shopping, the body of Mike Chevcluke, Ukrainian caretaker of a nearby Jewish children's camp, was found almost decapitated by an axe or large knife, beside the highway. Police started a man-hunt that ranged as far as the United States border in an effort to locate the killer or killers. Chevcluke (shown ABOVE), a physically powerful man, was unmarried and had no known enemies.

JAPANESE FAST NEARING NANKING

SHANGHAI, Nov. 26 (AP) — Spearhead units of Japan's Shanghai armies tore into the heart of Chinese defences today in a drive their commander-in-chief said would force speedy collapse of General Chiang's regime.

Field officers sent back word to Japanese headquarters their troops had crossed Lake Tai, the great natural barrier between Shanghai and Nanking, for a push against the virtually evacuated capital.

General Iwane Matsui, commander of Japanese forces, proclaimed in an interview with the Japanese Shanghai United News that his armies might be forced to invade the interior far up the Yangtze from Nanking unless Chiang's government ends its resistance.

The general added a prediction, however, that the Chinese regime would fall soon, bringing about "various troubles" which would be settled under Japan's guidance. Chiang, he said, must be brought to terms.

In Nanking, Chiang appeared undaunted by the Japanese march up the Shanghai peninsula.

"China will resist to the last man," he said. "I am confident that right will overcome might."

Reports from the front as given out by the Japanese spokesman were three Japanese columns fought their way into Changhing, on the southwestern shore of Lake Tai. Chinese were driven from the walled city.

MODERN STADIUM AWAITS MATMEN

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 26 (CP).—When boxers and wrestlers get together here for their part of the British Empire Games, Feb. 5-12, they'll go through their paces at Rushcutter's Bay Stadium, considered the most modern-equipped in Australia.

Only a mile from the heart of the city, the stadium can accommodate 12,000 and it isn't likely there will be many vacant seats. Sydney's population of 1,250,000 will be swelled for the games, being staged as part of Australia's 150th anniversary celebrations.

The ring at the stadium is floodlit with a special system of eight high-candle powered lights. In addition, the "corners" are equipped with swivel chairs and a modern system of water supply. Ample dressing-room accommodation, massage tables, regulation scales, hot and cold water showers and other gymnasium appliances are available.

NAB 2-GUN MAN AFTER ROBBERY

TILLSONBURG, Ont., Nov. 26.—(CP).—One arrest already effected, police are increasing their efforts to apprehend the thieves who held up Charles B. Laister at the Old Mill service station, trussed him up with electric cord, and left with $35.

George Crandall, 33-year-old ex-convict, who was stopped at Talbotville yesterday morning, and is said to have been driving a stolen car and to have had two revolvers in his possession, will appear in weekly court Wednesday to face a charge of armed robbery in connection with the hold-up. London police have charged Randall with theft of a motor car, and St. Thomas police have laid a charge of possession of illegal weapons.

A box of chocolate bars were found in the back of the car and was identified by Laister as part of the thieves' loot.

WILKINS' COURAGE LAUDED BY BYRD

Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Antarctic Admiral Richard E. Byrd, antarctic and Arctic explorer, in a letter to the New York Times, today praised the courage of Sir Hubert Wilkins and his Canadian pilots, Herbert Hollick-Kenyon of Toronto, and Al Cheesman, for their hazardous Arctic flights in search of the lost Russian flyer, Levaneffsky and his five comrades.

Sir Hubert's rescue party is at present up on the Arctic's rim, ready to extend their search over parts of the wasteland uncovered in previous flights.

"Flying over the Arctic during the winter night is pioneer work in the strictest sense of the word, but it can be done and all of us wish Wilkins and Hollick-Kenyon, his pilot, the best of luck," wrote Byrd in his letter.

"Wilkins, Hollick-Kenyon and Cheesman are among the best fitted men I know to make these rescue flights and the whole world will watch them with keen interest and wish them success."

HE GETS HIS RAIN

GODERICH, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP)—Old man jinx is still on the trail of F. J. Clorach, recent arrival from the Saskatchewan drought belt.

For seven years he hoped for rain that never came. A few weeks ago he pulled up stakes and moved back to Blyth, Huron County, to resume his trade of tinsmith. One of the first contracts he got was an eavestrougning job—seven days ago—but he hasn't started it yet. The weather is too wet. It has rained or snowed every day since.

Pastor Turns Printer For Weekly Notices

Clarence, N.Y., Nov. 26 (AP) IT TOOK considerable study, Rev. W. G. Woodward found out, but he has become an accomplished printer.

Mr. Woodward, pastor of the Harris Hill United Brethren Church, acquired a 45-year-old printing press to prepare his weekly notices. The ink was so thick on his first attempt that he had to dry more than 100 circulars over a heater and the job took from 6 p.m. to 4 a.m.

Everything is all right now, though, he says. He has bought a new press.

CATTLE DECLINE ON WEEK'S SALES, HOGS UP 25 CENTS

TORONTO, Nov. 26.— (CP)— Prices slipped 25 cents cwt. lower on all grades of cattle with about 1,000 head unsold at the close of the Toronto livestock market this week, the Dominion Livestock Bureau reports. Calves, lambs and sheep were steady for the week. Hogs closed 25 cents above the opening level.

The cattle run included 2,700 head from the west. In addition to 6,100 cattle in the sale receipts, there were 1,800 head carried over from the previous week. Trade was dull on all grades during the week.

Butcher cattle of common to medium quality were plentiful at $3 to $4.50 and good butchers went at $5.50 for the majority. The best prices for weighty steers was $7.25 for two loads of good quality, with other weighty steers downward to $4.50.

Butcher cows sold generally from $2.50 to $3.75 with western cows up to $4.25. Canners and cutters ranged from $1.75 to $2.25. Bologna bulls sold at $3 to $3.25 and good butcher bulls brought $3.50 to $4. Fed calves opened at $9.50 for tops but none went above $9.00 for the balance of the week. Medium quality fed calves traded from $6 to $7.

Milkers Hold Steady.

Store cattle also were lower and slow at $3 to $4.50 for stockers with good feeders closing at $4.50 to $5. Milkers and springs held steady at $65 to $70 for tops.

No cattle shipments were made from Toronto to the United States this week, but about 15 loads were billed to Great Britain.

Included among calf receipts were 930 Westerns. Prices held steady on all grades with expert inquiry fairly keen. Choice vealers sold from $9.50 to $10, with lights downward to $5. Heavy Western calves ranged from $4 to $6.25, and a few rough grassers went from $3 to $4 cwt.

Hogs opened steady at last week's close of $8 off truck for bacons and gained to $8.25 on Tuesday, holding firm to the close. Sows were quoted at $5.50 to $5.75 off trucks.

Lambs were unchanged at $7.75 off cars for good ewes and wethers at $7.50 off trucks. Bucks and heavies brought from $6.50 to $6.75, with culls mostly $6. Sheep were also steady at $2 to $4.50 cwt. according to quality. A car of Western lambs, suitable for feeding, sold from $7 to $7.25.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Eastend Area Has Had No Rain Or Snow For Eight Years

(Examiner Correspondence.)

COTTESLOE, Nov. 26—A graphic picture of conditions in the drought areas of Saskatchewan is painted in a letter received by Reeve E. N. McDonald of Dummer township from H. S. Jones of Eastend, Saskatchewan who was a member of the distributing committee at that point when one of the cars of relief food from Peterborough district was unloaded. The letter tells its own story. It is as follows:

Eastend, Sask., Nov. 13, 1937

Mr. E. N. McDonald,
Warsaw, Ont.

Dear Friend:

While acting on the committee for distributing relief vegetables that have been so generously given by you good people of Ontario, I came across your note asking to be told about the West. Your car arrived at Eastend of Nov. 5th. Eastend is a pretty little town situated at the east end of the Cypress Hills, and is built on the site of one of the earliest N.W.M.P. detachments of that name and dates back to 1877 but the town itself only started in 1913. I myself was one of the first settlers south of the Cypress hills, so I have seen the country change from the old ranch and cowboy days, when the whole prairie was one big mat of tangled grass, to see it all settled up and turned into one big wheat-field, and now a desert.

We have had no rain or snow to speak of for eight years. The grass on that part of the prairie that has not been broken up has dried up and for the most part blown away, and the stock this year were nearly starving in June. I saw horses and cattle in the hills feeding on leaves of the struggling bushes and trees, big patches of which have succumbed to the drought. On the plowed land nothing grows but Russian thistle and even that looks sorry for itself.

These drought years too, seem to have multiplied insect life and we have had plagues of cutworm, wireworm, armyworm and grasshoppers, so that what little growth there was, if it wasn't mopped up by one worm it was by another, and above all the terrible dust storms. The winds seem to pulverize the dry soil finer than flour and drives it into everywhere, into the houses, drifting the road ditches full, plugging the roads, making them impassable, in many places the winds have swept the cultivated soil completely away, leaving the hard pan exposed and showing the ridges left by the plow bottom, in other places it has left big patches buried with drifts and mounds of ever shifting dust that not even a weed can get started on. One can drive hundreds of miles and see nothing but desolation. The government have shipped nearly all the cattle and horses out of the country, to keep them from starving to death. It is a national calamity that has to be seen to be realized. No words of mine could describe it.

We distributed the contents of your car by first of all unloading it out to some 245 families, according to the number of members in each family. All these families live in townships 5, 6, range 20, 5, 6, 7, rge. 21, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, in rge. 22. All west of 3rd meridian and includes the town of Eastend. I can assure you we are all very grateful for your kind contributions of fruit and vegetables, as without, we would have nothing in that line as we could not grow even a radish and our purchasing power is nil.

Yours gratefully and sincerely,
H. S. JONES,
P.O. Box 1, Eastend.

(P.S.—Your envelope was spoiled but have used your stamp.)

Confesses?

Because her conscience is said to have confessed to her mother in her sleep, Mary K. O'Connor, student at the exclusive Immaculate college near Philadelphia, is held by police on charges of murder in connection with the death of a five-year-old girl last Labor day. Police said Miss O'Connor admitted hitting the girl, Nancy Glenn, with her fist in a quarrel over eating berries on an isolated road near Philadelphia.

CANADIAN ARCTIC STATION LAUDED BOON TO SCIENCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—(CP). — Proposal Canada build a scientific station in the Arctic was welcomed to-day by two prominent explorer-scientists of the United States as an important step forward in civilization's march to the Poles.

Informed officials of the Canadian Department of Mines and resources were examining possibility of erecting a permanent government station near the centre of the Arctic archipelago, Vilhjalmur Stefansson, president of the Explorers' Club of New York, said:

"All Americans and Canadians interested in exploration will be delighted to hear of this plan and hopeful it will be carried out."

Ray Platt, director of the American Geographical Society, said such a station would be of great value to future Arctic expeditions, particularly in the provision of weather data.

Concerning suggested site on the northern end of Boothia Peninsula, most northerly point of the mainland, Dr. Stefansson commented:

"No doubt alternative sites have been considered, but it would seem more fruitful and just about as easy to have the station further north and west."

He suggested Winter Harbor on Melville Island as a good site, explaining it could be reached by steamship fairly easily despite its northern latitude, while non-stop flights could readily be made from Great Bear Lake, a distance of about 750 miles.

Canadian Pacific Has Twenty New Locomotives

BRINGING its total of new locomotives this year to 50, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is now putting into service 20 light-weight, high-speed locomotives like No. 2910 shown above. Smaller than last year's semi-streamlined "Jubilee" engines, the new locomotives are expected to provide economy and efficiency especially when providing power for smaller trains.

JUDGING TEAMS ARE GUESTS OF COUNTY win McIntosh of North Monaghan and Richard Coughlin of Asphodel.

Program of Toasts

The program following the dinner was: Toast to the King, proposed by Warden Brown.

"The Dominion of Canada" proposed by Reeve Milby and responded to by J. J. Duffus.

"The Province of Ontario," proposed by Reeve W. A. Anderson and responded to by Alex L. Elliott.

"The County of Peterborough" proposed by E. A. Peck, K. C., and responded to by Reeve James Gifford.

"Our Boys and Girls" proposed by Reeve George Mullen, and responded to by A. D. Runions B. S. A., county representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

"Our Guests" proposed by Reeve C. S. Tanner of Lakefield, with the reply by Mayor G. A. Macdonald.

An entertaining group of musical numbers were given by Miss Greta Reynolds, guitar solo; violin and piano trio by the Leahy brothers of Douro, sons of Reeve F. D. Leahy, and a song by James Hawthorne of the city. Accompaniments were played by Mrs. Lionel Monk, A.T.C.M.

The City's Tribute

As representative of the city council Mayor Macdonald declared that the city claimed a share in the honors won by the young people of the county.

"The time has passed," His Worship said, "for people to think they can live to themselves. We are more united today as one community than ever before. Warden Brown admits that he can come from Apsley into Peterborough in only an hour, something that was undreamed of years ago.

By such functions as these we get to know one another better, and both the city and county will gain from such gatherings. We greatly appreciate the kindness of the members of the county council to be present tonight and to state that we claim a share in the honors won by the young people of the county. No one expects that they are going to win every year, or anything like that, but the boys of every team are going to be wishing and working and trying to get to the top and that alone is a great deal.

We are happy to express our congratulations also to Mr. Runions for the fine quality of his work, because he is not only coaching your boys in judging livestock and seeds but he is also coaching them in the fine points of life, and I feel sure that every boy in the county aspires to win a place on these Runion teams. I wish to congratulate the Warden and the other members of the county council on their work and record this year, and just to say once more that the day is gone when there should be any idea that the city and county people should remain apart."

Ennismore Wit

One of the wittiest speeches of the evening was made by Reeve Gifford of Ennismore, especially in his bantering remarks about the county clerk and treasurer, Miss Jennie Batten, who was sitting at the same table with him. In a serious vein Mr. Gifford said it was to be hoped that the junior farmers who have the distinction of being members of the judging teams should especially determine that they were going to remain on the farm and that they were going to make a success of it.

"What agriculture needs most is to put farming on a paying basis, and a resolution is going before the council Friday which is to be sent to Ottawa that should make Mr. King and Mr. Duffus think," Reeve Gifford concluded.

HER LUCK TURNS

BUFFALO, N.Y., Nov. 26 (AP).—Nine-year-old Lois Eisemann is giving thanks to-day.

For nine years, she had her troubles—one time, scarlet fever; another, chickenpox; then a tonsil operation, measles, rheumatic fever ear trouble, two brain concussions from falls, defective vision, in succession. She even broke her glasses four times.

Four weeks ago, the tide turned. Lois won a doll in a contest. Another week, another doll. Two weeks ago she claimed a cleaning set as a prize Last week she won a pair of skates.

BIG LAND SCHEME PROPOSED IN B.C.

VICTORIA, Nov. 26 (CP).—Premier Pattullo proposes extension of British Columbia's boundaries "not only to take in the Yukon Territory but also the territory east of the Yukon following the 120th Meridian to the North Pole."

The extension would add 400,000 square miles to the province's 365,000.

The proposal was part of a program of government objectives designed to make the province "a beehive of industry and development" and outlined in the legislature last night.

Among objectives enumerated by the premier in his speech concluding the budget debate were:

Maintenance of empire tariff preferences for the benefit of the province's primary industries and at the same time expansion of the province's business with United States and other countries.

Construction of a highway through British Columbia and the Yukon to provide transportation for territory not now served and establishment of highway connection between the United States and Alaska.

STRICKEN MADRID HEAVILY SHELLED

MADRID, Nov. 26 — (AP). — Stricken Madrid awoke to-day from another night of terror to count its dead and take stock of material damage from one of the heaviest shellings of the Spanish civil war.

Disastrous as the engagement was to this thickly populated city, it must have been equally destructive to insurgent big gun emplacements, which Madrid defenders shelled heavily.

First reports of rescue workers were that about a score of persons were killed in Madrid and many others injured.

The artillery bombardment started after insurgents had launched an offensive in the University city area.

(A Government communique made public at Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish frontier, said the insurgent attack at University City was repulsed after defenders exploded a mine, wiping out a machine-gun nest and partially destroying dental and engineering buildings.)

State railways of Indian carried 500,000,000 passengers in the last year.

GET PEANUT IN LUNG

BEAMSVILLE, Ont., Nov. 26. — (CP).—A Cochrane child, John Falby, 18 months old, is recovering at the home of his grandparents here, after removal by a bronchoscope of a peanut lodged in his lung several weeks ago. He was rushed here for treatment in Hamilton hospital when his condition became serious.

HUSBANDS GUESTS OF FENELLA W.I.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

FENELLA, Nov. 26. — A very enjoyable evening was spent in the Community Hall on Monday, November 22, when the members of the Fenella Women's Institute entertained their husbands and families to an oyster supper. After the sumptuous repast a very enjoyable program was given. Mrs. Frank George and Mrs. Hugh Sherwin were presented with life membership certificates and a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums. Master Dan Leach and little Shirley George made the presentations.

Dr. Lloyd of Cobourg gave a very interesting talk on his visit to Vimy Ridge and also on the Coronation and showed a few pictures of the same. A solo by Mrs. L. W. Scott, reading by Miss H. Hopkins, reading by Miss D. McCullogh, solo by Miss Dennis Lensberry, recitation by Donald George.

The happy evening was brought to a close by singing "Bless be the tie that binds."

Mrs. M. Adams and Miss Ruby Adams are visiting at the home of Mrs. A. Tucker, Roseneath.

RADIO - - THEATRE - - DANCING

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD.—To introduce its new Viennese star, Franciska Gaal, to the American fans, Paramount has made an elaborate trailer on "The Buccaneer." Cecil B. De Mill appeared in it, which made an odd twist because the man directing the trailer was Herbert Moulton, De Mille's former press agent.

Incidentally, the studio had to get the permission of the Screen Actors' Guild to use De Mille in a scene. His amused comment was: "It's the first time in 56 years I've had to get permission to act."

+ + +

You readers are responding nicely to the open forum idea for the column. Most of the letters are on the subject of whether the important stars should be made the victim of slapstick comedy like Myrna Loy in "Double Wedding." There also are some decided opinions on how the stars should treat fans who invade the privacy of their homes. But not a single letter on whether the stars are being treated badly by the radio or newspaper columnists. Maybe there is too much fuss being made about this.

+ + +

Both of Hall Roach's kids want jobs in the movies. Hall, Jr., is a second assistant director at the studio and Margaret, a pretty blonde of the Sonja Henie type, is studying at Ben Bard's school and is determined to be an actress.

Roach was so tough about giving his son a job at the studio that others had to come to him and intercede for the kid.

+ + +

If it needed any proving, the incident on the "Thank You, Mr. Moto" set would show why actors have to have doubles for dangerous scenes. Also why Hollywood stuntmen demand high pay for a few minutes work.

Peter Lorre and Sidney Blackmer were supposed to get Actor Thomas Beck in a cross-fire as he jumped from one Chinese junk to another. The junks were anchored in the studio lake and, for the purpose of realism, Lorre and Blackmer were firing real bullets. They were told to shoot low so the camera could photograph the splashes made by the bullets as they hit the water.

Only danger in the scene was supposed to be the jumps, but Stuntman Jack Woody, former husband of Helen Twelvetrees, was put in to double for Beck.

In the midst of the firing, he suddenly grasped his neck from which the blood spurted. A bullet, presumably ricocheting from the water, had nicked him under the chin and gone on to bury itself in the mast of the junk.

An inch difference and it would have shattered the stuntman's jaw or cut his jugular vein.

+ + +

Tony Martin is staying away from big-time bridge games. The other night, at the home of a Hollywood agent, he was asked to sit in, but declined on account of the high stakes. Instead, he offered to take 10 per cent. of Producer Sol Wurtzel's game. At one time Wurtzel was $12,000 loser and Martin could scarcely breathe. Wurtzel came back, though, and finished only $650 in the hole. The lesson cost Martin only $60 which he was glad to pay.

+ + +

After an 11-day illness, Miriam Hopkins finally completed "Women Have a Way" and flew out of here accompanied by her director-bridegroom, Anatole Litvak, and by a nurse. Though the star had been so eager to get away, departure was a wrench, because it meant her first separation from her adopted youngster, Michael. The boy also is recuperating from an illness and will have to follow later.

+ + +

In the Trocadero the other night, John Beal sketched a portrait of Joan Crawford on the tablecloth. She liked it so well that she bought the cloth from the cafe . . . at a cost of $1.96. If she had left it, some fan would have paid many times that price for the souvenir.

+ + +

Brief But Choice . . . Paula Stone, who recently broke her engagement to George Mason, was with him two nights at the Hawaiian Paradise . . . Marion Baldwin, the Hollywood publicity woman who tried suicide, is well enough to talk to friends. . . . The Clara Bow-Rex Bell baby isn't due until June . . . According to the doctors, the Claude Rains heir will be a boy . . . Billy Selwyn's latest interest is Louise Brooks. They were at the House of Murphy together . . . One of the new "legal betting" establishments erroneously anounced Diana Gibson's address as its own. She was swamped by visitors . . . And Hollywood is convulsed by Gene Fowler's latest literary creation (privately circulated) . . . a paper on a novel treatment for hangovers.

+ + +

HOLLYWOOD.—Bowling teams are the rage at the studios now. At Twentieth Century - Fox, Don Ameche, an actor, bowls for the production department team. Nearly all the teams are sponsored by stars on the lots, who pay for the uniforms and other expenses. Ameche bowls for a team sponsored by Tyrone Power and wears a sweater with Tyrone's name on the back of it. Power occasionally bowls for the team, too. When he does, he wears a sweater with no name on the back of it.

+ + +

Ribbers find Fred Allen, Hollywood's most unsatisfactory target. The dead pan comedian chews gum continuously and, when he goes before the camera, has a habit of parking it on a piece of paper. The other day on the "Sally, Irene and Mary" set, they substituted putty for the gum. Allen put it in his mouth and chewed it several minutes without change of expression.

+ + +

Hear that Alice White is now objecting to doing a picture for Monogram with Judith Allen. Claims Judith has received too much publicity of the wrong kind in the Delphine Dodge - Jack Doyle business.

+ + +

The one-time silent star, House Peters, is living a hermit-life existence in a cabin in Bear Valley behind Lake Arrowhead. He dropped in on the "Benefits Forgot" company while they were on location up there. Peters is an old friend of Clarence Brown, director of the picture. He starred in Brown's first film, "The Great Redeemer."

+ + +

Bosses of Twentieth Century-Fox are much concerned over George Sanders' hair. He had it cropped for his role in "Lancer Spy." Studio expected it to grow out in about six weeks, but, in the last four months, it has come back only one and one-half inches. Other parts are waiting, but Sanders can't play them.

Manchukuo will increase its coal production to 25,500,000 tons a year.

GRAHAM McNAMEE

Graham McNamee is known as the dean of radio announcers, and is considered one of the pioneers in sports broadcasting. He made his debut in this field at the Greb-Wilson fight, August 31, 1923. McNamee was born July 10, 1899, in Washington, D.C., of Irish parents, his father a lawyer and his mother a musician. He planned at first to go on the concert stage, but it seemed hardly profitable. During a lunch hour while on federal jury duty in New York he stopped in a broadcasting studio for an audition and obtained a contract for four months. He has never stopped since then, except when he was knocked unconscious while reporting the Soap Box Derby at Akron, O., in August, 1935. McNamee has seen and broadcast nearly all of the major sports and news events in the United States during the last decade.

"Little Corsican" Is Reborn In Amazing Film Likeness

Napoleon Ably Portrayed By Charles Boyer In New Picture

Napoleon lives again!

Dead for over 100 years, Napoleon Bonaparte has come to life again in a screen portrayal by actor Charles Boyer who, in his costume and deportment for the film, bears a striking resemblance to the short-statured military genius who died still dreaming of his once-planned world empire.

Claimed by psychiatrists to have suffered from an inferiority complex despite his intense ambition, Napoleon is reborn for the screen in the picture "Conquest," which portrays his human greatnesses and weaknesses rather than the historical record of his life or the myths which have grown since his death on the lonely island of St. Helena where he was placed in exile.

Playing opposite Boyer in the picture is Greta Garbo who portrays the Countess Walewska who renounced her home to follow the little Corsican on his trips of conquest.

"Napoleon"—Chas. Boyer

Use New Makeup

To attain the remarkable likeness of the former emperor a new makeup process was used called Facial Inlay which required 90 minutes to apply before each appearance before the camera. The time, however seems well spent for the result is a living replica of Napoleon.

The story of "Conquest" deals with the historic love affair of Napoleon and Countess Walewska from the time they met at a ball in the palace of Prince Joseph Poniatowski in Warsaw in 1806 until after the battle of Waterloo when his military might was finally shattered.

Dates and records of Napoleon's campaigns have been forgotten in the picture and instead technicians have delved deep into the idiosyncracies of both Napoleon and the woman who became his mistress. Boyer's characterization of the power-crazed emperor has won the praise of critics and some have gone so far to claim it will be one of the big pictures of the year. Certainly the producers have created a very real Napoleon to play the role of France's mightiest warrior.

Fibber and Molly

FIBBER McGEE AND MOLLY

Fibber McGee and Molly, in private life known as Marian and Jim Jordan, have performed on the radio as a couple for 12 years. Before radio the appeared together in a concert company; before that in vaudeville; and, in fact, when they first met, sang together in a church choir in Peoria, Ill. They were born near Peoria and were married there in 1918. Fibber was one of those who "went across" in the world war, but illness kept him from the front, and he continued his job by entertaining the soldiers in military camps. The Jordans made their debut as Fibber and Molly in April, 1935. They have two children, Katherine and Jimmy.

HASTINGS MAY ENTER JUNIOR 'C' O.H.A.?

Prospects Of Junior Hockey For Trent Valley League

Warkworth, Norwood, Warsaw, Campbellford And Havelock In Kawartha Loop?

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 26—A possibility that the Hastings Juniors hockey team may join the O.H.A., was seen Thursday night, when Robert McCutcheon, manager of the Havelock Juniors and Earl Hamblin, manager of the Norwood Juniors, visited the village to discuss plans for the Kawartha Hockey League for the coming season, with "Bill" Clapper, Juniors' manager.

In the plan suggested by Mr. McCutcheon, teams from Warkworth, Norwood, Warsaw, Campbellford, Hastings and Havelock would form the local team and allow them to entrance to the O.H.A. in Group C. One restriction, however, is in the way for the Hastings team, in that they have no covered rink. If the O.H.A. will accept the application of the Kawartha group and apply for play in an open-air rink until the semi-finals and finals come up, which of course would have to be played in a covered rink, Hastings Juniors would join. The matter will be ironed out Friday, as the closing date of entry in O.H.A. is Saturday, November 27.

Hastings Juniors, who won the championship in the Kawartha group last season, will be minus the services of Lefty McCoy, now in Kirkland Lake, and Jack Coughlan, who is attending college in London.

The Hastings Intermediates, who played in the Campbellford Town League last season, will have practically the same forces as before.

Henry Scriver, rink manager, has for the past three weeks, been preparing the earth surface of the rink in preparation for the coming season. Last year's fault of one end being slightly lower than the other has been corrected.

SEP PAYS $6,250 FOR ACE TROTTER

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (C.P.). — Making his first entrance in the Old Glory auction ring, O. Corbeil of Montreal bid in three horses for breeding purposes yesterday.

He paid $650 for Dusty Hanover, from Lawrence B. Sheppard's Hanover, Pa., farms; $265 for an unnamed chestnut filly, consigned by John Dagler of Allentown, Pa.; and $.00 for Garner, a four-year-old pacer from the consignment of Herman Tyson of Pinehurst, N.C.

As evidenced by the price, Dusty Hanover is the best known of the trio. He was the leading money-winning 2-year-old pacer last year, chalking up a record of 2.04. This year he won both the American and National Stakes for three-year-old pacers.

Sep Palin of Indianapolis, who developed Greyhound, the world's fastest trotter, assured himself of a promising candidate for the 1938 three-year-old championship when he paid $6,250 for Vesta Hanover, champion two-year-old trotting filly of the year.

The final session of the three-day auction itself was featured by the sale of Mystery Child, a yearling trotter, which was knocked down to Ben White of Lexington, Ky., for $5,000.

The sale was the best since 1931. A total of 226 yearlings and aged trotters and pacers passed through the ring, bringing $206,700, as compared to $252,705 in 1931, and $190,080 last year.

Held As Witness

Because Mary O'Connor, 19-year-old athletic instructor, allegedly confessed the killing of five-year-old Nancy Glenn, with a blow of her fist, to Mrs. Mary K. Phillips some time ago, Mrs. Phillips has reportedly been arrested as a material witness in the murder. Mrs. Phillips, the former Mary Kibler, well known Olympic gymnast, and her husband, a star gymnast and graduate of Temple University, are pictured here. She was released on $400 bail.

TWO LOCAL TEAMS IN LADIES' LOOP

Plans are going ahead for the formation of a Central Ontario girls' basketball league. Final date for the closing of entries is Dec. 4th. In the meantime, two local teams, C.G.E. and Westclox, will enter, and Belleville, Port Hope and Cobourg have promised to join up. Lindsay and Trenton are still possibilities. Officers are: President, Gladys Mortimer of Peterborough; vice-president, Ruth Thompson of Port Hope; secretary-treasurer, Louise Thompson of Cobourg; and executive, Kay Rogow of Peterborough, and Mariam MacLean of Belleville.

If one more enters, two groups will be formed, possibly with the two local teams and Lindsay lined up in one. Though a Trenton entry may mean re-shuffling in this respect. Each team is entered into intermediate "B" with an entry fee of $2.50 to the L.O.B.A., but the fee is boosted to $5.00 to help finance the league. Home and home games will be played, first and second teams to playoff at the end. In case of a tie, three minutes of overtime will be played. Games are four 10- minute frames, two minutes between each quarter and 10 minutes at halftime. Teams may carry 10 players, and boys' rules will be followed. Another meeting will be held before schedules are drawn up.

ALABAMA COLLEGE STRENGTHENS BID FOR THE ROSE BOWL

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(AP). — Alabama has submitted its Rose Bowl case, but the jury still is out. The Crimson Tide wound up its regular football season Thursday with a hard-earned 9-to-7 victory over Vanderbilt to remain undefeated and untied in sole possession of the Southern Conference championship.

Whether or not that triumph, gained before a capacity crowd of 22,000 spectators on Hayward Sanford's field goal from the 23-yard line midway through the final period, will suffice to earn Alabama a bid to Pasadena from California's Golden Bears remained to be seen.

There were no indications California would make its choice until after Saturday's program, when the principal Eastern contenders, Pitt and Fordham, close their unbeaten campaigns against Duke and New York University respectively.

Southern Conference Tangle.

Two Eastern "Ivy Leaguers," Penn and Cornell, provided the day's biggest crowd, 61,000, with the most spectacular scoring fireworks. Although outplayed from start to finish, Penn had the high-powered Ithacans stymied at 20-20 after three periods, but finally succumbed to Cornell's late rush, 34 to 20.

Duquesne provided one of the season's major upsets in a 14 to 7 defeat of Detroit, while Brown capitalized on Frank Foster's ninety-five-yard runback of the opening kickoff to defeat Rutgers 7 to 6. Catholic buried South Carolina under a barrage of passes 27 to 14, and West Virginia paced by a pair of sophomore backs, crushed George Washington 26 to 0.

The Southern Conference championship ended in a tangle with North Caroline more likely to receive general recognition as title-holder than Maryland's Terrapins who knocked over Washington and Lee 8 to 0 to finish with a conference record of two victories and no defeats or ties. North Carolina, which already had completed its conference program with four victories and a tie in five games, trounced Virginia, former conference member, 40 to 0. Other conference games saw Virginia Tech upset Virginia Military 12 to 6, Wake Forest upset Davidson 19 to 7 and Richmond turn back William and Mary 6 to 0.

Alabama's sensational comeback against Vanderbilt featured a southeastern program marked otherwise only by Tennessee's 13 to 0 conquest of Kentucky and Mississippi State's surprising 9 to 7 defeat of Mississippi.

Kansas Lose Chance.

Kansas lost its chance to figure in the Big Six championship by playing Missouri to a pointless draw. Nebraska now can clinch the title Saturday by either tying or defeating Kansas State. Washington University (St. Louis), won a Missouri valley conference decision from St. Louis University, 6-to-0.

In the southwest, Texas A and M.'s first period touchdown proved enough to turn back Texas 7-0 in a conference game that had no bearing on the title race. Arkansas, the 1936 champion, won a non-conference battle from Tulsa, 28-7.

Colorado's powerful Buffaloes, undefeated and untied, crushed Denver 34-7 and anexed the Rocky Mountain Conference Championship with six successive conference triumphs. Utah disposed of Utah State 27-0 and finished in a tie with Denver.

In the Far West, Montana came up with two touchdowns in the final quarter to down North Dakota 14-3.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

AND NOW Orfuns play to the home folk in a Provincial semi-final scrap. Toronto City Club play the locals at 2.30 tomorrow aft in Riverside Park, and the visitors are down 14 points. It rather looks like Coach Bill Turnbull's team will trot into the O.R.F.U. intermediate "A" finals against Sarnia Wanderers, twice Ontario champs. And it looks like a record crowd of grid fans will take in the tilt here tomorrow. They ought to, anyway as they'll be seeing two classy crews —close to senior calibre—battling it out in a bitter brawl, with no holds barred. Orfuns deserve a better break from fandom than they've been getting, as they play swelegant football and are pointing toward a Provincial pennant this semester. Regardless of the score, tomorrow's tussle ought to be a honey.

* * * * * *

DON'T SELL those Torontos short, either. True enough, they're down 14 points and they're facing a good team that is about unbeatable on home terrain, but facing elimination makes a difference, too. And those big ex-Westsides (who went to the finals a year ago) may get a few more breaks in this squabble and really turn on the heat. They have all kinds of possibilities, including a battering plunging attack and nice forward passing, and they'll use the latter plenty in an attempt to slice down that lead. It'll be a hard-hitting and open game, we imagine, with some sparkling rugby shown. At this time of year, gridders are in great shape and not fumbling very often. And these are two really good teams.

* * * * * *

"I FIGURE that outfit tougher by a good deal than the Trenton Fliers," Coach Turnbull told us yesterday; "they'll come here full of fight and ready to take chances—and they really didn't have much luck in the first game. Our boys will use the same system as they did so well against Trenton here, rushing them right from the start and trying to keep play down in Toronto's end of the field." He said he figured on using about the same lineup as in the last fixture, with Kearns starting in the backfield instead of Loucks—these halves alternating each week—one being on the starting lineup and the other subbing. Bill would like to see a sudden-death final between Sarnia and Orfuns here, but not away from home; then, he'd hold out for a home-and-home series. That is, if Orfuns beat Toronto.

* * * * * *

AND THEY should, all right. We figure the locals will cop the nod but not without a tough fight. The lads needn't feel too cocky over their win last week as they had all the breaks, though they did earn the victory. But by a closer score than the 19-5 count. Overconfidence is very bad for any athletic outfit and this applies to Orfuns, too. The squad is a smart well-balanced one, with a scrappy tough line, fast tricky backfielders and good kicking. They have the will to win and it is a good thing—but it mustn't be merged with over-confidence. Or the Torontos will jar them loose from their teeth and ram home two touchdowns before they can get organized in the half-time rest period! A careful checkup on the City Club lineup will be made to see that the visitors aren't ringing in a bunch of ineligibles in a do-or-die attempt to knock Orfuns off the grid map. We trust those Toronto teams, but we count our change with 'em too!

* * * * * *

P.C.I. SENIORS have a sudden-death C.O.S.S.A. final fray in Toronto tomorrow a.m. at 10 bells in the Varsity back stadium against Barrie. The locals will be at full strength but for Don Duncan, on the injured list, and Ward will take his outside pace with Creighton at flying wing. We look for a local win, with P.C.I. continuing in the hunt for an Ontario senior school rugby championship—we hope.

* * * * * *

LEN MINICOLA—sometimes called Ned—returns to the ring wars here next Wednesday eve and he takes on a tough, tough hombre in Joe Genovese of Toronto. In one of the three-star main bouts. Genovese is a topnotch Toronto lightweight, being featured regularly in headline bouts. Minicola is a canny veteran of the roped arena, being a cool boxer and a deadly hitter. We can still recall the night when he knocked the flashy Frankie Pigeon of Toronto cold with one crack to the jaw. It ought to be a dandy scrap, all right. Ducats are going good for this smart mitt card and everything points to a big crowd of fight fans. Seven good boxing bouts and an exhibition rasslin' match. A sort of all-star pugilistic program.

* * * * * *

MANY OF his former hockey teammates paid their last respects to the late Eric Howe last night, and others intend to attend his funeral today. Lindsay Post writer says: "We were sorry to read in the Peterborough paper of the death of Eric (Rick) Howe, Petes' hockey player, who died suddenly from complications following appendicitis. We knew the popular young defenceman well and many other local players and fans knew him. He was a hard-hitting, clean player and we had the pleasure of playing against him when he was with the St. John's junior O.H.A. team . . . . We extend our personal sympathy to his family."

* * * * * *

LOCAL HOCKEY Club has an intermediate "B" affiliation with the O.H.A. this year, paying the fee just in case such a team is sponsored here. Nothing definite on it yet, at all, but mayhap we'll have a "B" squad as well as our other intermediate—or senior "B"—and the junior "B" bunch. Or possibly a team from here will enter the "B" playdowns late in the winter. The Oshawa writer says Rennie, red-haired speed merchant who played for Cannington last year in intermediate company and helped beat the GM-men in a tourney in Lindsay, is with Barrie juniors now. He advises the Peterborough Colts to check on this matter. Puck prospects here, junior and intermediate, are urged to attend those P.T. drills nightly at the "Y", as the conditioning exercises help a lot before the ice arrives.

* * * * * *

GRAB-BAG: Over a hundred local grid fans will see P.C.I. play in Toronto tomorrow morn . . . . Winner of the series may go into finals 'gainst Runnymede, representing the Toronto district . . . . Dundas has a fair chance of rubbing out Sarnia Wanderers tomorrow at Sarnia . . . . Some district gals' cage dope is in tonight . . . . Church Cage Loop tilts tomorrow e'en in the "Y": St. Andrew's Bantams vs. George St. at 6.30 and St. John's Juniors vs. St. Andrew's at 7.15 . . . . Perth and Trenton Fliers went to a 2-2 tie the other eve in a pre-season puck fray in Kingston . . . . Fliers used were: Gibson, Lalonde, Partridge, Baldwin, E. McNeely, Cowley, Lecompte, Halward, Eric McNeely, Bryant, Elliott, McGregor . . . . Ski Club has a supper, talk and pictures at the "Y" Monday p.m., starting at 6.15; members are invited . . . . Big swim pageant tonight at the Y.W.C.A. with the public invited; it's trophy night . . . . Damp or chilly weather shouldn't stop rugby fans here tomorrow from attending—they can park in a covered grandstand . . . . POME: The husky Torontos came to town, to kick poor little Orfuns aroun'—but when the shades of night were drawn, Toronto's gridiron hopes were gawn! (We hope).

N.H.L. CELEBRATES 20TH ANNIVERSARY OF MAJOR HOCKEY

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—Twenty years ago the National Hockey League had its birth at a meeting in the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, at which representatives of three clubs were present with Frank Calder presiding. A five-year iron-clad agreement was drawn up for the purpose of controlling the club franchise and the chairman, who had previously been secretary of the somewhat precarious National Hockey Association, was the unanimous choice for the presidency. Intimation is forthcoming that the two-decade anniversary is shortly to be observed by a function which is to take the form of a tribute to Calder and his successful guidance of major league hockey over the years.

The momentous gathering in Montreal back in 1917 marked the demise of the shaky and troubled National Hockey Association. The National hockey League emerged for the season of 1917-18 with three clubs. A fourth was added a few days later, this being the Wanderers Hockey Club of Montreal but it threw up the sponge after only a few games.

Three Teams In.

The delegates to the Montreal meeting comprised Charlie Querrie of Toronto Arenas and H. Veaincombe, the latter representing the Mutual Street Arena interests; George Kennedy of the Montreal Canadiens, and Tommy Gorman and Ted Dey, Ottawa Senators. They were the originals of the N.H.L. and only one of the number, Gorman, is still in the ring as president of the Montreal Maroons. George Kennedy and Ted Dey, who was the owner of Dey's Arena in the capital, are dead, while Querrie has been a theatre manager in Toronto for 16 years.

One of those who failed to show up at the Montreal gathering was Percy Quinn of Toronto, who had operated the once-famous Shamrocks in the defunct N.H.A. and he was given 48 hours in which to declare his intention of taking a franchise in the new N.H.L. Eventually the Montreal Wanderers became the fourth club in the league but they lasted a bare three weeks. The three teams played out the schedule which was on a split-season basis and Toronto Arenas copped the first championship of the N.H.L. by winning out 10-7 on the round in the play-offs with Montreal Canadiens. Incidentally, it was in that first N.H.L. season that the dividing of the playing surface into three areas was adopted in eastern pro. hockey, the blue lines being drawn 20 feet from centre. This innovation had been developed previously in the Pacific Coast Hockey League by Lester Patrick and western players and fans liked it so much that the plan was accepted in eastern hockey.

Frank Calder, the silent man of the hockey world, proved worthy of his trust in the first five years of growth, somewhat meagre though they were at times, and the result was that he became what is regarded as the perpetual holder of the office despite expansion of the circuit to cities in the United States from Boston to Chicago — from a three-club beginning to an organization of eight clubs in two divisions operating in huge arenas with the number of scheduled games in a season easily quadrupled over the skimpy series of the first year.

Seen Many Changes

Calder has directed the affairs of the N.H.L. through many changes. Ottawa has disappeared as a pro hockey centre; the Toronto Arenas were replaced by the Maple Leafs; new arenas were erected in both Montreal and Toronto which are now the only Canadian cities in the active organization; artificial ice became a necessity — it was only a dream 20 years ago; and a club, in those days, did not carry more than 10 players—Ottawa went through its first N.H.L. season with practically only nine players of whom two were rookie aspirants. Times have changed but Calder has continued in the driver's seat although there is now the hint that a successor is being groomed for the presidency with sphinx-like Frank preparing to utter the one word "enough."

Historic names are to be found in the roster of Toronto Arenas which won the first N.H.L. title in the spring of 1918 with Querrie in charge of club operations. Some of these rough and ready artists are still identified with the sport as referees or coaches but the present-day generation knows little of their exploints back in the days when opponents were inclined to scalp each other for pure enjoyment until President Calder brought order out of chaos in playing practices, his cool authority being backed by the club officials as a whole.

Husky Crew

The line-up of the first Toronto N.H.L. champions comprised Happy Holmes in goal; Harry Cameron held down the point position; huge Mummery, who tried a comeback in Chicago three years ago, was at cover-point; Reg. Noble was at centre; Skinner and Rusty Crawford occupied the wings while the four substitutes were Corbett Denneny, Ken Randall, Harold Meeking and Frank Adams. A sturdy lot they were. Mummery, the stone wall of the defence, used his tremendous bulk to great advantage in meeting oncoming puck carriers who took the count if they really collided with him. Mummery's chief protection was a rubber strip 18 inches wide and about 10 yards long which attendants wound around his middle before a game. Opposing players never could understand why a butt-end had so little effect upon the Mummery torso but this wrap-around "corset" was the reason. Incidentally, this little secret has never before appeared in print and perhaps present-day performers will now try this unusual equipment.

Ticket Sale For Rose Bowl May Be Barred To The Public

Pacific Conference Rules Give Students And Alumni First Choice

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. — It's entirely possible that the much-discussed, long-awaited Rose Bowl football game, supposed to determine the national college champion of 1937, may be played exclusively for the benefit of University of California students and alumni, with gates barred to outsiders.

University of California is the western representative in the Pasadena game, and as such has charge of the distribution of tickets.

Under the rules of the Pacific Coast Conference, California's ticket needs come first, and each active member of the University Alumni Association, each member of the "Big C" or Lettermen's Society, and each of the subscribers to the fund that built California's magnificent stadium is entitled to six tickets apiece.

With a small school this wouldn't be a problem, but California's ticket manager, Harry Davis, is preparing reservation notices to be mailed to 33,000 persons.

Six times 33,000 is 198,000, and the Rose Bowl holds only 80,000.

Even if each of California's 33,000 took only two tickets apiece, there wouldn't be much room for Mr. John Q. Public.

For a slice of about 5,000 tickets goes to the Pasadena Rose Bowl Committee for distribution among guarantors or sponsors of the Rose Bowl fete and game, the California authorities report.

Eastern Team Gets a Few.

Another slice, the number not yet determined, but not a large one, goes to the eastern college which will provide the opposition. That college has not yet been named. Alabama, Pitt, Dartmouth and Fordham are understood to be leading contenders.

And last, but far from least, California must provide 10,000 "rooters' tickets," sold to the University of California student body at $1.65 each. Sometimes these rooters' tickets can be used by outside parties, but the system of obtaining them is so complex that they're hard to get.

Of course, if California's alumni, Big C men and stadium guarantors don't respond in healthy numbers, there will be a few tickets left for the public. But unless that happens, there won't be any public sale of the pasteboards which entitle the holder to see the West's greatest team, the Golden Bears, play the best or as near to the best as can be obtained from the East, New Year's Day.

Meantime Ken Priestly, California's graduate manager, was hustling from conference to telephone to letter-writing and making the circle all over again, arranging for a New Year's Day opponent.

Campbellford May Enter Hockey Loop

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 26. — Charles Davidson was elected president of the Campbellford Hockey Club at a meeting held on Thursday evening to discuss the possibilities of the town entering the Trent Valley League during the winter season. Nearly forty attended the meeting and with the large turn out it is expected that some of the interest in the sport may be revived. Hugh Nind was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization and Dr. Hugh R. McLaren was made manager. Hector McArthur and Jack Phillips were elected coach and assistant. The executive expect to attend a meeting of the Trent Valley Hockey League in Madoc on November 29, after which a further meeting of the local club will be called when the schedule for the season will be arranged.

QUEEN'S GRIDDERS ARE INJURY FREE

KINGSTON, Nov. 26 (CP). — Queen's football team, preparing for their playoff game at Toronto Saturday with University of Toronto when the Senior Intercollegiate Football Championship will be at stake, were sent through a brisk scrimmage drill Thursday by Coach Ted Reeve who pronounced his team in good shape for the deciding game.

All the players, including Tuffy Griffiths, were in uniform and the tricolor mentor was enthusiastic over the chances of the team in taking the title away from the Varsity Blues. Attention was being paid to forward passing with both Johnny Munro and Charlie Peck heaving the leather. At the same time Reeve was perfecting his pass defence.

Queen's will be in the position, thanks to two weeks' rest, of having plenty of players available for the game. Reeve is practically decided on starting Stollery at flying wing, Munro, Latimer and Dennis on the half line, Young at quarter, Palthouski at snap, Jones and McLean at insides, Peck and Sprague at middles, and Thornton and Miller on the ends.

The subs will be picked from Thompson, Annan, Carson, Sampson, Kerr, Griffiths, Jack and Davis.

When Queen's and Varsity meet Saturday it will be the ninth time since the union was formed in 1897 that playoffs have been necessary to decide intercollegiate senior honors. Queen's have been in all but one of the playoffs. The Tricolor, in the seven playoffs they have been in so far, have been victorious five times and have lost twice, while Varsity has won three and lost four. In the other playoff spot McGill has been beaten twice.

VETERAN TRAINER DIES AT LONDON

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP). — Philip McGinnis, 78, a well-known figure in horse racing circles throughout North America and inventor of the McGinnis "web" barrier used at many of the larger racing tracks, died suddenly at his home here Thursday. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Best known as inventor of the "web" barrier, McGinnis spent many years at the foremost tracks in the United States and Canada promoting his invention. He officiated at various times at the foremost racing meets in America.

Born in Athelstan, Quebec, he had lived in London most of his life. He retired about six years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary McGinnis; four sons: Hugh of Covington, Ky., Philip of Montreal, Charles of Toronto, and Jack of London; two daughters: Madeline, at home, and Mrs. S. R. Stevens of Newmarket, Ont.; a brother, Fred, and two sisters, Misses Mary and Jane, all of Huntington, Que.

Pompoon Arrives Early To Prepare For Santa Anita

Pompoon, son of Pompey, is seen here as he arrived in Los Angeles, Calif., to prepare for Santa Anita's $100,000 handicap for which he is a top flight contender. With Pompoon is Johnny Loftus, former star jockey who will condition Pompoon for the big Santa Anita handicap.

WHITCOMBE FIRST TO HOLD TROPHY

LONDON, Nov. 26. (CP).—Britain's ranking professional golfer in point of consistency during 1937 was C. A. Whitcombe of Crews Hill, Enfield, captain of this year's Ryder Cup team.

Official figures covering 28 rounds of major-tournament play give Whitcombe an average of 71.84 and the honor of being the first player to hold the Harry Vardon Memorial Trophy, awarded to the ranking player in the United Kingdom.

P. J. Mahon, the young Irish golfer from the Royal Dublin Club, Dollymount Consolidated his claim to the title of "champion runner-up" by finishing second with a 36-round average of 71.69.

In third place was Henry Cotton, British open champion and one of the biggest money-makers in the game. He wound up with a season's average of 71.77 in 22 selected and restricted events.

Despite his triumph, Whitcombe finished first in only one major competition—the Dunlop Southport tournament. Mahon's performance also discloses a similar paradox for he failed to win an open event. He was successful in the Irish professional championship but that was a closed test. However, he was one of the most successful money players during the season and one of the few who managed to meet travelling expenses from his winnings.

Alf Padgham, whom some of the sports writers have dubbed "the big disappointment" of the year, enjoyed an average of 72.89 for 28 rounds. This figure, however, dropped him to 11th place in the list, in contrast to his sequence of successes last year when most of the prize plums fell to his skill. In the 1937 campaign he failed to win a single tournament. With Cotton, however, he is still regarded as one of the most dependable tournament players and certain to be back in the limelight. He is only 31.

AUREL JOLIAT TO PLAY AGAIN

MONTREAL, Nov. 26 (CP)—In the face of rumors he was "through," Aurel Joliat is coming back into action with Canadiens to continue his sixteenth season in the National Hockey League.

But when the nimble mit returns to practice today the inevitable black cap will hide a scare of the wound that gave rise to rumors "Joliat won't play again." Manager Cecil Hart said little Aurel would be out there today, and in all likelihood would play against New York Rangers here Saturday night.

Dizzy spells have bothered the veteran right winger since he landed on his head in an upset with Buzz Boll of Toronto Leafs one week ago, and he remained home when the team went on the road. Hart denied the rumors and said Joliat would be back in his regular berth next week at the latest.

LEAFS SCORE 3-1 WIN ON NEW YORK ICE

B. Jackson, Kelly And Metz Score Three Toronto Goals Wings Break Losing Streak

Turk Broda Gives Stellar Performance In The Net For Leaf Clan

TORONTO, Nov. 26. —(CP)— From villain to hero in one act, with a whistling symphony by the rest of the National Hockey League.

That's the sudden change in roles accomplished by Reginald (Red) Horner, the flaming-thatched man from Toronto who once was Conny Smythe's bad boy. And 16,000 who watched Reginald the good lead Toronto Maple Leafs to a 3-1 triumph over the Rangers at New York last night echoed the amazement of other audiences around the league.

You'd laugh if you read it in one of those pulp magazines. Wives of other players used to hush their children with Red's name. But here's the bury defenceman who served 169 minutes in penalties two seasons back—124 last winter—becoming a team general and ace player overnight.

Contributes Two Assists.

Horner contributed two important assists last night to raise his total to nine as the Leafs extended their lead in the Canadian section. The continuance of his reform movement would have stood alone as the night's feature but for the comeback of Detroit Red Wings, who lurched from a long string of losses to defeat Chicago Black Hawks 4-1 before 9,500 fans at Detroit.

The Leafs' power line of Harvey Jackson, Gordon Drillon and Syl Apps added to lofty point totals in the first period with the opening goal, scored by Jackson on assists from his mates. That lead was good until the eight minute of the third, when Bobby Kirk sank a pass from Babe Pratt to tie the score.

Then Horner made his bid. He passed to Pep Kelly for a goal that put the visitors ahead and with Kelly aided Red Metz in the final counter just 11 seconds before the end.

Easy For Detroit Fans.

The Wings' triumph was as easy for the Detroit fans to take as their Thanksgiving dinners. The newcomers Jack Adams has brought up to replace slumping players had a big share and one of them, Carl Liscombe, rapped in the second goal on a pass from Larry Aurie.

Liscombe's counter came halfway through the second chapter and added to Gordon Pettinger's in the first. Aurie, second in the division only to Marty Barry in last season's scoring, got his first goal of the new schedule in the third period, while Earl Seibert of the Hawks was in the penalty box. The home side was short when Johnny Gottselig reduced the lead to 3-1, but Herb Lewis topped off the parade with a goal within a minute.

SPECIAL INTEREST IN ENGLISH CUP

LONDON, Nov. 26. — Of the 34 games to be played in the first round of the English Cup next Saturday, there are at least two of special interest, in that they concern former winners of the trophy that every year eludes the grasp of so many teams. They are Cardiff City and Bradford City, now playing in the Third Division of the English League. The triumph of Bradford City came in 1911, but that of Cardiff City is of more recent date. The Welshmen earned the distinction of being the first team to take the coveted trophy out of England. That was in 1927. A lot has happened to Cardiff City in the past decade, and it was for the worse, but the Ninian Park youths are making a heroic bid to emulate the performance of former stars, who did more than any other team to popularize the sport in South Wales in the last quarter of a century. Unfortunately for the Welshmen they are forced to travel to Northampton in this opening round, and it would not be surprising if it was proved to be Cardiff's last round, despite the fact that Cardiff City beat the Shoe Merchants in September by the convincing score of 4 to 1. That game took place at Cardiff. When the Welshmen visited Northampton last season on league business they were beaten by 2 to 0.

Bradford May Survive.

Bradford City is more likely to survive the round, although the Valley Parade team is also called on to travel. Its opponents will be either Shildon or Walker Celtic, minor teams that have qualified for the first round. There are over a score of such teams, but the majority of them will eventually be eliminated if not by the professional Third Division squads, then by the teams in the First and Second Divisions, judging by past experience. Nevertheless it is quite within the bounds of possibility that the minors may surprise some of their more fancied opponents, and this almost becomes a probability where the minors have home games. For instance, Aldershot can expect a rough passage when the Soldiers play Dulwich Hamlet, a team that last season won the English Amateur Cup. The Corinthians are back in competition again. This once-famous amateur squad bobs up each year about this time to try their luck in the Cup series, but the result is invariably the same—defeat, and Corinthians pass out of the picture. They are the same Corinthians that toured Canada twice, but the team is just a shadow of its former greatness. On Saturday the Amateurs play the crack South-end United team. It is true that they have choice of ground, but that won't help Corinthians much. Last year they were beaten in the first round by Bristol Rovers on Corinthian ground.

Maroons Begin To Click By Tieing Rangers In New York

Montral Maroons, under Coach Francis "King" Clancy, former Toronto Maple Leaf defenceman, broke out of their scoreless streak when they met New York Rangers in New York. Clancy seems to have installed the old fighting spirit in his team, but somehow couldn't get them organized to deliver on scoring attacks. Evidently, something must have happened in New York, for the Maroons scored three goals against their New York rivals. The game ended in a three-all tie after overtime. Ott Heller, of the Rangers, is seen in this action picture carrying the puck in on Goalie Bill Beveridge of the Maroons.

Cooks Play Prominent Part In Minor League Hockey Wins

Bill's Barons Tie Hornets 2-2 While Reds Nudge Out Stars 2-1

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (CP).—There seem to be just enough "Cooks" to keep the broth hot, rather than spoil it, in the International-American Hockey League.

For a long time Bun and Bill Cook and Frankie Boucher in their days with New York Rangers in the National Hockey League, formed one of the greatest forward lines hockey ever has seen. Came the breaking up, with Boucher remaining with Rangers as a coach, and the Cooks taking over playing-coach jobs with teams in the International-American League.

That they still have the goods was evident last night as two scheduled games were played. In one, Bill's Cleveland Barons tied 2-2 with Pittsburgh Hornets, while in the other Bun's Providence Reds were nudged out 2-1 by the yet-to-be-beaten Syracuse Stars.

To Bill, though, went the greatest honors as he set the pace for his team, passing for one goal and scoring the other just before regulation time was up, thereby sending the game into a scoreless overtime period. Bun didn't get into the scoring of his team's only goal, but he played a good game otherwise.

There were fireworks aplenty in the Cleveland-Pittsburgh tussle as every player on both teams joined in a fight which broke out in the last period. It started when Jimmy Orlando, Hornet defenceman, and Phil Hergesheimer, Baron wingman, squared off. When the general melee was over Orlando, Hergesheimer, Les Cunningham, Jimmy Bretto and Orville Roulston were tagged with major penalties.

Barons got the first goal in the second period, when Walt Brenneman converted Bill Cook's pass. Ken Doraty and Harry Currie scored to send Pittsburgh into the lead in the third period, but Cook squared it up with only 12 seconds to play.

Norm Locking was the hero in the win that kept Stars unbeaten. All three goals in the game came in the first period, with Doran getting the first one for Syracuse. Johnny Crawford tieing it up, and then Locking supplying the clincher.

Syracuse and Springfield Indians, if they both win their games Saturday night, will carry unbeaten records into their first clash of the year the following night.

TORONTO GRIDDERS MEET ORFUNS HERE

An Ontario semi-final rugby match is slated for Peterborough tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in Riverside Park. City Club of Toronto and the local Orfuns clash in the second game of the O.R.F.U. intermediate "A" semi-final series, and the Toronto team is down 14 points as a result of the 19-5 decision for Orfuns in Toronto last week. The visitors will have to make up this deficit or be eliminated. Winner of this series goes into the Provincial finals against the Dundas-Sarnia winner, probably Sarnia. As the final may be a sudden-death game on a neutral gridiron, the contest here tomorrow might be the last home appearance of Orfuns, whether they win or lose, this season. A huge crowd of fans is expected to see this classy scrap between near-senior squads.

Coach Bill Turnbull has his Orfuns in good shape and rarin' for action. They claim they can repeat their win over the ex-Westsides and resent the remarks that they were lucky in copping such a decisive victory in the first game. The husky and hard-hitting City Clubbers claim they will pull out a decision in Peterborough and show a complete reversal in form. It ought to be a battering battle with plenty of forward passing by the visitors as they take desperate chances to cut down that lead. Fans are sure to see a first-rate gridiron display.

RANKINE COUNTS HIS FIFTH VICTORY IN U.S. MARATHON

BERWICK, Pa., Nov. 26 (C.P.).—Robert (Scotty) Rankine, the dark-haired runner who has been coming out of his preston, Ont., home to win Marathons all over the place for a good many years past, counted his fifth consecutive victory in the annual Berwick Marathon to-day.

Holder of the Berwick record before he entered the Thanksgiving Day trek over 9 miles and 286 yards, Rankine stepped the distance in 47 minutes 16 4-5 seconds to set a new mark, 18 1-5 seconds under his previous best time.

Ranked as Canada's outstanding amateur athlete for which he received the Crowe Memorial Trophy recently, Scotty crossed the finish line 19 1-5 seconds ahead of Eino Petti of New York.

Next best Canadian was Bob Morrison of the Achilles Club, Toronto, who placed fourth in the field of 30. Twenty-seven runners finished.

Milton Wallace of Toronto finished seventh and other Canadian entries finished in this order: Wilmer Sheridan of Waterdown, Ont., 11th; Walter Fedorick, Hamilton, Ont., 13th; George Dinmore, Preston, Ont., 20th.

BIG SPORTS SCHEME

STELLENBOSCH, South Africa —(CP).—The town council is considering plans for a huge sports field to provide for bowling greens, rugby and soccer pitches, tennis courts and swimming tank.

REWARD LONG SERVICE

SWINTON, Lancashire, England—(CP).—In appreciation of 50 years service with Swinton Rugby League club, first as a player and later as an official, E. W. Worsley was presented with a Queen Anne writing desk.

OUT FOR A MONTH

LEEDS, England—(CP).—G. E. Ainsley, Leeds United soccer player who suffered a fractured cheek-bone in the match against Leicester City, October 30, will be out of the game for at least a month.

Hockey's Big 7

(By The Canadian Press)

Red Horner of Toronto made the biggest gain among the National Hockey League scoring leaders last night when he handed out two assists against the Rangers, raising his total in that department to nine. At the same time his team mates, Gordon Drillon, Harvey Jackson and Sylvanus Apps, increased their totals by figuring in the Leafs' first goal. Charlie Conacher of Toronto is still on the injured list and Doc Romnes of Chicago did not score, but Marty Barry of Detroit got another assist against Romnes' team to hold his place.

A True Story of a Motorist... at 38° below

Gentlemen:

I am engaged in the taxi business here in Northern Ontario where we have plenty of starting troubles from November to March. A favorite by-word is "How did your car start this morning?"

In past years I have tried everything, even a blow torch under the oil pan with the usual results—time lost and all in.

Due to your XS-171 Hycap battery all this trouble has been changed this winter. I have a sedan which has to stand outside most of the time, and I must be ready to go at any hour of the day or night.

Last fall Mr. Parr of North Bay Auto-Electric told me about your Hycap battery, and assured me that if I installed one in my car my starting troubles would be over.

We experience sub-zero temperature here every winter; 30 and 40 below zero is not uncommon, yet I am now able to get started in a matter of seconds. My car is naturally equipped with heater, defroster and radio, which adds to the comfort and safety of my passengers, yet I seem to have plenty of power for starting. The temperature a few days ago was 38 below, yet I started in about ten seconds.

These details may not mean much to you, but if you lived up here, you would realize the necessity of having a good battery, especially in my business.

Yours very truly,
E. B. Willis.

Dated Jan. 20, 1937.
North Bay.

Nothing we could say about Exide Hycap Batteries could be more graphic or convincing than the letter sent us by Mr. E. B. Willis during the bitterest cold wave last winter and quoted above.

Exide Hycap Batteries are built for the heavier electrical loads of today's cars, providing extra high capacity for radio, heater, defroster, etc., with ample reserve for starting in any weather. The same Exide Hycap that can start your car morning after morning can be depended upon to deliver long unfailing service throughout every season.

Play safe and save money this season. Go to the nearest Exide dealer. Look for his Exide sign, the symbol of honest service. 70K

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Parnell, Park Hill Road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Helen, to Mr. Orley Axford, eldest son of Mr. E. E. Axford, and the late Mrs. Axford of Paris; the marriage to take place quietly in December.

IN MEMORIAM

GIMBLETT.—In loving memory of our dear Mother, Mrs. Gertrude Gimblett, who passed away November 26, 1930.

Seven years have passed and gone
Since one we loved so well
Was taken from our home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we place upon her grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for her who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.
—Ever remembered by Dorothy and George.

LAMBERT. — In fond and loving memory of my dear Husband, George Lambert, who passed away one year ago to-day, November 26, 1936.

Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
Gone, but not forgotten.
—Mrs. George Lambert.

SHEARING.—In loving memory of Robert Shearing, who was killed November 26, 1935.

A wonderful Dad, man in aid;
One who was better, God never made.
A wonderful worker so loyal and true,
One in a million—that Dad was you.
Just in your judgment, always right;
Honest and liberal, ever upright;
Loved by your friends and all whom you knew;
A wonderful Dad—that Dad, was you.
—Sadly missed by his Daughter, Mrs. Grady and Family.

SHEARING.—In loving memory of our dear Father, Robert Shearing, who passed away suddenly on November 26, 1935.

"Thy will be done," seems hard to say
When one we loved has passed away.
Some day perhaps we'll understand
When we meet again in that Better Land.
We do not forget you, nor do we intend;
We think of you often, and will to the end;
Gone and forgotten by some you may be,
But dear to our memory you ever will be.
—Ever remembered by his Daughter and Son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bedding and Family, 178 Hazlett street.

SHEARING.—In loving memory of my dear Husband, Robert Shearing, who met his death at the Quaker Oats Company, on November 26, 1935.

Weep not for me, nor wish me back,
I am now from pain and free;
And in my Jesus' arms I rest
Where I have longed to be.
You watched for me beside my bed;
Now I will watch for you;
And when you reach the Golden Gate
I will come and lead you through.
Calm and peaceful he is sleeping
The sweetest rest that follows pain;
I, who loved him, sadly miss him
And trust in God to meet again.
The world may change from year to year
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one I loved
From memory pass away.
—Ever remembered by his sorrowful Wife, Mrs. J. Shearing, 657 Armour road.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late David Godfrey and his sister, Mrs. M. A. Hynes, wish to thank their many friends for kindness shown during their recent sad bereavement.

DEAD RECKONING

CHAPTER 47.

The police sergeant was reserved in his manner, but polite. His questions regarding Adams' death were many, but easy to answer. He made Tim and Robson some out with him to the scene of the accident, and at tempted a kind of reconstruction.

The suggestion put forward by Robson, that the bicycle had collided with the stone in the road, and that Adams had been shot over the handle bars, seemed to satisfy him as the most likely thing to have happened. "He must have been going a lick, though," he commented. "He always did," said Robson. "I've seen him dozens of times, just about the same time. I always said he'd come a cropper one of these days."

Tim found the work of suggestion being done for him so effectually that he did not attempt to advance an opinion.

They returned to The Wilderness; the body was taken off to the mortuary; Tim had a few final words with Doctor Arkwright, and was at last left alone.

He went into the living room, where the last embers of the fire were still glowing, and lit a cigaret. He drew the envelope out of his pocket. It was open and he took out the letter with trembling, clumsy fingers.

There was a single sheet of notepaper, and on it were written, in Adams' handwriting, the following words:

Dear Sirs,

Please deliver to bearer, Mr. T. J. Kennedy, the envelope I gave you the other day, marked "Private and Confidential. To be opened in the event of my death."

Yours truly,

M. Adams.

Tim groaned out loud in dismay and terror.

So that had been Adams' final precaution! He had not trusted to the revolver; Tim was too slippery a customer and he might try something else. He could enter into the low devious cunning of the man's mind; it was akin to his own. It was not an attempt at bliking. He would have kept to his bargain, taken no steps to prevent the collection of the letter in good faith.

But he had refused to run the risk of being in possession of a large sum of money, which he could have in no way acquired lawfully, at a time when Tim, with the letter safely destroyed, would have had every temptation and no smal lopportunity of getting it back. Not by frontal attack, perhaps, but by a last big bluff, a phone call to the police, a tale of robbery, an open defiance, and a facing out of the consequences, now the evidence was gone.

Adams had overreached himself. He had thought himself safe until he had handled over the letter, and that was where he hade made his mistake. He was dead, but he had contrived the means for his own revenge. He would speak from the grave, and his own death would be the last nail driven home in the coffin of his murderer. Tim had damned himself by the very act that was to give him freedom.

He helped himself lavishly from the whiskey bottle. It was a curious symbolism of the situation that the key of the sideboard cupboard was still on Adams' body; Tim had to force the door open. He drank and grew calmer.

There still remained a chance . . . the death of Adams was small beer in the greater world. Would there be any mention of it in the London papers? If there was, would there be more than a few lines, easily overlooked? There was surely no other way of getting the news immediately to the solicitors, unless Adams had entrusted a friend in West Shilston with the task of advising them in the event of his death. And that could not be before tomorrow; West Shilston would not know before tomorrow.

Tim began to feel easier. He would get the letter after all. The suspense was hideous, but he would get it he would certainly get it. He drained the glass, and his courage returned.

The hour of half past 9 found Tim at Lincoln's Inn Fields.

He had not been to bed, could not have faced it; but toward 3 he had made up the fire and lain down on the sofa. At half past 6 he had struggled out of an uneasy doze.

He was feeling villainous; cold, a splitting headache, clothes wrinkled and prickly. He went upstairs and turned on the bath. Too early for hot water, but the chill was just off it, and after splashing about for a few minutes he felt better. He got into clean clothes, putting on his best suit, and going to some pains to make the best of his appearance. When he had finished, the prospect of going under fire seemed a little less impossible to face.

Soon after half past 7 he got away. He had decided to drive to London Because the concentration required would help to occupy his mind. He had three or four appointments at his surgery in the course of the morning, but he never gave them a thought.

He drove very badly, and though the roads were quiet at this early hour, he had more than one narrow escape. In the course of the journey he became aware of hunger, and in one of the Southern suburbs he pulled up his car outside a small restaurant and had some breakfast.

He took an armful of newspapers in with him, and while he was waiting to be served he went over them in hasty and painful anxiety. He could find nothing, but he knew that his impatience had prevented him from covering the ground properly.

But the breakfast, with two cups of steaming coffee, warmed and braced him. Before going on he looked in at a chemist's, and took a strong bromide tonic.

He reached Lincoln's Inn Fields, and climbed the two flights of stairs to the offices of Major and West, in a state approaching calm. Slow down the tempo, he said to himself, slow down the tempo. The only thing that could betray him now was a too eager impetuosity.

There was no answer to his knock on the door marked GENERAL OFFICE. He walked in, and seeing nobody, rapped on the wooden counter with his knuckles. An untidy body with spectacles emerged from the side, wiping his hands on a towel.

"I want to see one of the principals, please," said Tim.

The boy looked at the clock.

"You're a bit early sir. Mr. West don't come up at all Saturdays. But Mr. Major or Mr. Kay'll be along about 10. One or the other, perhaps both."

"Thank you, I'll wait." Tim sat down on a cane bench close to the door, and lit a cigaret. Two other members of the staff came through

BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

BUNTY SAVES UNCLE WIGGILY.

"Didn't we have a nice time, Unkie Wig?" asked Baby Bunty of the rabbit gentleman beside whom she was hopping in the woods one day. "Wasn't it lovely?"

"Yes, Bunty," said Mr. Longears, "I enjoyed my hop with you very much."

"Except we didn't have much of an adventure, or anything like that," said Bunty sort of disappointed like.

"What do you call those?" asked Uncle Wiggily pointing to some balls Bunty was carring.

"Oh, you mean these seed balls from the sycamore tree?"

"Yes," said Mr. Longears. "They might turn into an adventure."

"I don't see how they can," said the orphan rabbit.

While hopping in the woods, Bunty had found some brown balls from the plane, or sycamore tree. The balls hadn't burst and scattered their white fluffy seeds, like snow but were unbroken. Inside them, as Uncle Wiggily showed Bunty when he cracked one in his paws, were so many seeds that when the wind blew them it seem to have started snowing.

Her Idea

"No I don't call these snowballs an adventure," said Bunty. "Though they will be lovely to take to school."

"What would you call an adventure, Bunty?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Oh, one with a Bad Chap in," laughed the orphan rabbit. "Only," she was quick to say, "I don't want a Bad Chap to get you or me."

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" suddenly laughed a voice in the bushes and out popped the Bob Cat. "Ha! Ha! Ha!" he laughed.

"Oh, exclaimed Baby Bunty.

"Oh, dear!" said Uncle Wiggily.

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the Bob Cat again, twiddling his whiskers and trying to hide his silly little tail no larger than a baby's thumb. "You are going to get part of your wish, Bunty."

"What part?" asked Bunty trying not to let the tree snowballs fall and burst. "What part, Mr. Bob Cat?"

"That part about me not getting you!" snarled the Bad Chap. "I don't want you. I want Uncle Wiggily and I have him! Gurr! Go on home, Baby Bunty—I don't want you!"

With that the Bob Cat caught Uncle Wiggily by both ears.

"Ouch!" cried the rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, dear!" cried Baby Bunty.

Brave Bunty

"Go on home, I tell you!" snarled the Bad Chap. "Before I change my mind and get you as well as Uncle Wiggily! Go on home!"

"Yes, Bunty, you had better go home," sadly said Mr. Longears.

"Oh, but I want to save you!" said the orphan rabbit.

"You cannot save me—save yourself," said Mr. Longears.

There were tears in Bunty's eyes as she turned away. She had a plan. She would run quickly through the woods and get the Police Dog to save Uncle Wiggily.

But as Bunty ran she dropped some of the fluff-filled balls from the sycamore tree. They didn't break, but at once Bunty thought of a new plan to save Uncle Wiggily.

I'll crack some of the balls and let their fluff blow out," she whispered. The Bob Cat may think it is snowing and run away."

Quickly, before the Bob Cat could drag Uncle Wiggily away, Bunty cracked six sycamore tree balls. Out flew the fluffy, feathery seeds.

Burr! Wurr! Gurr It's snowing! I'll catch cold!" howled the Bob Cat. I've got to run home and drink hot milk!" So he let the rabbit gentleman go. Brave Baby Bunty had saved him.

And if football doesn't try to walk off by itself and jump over the goal posts, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's blue jay.

BETHANY BAZAAR DRAWS BIG CROWD SUPPER ENJOYED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BETHANY, Nov. 26.—The Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Anglican Church held their annual bazaar and supper on Saturday afternoon and evening in the Town Hall, Bethany. There was a very large patronage present, and the ladies were very pleased with the result of their efforts to make the event a record breaker. Over $132 was taken at the door and the visitors expressed satisfaction with the delightful supper. The hall was very attractively decorated for the occasion. The booths, three in number, occupying the west side of the room, displayed a color scheme carried out in royal blue and white: namely, Fancy table, presided over by Mrs. Padgham, Mrs. J. McKinnon and Mrs. William Morton. Girls' Guild was ably conducted by Misses Laura Morton, Ivy Smith, Flo. Smith and Mrs. Kenenth Thorndyke, with re-lievers during the evening.

Farmers table was in charge of Mrs. McCartney and Miss Annie Sisson. Apron and Flannelette department by Mrs. Elizabeth Reynolds. Knitted goods, staple lines by Mrs. Charles Poretous.

Surprise packages were in charge of Mrs. Sid Armstrong, and did a thriving business.

Ticket sales for a quilt and cushion were in charge of Mrs. Rev. Holden, bringing a neat sum all told.

Miss Winnie Nesbitt was door treasurer, also treasurer for the W.A.; Mrs. A. H. Monk, secretary of the society, being unable through illness of her mother, to assist during the evening.

The Tea Room presented a very busy scene; the long table draped in white linen and decorated with silver bud vases holding gleaming red berries, and other floral decorations, was filled constantly from 4.30 until 7.30 oclock with a liberal patronage to partake of the fine supper.

The convenor of the tea room, Mrs. T. W. Reynolds, ushering the guests into the arched entrances when a space became vacant at the table, assisted by Mrs. Dave Cairns and others.

Busy waitresses attended most assiduously to the varying appetites of the guests; Mr. George Gillies pouring delicious tea made by the veteran tea-makers, Mrs. J. Ward.

Last, but not least, in the busy whirl were the party workers, namely, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. H. Kennedy, Mrs. C. Davis, Mrs. C. Stevenson, and Mrs. G. Foster, all taking a share of wiping and washing the dishes required.

A very tired but happy band of workers welcomed the time to return to their homes.

Mrs. Alice McGrath of Toronto won the lucky ticket on the patchwork quilt prepared by the society.

Miss Catherine Morton won the wool cushion, drawn by ticket.

A three-storey Christmas cake was on sale at the Girls Guild booth. The bottom storey was won by Mr. Joseph Haddon, second storey by Mrs. Ernest Pallis, and the third storey was won by Miss Isobel Sisson of St. Marys Church.

Velma Brown and Evelyn Stevenson were the small girls who drew the several number from the box containing the stubs.

Famed Loving Cup Replica Is Used

TORONTO, November 26—(CP).—Toronto's replica of London's old Mansion House Loving Cup was used last night for the first time at a civic dinner in honor of S. J. Hungerford, President and Chairman of Directors, Canadian National Railways.

The cup, copy of the London piece of silverware which survived the Great Fire of 1866, was presented the City of Toronto by Sir Percy Vincent on a visit here last year when he was Lord Mayor of the English Capital.

The replica is the only one the Corporation of the City of London has allowed to be made. Last night, it was used for the first time for various toasts proposed at the dinner.

NOTED CANADIAN SOLDIER RETIRES

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP).—Major-General Sir Casimir Van Straubenzee, one of Canada's most distinguished professional soldiers, has retired as Colonel Commandant of the Royal Artillery on reaching the age limit for the appointment.

Sir Casimir, who is 60, will be succeeded by Lieut.-General Sir Henry Karslake.

A son of the late Colonel A. H. Van Straubenzee and Mrs. Straubenzee of Kingston, Ont., he was graduated from the Royal Military College of Canada and later became a professor there.

He served with distinction in the Great War, being mentioned in despatches four times, and 10 years ago was appointed Commander of the British Forces in Malaya. He was knighted in 1926.

within the next 10 minutes. The first, a pale youngish woman in a yellow beret, took no notice of him at all, but pushed through the barrier into the general office, removed her outer clothes, and began hammering away at a typewriter. The second, a sad-faced young Jew, also went through and gave the others a gloomy good morning, but seemed in no hurry to start work. He looked at Tim once or twice and then came to the barrier and spoke to him.

"Anything I can do for you, sir?"

"Thank you," said Tim, rising. "I'd be glad if you could deal with me. It's just a question of a letter I've been asked to collect. It was entrusted to you a few days back, I believe."

He handed over the note. The young man read it without change of expression. "Yes, I remember something about it," he said. "But I think you'd better wait for Mr. Kay, sir, if you don't mind. He won't be long. I wouldn't care to take the responsibility."

"Just as you please," said Tim. He sat down again. The young man kept the note.

11 DEAD, 'BLACKOUT' BLANKETS LONDON 3RD DAY

NOMINATIONS SEND BIG LIST OUT FOR OFFICE

5 Mayors, 21 Reeves Get Acclamations

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (CP)—It was qualification day in Ontario today, the day when candidates nominated for office in the Dec. 6 municipal elections officially enter the race. The process of filling out the necessary forms and the stating of qualifications each year drastically prunes the long lists of nominees.

In almost every city, town, village and township throughout the province candidates for civic offices were nominated yesterday. Voting in most municipalities will be Dec. 6.

Seven candidates were nominated for the mayoralty in London, which nominated last Monday; qualification day in that city Tuesday left only Mayor T. F. Kingsmill, seeking a third term, and former Mayor George A. Wenige in the field. Fifty-five were named for the 12 aldermanic seats to be filled Dec. 6; only 29 were left after the qualifying trimming.

Five Get Acclamation

Five mayors emerged from yesterday's nominations as elected by acclamation. They were George Panter in Gravenhurst; Robert S. Vance, Simcoe; William Morrison, Hamilton; W. T. Thompson, Parkhill, and H. J. A. MacEwan, Goderich. Twenty-one reeves received acclamations.

Mayor W. D. Robbins was nominated for a second term in Toronto. His chief opposition will come from Controller Ralph Day, long prominent in municipal politics. Two other candidates were named in the capital, Robert Harding and Carlo Lambert. A total of 117 would-be civic office-holders were nominated.

In Ottawa, Mayor Stanley Lewis is seeking a third term. He probably will be opposed by Alderman W. H. Marsden, W. A. Watson and Caleb S. Green, nominated yesterday. Fifty-four persons were named for Windsor's six aldermanic and two board of control seats. No vote will be held for mayor.

Pruning Likely.

Today's qualifications were expected to drastically trim the 12-man slate of mayoralty nominees in Kitchener. Three were in the field in Woodstock, including Mayor W. M. MacArthur. In Belleville, nine were named to oppose Mayor Richard D. Arnott, member of the Ontario Legislature for Hastings West, who is seeking re-election.

In Sarnia, where nominations were made Thursday, three candidates qualified for the mayoralty. They were William Donohue, Fred Pelling and John T. Barnes. Fifteen passed the qualifying stage for the eight council seats to be filled in that city.

Few women were among the hundreds of nominees. In Brantford, Mrs. Veda MacBride, daughter-in-law of Hon. M. M. MacBride, Provincial Minister of Labor, was elected by acclamation to the Board of Education. Mr. MacBride, Mayor of the city, is not seeking re-election.

Mrs. Constance Otton was nominated for the Woodstock council, and for that city's Board of Education. She may qualify only for the one office. Mrs. Cora MacKenzie, running for the Board of Education in Kincardine, is the first woman candidate for office in that town's history.

FIND VETERAN SHOT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27 (A.P.).—The body of Frank K. Leech, 44, Canadian Great War veteran and bit player in motion pictures, was found yesterday on the floor of his home with a shotgun wound in his right side and another in the head. The gun was on the floor beside him. Detectives Elroy Sanderson and Thad Brown said Leech recently reported an attack had been made on him.

VOLCANO WAKENS

KUSATSU, Japan, Nov. 27 (AP)—After a five-year silence volcanic Mount Shirane in central Honshu broke into rumbling eruption today.

Tokyo was shaken slightly but there were heavier shocks in regions closer to the volcano. Neither casualties nor damage were reported. Ashes covered the base of the mountain.

Contest Winner Jackie Loucks, son of Mr. John Loucks, 282 Aylmer street, won the baby contest (Catholic section) in connection with St. Peter's Cathedral parish bazaar with 117,500 votes. —(Examiner Staff Photo)

P.C.I. Squad Eliminates Barrie By 12-6 Score

Kelly And Curtin Get Touchdowns To Boost Petes' Count

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 27.—(CP).—Displaying a flashing attack that featured plunging, end runs and forward passes, Peterborough Collegiate Institute defeated Barrie C. I. 12-6 at Varsity back campus here to-day, to win the Senor Central Ontario Secondary Schools Association rugby championship.

Barrie only threatened in the closing seconds of the tilt when they went through on plunges for a touchdown that was converted.

Starting early in the first frame, Peterborough chalked up a point on a deadline kick. In the second quarter Haig Kelly, from three yards out, plunged through for an unconverted touch. Peterborough added another point on a rouge before the stanza finished.

From the start of the final quarter Peterborough plunges took the ball to the Barrie five. Curtin charged through from there for a touchdown, again unconverted. Barrie's last minute rally, with Long scoring, was too late to affect the outcome.

The line-up:

Peterborough.		Barrie.
	Flying wing.

Peterborough subs — Ernie Ward, Bob Parnell, Scriver, Diplock, Northcott, and Phil Turner.

Barrie subs — Webb, Lay, Charbonneau, Reynolds, Vicks, Gosney.

FIRST QUARTER

Following an exchange of kicks, a Peterborough plunge and end run carried the ball to Barrie's 40 yard line from where Curtin kicked to the deadline. Peterborough 1, Barrie 0. The Petes had more power in the line but Jack Dyte's heavy kicking for Barrie kept shoving the eastern Ontario squad back.

A long boot by Dyte from near midfield was taken by Thornton on Peterborough's 5 and ran out 15 yards. Two Peterborough plunges

Wrecks New Car On Way Home

Ridgetown, Nov. 27 (CP)

ROBERT Bronsnaham bought a car and saw it wrecked by a Michigan Central train on the same day.

Returning from Highgate on business, Brosnaham forgot to release his emergency brake. He finally stalled on the Muirkirk crossing.

Brosnaham and his hired man tried to push the car off the tracks, but before they had it clear a train struck it.

Worst Fog in Years Halts Traffic In Half England

Pedestrians Form Hand Chains, Follow Torches; Atlantic Liners Delayed Hours Battling Gales

LONDON, Nov. 27—(AP)—The greatest fog in many years curtained half of England today, choking transportation and endangering pedestrians and motorists for a third day. Weather officials said the "blackout" was one of the worst on record and predicted it would continue over the week-end. At least 11 deaths was attributed to the murk.

Trains and buses ran behind schedule or quit running altogether. Shipping on the lower Thames was halted. Pedestrians formed hand-to-hand chains to guide themselves along London's sidewalks behind leaders carrying torches of blazing newspapers.

Three persons fell into reservoirs and a river while groping in the darkness.

Three men in the crew of a German plane were killed last night when the craft crashed in taking off from fog-cloaked Croydon airdrome. The plane struck a hangar and its exploding fuel tanks set fire to the building.

Four motorists were killed early yesterday in a crash in a London suburb and several persons were injured at the Nottingham railway station when they tumbled off the platform.

A railway employee was struck by a train and killed.

Transatlantic liners due at British ports over the week-end wirelessed that they were fighting fierce gales and would be delayed many hours. Those due today included the Champlain, the Duchess of Atholl, the Ascania and the Rotterdam.

TIP FROM FARMER JAILS FIVE YOUTHS HUNTED FOR THEFT

ALMONTE, Ont., Nov. 27.—(CP).—A neighbor's tip yesterday sent police to a lonely Ramsay township farm house where they captured five Ottawa youths wanted for questioning in connection with an Arnprior store burglary and thefts from a Clayton garage.

The young men were captured after an overheated engine forced Chief Constable Ed McLaughlin and Lanark County Constable Ed Little to abandon pursuit of a car early yesterday during which they fired four shots.

The two officers were seeking five men reported to have burglarized the Arnprior store and endeavored to stop an automobile and question the occupants when the chase occurred.

Later a neighbor of David Wilson telephoned police five men were occupying Wilson's home. Wilson was absent in Perth where he is facing a charge of theft.

Officers captured the five youths without a struggle and said they found in Wilson's house goods stolen from the store and from a garage as well as a revolver. They said the automobile the men used was stolen.

The youths identified themselves as Geroge Desormeaux, Leo Groux, Herbert Dawson, Albert Clarke and Eililen Moreault.

SLAYS WIFE'S LOVER

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C., Nov. 27 (A.P.). — Walter Lee Smith, barber and choir director, was shot and killed here last night in what Police Lieutenant R. N. Carroll said was a "love triangle," and John A. Hartle, a grocer, was formally charged with the slaying.

The police officer said Hartle told him that he was unable to make change for a customer in his store and returned to his home, about a block away, to get some more money, and came upon his wife and Smith in a darkened room.

Slapped Baby Dies Father Jailed

EDMONTON, Nov. 27.—(CP). — Hector Damery, 23, unemployed packing plant worker, was arrested last night on a murder charge after his three-months-old daughter, Lauretta Janet, died in hospital from what authorities said was cerebral hemorrhage.

Police stated Damery's 22-year-old wife told them the baby "took convulsions" after the father slapped it about the face and head "because she kept crying and he said she was spoiled."

A post mortem was ordered to-day. he baby died in hospital to which it was removed on orders of a physician summoned by the father.

2 Strangers Brave Gas-Filled House Save Man, 2 Girls Overcome

Toronto, Nov. 27 (CP)

ESCAPING coal gas fumes filled a house today when a furnace pipe blew off and only the intervention of two strangers saved the four persons.

Mrs. Hyman Rumstein went to a neighbor's home and said everybody in the house was dead. Smoke and gas were pouring out the windows. The neighbor called two men passers-by and they carried Mrs. Rumstein's husband and two daughters out. Then Mrs. Rumstein collapsed.

Firemen worked over the four with inhalators. Doctors said all would have been dead in another few minutes.

Britain Warns Japs To Respect Customs Rights

Must Be Consulted on Any Changes in Shanghai; France, U.S. About to Issue Similar Demands

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The British ambassador to Tokyo, Sir Robert Craigie, today was instructed to make it clear to the Japanese government that Great Britain insists on her right to be consulted on any arrangements the Japanese may make regarding the Chinese Maritime Customs.

An official source said Great Britain had been in communication with the United States and France on this subject.

Sir Robert, this source said was authorized to leave the Japanese government "in no doubt whatsoever" regarding the viewpoint of the British government.

It was understood in informed quarters that the United States and France were taking similar action.

It also was understood that Sir Robert was instructed to reserve the right to be advised about any change the Japanese contemplate in regard to postal, wireless and telegraph services in the Shanghai area.

Herschel V. Johnson, counsellor of the United States embassy here, was said to have been in close touch with the foreign office in the last few days regarding the Shanghai situation.

It was estimated here that the Shanghai Customs collections have represented half of China's total income from customs and formed one of the principal sources of the Chinese government's revenue.

The customs service has been staffed largely by British officials.

TEXAS GOING SOFT

WHIZZERVILLE, Tex., Nov. 27 (AP)—Old cactus Pete was disgusted.

"Fust thing you know," he said, "they'll be pressin' their own pants."

Texas has gone soft, and the two-gun man has given way to—youngsters who throw rocks at rabbits!

Early in December droves of hunters hold a rabbit drive. They may take only one fling at each bunny.

OVER 2,000 OFFER BLOOD TO VICTIMS OF DREAD DISEASE

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 27 (C.P.).—Life-giving blood coursed through the veins of 28-year-old Weston W. Fletcher, Grand Blanc, Mich., victim of the deadly strepococcus viridans, to-day, a few minutes after Ernest Vansickle, 40, Brantford, came to Grace Hospital here and said he was the perfect type to give transfusions to the stricken man.

So far doctors have failed to obtain blood to mix with that of the other patient, 28-year-old Weston W. Fletcher of Grand Blanc, Mich. The blood supplied Shafer by Albertus A. Rickerd, Detroit, would not mix with that of Fletcher.

Rickerd has the same type of blood as Fletcher, "but it would actually have been poisonous if used," Dr. U. J. Durocher, Shafer's physician said. Fletcher may last a week, perhaps three, without a transfusion, his physician, Dr. H. Simpkins, said.

One Offer From England.

More than 2,000 persons recovered from the disease offered blood to the two young men.

Topped by a transatlantic telephone call from London, England, the offers came from all sections of the United States and Canada. Recovered victims of the disease from Guelph and Peterborough were among the first to offer their blood.

From Alhambra, Calif., 22-year-old Kohlin Fortenbery said he was willing to supply some of his blood. The Los Angeles County Hospital said he had "good type four blood," the kind believed needed for Fletcher. At Dayton, O., Preston L. Hickey, 38, of New York, offered his blood. He said he lost his leg from the disease 20 years ago, and "knew what that fellow must be suffering."

Only a small amount of blood was transferred to Shafer yesterday and his physician said the young student would receive transfusions daily for "perhaps weeks, perhaps months." The donor's blood can be kept several days in refrigerators and it will not be necessary for Rickerd to undergo an operation daily.

Eighty public holidays were celebrated in Mexico in the last year.

CACHE OF ARMS FOUND STOLEN FRENCH ARMY

Architect Arrested After Find in Cellar

PARIS, Nov. 27 (A.P.).—Thefts of arms from French Army arsenals during the past year fell to-day within the scope of France's drive to crush a revolutionary conspiracy bent on establishing a royal dictatorship.

Police announced a new Hotchkiss machine gun found in the Paris home of Pierre Parent, an architect, bore the same serial number as a gun stolen from the National Defence Depot at Laon, in the northern province of Aisne.

The gun and the tripod were identified as having been stolen on March 18. Detectives said the discovery was important because the Hotchkiss guns are manufactured in nationalized arms plants for the French Army's use.

Parent, one of several prisoners taken in the drive, was quoted as saying the arms cache — machine guns, grenades, rifles and ammunition—was made in the basement of his luxurious home by "an unknown man who swore to be discreet."

Operatives of the Surete Nationale who questioned Parent and his wife declared there were contradictions in their statements.

Marx Dormoy, Minister of the Interior, and as such, head of the Surete Nationale, was ready to-day to give the Cabinet the latest report on the nation-wide attempt to ferret out the conspirators.

Among the persons held were Eugene Deloncle, a marine engineering consultant whom agents have described as the conspirator-in-chief, and an alleged aide, General Edouard Duseigneur, a retired former chief of staff of the Air Ministry.

MISSING AIRLINER REPORTS "SAFE"

HUDSON, Ont., Nov. 27. (CP)—Eleven words—crackled out by a backwoods wireless — ended forty hours of tension in Ontario's mine-speckled northwest late yesterday.

A terse message came from Doghole Bay to record the safety of Pilot Ken Smith, Air Engineer Keith Gregson, and eight passengers. It was the first report since the plane, —operated by Starratt Airways — took off Wednesday afternoon from Pickle Lake to fly the 120 miles to Sioux Lookout, bustling little mining town just east of here on the railway line to Winnipeg.

The message read: "Aircraft CF-AXD okay at Doghole. Coming in weather permitting. Advise weather."

Stopped in Schedule.

Behind those eleven words was another—"fog". Smith and Gregson left Pickle Lake, in the heart of the Patricia mining country, at 4 p.m., E.S.T., Wednesday, for Sioux Lookout, with a stop scheduled at Root Portage, 65 air miles north of here.

The stop was made, but fog held them there. Lack of wireless communications made it impossible to confirm safety of crew and passengers, and fears for their welfare arose. Yesterday Len Fraser, another pilot for the air line founded nine years ago by R. A. Starratt of Moncton, N.B., was in the air in a Moth plane, searching.

Yesterday, however, the fog lifted sufficently to allow Smith to make a short hop to Doghole Bay, only 18 miles from Pickle Lake, his take-off point, to send the message reporting safety.

U.S. Budget Goes To Printers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP) — Secrecy-bound printers took first glimpses today at next year's United States budget, but economic developments in the next few weeks may decide whether it can be balanced.

The figures to be made public early in January, will disclose treasury prospects for breaking even on receipts and expenditures in the fiscal beginning next July 1.

Although much of the detailed work has been completed, many of the budget estimates will stay blank until about Jan. 1, when President Roosevelt will have had more time to gauge the extent of the current business recession.

Jap Financiers Rushing To Exploit China

Experts Believe Plans Completed Long Before Present Conflict Began

PEIPING, North China, Nov. 27.—(AP).—An intensive period of economic exploitation is expected to follow Japanese military operations in North China.

A concerted rush by Japanese interests to "make North China pay for itself" already has begun.

Detailed plans for economic development of this rich area were perfected long before the present hostilities began. Many observers consider that the reluctance with which Chinese cooperated with Japanese economic interests created the political tension which became so great last summer that a shot in the dark at Marco Polo Bridge ignited the China-wide conflict.

In any case, Japan generally is conceded to have in North China a much better proposition than in Manchoukuo where she found little development already under way.

In North China, she may merely take over the existing Chinese projects and improve them to fit into her own national economic schemes and those for Manchoukuo.

To the 1,500 miles of Chinese railways which have come under Japanese sway in this region, only a few short spurs need be built to perfect a transportation system to develop immense wealth in the country.

4,240 Sheep Killed By Dogs In 5 Years

Barrie, Ont., Nov. 27

Holy Land's Terrorist Sheik Is Hanged As An Example

First To Die Under New Military Rule Faces Gallows With Moslem Stoicism

HAIFA, Palestine, Nov. 27 (AP)—Sheik Farhan Saadi, trouble maker of the Holy Land, was hanged today in the ancient fortress of the Crusaders at Acre—the first to face punishment under the new military courts martial to curb terrorism.

The sheik, a stalwart, six-foot man between 55 and 60 years of age, walked to the gallows with Moslem stoicism and faced the hangman without flinching.

The body was left hanging for an hour in accordance with Moslem law, then it was cut down and carried to the village of Jenin where the fiery Arab was dragged from a cornbin last Monday and given summary trial for possessing firearms and ammunition.

BRIDE GETS REVENGE

GOODING, Idaho, Nov. 27 (AP).—A comely 31-year-old woman who Sheriff Wayne Flack said hitchhiked 100 miles to kill her husband, was to be charged with murder here today.

Flack said Mrs. Albert Pruett confessed she trailed Pruett, 25, after "he took our automobile and money and left me in Boise," and shot him with a .25 calibre pistol.

White Owl Shot Near Port Hope

PORT HOPE, Ont., Nov. 27 (CP)—A white owl with a wing-spread of 56 inches was shot two miles west of here yesterday by Howard Hewitt, Port Hope, who said he followed the owl along the shore of Lake Ontario for almost two miles before he was able to get within range with his 20-gauge shotgun. Last year, Hewitt said, he shot two great horned owls but this is the first white owl he had seen here.

Burglar On Spree Raids Three Homes Setting One Afire Before Leaving

London, Ont., Nov. 27 (CP)

ACTIVITIES of an incendiary burglar, who caused damage to much of the furnishings in Ezra T. Schram's house were under police probe today, following a fire last night.

Practically every article in two front rooms of the house was ablaze when firemen arrived about a half-hour after Mr. and Mrs. Schram had left the house, after locking up. Detectives said the house had been ransacked but nothing had been missed by the householders after a hurried check-up.

About the same time the apartment of Mrs. George Johnston was entered, the place ransacked and seven cents, only cash in the flat, taken.

A little later Mrs. Margaret Hopper, heard her door rattling and shouted, frightening away a prowler who had broken open the storm door on the house but failed get within.

Million Tons Of Earth Tumble Into Los Angeles Suburb

Engineers Fear Slide Only Forerunner Of Gigantic Avalanche

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27 (AP).—A million tons of earth and rock tumbled down Elysian Park's "moving mountain" last night, and today engineers forecast another even greater avalanche.

Three workmen narrowly escaped when the landslide, 400 feet long, spilled into scenic Riverside Drive, breaking power lines and surrounding several buildings with debris.

Representatives of the city engineer's office expressed grave concern. They said the slide probably was only the forerunner of a greater avalanche, which might tumble from the summit, destroying the Dayton Avenue bridge and clogging the Los Angeles river bed.

Elysian Park is about a mile from the downtown business area. The "moving mountain," is about 360 feet in height.

The mountain has been under constant watch by geologists and engineers since the earth movement first was noticed Oct. 26, but the slide came almost without warning.

London will construct houses and flats to accommodate 5,700.

Six Men To Die For One Murder

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 27 (UP)

FIVE Folsom State Prison convicts, survivors of the September 19 escape attempt in which four men were killed, were condemned to die by a Superior Court jury to-day for the slaying of Warden Clarence Larkin.

The jury of six men and six women returned a first-degree murder verdict without recommendation of leniency, after deliberating five and a half hours.

He Had His Overcoat, Sobs Stowaway As Antarctic Ship Searches Him

Cape Town, Nov. 27 (CP)

THE urge of adventure surged in the breast of a 15-year-old telegraph messenger tired of plodding the streets of Cape Town. He jumped aboard a vessel tied to the wharf and hid in a lifeboat.

When the ship was several miles out to sea the youngster emerged from his retreat. He learned he was aboard the Discovery II, bound on an Antarctic expedition.

Nothing could have suited him better. But the thrill was short-lived. The Discovery altered its course for Simonstown and news of the stowaway was flashed to the naval authorities. When the research ship was sighted a launch put out from the cruiser Neptune and brought the lad ashore.

"Why didn't they let me go," the boy sobbed. "There was nothing to worry about. I had my overcoat."

ALL BRITAIN BOWS HEAD IN MOURNING FOR MACDONALD

LONDON, Nov. 27 (CP Cable).—Ramsay Macdonald, who has been described as a "forgotten man" and the most misunderstood of Britain's political greats, was mourned in death yesterday by royalty, statesmen, diplomats, and humble friends who gathered about his flag-draped bier in Westminster Abbey.

It was a genuine pouring out of national grief at the passing of the farm boy who became prime minister and who only a matter of weeks ago left the scenes of his early political triumphs for South America in search of the "most elusive of all forms of happiness—rest."

The coffin, covered with a Union Jack and flowers, was borne from the home at Hampstead where the "son of the people" last resided to the Warriors' Chapel at Westminster Abbey where the funeral service was conducted.

The service preceded the Scotsman's last journey to his beloved Lossiemouth where a casket containing his ashes will be laid in the family grave in Spynie church yard.

The Duke of Gloucester, representing the King, headed the great assembly of mourners, as pallbearers, friends and bitter opponents of Macdonald united in paying last homage.

The pallbearers were Prime Minister Chamberlain, Earl Baldwin, Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Clement Attlee, Labor leader; Captain E. A. Fitzroy, speaker of the House of Commons; Lord De La Warr, Lord Privy Seal; Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal leader; J. G. Kerr and G. A. Morrison, with Macdonald the representatives of the Scottish universities in the House of Commons; and Sir Walter Citrine, general secretary of the Trades Union Congress.

The bier, covered with the richly embroidered Abbey Pall stood at the foot of the Chancel steps.

Near the bier sat the Duke of Gloucester, Lord Claud Hamilton, representing Queen Mary, and Lord Herbert, representing the Duke of Kent.

At noon came a moment of silence and then chanting as the choir walked slowly through the Nave behind a raised cross. The coffin followed, draped in a Union Jack. The service lasted for half an hour, led by Canon V. F. Storr, sub-Dean of Westminster. He was assisted by Canon Frederic Donaldson, who was MacDonald's personal friend. The Archbishop of Canterbury pronounced the blessing.

A crowd of many hundreds was gathered outside the Abbey when the coffin was borne through the west door and placed in a waiting hearse. They stood bareheaded as the hearse, followed by a line of other cars, drove off for Golders Green for cremation.

IMPORTERS CHECK SLUMP IN WHEAT

WINNIPEG, Nov. 27.—(CP). — Dip into North American markets yesterday by importers checked the week's price decline on the Winnipeg grain exchange. General expectations, however, are demand for wheat must increase and stock markets strengthen before futures can establish a firm upward trend.

The market, sensitive to favorable or unfavorable Southern Hemisphere crop reports, closed the six-day trading period yesterday, 5¼ lower to 1⅛ cents higher, November at 1.11⅛, December $1.10⅝, May $1.10⅞ and July $1.06⅛. Liquidation was concentrated in the November and December positions.

Uncertainty of production in Argentine and Australia in relation to competitive export field acted as the pendulum in general nervous dealings. Estimates are Argentina will have 88,000,000 to 110,000,000 bushels exportable surplus of which Brazil requirements are estimated at 40,000,000.

Australia is expected to have another 700,000,000 bushels at disposal of importing countries while United States surplus is about 70,000,000 bushels plus a carryover of 202,000,000 bushels. Canada's surplus is approximately 44,000,000, providing a carryover of 37,000,000 into the 1938-39 crop year.

TRUCKER'S DEATH HELD AN ACCIDENT

ROUYN, Que., Nov. 27.—(CP).—A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury here last night at an inquest into the death of R. D. McConnell, Kirkland Lake truck driver, whose body was found under his truck near here.

Provincial Police Sergt. Morell testified he found the body under the truck, the hind wheel resting against the head. The skull was fractured and the shoulder broken. The body lay upon the left-hand side of the road, Sergt. Morel said.

It was believed the 28-year-old driver had stopped his truck to make some adjustment when the brakes slipped and it backed down a hill upon the driver.

CHANDOS COUNCIL RETURN TO OFFICE BY ACCLAMATION

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CHANDOS, Nov. 29.—Reeve Allan Caldwell and his council were returned by acclamation at the nomination meeting held in Clydesdale school-house on Friday afternoon, other nominees withdrawing at the meeting following the nomination, over which Rev. C. A. G. Spence presided.

Reeve Caldwell was called upon to speak, and gave an account of his stewardship, paying tribute to the work of his councillors which enabled him to point with pride to the recovery the township had made during the year. The rate had been lowered 7 mills and $1,862.63 paid on the county rate, and if he and his council were allowed to carry on another year or two, he was sure the township would be out of debt. The only way to get taxes paid, he said, was to put taxes on that the ratepayers were able to pay.

He called on Mr. Spence, as township auditor, to make out the financial statement, and he would present it to the meeting. The chairman then gave in detail the financial standing of the municipality at November 24, as shown by the treasurer's books, indicating a balance of $787.26 and a surplus of $2,172.39 over liabilities for the year.

Bullied Withdraws.

Fred Bullied, who was nominated for Reeve, in a short speech congratulated the Council on what they had accomplished in reducing the debt, and felt they should carry on another year, and he therefore withdrew his name with the consent of his nominators as a candidate. He questioned the item in the financial statement of $47.60, cost of the Provincial election charged to the municipality, but was assured by the treasurer that the account had been re-

DOURO CITIZENS ASK BETTER ROAD

(Examiner Correspondence.)

DOURO, Nov. 27.—An enthusiastic meeting was held in Harmony Hall on Monday evening as a prelude to doing something about the east-west road through the village. The hamlet, small as it is, the social, religious and business centre of a large part of Douro township and also portion of Otonabee and Dummer townships and yet, strange as it seems, not one broad, straight, smooth road leads to it. Where the east-west road joins the Warsaw road is a swamp road of a quarter of a mile, where, to use a witty expression used by one of the audience, "two wheelbarrows cannot meet." The same is true of a portion of the road near its junction with "the station line." This west strip is within six miles of Peterborough city. The reeve of Otonabee once used an apt expression when he said (referring to Otonabee's long fight for county equalization of assessment): "Otonabee has paid too much, too long." To borrow his expression in regard to our township: "Douro has received too little, too long." It was decided to send a strong delegation to interview the county council and the Suburban Areas Commission, asking them for some action.

NEW OMEMEE RINK NEARLY FINISHED

OMEMEE, Nov. 27.—Omemee's modern arena is nearing completion with great rapidity. The $10,000 structure is expected to be ready for use in three weeks and the ardent fans of Omemee and district will await with interest the first night's entertainment.

The steel framework of the arena is completed and the metal sheeting will be well under way when this is being read.

The new arena will be a large one with a fine ice surface and accommodation for many spectators. It will be 192 feet by 90 feet.

Rising costs of materials are slowing Denmark's building boom and increasing the country's number of unemployed.

BURFORD DENIES LABOR FEDERATION ASKED LICENSING

OTTAWA, Nov. 27—(CP).—W. T. Burford, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Federation of Labor issued a statement Thursday in which he said it was to be expected that the regulation of foreign-controlled unions, as recommended yesterday in a federation memorandum to the Ontario cabinet, would not be approved by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

(President P. M. Draper of the Trades and Labor Congress yesterday denied charges against international labor unions contained in the Federation memorandum and declared union officials from the United States should have the same freedom to enter Canada to confer with Labormen here as representatives of capital and other organizations enjoyed in crossing the border).

Burford said the Trades and Labor Congress styled itself "the legislative mouthpiece in Canada of the American Federation of Labor" and said it derived "more than 90 per cent of its financial support from the headquarters of unions in the United States."

In supportof the Federation's contention international unions in Canada are foreign controlled, Burford said: "True though it is, as Mr. Draper says, that this money comes originally from Canadian workers, very few of them contribute directly to the Trades and Labor Congress. The vast majority send their monthly dues to officials in the United States, where the head office of each union sends a cent or two per capita back to Mr. Draper's organization.

"The foreign officials may return as much or as little as they please, and the readiness of the Trades Congress to abide by their rulings in questions of union jurisdiction shows that those who pay the piper call the tune."

It would be "odd," he said, "that United States unions should fight so bitterly to retain their branches in Canada if they were losing money on them."

"Nevertheless," he sand, "the Canadian Federation of Labor has never advocated the licensing of these unions, as incorrectly reported.

"It has proposed," he explained, "that the provinces should take over the registration of unions from the Dominion, the Federal Trades Union Act under which some unions have been registered at Ottawa since 1872 having been declared invalid by the highest judicial authorities.

"In addition, the Federation has proposed that the special privilege at present accorded foreign unions in Canada shall be annulled and that a tax shall be levied on remittances of union dues to the United States in order to offset the handicap under which national unions function in Canada."

He added the Federation, "which now embraces 50,000 workers," has advocated home rule in Canadian industrial relations "ever since it branched away from the Trades and Labor Congress on that issue in 1902."

For some years, he said, the Federation adopted the name of the All-Canadian Congress of Labor, but "reverted to its original title last year when a minority group attempted to tamper with its policy of opposition to Communist and other subversive influences."

PIONEER BELMONT COUPLE PASS AWAY BUT 15 DAYS APART

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Nov. 27.—Within fifteen days of each other, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Deshane, aged residents of Belmont Township, passed away at the residence of their son, Joseph.

Mrs. Amanda Deshane, daughter of the late Eleazar Youmans and Columbia Ellis, died on November 4th, after a short illness. She had reached the mature age of 81. Her birthplace was the old Youmans' homestead, a few miles distant from where she died and her entire life was spent in Belmont Township, where she was highly respected. Besides her son, Joseph, she leaves three sisters and two brothers to mourn her loss, Mrs. Daniel Ellis and Mrs. Alvin Chard, Cordova; Mrs. Jane Rupert, Belmont Township; Eleazar Youmans, Havelock, and Caleb Youmans, Cordova.

The funeral took place on Saturday, November 6, service being conducted in Cordova United church by Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth of Marmora and interment taking place in the family plot in Rockdale cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Edward Bowen, William Purdy, Terrence Fitzpatrick, F. Breckenridge, and W. Parcels.

Peter Deshane entered into rest at the same residence on November 19th, at the advanced age of 91 years, and following a long illness. He was born in Marlbank, his parents being the late Joseph Deshane and Margaret Akey. The greater part of his life was spent in Belmont Township, where he farmed. He was respected by all who knew him for his fine qualities.

Besides his son, two brothers and a sister survive him. They are: Joseph Deshane, Marlbank; Orval Deshane, Tamworth, and Mrs. Agnes Doughbraw, Hamilton. A daughter, Mrs. Ira Outwater, predeceased Mr. and Mrs. Peter Deshane some years ago. Several grandchildren and great grandchildren survive the deceased couple.

The funeral of Mr. Deshane took place at Cordova United church on Sunday afternoon, November 21, with Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth officiating.

Interment was made in Rockdale cemetery with the same bearers acting as at the funeral of Mrs. Deshane

Army Camel Takes To Flying

COLLEGIATE SQUAD ELIMINATES BARRIE

made yards and then a 50 yard forward pass from Kelly to Leether put Peterborough on Barrie's 20. From there Dyte's long hoist set the ball on Barrie's 50. Another Kelly to Leether pass put the play on Barrie's 15 as the quarter ended. Score — Peterborough 1, Barrie 0.

Second Quarter—A fake plunge gave Al Clark the ball on an end run and he carried the ball to Barrie's 3-yard line. From there Haig Kelly plunged through for a touchdown. It was not converted, Peterborough 6, Barrie 0. After the kick off another Leether to Kelly forward pass netted Peterborough 26 yards, placing the ball on Barrie's 45. A blocked kick gave Barrie the ball but they didn't do much until Dyte booted to Peterborough's 30. From there a fine end run and a long hoist by Curtin put the play on Barrie's 10. Dyte's long punt rolled back and a Peterborough player fell on it on Barrie's 26. Curtin kicked behind the line to Long who was rouged. Peterborough 7, Barrie 0. Dyte's towering hoist again set Peterborough back this time on their own 50. Barrie was penalized 10 for a high tackle. Curtin's hoist left the ball on Barrie's 10 at half time. Half time score, Peterborough 7, Barrie 0.

Third Quarter—The Barrie kickoff set Peterborough on their 25. From there Curtin's hoist was taken by Dyte at midfield. Dyte's long kick put the ball on Peterborough's 30. Then Leether engineered a beautiful end run that gave Peterborough 20 yards. Curtin's long punt put play on Barrie's 28. A Delaney to Long forward gave Barrie a first down. A forward pass failed and Dyte kicked on second down to Peterborough's 40. Curtin's booting again put Barrie on their 35. Then Dyte again kicked, this time to Peterborough's 30. A fumbled lateral pass was recovered by Peterborough on their 25. Curtin punted to Barrie's 40 and a Barrie latteral pass was intercepted on their 26. Curtins punt gave the Barrie team the ball on their 5 after Peterborough was penalized. From there Dyte booted to the Barrie 32. One man from each team was given a game penalty for fighting, with substitutes taking their places as the quarter ended.

Leether plunged through for yards on the Barrie five and from there Curtin went over for Peterborough's second touchdown. It was not converted. Peterborough 12, Barrie 0. A Barrie end run gave them the ball on Peterborough's 30. When Peterborough got the ball on an intercepted forward, Ross Thornton ran around the end for 25 yards. Line plunges ripped the Barrie line to shreds and carried the ball for two first downs for Peterborough.

Dyte again set Peterborough back with a 50 yard hoist and Curtin kicked to the Barrie 15. From there two forward passes put Barrie at midfield. An end run by Long put Barrie on the Peterborough 20. Two plunges put them on the Peterborough 10 and Bill Long took a forward pass from Dyte across the line for a touch. Dyte converted. Peterborough 13, Barrie 6. With seconds to go Peterborough kicked off as the game ended.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Nov. 27. — Wheat traders on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange had several bullish factors to encourage the buying flip that sent prices more than three cents higher.

Almost immediately after exporters renewed interest in North American wheat came unfavorable reports from Argentina. Stock market rallies and reversal of Chicago wheat trends also were major factors. Final quotations were 2⅝-3⅛ cents higher.

Sales of Canadian wheat for export were estimated at 600,000 bushels, principally from Pacific Coast ports. United tSates grain traders reported wheat sales to Great Britain and the Continent totalling approximately 300,000 to 400,000 bushels.

THREE CORNWALL MILLS TO REOPEN STRIKE SETTLED

CORNWALL, Nov. 27.—Reopening of three Cornwall mills of Canadian Cottons Limited, closed down Tuesday after 40 workers in the napping room of Canada Mill had refused to operate their machines, is expected Monday morning, according to announcement last night by D. N. Campbell, Ottawa, conciliation officer of the Ontario Department of Labor.

Mr. Campbell said W. V. Boyd, Assistant General Manager, and other company officials had met a Workers' Committee late yesterday afternoon and a satisfactory understanding had been reached.

It was learned that Mr. Boyd told the workers' representatives that the Ontario Labor and Industry Board would hold a sitting here on December 4 and that it was likely members of the board would come here early next week.

Heads of the cotton workers' union had said earlier in the week that while transfer of an employee from the napping room to the slashing room of Canada Mill had been the immediate cause of Tuesday's tie-up, the real trouble lay in impatience of the workers over protracted delay on the part of the Ontario Industry and Labor Board to carry out promised adjustments in wages, hours of labor and working conditions.

Mr. Campbell said Friday's conference had been most harmonious and all difficulties between the parties had been smoothed out, while he was not in a position to reveal the terms under which the workers will return to their jobs, he said he had assurance from both parties. A mass meeting of workers is to be held Sunday, at which unanimous ratification of the report of their representatives is anticipated. Most departments of the mill will probably re-open Monday and full production will be resumed by Tuesday.

Mr. Campbell returned to Ottawa last night, but will be back in Cornwall Sunday, in the event some minor difficulty arises.

LIBERAL COHORTS TO HEAR HEPBURN

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (CP). — The 20th Century Liberal Association opened the general business sessions of the annual two-day convention here today with resolutions dealing with Japanese boycott, reform of the Provincial Civil Service and amendment of the British North America Act scheduled to be presented to the delegates.

Other topics to be discussed are rural school teachers' salaries, bonding lawyers and payment of rural mail carriers.

Japan may regulate dance halls.

Biblical Thoughts For The Shut-Ins

By Rev. E. R. James
Toronto

JESUS said unto His disciples: In patience ye shall win your souls.—St. Luke 21:19. R.V.

This is a hard saying of our Lord. He is telling His apostles of the dark future which lies before them. They will be hated of all men for His Name's sake. They will be put to death. Then lest they should shrink from the horror He astonishes them with the command: "In your patience ye shall win your souls."

He is speaking to temperamental men. Men who are full of zeal and enthusiasm and desire action. James and John would have Him call down fire from heaven and consume the Samaritans. Patience is the last word they can understand. It was unknown to Jewish thought. It was foreign to the Romans and Greek nature. His ideal of the virtuous man was one who is brave, honest, just and energetic. Patience and meekness were not worthy of Roman courage. Action, not inaction, was the word.

However, in studying the life of Christ you see how patience is the striking characteristic. He is full of patience in dealing with the Apostles and with the wonder loving multitude. The second temptation to worship Satan in exchange for the kingdoms of the world was the appeal to act quickly and not wait patiently.

A great sculptor, a Christian and a thinker, has embodied in granite his ideal of patience.

He sets her upon a sun-dial; her ankle is chained to it, typifying that her movements are limited. She has wings like a dove, not the wings of an eagle, strong and mighty, to lift her to the mountain peaks. She will fly when God frees her from her chain. In the meantime she waits crowned with thorns, eye-lids drooping. With the inward eye she sees the things invisible. Her lips are firmly closed like unto the Lamb of God, Who, brought to the slaughter opened not His mouth.

She is surrounded by thorns and thistles; but the Word of God is pressed to her bosom. On her shoulders lies an yoke. At her feet is a basketfull of seed corn; her loins are girded and at her waist hangs a sickle. The crown of thorns teaches her union with the sufferings of the Lord Jesus Christ. But look—behind the crown of thorns is a halo of light. This is the power of the Holy Ghost and enables her to stand fast in the hour of trial.

Her face reveals the purifying power of patience in suffering. The eyes are closed to the outer trials to seek strength from Her Lord and Master, in Whose footsteps she is following. Her inward eyes are fixed on Him. The lips are closed tightly —guarded lips. She will not utter a word of complaint. She will not speak unadvisedly with her lips.

The yoke signifies the burden laid upon her by Her Lord; her right hand supports the yoke as a sign she is willing to bear it.

Her chained ankle. How it grips your imagination. Submission to the will of God. "Lo, I come to do Thy Will, O my God; I am content to do it." Her hardest trial is that of inactivity. She is a Martha, not a Mary, full of energy and activity. Therefore she stands with girded loins till the appointed hour, refusing to act till God's will is known.

The perfect work of patience is to be, and not to do. The great danger which comes to her from her chained ankle is slackness and weariness in well doing. There is no trace of it in her for her loins are girded, the attitude of attentiveness. "Behold the hand maid of the Lord."

The test of patience is the power of endurance, the ability to bear a long continued strain.

Look closely at her raiment. How loudly they speak. The outer raiment is coarse and worn, the sign of toil and hardship. The inner garment is of pure white, the inward purity of the saints.

The seed and the sickle teach that she must sow the seed and wait till the time of harvest. No sudden or forced growth. Time must pass. She will reap if she faint not.

The Book attracts your attention. It is held to her bosom. It is the Work of God. The Marker is of green, the colour of life, growth and hope.

Her girded loins are a sign of readiness to do the will of God. Thus she stands with doves' wings, typifying the hope of flying into the other life, "the life of the world to come."

"THINK UPON THESE THINGS."

John 15:8—"Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; and so shall ye be My disciples."

Christian Fruitfulness

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Nov. 28 is John 15:1-16, the Golden Text being verse 8, "Herein is My Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; and so shall ye be My disciples.")

OUR LORD continually placed the emphasis on His teaching on life; on work rather than word; doing rather than hearing; being rather than seeming. He closed His Sermon on the Mount by demanding His hearers translate His sayings with life; failure to do this He likened to building one's house upon the sand. In His cursing of the barren fig tree He showed His indignation against a nation characterized by pretense and barren of fruit. In His parable of the four kinds of soil He judged them according to their fruitfulness. His severest judgments fell upon those who called Him "Lord, Lord, and did not the things which He commanded." "Inasmuch as ye did it, or did it not, to one of the least of these ye did or did it not to me." Thus, continually, He is expecting His precept and example to result in fruit in the lives of His disciples.

Vine and Branches

"I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. Every branch in Me that beareth not fruit, He taketh away; and every branch that beareth fruit, He cleanseth it, that it may bear more fruit." We are not only to be good: we are to be good for something! Failing in this, we fail even to be good in His sight. Branches may not receive strength from the vine unless they transform that strength into fruit to gratify the husbandman. If there is no fruit it is the fault not of the vine, but of the branches, for in this case the vine is good. "I am the vine, ye are the branches; he that abideth in Me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit: for apart from Me ye can do nothing." Our fruitfulness, therefore, is conditioned upon our attachment to and union with Christ, or upon our faith in and love for Christ as the source of our life in the beginning, the continual supply of our strength and the energiser of our works and perfecter of our characters. "Abide in Me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, except ye abide in Me."

Fruits of Prayer

Our abiding in Christ is not that of a static attachment, but one of communion in the fellowship of prayer: "If ye abide in Me, and My words abide in you, ask whatever ye will, and it shall be done unto you." The prayer life is the fruitful life. It is also the joyful life: "These things have I spoken with you, that My joy may be made full." This joy is the joy of the fullest possible fellowship in Divine love: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Ye are My friends if ye do the things which I command you. No longer do I call you servants; . . . but I have called you friends; for all things that I heard from My Father I have made known unto you." He was not speaking figuratively, for within a few hours He actually laid down His life for them and for us. So what? "Herein is My Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit, and so shall ye be My disciples." He has no use for an ornamental discipleship.

A National Message

By the Late Rev. W. Pascoe Gourd, LL.D., F.R.G.S., F.R.E.S.

It is also surprising that the futurist interpretation of prophecy is still retained by a certain school of thought. What does the filling out of the parenthesis of millenniums which is confessed by this school, mean for them? What have they to give up in rejecting their theory? Not one essential thing! Certain things are not only not essential, but which are manifestly absurd from their own standpoint.

It means that all the Israel activities will be carried forward in the millennium. If that be the case, then, there must be heathen darkness to be enlightened in the millennium, but the scriptures declare that the knowledge of the Lord shall cover the earth as the waters cover the sea, in that age.

That there shall be slavery in the millennium which is Israel's task to abolish. But there will be no slavery under the rule of Christ, first or last.

That there will be great wars to fight. The Lord said to Israel: "Thou are my battle-ax and weapons of war. With these will I dash in pieces the nations." But there will be no war in the millennium. No, this is Israel's task before the Lord shall come.

The transfer of these things to the millennium goes by the board. The placing of them in the present Israel makes the plan of God clear and the mission of Israel sure. We day to day and from age to age to day and from age to age.

There is no parenthesis in the prophecies concerning the House of David, nor concerning the House of Israel. Every detail of these prophecies is in process of fulfilment.

Britain is the Israel of prophecy. When one is informed of these things, the great highway of the prophecies becomes plain and predictions clear. The end of all is the coming to Israel of Jesus Christ, the King of Israel.

The House of Israel has the House of David ruling over it. Otherwise, the oath of God would have failed. An impossible thing. Therefore, the House of Israel is a Kingdom, the chief of the Kingdoms to this day and at this time. After the last reorganization the tribe of Judah will be numbered as one among the tribes of the nation Israel, but never again will it be a nation on the earth.

CATHEDRAL MUSINGS

The thinking man is forced by necessity to build for himself a working philosophy of life. It may be a philosophy of hope, or one of negation; that depends upon the individual temperament, but the trouble with either is that it is apt to fail in the face of stress or difficulty, because it may not answer the three vital questions: whence came man; why is he here; and whither does he go? Unless these questions are answered, and that satisfactorily, that is by knowledge, and not by hearsay, guess or blind hypothesis, every philosophy and every religious belief breaks down in the hour of trial because it is built on the sands of speculation and not upon the rock of knowledge. It is curious that we do not pay more attention to the question of whence came man; most people recognize that he has a destination, yet it is impossible to imagine a continuity of existence that extends only in the direction of the future and has no basis in the past. And neither science nor religion attempts to solve the riddle of personality, or why it varies so much even in individuals of the one family raised in the same environment under identical conditions, as for instance in the case of the Dionne quintuplets. Yet this very question of personality is of vital importance in comprehending the "whence." As to the "why" of man, how many trouble over that? Yet every effect has an antecedent cause and man's existence here is no exception. It is of no avail to take refuge in that vague generality "the Will of God," for that amounts to a presumption that we know more of God's intentions than we know of our own, which is absurd. It is really an excuse for mental and spiritual laziness, for the mind of man is given him by God to use, and not to rest in a complacent self-sufficiency. And that applies also to the assertion that there are things not intended for us to know, a favorite attitude of dogmatic and superstitious people. It is true that man hates to really think and will go to any extreme in order to avoid the labor, but it is not sensible to hold up that trait as a virtue, and not condemn it as the vice it really is. It is surely a denial and a rejection of the God-given mind and intellect of man. Today, as in the days of Jesus, such denial is the hallmark of the self-righteous; of those who think the "form" of truth is more important than the spirit, which gives the form life. Few realize that truth is dynamic and fluid in its mode of expression and that it cannot be crystallized in form and retain its spirit and life. For experience has proven that in time, the "form" becomes the all-important thing, and the underlying truth becomes largely disregarded. God is a living God and He manifests in myriad ways, so also does His Truth, for God and truth are one. No man can say that he possesses all the truth for that is equivalent to saying that he himself is God. All that he can say is that has a measure of truth. It is his duty to increase that measure of truth else it will become dentalized and depart from him and his last state will be an utter poverty of the spirit. Therefore we should seek truth and more truth irrespective of its form, seeking its spirit, the spirit that is behind that words, that underlies the belief, for the form perishes but the spirit endures for ever.

Teachers Discuss New Study Course

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARKWORTH, Nov. 27.—Twenty teachers from Percy Township met here on Thursday afternoon from 3.30 to 5.30 for the purpose of discussing the new course of study in an informal manner between the teachers and the inspector for this district.

Meetings of a similar order will be held in the various townships throughout the county arranged by A. A. Martin, Inspector of Public Schools for Northumberland, with the intention of making the teachers more conversant with the new course and also to aid them in methods of teaching.

Different examples of enterprises being carried out by the teachers were exhibited before the gathering Mr. Martin, their inspector, presided over the meeting.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the pupils of the Household Science class of Warkworth Public School served afternoon tea.

ARTISTIC HELLO GIRLS

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 27 (CP). — Domestic type or the business woman does not make a good telephone operator, said Dr. Gustave Adolph Blumenthal, Detroit, expert in psychology and vocational guidance in an address before the industrial education committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The artistic type makes the best operator, he added. Dr. Blumenthal contends that "hello girls" require perfect hearing, exact modulation of the voice and the proper nervous temperament to be successful.

Religion In Poems Of Edgar Guest

This will be the subject of an address by the minister of St. Andrew's church on next Sunday night.

Edgar Guest was born in Birmingham, England, on August 20, 1881, and received his early training in England during the most susceptible years of life. At the age of 10 years the family came to Detroit, where he was educated in the grammar and high schools. He is known all over Ontario for his brief poems, which are published regularly in some of our daily papers, and have been brought together in the handsome volume recently published entitled "Collected Verse" of Edgar A. Guest.

Lecky in his History of European Morals speaks of the influence of Christianity in the early Roman Empire. "Under its influence, doctrines concerning the nature of God, the immortality of the soul, and the duties of man, which the noblest intellects of antiquity could scarcely grasp became the truisms of the village school, the proverbs of the cottage and of the alley."

Edgar Guest has done something in his day to bridge the gulf between eternal truths and the life of the common man. His poems on Jesus Christ, His death and resurrection show a simple faith in these great historical facts, and a true perception of the Spirit of Jesus.

Four of his poems deal with "immortality" in which the author has a profound belief; several others show his intense conviction in the value of "faith and prayer" in the struggle to live a good life amidst manifold temptations.

In his poem, "My Religion," he comes very close to the Spirit of Jesus Christ, and gives us the key of his religious experience.

"My religion's lovin' God who made us one and all,
Who marks no matter where it be the humble sparrow's fall;
An' my religion's servin' Him the very best I can
By not despisin' anything He made especially man."

In the morning Mr. Young's subject will be "Are you holding up the church?"

Christian Fruitfulness — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—John 15:1-16

From the upper room where they had eaten the Passover Jesus and his disciples walked in the moonlight through the vineyards to the Mount of Olives.

"I am the true vine," he said, "and my Father is the husbandman. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh it away."

"I am the vine, ye are the branches: if a man abide not in me he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and they gather them and cast them into the fire."

"Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; and so shall ye be my disciples." Thus Jesus insisted that our lives be made useful.

Going On All The Time

When J. S. Woodsworth, M.P., was speaking at Victoria, B.C., he advanced the plea that in case of war Canada must conscript wealth before it begins to conscript men. To make his statement more emphatic Mr. Woodsworth added that under the present system "the greatest thieves would go free."

That is a popular form of speaking because there is something in the claim that most people believe to be right. It is difficult to advance good argument as to why men should be conscripted and wealth remain free.

But if that argument is traced back farther it will be found it proves little enough. The belief is held by some that if wealth were conscripted it would lead to a demand that there be no war; there would then be no war orders out of which speculators could make money and so on. But that is only half the truth. As far as preventing war by conscripting wealth before men, we come to the stubborn fact that nations do not wait for war before they begin to prepare for war. They are preparing for it all the time; they are building battleships and planes; they are storing away great quantities of munitions. In this way national wealth is being constantly conscripted, and we use the word conscripted in its full meaning. It is being taken from the pockets of the people in enormous quantities and the people themselves the world over are not powerful enough to stop it. They are told what extent of taxation they shall pay and the powers which furnish this information are also possessed of power to force the production of levied revenue. So it is an actual fact that the process of conscription of wealth for war purposes is going on all the time.

Wealth is also conscripted to pay for the cost of war. This young country has paid out its hundreds of millions for war, and it has not yet come to grips with the serious business of paying its actual war bills. We have been paying only the carrying charges because we cannot pay off the original indebtedness. So it is a fact the conscription of wealth in case of war is not so new as some people may think. It is actually going on all the time.

They Would Not All Go

Premier Hepburn says there is not going to be any relief for the single men as long as there are jobs to which they can turn, and he seems certain the bush in the north will take care of them.

In Toronto they have an Unemployed Men's Association and Harvey Murphy is chairman and spokesman as well. He says he is prepared to provide a thousand men if Mr. Hepburn will provide a thousand jobs. Mr. Murphy says there are 700 unemployed men in Sault Ste. Marie alone, and there is much bush work to be done in the district of the Sault.

It would help matters considerably if it were possible to deal in such definite terms as 1,000 capable and willing men for 1,000 available jobs. To use the phrase of school days the thing would come out even with nothing left over. But it does not work out that way.

In the first place there would be in the 1,000 men a number who could not do bush work. That in itself is hard work. There would also be more of the men who would not go to the bush. Of that we are certain. There was a man of large frame in this city a few days ago, and he was making a few calls to collect some ready cash. He even took the trouble to go and see a man whom he was told down town was home sick in bed and sought the price of a meal from the sick man. He is big enough and looks strong enough to handle trees or stumps or anything he might encounter in the bush. But he will not go to the bush for the winter. He can be counted out at the start. We have come in contact with a fair number of these men who keep on going about the country, and our belief is that not many of them are keen on the idea of going to work. They are quite different to the younger men who are actually looking for work and who would try anything. But when you take a group of 1,000 such as might be mustered in Toronto we are sure there would be a falling off in the ranks when the call came to head toward the bush for the winter.

Nothing Is Being Done

When readers come to the conclusion of this article they may say "We have read something like that in your paper before." True enough. The reason why the subject is mentioned here is that we keep on reading about it almost every day in the week. About the revolver in the hands of people who use it to rob and kill if necessary.

A man who accepted a ride from Humber Bay to New Toronto was beaten and robbed by five thugs. A gun was used.

Near Orillia two men robbed a taxi driver, trussed him up and threw him over a fence. They need a revolver.

Early in the morning of November 2 a gunman shot and wounded Constable Pigeon of Mount Royal, suburb of Montreal.

Four armed men entered the store of Harvey Bonenverry near Lethbridge, and secured $4,000.

Three men, one with a gun, kidnapped a Yonge street truck driver, stole his vehicle and took $125 in cash before allowing him to go free in North York.

W. Mintern, Toronto taxi driver, received a call to take a man from a down-town hotel to Woodbridge. The driver had a gun pressed into his ribs. He was forced to get out while the passengers drove off with his car.

Two armed men entered the office of the Old Mill garage at Tillsonburg, held up the operator with electric wire and escaped with $35.

In Toronto a boy of 14 years attracts attention because he was arrested on a joint charge of armed robbery.

Two armed men entered and held up the Canadian Bank of Commerce at King and took $700 in cash.

This week an armed man went into the Bank Canadienne Nationale at Sudbury and came out with $1,000. He told the teller he was prepared to shoot to kill.

Any paper could produce a similar list and do it frequently because these gun cases are of common occurrence. We do not believe there has been any improvement. True enough there was a move made to have all such weapons registered, but the weapons which are registered are not the ones which are being shoved into people's faces and ribs. There must be some means of passing weapons around or securing them of which the police are not aware. It is not done through the pawn brokers' offices because it is possible to keep a close check there. But the lain truth is we have a numbr of people all over the country who are going about with death-dealing weapons in their possession. They find no trouble in keeping on hand or securing a supply of ammunition for their illegal weapons, and the blunt truth is we are doing nothing to take these guns from the people who have no right to carry them. We are told there are teeth in our laws, but they do not bite.

Trouble Makers At Work

The Examiner has for a long time believed that men who make war speeches have no toruble at all in getting their addresses reported. Constantly is there kept before the world the threats and the dire words of those who have something to say about war. At times it is well to take one of these stories to pieces to see what it all amounts to. Here is one dated from Rome and the heading as it appears in print is large and black: "Reported War Speech Arouses Italian Anger."

Rome reports that an extra precautionary police guard has been placed about the French Embassy because in a speech the French Naval Minister had forecast inevitable war between France and Italy. The offending speech was delivered at Toulon on November 23, and one part of it was quoted: "Why hide it? War with Italy is not only destined; it is necessary. We will have the Fascist hide." And so that set the people on edge in Rome and it was considered best to have a special guard placed around the French Embassy in that city. Newspapers in Rome made bitter comment on the address and the orators poured forth their wrath. It all looked bad enough.

Following this story through we find a despatch from Paris which says:

"Cesar Camppinchi, Minister of the French Navy, made no address at Toulon on November 23. He spoke there the previous day and made no mention whatever of foreign affairs and made no mention of Italy."

That seems to be a plain enough statement, and we have not the least reason for believing it is not correct. And that of course leads on to the next question: "How would such a statement be sent to Italian newspapers and the press of the world?" It is almost as plain as a pikestaff that there has been dirty work at the crossroads. There are agencies and forces at work which desire to keep trouble brewing in Europe. Their chief hope is to keep people believing that war is just around the corner, and they want to make people say things which will keep the war fever burning. And these people—unknown and unidentified—are able to get their material into the newspapers to work their mischief. One guess is as good as another, and it looks like the work of the international armament ring. If such an organization can keep on setting France against Italy then the people who are directing such efforts will be satisfied with the day's work, and they probably laugh to think they have been able to use the newspapers to do the dirty work for them.

Distinguished Visitor Coming

Perhaps this business might have been settled by merely inserting a personal notice in the paper saying that "Santa Claus will arrive in Peterborough via the C.P.R. train at 8.10 on Friday evening." But come to think of it, that will hardly do. It does not seem sufficient.

When people of note arrive in this city we do a good deal for them; we do all we can and are glad of the effort. We go to meet the train, provide transportation here and there, often enough have a luncheon and then show the distinguish folk what we call the points of interest.

So we will have to pay attention to Santa Claus. There are people who say the Santa Claus business is not good for childish imagination, and we have heard it argued that it is teaching a belief which later on vanishes. Truth is we do not believe it ever does vanish; we have seen folk well advanced in years gazing into store windows around the Christmas season. They not only gazed but entered and finally emerged with parcels. The Santa Clause spirit had survived although a good many other things might have been dropped by the wayside.

So if Santa Claus is coming to Peterborough next Friday we will have to do a little fixing up particularly in the down-town section. If he passes by store windows and finds there something which has been arranged for his special benefit we are certain as can be he will be pleased. If he finds nothing at all then he might be inclined—jolly as he is—to feel a trifle offended or snubbed. We are convinced the safest way would be to take no chances. Let us fuss up quite a bit, greet the old gentleman as he should be greeted, and make him feel very much at home in this excellent city.

THROUGH

(By A. R. K.)

¶ The doctor peered hard in my eyes, he said I needed exercise, for I was growing fat; my liver needed to be stirred, he passed to me the warning word, that I was getting flat.

¶ I needed steel within my spine, plain victuals when I sat to dine, and less of cakes and pies; I needed quite a lot of rest, and I should bolster up my chest, above all—exercise.

¶ He wrote down things that I should do, of exercising I'd go through, how I should twist and bend; I was too big about the waist, my muscles were as soft as paste, my ways I'd have to mend.

¶ And so I rose from off my cot, and started doing the things I ought, I bent my legs and back; I bent my liver left and right, and worked like men who train to fight, I felt my old bones crack.

¶ And next day on I felt so sore, yet I kept bending on some more, my joints would hurt and creak; I bent my innards to and fro, I bent them fast and bent them slow, and did it for a week.

¶ I stood up straight and tried to skip, I tried to exercise my hip, I laid flat on the floor; I found I ached each time I'd start,I felt as how I'd come apart—so I don't bend no more.

THE GREAT Australian Desert, according to Mary Cecil Allen in the Christian Science Monitor is not the kind of desert one expects. The desert train from Port Augusta to Alice Springs—the Afghan Express as it is called because the first passenger to make the journey was an Afghan camel driver soon comes on desert plains without a tree. But here and there over this bright scarlet desert grows a pale blue shrub-bluebush or else saltbush, in either case good grazing ground for sheep and cattle.

✧ ✧ ✧

When you pick a piece of bluebush and squeeze it between your fingers the water almost runs out of it for the heavy night dews of the desert are absorbed by the herbage and long retained.

✧ ✧ ✧

In Queensland the beobab or bottle tree, contains a thick watery fiber, like a cabbage stalk which will feed cattle for a week or two in the dry season. Enormous green pie melons resembling the squash lie scattered over the red sand and eaten by the desert birds. There are any number of these birds, ranging from the great wedge-tailed eagle—largest of its kind and soaring overhead always on the lookout for a sheep and—to flights of galahs, the small gray-and-pink cockatoo which rises suddenly beside the train, like a pink curtain, falling again in a shower of gray.

✧ ✧ ✧

Camel trains are fairly common and can be seen strung out across the desert laden with their packs of wool. A man will drive past, sitting high up on his great sacks, driving two smart camels in harness, like Santa Claus with his reindeer.

✧ ✧ ✧

It costs £90,000 a year to keep the railway line open to Alice Springs. A light engine goes down the line in front of the Afghan Express and the Indian Runner twice a week to clear the sand off the track and the driving road beside the line is continually wiped away into the surrounding desert by the wind.

Feats of Memory.

IT IS related of Themistocles, the great Athenian general and statesman that he could call by names each of the 20,000 inhabitants of Athens.

✧ ✧ ✧

Thomas Carlyle, British essayist and historian, rewrote from memory the forty-five thousand words comprising the first volume of his "French Revolution" after a servant had carelessly destroyed the original manuscript.

✧ ✧ ✧

The best way to prolong the remembrance of a funny story is to tell it to others as soon as possible after hearing it.

✧ ✧ ✧

A man's ability to remember faces well or recite the names of all the popes in chronological order is not evidence that his intellect is superior. It is astonishing how poor in some respects the memories of good minds can be.

✧ ✧ ✧

Instead of tying a string around his finger as a reminder one executive places in the breast pocket of his coat a golf ball which stays there until attention has been given to the matter to be remembered.

✧ ✧ ✧

Excessive use of alcohol and tobacco and insufficient sleep are among the chief causes of lack of alertness of memory.

✧ ✧ ✧

Experiments indicate that material memorized during the drowsy period proceeding sleep is likely to be better retained in the mind than when memorized several hours before bedtime.

Mountain Rolls.

DOLL-MAKING is a newborn industry of the Ozarks, that is flourishing especially in the mountains of Arkansas. There they are making Hill Billy dolls that go out in the wide world, to places their makers have never been, or even heard of. Many of them are in valuable collections or in museums.

✧ ✧ ✧

Some of the dolls are named after real mountain characters. "Grandmaw Scott" is one of these. She has a hand carved hickory body and is dressed as the real Grandma Scott, dresses in bright calico dress and apron and wears on her hickory nut head a tiny black sun bonnet.

✧ ✧ ✧

In the foothills lives an old Indian. One who came in the mountains long ago over the famous Trail of Tears to the Indian territory and somehow found his way into the Ozarks from Oklahoma. He makes dolls and they all have the flat features of squaws. He paints them carefully after a fashion and delivers them, never over two at a time in a large push cart with heavy wagon wheels. The price of his dolls varies greatly. If he happens to want a sack of meal and some tobacco the dolls are sold for the purchase price of the articles wanted.

✧ ✧ ✧

Incidentally dolls were in use among the Arabs at the time of Mahomet and the prophet's nine-year-old wife Ayesha is said to have induced him to join her in her play with them.

✧ ✧ ✧

During the middle ages the word "doll" was not in common use. Rather they were referred to as "children's babies."

Pastor Reviews Case in Woodstock Where Police Took Action; Plenty of Noisy Affairs at Night Where Nothing is Done

EDITOR Examiner, Sir,—Allow me through your columns to express to your readers in behalf of my congregation and hundreds of other Christians our heartfelt gratitude to you, for your manly, fair, Christian stand you have taken, and published, re the case of Pastor E. N. O. Kulbeck of Woodstock. I highly respect your attitude in both articles you have written re this case and hereby wish to thank you publically.

You will no doubt receive censure by many, and be commended by none, but I represent a congregation of four hundred or more who with me say a hearty—God bless you.

This case manifests a sad state of affairs for Canada, and to say the least unscriptural and therefore unChristian. Having sat in conference where this case was heard from witnesses at the trial and Mr. Kulbeck himself, I know something of the case in question and I would consider it a great tribute to this and other thorough evangelical churches if Mr. Kulbeck took the jail term alloted him. We would feel honored with the early church 'Jailed for praying.' Had it been for drunkeness, or something criminal we would accept it differently.

In the first place it was not midnight, which even if it were, better pray at midnight for a lost world than to attend some midnight frolic and be taxied home unfit for the public to see. It was at the hour that the people were homeward bound from the band concert that was held in one of the parks of Woodstock, so if it was midnight for those praying it was also midnight for the band to be playing. Keep folks awake.

In the second place when Mr. Kulbeck was notified by police that a charge was likely to be laid against him, he asked the authorities to give him a fair unbiased investigation, as he knew prejudice was rife in the neighborhood from the time he purchased the property, but such an investigation was denied him, according to Mr. Kulbeck.

The Pentecostal people of which Pastor Kulbeck is a minister believe in the old time gospel of power unto salvation which brings conviction for sin, and thus produces a repentance that many times produces tears and prayers beyond a whisper, but at no time in over thirty years have I ever known screaming and shrieking to be permitted, and I was superintendent for fifteen years for the fellowship. The Bible speaks of weeping and wailing as the portion of liars and hypocrites but not christians, and I fear for some who would exaggerate a religious service to gain their own ungodly purpose.

It is outrageous to condemn religious worship when people are intense and earnestly seeking God in order to escape the coming judgments, and live holy lives on earth, because a certain class of people object to it; whatever will they do in eternity? If they get to heaven they will be in the midst of one eternal sound of rejoicing and praise; if they go to hell, there will be weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth. At the same time that prayer is cornered the beer parlors, dance halls, night clubs, Sunday night theatre are being legalized, and permitted, great liberties beyond that of the gospel service. The different organizations of our towns can have their nights of frolic, and believe me they don't go to say prayers, either quiet or loud and they are carried on all night, no matter whose sleep is molested in the nearby neighborhood. Drinking and carousing in beer rooms when patrons in their bedrooms cannot sleep for the foul language below them. Mothers kept awake waiting the homecoming of their youth and husbands from the all-night sinful frolics.

We ought to respect the religion of our forefathers of fifty years or so ago, at least let us reflect a little, and sweet will be the memories in many hearts of such reflections. The church of Wesley, Knox, General Wm. Booth and other leaders of early movements were hot houses where spiritual life was generated in the souls of men and women, and where they enjoyed their religion, but now it can no more be said in many places, "My house shall be called a house of prayer" but instead it is more of a refrigerator where your religion goes in cold storage. Well you can never keep live chickens in ice boxes, you might keep dead ones there. I ask, Where is our boasted religious liberty?

Yours for more fire in the pulpit and steam in the pew.

PASTOR GEO. A. CHAMBERS.

A Bible Message For To-day . . . .

AND WHEN he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them: Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand: There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile a man. . . . For from within, out of the heart of man, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: all these evil things come from within and defile the man.—Mark vii, 14, 15, 21-23.

Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.—Isa. IV, 7.

IT IS ILLEGAL to sell or buy tickets in the Irish Sweepstakes in the United States.

But, when Mrs. Juliet K. Hammond of Detroit bought a winner and went to Ireland to collect a $75,000 prize, the United States revenue officers heard all about it. They are suing her for $14,120 as a tax on her winnings.

It's illegal to buy a ticket, but the revenue authorities keep hoping people will win something, so they can pounce down to collect taxes on the prize money. You see, it's legal to sue for a share of the winnings. You will also see the utter hypocrisy of the suit.

HOW OLD IS TOO OLD.

(Sarnia Canadian-Observer)

A DETROIT organization, the Old Timers' Association, has brought forward a number of reasons why men over 40 years of age should be regarded as valuable employees in private industry.

There is no substitute, according to the association, for the "experience, knowledge, efficiency, stability and loyalty," which such workers, at the prime of life, nearly always possess.

It is a point well made—a point that may well commend itself to employers who have become deluded by the energy of youth.

Workers are by no means ready for the shelf when they have reached the two-score mark. As a matter of fact, many are worth keeping on the payroll at the proverbial three score and ten.

ALL WRONG

Meeting the minister in the village, the plump woman accosted him peevishly.

"You said in a sermon six months ago that constant dripping wears away a stone," she reproached him.

"But so it does," replied the minister in surprise.

"Well," continued the women, "I've eaten it at every meal since, and instead of losing a stone I've gained one!"

Branch Of Concert Association Is Organized In Peterborough

Dr. J. J. Craig Is Elected As Chairman Of The Local Organization

At an enthusiastic meeting attended by a large group of music lovers, the Peterborough Branch of The Canadian Concert Association was formed last night, under the chairmanship of Dr. J. J. Craig, in the committee room of the Chamber of Commerce. George H. K. Mitford, general director, stated that the Association was now represented in Belleville, Barrie, Galt, Simcoe, Woodstock, Sarnia, Niagara Falls, Timmins, North Bay, Sudbury, Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur-Fort William, Owen Sound and other centres in Ontario and that another was in process of formation in Brandon, Man. He expressed his pleasure that he would now be able to announce the addition of Peterborough, and said present plans called for the completion of a chain of associations right through to the Pacific coast.

The following officers and committees were elected:

President—Dr. J. J. Craig.

Vice Presidents—Mrs. Fred Hooper, Miss Rannie, Mr. Fred Overend, Mr. L. J. Pettit, Mrs. Harold Scott, Mr. O. M. Steer, Mrs. H. V. Dobson, Dr. E. M. Crough.

Secretary—Mr. Jacob Low. Assistant Secretary—Mrs. Lucas.

Treasurer—Mr. H. C. Southeran.

Board of Directors—Mr. F. E. Johnston, Mr. Leybourne, Mr. Roy Rome, Mr. Chas. Clarke, Mr. M. W. Gordon, Miss Violet Davidson, Mr. Arnold Nottall, Mr. C. D. Munro, Mr. O. E. Cameron, Mr. Alex Warren.

Artist Committee—Miss Mable Clarry, Miss Hurley, Mrs. H. V. Dobson, Mr. A. R. Kennedy, Mr. Clifford Hall, Miss McCabe, Mr. H. C. Treneer, Miss Musa Cox, Mrs. Ford Turner.

Reception Committee—Mrs. F. C. Neal, Mrs. J. H. Vernor, Mrs. R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne, Mrs. G. S. Cameron, Mrs. Fred Overend, Mrs. J. E. R. Munro, Mrs. M. H. Park, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Herbert Martin, Mrs. R. M. Waddell, Mrs. N. D. Buchanan, Mrs. J. F. Strickland, Mrs. G. N. Gordon, Mrs. H. L. Garner.

Publicity Committee—Mr. Clifford Hall, Mr. H. L. Garner.

Ticket Committee—O. E. Cameron, chairman.

Those who have consented to lend their patronage are: Mayor Macdonald and Mrs. Macdonald, Senator Iva C. Fallis, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Marshall, Nashua Paper Co.; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shaw, A. Wander Limited; Mr. and Mrs. J. Dutton; Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Cameron; Mr. and Mrs. John H. Vernor; Dr. and Mrs. N. D. Buchanan; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cutting; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lacheur; Mr. and Mrs. John L. Allen; Hon. G. N. and Mrs. Gordon; Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Neal; Judge S. L. and Mrs. Smoke; Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Waite; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne; Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Diplock; Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Scott; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Martin; Mr. Leslie Turner; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Campbell; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Breyfogle; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Glover; Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Falkner; Magistrate and Mrs. O. A. Langley; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Graham; Dr. and Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Strickland; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jamison; Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kennedy; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Garner; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Warren; Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Mackay; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gillespie.

The Artist Committee met with Mr. Mitford, during the evening to discuss possible artists for the ensuing season, finally recommending to the meeting that Zumbalist, world-famous violinist, be secured for the first concert, the latter part of January, Nicholas Massue, brilliant Canadian-born tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company being selected for the second concert, a month later and that Etta Coles and Naomi Yanova, outstanding two-piano recitalists, be engaged for the third and final concert the latter part of March.

This recommendation was unanimously adopted and the committee congratulated for having made such a fine selection of recognized concert artists.

Memberships will be available all next week from members of committees or may be had through the secretary. The objective is only 500 members and as soon as this number is obtained, no further applications will be received. Tickets for individual concerts will not be available and it is therefore expected that the membership will be closed not later than next Saturday night.

Deaf, Blind War Vet Asks Radio To Dance

London, Nov. 27 (CP) A DEAF and blind war veteran has applied to St. Dunstan's Institution for a radio set.

He explained he lived in a lonely part of the Yorkshire moors, and one of his chief recreations was to dance with his wife. His wife, adapting to the music, tapped the correct beat on his shoulder.

WOMAN'S FATAL FALL IS PROBED

COBOURG, Nov. 27 (C.P.). — A coroner's jury decided here last night Mrs. Violet May died on November 10 from a hemorrhage of the brain suffered in a fall in the railway yards on November 6 "while in an intoxicated condition."

The inquest was resumed from last week when evidence showed Mrs. May had been on an extensive drinking party with Albert Irwin the night of November 6. Irwin testified the woman had fallen near the railway tracks. She died four days later.

Dr. W. Wade, who attended Mrs. May and performed an autopsy, said the head bore bruises. Between the skull and brain was a blood clot from a ruptured blood vessel, he testified. The blood vessel showed signs of disease and Dr. Wade said he surmised the woman may have fallen while intoxicated.

Organs of the woman were sent to Prof. Joslyn Rogers, Toronto, for examination. In his report, Professor Rogers said no poison was found in the viscera.

French Police Move To Block Widespread Revolution

Unmasking a revolutionary plot as grim and fantastic as any expounded by a fiction writer, French police of the Surete Nationale struck to halt what they maintain were plans for an armed revolution by battalions of Les Cougalards. AT RIGHT is pictured a police raid on one of the arms dumps, this one found in an antique shop in the Rue Routrou, Paris; plain clothes officers are carrying out rifles revolvers, machine guns and ammunition after their raid. Through the sewers which undermine Paris and which allegedly were to be used as military highways by the rebels the hunt spread; an inspector is shown descending through a manhole in the Rue Ribera to carry his investigation underground. Gen. Weygand, who flatly denied any connection with the band, and the Duc de Guise, French pretender, LOWER are shown in CENTRE. Discovery of the widespread plot has tossed France into the lap of a new internal crisis.

JUST A VOICE

SAINT JOHN, N.B.—(CP)—Two frightened women in an apartment called police when they heard voices in an adjoining room, locked and supposedly unoccupied. Officers rushed in a radio car, only to find the room vacant. They were about to leave when a voice said, "Calling all cars. Burglars in Duke street house." The former occupant had tuned in on the police wave length and gone away, leaving the radio turned on.

OLD AGE CAUSES SMALL PORTION ANNUAL DEATHS

"Old age is responsible for only four per cent. of human deaths," Dr. R. D. Defries, director of the Toronto University Connaught Laboratories, told Friday Night Supper Club members last evening. He said accidents account for another six per cent., and disease the remaining 90 per cent.

Illustrating with lantern slides, the prominent research head told the story of man's resistance to disease. The whole problem of medicine is to lengthen life, and every person is concerned with the problem of what shortens life," he said.

Communicable diseases are all caused by living agents, he continued. On the whole, bacteria are friends of humans, for without bacteria no vegetable development and break-down processes would be possible. Of all the bacteria, only a few types are able to invade the living body and cause disease, he said.

Invisible.

"The germ that causes poliomyelitis cannot be seen under a microscope and it is doubtful if it ever will be thus seen. It measures one two-millionth part of an inch in size."

Man's objective is to find the ways of blocking the channels of transmission of disease, the speaker said. Theoretically, about one-third of all known diseases are preventable. Some diseases are due to improper diet, others are classes as occupational diseases. There are still many diseases about which man can do little, he stated.

Dr. Defries said human resistance to disease is not an absolute, depending on various factors such as the general health condition and fatigue.

Tuberculosis.

Speaking of tuberculosis, he said it is the greatest single cause of death between 15 and 30 years of age.

CHEESEMEN NAME R. ANDERSON HEAD

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Nov. 27 (CP)—R. J. Anderson of Carleton Place yesterday was elected president of the Eastern Ontario Cheesemakers' Association at the annual meeting. He succeeds Claude Flood of Plum Hollow.

Other officers: vice-president, J. B. Paquette, Lefaivre; directors, J. E. Walker of Joyceville, R. H. Fawcett of Dunbar, Alexander J. Cameron of Milleroches, Romeo Vaillancourt of North Lancaster, Howard V. Richards of Spenierville and H. J. Beckstead, Russell.

The association adopted a resolution submitted by the Kemptville group cheesemakers' club. It requested the federal minister of agriculture to appoint a number of qualified men as farm inspectors or field men to visit cheese patrons in each inspector's group at least once during the cheese-making season with a view to improving conditions under which cheese milk is produced, thus enabling makers to obtain better quality milk.

The resolution added that the association realized dairy instructors have not sufficient time at their disposal to do enough of this necessary work.

Now! I'm safe from Food Debility thanks to 'OVALTINE'

MANY a man or woman who is "run-down" and depressed will look in vain for the cause before arriving at the correct one . . . Food Debility.

In these modern, bustling times the symptoms of Food Debility are everywhere more evident. The reason is that the ordinary dietary does not provide all the food elements essential for making good the extra demands on your nervous system. As a result, energy flags, vitality is lowered, and starved nerves give rise to sleepless nights.

You will always be safe from Food Debility when delicious 'Ovaltine' is your daytime and bedtime beverage. 'Ovaltine' makes the daily dietary complete in the nourishment which builds up body, brain and nerves. A cup of 'Ovaltine' at bedtime aids sound, natural sleep and creates new energy and vitality for the coming day.

But, it must be 'Ovaltine'—there is nothing "just as good." Remember that 'Ovaltine' is a complete food scientifically prepared. 'Ovaltine' stands in a class by itself. It gives you more in quality and more in quantity. Furthermore, owing to the huge world-wide demand for 'Ovaltine,' it is available at prices which make it an economical food beverage in use.

A. WANDER LIMITED, ELMWOOD PARK, PETERBOROUGH, ONT.

I used to think it was worry

—for things had been very difficult at the office. So I started to cultivate a more philosophic frame of mind. I tried hard, but I was just as "nervy," listless and "played-out" as before.

Or perhaps - Insomnia

For months I hadn't had a really good night's sleep. "I'll go to bed earlier," I thought. But I might have known that sound sleep was out of the question with my nerves constantly on edge.

I feared a nervous breakdown

—I was getting really alarmed—and then Philip told me about 'Ovaltine.' Well—I'm a new man since taking 'Ovaltine.' It gave me just the nourishment I needed. For, after all, my trouble was Food Debility.

Quality always tells — insist on 'OVALTINE'

DEFY CURSE TO MOVE STONE MAN DIES, MATE CRIPPLED

Monument Commemorates Murder of Sailor at Hindhead, Surrey

WAS IN ROAD'S WAY

Hindhead, Surrey.—Country folk are said to be superstitious, but in the village of Hindhead some people think they have good reason to be. A 150-year-old curse, cut in stone so that no man shall forget, is said to have taken effect.

The story concerns the Sailor's Stone, a five-foot monument now standing on Gibbet Hill, just above the main London-Portsmouth road.

An inscription on one side gives details of the murder of a sailor by three other sailors on Hindhead Hills in 1786.

The murderers were hanged on the gibbet still marked by a stone cross only a few hundred yards from the Sailor's Stone.

In the same year the Sailor's Stone was erected "in detestation of the barbarous murder." On the back are the words, "Cursed be the man who injureth or removeth this stone."

In 1930 the stone stood on the main road, where it skirts the Devil's Punch Bowl. That year the road was widened and it was decided to move the stone.

Laborers were nervous of the "curse." They drew lots. Each name was written on a piece of paper and thrown into a hat.

The men whose names were drawn refused to do the job.

Then Rupert Chandler, owner of a local garage, laughed at superstition and undertook to move the stone. Charles Harris, one of his employees, volunteered to assist him.

They were the only two to touch the stone, re-erecting it where it stands to-day.

Nothing happened until this year—the seventh year after the defiance of the "curse."

In January Mr. Chandler, 50 fell ill and died.

Shortly afterwards, Mr. Harris, 60, fell off a ladder, injuring his shoulder.

He has been attending hospital ever since, has lost the use of his arm, and now knows he may never be able to work again.

Mr. Harris, who is superintendent of the fire brigade at Grayshott, a village three-quarters of a mile outside Hindhead, laughed about the Sailor's Stone.

"They are all talking about the curse here. But who can say?" he remarked.

"I think I'm just a little bit sorry I ever touched that stone."

'NERVOUS WRECKS' TERM IS CENSURED

Mr. Ramsbotham Takes Lloyd George to Task

London.—Herwald Ramsbotham, minister of pensions, has taken Lloyd George to task for accusing Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of having "an assembly of nervous wrecks behind him always pulling at his elbow".

"Mr. Lloyd George says the cabinet is composed of nervous wrecks," said Mr. Ramsbotham, "but 13 out of 21 of them saw active service; two got the D.S.O., and seven the Military Cross, and are as likely to have as much courage and nerve as those who never got within miles of the firing line."

JUDGE ASKS EXPERTS TO ADMIT IGNORANCE

Criticizes Those Who Affect Superior Wisdom They Haven't Got

London.—Mr. Justice Humphreys, who has been a judge of the king's bench division for nine years, has been giving his views about experts and their evidence.

He thinks that doctors and scientists, giving evidence as expert witnesses, should be more willing to admit, "I don't know." He is critical of experts who affect superior wisdom they haven't got.

He writes in the British Medical Journal: "The assistance offered by science to law should be received with gratitude, but used with caution.

"Jurymen are not fools. Twelve very ordinary persons when put in a jury box are apt to display a collective sagacity and courage very disconcerting to those superior persons who regard them as easy prey.

"A jury have a good nose for a real expert as distinct from a mere crank, and repose great faith in those expert witnesses who can speak with authority and whom they have found to be fair. It is all-important that no expert evidence should be tendered except by an acknowledged authority upon the particular branch of science concerned."

ETHIOPIAN REFUGEES CAN STAY FOR YEAR

8,000 Said To Be in Camp in Kenya

Nairobi, Kenya.—Ethiopian refugees are not being permanently settled in Kenya, but are expected to remain another year, the governor, Air Chief Marshal Sir Henry Brooke-Popham, told the legislative assembly at its opening session.

Sir Henry said the colony had completely emerged from the effects of the depression. There would be no changes in taxation. However, an extra £42,000 ($210,000) would be spent, he said, on improved defences, including a minesweeping unit for the east coast.

(The number of refugees from Ethiopia at present in Kenya is not definitely known but the central camp for refugees at Isiolo, 150 miles south of the Ethiopian border, numbers nearly 8,000).

TURN CITY MISFITS INTO REAL FARMERS

Wallingford Colony Experiment Has Developed Into Real Boon

Wallingford.—There is a farm at Benson, near Wallingford, Oxfordshire, where misfits of the towns are being turned into useful farm workers.

It is the Wallingford farm training colony, carried on by the Christian Service union, and its colonists are lads drawn from orphanages, poor law and other institutions. In many cases stunted development manifests itself in mental dullness or even petty crimes.

Here on this 1,000-acre farm miracles are being worked. Work in health-giving surroundings, contact with the soil and learning how to handle animals are turning these lads into first-rate farm workers.

About 150 a year are being found situations, and not more than 5 per cent. fail to make good.

The colony has been so successful that now it cannot meet half the demand for boys, and it has become necessary to undertake improvements and expansions. These will cost £40,000 ($200,000).

Unless this money can be obtained, its work, which has received the blessing of the ministry of labor, will be seriously hampered. An appeal is being launched.

WILL REPAIR CHURCH DAMAGED BY BEETLE

Nation-Wide Appeal Made for Yorks Edifice

Beverley, Yorks.—So that the restoration of St. Mary's church—ranked as one of the glories of Yorkshire—may be completed as soon as possible, a nation-wide appeal, headed by the Archbishop of York, has been made for £4,500 ($22,500).

Yorkshire has already contributed more than half of the £10,000 ($50,000) required to carry out the work, which was necessitated through the ravages of the death watch beetle and stone decay.

The Tudor roof of the nave, with its magnificently carved bosses and ornamentation, has been restored at a cost of £3,000 ($15,000).

NOTIFIED TO RETIRE AS VICAR OF NESTON

Canon Bidlake at 72 Does Not Know What He Will Do Now

Neston, Cheshire.—Canon Walter Bidlake, aged 72, who has been vicar of Neston for 14 years, is to retire at the request of the bishop of Chester, Dr. G. F. Fisher.

Canon Bidlake told his parishioners: "The bishop tells me there is feeling in the parish that a change of vicars is desirable.

"I had hoped to have postponed retirement for another year, when I should have completed half a century in the ministry, but I am told that the interests of the parish must come before my personal wishes.

"Old age and infirmity—those are the only reasons for my retirement," Canon Bidlake said to a reporter after evensong. "The parish is very big and scattered, and much as I would like it I feel I cannot see another winter through.

"What I shall do I do not know. Spend all my time in bed probably."

DISFIGURED, TEMPER RUINED MOTHER IS AWARDED $4,850

Can't Enjoy Movies or Radio Now—Keeps Face Hidden

AFTER AUTO CRASH

Liverpool.—"I was a happy, jolly, modern mother to my two sons before the accident, but now I am irritable and rather unhappy about my face disfigurement and bad temper."

Her hat pulled well down and her cheek hidden behind a handkerchief, Mrs. Minnie Dodds, a widow, of Cameron St., Barrow-in-Furness, thus described her feelings as she left the assize court here after being awarded £970 ($4,850) damages for injuries received in a road accident.

She said she used to enjoy music and going to cinemas and theatres, but now the future looks black. I just sit and stare into the fire. I cannot find anything to occupy my mind.

"I occasionally feel that there are too many people about me, and that I wish to throw them out. My two sons have both borne my irritable mannerisms without an unkind word.

"Maybe in time I shall be able to bear the disfigurement, but it would be a terrible blow if I could not get rid of my bad temper, dizzy fits, and terrible headaches.

"At the moment I cannot even listen to the wireless music, which I previously so much enjoyed."

The damages were awarded against Herbert Bell, of North Scale, Walney, with whom she was stated to have been driving when their car was involved in a collision.

RODE HORSE INTO INN ASSESSED AS DRUNK

Owner Says Animal Can Drink Beer, Smoke

Fishguard.—Said to have driven his thoroughbred hunter into a wayside inn, Norman Llewellin, 30, farmer, was fined £1 ($5) at Mathry for being drunk while in charge of the animal.

P.C. John Bowen said the horse fell in the inn, damaging furniture and frightening the landlady.

Asked by the clerk if the animal drank beer, Constable Bowen stated that Llewellin said he could teach his horse to do anything—even to smoke cigarettes.

GLASGOW DANCE HALL MARK FOR HOOLIGANS

Thirty Girls Take Refuge Behind Barricades as Bottles Fly

Glasgow.—Thirty girls sought safety behind barricades in the ante-room of a dance hall here while a gang of hooligans hurled bottles through the windows and tried to smash down the outer doors.

Their partners tore off the legs from tables and chairs and stood ready to beat off the gang if the doors gave way.

Then, as the women screamed in panic and the hooligans shouted challenges, police arrived and cleared the building.

"Some young men had asked to be admitted," one of the dancers said. "They seemed ready to create trouble, and officials refused as these dances are well conducted. The men went away, and returned with dozens of their friends. We just had time to lock the doors against them.

"As the girls were taken to safety the intruders kicked at the door panels. There were 50 of us inside, and we would have dealt with them if they'd got through."

MOTHER'S AWARD

Salford, Eng.—The day after she had given birth to a son, Mrs. Frances Kerby, wife of Canon E. T. Kerby, was elected to the borough council.

LOVE SPURNED, ENDS LIFE AFTER TERRORIZING GIRL, KIN

Man, 50, Shoots Himself When Police Called by Her Relatives

GIRL WAS ONLY 17

London.—Love-crazed, an armed man of 50 who had pickeied the home of a 17-year-old girl and her family, shot himself in the street at Canning Town, E., as police chased him.

For some time the man had paced up and down outside the girl's home in Bendel Rd. with a revolver, while her family waited in terror.

The man, William Fuller of Hawstead Rd., Catford, S.E., was formerly manager of the City cafe, where the girl, Violet Maiden, was an assistant.

Three letters had been pushed under the door of the Maidens' home late at night, and after they had read them the family switched off the lights and watched Fuller outside from a bedroom window.

"At any moment we expected him to lose patience and force his way in," Mrs. Maiden said. "Finally he walked away and we telephoned the police.

"They had just advised us not to worry when he ran across the road, but, seeing the officers, doubled back to an alley.

"Before the police could reach him, however, there was a shot, and he fell dead."

Miss Maiden said Fuller was discharged from the cafe three weeks ago for excessive drinking.

"Afterwards he haunted the cafe and wrote to tell me that he could not live without me, could not sleep through thinking about me, and that he was prepared to die for me," she said.

STERNER PENALTIES CURB SHOP-LIFTING

Big British Stores Use More Detectives, Break Up Gangs

A report on the subject has been prepared by the Drapers' Chamber of Trade for submission to the home office and for the guidance of store managers and shopkeepers.

It deals with 900 cases of shoplifting and shows that magistrates who in the past have been criticized for dealing with shoplifting by means of small fines and the use of probation are now inflicting sterner penalties.

Although shoplifting still costs retail traders nearly £1,000,000 ($5,000,000) a year, the offence is slightly less widespread than it was a year ago.

With the appointment by the stores of more detectives, organized gangs of thieves, which often comprise several members of the same family, are being broken up.

Several leading West End and suburban stores have recently appointed former Scotland Yard officers.

BROUGHT WRONG SPEECH

London.—Miss Ellen Wilkinson, Labor M.P. for Jarrow, was to speak to the Cambridge University New Peace Movement on "Is Dictatorship Worth the Cost?" She brought the wrong speech along and ended up discussing the government's rearmament program.

GIRL 'BANDIT QUEEN' CAN'T WRITE NAME

Led Gang by Hypnotizing Members With Daring

London.—"Lady Jack," England's girl "bandit queen," is behind the bars at Aylesworth prison serving a four-year sentence for shopbreaking at Oxford.

Known to the underworld as "Lady Jack," but convicted under the name of Elsie Carey, the 28-year-old girl was alleged by police to be the master-mind behind a series of gang robberies lasting over two years.

Although illiterate — she can't even write her own name—she controlled a gang of men and hypnotized them with her daring.

She was finally caught while breaking into a shop at Oxford.

HAIR 'FLAMING RED' SUES, RECEIVES $25

Woman Blames Hairdresser, Asks $100—Must Pay for Wave

Brentford.—Mrs. Florence MacCullum, of Corringway, Ealing, suing a hairdresser at Brentford county court, told Judge Drucquer that her hair was "disfigured" by being dyed a bright red.

Said Judge Drucquer: "Then I myself must have been 'disfigured' for 40 or 50 years, for my hair was red. I am no longer disfigured because now I have very little hair."

Mrs MacCullum, who is 49, claimed £20 ($100) from Harry Kopitco, of New Broadway, Ealing, for breach of contract and negligence. She said that after a permanent wave Mr. Kopitco recommended henna for a shampoo.

After the assistant had applied the shampoo she found that her hair was "a flaming red".

Mr. Kopitco, denying negligence, said Mrs. MacCullum asked him what she could do about her grey hair, and she agreed when he recommended henna.

Awarding Mrs. MacCullum £5 ($25), the judge said that Mr. Kopitco had probably misunderstood his instructions.

Mr. Kopitco was awarded 15s $3.75), on a counter-claim for the cost of the wave.

RECTOR, 60, BRIDE, 17 DODGE CHURCH CROWD

Use Side Door as Excited People Wait—Much Criticism

Yeovil.—Using a side door, the "Jolly Rector" of Chiselborough and West Chinnock, the Rev. Gerald Salkeld Stubbs, who is 60, eluded excited crowds at his parish church as he left with the 17-year-old girl he had just married.

When the ruse was discovered, the waiting people scrambled over graves to see the six-foot, white-haired rector whose engagement to a girl 40 years his junior had made him the butt of scurrilous pens.

He had married, as his second wife, Miss Betty Fewings, slim and attractive, one of his parishioners, who left Yeovil high school two years ago. She is a gold medallist of the Royal School of Music, and has been organist at her husband's churches.

Three months ago, when their engagement became known, the rector received "horrible anonymous letters," which caused him to announce that "in view of dreadful implications from evil-minded persons, we have decided to postpone our wedding till late in January."

But the date was rearranged, and he looked proud and happy as he declared, after the ceremony: "We were determined to make our wedding public, to confound those who had written obnoxious letters to me."

HOPE SECRET CODE IN BIBLE TO SOLVE PARIS KIDNAPPING

Wife of Missing Russian Anti-Bolshevist Asked for Own Book

INVISIBLE INK USED

Paris—Police say that a little green leather-bound Bible may assist them to solve the kidnapping of General Eugene Miller, chief of the Russian anti-Bolshevist organization here.

General Miller disappeared in September after he had left a note in his office saying he was going to visit General Skobline, his chief assistant. He has never been seen since.

General Skobline, now revealed as a Bolshevist spy, himself disappeared a few hours after General Miller. His wife has been arrested for alleged complicity in the kidnapping.

Protesting her innocence, she has constantly pleaded that her Bible should be brought to her in prison, so that she could find comfort in it. The police gave her one they got from her Paris home.

But she was not satisfied. She said she wanted the Bible from her villa in Oziar-la-Ferriere. Her insistence aroused suspicion.

The police found the book, cut open the bindings, searched for hidden documents, then subjected every page to chemical examination.

In the Gospel according to St. John, the experts now allege they have discovered a complete code in invisible ink, with the key to it based on the month, year, and day of General Skobline's birth.

With its aid they hope to be able to decode letters and messages found in General Skobline's house.

URGES CREMATORIUM TO PROTECT GOLFERS

Predicted Bermuda Region of Cemeteries, Golf Links

Hamilton, Bermuda.—To keep cemeteries from crowding out golf links, the assembly here has approved legislation making cremation lawful.

Referring to the density of the population the attorney-general explained that senior health officers believed the time had arrived for Bermuda to have a crematorium.

The attorney-general quoted a former governor who had predicted that Bermuda might become a region of cemeteries and golf links. He added that "in order to keep cemeteries from overlapping golf links, cremation has been taken as a way out of what might be a grave situation."

OLDEST LEGISLATOR WAS ONCE YOUNGEST

Hamilton, Bermuda.—Dr. Thomas Outerbridge, who is in his 91st year, is a claimant for two records—one as the oldest legislator in the British empire and possibly the world, and one for the lengthiest legislative service.

Dr. Outerbridge was elected to the assembly in 1882 as its youngest member and remained there until 1926 when he was appointed to the legislative council, Bermuda's upper house.

He still retains his critical faculties which won him the title of "Objector General" in the assembly.

HAD BEES IN PANTS LANDS IN ASYLUM

Farmer Lost Nether Garments Out Train Window—Conductor Calls Wagon

Budapest.—Because his bees neglected their jobs, Anton Kertesz, 52-year-old farmer at Nyiregyhaza village, has spent three days in a lunatic asylum.

When he found that his two hives did not produce enough honey, he put the insects in jugs covered with paper, embarked on a train with them for Budapest to consult the Apiary Institute here. En route the bees escaped and several slithered up Kertesz's trouser leg. The modest farmer induced fellow travellers to leave the compartment, proceeded to divest himself of his nether garments, which he shook out of the window. A gust of wind snatched the pants from his hands.

Along came the conductor, heard fellow travellers' stories, saw Kertesz pantless, and wired ahead promptly for the asylum wagon. The farmer's pleas were fruitless. It was three days before he managed to convince authorities of the truth—and he spent that time securely confined.

DONKEY SMOKES CIGARETTES

London.—Strange stories about donkeys are being told in letters to the Times. One woman writes an animal in Yorkshire smokes cigarettes in approved style and then chews the butts.

NO CASH FOR TAXES IN FRENCH VILLAGE

Pay With Work Instead—Hydro Engineers Didn't See Town for Trees

Bealcourt, France.—Bealcourt is only a tiny village of 160 people, in the northwest French province of the Somme. Its residents are all farmers, and no one would know of it elsewhere except that it is one village where there are no taxes.

Bealcourt pays no cash taxes, runs on a slim budget of 10,000 francs per year (about $400) and yet its school, its roads, its water, electricity supply are all in perfect condition. How is this achieved?

Instead of paying taxes the villagers pay with their voluntary work.

Mayor Adeodat Ravaux, telling of his unique system, explained it simply by describing how electricity came to town. "The big companies had put their lines through our countryside, but as Bealcourt is hidden by the trees they didn't manage to see it. I made a big noise with the authorities and they finally said they would string a line into the village for 11,000 francs. That was a real problem with only a budget of 10,000.

"We called the town council—all the able-bodied men—together and I said to them: 'We've got plenty of trees down in the marshland. None would notice if we cut a few of them, and that will pay for electricity.' So we cut the trees, had our electricity and a little extra money in the village fund.

HERR A. HITLER IS BARKEEP DOESN'T DISCUSS POLITICS

Brother of Fuehrer Sets 'Em Up in Remodelled Cafe

LOCATED IN BERLIN

Berlin.—"Fill 'em up again, Herr Hitler, and make it snappy!"

It sounds like the pipedream of an overwrought imagination but anybody can step into the large remodeled cafe beer and wine house on Wittenberg Platz—threshold to Berlin's night life and the city's "Times Square"—and give a similar order to the bartender with perfect equanimity.

The man with the "customer's smile" filling beer mugs at the foaming spout is Alois Hitler, proprietor of the newest oasis in that section. He has ambitions to be a "big shot" in business.

Alois Hitler, older by some years than Adolf, looks something like the Nazi leader but wears large round rimless glasses. He has the same little tuft of moustache below the nostrils and even his gold-filled lower front teeth remind one of the reich's chief.

But the subject of "my brother" is taboo for reasons of his own and Alois when necessary refers to him solely and only as "the reich chancellor." He skirts any discussion of politics.

LONDON PRAIRIES?

London.—A book of coronation incidents has been published. An entertaining note is that of an English girl in Switzerland who heard a Belgian describe the "trepidating emotion of vast crowds which echoed across the green prairies of St. James' Park."

LEARNS BIRDS' SONGS TO AID PHOTOGRAPHY

Lures Quarry Within Range of Camera Lens

Honolulu.—By learning the songs of 36 different species of birds in the islands, Walter L. Donaghho, ornithologist, assigned to study bird life in the U.S. National park here, has solved the problem of photographing the birds.

The latter are ordinarily too quick for anything but a telescopic camera that can take them from a distance. With his 36 different bird songs, however, he is now able to induce the birds to come near enough to be photographed with an ordinary lens.

HAS DUAL PROFESSION

Georgetown, British Guiana.—Rev. A. T. Peters, barrister-at-law and minister of the gospel, has celebrated the sixth anniversary of the unusual union of his dual profession.

Pastor-Lawyer Peters graduated in divinity from Lincoln and Yale universities and later studied law at Middle Temple, London.

Looking back at the last six years of combined pleading and preaching, Mr. Peters said he was "satisfied that . . . I made no mistake."

NAZIS LIMIT CORK FLOORS

Berlin.—Strict economy rules in Hitler's four-year plan. One decree limits thickness of cork floor coverings to one-quarter of an inch. Another holds road repairs to the "inevitable minimum."

CRIPPLED BOYS PUMP IRON LUNG, SAVE LIFE

Machine Breaks Down With 9-Year-Old "Polio" Victim Inside

Alton, Hampshire.—Crippled boys of the Lord Mayor Treloar hospital at Alton helped to save the life of Eric Marchant, 9, of Andover, when mechanism for operating the "iron lung" in which he has to remain broke down.

"Infantile paralysis was rapidly spreading to Eric's respiratory muscles," Sir Henry Gauvain, the medical superintendent, said. "Oxygen was administered while a search was made for a 'drinker'—the iron lung which forces the patient to breathe.

"When one arrived Eric was unconscious. His heart was faintly beating, and artificial respiration was being applied.

"Then it was found that the machine would not work because the voltage was unsuitable. Pumping by hand was continued for nine hours until the engineers had the motor working.

Eric is going on well, but will need the machine for another six weeks, and perhaps longer.

DR. GILBERT AGAR WELFARE COUNCIL TO ADDRESS FORUM

Dr. Gilbert Agar, secretary of the Ontario Community Welfare Council is scheduled as the speaker to the George Street Men's Forum on Sunday afternoon. Dr. Agar is expected to discuss Welfare work and members of all the service clubs and all interested in welfare work are urged to attend.

The Welfare Council aims to aid and encourage all activities that have as their basis a desire to improve community life. This may mean a travelling library for one centre, promotion of handicraft enterprises in another, or, again, the establishment of wisely directed study groups. All these are needed.

The Council is interested in the new Canadians; and here is a field in which much useful work may be done. It is recognized that, particularly in the matter of language, the new Canadians are at a disadvantage, especially socially, which tends to isolation among people of their own racial origin. Therefore the Council provides for them opportunities to learn English. For example, a young law student, a new Canadian, has been spreading a knowledge of his acquired language among other newcomers in Northern Ontario, and this work will be carried on.

One of the perils to which the foreign-born individual is exposed is the activity of the Red propagandist, who plays upon his ignorance of Canadian affairs, his handicap in the way of language, and perhaps the lack of that very encouragement which the Welfare Council aims to provide. If the Council worked in no other field, its activity here will be of great value to the future of this country.

But the Council conducts other activities. As one of its spokesmen puts it: "One of the goals we seek is that communities shall, in that curious way that some communities have, develop a sensitiveness to community life. We might express it this way: that some communities in Ontario have found a common soul that reacts spontaneously to the things that are for the common good. By that I mean that a community comes readily to recognize that town planning, adequate nursing services, adequate recreational facilities, adequate libraries, good, wholesome moving pictures, schools with well-trained teachers, churches with a live social progress problem—that all these are things which make for a good community."

Loblaws Distribute $30,000 to Employes

In addition to the bonus to be paid to shareholders on December 1st, Loblaw Groceterias Co., Limited is also distributing among its employees a sum approximately $30,000. The employees entitled to this distribution are permanent, full time employees, who are now in the employment of the Company and who were in such employment prior to June 1st, 1937. The fund now being distributed was set up for the fiscal year ending May 31st. Employees who have been employed for a full year are entitled to a week's wages, and those who have been employed for a full six months and less than a year, are entitled to a half week's wages.

BUDDHIST FAITH IS ALL POWERFUL AMONG JAPANESE

The Japanese people are consolidating their adherence to the Buddhist faith with increasing emphasis despite the steady trend toward westernization in other spheres of national life, Miss Lillian C. Espien of the Central School staff, told the Kiwanis Club in an address Friday. Miss Espien attended the World Education Conference in Tokyo this summer as one of the representatives of the Ontario Educational Association.

Providing varied interesting sidelights on her visit to the powerful Oriental nation, Miss Espien said: "I found the Japanese very tolerant toward all religions but streaming more and more the bowing of the knee at the Shinto shrine. The Japanese people do not forget that their Emperor is the high Shinto priest.

Japanese railways stations were eternally crowded with the steady flow of young Japanese men entraining for Kobe and bound for the scene of their aggression against China during Miss Espien's stay. All units, before leaving, marched past the gate of the Emperor's palace to pay final tribute to the ruler.

She told of the Imperial structure in Japanese, the answer of a great American and engineer to the eternal threat of earthquake in Japan. A complete departure from conventional Japanese architecture, the hotel's walls are thick at the base, tapering toward the top, the roof is of light copper as compared with the heavy tile of Japanese convention and the floors are suspended from the center in much the same manner as the heavily-laden tray is supported by the waiter's hand, she said.

Showing the convention visitors the famed palace residence of Japanese crown princes, the Japanese remarked that the Duke of Gloucester was entertained there but were too polite to mention that also the Duke of Windsor was there entertained as Prince of Wales, fearing to offend British subjects.

Interesting was the experience of attending a special Japanese concert of music rendered with native instruments, the speaker said. The Japanese are making an effort to assimilate western music and a new musical culture, a blend of the Occidental with the Oriental, is suffusing the nation, she said.

BAILIEBORO

Mr. H. Lancaster was a business visitor to Peterborough on Friday.

Mr. M. B. Perrin has been a business visitor to Perth and vicinity during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelly, Mrs. C. C. Dawson and Miss I. Thompson have returned from Toronto, where they have been visiting friends and while in Toronto attended the Royal Winter Fair.

The Ladies of the United Church W.A. held a quilting bee at the home of Mrs. Richard Thompson on Thursday afternoon. There was a goodly number present and a pleasant social time was enjoyed.

Those from the local United Church Sunday School who attended the Cavan and South Monaghan Sunday School convention at Fairmount on Thursday afternoon and evening were: Mrs. N. Thompson, Mrs. M. B. Perrin and Fred Barnard.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dean were visitors to Millbrook on Thursday.

The coronation pageant pictures presented by Mr F. L. Roy of Peterborough in the basement of the Anglican church on Thursday evening were greatly appreciated by the large crowd present to witness the grandeur and splendor of the important event of the year.

Collegiate Notes

At a meeting of the Gamers Club Wednesday afternoon, V. R. Henry elucidated on "Finishing Touches on Contact and Enlargement Prints" with illustrations of how to make fade-away borders, embossments, new black borders. He spoke of the value of these devices to the finished photograph. The senior members are busy producing their own personal Christmas cards.

OUT OF VOGUE

The bow-tie plague among the third and fourth form Academic boys has faded out since someone discovered, in an old edition of Saturday Evening Post, published away back in the gay nineties, that bow ties were the latest thing in fashion then. But why worry boys, doesn't history always repeat itself?

Cold weather does not stop the senior rugby team from having regular workouts on the school campus. To harden themselves against fumbles and errors, the boys have practised in the cold which will be the important factor in future games.

Donald Duncan, stalwart outside wing, was eliminated from today's game by the fracture of a collar-bone received during heavy uniform practice Wednesday afternoon. This seems to be a very unfortunate year for Don. He had his front teeth broken off and received face cuts in a practice earlier in the season.

THE AT HOME

The Students' Council is making rapid progress in planning the annual "At Home" which is being held Wednesday evening, December the twenty-ninth. A committee has been chosen to supervise the planning of a formal program and the decoration of the school gymnasium. A popular Peterborough orchestra already has been reserved for the evening.

FALL HOUSE CLEANING

The smell of fresh paint has hung about the school this week as painters and decorators are refinishing the walls and ceiling of the main stairs of the school. Authoritively speaking from fifth former Harvey White's recollections, the old coat has been on the walls for at least seven years, and is now quite faded and dingy. The new jot has already created a bright pleasing effect.

G.A.A. ENTERTAINMENT

Last Wednesday afternoon the Girls' Athletic Association sponsored its first social event of the year. The girls, dressed in their school uniforms, spent a pleasant evening playing games and singing. The program was concluded with a weiner-roast for those participating.

FIRST AID COMPETITION

Capt. H. A. Craig has entered a team in the provincial first aid competition. The team is composed of six boys who have already received their junior certificate in first aid. If the team is successful it will represent the province in the Dominion finals. The group is receiving special instructions from E. L. Tomkins and A. O. Phillips, and will be well prepared to enter the competition in January.

THIS AND THAT

No special train went to Toronto this morning as a guarantee of 100 passengers could not be obtained from the student body. Forms 4B, 3A, 2B, 2C and 2D supported by the school orchestra presented the second literary meeting Friday afternoon. Monday afternoon V. R. Henry will present moving pictures on "Jasper National Park" and "The Dutch East Indies" in the school auditorium. A group of school-spirited girls were determined not to miss the rugby game in Toronto, so they chartered the Keene bus and, chaperoned by several school teachers, made the trip today.

Tired All the Time

Describes exhaustion of the nerves

The usual treatment for fatigue is rest. But when the cause of tired feelings is nervous exhaustion you are restless, sleepless and irritable and cannot rest or sleep.

You can worry and fret, you can be impatient and ill-tempered, you may suffer from indigestion and headaches. But rest or calmness or sleep are well nigh impossible.

It is necessary to build up the reserve of nerve force by such restorative treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Your nervous system has become bankrupt and new energy and vigor are necessary.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is recommended on the strength of its time-proven record of effectiveness in many thousands of cases similar to yours. New nerve force is created from rich red blood and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is composed of the very ingredients which go to enrich the blood. For this reason every dose you take should help you in regaining health and strength and new vitality.

PEACOCK FEATHERS

ANOTHER TEMPLE BAILEY ROMANCE!

Beginning Monday in The Examiner

THE three of them sat huddled in the Wyoming trapper's hut as the storm howled outside: Mimi, the belle of St. Louis society; Jerry, the penniless farm boy she married; and Andy, the wealthy blue-blood who still loves her. With disillusionment already threatening the happiness of Mimi and Jerry, and Andy still a disturbing factor, there is ample reason for the tension that prevails. All had so much in common and yet—so little.

Bright Living Room And Sun Reminiscent Of The South

Large Windows And Good Heating Plant Add To Home During Cold Winter

The sun devotee who is unable to go South in the cold winter months may take a tip from Southern home-owners who consider sun and air to be of prime importance.

Outdoor living rooms are a boon in Southern climes, but the average Canadian home-owner must be satisfied with windows and cheerful furnishings. A proper heating system makes the sun streaming through windows seem even more reminiscent of the South.

It is quite possible to add a living room to the average house at a minimum of expense. This room might be surrounded on three sides by large windows. These windows would allow a maximum of air and sunlight during the summer months while on cold, winter days, properly heated, it would be one of the brightest, and most cheerful rooms in the house.

In decorating such a room, the background should be kept dull, bright colors being confined to the room's furnishings. A simple rug might be used and wicker furniture with bright upholstery, combined with two over-stuffed chairs.

Windows should be draped in a heavy, dark cloth, which could be drawn at night to assure privacy.

Additions, alterations and redecorating are eligible under the generous terms of the Home Improvement Plan at a very low rate of interest.

Change Of Colors In The Kitchen

Perhaps you have grown tired of green, blue yellow and red combinations that have been so popular in kitchens during recent years. If you are planning to obtain funds to modernize you home under the Home Improvement Plan, you may be interested in the kitchen of a suburban home.

A white dado banded the room to a point four feet from the floor. Above that the walls were rose color and the woodwork was white. The floor covering was a composition material in squares of black, white and rose. Kitchen tables and chairs were painted a deep blue and this shade was accepted in pottery and canisters.

Fitting Background In Natural Wood

In one period of decoration, the room that did not have white woodwork was not considered smart. Black, oak, and imitation mahogany were high favorites during other periods.

Natural wood today, however, provides a fitting background for modern furniture. A wood which is in itself beautiful and well-matched for color and grain, may be given a wax finish, if so desired.

In making additions to your home under the Home Improvement Plan, it might be interesting to consider the possibilities of this type of woodwork.

Blue Doors Favor Home Popularity

A door is the gateway to your home and the keynote of the decoration should be found there. Just a door is no longer enough to satisfy the particular homeowner.

Architects pay particular attention to this feature of home building and distinctive examples may be found to suit any style of house. By changing the doorway to your home you might achieve an entirely new effect. This change could be made with funds obtained under the Home Improvement Plan.

INDOOR PLAYROOM FOR WINTRY DAYS

So much is being said these days about a game room for the grown-up members of the family that the old-fashioned playroom for the youngsters is being relegated to the background. The older people have carried off the playroom idea and made it their own.

But now that winter is not very far off, the youngsters should have their own playroom. The attic, a little used guest room or basement space can be converted to a place where the children may play to their heart's content and not disturb other members of the family.

Various composition wall coverings may be purchased and paint or paper are entirely suitable. The floor should be washable and a simple design, suitable to children, should be carried out in the colour scheme and decorations.

Funds for creating such a room may be obtained under the Home Improvement Plan at a very low rate of interest.

Wall Mirrors Add Decorative Note

One recently modernized dining room utilizes mirrors to give it a feeling of spaciousness, as well as a decorative note.

At either end of the one large window in the room mirror panels were set in. Small tables stood in front of these, each holding a vase of flowers. The general effect was three windows instead of one. A mirror also hung over the buffet.

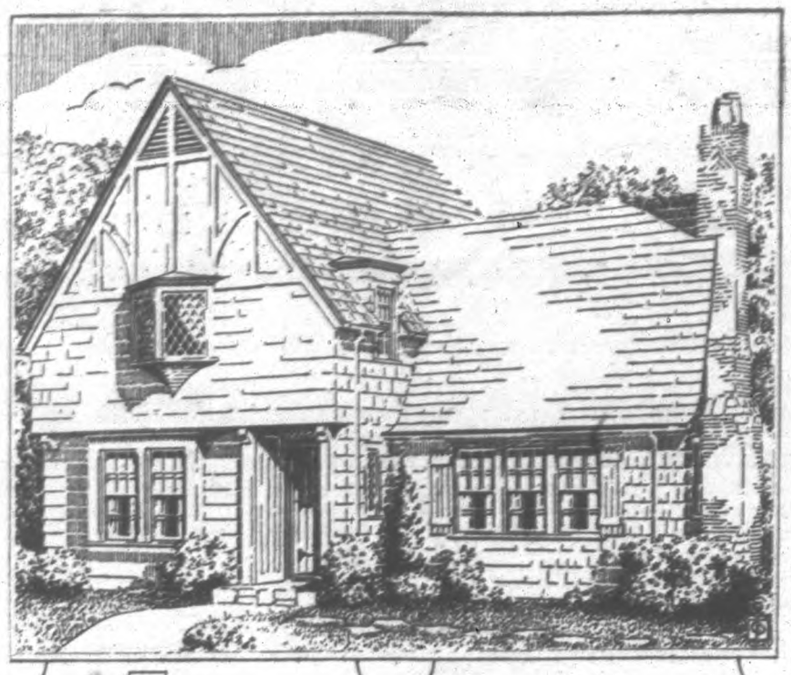
Built-in mirrors of this kind are eligible under the Home Improvement Plan.

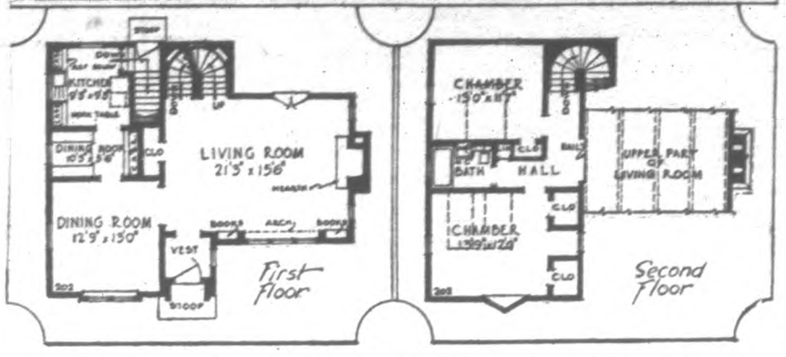
DOMINION ARCHIVIST.

OTTAWA. — Gustave Lanctot, associated with the Dominion Archives since 1912, has been appointed Archivist to succeed Sir Arthur Doughty, it was announced to-day by Secretary of State Rinfret.

Guatemala is restricting the production of motion pictures.

Studio Living Room Feature Of This House





English cottage with studio living room and containing five rooms—frame construction.

In excellent taste is this five-room house with a studio living room. It is a home that will adapt itself to any community.

This living room in the "wing" of the house has the stairs at one end, as the first floor plan shows, with a balcony which overlooks the room. The ceiling of this room extends right up to the roof, you understand, and there is a fireplace at one end. There are built-in bookcases on either side of the front windows.

A dining room, dining nook and kitchen complete the first floor plan. As has been suggested before, the dining room may be generally used for library or second sitting room, as the dining nook takes care of most of the meals.

On the second floor are two bedrooms and bath, the master bedroom, having two clothes closets.

The total cubic contents of this house are 23,900 cubic feet. The size of the main building is 35 feet six inches by 30 feet six inches; size over all, 38 feet six inches by 33 feet.

REFRIGERATOR IS ALL YEAR NEED IN EVERY HOME

With the coming of winter, many housewives resort to the basement, the back porch, the window ledge, or one of the cold rooms of the house for preservation of perishable foodstuffs.

This, in itself is acknowledgement that a more convenient type of regrigeration is desirable, and proves that refrigerators are as much a necessity during the winter as in the summer. Ice for cooling of drinks and a cold compartment for their storage are as much appreciated in winter as in summer.

During the last five years, the dietary habits of the Dominion have undergone a tremendous change. Due entirely to refrigeration, it is now possible to have fruits, vegetables, and other extremely perishable foods throughout the entire year. The result is that Canadians have been educated in the use of a diet more in keeping with modern living conditions. The fact that these fresh food products are more expensive in winter than in summer only emphasizes the greater need for winter refrigeration.

All-Year Necessity

People invariably shut off their furnaces in warm weather, but the owner of a refrigerator does not shut it off in cold weather. It will be readily acknowledged that refrigeration is needed in winter to the same extent that it is in summer.

Another factor that must be taken into consideration is convenience. A refrigerator at a very small cost, enables a housewife to keep all perishable foodstuffs together in one place, instead of scattered widely on the ice-covered window ledge, or in the unsanitary window-box, and prevents the necessity of trips back and forth from the kitchen to the basement.

Economic Factor

It is acknowledged that food in winter is more expensive than in summer. Yet, winter being the social season, more entertaining is done at home, and a greater supply of food is needed. A housewife owning a refrigerator is able to save money by being able to purchase greater quantities of perishable foodstuffs at a time for safe storage in her refrigerator than she would otherwise be able to without one.

Convenience and comfort are appreciated in the winter as much as in summer. From a modern convenience, a refrigerator has now come to be a modern necessity, as much required in winter as warm clothing gas and oil for one's car and coal or oil for the furnace.

Roofed Entrance Adds To The House

Did you ever look at your house as you approached it and think it looked dispirited and dejected? Remember how a facial or a wave will raise your own morale and let the house profit accordingly.

You may obtain modernization funds from any Canadian bank under the Home Improvement Plan for the necessary beauty treatment for your house. Credit may be obtained in any amount up to $2,000 for the repair, improvement, alteration or addition to private homes.

The entrance to a house may often change the entire character of the building. A sheltered entrance is a convenience in bad weather for the guest who is waiting for the door to be opened and it also prevents the rain from beating in.

CLOSETS ALWAYS NEEDED IN HOUSE

How many closets are enough? Answers to this question are many and varied, but one thing that most housewives agree on is that they need more closets.

It is sometimes a simple matter to obtain more closet space. A bedroom that has not a closet may have two of them built in without spoiling the appearance of the room. One may be built at either end of the wall with the intervening space used for the dressing table or a bed.

If the space is very narrow, a mirrored panel adds to the illusion of space and is decorative as well. A small table in front of it can serve as a dressing table.

Funds for redecoration and modernization are now available at a low rate of interest under the Home Improvement Plan.

LINOLEUM USEFUL BATHROOM WALLS

Every bathroom cannot have tiled or waterproof walls. In modernizing a home the owner does not always feel justified in spending the necessary amount for this type of room. If so, other wall coverings may be used successfully.

Wainscoting of oil cloth or linoleum is a good substitute for tiling. It is easy to apply and may be used to obtain a variety of colourful effects. This washable material makes the problem of keeping walls clean a simple one. Junior's fingerprints may be eradicated by a mere flick of a damp cloth. Linoleum or other composition flooring may be used in place of a tile floor.

An excellent dressing table may be obtained by building a shelf across the wall in front of a window. This may be painted to conform with the other decorations of the room, a glass top may be made or it may be draped in the fashion of a boudoir table. A standing mirror placed directly in the window is a distinct aid to make-up.

Throug the Home Improvement Plan of the Dominion Government credit-worthy home-owners may obtain funds from any Canadian bank with which to modernize the interior of their homes.
